OARSMAN MUMFORD DISQUALIFIED. The Executive Committee of the National Association of Amateur Oarsmen of the United States met last night at the Gilsey House. They unanimously resolved to disquality as an amateur oarsman. Frank J. Mumford, of the Perseverance Boat Club, of New-Orleans, La. There were numerous charges brought against Mumford, the principal ones being that at a race in Philadelphia on July 9, 1880, he made a deal for a money consideration with one competitor to withdraw, and with another, to make intentional fouls, thus winning the race easily. Again, at the annual regatta at Washington on Aug. 1, 1884, he lost a race under suspicious cir-cumstances, having pretended to break the slide in his boat. It was alleged, through a friend, he bet large sums of money against himself in this race. Mumford had several times been sum-moned to present himself before the committee, but had always failed to appear. Last night, however, Mr. John Fitzpatrick, President of the Perseverance Club, appeared in his favor, and, after hearing him, the committee at once decided to disqualify. Mr. Mumford. OBITUARY.

GEORGE H. MUMFORD.

George H. Mumford, Vice President and Socretary of the Western Union Telegraph Company, died in Paris on Sunday. The deceased was born al Rochester, N. Y., on the 23d of September, 1840, and was consequently in his thirty-fifth year. He graduated from the University of Harvard, and, in the course of his studies, spent several years in Fiance and Germany, the languages of which countries he spoke fluently. He was admitted to the Bar in his native city in 1864, but did not pursue the legal profession, entering the telegraph service of the Western Union Telegraph Company in Rochester in 1865. He displayed great tact and ability in the management of tolegraphic affines, and after a short time was sent to take charge of the entire, business of the company on the Pacific coast. Mr. Mumford filled the duties of this position with satfive years, when, in recognifor isfaction. his business-like qualifies, he was tion of transferred to this City and placed on the staff. On the first opportunity Mr. Mumford was elected Secretary of the company, and shortly after was chosen one of its Vrce Presidents, which positions he hold at the time of his death. Deceased was a good linguist, a superior classical schular, and a man of refined literary tastes. He was fond of lettirs, and contributed regularly to some of the magazines. His business capacity was unsurpassed, and as an executive officer ho avas above repreach. Mr. Mamford lott New-York for Europe in the Cimbria on the 8th inst., and lauded at Cherbourg, proceeding thence to Paris. He was accompanied by his sister and brother-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Edward P. Fowler, of this City, by whom he was attended in his last moments. On sailing for Europe he complained of no particular malady, but decided on taking a few months' relaxation from business by traveling on the Continent. The disease of which he died must have developed itself rapidly, masmuch as his immediate relatives in New York had no idea of his condition until Sunday morning, when a dispatch arrived announcing his dangerous Hlness. Sh. rtly aftorward a second dispatch was received unnouncing his death. The deceased, who resided at No. 49 East Fifty-ninth strept, leaves a wife and four children. No action on the death of Mr. Mumford has yet been taken by the Western Union Telegraph Company, the President being absent from the City.

THE LATE GEORGE H. MUMFORD.

At a numerously attended meeting of the friends and associates of the late George H. Mumford, Vice President of the Western Union Telegraph Company, held in the office lately occupied by him, yesterday afternoon, to take action in regard to his death, Hon. William Orton was chosen Chairman and George B. Prescott Secretary. Addresses were made by President Orton, Vice Presidents Cornell and Green, Grosvenor P. Lowery Esq., Hon. George Walker, Gen. O. H. Palmer, and others, and the following resolutions were unanimonsly adopted:

Whereas, It has pleased our Heavenly Father, in His infinite wisdom, to remove from this life, suddenly, in Infaits wisdom, to relieve from this me, sundenly, in a foreign land, our late cherished colleague, George Hart Mumford, one of the Vice Presidents of the West-orn Union Telegraph Company, who, by his manly qualities, had won the sincere to spect and affectionate regard of his official associates; and, Whereas, We, who for many years have been con-nected with him in the management of a great busi-uuss desire to exurtise our feeling of sorrow and record

ness, desire to express our feeling of sorrow, and record

a tribute of respect to his memory, it is hereby Resolved. That by Mr. Mumford's death our company has lost an officer of inestimable value, one whose su-pern intelligence, improved by a careful and thorough education, and an enthusiastic devotion to the business in all of its varied details, and supplemented by an un-impeachable integrity, genial courtesy, and vare digui-ty of character fitted him to discharge all official duties ty of character nited him to discharge all ollicial duties with wisdom and discretion remarkable for one of his ago. In him the community has lost a citizen of the highest charecter, devoted to the best interests of society, loyal to his country in hor darkest hour, and respected by all good citizens: one whose brilliant ca-reer, which had not yet reached its meridian, gavo promise of the greatest future usefulness and influence. Resolved, That, by his early death, in the prime of superous method, his family has lost an affectionate vigorous induhood, his family has lost an affectionate and devoted husband and rather, who was the pride and glory of a happy home; and we tender our warmest sympathy and concolence to the stricken wife and conder children, whom we commend to the care of Him who is the refuge and slited of the widow and the ophan. We also tender our respectful sympathy to the willowed mother and affectionate sister, to whom he was & dutiful son and a loving brother.

Resolved, That as a tribute of respect a committee, consisting of Norvin Green, John Van Horne, Ansou Stager, John C. Hinchman, A. S. Brown, W. J. Holmes, S. B. Gifford, John B. Van Ivery, J. D. Reid, and A. H. Watson, is hereby designated to receive the remains on arrival in New-York, escort them to Rochester, attend the funeral, and, if agreeable to the family. serve as pall bearers.

Resolved. That these resolutions, appropriately en-grossed and signed by the officers of this meeting, be presented to the bereaved family, and that copies thereof be furnished for publication to the several tel-ographic journals, and to the daily press of New-York, Bochester, and San Francisco.

SUICIDE ON COLLEGE STEPS.

Girl Kills Herself When Student, Alleged Father of Child, Fails Her.

NEWARK, Del., May 2. Heah Mumford, 20 years old, of Lebanon, Penn., shot and killed herself today on the steps of the Rehabilitation flouse at the University of Delaware, when Harry Martin, a student, who she said was the father of her 19-month-old child, failed to keep an appointment with her.

Earlier in the day she had a brief talk with Martin, who was married about a year ago, and made an engagement for late in the afternoon. After this Martin had received a telegram from friends of the girl in Lebanon that she was on the way to Newark to kill him, and he went to the college farm to evade the second interview. When she called and found that he had left the, building, the girl walked out to the steps, drew a pistol from under her coat and shot hersdif through the heart.

Before leaving Lebanon last night the siri told friends that she was going to Newark to "get" Martin. A year ago she had him arrested in Lebanon, but he obtained his release upon payment to her of $150. Immediately, after she left for Ohio, where she was reported to her a grief have married.

She returned to the home of her father in Lebanon last week, Before leaving there yesterday she took her child to the home of Robert' Martin, brother of the student, saying she would return for it later.

ART REVIEW

Questions on Methodology and Message

By PHYLLIS BRAFF -

Not his role as a professor of art and also in his studio, the late Robert Mumford constantly asked probing questions about the methodology and message in art. This investigative spirit has prompted the Fine Arts Gallery at the Southampton campus of Long Island University to mount a Mumford exhibition that stresses his variations on a single theme and his experiments with new planent formulas In a sense, this is a memorial trib-use to Mr. Mumford, a faculty member for 20 years, who was 66 years old when he died in May, Highly regarded in the university community, he was the recipient of the David Newton Award for Excellence in Teaching last year.

This is a modest exhibition, but its narrow focus helps to develop understanding, hir. Mumford's desire to demonstrativations ways of delineating a subject is made especially clear in the gallery's organization of the material

To highlight the artist's analytical approach, some 20 self-portrait drawings from 1978 are used as examples of the way he would pose a problem and then proceed to explore every conceivable creative resolution.

There are sequences of frontal and profile views, and within each series the variations include renderings ranging from the delicate silvery gray effects produced by a firm pencil to the rugged bold effects produced by a dense black graphite.

One responds immediately to the different moods. Some seem gently illustrative, while others became gradually moré assertive. Frontal views can be particularly confrontational.

Some examples in Mr. Mumford's self-portrait series are developed with sharp white highlights that can increase the drama- and vitality, while others stay within the quiet subtleties of gray tones.

Contrast is sharp, too, between portrait heads that rest against a white cheet and those that seen in be emerging from a darkness meated with the vigorous hatching stuckes of a charcoal pencil. As in many drawing shows, there is an urge to concentrate on the nuances involved in the handling of the medium.

