Erosion uncovers tombstones on San Francisco's Ocean Beach

By Pueng Vongs | The Lookout – Thu, Jun 7, 2012

Visitors to the popular Ocean Beach in San Francisco are accustomed to dramatic views of waves crashing onshore, but perhaps nothing quite as dramatic as the sight of tombstones.

"I've seen some really unusual things out here," jogger Susan Palleschi told KTVU. "That gravestone blew me away."

Turns out the tombstones were placed there more than 70 years ago to help stop erosion from rising tides, according to KTVU. After the city shut down several cemeteries in the 1940s, the bodies were moved, but "unclaimed property" remained. Some families simply couldn't afford to have the markers moved. The headstones soon became city property and they were put to good use, according to David Gallagher, director of the Western Neighborhoods Project.

"In 1942 or 1943, there were great storms in the city. The Great Highway was eroding...they had all this construction debris," Gallagher told KTVU. "Among the debris were all these headstones that they dumped to stop the surging tide."

[Related: 66-foot concrete dock washes ashore in Oregon]

Pieces of the grave markers have now reappeared over the past several weeks, including one that belonged to Delia Presby, a wife that died in 1890 at the age of 26. And it seems the markers will remain on the beach until the tide once again covers them. A representative from the U.S. Park Service told KTVU there are no plans to recover and relocate the headstones.

Uncovered grave markers seem to be in the news lately: Last month a man in Tennessee was also in for a shock when he discovered old tombstones while he was doing maintenance in his backyard.

Concerns about the public health, crime, and the need for space forced the City and County Board of Supervisors to outlaw further burials in 1902. The larger cemeteries such as Laurel Hill and Calvary Cemetery were told to remove their interments. The fight to keep the cemeteries lasted for many years, but in 1942, the last bodies were removed from Laurel Hill Cemetery. Where the Dead Went

San Francisco Cemeteries moved around quite a bit. Here's a list of what happened to various cemeteries:

| San Francisco Cemetery Name | Dates of Operation/Fate |
|--|--|
| Mission Dolores Cemetery | 1776-1901. Still at Mission Dolores |
| San Francisco National Cemetery | Closed in 1990. Still at the Presidio, Golden Gate National Recreation Area |
| North Beach Cemetery | Deposition Unknown |
| Telegraph Hill | Cemetery Deposition Unknown |
| Russian Hill Cemetery | Deposition Unknown |
| Calvary Cemetery | 1860-1901. Remains moved to Holy Cross, Colma, 1942 |
| Chinese Cemetery | Moved to Golden Gate Cemetery |
| Gibbath Olom Cemetery (Hills of Eternity) | 1861-1888. Moved to Colma, 1889 |
| Golden Gate Cemetery | 1868-1901. Turned into Lincoln Park Golf Course in 1906. Stones dumped at Ocean Beach |
| Greek Cemetery | Deposition Unknown |
| Hebrew Cemetery | 1850-1860. Deposition Unknown |
| Laurel Hill Cemetery (aka Lone Mountain Cemetery) | 1854-1901. Remains moved to Laurel Hill Mound, Cypress Lawn, Colma |
| Masonic Cemetery | 1864-1901. Remains moved to Woodlawn Cemetery, Colma. Tombstones used as fill on approaches to Golden Gate Bridge. |
| Nevai Shalom Cemetery (Home of Peace) | 1860-1888. Moved to Colma in 1889. |
| Odd Fellows Cemetery | 1865-1901. Remains moved to Greenlawn Cemetery, Colma. Tombstones used to construct Aquatic Park seawall |

Allow enough time to adequately search and document as you go along.

Put the name of the cemetery on the top of each page along with the date.

Write down the inscriptions even if you photograph or record them.

Write each family on a different page to facilitate filing when you get home.

Write down all those who are buried nearby.

Search the entire cemetery for other relatives in case someone is buried in another part.

Check with the office for people who don't have tombstones.

Also, allow extra time to locate the cemetery and then to locate appropriate graves.

Watch out for poison ivy, spiders, snakes, holes, overgrown vegetation, old fences, and wild animals.

Allow enough time so you are not stranded in an isolated cemetery after dark.

Large cemeteries are confusing in daylight. Be sure to leave the cemetery when you KNOW and feel confident you can get to the main road outside the cemetery.

When walking use your flashlight. Twilight comes unexpectedly.

Monuments and Memorials: Something other than stone

Don't forget to record the following -

Stained glass windows, altar pieces, sacramental services, ornaments, or statues can be presented as special gifts in the name and memory of deceased relatives. Small plaques give names, dates and relationships of those in the giftgiving memorial.

Contributions, in lieu of flowers, are given to trust funds, special organizations or a project in the memory of a deceased loved one. Records are maintained of all who contribute.

Data: Different Surfaces, Different Techniques:

Sometimes old inscriptions on markers are almost weathered off. Or moss and/or lichens may have covered the stone, making the process of reading and recording data almost impossible. DO NOT TRY TO CLEAN OLD HEADSTONES, as further damage to the remaining inscriptions may occur. Instead, use a

A Brief History of Cemeteries:

We have been burying our dead for at least 50,000 years. “Planting the deceased” is one of the earliest known human rituals. It was perhaps a recognition by an early agricultural people of the complete cycle of life. From the womb (earth) and back to mother earth as burial (womb) in order to be reborn anew.

Whether people believe in an afterlife (Egyptians, Christians, Muslims), or need to prevent the spread of disease (1630 Black Plague, 1902 diphtheria epidemic), or want to honor those held most dear, cemeteries can mean different things to different people. Groups of people have gone to war to protect their burial grounds (Native Americans). Captured land has been turned into hallowed ground (Arlington Cemetery). Lastly, some people want to be returned to our primordial roots - the ocean.

