LETTERS TO ELLEN FRANCES BROCK

PERRIS SEPT. 13, 1891

My Dear Children, William,

I will try and write to let you know that I am still alive and in tolerable good health. I received a letter from you two weeks ago after waiting a long time for an answer from one I wrote you directly after I came back from the springs in June, I think. But I judge by the answer from you that that you did not get it. I got one from my Moss, Am glad if she has got a good husband and a home of her own. I received the pictures, they are very good of the children, but you seem to be looking too much upwards. Lulu says you are looking very thin in flesh as if you didn't have enough to eat. I am very thankful for them. Would have been more so if John's had been with them. Think the baby looks like him.

Dear Nellie, Grandpa asked me to finish this for him, as his wrist was paining him. Tell John I say to give you some beer to drink. You look almost as bad as you did when you came to Cal: Eva is a real nice looking woman. I hope she has as good a husband as I have. I could not wish a greater blessing than this. For Him tell her to try and please her hubby in every way she can. I hope she will be very happy and not have too many babies. Addie looks very nice and the baby looks sweet enough to kiss. We want John's picture and Mr. Moss too. Artie has plenty to do and my health is very good, so we are happy and contented. I tell you Nellie it seems good to have a little money once more. Nezie often talks of you all. I saw Mrs. Harrington the other day, she inquired after you. Malcolm is a great big boy now. I am going to put him in pants Christmas, but our baby Ronald is the cutest little fellow. He is so merry and pretty big dimple in back cheek and one his chin. He stands alone. Think he will walk by the time he is nine months old. Well I suppose you are tired of my chatter. Hoping this will find all well.

I am as every,

Sister Lulu

PERRIS, April 17, 1892

My Dear Children,

I will try to write to let you know I am in the land of the living. Am ashamed of myself for not writing before, but it is such a task and always was for me to sit down and write a letter. It is much worse now. Can't hold the pen very steady. I received a letter from you on my birthday. Was glad to hear from you that you are all well. We have had a very bad winter. The family have all been sick, first, with scarlet fever then, grip. Lulu hasn't got over it. Has been very sick. Hasn't been able to anything for more than three months. Keeps a hired girl at twenty dollars a month. Is a little better. We have had very bad weather, cold and windy, a great deal of east winds, but very little rain. It is so cold here today that we have to keep a fire to keep warm. The farmers are nearly discouraged, think the crops are a complete failure. Some say there will not be a sack of grain thrashed in the valley this season. I hope it will not be that bad. You say you are homesick. The wind blows so much, it has been an unusual year all over the world. I wish you were here but at present it is rather dull. A number of idle men in town think business will be better. This fall they haven't got the pipes laid so as to distribute the water for irrigating, yet when that is completed think we'll go ahead. Mr. Flad has sold his ranch and left the valley. Has rented four thousand acres some place, I forget where, but not a great way off.

Mr. Vermason is in business with Mapes. Mrs. V. is still drip making. Lives in the same place. We live directly in front of the drug store on the other side of the Railroad. Can look straight into the store. We have a fine new brick depot. Is a big improvement on the old one. Perris has improved very much the last year. Think it will continue to improve.

I have had two letters from Eva and a present. All of which I am very thankful, but its such hard work for me to write. Please ask her to excuse me, but write to me always when you can. Am very glad to hear she has got a home of her own. Hope she may live long and happy. Suppose Addie is a big girl and helps take care of the little dutch babies. What is the last ones name? Tell John he must try for a boy next time, but postpone the trial as long as possible. Wish could see you all, but can't so kiss the little ones for grandpa.