A number of the most a pealing and successful studies are profile views. Here, Mr. Mumford v shable to place less emphasis on de victing distinguishing facial features and give more attention to analy by, and transforming shadows and surfaces into forms and shall is that are esthetically pleasing.

In at least one, a profile . th the head raised at an angle, he is and dark passages have coalesed into units that relate distantly to characteristics of synthetic Cubism

Psychological intensity builds when one views the frontalized likenesses. Multiples of Mr. Multiple's features - his light, exuber at hair and beard and close-set eyes introduce a physicality that tene to be disquieting in this setting. Because the artist work with mirrors for his self-portraits, the eyes tend to have a frozen, fixed gaze that contributes to the unnerving impression.

Mr. Mumford's own personal exuberance has appeared in much of his vigorously brushed emotional painting over the years. In planning a tribute exhibition, there are any number of themes that would have been possible

For a time in the 50's and 60's, he was a dedicated exponent of the latest American action painting, and while living on Ibiza in the Mediterranean and exhibiting as a member of Grupo Ibiza, he had a role in introducing free intuitive rugged brushwork to Spanish artists.

In those years, Mr. Mumford exhibited regularly in France, Germany and Spain. There were also solo exhibitions in England and Switzerland.

After moving to Southampton in 1971, Mr. Mumford began to shift between abstract; and figurative styles. Several years ago, he predoced some ambitious painting themes that he intended as responses to terrorism and persecution internationally. In 1989, he showed a large oil, "Tiananmen Square," at the campus gallery.

Allegorical treatments also occupied Mr. Mumford's attention. The largest painting he executed on a recent sabbatical, the mural-size "Civilization, Isolation and Crucifixtion," suggests the scope of his interests

There are parallels to the Mumford political and crucifixon series in the extreme emotional gestures that characterize figures in a group of encaustic, or pigment and wax, paintings in the present exhibition, and the earlier work provides a useful context to interpret what would otherwise seem to be rather dated work. weak in comparison to the Mumford career as a whole.

The apparent goal here was the creation of poses that would show how the body alone can communicate tortuous human feelings. To test just how much can be conveyed by torso and limbs alone, Mr. Mumford painted out the heads that were once present.

Most examples of this painting scries have several figures, but all are renderings of the same male model. Priority was placed on achieving a certain universal symbolism.

Mr. Mundord's interest in experimenting with pigment and melted beeswax mixes for the rich matte look of encaustic works best in the most outstanding painting here, a large interior view painted on burlat-

The soft, pincble medium yields a resonant tone and unusual texture against the surface, and they make the view seem extrasensory, even though individual components like chairs are readily identifiable. Several gridlike areas help the setting to have an imaginary character, as if the painting were straddling symbolism and reality

The exhibit: in is on view to Oct. 30. The gallery is in the Fine Arts Center at the south, stern corner of the campus. It is open weekdays from 9 A.M. to 5 P.M 101

FAMILY ARRESTED FOR MURDER.

LOCKPORT, N. Y., July 10.-After five weeks' deliberation the Coroner's jury reached a verdict this morning in the case of Sarah Mumford, the seventeen-year-old girl adopted by Henry Tripp of Pendleton from a Rochester asylum, whose dead body was found on the Central's tracks near Bhawnee, June 9, at 2 o'clock A. M.

The inquisition charges that she came to her death at the hands of Henry Tripp, his wife, Matilda, and his son. Loren. Tripp's daughter Alva is named as an accomplice. The Tripps are well-to-do people of Pendicton. Alva is a teacher and Loren is about twenty-one years of age and lives at home. The giri, Sarah, was adopted about six years ago. The neighbors claim she had to work hard and was badly treated.

The Tripps say that on the evening of June 5 she left the house bareheaded and that they made a vain search for her. Next morning her, remains were found on the track four miles from the house. There was scarcely any blood in the vicinity, indicating that the girl had been dead some time and that the body had been placed on the track.

The jury ordered the arrest of the Tripps, and they were lodged in jail in this city this evening. The warrants on which they were arrested charge Henry Tripp, Matilda Tripp, and Loren Tripp with murder, and Aiva Tripp as an accessory. They will have a hearing before the Coroner to-morrow. Mrs. Tripp was almost hysterical with grief when arrested, but the other prisoners took their arrest coolly.

ENIDER ONCE ON ONE AND BY OF OUR CONTAINS A TALE OF A WAR DEPARTMENT CLERK A FELLOW WHO COFFE LIKE A BEAR AND KICKS LIKE A MULE-A DIRAGREE-ING JURY-THE WIDOW OF MUNFORD. From Our Special Correspondent.

WASHINGTON; Wednesday, April 24, 1878. You possibly have noticed in Washington napers some account of, the trial of a certain Government employe, named Mechlin, for criminal assaults on, and systematic and longcontinued ill-treatment of, his four young daughters. Permit me to say something in regard to this case, for it is a matter which involves the question of filial duty-how much may be required of it-and parental authority how far it may go. It involves still broader considerations of public morality and of humanity. This man Mechlin is, as he has been for many years, a clerk in the War Department, on a salary of $133 per month. He is a man of good family, some considerable ability and education, a gentlemanly address, and withal, a remarkable fondness for music, which refined and Neroic trait was frequently referred to in the course of the trial. He could beat and knock down, or bind with a clothes-line, and lock up alone in a lumber-room, one of his delicate daughters, and go to a firstclass concert and applaud rapturously the singing of Kellogg, or Thursby. But I am sorry to say that for the domestic virtues this lover of harmony was never distinguished. He is reputed to have been a bad son, brother, and husband. Some 11 years ago, his wife. a gentle, much-enduring woman, gave up and died, leaving five daughters and some sons, I believe; but the boys are of little account in this story, as they rebelled and ran away some time ago. The five daughters-the eldest of whom was only 10 or 11 years of agewere placed by the father in the Moravian school and in Pennsylvania, where they remained 9 or 10 hrr : years, on terms very much reduced, because Bur. Northey were five, and because the father, assuming laska an infinred tone of a man borne down by the love care and teaching on the erection of some them; on the low and half-starved condition all four. I realize now, as I have never realing the necessity, as an aid to equity, as an end justice, of the admittance of women to the I of their presence in the jury-box, in cas this. Could an eloquent, persuasive, moth woman, like Mary Livermore, with her ten heart, her legal and logical mind, and her c moral sense, have made the clo speech in this case, not a man would have that jury-box without tears in his eyes and viction in his heart. She could have me with the intense glow of her pity and indi-tion the congealed tides of fatherly feeling chivalrio sentiment in the breast of the Ju on the bench-a, miracle like unto the li faction of the blood of St. Januarius.

This Judge was of the opinion that it better on the whole that the jury had faile agree, so he would not hold them hoping fo agreement. Whichever way they had deci he said, "would have involved hards] Qur community, bad as it is, he admit was not quite ready to sanction an acqui and "& verdict of guilty would be followe consequences both injurious to the defen and the girls themselves. The father is n man of fortune. To impose the sentence of law would deprive him of histoffice and him out into the world, after the expiratio the sentence, a helpless man, not able to port himself, much less a family. It is r ble that such a thought might have its effect with the jury. The septence u the indictment would be, so to speak, the geance of the law. It would be a misfortui this case that such vengeance should fo His treatment of the children seems to been the conduct of a madman and not man with sane faculties."

Now here are a few points I would mal the above points of Mr. Justice Wylie. jury had no business with the "consequer of their verdict. They were to render it i cordance with the evidence, whatever " ship" might be involved. They were not to decide whether Mr. Mechlin should be ret in or discharged from a Government positi had disgraced, but whether he had or had beaten in a brutal and inhuman manner failed to properly feed, clothe, and care his young daughters. The charges agains were abundantly proved, and yet Judge and are of the opinion that this unnatural fat more indecent than a savage, more cruel a beast-this discreditable citizen, whose con has created a great public scandal and she the moral sense of the community, sl retained in office bø on the pr that thus he will bo able to port his four rebellious daughters.

ed and unterrified by insulting comhe defendant's counsel on the ladies preceded me in the court-room, I atugh the entire session of Friday, ob-s case for myself. I had been told in was a "nice-looking man;" yet sached his place that morning I reca by my own idea of him, which was "nice" idea. He looks what he is, has, in fact, a singularly bad face-, with small, furtive, deep-set eyes, a nent, red nose, a cruel, thin-lipped a receding forehead. I heard him acipally in regard to the beating he youngest daughter, Millie, with a sk, (an old chair-rocker, accord-) for the monstrous offense of having self, without permission, to a few le told the story coolly, deliberately, e slightest bretrayal of shame-a revolting for me to give in detail. I must say, that this brutal beating this young girl's tender person, laid t old safyr of a father, was bruised 1 scarred-was as nothing to the outitted against her maidenly modestly er womanhood.