Dear Ms Stinson,

I very much appreciate the help you have been to me in locating my parents, paternal grandparents and paternal great grandparents in the Freese/Evans plot and my maternal grandparents in the Collins plot in Holy Cross Cemetery. The cards on the Collins plot show the plot owner as "Jno.", which should be "John", W. Collins and a deed serial number of "B-12054 P.C." Would it be possible to obtain a copy of that deed?

I am enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope. Any information you have will be appreciated.

Very truly yours,

RE: D - 6 - 2 - 2 - 1/12 (Freese/Evans/Turner/Cluin Plot)

Dear Mrs. Stinson:

I very much appreciate the great amount of information you have sent me in the past concerning my parents, paternal grandparents and paternal great grandparents in the Freese/Evans plot in your cemetery. You have sent me copies of 26 file cards of relatives of mine buried in that plot.

The cards show "Capt. Freese" as the plot owner. He is Andrew C. Freese, who was my grandfather William James Evans's brother-in-law, as he married my grandfather's sister Catherine Evans Freese. The cards also show a deed serial number of "B 7980 P.C." which is crossed out and replaced with "474 P.C." Would it be possible to obtain a copy of that deed? I am enclosing a stamped self-addressed envelope for your convenience.

Sincerely,

Mrs. Eleanor Evans Borkenhagen

Dear Ms Stinson,

It was a pleasure speaking with you on the phone this morning and I can not tell you enough times how much I appreciate the help you have been to me in locating my parents, paternal grandparents and paternal great grandparents in the Freese/Evans plot and my maternal grandparents in the Collins plot. This request for genealogical research concerns the child I mentioned to you on the phone: Margaret Collins, who would have been my aunt, if she had lived. She is not buried with her parents in the Collins plot, according to your records. She predeceased her Mother by about 10 years and her Father by about 28 years. Since you indicated you have a Children's Section at Holy Cross, it is highly probable she is buried there.

I am enclosing a Genealogical Research form for Margaret with what little I know of her, as well as my check for $20.00 and a stamped, self-addressed envelope. Any information you have will be appreciated.

Very truly yours,

(Mrs.) Eleanor Evans Borkenhagen

Regulations for Holy Cross Cemetery

1. No Corpse admitted at the Cemetery except on presentation of a PERMIT from the Clerk, who will be ready to give such Permits at the Office at Cemetery, from 9 a. m. to 12 m., and 1 to 4 p. m., and on Sundays from 9 a. m. to 11 a. m., but only on presentation of a CERTIFICATE from the respective Pastor.

2. Charges to be paid in advance.

3. VAULT.—No corpse shall be received, unless on a certificate for Christian Burial, and a Permit from the Clerk at the Office. No Corpse shall remain in the vault over five days unless the coffin be metallic and placed in a niche. ~~Besides~~ ^{Cost} eight dollars for a funeral, etc., the charges shall be three dollars per month for adults and two dollars for children, payable every ~~six~~ ^{Month} months in advance. Should any of the last three regulations be ~~not complied with~~, the Superintendent shall proceed to inter the corpse.

4. Holders of lots are requested to give timely notice to the Superintendent when graves are required to be opened in them, and especially on Saturday, as none will be opened on Sunday.

5. No corpse, when buried, to be removed.

6. Each corpse to be laid six feet deep in the ground, even when monuments be erected over the grave, or in receptacles hermetically sealed. Children under ten years must be laid five feet deep.

7. It is hereby expressly stipulated that no improvements in wood or iron shall be made on this ground, and that the filling and care of this lot, when not done by the lessee in person, shall be done by the Superintendent of the Cemetery at reasonable rates.

8. No monuments shall have ornaments unbecoming a sacred place. The inscriptions: Pray for me; pray for the souls of the faithful departed, or may his (or her) soul rest in peace, are much recommended.

9. Application must be made for certificates by a member of the family or a friend of the deceased, and the same shall order graves to be opened.

10. Before making improvements this lease must be produced by the owner or contractor.

11. The plans and contracts for all intended monuments or other improvements shall be subject to the approval of the Archbishop.

12. The Archbishop reserves the right to refuse permission for the erection of improper improvements, or the use of the Cemetery to persons who may make themselves obnoxious.

13. The grading, watering of lots and furnishing of loam will be done by the Superintendent.

14. The outside walls of plots to be but two (2) feet high, except places specified; and to come flush with outside lines of plot, so that open space shall exist between adjoining lots; the foundations for vails and monuments to be six (6) feet under ground.

I agree to all the within and above Conditions and Regulations.

Dear Sirs:

I know both my parents and both sets of grandparents are buried in Holy Cross, but don't know who else is buried in each plot, date of death, cause of death, age at death etc. Do you have any of that type of information in your files?

EVANS-FREESE Plot: Dor. 6-2-2-1 to 12

Father: William Hall Evans
Mother: Frances Murray Evans
Grandfather: William James Evans
Grandmother: Marie Louise Masson Evans and who else?

COLLINS Plot

Grandmother: Nora Gallagher Collins
Grandfather: John W. Collins
Aunt: Margaret Collins
and who else?

I am enclosing a stamped self-addressed envelope and am willing to pay for a record search and/or for photocopies. Any information you can provide will be greatly appreciated.

Very truly yours,

(Mrs.) Eleanor Evans Borkenhagen

Dear Mrs. Borkenhagen:

In response to your recent request, we have enclosed a photocopy of the deed. This is a photocopy of what is on our microfilm so the copy is not great.

I would guess that Jno. was an abbreviation of John as that is what shows on the deed.
