Stan's Sacramento

James Blauer, digging around in his root garden, can't seem to find a couple of offshoots from the family tree he's researching.

He knows that Art and Helen Weldon, along with their children, Monte, Margaret and Lydia, were living somewhere in Northern California — possibly in the Santa Rosa area — during the past 10 or 15 years.

That's not much to go on, so Blauer hopes someone who knows more than he about the "misplaced" Weldons will write to him at 418 Pirate Road, Newport Beach, CA 92663.

In late December 1978, I wrote to eight (8) or ten (10) papers in the Sacramento and San Francisco Area. In these letters I asked if they could print a small article asking for help in finding Helen and Art Weldon and their children of the Susan Blauer Daniel Anthony family.

Within a week or so I received a letter from an A. Ellis that was post marked Sacramento. He told me he had seen an item in a local paper on the Weldon family. Apparently one of them lived in Santa Rosa for three years in the late 1960's. He informed me though that the Weldons lived in Portland, Oregon and gave me the address.

I wrote and within a week I received the above article that Helen had gotten from a cousin of hers. She had planned to write, but with the arrival of my letter she sat down & wrote to me immediately. She was able to give me many dates and names I did not have. Because there were some dates missing I have followed up by asking Mrs. Weldon for the addresses of her children. This group of events has been one of the most exciting since I began working on the Blauer family tree.

Dear Cousin James,

the Spanish Flu of 1918! She is doing better now, doctors predict a full recovery.

Thank you for your cheery, informative Christmas letter. You sound like a busy fellow between re-enactments and family and work - just like we are. Somehow the "Scottish Gene" has been very strong in myself and my husband Byron. Must be from my father's side & his Mom's side of the families. We play bagpipes and drums. We play for a great many weddings, parties & funerals here in the area. Often times we work with the Hudson's Bay Company out of Fort Vancouver, USA. It's a lot of fun to step outside of yourself every now and then and be part of another time and life.

My Mom, Helen Welden is nearly 93! She's been a bit under the weather this year. She remarked that she hadn't been so sick since

May your holidays be filled