There is also a less amiable and not less injurious disposition shown hereabouts to visit on the innocent the sins of the guilty, and to renew the cruel burden whenever, for (a little while, it is laid down. And here, supplementary to my last week's plea for paymont to the children of Mrs. Leo, want to word for another rebel womun say a taking it for granted that Mary Custis was a rebel-a word for the widow of a yet more un: fortunate, but not more culpable, man than Robert E. We are told that the hanging of Mumford was one of the most glorious, as well as salutary acts of the war, -we can afford to pay some thing for it. I for one would rather have some little amend (in the way of labor provined) made to this poor woman for the husband we executed, than Virginia remunerated for the college we burned, if we did burn it. She is no more to be held accountable for the mad ad of her husband in tearing down the Federal flag at New Orleans than is the wife of a more illustrious personage for the sending of that flag out of the State some years later.

CENTRAL PARK WEST APARTMENTS SOLD

Bricken Construction Secures Eighty-fourth St. Corner After Months of Negotiations.

IT WAS HELD AT $2,750,000 investor Buys the Mumford-Another Sale on Third Avenue in the Midtown Zone.

The realty market opened active yesterday with several important transactions and signs of improvement before the close of the week.

On the west side, in the heart of the apartment house section, the Bricken Construction Company, after several months of negotiations, purchased the southwest corner of Elighty-fourth Street and Central Park West. The property, which consists of a fifteen-story high-class abartment house on a plot 109 by 160 feet, was purchased from the Bonluber Realty Corporation, which had taken it over under foreclosure.

The property was sold for all cash above the first mortgage of $1,650,000 and was held at $2,750,000. The gross rental is in excess of $350,000. H. D. Baker and A. Robinson were the brokers in the transaction.

Investor Buys Apartments.

The Mumford apartments at 535 West 111th Street have been sold by George Zauderer & Sons to Dr. Charles Gestal for investment. The property consists of a six-story elevator structure on a plot 75-by 100 fect adjoining the northeast corner of Broadway. It was recently purchased by the present sellers from the Julia Schwarz estate, and was held by them at $275,000.

Sharp & Nassoit negotiated the transaction.

BINGHAMS IN DAIRY FIELD

Ex-Senator's Four Sons of Varied Talents Incorporate Farm.

Special to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 15.-Four sons of former Senator Hiram Bingham, grandson of the late Charles Tiffany of New York City, today combined backgrounds of art, science, literature and law in entering the dairy business

In a certificate of organization filed with the Secretary of the State they were listed with others as officers of Mumford Dairies, Inc., of Salem,' Conn. The farm, owned principally by Mrs. Alfred Mitchell of New London, mother-in-law of the Senator, has been in operation for ten years, distributing milk in New London.

Mitchell Bingham, an artist who has studied painting in France, as president of the corporation, will take over operation of the farm, hitherto run by a milk specialist. Norris N. Bingham, his wife, is named secretary-treasurer.

Among the directors are Alfred M. Bingham, editor of the magazine Commonsense; Sylvia Knox Bingham, his wife, and Jonathan B. Bingham, formerly editor of The Yale Daily News and now in his first year at Yale Law School.

dian Welfare, a trustee of the Catholic Summer School, founder and president of the Catholic Home Bureau for Dependent Children, and founder of St. Elizabeth's Home for Children, the St. Vincent de Paul Summer Home for Children, St. Elizabeth's Home for Convalescent Women and Girls. He was also a patron of the Ozanan Association for promotion of boys' clubs, a manager of the New York Foundling Asylum, and vice-president of the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick. For his services, he was not without honors: the knighthood of the Pontifical Order of St. Gregory was conferred upon him by Pope Pius X; the honorary degree of LL.D. by the Catholic University of America (1915); and the Laetare Medal, annually awarded to an outstanding Catholic layman, by Notre Dame University (1912). His last public appearance was in defense of the State Board of Charities before the Strong Commission of Investigation (1015). He died the following year, and with services in St. Patrick's Cathedral presided over by Cardinal Farley and Bishops Hayes and Shahan, was buried in Calvary Cemetery.

MUMFORD, JAMES GREGORY (Dec. 2, 1863-Oct. 18, 1914), surgeon and author, was born in Rochester, N. Y., the son of George Elihu and Julia Emma (Hills) Mumford and a descendant of Thomas Mumford who settled in Rhode Island in 1655. He prepared for college at St. Paul's School, an institution of which he was eventually a trustee, and was graduated by Harvard College in 1885 and the Harvard Medical School in 1890. After an internship at the Massachusetts General Hospital he settled in practice in Boston as a surgeon. He became a fairly successful surgeon, although he could not be considered an unusual one. For many years he was on the staff of the Massachusetts General Hospital, where he did excellent work. He never held more than a minor teaching position at the Harvard Medical School. He wrote eight books, as well as fifty or sixty papers, the great majority of them on surgical subjects. In 1903 appeared his Clinical Talks on Minor Surgery, in 1905 Surgical Aspects of Digestive Disorders, written in collaboration with A. K. Stone, in 1908 Some End Results of Surgery, and, in 1910, a textbook on The Practice of Surgery, a second edition of which appeared in 1914. In 1911 came a minor book entitled One Hundred Surgical Problems; the Experiences of Daily Practice Dissected and Explained. All these books were sound contributions to American surgery. Early in his career he also showed a marked interest in the history of medicine and one of his first books, in 1903, was A Narrative of Medicine in America. Two years later he edited The Harvard Medical School (3 vols.), written by Thomas Francis Harrington [q.v.]. In 1908 he published Surgical Memoirs and Other Essays and in 1912 one of the most delightful of his short works, A Doctor's Table Talk. These latter publications were written in a charming, winsome style.

Mumford

He was somewhat of a medical reformer, although not of the aggressive, disagreeable type. He became interested in the relations between religion and medicine and identified himself with the Emmanuel Movement, led by the Rev. Elwood Worcester of Boston. He foresaw the establishment of great medical centers, including hospitals and medical schools, and with fulltime teachers upon the staff. He was also interested in providing good medical care for persons of moderate means and in 1910 he planned such a hospital; but the scheme got no farther than its prospectus. The idea was partly realized, however, at the Clifton Springs Sanitarium. New York, where he spent the last two years of his life. He was a member of many medical societies and social clubs and he took an active interest in bodies for civic uplift, such as the Economic Club and the Reform Club. His health was never good in the last dozen years of his life, for he suffered from a severe cardiac disease, of which he finally died. Greatly beloved by many of his contemporaries, he characterized himself, in a letter written in 1910, at the time of the twenty-fifth anniversary of his graduation by Harvard College, as follows: "I like teaching; students pass me out the usual compliments due to credulous senility. I like practising surgery; patients toss me roses mingled with thorns. I like writing about people and things, for the reviewers deal me comments which chasten the soul. Altogether, life continues a pleasant experience." His writings were characteristic of the man, for they exhibit sound judgment, keen perception, and a clarity of statement which is seldom found in scientific or lay literature. Mumford married, in 1892, Helen Sherwood Ford of Troy, N. Y.; there were no children.

MUNDÉ, PAUL FORTUNATUS (Sept. 7, 1846-Feb. 7, 1902), physician, was born in Dresden, Germany. His mother, Bertha, was the daughter of Baron von Hornemann, a councilor of the King of Saxony. His father, Dr. Charles Mundé, a man of intense democratic ideals, participated actively in the Revolution of 1848, was proscribed, and as a political exile fled with wife and child to America. The family settled in Florence, Mass., where Dr. Charles Mundé conducted a sanatorium until his return to Germany. The son inherited intrepidity and a sturdy physical constitution from his father. His studious nature was early exhibited; he entered the Boston Latin School, and at the age of seventeen years was prepared to start the study of medicine at Yale. The Civil War interrupted his studies, but the spirit of adventure which seems to have been one of his essential characteristics was not satisfied by service in the garrison at Boston, and after six months he returned to the study of medicine at Harvard. He graduated with high honors in 1866 and spent the next seven years in Germany.

He arrived just in time to take part in the War of 1866 as an assistant surgeon in the Bavarian army. Upon his release from service in 1867 he went to Würzburg, where the famous gynecologist and obstetrician, Scanzoni, was in charge of the Maternity Hospital. Mundé was resident physician for three years and here obtained the training which determined his future work and gave him the ideals of German scientific medicine. Again a war interrupted his studies. He joined the Bavarian army at the outbreak of the Franco-Prussian conflict, and at the siege of Paris had charge of a hospital which was destroyed by the enemy's fire. During the conflagration he rescued the wounded personally and received the Iron Cross for this deed. It is characteristic of Mundé that the honors which he won in both these foreign wars were unknown to most of his friends until after he had died. At the close of the war he traveled throughout Europe and visited the centers where medical thought was particularly active-Heidelberg, Berlin, Vienna, London, Edinburgh, and Paris.

