

A List of the Union Soldiers Buried at Andersonville. Copied from the Official Record in the Surgeon's Office at Andersonville. "Ohio."

By Dorence Atwater.

New York: Tribune Association, 1890, Pp. 46-51.

Submitted by Karen Smith, 211 Williamsburgh Ln., NW, Lancaster, OH.

Dorence Atwater, a member of the 2nd New York Cavalry, was a prisoner of war at Andersonville from March 1, 1864 until March 1865. In his words: "I remained inside the stockade until the middle of May, when I was sent to the hospital. On the 15th of June I was paroled and detailed as a clerk in Surgeon J. H. White's office, to keep the daily record of deaths of all Federal prisoners of war.... The appalling mortality was such that I suspected that it was the design of the Rebel Government to kill and maim our prisoners by exposure and starvation so that they would forever be totally unfit for military service, and that they withheld these facts. Accordingly, in the latter part of August, 1864, I began to secretly copy the entire list of our dead, which I succeeded in doing, and brought safely through the lines with me in March, 1865." He continues: "... it was found that the original Register, captured by Gen. Wilson, was deficient in one book containing twenty-four hundred names, and my rolls were sent [to Washington] to supply this deficiency. The original was also found in many places blurred and imperfect, through want of care, and my rolls were frequently needed to aid this defect."

The Atwater list contains the following information: No. of grave, name, regiment, company, date of death, and cause of death. A single asterisk (*) denotes corporal; two asterisks () denote sergeant. All burials numbered below 12367 are for persons who died in 1864; those numbered above, died in 1865. Reprints of the original publication are available from the National Society of Andersonville, Andersonville, GA 31711. Tele.: 912-924-7228.

“Report of an Expedition to Andersonville, Georgia, July 1865 ...”

By Clara Barton

[The following extracts are from a report made by Clara Barton “To the People of the United States of America” and are included in the Preface of A List of the Union Soldiers Buried at Andersonville... The purposes for its inclusion here are two-fold: to provide background for evaluating the lists of Union dead made by Dorence Atwater, included in this issue, and to provide a physical description of the Andersonville prison. The reader is encouraged to read the entire report as it contains additional comments, in eloquent Civil War era expressiveness, about the development of the national cemetery and the debt owed to the prisoners, deceased and survivors, by society. The language of the report is “quaint,” but touching.]

Having, by official invitation, been placed upon an expedition to Andersonville, for the purpose of identifying and marking the graves of the dead contained in those noted prison grounds, it is perhaps not improper that I make some report of the circumstances which induced the sending of such an expedition, its work, and the appearance, condition, and surroundings of that interesting spot, hallowed alike by the sufferings of the martyred dead, and the tears and prayers of those who mourn them.

During a search for the missing men of the United States Army, commenced in March, 1865, under the sanction of our late lamented President Lincoln, I formed the acquaintance of Dorence Atwater, of Connecticut, a member of the 2d New York cavalry, who had been a prisoner at Belle Isle and Andersonville 22 months, and charged by the rebel authorities with the duty of keeping the Death Register of the Union prisoners who died amid the nameless cruelties of the last-named prison.

By minute inquiry, I learned from Mr. Atwater the method adopted in the burial of the dead; and by carefully comparing his account with a draft which he had made of the grounds appropriated for this purpose by the prison authorities, I became convinced of the possibility of identifying the graves, simply by comparing the numbered post or board marking each man's position in the trench in which he was buried, with the corresponding number standing against his name upon the register kept by Mr. Atwater, which he informed me was then in the possession of the War Department...

[Upon arrival at Andersonville on 25 July 1865], We found the prison grounds, stockade, hospital sheds, and the various minor structures almost in the same condition in which they had been evacuated; and care is taken to leave these historic monuments undisturbed, so long as the elements will spare them.

There is not, and never was, any town or village at this place except what grew out of its military occupation. Anderson Station, on the railroad from Macon to Eufala, was selected as a depot for prisoners, probably on account of its remoteness and possible security, and the prison itself, with the buildings which sprang up around it, constituted all there was of Andersonville.

The land around is broken and undulating, and at the time of the occupation was covered with forests, mostly of the long-leafed pine, common to the uplands of the South. The bases of the hills are lined with cozy springs, which unite to form little rivulets, one of which winds sluggishly through each of the intervening marshy valleys.

The original enclosure of nineteen acres was made in the unbroken woods; and the timber was only removed as it was wanted for the necessities of the prison. The enclosure was made in January, 1864, and enlarged, during the summer, to 25 $\frac{3}{4}$ acres — being a quadrangle of 1,295 by 865 feet. The greatest length is from north to south, the ground rising from the middle towards each end in rather a steep, rounded hill — the northern one being at once the highest and of the greatest extent. A small stream, rising from springs a little to the eastward, flows across it through a narrow valley filled with a compost washed down by the rains. The enclosing stockade is formed of pine logs, twenty feet in length, and about eight inches in diameter, sunk five feet in the ground, and placed close together. This is again surrounded by two successive, and precisely similar, palisades — a portion of the last of which is gone. It seems never to have been completed. The two inner walls remain entire. Within the interior space, at the distance of about seventeen feet from the stockade, runs the famous dead-line, marked by small posts set in the ground and a slight strip of pine board nailed on the tops of them. The gates, of which there are two, situated on the west side, were continuations of the stockade, enclosing spaces of thirty feet square, more or less, with massive doors at either end. They were arranged and worked on the principle of canal locks. Upon the inner stockade were fifty-two sentry boxes, raised above the tops of the palisades, and accessible to the guard by ladders. In these stood fifty-two guards, with loaded arms, so near that they could converse with each other. In addition to these, seven forts mounted with field artillery, commanded the fatal space and its masses of perishing men.

Under the most favorable circumstances, and best possible management, the supply of water would have been
