NOTES ON THE BOND FAMILY OF BALTIMORE AND HARFORD COUNTIES

E. Branch chart #56

ca 1640?

A. PETER BOND, the Immigrant, was born ----, and died 1704/5, in Baltimore County, Maryland. The name of his first wife is not known. His second wife was Alice ----, who had married 1) (probably) ----- Gill; 2) William Drury; 3) Peter Bond; and 4) Philip Washington.

Peter Bond of Anne Arundel County immigrated by 1660 (Early Settlers List, Liber 9, folio 448).

William Drury of Anne Arundel County made his will 22 August, 1676, and it was filed 30 Nov., 1676 (Md. Cal. Wills, 1:179). He leaves to his daughter Christian, at 16 years of age, the home plantation, which was given his daughter before his marriage to his wife Alice. To his wife Alice, he left personal property, as he also left to her son Stephen Gill. James Rigby was the executor. The will was witnessed by Matthias Stevenson and James Martin.

This will proves that William Drury who died 1676 was married to a wife Alice (-----), who had previously been married to a man named Gill.

On 18 June, ~~1678~~ 1678, James Rigby, executor of the will of William Drury summoned Peter Bond and his wife Alice, late the widow of said Drury, into court. (Correction: Bond and his wife summoned Rigby into court). Rigby was ordered to pay Alice Bond her thirds as the widow of Rigby. (Archives of Maryland, 67:407-408).

Peter Bond was a member of a coroner's jury in Anne Arundel County that met 12 April, 1679, to inquire into the size of the estate of John Vennall, late of said county (Archives, 51:296).

The will of Peter Bond was made 23 August, 1704, and filed 28 April, 1705 (Md. Cal. Wills, 3:49). To his wife Alice, the executrix, he left plantation and land during life. To sons Thomas, William, and John, he left 300 acres at the head of Bush River. Son Peter was to have wife Alice's land after her death. Sons William and John were to be of age at 18. The witnesses to the will were: Lancelot Todd, John Lockett, and Wm. Felps.

On 27 June, 1705, his estate was inventoried by Jno. Hurst, Chris. Gardner. His estate included 2 feather beds and furniture, pewter and tin ware, Brass, ~~mmh~~ small Bell Metal mortar and pestle, earthen ware 2 chests, spinning wheel and cards, Doz. deer skins, 2 small looking glasses, wood and lumber, books, sword, and pr. small styliards. The value of this estate was: £55.15.0, plus 3 hds tobacco weighing 1492 lbs. John Jackson, debtor, owed the estate 542 lbs. tobacco. (Balto. Co. Inventories, 1:170).

On 25 July, 1706, the estate was administered by the executrix, Alice Bond (Balto. Co. Adm. Accts 2:236). On 14 May, 1707, the estate was again adm. by the executrix Alice, now wife of Philip Washington (Balto. Co. Adm. Accts 2:82).

Peter Bond was the father of four sons, the last two by his second wife. The second son may have also been by Alice. His sons were:

- AA. Peter Bond, b. ca. 1676; d. 1718
- AB. Thomas Bond, b. ca. 1679; d. 1755
- AC. William Bond, b. ca. 1685
- AD. John Bond, b. ca. ~~1687~~ 1687; d. 1720

EG 28
AA. PETER BOND, of Peter Bond the Immigrant, was born ca. 1676, and died in Baltimore County, Maryland, in 1718. His mother's name is not known, although it is possible she was Alice, widow of 1) ---- Gill, and 2) William Drury that his father married by 1678.

Peter Bond the second married Eleanor, daughter of Richard Gwynn, for whom Jones' Falls Gwynns Falls is named. She later married Hill Savage. William B. Marye in an article on "The Baltimore County 'Garrison'" (Md. His. Mag., 16:222 f.), describes Gwynn as a man of some prominence in the local community. In 1686 he had been appointed one of the Justices of the Baltimore County Court, but because of "scandalous and infamous living" was not allowed to take the Oath of Office (Mr. Marye refers the curious reader to Baltimore County Court Proceedings, Liber D, 1682-1686; November Court, 1685 and March Court, 1685/6 for fuller details.). see Barnes letter of 17 Sept. 1968!

* In his will dated 1692, Gwin bequeathed the tract "New Towne" to his daughter Eleanor. This tract he had taken up on 25 April, 1672, in partnership with Edward Halton.. The tract is located in the angle of intersection between Gwynn's Falls and Gwynn's Run. (Md. His. Mag., 16:221).

Sometime between 1703 and 1705, Peter Bond located on this tract, which he had by right of his wife, although James Carroll, who owned the adjacent tract "Saint James Park," which was later included in the famous Carroll estate of Mount Clare, tried to persuade him not to locate there, but Bond felt he had a sufficiently good claim to the land to ignore Carroll's warnings. (See deposition by William (AC) Bond, below). Peter Bond's claim to this land, in right of his wife the daughter of Richard Gwynn, and the fact that he allowed his mother and father live in the house he had built on "New Towne" are also asserted by Peter's brother William in his deposition.