After this extraordinary preparation he returned to America in 1873 and entered practice in New York City. In November of that year he married Eleanor Claire Hughes of New Haven, Conn. His subsequent life was one of devotion to scientific medicine. The time was propitious for the development of the specialties. New York City was the scene of labors of J. M.

Munford

Sims, T. A. Emmett, and Abraham Jacobi [qq.v.], but there was great need for such welltrained men as Mundé. His assiduity marked him as fitted for positions which require painstaking energy and these he filled with such skill that only the physical incapacities of later years relieved him of his labors. In 1874 he became chief editor of the American Journal of Obstetrics and he retained that position until 1802. In this time the Journal rose to a position of preeminence in its field. He was secretary and (1886-88) president of the New York Obstetrical Society and treasurer (1876-83), vice-president (1884), and president (1898) of the American Gynecological Society. He became gynecologist to Mount Sinai Hospital in 1881, and its Gynecological Outpatient Department was his creation. As professor of gynecology he taught in the New York Polyclinic and at Dartmouth College.

His publications include over one hundred scientific articles and three textbooks: Minor Surgical Gynecology (1880), Diagnosis and Treatment of Obstetrical Cases by External Examination and Manipulation (1880), and A Practical Treatise on the Diseases of Women (1891). rewritten and reëdited from the original of Theodore Gaillard Thomas. Mundé exerted a powerful influence on the course of the gynccological specialty in America, not because of any important scientific discovery but because he brought excellent training, a passion for scientific truth, and weighed judgment to a country which still lacked workers of quality. In this activity of transferring European ideals to American soil he was aided by a charming personality which was energetic and resourceful but not combative or zealous. He died in New York City in his fifty-sixth year.

MUNFORD, ROBERT (d. 1784), Revolutionary soldier and dramatist, was born at "Whitehall," Prince George County, Va., of aristocratic stock, son of Robert Munford (2nd) and his wife Anna Bland. He was educated at Wakefield, Yorkshire, England, along with other sons of the Virginia gentry, and while quite a young man was a soldier in the French-Indian wars, serving as captain in the 2nd Virginia Regiment, under William Byrd III, in the campaign of 1758. There are extant several letters written by him from Fort Cumberland to his uncle Theodorick Bland, Sr., which give inter-

1104. "DRIFTING ABOUT," OR WHAT "JEEMS PIPES OF PIPESVILLE" SAW-AND-DID. An Autobiography. By Stephen C. Massett. New York: Carleton, 1863. Many comic illustrations by Mullen. The frontispiece is engraved on wood by F. Walsh, whose initials also appear on the cut on p. 117. Probably all the cuts were engraved by him. Orig. cloth.

1105. THE LIFE AND ADVENTURES, SONGS, SERVICES AND SPEECHES OF PRIVATE MILES O'REILLY. [By Charles G. Halpine.] New York: Carleton, 1864. 13 illustrations by Mullen, engraved on wood by Penfield-Bross, except that on p. 117 which is engraved by Richardson-Cox. Orig. cloth.

1106. ARTEMUS WARD; HIS TRAVELS. [By Charles Farrar Browne.] New York: Carleton ... 1865. 12 illustrations by Mullen, most of which are engraved on wood by Penfield. Facing p. 117 is the amusing caricature of Ward which Murrell reproduces at p. 215. Orig. cloth.

BEYOND THE MISSISSIPPI. Hartford [cop. 1869]. 2 illustrations by Mullen, engraved on wood by Davis & Speer. [See Item 1136]

Edward William Mumford 1812-1858

Thomas H. Mumford 1816-

According to Fielding's American Engravers upon Copper and Steel, A Supplement to David McNeely Stauffer's American Engravers, Philadelphia, 1917, Edward Mumford was the son of Thomas Howland Mumford, cashier of the Merchants Bank of Newport, Rhode Island. He married Penelope Jane Scott of Philadelphia and between 1835 and 1840 was engraving landscapes and subject plates for Philadelphia publishers. According to Groce and Wallace he was a portraitist in oils and crayons and a teacher of drawing and in 1852 formed a partnership with his brother, Thomas H. Mumford, who was also an engraver, in the business of electrotyping.

1107. LITTLE CLARA. By Mrs. Anna Bache. Philadelphia: W. J. & J. K. Simon . . . 1842. 5 full-page wood engravings (including one repeat) signed "Mumford" and two unsigned vignettes. It is not possible to say whether these are the work of Edward Mumford or of his brother Thomas H. Mumford. Orig. cloth.

THE PICTORIAL HISTORY OF THE AMERICAN NAVY. New York [cop. 1845]. 6 tailpieces and

Charles Christian Nahl 1818-1878

H. W. Arthur Nahl 1820-1887

The Nahl brothers were born in Germany and came to this country in 1849, lured by the news of the California gold rush. Charles had studied in Paris under Vernet and Delaroche. In San Francisco they became partners in the engraving and lithographing business. Arthur was not as talented as Charles and was somewhat overshadowed by the latter's fame. Some early and particularly interesting work by Charles, engraved by Thomas Armstrong, will be found in Alonzo Delano's Pen Knife Sketches; or, Chips of the Old Block, Sacramento, 1853 and Old Block's Sketch Book, Sacramento, 1856. B. P. Avery in "Art Beginnings on the Pacific," Overland Monthly, July, 1868, speaks of Charles as the "most versatile of all the artists who have resided here [San Francisco]." See also Works Progress Administration, California Art Research, First Series, Vol. 1, The Nahl Family; Barker, p. 456.

1108. THE CALIFORNIA PILGRIM: A SERIES OF LECTURES. By J. A. Benton, Pastor of the First Church of Christ in Sacramento. Sacramento, Cal.: Solomon Alter . . . 1853.

Contains 6 full-page unsigned wood engravings. Robert E. Cowan in his A Bibliography of the History of California and the Pacific West, San Francisco, 1914, at p. 16, says of this book, "The plates, six in number, are apparently of the earlier work of Charles Nahl, afterwards famous." Orig. wrappers.

1109. THE MINER'S PROGRESS; OR SCENES IN THE LIFE OF A CALIFORNIA MINER. Being a Series of Humorous Illustrations of the "Ups and Downs" of a Gold Digger in pursuit of his "Pile." Sacramento: Published at the Daily Union Office, 1853. Fig. 104.

This is a poem by Alonzo Delano with 11 illustrations, which, though unsigned, are undoubtedly the work of Charles Nahl (see Robert Ernest Cowan, A Bibliography of the History of California and the Pacific West, San Francisco, 1914, at p. 155). Since the publishers are the same as those who in the same year published Item 1110, it seems likely that Armstrong is the engraver of these cuts as well as those in that item. (See Main Catalogue, p. 190)

1868. ANNALS OF PHILADELPHIA AND PENNSYLVANIA, IN THE OLDEN TIME; BEING A COLLECTION OF MEMOIRS, ANECDOTES AND INCIDENTS OF THE CITY AND ITS INHABITANTS, AND OF THE EARLIEST SETTLEMENTS OF THE INLAND PART OF PENNSYLVANIA, FROM THE DAYS OF THE FOUNDERS... Embellished with Engravings, by T. H. Mumford. By John F. Watson. In Two Volumes. Edition of 1856. Philadelphia: Whiting & Thomas, 1856.

In 20 numbers or parts, numbers 9 and 10 being bound together. At the beginning of each number are several illustrations, for the most part wood engravings and for the most part comprising views in or near Philadelphia. There are over 50 wood engravings. Mumford's name or initials will be found on some 14 of them (see Nos. 1, 4, 6, 7[3], 8[2], 9-10[2], 11[2], and 13[2]). The majority of the wood engravings bear the names of Van Ingen & Snyder, a firm of Philadelphia engravers, but in many instances these names probably relate to the ornamental borders surrounding the main engravings and not to the engravings themselves. In fact in the 4 instances where the letters "Sc." follow Mumford's name (see Nos. 4, 7, 8, and 9-10), the Van Ingen & Snyder signature appears between the main engraving and the ornamental border. It seems probable, from the wording of the title-page, that for most of the wood engravings Mumford was either draftsman, engraver, or both. In any event the work is well done and the wood engravings form an attractive series. The final engraving in No. 20 is signed "Moore Del." and is engraved by Baxter & Harley of Philadelphia. Moore may be the A. O. Moore listed in the Main Catalogue, but more likely Isaac W. Moore, the Philadelphia portrait and landscape painter (see Groce and Wallace, p. 452).

This book was first published by Carey & Hart in Philadelphia in 1830. Mumford's illustrations first appeared in an edition published for the author in 1844. Another edition published for the author was issued in 1850. This 1856 edition appears to be the third to contain the Mumford engravings. It is well printed and the impressions are good.

In orig. wrappers, except that the front wrapper of No. 20 is missing.

Nathan Winship Munroe

Munroe was born in Lexington, Mass., and is said to have been a pupil of Gilbert Stuart. He was a portrait painter and was working in Boston in 1813. He died while still in his youth. See Groce and Wallace, p. 461.

1869. ELEGY, IN REMEMBRANCE OF JAMES LAWRENCE, ESQUIRE: (Late Commander of the United States' Frigate Chesapeake). Fig. 42.

This is a broadside printed on silk, probably in 1813 and probably in Boston. At the top is a wood engraving showing a monument surrounded by cannon and battleflags and surmounted by a bust of Lawrence. On the cut appear the words "N. W. Munroe, Del." and "Eng'd on wood by G. Cobb." 2 verses are printed below the engraving and then follows the Elegy which closes with the words:

"Blest Shade! Farewell! Thy memory ever dear Oft shall receive fair Freedom's holy tear; In each fond heart shall live

H. A. Munson

1870. PICTURE OF SLAVERY IN THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA. [By George Bourne.] Middletown, Con.: Edwin Hunt, 1834. With 11 wood engravings, which for the most part depict cruelties inflicted on slaves. That facing p. 144 is signed "H. A. Munson del. & sc." while that facing p. 106 is signed "Flag del." This latter illustration differs somewhat in style from the others and it seems probable that Munson drew and engraved most of the illustrations. Orig. cloth.

William Barksdale Myers

Son of a prominent lawyer, Myers became a painter of historical scenes and of portraits in Richmond, Va., and was apparently well known in artistic circles there. In 1857 he exhibited at the Washington Art Association. There is little record of what became of him after the

In 1892 he was appointed secretary of state, sucses. ceeding Mr. Ryan. On Apr. 6, 1846, he married Martha Ann, daughter of John and Elisabeth Ebert.

VAN WORMER, John Rufus, secretary and manager, was born at Adams, Jefferson county, N. Y., March 14, 1849. His paternal ancestors came from Holland to America about the year 1660. These emigrants were pioneers on the frontier of the territory subsequently incorporated in the state of New York, and settled in the vicinity of the upper Hudson, Lake George, and Lake Champlain, where they endured the hardships incident to pioneers in the rough and wild life, endangered by the frequent border and Indian hostilities which preceded the revolution. Jacob Van Wormer, the great-great-grandfather, was skilled in woodcraft, an experienced scout, and an Indian fighter. During the revolution he was a lieutenant in De Gar. ma's company of Van Rensselaer's 14th Albany county regiment, the Hoosack and Schaghticoke division. The great grandfather of John R., Abram Van Wormer, who was born at Sandy Hill, Sara-toga county, N. Y., joined a regiment from his section of the state early in the war of 1812, and marched from Greenbush to Sackett's Harbor, N. Y., participating in the engagements and skirmishes with the British at that time. The grandson, John, was educated at an academy and military school in Adams. His taste and aptitude for poli-tics were acquired during boyhood; his interest in the fierce political controversies that raged for a few years prior to the civil war was intense. Through his associates, his connection with the telegraph business, and the studies he assiduously prosecuted, he became rooted and grounded in the republican faith, and a vigorous and competent advocate of the principles and theories of government professed by that political party. For many years he was engaged in the telegraph business, and became an expert operator. His leisure was devoted to the study of political and economic subjects, and to the study of political and economic subjects, and to cultivating the acquaintance of public men. He also did newspaper work. In 1872 Mr. Van Wormer resided in Oswego, N. Y.; was the correspondent of the New York "Times," in the northern and cen-tral portions of the state during the campaign be-tween Grant and Greeley. He was "on the stump" for three months, and contributed in a con-siderable degree toward the defeat of DeWitt C. Litsiderable degree toward the defeat of DeWitt C. Littlejohn, who was an adherent of Greeley, and a candidate for member of assembly in one of the Oswego districts. Mr. Van Wormer attained immediate popularity as a forcible, eloquent, and thoroughly informed public speaker. In 1873 he removed to Albany, and devoted himself to newspaper work for four years. In 1877 George B. Sloan, the speaker of the New York assembly, made him private secretary. Next he became private secretary to Roscoe Conkling, and clerk of the committee on commerce of the U. S. senate. For a period he was chief clerk of correspondence in the New York post-office, and the confidential associate of Postmaster James. When Mr. James became postmaster - general in President Garfield's cabinet Mr. Van Wormer was appointed private secretary, and was almost immediately thereafter made chief clerk of the post-office

coln safe deposit and warehouse company. Hard work, study, unflagging energy, and natural executive capacity have made Mr. Van Wormer successful in whatever he has undertaken. In 1892 he was elected secretary of the Union league club of New York.

MUMFORD, George Elihu, banker, was born in New York city in October, 1831, son of William W. Mumford, and, on his father's side, descended from Gov. Saltonstall of Connecticut. He was educated at schools in Rochester, N. Y. and at Hamilton college, and began the study of law in the office of his uncle, Geo. H. Mumford. He was admitted to the bar about 1851, and when his uncle retired from business, formed the partnership of Palmer & Mumford. Mr. Mumford continued to practice until 1865, then became one of the partners in the private banking-house of Erickson, Jennings & Mumford, which discontinued busi-ness in 1877. In 1883 he aided in organizing the Merchants' bank of Rochester, became its president, and remained in office until his death. Mr. Mumford was for years attorney for the Mutual life insurance company of New York, and president of the Brush electric light company of Rochester, N. Y., was a trustee of the Rochester savings bank, and for a short time president of the Rochester street railroad company, of the board of trustees of the Church home, and of the Genesee valley club; was a director of the Chamber of commerce, an organizer and director of the Citizens' gas-light company, a trustee of the City hospital, and one of the wardens of the Church of the Epiphany. He was married in 1860 to Julia E. Hills. a daughter of Isaac Hills, and left five children, all sons. He died Feb. 2, 1892. KENYON, James Benjamin, clergyman and author, was born in Frankfort, Herkimer county, N. Y., Apr. 26, 1858. His boy-hood was passed in the Mohawk valley. He was graduated from Hungerford collegiate institute in 1874. For three seasons following he taught school. In 1878, at the age of twenty, he entered the ministry of the Methodist Episcopal church. With the exception of two years spent in New York city as manager of a lecture bureau, Mr. Kenyon has been in the pastorate since the time when he first received a license to preach. He has been successful in the pulpit, having risen rapidly from the poorest to the best appointments in the conference. He usually preaches without notes. He has

MUMFORD, Paul, acting governor of Rhode Island (1805), was born at South Kingstown, March 5, 1734, son of William and Hannah (Latham) Mumford. He was a grandson of Thomas Mumford, and a descendant of Thomas Mumford who settled at Petta quamscut (South Kingstown) in 1657. His father was one of six brothers noted for their height, and popularly known as the "thirty-six foot Mumfords." He was graduated at Yale College in 1754, and then studied medicine, but abandoned that profession for the law, and settled in Newport. In 1774 he was elected to the general assembly, and served until Newport was occupied by the British, when he retired to his farm at Barrington. He was a prominent member of the council of war, and occasionally appeared with his musket. On July 7, 1777, the assembly appointed Stephen Hopkins, ex-Gov. William Bradford and Paul Mumford to attend a con-, vention of the New England states at Springfield, Mass., to consider the question of currency and the defense of Rhode Island. In May, 1777, he was appointed judge of the court of common pleas, and a year later was elevated to the bench of the superior court, where he served until May, 1781. In 1779 he was chosen to the upper house of the general assembly, and served two years. From May, 1781, to June, 1785, he was chief-justice of the state, and again from May, 1786, to May, 1788. In 1787 the refusal of John Weeden, a butcher of Newport, to receive depreciated paper money in payment of a debt from John Trevett was followed by an appeal from the latter to Chief-Justice Mumford, who convened a special court to try the case. The constitutionality of acts of the general assembly respecting paper money was involved, and the right of the assembly to question decisions of the court was re-sented by the four associate judges. At the next election the paper money party gained the ascendency and removed the associate judges, but retained Chief-Justice Mumford, who appears to have avoided committing himself. From April, 1801, to March, 1803, Judge Mumford was a state senator. On the death of Gov. Arthur Fenner, Oct. 15, 1805, Judge Mumford was appointed acting governor, but died a few weeks later.

