Annual

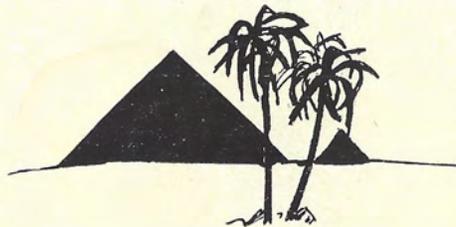

1912

To the members of the faculty of Stevens Seminary, who have lent their untiring efforts toward making this book a success, and who have aided us in many other ways in all our undertakings, this book is respectfully dedicated.

Foreword

TO the Senior Class of 1912 falls the honor of putting forth this, the first Annual ever published by Stevens Seminary students. The class members have gone into the work with a will, determined to make this initial attempt a success. Whether they have succeeded or not is left to the judgment of the reader.

History of Stevens Seminary

STEVENS SEMINARY has the unique distinction of being the only school in Minnesota which originated through the legislature's changing the location of a state institution. The legislature, in the early '60's, had named Glencoe as the place for the state agricultural school, but in 1868 decided instead to establish the school at St. Anthony Park. As compensation to the Glencoe people for the disappointment in losing this important institution, the legislature voted to give all the swamp land in McLeod county, about 5,000 acres in all, to a school corporation with the following conditions: (1) That three residents should form the corporation; and (2) that the incorporators should have a building, valued at at least $2,000, to be constructed within two years. A. H. Reed, Liberty Hall, and Henry Hill were the first incorporators. As the building could not be completed in the two years allotted, the legislature extended the time two years.

As the railroad was not completed until the summer of 1872, the material for the construction of the building had to be hauled by team from the nearest railroad stations. Most of the lumber was hauled from Carver, and the bell, which still calls the children to school, was hauled from Blakely. The building was erected on the present site of Stevens Seminary and was completed in the fall of 1871. Additions have been made to the original building on both the north and south sides; the north addition being completed in 1877 and the south in 1909. The school was named Stevens Seminary in honor of Col. Stevens, an early settler of this community.

Stevens Seminary was at first hardly more than an up-to-date rural school of today. Only two teachers were employed, one for the primary department, and the other to take charge of the higher grades. As the enrollment increased, more teachers were added. In 1875 teachers were employed for the primary, second primary, intermediate, and high school departments. Tuition fees were required of all pupils, $5 per term for the high school pupils, and $4 for all primary pupils. In 1881 this charge was lowered, high school pupils paying only $4 per term and all other pupils paying $3 per term. A. M. Knight, Elvira Hall, S. H. Folsom, Ida C. Little, A. R. Archibald, M. B. Foster, T. H. Pendergast and L. W. Chaney were among the early instructors. The salaries paid the teachers were anything but exorbitant, the principal being paid from $900 to $1000 a year, and the lower teachers receiving from $35 to $50, monthly.

The advent of E. V. W. Brokaw, as superintendent of schools in 1882 started a new era in the life of the school. The teaching of chemistry was taken up, and a chemical laboratory was started; physics was taught with the handicap of limited apparatus; a collection of minerals and nature subjects was commenced; instruction in many other subjects was offered, and the number of teachers was increased. The late Mrs. F. R. Allen has the distinction of being the first Stevens Seminary graduate, finishing the course in 1884. E. P. Frost succeeded Mr. Brokaw in 1886 and successfully carried on the work inaugurated by his predecessor. In 1887 the library, now considered one of the best school libraries in the state, was started.

E. E. McIntyre assumed the duties of superintendent in 1891 and immediately started the work of placing Stevens Seminary in the front rank of the high schools of the state. A higher standard of scholarship was demanded, new subjects were taken up, the chemical and physics laboratories were fully equipped, more teachers were employed, and the rapid progress was remarkable. Our alumni well remember the thorough methods of Mr. McIntyre, and their experiences when they did things not in accordance with his ideas of good department. The place our school now holds among the best schools in the state would undoubtedly never have been a reality, without the untiring efforts of Mr. McIntyre. In 1893 the increasing number of pupils made it necessary to construct an additional building. This building was constructed just west of Stevens Seminary and was named "The Henry Hill" school in honor of one of the first incorporators of Stevens Seminary.

Mr. McIntyre was succeeded by H. C. Hess in 1903. Mr. Hess carried on the progressive work, a special teacher for music and drawing was added to the faculty in 1906.

C. G. Selvig was engaged as superintendent in 1907. Rapid progress was still in evidence in every way. The manual training department was added in 1908, the domestic science, normal and agricultural departments in 1909. The large south addition to the building was completed in the fall of 1909, affording ample room for the steadily increasing enrollment, and the new departments. A lyceum lecture course was started and the Glencoe people were afforded the opportunity of hearing many noted speakers. Literary societies were organized, as well as an agricultural club.

F. B. Reed succeeded Mr. Selvig in 1910 and is still at the head of the school. Additional improvements were made, the manual training department removed to the Seminary building, the sewing department taking the room formerly serving for manual training and several other changes were brought about, all tending to make Stevens Seminary a modern up-to-date school. More noted speakers were obtained, both for the lyceum and the agricultural lecture courses, more interest was taken by the farmers in the agricultural department, new studies were taught and the same steady progress of the former years was plainly in evidence.

CLASS YELL

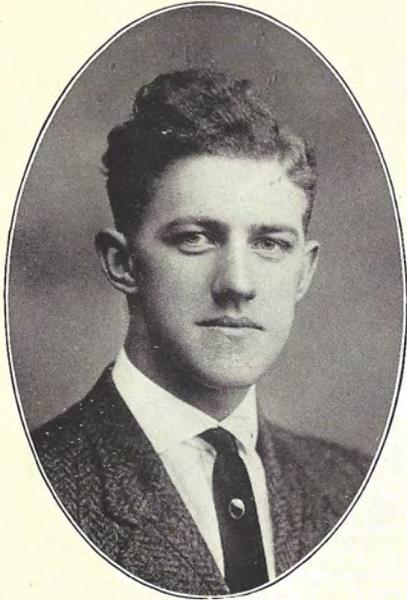

*Alika meek ka mike ka mo,
Watch us Seniors steadily grow,
Now every one together yell,
Seniors, Seniors, nineteen-twelve.*

MOTTO

The past forever gone, the future still our own.

COLORS

Lavender and ivory white.

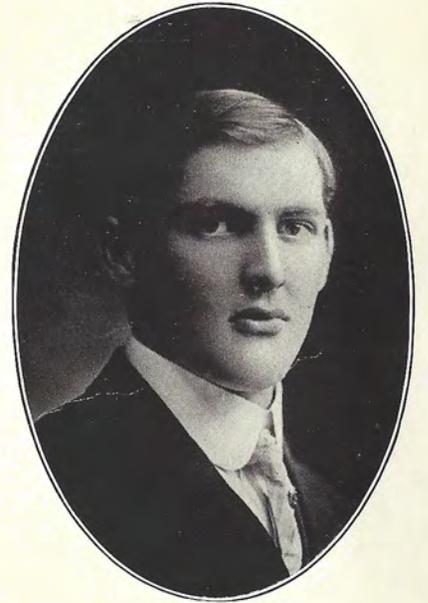

OTTO E. PETRICH

He's among the highest,
For he must be six feet three—
And if you want to make him grin,
Just say Menominee.

MARY Y. PULKRABEK

When Mary sits at the piano,
We all know what's coming then;
She plays each morning in music class.
"Mary! play that strain again."

WILLIAM KEEHN

Bill Keehn is a handy man,
He's never in the way.
He'll give you a boost in everything.
He surely is O. K.

LAWRENCE W. MARSHALL

Always in a hurry,
Always on the "go,"
Most often writing literature,
Now Dinkey, isn't that so?

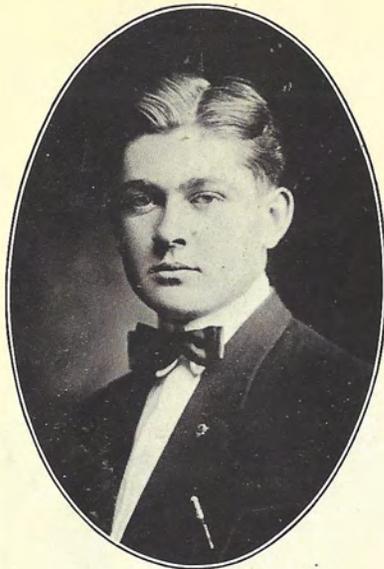

CARL W. HAYDEN

Here's hoping that he grows no more,
For now he stoops to every door;
Ordinary persons come up to his knee,
But he has "managed" successfully.

RAYMOND LUITEN

In athletics he's a whirlwind,
Though he is so very small;
He's got 'em all a-goin'
When it comes to basketball.

LEON HUBBARD

He's fond of Freshman jelly rolls,
The kind that mother makes,
And when he's feeling hungry
He also takes the cake(s).

EVANGELINE GAZIN

She's an artist of renown,
And can draw with finished touch.
But it's very strange, it seems,
That her beaus all come from Hutch.

PALMER SWENSON

Swenson is some orator
He's put up some good fights;
Some day you'll see him on the stump,
A preachin' women's rights.

ALICE DOLAN

Alice D. a teacher will be,
And a good one, too, we know.
With ruler in hand, she'll make all understand
That she came from "our Glencoe."

WILLIAM GENNRICH

And when I walk, I always walk with Tilly.
For Tilly knows just where to walk.

MATILDA DOLS

A spry little, fine little, shy little Till,
Spends most of her time a-talking to Bill.

RUTH SOUTHARD

If miles were dollars
She'd have many of them.
Walks to town every morning,
And at night, back again.

VIRGIL NOBLES

In Nobles we have always found
A square man, round.
He'll always give a willing lift;
He's through and through and sound.

CECIL TAYLOR

Always working, never shirking,
Busy all the while;
Meets a fellow, real nice fellow,
Both of them just smile.

ALTA BEISE

"Mike" has "some" faith in medicine.
For a certain (H) herb she fishes,
Great minds have purposes,
But her's has wishes.

FRIEL SCHLUTER

From Hutchinson she comes
But she's all right just the same
'Mong the normals, quiet normals
She has won a name.

EARL BARNUM

He's a windy fellow,
Blows the notes clean off the staff;
Is the captain of our baseball team,
And is now on the warpath.

AMY FAY

She's jolly and bright
And has worked like a lion
Cute little Amy
Has surely done fine.

CHRISTINE LASSEN

She's rather coy and rather shy,
And rather 'fraid of men.
She'd rather be, it seems to me,
Not so, Miss Lassen?

MARY CURRY

Mary has the brightest smile
Her eyes she can't keep still.
As Senior actor she has posed,
Remember that, don't you, Bill?

CLARA GOULET

A parlez-vous francais
Is Clara M. Goulet—
A teacher she will be
Oui! Oui!

LYDIA WEGNER

She's as modest and as quiet
As a girl could ever be;
And is bright in all her studies,
She has made our high in "three."

HATTIE PACKER

She's full of fun and talkative
Though she isn't very tall,
She's one of the bunch (a jolly crowd)
That have good time with all.

JONEY WALKER

He can sing a fine solo,
He can sing in a duet,
He can sing a song a singer sings
He can sing in a quartette.

GEORGE C. GOULD

"Gouly" is a post graduate,
He finished school last June;
We needed him for the Annual,
That's why he came back so soon.

EMILY DANEK

She teaches the kidlets how to write,
How to read and how to "set,"
How to keep from whispering,
Emily's a normal cadet.

ESTELLE KEENAN

To Estelle's home the Seniors gay,
Go for all their jollity.

"The Senior Party"

'Twas the night after the reception, and all thru the town,
Not a person was stirring, not a Junior around.
The Seniors assembled at "Dink's" with great care,
For they feared that "bunch" was hiding somewhere.
The '14's and '15's, all snug in their cots,
Were dreaming of school books, bless the dear little tots!

The Juniors hung round in a very large bunch,
Hunting, and looking, and seeking for lunch,
While the Seniors inside were all having "some" time,
Playing and singing before they should dine.
When out on the lawn there arose such a shout,
The Juniors were calling, "You're 'fraid to come out!"

They threw corn at the windows, but nothing would seem
To do 'way with that feeling they had for ice cream.
So hungry they went, as hungry they came,
This innocent class of nineteen-thirteen.
Now, Sandy, now Demo, now all and each one,
Too bad —, we're all sorry, that you were so stung.

Football

OUR football team was a strong contender for the championship honors, hard luck being the biggest factor in keeping the squad from capturing the honors. We had desirable material for a strong aggregation, and the boys worked hard at all times. The members of the squad were always on hand after school to go "through the paces." Otto Petrich was elected captain, Mr. Curran acted as head coach, and Jay Leaseman and Xavier Luiten lent invaluable aid in coaching. "Rube" Rosenwald, '07, of the U. of M. football fame, also aided greatly in perfecting a strong team, being on the "scene of action" at different times, and giving the boys some correspondence coaching.

The first game was at Hutchinson, on Oct. 7, and the 16-0 defeat administered by our gridiron heroes will long be remembered by Stevens Seminary adherents. The locals gained at will and had much the better in the kicking department, and our sister city rivals had no chance whatever to win.

The second game was at Hector on Oct. 14, our boys losing 22-8. The game was well played, and the Hector boys' superior football knowledge won the contest for them. Many long runs, hard line smashes, forward passes, and long punts were "pulled off."

Hutchinson was taken on here in a return game, on Oct.

21, and another victory this time by the score of 3-0 was registered by the locals. The visitors had evidently practiced hard since the first game but had no chance to win. Our chances of running up a high score were lost in the early part of the game when Demo was hurt and had to be taken out. The game developed into a kicking battle, with the locals having a slight advantage. A drop kick in the second quarter netted the only points of the game.

The last and hardest game was played here with Olivia on Nov. 11. The day was anything but suitable for football—snow falling, a strong wind blowing, and the "gridiron" a sheet of ice. The game went to Olivia by a score of 6-0, though the locals easily deserved the victory. They out-played the visitors in every department, gaining three times as much ground, and having the better of the kicking. A "shoestring" forward pass from the center of the field resulted in the lone touchdown of the game.

Next year's prospects are doubtful. Six of the 1912 squad are lost by graduation, but those remaining are confident of getting out a winning team. George Welch has been elected captain for next year.

Basketball

THE 1911-12 season started out with a rush, but ended in disaster. The first of the year was one of happiness for the basket ball followers, but the happiness was short lived. The five men composing the team at the start formed as good a team as ever represented Stevens Seminary. They were working hard at all times, displayed excellent teamwork, and put up offensive and defensive work with the best of the teams. Then two of the best men dropped out of the line-up and a sudden downward slide was the result, and the team that was the strongest contender for the championship at the start finished near the bottom of the list of honor aspirants.

The season started with a class game between the Juniors and Seniors which was won by the former by the score of 12-11. The first inter-high school game was played here on Dec. 21, with Brownton. The first half of the game was a walkaway for the locals, though the visitors outplayed our boys in the second half. Stevens Seminary won by the score of 28-18. The second game was played here with Olivia on Jan. 13, and resulted in another victory for Stevens Seminary, this time by a 23-15 score. Excellent team work was displayed by both sides and the game was hard fought and interesting throughout. The third game proved the first defeat for the locals. It was played at Norwood against the Central high school team, and the Twin Village team won by a score of 29-16. This defeat was a surprise and a disappointment for the locals, but made them more determined to win in the future. The fourth game was played at Green Isle where the locals lost by the close score of 18-19. The Green Isle team was considered by far the strongest in this vicinity and our boys considered the game in the light of victory. The game was exceptionally well played and no harder fought contest ever took place. This showing gave our representatives more confidence and the next game, that with Hutchinson, played here on Jan. 29, was an overwhelming victory for the Blue and White. We won by the score of 48-12, and the game was just as the score would indicate. Then G. Welch and Donner dropped out of the line-up, and the back sliding began. The next game, played at Olivia on Feb. 10, resulted in the most stinging defeat ever administered to a Stevens Seminary team, the score being 58-10. The locals hoped to defeat Central in the return game played here on Feb. 17, but this anticipation failed to materialize, the visitors winning, 20-10. Thus closed a promising season in a disastrous manner.

Baseball

THE 1911 season was successful, our diamond artists winning every game they played. Practice began early, and the proper spirit prevailed throughout the season. Carl Hayden was chosen captain. "Scrub" games were played every night after school, and the men were chosen on their showing in these games. Much credit for the success of the team was due to the services of former Stevens Seminary players who worked untiringly to develop a strong aggregation to represent their alma mater on the diamond.

The first game of the year was on the local diamond, with the Hector high school team. In this game our boys showed they still had many weak spots to patch up, but also displayed some real baseball knowledge. The game was won by the Blue and White boys by the score of 8-7.

The second game was at Hutchinson on May 6, the morning of the big track meet. Our boys easily won this game, the score being 7-1. A decided improvement in playing form over that of the first game was shown. The locals batted and fielded in great style, and Hutchinson never had a chance of winning.

The third game was at Hector on May 13, this game being taken by the score of 6-5. The Hector boys proved stronger opponents than in the first game, and ten innings were necessary for our boys to register a victory.

The last game was at home with Olivia, on May 27, the morning of the dual track meet with that school. This was won by the score of 6-4, and was marked by the heavy batting of the locals.

The 1912 prospects are exceedingly bright. Only three of last year's nine were lost by graduation, and their places ought easily to be filled. Earl Barnum has been elected captain, and he will work overtime to bring home another championship for his school.

Field and Track

THE 1911 team showed a decided improvement over that of 1910, though the two teams were made up of practically the same men. Practice, under direction of W. W. Sylvester, started early in the spring, with the proper spirit. Palmer Swenson was elected captain, but resigned in the early part of the season on account of ill health. Gideon Gilbert was elected to succeed him.

The big event of the year was the "meet" at Hutchinson on May 7, in which the following teams took part: Hutchinson, Howard Lake, Cokato, Stevens Seminary, Renville and Olivia, the teams finishing in the above order. Our boys gave a mighty good account of themselves, though six points were all that were credited to the Blue and White athletes. Demo scored second in the mile run; Gilbert, third in the 440 yard dash; Wanous, third in the hammer throw; and

Domestic Science Sewing Room

Industrial Departments

Agricultural Laboratory

NORMAL:—This department was added to Stevens Seminary in 1909, with Miss Franklin as instructor. Miss Franklin was succeeded by Miss Wentz in 1911. The lower southeast room of the Seminary building serves as the normal room. In this department the cadets take up the different elementary subjects and also the methods of teaching them. During the year each cadet has the opportunity of teaching the various subjects in each grade. In addition to the elementary subjects, the cadets are instructed in domestic science, drawing, music, and agriculture. One may feel well paid for his work after taking this course, as he is entitled to a first grade teacher's certificate.

MANUAL TRAINING:—The work of this department was begun in 1908, with A. D. Bailey as instructor. This department was transferred to the basement of the Seminary building in 1911, and Mr. C. C. Curran succeeded Mr. Bailey. Two Oliver wood turning lathes were added to the equipment in 1911, and much work which was so difficult by hand, is now easily done by means of these machines. The shop is thoroughly equipped with all tools necessary for the making of articles of furniture. The work is begun in the grades on a small scale. The boys are first taught to use their tools skillfully and to make small articles, such as broom holders, and tool racks. Later they are taught to make all sorts of household furniture, such as tables, chairs, desks, buffets, book cases. In connection with this department, instruction is given in mechanical drawing which teaches accuracy in measurements, and is an art of invaluable use.

DOMESTIC SCIENCE:—Domestic Science was introduced into Stevens Seminary in 1909. Miss Thomas was the first instructor. The kitchen was fitted up in the basement of the Henry Hill building and sewing was taught in the upper southeast room of the Stevens Seminary building. In 1911 the sewing department was moved to the basement of the Henry Hill building, into the room formerly used for manual training. Miss Swan succeeded Miss Thomas as instructor in 1911. The departments are thoroughly equipped and offer a splendid opportunity to the school girls to fit themselves for excellent housewives. The work is begun in the fifth grade on a small scale, and increases in importance each year, until the girls are able to sew, draft patterns, cook, and determine the nutritive quality of foods.

AGRICULTURE:—The agricultural department was started in the spring of 1909, with Mr. W. F. Schnaidt as the first instructor. W. W. Sylvester succeeded Mr. Schnaidt in 1910, and he was in turn succeeded by R. M. Poe in 1911.

A plot of ten acres, situated a few blocks north of the school, serves as the school garden. Part of this land is divided into small garden plots for the grade pupils, and the rest is used for experimental purposes. This department offers a three year course to high school boys, in which botany, field crops, animal husbandry, soils and horticulture are taken up. Next year instruction in farm management, farm engineering, and farm mechanics will be added. The short course, for those persons who are unable to attend the entire school term, begins in November and closes in March. Both boys and girls take advantage of this. In addition to the instruction in agriculture, they have work in English and practical arithmetic.

Senior Class History

IT HAPPENED that on the first Monday in September in the year nineteen hundred eight, the class, now Seniors, began their journey through high school. This class of thirty-eight, whose praises are being sung, gained ground steadily. The journey in general has been one of various trials and tribulations, lightened all along the way by the pleasure of companionship and of accomplishment. Under the mild and good rule of the teachers, hardships have lessened year by year.

In the first year the class fared well, except for the many jeering and joking attacks from those a year or two in advance. The class was not merely called an ambitious class, but it truly was ambitious to excel and did make headway in spite of jeers and jokes. Difficulties in Algebra and Latin were gradually overcome, although Latin with its "fio, fieri, faculty fire 'em" was more than the class cared for.

When the Freshmen of 1908 became Sophomores they could look down upon "those Freshmen," although they themselves had held the same position just the year before. Geometry and Caesar, sometimes uninteresting to mischievously loving Sophomores, were brightened for them. In geometry they were known as the model class because of their good behavior and excellent class work. They acquired distinction socially also, thinking that "All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy." They were by no means dull.

During the Junior year new members were added to the class, while old ones dropped behind or left school. Always ambitious "for a' that," the class did very good work. They became known socially, chiefly after they gave the Seniors a banquet, better in many respects than any previously given at Stevens Seminary. The boys, in basket ball, football and track meets won many honors. Both boys and girls became distinguished in the school orchestra.

The last, the best year in many respects, is one of hard work. Now so near the goal, the class are unable to suppress a longing to be nearer still, although Stevens Sem does seem a sheltering haven to them. True to their aims, the Seniors made the annual reception a great success, and thereafter were looked up to more than ever. On the whole the class of nineteen hundred twelve has played its part well in social affairs, athletics, class room work, and loyalty to Stevens Seminary.

Society Events

THE first social event in our Senior year was the Senior picnic, held on Friday evening, Sept. 27th, at Oak Leaf park. The members of the high school faculty were our guests and likewise our chaperones. While the girls prepared supper and kept the camp fire going, the boys played ball (naturally). At six o'clock all gathered around the camp fire to roast "wienies" and eat "goodies" and drink Miss Swan's excellent coffee. After supper, songs were sung, and yells were given, before the return to town.

'Twas the Senior girls that didn't tell anybody, but on that dark and "spooky" night, (Hallowe'en) they sallied forth to "Vangies" house with Mrs. Lester, Miss Baker and Miss Wentz as chaperones. The evening was spent in playing appropriate games, and at a late hour dainty refreshments were served. Then by a dim and ghostly light, ghost stories were told (ooh!) Ask Hattie why she was not afraid to come back to town, and right past the cemetery, at that time of night.

The Senior girls were guests of Mrs. R. M. Poe and Miss Wentz at a Valentine party, on Wednesday evening, Feb. 14th. The rooms were prettily decorated for the occasion. The evening was enjoyably spent in playing games, after which dainty refreshments were served.

The Juniors were "At home" to the Seniors and high school faculty, Friday evening, Feb. 16th, at the Foresters Hall. The hall was appropriately decorated with pennants and with the colors of both the Junior and Senior classes. A most enjoyable time was spent by all. The guests were treated to a program by the Juniors. At a late hour refreshments were served after which toasts and musical selections were given. Then dancing was indulged in until the "we sma'" hours when the happy throng dispersed.

Locals

A NUMBER of our loyal rooters accompanied the basketball team to Norwood, and also to Green Isle. The big feature of the trip to Norwood was a "tip-over" which the rooters enjoyed (?) on the way home. Nothing serious resulted, and the travelers wished for another upsetting on their trip to Green Isle, but were denied this pleasure (?).

Dean Weigle, of Carleton College, delivered a lecture in the Assembly room on the evening of Jan. 24. The normal cadets made a special effort to attend the lecture as Miss Wentz had stated that she would not expect a recitation, the next day, from any who attended the lecture.

A report reached us a few minutes after school closed on Oct. 23 that President Taft was to make a brief speech in Glencoe, the next morning, at seven o'clock. Seven o'clock, just think! And so many of us are usually in slumberland till eight o'clock! But all of our alarm clocks were set, and nearly every one was on hand to greet the President. He delivered a brief speech in which he thanked all for being enthusiastic enough to turn out so early to see him. His speech elicited a hearty cheer.

The first day of November brought the first snowfall of the year. Visions of sleighride parties and coasting flitted through our minds, and we were somewhat restless all day. And those poor "Freshies!" how they did miss those recesses they used to have in the grades.

Last fall we had the pleasure of having a lecture by Prof. Maria Sanford, formerly of the State University. Her talk was especially good and impressive and will long be remembered by all who heard it. She also gave us a very interesting talk the next day.

Mr. Schilling of the Farmers' Institute corps, delivered a very entertaining talk to the school in January, in which he urged boys to stay on the farm, and spoke of the future for those who followed his advice. Mr. Schilling said he married a school teacher. How many of our normal cadets would give up $50 a month for a Schilling (shilling)?

Mr. R. A. Schultz, also of the Farmers' Institute corps, spoke to us in February, and his talk was highly appreciated. He urged the boys to stay on the farm, and showed how the farmer will sometime be looked up to, just as he has been looked down on, in the past. He also delivered two lectures to the agriculture classes on "Boyhood Fights" and on "Grafting Trees."

President Vincent delivered a lecture to a Glencoe audience on Feb. 27. The subject was "Education and Efficiency." An unusually large crowd was in attendance, the opportunity of hearing such an eminent speaker being seldom offered to the Glencoe people. President Vincent made a favorable impression on the minds of all who heard him, and his lecture will long be remembered.

the relay team, third in the half mile relay.

A dual meet with Olivia on May 27 closed the local track season. This meet proved a "walkaway" for our boys—89 to 19. We scored 13 firsts, 7 seconds and 3 thirds, while Olivia was able to capture only 4 seconds and 7 thirds.

The prospects for a good team this year are exceptionally bright, and we are looking forward to great things. We have practically the same team we have had for three years, and, with a few good men added, Stevens Seminary ought to be well up among the winners in 1912 track meets.

If Capron ran the 100 yards in 9 4-5 seconds, do you think "Dink" Marshall?

Miss Wentz—"What can you tell about the flora and fauna of this country?"

Alice D.—"What kind of animals are those?"

THE YOUNG IDEA.

Cadet—"What is Wheeling noted for?"

Little Tot—"They make wheels there."

Rev. Parsons of the State Society for the Friendless, gave us a most entertaining and impressive talk last September. He showed how easy it is for one to follow the wrong path and warned us to be constantly on our guard. He pointed out the many little and apparently innocent acts that in time will lead one astray.

W. G. Shirer, formerly superintendent at Buffalo, Minn., while visiting Stevens Seminary in December, kindly responded to Mr. Reed's request to sing for the high school. He agreed to sing as long as he was encored, but he broke his promise, as he would have been singing yet, had he lived up to it.

A farmers' short course under the direction of the Agricultural department of the high school was held at the City Hall Jan 2, 3, 4, and 5. The attendance was very good in spite of the extremely cold weather. The course was under the direction of Mr. Forest Henry and the able manner in which he and his assistants handled their work could not help but leave its imprint on the farmers.

On the second day Mr. James J. Hill was present and addressed a crowd of 500 people, in a most able manner. The last day was devoted to the country schools, State Superintendent C. G. Schulz was present and industrial contests were held.

WE wish to thank the following business men of Glencoe for their cheerful support, without which it would have been difficult to make this book a success. Patronize them; they are worthy of it.