Much love to all,

E. Brock

ACTON, June 5, 1892

Dear Nellie,

You asked me to write you more about father. You know nearly as much as I do. Just one month to the day he wrote me he had been very sick with bowel complaint, but was better and as soon as he was able if could get money was coming to see me. I have not seen him since L.A. with you. He wanted me to tell him all about the trains, if he could come through in one day. Then I did not hear from him again, but went on getting ready for him expecting every train to here. he had started. On the 15th wrote to know how he was and when he would start and on the evening of the 16th the man that takes passengers out from Acton passed here. I stopped him and told him to watch every train, so if we did not happen to be there to take good care of him and bring him up. He had just time to get to Acton and unhitch his horses and sent me the dispatch saying father was dying. It was received at Acton in the evening. I got it at seven, he died at eight. I could not start until five in the morning. The Coffin went out to Perris on the same train. I did. I only got to kiss his cold face and get a small lock of his hair, which I divide in three parts for you Ed, and myself. And A lady took some flowers out of his hand and gave me. She took part of them from me, but I send you half I have. We laid him away very nicely. I feel as though I might have seen him once more in life, but it is another cross for me to bear.. Poor Arthur took his death very hard as well as the rest. Lulu's health is very poor. I got there on the morning of the 17th, left on the 19th did not stop long. Cannot write more as my heart is too full of grief. What did it cost you to have his picture enlarged. Will you let me have the small one you have of mother. Now you have got another. If so put it in a box so it will not break and send it. I would so like a large one of both if was able, but am not.

Ever Truly,

Emma

ACTON, MAY 23, 1892

Dear Nellie,

Our father died the 16th near eight O'clock in the evening. I got a dispatch only just in time to go to the grave on the evening of the 17th, returned on the 19th. Louie has been very sick since with congestion of the lungs. Is some better though. He was going to die on the 20th. O Nellie, my heart is too full to write much now. Will write again and more as soon as can. Arthur takes our loss very hard. I am afraid Lulu will not stay long with him. She is very poorly. The rest are all well as can be.

Yours truly,

EMMA

Dear Cousin James

We are all quite excited by the results of your long hard work digging up family records.

I had more or less reached a dead end here since the Elders of this branch of the Brock clan Ronald, Inez & Irene are all gone. Of the 50-60 year olds none seems to know any family history at all.

Leslie & my children will have quite a heritage Mayflower, Colonial Bames, (2 times) B.A.R., Daughters of Confederacy, Daughters of the Golden West. (Leslie's mother's grandmother came here in a covered wagon when she was 8.)

Have you checked the Library of Congress? My Great Aunt obtained a photograph of my great-grandfather's Commission in the Revolutionary Army signed by Thomas Jefferson - I have that. She also got copies of some family coats of arms to which my family really had no right since they go male line only - Digging up family records is fun wish I had more time - maybe if I ever retire.

we would love to have any copies of records etc that you have and would be glad to pay for the Xeroxes if you would please send us the bill.

Our family wishes you and yours a very Merry Christmas
Jean Brock

Dear Ladies &/or Gentlemen,

I am working on my family tree (genealogy) and found that in writing to you and get a copy of a birth certificate of some sort for a small fee. Though I am not positive, from bits of information I have found I believe she was born in Massachusetts. Her name is Ellen Frances Brock born about Feb. 1, 1855. I got this date from death records that say she died May 3, 1919 at which time she was 64 yrs 3 mo. & 2 days old.

Unfortunately I don't know if she was born in Boston or not, but if you do not have any record of her birth I would appreciate it if you would forward this letter to the City of Boston so that they can check their records as I understand Boston is separated from the rest of the state. If it's possible I would like to obtain a complete full copy in which her parents are listed. I hope you will be able to help me, but bill me for any costs that are encountered. Thank you very much,

Dear Mr. Resser,

Recently I requested a copy of my Great Grandmother's Birth Cert. - Ellen Frances Bush born Feb 1, 1855 in Lynn Mass.

On the cert. it lists her parents, but Birth place for them is listed - United States - so there is no more specific info on their Birth places. I know Ephraim her father was born on 3/3/1825 in Rochester. N.H., but what I really need to know is when her mother Dianna C. Ames was born - as a matter of fact, the cert. doesn't even include Dianna's Maiden name - Ames -

"UNITED STATES"

so that you don't have to look all over this info Come from you. 1855

Dear Mr. Sir,

Recently I wrote to you asking for a copy of the Birth Certificate of Ephraim Brock, born in Rochester, New Hampshire on March 3, 1825.

What you sent me was not a copy of his birth certificate, but a listing of his birth date, name, & records searched.

This did not help me one bit as I had already given you that information in my letter. The reason I need the copy of his birth certificate is to find out who his parents were, since he is my Great Great Grandfather his parents would be my Great Great Great Grandparents.

This is solely for my own genealogical research on my family.

I hope you will be able to correct this oversight & either send me the Birth Cert. Copy I asked & paid for or give me the names & place of Birth of his parents. Thank you.

Dear Ladies & Gentlemen,

I am interested in obtaining the death Certificate of Ephraim Brock.

He was born March 3, 1835 married Diane C. Ames, who predeceased him in death. He died on May 16, 1892

I know he had one daughter Ellen Francis Brock who at the time of his death was married to John Rius Gutzwiller of Santa Ana.

He may have had other daughters as the names Lulu & Emma are used in letters I have.

I realize there is usually a charge for searching so I am enclosing a check for $2.00 to cover this charge.

I shall anxiously await to hear from you on this.

Sincerely,

James F. Blauer

Dear James

How dear of you to go to all that work. I did so enjoy reading the letters of the past. a lot of years have gone by. The pictures I can not help you with I am sorry, as my mother never had any of the family pictures, all the ones she ever had was just what some one of the family felt like telling her, she was on her way from the time she was very young, the only ones I have are the two or three Edith gave her the last time she came to Santa Ana just before she died. The one of Diana & Ellen Frances are the only one that had anything on it. Do you know the picture with the letter to Ellen Frances telling her of her father's death is of your great Grand Mother Ellen Frances it was taken some time just before she died. I do have it. Ellen Frances never had by her first marriage to Joshua Amos. Eva Mass my mother and a boy Artie who died over

at about 4 or 5 years, by Gubwecker your grand mother Marie, Aunt Elsie + Edick were - Florence came up w/ht 10 I don't know, Women in those days had many miss cages I am sure she lost some that way she was ill a long time the last eight years were spent in bed. I can only remember her that way. In the letter of the 13.

Lulu says our baby Ronald. well
there was a Ronald + Arthur.

I thought they were both sons of Ephraim but the Death note says his only surviving son was A. L. Brack. So I would think from the way it is written Lulu + Emma are sisters of Ellen Francis, you know the Bracks of San Diego that are in the building business are from Ephraim Brack about 45 years ago we all met.
there were 80 of us. however they were near the age of my mother so again time has moved on at that time Arthur was a very old man we all went to see him

There was at one time in Los Angeles an office window down town which like the name of Arthur Brack on it from the time he had a business there. Well James this may not be of any interest to you, but when we open a door to the past we never know what things we remember.

Here is the list of dates as I have them

(Deana) had seven children
 David Hall? died - 2-1922
 Ellen Francis 2-1917
 D. Murrow - 7-1919
 Orang Byron Hayward 12-1893 - 7-1963

The other I do not know.

Again James thank you. I would love to have ~~it~~ a copy from the picture of my Mother and Edith as you know I am about the last of the line.

Love you
 Ellen Francis

Dear Mr. Blauer:

Mr. Charles R. Appleton of the Nashville Banner has forwarded to me a copy of your letter requesting information on Mrs. Ephriam Brock, your great-great-grandmother, and also the address of my brother, William E. Brock, 111, in order that you may see if he is related to you.

Since Bill was first elected to Congress, he has received many requests from members of the "Brock Family" who were either trying to trace an ancestor or find out if they were related to Bill. He always forwards them to my late father's secretary, who has accumulated quite a file. I asked her to see if she could find any mention of Ephriam Brock in her file and regret that she was unable to do so.

For your information, I am enclosing chart of our branch of the Brocks back to 1722. As you will note, they came from Virginia and North Carolina. Since it is difficult to read, I am also enclosing the typed record back to 1757 used when my father joined the S.A.R. North Carolina Chapter. Possibly the D.A.R. or S.A.R. Chapter nearest you might be able to help you.