SMITH, Henry, acting gov-ernor of Rhode Island (1805-06), succeeded Paul Mumford; but no other information concerning him can be obtained. WILBOUR, Isaac, acting governor of Rhode Island(1806-07), was born at Little Compton, R. I., April 25, 1783. He was a descendant of Samuel Wilbour, who emigrated to Boston as early as Dec. 1, 1633, joined the Hutchinson party, and with William Coddington and others purchased the island of Aquidneck (Rhode Island), and settled at Portsmouth in 1638. He acquired considerable property in land at Portsmouth and Taunton, besides his estate in Boston, to which he returned late in life. William Wilbour, a grandson of Samuel, was one of the original settlers of Seaconnet (now Tittle (

John Coles, of Enniscorthy, County Wexford, Ire- his retirement in 1922 was assistant professor of land, who came to Virginia in 1710 and was reputed to have built the first house on the site of Richmond. From John Coles and his wife Mary Ann Winston, the line continued through their son John and his wife Rebecca Elizabeth Tucker, and John and Selina Skipwith, the grandparents of Stricker Coles. His maternal grandfather, Col. Isaac Coles, was private secretary to Thomas Jefferson during Jefferson's last term in the White House. His father was an agriculturist and grand master of the Masonic order in Virginia. Stricker Coles received his preparatory education under tutors and at Little's school in Fauquier county, Va. He had planned to become an engineer but a severe illness awakened his interest in medicine. He attended Roanoke college during 1886-88 and the University of Virginia during 1888-91 and completed the study of medicine at Jefferson medical college, Philadelphia, where he was graduated M.D. in 1892. After an internship at the Jefferson hospital, he became assistant to Dr. Edward P. David in Philadelphia. He soon began to specialize in obstetrics, and continued in that field until he retired in 1922. At various times he was assistant in the obstetrical department and attending physician at Jefferson hospital, assistant in the obstetrical department of the Polyclinic hospital, assistant obstetrician at the Philadelphia general hospital and chief assistant in the outdoor department for the diseases of children at Howard hospital. He was a member of the medical staff of the Philadelphia lying-in charity hospital, and, with his wife, was largely instrumental in founding the social service department of that institution. In addition to his private practice and his hospital work Coles was actively engaged in teaching medicine. He was appointed demonstrator in obstetries at Jefferson medical college in 1898, became clinical lecturer in 1902 and from 1908 until was a liberal supporter of the Muhlenberg hosobstetries. He was also clinical lecturer in ob-stetries at Howard hospital and lecturer at the Philadelphia general hospital training school for nurses. Coles wrote many professional articles, including "Tubercular Bacilli in Human Milk" (Phila. Polyclinic, 1894), "Posterior Rotation of the Occiput in Vertex Presentation" (Amer.Jour. Obst., 1899), "Report of Three Cases of Cæsarean Section, One Complicated by Pyosalpinx" (ibid., 1902); "Transverse Position of the Child with Prolapse of the Arm and Impaction" (Amer.Med., 1903), "The Immediate Repair of Lacerations After Labor" (Amer.Jour.Obst., 1904); "Lacerations of the Cervix Uteri" (Surg., Gynecol. & Obst., 1906), and "Calomel to Increase Elimina-tion in Pregnancy" (Therap.Gaz., 1914). He also contributed the article on "Galactagogues" in the "Reference Handbook of the Medical Sciences." During the World war he was a member of the volunteer medical service corps, and later treasurer of the United Service Club for Enlisted Men, of which his wife was for many years president. He was a trustee of the Chapin memorial home for aged blind; a fellow of the College of Physicians of Philadelphia, and a member of the American and Pennsylvania State medical associations, Philadelphia County Medical Society, Obstetrical Society of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania Historical Society, Sons of the Revolution and the Southern and Merion Cricket clubs. He was a man of simple tastes, honest, kind, upright and devoted to his profession, regardless of remuneration. In religion he was an Episcopalian, serving many years on the vestry of the Church of the Holy Trinity, Philadelphia. He was an independent in politics. His favorite recreation was shooting. He was married at Bryn Mawr, Pa., Sept. 16, 1908, to Bertha Horstmann, daughter of Walter Lippincott, a publisher, of Philadelphia, and granddaughter of Joshua B. Lippincott (q.v.), founder of the publishing firm of J. B. Lippincott Co. They had three children: Elizabeth Lippincott, Walter Lippincott and Bertha Stricker Coles. He died at Bryn Mawr, Pa., June 20, 1937. MUMFORD, Thomas Jefferson, investment banker, was born at Pleasant Mount, Wayne co., Pa., Feb. 28, 1843, son of Thomas Hilli-bridge and Eliza C. (Kennedy) Mumford. He attended public schools and after studying law at Honesdale and Kingston, Pa., completed his education at Wyoming seminary. In 1880 he entered the insurance business as an agent of the Ætna Life Insurance Co., at Harrisburg, Pa. The following year he went to New York city for that company and represented it as general agent until 1889 when, with Frank Bushnell, he formed the firm of Mumford & Bushnell, to conduct a general insurance agency. The firm was highly successful and continued until 1898 when Mumford became a partner in the firm of Fahnestock & Co., investment bankers and brokers, in New York city. He was associated with that firm until November 1911, when he withdrew and retired. For a number of years he was vice-president and director of the City National Bank of Plainfield, N.J., where he re-sided, and he was also a director of the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Coal Co., and the Glen Alden Coal Co. Mumford gave generously to charitable enterprises, one of his outstanding benefactions being the gift of a day nursery to the city of Plainfield. He also made a dona-tion of $25,000 to the Y.W.C.A. He was a director of the Hillside Cemetery Association and one of the founders of the Tercentennial Memorial Fund. As a member of the Grace Episcopal Church, Plainfield, N.J., he donated a rectory to its parish. He was the proprietor of a dairy farm near Plainfield known as Quaker Hill farm, which he started with thoroughbred cattle. He was musical and artistic, possessed an excellent collection of books, prints and engravings, and was well read in history, biography and of the works of classical writers. Mumford lived a quiet life, was reserved in his manner and cared little for social life or to be in the public eye, but the community knew him as a kind and generous man. He was married twice: (1) in New York eity, June 4, 1879, to Clara G., daughter of Isaac Gibson McKinley, a newspaper editor of Harris-burg, Pa.; she died in 1912; (2) in New York city, June 19, 1919, to Mrs. Gertrude (Aron) Quick, daughter of Charles E. Aron, a leather manufacturer of Brooklyn, N.Y. He died, without issue, in New York city, Mar. 19, 1924.

STEVENS, John Peters, merchant, was born at North Andover, Mass., Feb. 2, 1868, son of Horace Nathaniel and Susan (Peters) Stevens and a descendant of John Stevens, who came from Caversham, Oxfordshire, England, in 1638, settling at Andover, Mass. From John Stevens and his wife Elizabeth Parker, the line continues through their son Joseph and his wife Mary Ingalls; James and Dorothy Fry; James and Sarah Peabody; Jonathan and Susannah Bragg, and Nathaniel and Harriet Hale, the grandparents of John P. Stevens. In 1813 his grandfather built, at North Andover, one of the earliest woolen mills in the country. This enterprise was continued later as the M. T. Stevens & Sons Co. John P. Stevens enrolled at Phillips academy, Andover, in the class of 1886 but remained only until the death of his father in 1884. He then entered the office of the dry goods commission firm of Faulkner Page & Co. in Boston, remaining there until 1887 when he was transferred to the New York office of the same concern. In 1899 he left Faulkner Page & Co. to found the dry goods commission house of J. P. Stevens & Co., which subsequently through his efforts attained a leading position in the tex-tile industry, selling the product of the M. T. Stevens & Sons Co., Stevens Linen Works and numerous other textile mills in New England and the South. He was a director of the M. T. Stevens & Sons Co., Stevens Linen Works, Aragon-Baldwin Cotton Mills, Lawrence Manufacturing Co., Watts Mills and Dunean Mills. In addition he was a director of the Hanover National Bank from Jan. 8, 1918, until it was merged with the Central Union Trust Co. on May 15, 1929, as the Central Hanover Bank & Trust Co., of which he was a trustee until his death. He was also a director of the Plainfield (N.J.) Trust Co. He was one of the founders in 1918 and president in 1919 of the Association of Cotton Textile Merchants of New York. In 1921-22 he was president of the American Association of Woolen and Worsted Manufacturers. A resident of Plainfield, N.J., for thirty years, he was interested in civic and philanthropic activities in that city, and served as a governor of the Muhlenberg hospital and a trustee of the Plainfield Community Chest and the Children's home. He was Republican presidential elector from New Jersey in 1928; presidential elector from New Jersey in 1928; as in the U.S. patent office. Originally he was vice-chairman for Manhattan and Long Island associated in practice with Francis W. Parker, for the Republican national ways and means com- Sr.; later with his brother Edmund F. Burton he chairman for Union county of the Republican national committee of New Jersey in 1924. During the World war Stevens was vice-chairman for the wholesale dry goods trade of the Liberty Loan committee of the 2d federal reserve district. He was a member of the New England Society of New York, the Union League, Merchants' and Manhattan clubs of New York city, Sleepy Hollow Country Club of Searsborough, N.Y., Somerset Hills Country Club of Bernardsville, N.J., and Plainfield (N.J.) Country Club (president, 1914-21). In religion he was a Unitarian. His chief recreations were travel and golf. He was married in New York city, Feb. 12, 1895, to Edna, daughter of Renssalaer Ten Broeck, and they had three children: John Peters, Robert Ten Broeck and Nathaniel Stevens. He died at Plainfield, N.J., Oct. 27, 1929. BURTON, Charles Smith, lawyer, was born at

Elyria, Ohio, Nov. 9, 1852, son of Nathan Smith and Sarah John (Fairfield) Burton and brother of Henry Fairfield Burton (q.v. for ancestry) and

Ernest DeWitt Burton (q.v.). His father was a Baptist clergyman. The son attended the University of Michigan for three years with the class of 1872, and in 1917 was granted the degree of A.B. as of 1872. During the summer of 1871 he became identified with the Victor Sewing Machine Co., and shortly thereafter was made manager of its branch office at Des Moines, Iowa. Later he studied law in a Chicago law office and in 1879 was admitted to the bar of Illinois. Thereafter until his death he practiced law in Chicago, specializing in patent, copyright, trade-mark and corporation law. He represented Chicago manufacturers in patent and copyright litigation in many circuits of the United States courts, as well

Mullins, and grandson of William and Sally Mullins and of Stephen and Aseneth Tillman. He attended the common schools of Corsicana, Texas, 1870-76, and the Agricultural and Mechanical college of Texas, 1876-79. He was graduated from the Southern Baptist Theological seminary in 1885, and was ordained to the ministry the same year. He was married, June 2, 1886, to Isla May, daughter of A. W. and L. M. Hawley of Louisville, Ky. He was pastor of churches at Harrodsburgh, Ky., 1885-88; Baltimore, Md., 1888-95, and at Newton, Mass., 1896-99. He edited the Evangel, Baltimore, Md., 1890-95, was secretary of the foreign mission board, 1895-96, and was elected president of the Southern Baptist Theological seminary, Louisville, Ky., in 1899. He received the honorary degree of D.D. and LL.D. from the Southern Baptist Theological seminary.

MUMFORD, Paul, jurist. was born at South Kingstown, R.I., March 5, 1734; son of William and Hannah (Latham) Mumford; grandson of Thomas Mumford, and a descendant of Thomas Mumford who settled at South Kingstown, then known as Pettaquamscut, in 1657. He was graduated from Yale, A.B. 1754, A.M. 1786; was admitted to the bar, and settled in Newport, R.I. He was a representative in the general assembly in 1774, but upon the occupancy of Newport by the British retired to his home at Barrington, Mass. He was a member of the council of war, and on July 7, 1777, was appointed with Stephen Hopkins and William Bradford a committee to attend a convention of the New England states held at Springfield, Mass., to provide for the defence of Rhode Island, and to discuss the currency question in view of the circulation of depreciated paper money. He was judge of the court of common pleas, 1777-78; judge of the superior court, 1778-81; a representative in the general assembly, 1779-81, and chief justice of Rhode Island, 1781-85 and 1786-88. He was state senator, 1801-03, lieutenant governor, 1803-05, and upon the death of Gov. Arthur Fenner, Oct. 15, 1805 became acting governor but served only a few days, when he died and was succeeded by Senator Henry Smith.

MUNDY, Ezekiel Wilson, clergyman and librarian, was born in Metuchen, N.J., June 16, 1833; son of Luther Bloomfield and Frances Eliza (Martin) Mundy, and grandson of Ezekiel and Lovicy Mundy, and of Dr. William and Sarah (Elston) Martin. He attended the academy at Essex, Conn., and was graduated from the Rochester university, A.B. 1860, A.M. 1863, and from the Rochester Theological seminary in 1863. He was pastor of the First Baptist church at Syracuse, 1863-66. In 1866 he helped to organize an independent church of which he was pastor until 1879. He was married. Jan. 15. 1873, to Emily, daughter of Horace and Emily (King) Kendall of Suffield. Conn. In 1882 he was confirmed in the Protestant Episcopal church. He was admitted to the diaconate the same year and to the priesthood in 1884, and was rector of St. Mark's church, Syracuse, N.Y., 1883-94. He was appointed librarian of the Syracuse Central library in 1880; was elected a member of the Historical society of Onondaga county. N.Y., in 1870, and of the Syracuse Historical and Genealogical society in 1898.

MUNDY, Johnson Marchant, sculptor, was born near New Brunswick, N.J., May 13, 1832 ; son of Frederick and Mary (Marchant) Mundy; grandson of Henry and Humy (Ayers) Mundy of Metuchen, N.J., and a descendant of Nicholas Mundy who settled in Metuchen about 1665. His parents removed to Geneva. N.Y., and he early evinced a talent for art and began to study drawing in crayons in 1844. He later removed to New York city, and engaged in marble cutting until 1854, when he entered the studio of Henry K. Brown, the sculptor, to learn to model in clay. He supported himself by making crayon portraits during his student days, and in 1858 received an order to model a bust in marble of President Benjamin Hale of Hobart college. He settled in Rochester, N.Y., in 1863, and there established the first drawing school and life class. He made his home in Rochester until 1883, and during that time modeled many busts, statuettes and medallions. He became almost blind in 1883, and removed to Tarrytown, where he accomplished his most important works. These consisted of the statue placed on the Soldiers' monument in Sleepy Hollow cemetery, Tarrytown, by the Grand Army veterans in 1890, for which he offered his service free, and the heroic statue of Washington Irving, completed in 1891, which represented the author seated in an arm-chair. This latter was executed almost wholly through his sense of touch. Among his more notable busts are those of Bishop William II. De Lancey ; President Martin B. Anderson; Dr. Chester Dewey ; Frederick Douglas, and Dr. W. W. Ely. He died in Tarrytown, N.Y., Aug. 16, 1897.

Thank you for your reply. Do you have any of the RI Mumfords in NJ? David, b 1755 near Elizabethtown, NJ served in the Revolutionary War from NJ, he was married to Abigail Poole in NJ, but I can find no trace of Mumfords in NJ to date. There were Mumfords in MD early on, but I am wondering why there is this record in PA. . . unless someone was just guessing?

Thanks for your help. Sally

Thank you for the reply, Fred. Sara's younger sister, Elizabeth, is an ancestress of my husband. Elizabeth was the 3rd wife of John Adams of Barrington RI. She was 1st married to Robert Westgate of Warwick RI. Elizabeth's identity had been a stumbling block for researchers over the years and she had been misidentified in two major publications. She and John named their first born child and only son Newdigate. I learned that Sarah Mumford had also named a son Newdigate and that was my first clue as to the real ID of the widow Westgate who married John Adams.

Hi Fred!!!!

Thank you so much for the information. I have a copy of a book on the Mumford family. You wrote part of the information and I was going to write you a letter. It is both a coincidence and a pleasure to hear from you!!!

1. My great-great grandfather was Ernest Fielding. He was the son of Joseph Fielding and Mary Mumford. I have a photo of him if you are interested. He died in 1919 in Shrewsbury, MA. He was a chauffeur and was passing through town when he died at a local garage. Ernest was married twice. His first wife [Grace Martin, my gg grandmother] left Ernest and their two young daughters, Grace [my g-grandmother] and Irene.

2. In the book, you mention that Mary Dickinson is the daughter of Samuel Dickinson and Mary Cole. Is the only existing documentation for this relationship the will of Wignal Cole [in which he leaves property to his niece Mary Dickinson Mumford]? Do you have a copy of this will?

