Healthy planter
Ensign on 1771 Granville Co., N.C. Militia Muster, but from Revolutionary War onward, he was known as Captain James Fuller.
After cessation of hostilities he served often in Franklin Co., N.C., as member of the jury. By 1789 he had established a tavern at his home, such quarters used at that period for the transaction of business affairs. In 1807 he was appointed one of the road commissioners.
During the Revolution he performed services and furnished supplies. Of several promissory notes executed by the government, one amounted to $1800.