Should you want to contact Bill for any other reason than tracing your family tree, he is now Chairman of the Republican National Committee, 310 First Street, S.E., Washington, D. C. 20003.

You have our best wishes for success in your search.

Sincerely,

Paul K. Brock

Dear Mr. Blauer:

The State Library and Archives received your letter requesting information about the cholera epidemic in Nashville. In the book History of Davidson County, Tennessee by William Clayton, there is a reference to two epidemics that hit Nashville in 1866 and 1873. Both accounts should be in the area newspapers. We have enclosed a list of our holdings on microfilm for this time period. These newspapers are available for inter-library loan. If you are interested in doing research pertaining to any of these newspapers, just ask your local librarian to send us a written request.

We have enclosed information found in History of Davidson County, that was referred to earlier in this letter. We hope it will help in your research. We are sorry but we did not find any reference to a list of deaths caused by the epidemic.

Please let us know if we can be of any more service.

Very truly yours,

(Mrs.) Kathy Joyner

1890.

Dr. J. O. Ewing began the practice of medicine in Nashville in July, 1823. He said in his advertisement that in order to qualify himself for the practice of medicine he had devoted twelve years to the study of the classics and the science of medicine, the last three years more especially to familiarizing himself with the best modes of practice. He formed a partnership with A. G. Ewing under the firm name of J. O. & A. G. Ewing.

Dr. Hayes, in September, 1823, resumed the practice of that branch of medicine relating to midwifery in order to rescue it from the hands of the ignorant and presumptuous.

Dr. — — Yandell commenced the practice of medicine here in 1830. Dr. J. W. Bacon had been in practice here some time, and returned from Philadelphia in 1831, determined to follow his profession here. Dr. — — Esselman commenced the practice here in April, 1831, having his office with Dr. James Roane. Dr. J. R. Putnam, surgeon dentist, was then located on Summer Street, a few doors south of the Presbyterian church. Dr. M. Atchison was also at that time a surgeon dentist, having his office on Cherry Street. Dr. J. M. Cantrell began the practice of medicine here in October, 1831, and had his office with Dr. McNairy. Dr. William B. Dorris offered his professional services to the people of Nashville in May, 1832. Dr. Syd Smith began to practice here in June, 1832. Dr. J. H. Harris, dental surgeon, located here about the same time, and resided with Rev. Mr. Gwin. Dr. F. H. Badger was also engaged in the practice of dentistry at this time. In 1833 Dr. Becton was in partnership with Dr. McNairy.

In 1832 there was considerable anxiety and excitement with reference to the cholera. It had appeared at various places in the country, and it was well known to medical men that public and private cleanliness and temperate habits of living were essential to the prevention of the disease or to the mitigation of its severity in case preventive measures should fail. Hence in July of this year the subject of cleaning up the city began to attract the attention of the authorities of the place. The necessity of removing the mass of filth which had been accumulating for years was urged upon the council through the public press, and the method that they were then pursuing was criticised for the reason that it was calculated to aggravate the difficulty instead of doing good. The accumulations of filth were being carted just outside the corporation limits, and there dumped and left to rot and fester in the heated rays of the sun, thus filling the air with the most offensive effluvia. It was thought that unless a change was made in this matter, the cholera upon reaching Nashville would find its work already done by a malignant fever or some other equally fatal disease. On the 14th of July there was a meeting of the council to consider what further measures, if any, were necessary relating to the cholera. It was resolved that the commissioners appointed at a previous meeting be made permanent during the term of the board, and that they be required to inspect their respective wards at least twice each month. They were also required to make a full report to the board of all who failed to comply with the requisitions of the committee. The corporation hands were required to work on the streets and to clean the town of nuisances.