On 23 Sept., 1717, Stephen Gill, Jr., planter, of Baltimore Co., made a will in which he left to his uncle Peter Bond, and heirs, one part of "Mill Stones," lying at Gwinns Falls, and 100 acres of land adjoining Gwinns Falls (Maryland Calendar of Wills, 4:121).

Mrs. Florence Montgomery, in an undated to Robert Barnes, describes the court case that developed after this will was filed for probate. Gill's stepmother, Jane, now the wife of ---- Van Deaver claimed that Peter Bond and Christopher Randall had used undue influence on the boy to make this will, and some witnesses even felt that the boy was dead, not just in a coma, when Bond and Randall took his hand and guided it with the pen to make his mark. Unfortunately, Mrs. Montgomery did not indicate the outcome of the case, or give a source reference.

On 28 Sept., 1704, Peter Bond had surveyed "Bond's Increase," also called "Bond's Addition" and Bond's Interest," located between "New Town" and Gwinns Falls.

The will of Peter Bond was made 28 Feb., 1717/8 and filed 16 June, 1718 (Md. Cal. Wills, 4:161). To his son Richard, he left his dwelling plantation and half the land going with it. Son William was to have the other half. Son Thomas was to have the plantation on Garrison Ridge. Son Peter was to get half of Bond's Pleasant Hills, and the other half was to go to son John. Son Benjamin was to have the 100 acres bequeathed Bond by Stephen Gill, Jr. Bond's wife was to be executrix. The will was witnessed by Jos. Parkinson, Thos. Guine, and Wm. Hamilton.

17 May, 1718, the estate was inventoried by Edward Teal and William Hamilton. The total value was £ 277.2.9.½. A note was added that Hill Savage had married the widow. (Balto. Co. Inv., 1:332)

AC. WILLIAM BOND, of Peter and Alice, was born, ca. 1685, and was living 1733, when he gave evidence on the boundary of a tract. He married Mary (possibly Westbury), who died 17 Oct., 1732 (St. Johns and St. Georges Parish Register, p. _____).

In June, 1733, William Bond, age 48, deposed before a land commission (held to determine the bounds of "New Towne") (held on behalf of John Stewart), that about 30 years ago, Mr. James Carroll told Peter Bond who was seating the land he had by his wife (William's brother Peter married Eleanor, daughter of Richard Gwynn), that he had better avoid seating there; that he (Carroll) would let him (Bond) hav warrant for some other land. Peter Bond answered he believed he had evidence good enough to support his pretensions... (Baltimore County Court Proceedings, Liber HWS # 2, f. 166 ff.).

The children estate of William Bond of Thomas was administered 23 August, 1742, by William Bond of Thomas. Mentioned in the account were: son-in-law Thomas Johnson; daughter Sarah Lowe (or Love); daughter Ann Bond; daughter the wife of John Rigdon; and daughter the wife of William Andrews. (Balto. Co. Adm. Accts 3:271)

The children of William and Mary Bond were:

On 14 Sept., 1720, the estate was administered by the administratrix Eleanor, now wife of Hill Savage. (Balto. Co. Adm. Accts, Liber 1, f. 309).

Eleanor must have died some time after this, because on 15 Aug., 1724, and 25 May, 1727, Bond's estate was administered by William Parrish, a Quaker, one of the securities for Ellinor Bond, the administratrix. (Balto. Co. Accts 3:21, 23; 2:357; 288).

See also Balto. Co. Adm. Accts 3:23, and 26, for other accounts of the estate.

In March, 1724, William Bond petitioned the Baltimore County Court that two of the orphans of Peter Bond, dec., be taken away from Edward Roberts, who had not tried to cure their "scaled heads" (Balto. Co. Court Proceedings, Liber IS # TW, 1724-5, f. 122.).

His will was made 21 Jan., 1763, and filed 11 April, 1762 (Md. Will Book, 31:892). Som Richard was to have 50 acres adjacent William Andrews tract; son John, 80 acres on Middle Ridge; son Shadrach, 70 acres; son Nicodemus the residue of the land. Daughters Ruth Gott, Jemima Ensor, Mary Bond, ~~Ann~~ Ann Constanty, Elizabeth Cole, and Phebe, Sarah, Heleh, and Margaret Bond were named. Also named were Philip, John and Elizabeth, children of John and Eleanor Pindell. Nicodemus Bond, and Richard Gott were coexecutors. The will was witnessed by William Hammond, Joshua Bond, Jonathan West, and Oliver Harriott.

The children of Richard and Mary (Jones) Bond, as compiled by Mrs. F. C. Montgomery (order of birth uncertain), with marriage dates by Robert Barnes, were:
