Subj: Town in France
Date: Monday, April 30, 2001 8:59:37 PM
From: lhanks@linkline.com
To: borkenhb@aol.com

Dear F.E.,

Two people at the Information Desk for Western and Eastern Europe, after studying the handwriting on the Death Certificate, decided that the name of the town is Tarare. They said that the letter "T" was sometimes written like that. Tarare is a fairly large town and you shouldn't have difficulty finding it on a map. The Family History Library has the Civil Registration for Tarare on microfilm if you would like to try that. Think of the fun you would have trying to read French! Of course you would be able to read the names if nothing else.

The old saying goes "No news is good news", but I am thinking that you haven't emailed me about Dave's CT Scan because it was bad news. Have been worrying about both of you.

Hope to see you on the 9th, TGLW.

Dear Ms. Borkenhagen, my apologies for the delay in responding to your request. To be quite honest, I'm not certain where we would locate your great grandfather's naturalization records. There are a number of agencies where we could do the research but it could wind up being costly given the archaic nature of the job request. We charge $30.00 per agency/court (in San Francisco) per day on top of an hourly rate of $36.00 (pro-rated) for time spent conducting the research. Further to this, to the best of my knowledge, most records of any sort dating prior to 1906 were destroyed in the 1906 earthquake and subsequent fire. Obviously, this would hinder our research efforts. Please let us know if you would like us to proceed and we can discuss details.

Sincerely,

Josh Gottlieb

IF a foreigner was registred to vote, then he was a naturalized citizen. The voter registration was supposed to list the court and location of his naturalization records. I think the "intent" to file for naturalization contains lots of info, such as how he got to the US, place of birth. The actual naturalization form just gives his renouncing of prior ruler, such as King of France etc.

Good luck

Re: Frances Peter MASSON

Dear Mr. Masson,

I saw your name and address on Ancestry.com website under "Individual Search Results." My paternal greatgrandfather was Francis Peter Masson and I wondered if you were related to him.

He was born in France, probably around 1840, and was naturalized in San Francisco in 1868. He married Mary (Maria) McCann, who was born in Boston MA 28 May 1841. They had 6 children, but only 2 survived. The children who lived were my maternal grandmother Marie Louise 1866-1942, and her sister Helen Marie 1868-1954. While in San Francisco, he was in business with his brother Victor B. Masson as a wholesale confectioner.

After Maria McCann Masson's death in 1889, he married Marguerite Chizelle. They had one child, Clotilde Pauline. They returned to France where he died in 1915 in Charlieu, Loire. Clotilde married someone named Gardnier.

I am enclosing Family Group Sheets to clarify the two families and a stamped self-addressed envelope in hopes of hearing from you.

Thank you very much,

Eleanor E. Borkehagen
(Mrs.) Eleanor E. Borkehagen

I don't think so. MASSON's ancestor originated in Normandy. Invaded England 1066 with ~~William the Conqueror~~ and settled in Scotland. My great-grandfather emigrated to Canada after the Crimean War and grandfather arrived in Portland Oregon (1900?).

Yours sincerely,
Francis G. Masson

This is one of a series of files in a web-base finding aid to 10,875 vital events recorded in the San Francisco Call during the year 1885. Most events are for San Francisco area births, marriages, and deaths. However many records are for events throughout California and beyond. It is estimated that 5% of the events took place in other states or countries but were of interest to San Francisco residents. Deaths at sea were also reported by the ships coming into the port of San Francisco.

This is one of 249 files in a web-base finding aid to over 108,000 vital events recorded in the San Francisco Call during the ten year period 1875-1884. Most events are for San Francisco area births, marriages, and deaths. However many records are for events throughout California and beyond. It is estimated that 5% of the events took place in other states or countries but were of interest to San Francisco residents. Deaths at sea were also reported by the ships coming into the port of San Francisco.

Dear F.E.,

I am so surprised, delighted, concerned about Dave... Yes, I am still there on Wednesdays from 9-1 and I look forward to seeing you in the morning.

I didn't get to the 1930 Census list you sent me. Ancestry has completed the index and it appears to be an every name index, not just head of household. We could start with that. I am thinking maybe we could find your Murray cousin that was born in ?Georgia? That would be an interesting puzzle to solve.

We could take another stab at the Boston family Mc_____ (my memory is fading - married F.P. Masson). Maybe we could follow up on the immigration suggestions for Masson. That might help us determine where they married.

Mytrees.com is working on an index to the 1851 British census, but I don't think they are moving along very quickly on it. Was W.H. Evans in the U.S. in 1850? I think he was in San Francisco by 1860. It seems to me that you already took a stab at the Passenger Lists for Louisiana. I am curious what other ideas the speaker had.

Borkenhagens are possible too.

I am so late with this reply that I may see you before you read this. I was going to do it earlier, but Bruce tried to help by firing up the dishwasher. He put the wrong kind of soap in and we had suds and water pouring out onto the floor.

See you in the morning, love F.L.