In connection with this subject the Board of Health submitted a report to the Mayor and Aldermen in September, 1832, they having appointed a committee to draft a system of rules respecting diet, which they wished to submit to the people for their guidance. The committee consisted of Drs. Boyd McNairy, James Roane, Samuel Hogg, J. L. Hadley, Felix Robertson, and James Overton. The report of this committee took ground against quarantine regulations as being ineffective and often injurious. They recommended that the city be thoroughly purified, including the streets, alleys, lanes, etc., and also the cellars of houses and business buildings. They further said they should be made dry, and the floors covered with lime. They also recommended to all the citizens temperance, cleanliness, ventilation, wholesome food, and warm and sufficient clothing. They went into minute directions as to the articles of food which should be used and which should be avoided, and insisted upon the duty of all to make immediate report of all diseases of the stomach and bowels, to the Board of Health, with the view of the prompt application of the appropriate remedy.

On October 22, 1832, the Board of Health held a meeting at which a committee was appointed to draft such resolutions as were proper for the direction of those who might have charge of any one taken with the cholera previous to the attendance of a physician. Prevention, they said, was more valuable than cure. In order to prevent an attack of cholera they advised that no medicine be taken so long as a person was well; that no lax or disordered state of the stomach or bowels should be neglected; that upon noticing the premonitory symptoms the patient should immediately bathe the feet and legs for half an hour in water as warm as it could be borne; remain in a warm room, drink warm mint, sage, or balm tea, and abstain from all food. If the attendance of the physician should be delayed more than an hour, or if the symptoms should be urgent, apply a large mustard plaster over the stomach and bowels, and give to a grown person two grains of calomel, rubbed down with a little brown sugar, or twenty or thirty drops of paregoric every half-hour for six hours, with a mild dose of castor oil an hour after the last powder. This course of treatment should be pursued until bilious or consistent discharges were produced. The Board also said that intemperate, dissolute, or drunken persons were the favorite victims of cholera, and were the first to establish its epidemic existence, and that such persons should if practicable be removed from the city; and that all tippling houses, especially those accessible to the black population, should be promptly suppressed.

The report of the Board of Health on December 13, 1832, was to the effect that in the opinion of the board epidemic cholera had made its appearance in Nashville within the past few days and that there had been three deaths from the disease. There was then a period of several weeks without any deaths from cholera; but on January 19, 1833, there were 10 cases and 6 deaths; on the 21st, 9 cases and 3 deaths; on the 22d, 5 cases and 1 death; on the 23d, 3 cases and no deaths; on the 24th, 3 cases and 1 death; on the 25th, 1 case and 1 death; on the 26th, 4 cases and 2 deaths; on the 27th, 2 cases and 2 deaths; on the 28th, 2 cases and no deaths. On February 1 there were 4 cases and 1 death; on the 2d, 3 cases and 2 deaths; on the 4th, 10 cases and 5 deaths; on the 5th, 4 cases and 2 deaths; and from this time on the disease assumed a milder form and soon disappeared.

In May, 1833, the cholera again made its appearance in Nashville. By the 8th of the month a few deaths occurred among the colored population. There was then a lapse of more than two weeks before any other cases occurred; but on the 28th of the month it appeared in a fatal form, twenty cases being reported, six or seven of which had terminated fatally. On the 29th there were seven or eight fatal cases and a good many new ones. On Friday, May 31, there were five burials; on June 1, 7; on the 2d, 4; on the 3d, 4; on the 4th, 4; the 5th, 2; and in all from the 28th of May up to and including June 7, 42; 21 whites and 21 blacks. On the 8th there was 1; the 9th, 5; 10th, 6; 11th, 8; 12th, 2; 15th, 9; 17th, 8; and from this time on the number of deaths steadily diminished. Among the notable deaths during this period were those of Francis Porterfield, one of the most prominent merchants of the place, and Josiah Nichol, President of the Branch Bank of the United States, located in Nashville.

