Obituary: "C.R. Caudle:

The "Hi Bledsoe Camp" No 1201 records with sorrow the death of Comrade C.R. Caudle at his home in Santa Ana April 21 1900. Comrade Caudle was born in Rankin County, Mississippi in September 1846. At the commencement of the war he lived near the town of Magnolia AR and there joined Company A, Crawford's company of couriers of Hawkins's Louisiana Regiment with which he served until the surrender in 1865. All who knew him can truthfully say that he was a brave soldier, a devoted husband and an indulgent father, a true friend, and an honest man. He was one of the "beardless boys in gray" who helped to make the Confederate soldier famous throughout the world for courage and endurance, and to emblazon upon the pages of history unparalleled feats of arms (Source: Obituary, Confederate Veterans magazine, 1900, vol. 8 p.368)

Camillus Randolph "C.R." Caudle,
by Chris Hanson, OCCGS, Adopt-A-Veteran Project

Camillus Caudle was born in Rankin County, Mississippi in September 1846. When the Civil War started, he lived near the town of Magnolia, Arkansas.

He appears in the Confederate War records as C. R.Caudle. He was a private in Company A 1st Trans-Mississippi Cavalry Battalion, which was a unit of couriers. His company commanders were Captain John A. Hawkins and Captain Edwin S. Crawford. He enlisted on July 20, 1863 in Hawkins' Company at age 15. If he was paroled at the end of the war there is no record of it. Perhaps he, like thousands of others, simply went home when he learned of Confederate surrenders east of the Mississippi River. There is a brief history of this battalion in Arthur Bergeron's Book_Guide to Louisiana Confederate Military Units, 1861-1865_(LSU Press, 1989).

He married Sarah Jane "Ella" Smith who was born in 1857. She was the daughter of a Union Civil War Veteran, Francis Marion Smith, of the 35th Missouri Infantry Regiment.

Camillus and Ella Caudle had five daughters: Pearl, Violet, Rosa "Rose", Jennie Lee and Sarah. Ella is buried in the Santa Ana Cemetery in Santa Ana, Orange County, California.

Rose Caudle's daughter, Nadine Parker and her husband John Guptil, presently (2001) live in Orange County, California and have been a great help with the research of Camillus Caudle and Francis Marion Smith.

From: 1890 Great Register Orange County, California; Caudle Age 41 born in Mississippi; Occupation; Drayman; lived in the 2nd Ward. Definition of Drayman: One who drives along strong cart without fixed sides for carrying heavy loads.

Camillus Caudle died April 21, 1900 in Santa Ana, Orange County, California.