Toward the latter part of 1823 the necessity for a hospital began to be seriously felt in Nashville. To assist in the establishment of such an institution the Legislature, on October 15, passed a law authorizing the drawing of a lottery. The town council of the city therefore, on the 28th of October, adopted a resolution favoring the conveying to the use of said proposed hospital a lot in the south field purchased of W. Barrow for the use of said hospital and for no other purpose. The managers of the lottery were Boyd McNairy, Felix Robertson, James Overton, and James Roane. The necessity for such an institution was set forth eloquently and at great length by the Board of Managers. They said: "To justify the propriety of such an enterprise it will only be necessary to reflect and to know that the sons and daughters of many a high-spirited emigrant, whose bones are still bleaching on the field of Indian conflict, pine and perish in the bosom of our country, the victims of want and bodily affliction. They are daily seen, haggard and wan in their aspect, begging a miserable and uncertain morsel of subsistence from house to house and from door to door in our streets or partially covered by loathsome tatters stretched upon the naked earth and exposed to the winter's piercing blasts, uttering their midnight and solitary supplications to the throne of grace and mercy. In comparison with these pitiful and blighted specimens of our species the condition of the meanest reptile that crawls in filth and the insensibility of inferior animation is dignified and desirable. They have their appetites and instincts to guide them and a bodily organization to sustain the station in nature which has been assigned to them by the fiat of their Creator. Not so with man destitute of reason. His society is avoided by men and animals of a lower order, and he wanders a lost and destitute stranger in the midst of those feelings and motives which bind into society the multiform varieties of animated nature, and which minister in turn to the preservation and felicities of their existence. It is for the sole purpose of collecting into a body and of providing some comfortable habitation for these peculiarly afflicted and unfortunate individuals of the human family that the profits of the lottery are to be employed by its managers."

The scheme of the lottery was as follows: One prize, $8,000; one prize, $4,000; one prize, $2,000; one prize, $1,000; two prizes, each $500; ten prizes, each $100; twenty prizes, each $50; one hundred and fifty prizes, each $20; nine hundred prizes, each $10; total, $30,000. The number of prizes was one thousand and eighty-six, and the number of blanks, one thousand nine hundred and fourteen.

The result of the drawing was not published, so far as could be learned, nor was the hospital built in accordance with the plans of its projectors. In fact, it is believed that the city of Nashville had no hospital of its own until the present year, 1890, the city's patients being cared for by one or the other of the two medical colleges upon contract with the city. A brief sketch of the present city hospital may be found in the chapter on "Public Institutions."

The Family of Elias Ames

The Revolutionary campaign of General Sullivan in 1779 had so completely broken the power of the savages, that they no longer constituted a barrier to the settlement of the beautiful and heavily timbered lands of Central New York.

An act of congress in 1776 and an act of the state legislature in 1783 granted large areas of land to the soldiers who served in the United States army.

One Jonathan Masters of the city of New York being entitled, by reason of his services in the army to a lot of land, sold his warrant for six hundred acres on July 11th, 1786 unlocated as it was to John Stanford, Esq. of the same city for sixteen pounds or about $85.

Early in 1791, the commissioners appointed, to draw lots for their claimants, began the work and in due time the warrant of Masters, then owned by Stanford drew Lot Number 31 Scipio. The lot being south of the highway and reaching from Scipio Center, east to Frog Patent. A parcel a mile square.

On December 21st, 1805 John Stanford, by his attorney Joseph Annisin sold his lot to Ebenezer Witter of Scipio for $305. Witter sold quite a large tract to Elias Ames, July 18, 1807 for about $6.05 per acre.

Elias Ames was a native of Connecticut. Of Puritan stock and his wife was Triphena Squires before marriage. They with their family of seven children made the long and tiresome overland journey the same Spring and settled on the land purchased.

The names of the children in order of seniority were: Anson, Polly, Bishop, Sarah, Henry, Chester and Orin—then three years of age.

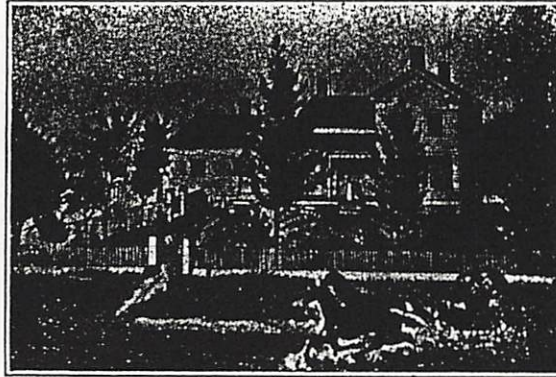

In 1819 Elias built a large house for his large family His son Chester, a young man of eighteen drawing the lumber twenty miles from Ithaca over the rough and dangerous roads.

Elias Ames did not live long in the splendid house he had built, as he died three years later.

His children continued the work and soon the forest became beautiful fields of waving grain.

The older brothers gradually made homes of their own and the two youngest bought out the other's interest and divided the land between themselves in 1834, Chester taking the north and Orrin the south part of the large farm.

ANSON OR ALONZO AMES—Little can be obtained of this family excepting that there was one son named Anson Jr., lived in New York State

The Home of Orin and Phila Ames

The Family of Orin Ames

1803—1865

Orin Ames was born Nov. 12, 1803, married Miss Kemp in 1830. This young lady he had courted seven years but he was not destined to live with her long for after a year she sickened and died of that deadly disease, tuberculosis.

In 1834 he married a young widow twenty four years of age—Mrs. Phila Sebring, who brought with her a little daughter Hannah. A baby son Dorr having died in infancy.

Mrs. Phila's maiden name was Porter and she had a brother Timothy and a sister Polly. This family was of Irish and Scotch extraction.

The children of Orin and Phila came along in quick succession and their names were:

ANN E., EMMA JEANETTE, JANE, JOHN, PHEBE, GEORGE, LOVINA F. ELNORA, and MORGAN. HANNAH SEBRING is also classed with this group.

The hardships and privations incident to pioneer life added to the intensive temperment of Orin made fatal inroads upon his constitution and he died March 12, 1865, aged 61 years, 3 months, 28 days.

He inherited to a large extent the virtues and sterling qualities of his parents. He took an interest in public affairs, particularly educational and church matters, and when he did not lead it was because he encountered those equally as determined and stronger than himself.

Politically he was a great admirer and friend of Col. Morgan of Aurora which accounts for the name of his youngest son.

He entered the militia of the 60's and stood proudly in his elaborate military dress.

Religiously he was a close communion Baptist and was always found in his pew with many of the members of his family. He with his devoted wife left a strong religious legacy to his large family of children, all of whom followed closely in their father's leading.

Aunt Phila or Grandma Ames as she was often called lived many years after the death of her husband in the home with two of her children—Phebe and Morgan. She was of a very sweet disposition and looked well to the ways of her large family.

Music was a special feature of the life of this family, and all were required to attend school.

Aunt Phila died June 21, 1884 at the age of 73 years.

Dear James:

What a wonderful job you have done on the family history. I do thank you for all the papers and letters you have sent me some of the things I knew from my mother but is so good to see it in print she would be so happy to see and read it all to know it from word of mouth was something but as I saw to see in print and know it was all true is another thing. I hope some day when you have time you can ~~put~~ tie Olive Ames into the Pine Grandma since he was a cousin but I have never been able to find where he really came into our line.

I wish I could have gone to Boston with you. I am sure you had a good time. Did you get to Harvard College? We only drove by. In the book I sent you on the Ames family page 37. Fisher Ames tells a little about it. Hope to hear from you soon.
Love Cousin Ellen F

Dear Mr. Blauer,

The Town of Rye received your application of search of marriage records for your great grandfather, Fisher Alvin Ames and Ellen Frances Brock. After checking the records we found nothing. I also checked with Greenwich, Connecticut as part of that use to be call East Port Chester, but they had nothing either. The registrar of Port Chester gave us your request as they found nothing.

If you want you can forward your request to Albany to see if they may have a record.

Sorry we couldn't be of any help to you and good luck in your search.

Sincerely,

Linda A. Lyons,
Deputy Town Clerk

Dear Jim & "Dad"

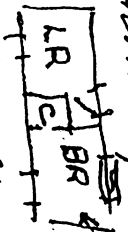

Another year and I'm not really ready for '96 - Can't believe a new century is so close.

This has been a busy year
We finally got a new front Porch after removing 4 others - rusted (over the others! In Sept Joan had a new baby boy
"Nick" born on her 31st
Birthday in the same Hospital. I was there when he was born and he grabbed Gummy's finger and held on tightly all the time
The nurses were cleaning him up and giving him to do and I hope - a wonderful experience for me.

Whether Bill's goal is 18 man and plans its come like with us and go to college in July or not decided our other boys being born into a family

an entry / small bed during from and a which born for whether into the Family Room which we will need to try

we. See come to try if our last month
and sign the names and say that I mean much

Leslie's diabetic feet began to get much worse and after 2 + months of very limited activity the doctors put him in the Hospital for over a month taking veins from his arm to put in his legs to try to get a little blood to his feet - Then other doctors operated on his feet. He's been home 3 weeks now and is doing well - even able to drive the Van again He's had a tough time with the hospital & me keeping him from eating junk food - oh well we tried

After 4 years of not being able to drive I finally got tired of Doctors ideas of the rest of don'ts they expect women to observe - HA - so I started driving - I've never driven our big Van - I like it it is so easy to see other cars when you are up so high - Leslie's going to have a hard time getting it back.

Tomorrow is the live Nativity at the Church - now that I don't have any animals - Sewell's kids & their 4H Club

have taken over - All I'm doing is making a few cookies & taking pictures.

We hope you will have a wonderful Christmas and a healthy strong
New Year -

Dear James

Dear James.

I presented your Returne S.A.R. Stickers to the Chapter. It seemes that they all have Computers and make their own. They all said they looked great and a few Took your address.
Nothing new with our chapter
We just are growing smaller and smaller.
Mostley attration.

Ellen is fine but we have been very busy fixing up a apartment to rerent. The last tenants iust moved out. Ellen is active in her D.A.R. and is taking me to her next meeting They are having,
one of OUR Big wheels as their speaker..
Good Luck to youm and yours. I cant Drive or walk anymore so Ellen.
is my transportation.

Love from us

Death of Mr. Brock.

DIED—On Monday, May 16th, at 5:00 p. m., after a brief illness—Ephriam Brock, aged 68 years.

Mr. Brock was born near Rochester, New Hampshire, on the 31st day of March, 1825. In April 1846, he was married to Miss Diana C. Ames. Seven children blessed the union, four of whom are still living, the only surviving son being Mr. A. L. Brock of Perris with whom the deceased has resided for four years past, during which time he has endeared himself to all who knew and admired him for his uprightness and manly traits of character. His occupation was that of carpentry, at which trade he labored until a few days before his death, and he was known to be a skillful, conscientious craftsman. In 1875 his beloved helpmate passed to the other life.

Funeral services were held at the M. E. Church on Tuesday afternoon at 5 o'clock. Rev. Rogers made a short address, taking for his text the beautiful words in the 14th chapter of St. John: "Let not your heart be troubled" neither let it be afraid;" etc. At the close of the address the remains were taken to the Perris cemetery, being followed by a large number of personal friends of the deceased.

Obituary.

The following obituary notice on the death of one of Albuquerque's pioneer citizens is contained in the Perris, California, New Era of May 10:

Died—On Monday, May 16, at 5 p. m., after a brief illness, Ephriam Brock, aged 68 years.

Mr. Brock was born near Rochester, N. H., on the 31st day of March, 1825. In April, 1846, he was married to Diana C. Ames. Seven children blessed the union, four of whom are still living, the only surviving son being Mr. A. L. His occupation was that of carpentry, at which trade he labored until a few days before his death, and he was known to be a skillful, conscientious craftsman. In 1875 his beloved helpmate passed to the other life.

Mr. Ephriam Brock was one of the earliest of Albuquerque's pioneers and enjoyed the distinction of having built the first house ever erected in the new town. Among his surviving relatives are two well-known residents of the Duke city, they being his daughter, Mrs. J. P. Gutwaler, and granddaughter, Mrs. D. A. Moss, wife of the popular superintendent of the Albuquerque steam laundry. During his residence here the deceased enjoyed the reputation of a good citizen and an honorable gentleman and THE CITIZEN takes pleasure in adding its tribute of respect to that which the New Era has voiced so feelingly.