3. Per the 1881 Canadian Census, the children of Joseph and Mary Fielding were as follows: Franklin - 15 y/o Maurice - 14 y/o Clarence - 11 y/o Leslie - 9 y/o Earnest - 7 y/o Emma - 5 y/o Eva - 1 y/o

4. Do you have any other information on the Nesbit or Young lineage?

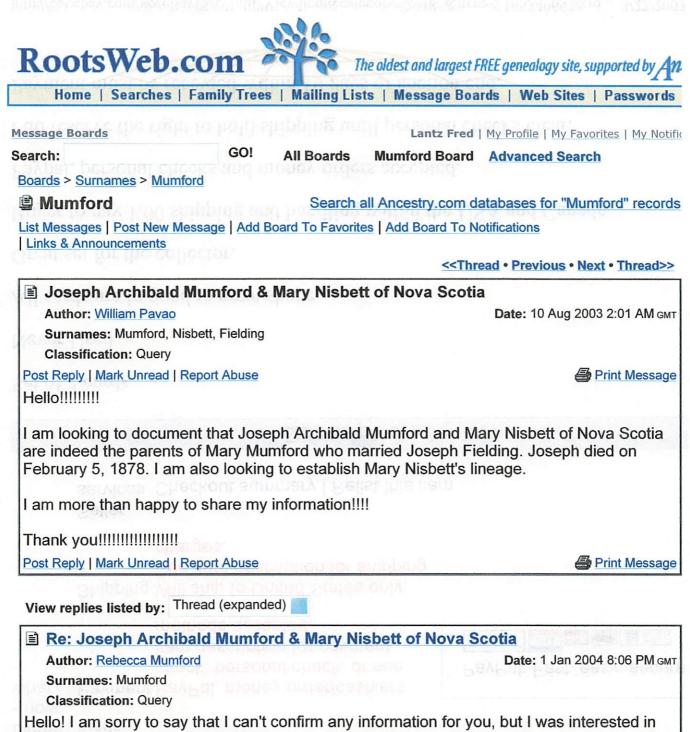

Please know how grateful I am for your help. Please feel free to e-mail me at bpavao@hotmail.com.

I will be happy to share all that I have.

All the Best, Bill Pavao

Hello! I am sorry to say that I can't confirm any information for you, but I was interested in the fact that you said you could share what information you do have. I have been searching for months and months as to the lineage/heritage of a certain William N. Mumford, born January 26, 1824 in Newport, Nova Scotia. I can't find any information on his family or any other ancestor beyond William. Do you perhaps any information that could be useful to me? Thank you so much!

Hello!!!!!

Thank you for the e-mail. Unfortunately, I do not recognize the name of William N. Fielding.

Try this website:

http://12.158.117.40/scott/mumford/index.htm#TOC

This is great website on the genealogy of the Mumford family.

I wish you much success in your searches!!!!

Hi Rebecca! ...I have a William Mumford, b. abt 1783 at Newport, Hants Co., NS and d. 22MAR1865 at Newport, aged 82 years. He was baptized1789 at the St. Paul's Anglican Church, Windsor, Hants Co., s/o George Mumford (who m. Mary Dickenson) William Mumford m. 20FEB1820 at Newport, Jane MacHattie and had 11 children, most of which were baptized in the St Paul's Anglican Church, Rawdon, Hants Co. William Mumford made a will, 15Jan1861, naming his living children including William Nesbit Mumford, of which you had a separate query. Hope this is of some help.

according to "Mumford Families in America, Lt.Gov Paul M had a son William b. 1770 in Newport. Nothing further on him. However, a deed in West Greenwich RI states 14)ct 1859, a quit claim and re-lease of dower from Polly (Mary) mumford for Paul M of Warwick and Wm.of Exeter, heirs of Paul M., deceased. So he apparently had at least two sons. Lt.Gov Paul is listed as marrying Mary Fry in 1762, and Mary Mayhem 1769. Gardiner Wm. M. s/o Jireh, had a son Paul born 8 Jan 1770. He m. Hannah ?

according to "Mumford Families in America, Lt.Gov Paul M had a son William b. 1770 in Newport. Nothing further on him. However, a deed in West Greenwich RI states 14)ct 1859, a quit claim and re-lease of dower from Polly (Mary) mumford for Paul M of Warwick and Wm.of Exeter, heirs of Paul M., deceased. So he apparently had at least two sons. Lt.Gov Paul is listed as marrying Mary Fry in 1762, and Mary Mayhem 1769. Gardiner Wm. M. s/o Jireh, had a son Paul born 8 Jan 1770. He m. Hannah ?

Subject: Mumfords in RI Author: Mary Richardson Date: 27 Jun 2001 2:30 AM Email: mabtfr@aol.com

I am working on my family history. My grandmother was a Mumford in Georgia. Her grandfather was William Mumford. The 1850 Ga. census says he was a merchant from RI and lists his age as 42. In the 1840 RI census there is a William Mumford of the corresponding age in Providence County. Does anyone know anything of who his father was or of his lineage? Any help would be appreciated. Mary We're also searching for relatives in the south-central MA Ct area. Have run into dead end looking for parents of Merrick C. Mumford allegedly born in Wilbraham MA or Enfield CT. No corroboration there. His mother may have been Experience (Speda) Goodwill .

WARE.

Some descriptive poet who flourished in days gone by, gives the following metrical account of the town of Ware, Massachusetts : ---

Dame Nature once, when making land, Had refuse left of stone and sand She viewed it well, then threw it down, Between Coy's Hill and Belchertown, And said, you paltry stuff lie there, And make a town and call it Ware !

LETTER FROM S. SEVERANCE, 1775.

Newburyport, June 28, 1856. DEAR SIR,—If the following scrap of biographical history and letter you should deem worthy of insertion in your Register, they are at your disposal. Yours, respectfully, E. GEORGE ADAMS.

Samuel Severance, the writer of the following letter, was a native of Kingston, N. H. He enlisted in the Revolutionary army, and served about three months. He was in the battle of Bunker Hill, and brought home a small stone, which is now in the possession of my wife's family, as a memorial of that eventful day. The letter is addressed from Medford to his wife at Kingston. Her maiden name was Hannah Winslow. I have retained the spelling, &c., of the letter, and as a relic of those days that tried men's souls, I thought it would be interesting to your many readers. I will relate a little incident to illustrate the social life and the privation of those times. When the postman came round to convey letters from the inhabitants of Kingston, as well as any little necessaries from their friends, to the soldiers in the service, Mrs. Severance sent to her husband some green beans, with a piece of pork to cook with them, and some Indian meal to make him a pudding, while his little daughter, six years old, picked him a pint of berries to put in it; which he gratefully received, while the soldiers stood looking on with tears in their eyes, wishing they had a wife or children to send them a like present. Mr. Severance was taken sick with the camp disease, and was forced to return home. This little daughter's name was Hannah, and married Henry Adams of Newbury. When Mr. Severance returned to his home, he was so haggard, and pale, and changed, that this daughter, in her fright at the singular looks of a stranger, as she deemed him, fled, and hid herself behind the door. Henry Adams had a daughter Hannah who married Ebenezer Plumer of Newburyport, whose only child, Sarah Cobb Plumer, is my wife. I would state that though the spelling of the following letter is poor, the penmanship is very creditable.

E. GEORGE ADAMS.

THE LETTER.

madford July th 17. 1775, these Lines comes to you, my loveing wife and dear children, hoping in the marcy of god that you are all well, and 1 hope in gods time I shall be restored home again; but if not, I beg of god that we may so live in this world that we may spend wone day in each others preasents in a world of glory, for I put noe trust in the arm of flesh, but my trust is in god alone for life and mearcy, and I hope in the mearcy of god that he will cary you throu all your troble and dificiles that you have to pas throu in this life. my love to father and mother, to brother John and wife. I hope that you are all well, and the rest of my friends, to my wife; what money I send home to you, you may take care of it. if you have aney prosp^{ect} of corn, I would have that old cow have a peas on her horns, so I have noe more at the preasent, so I remain your Loving housband til death peart. THE ELIOT BUREAU.

Jamaica Plain, July 17, 1857.

To S. G. DRAKE, ESQ.

Dear Sir:—In my communication, addressed to you Sept. 1st, 1855, and published in the October number of the Genealogical Register, together with a drawing of the article of furniture in my possession, by James O'Bryan, which I then called the "Eliot Bureau," I gave a history of the manner in which it came into my possession, its condition at the time, and the alterations I had made upon it, so that its genuineness, in future time, might not be thrown into doubt. I also gave several items of testimony which seemed to establish the fact that the article was once the property of the revered Eliot, the Apostle to the Indians.

Since that time, I have received letters from several gentlemen who had read my former communication on the subject, and I send you some of these letters, together with extracts from others, relating to this question, so that, in view of all the evidence in the case, the public may come to a more satisfactory conclusion respecting its identity than they otherwise could.

The first extract I shall give you will be one contained in a letter from my old and respected friend, Gov. Levi Lincoln, whose opinion and judgment I learned to appreciate and respect most highly, during a long period of service in a public office under him. In a letter of Dec. 8th, 1855, he says :---

"In reference to the 'Cabinet,' you have shown yourself a literary artificer of great excellence; out of the rough and neglected materials, you have constructed two beautiful articles—one physical, the other intellectual. In both respects I think you have well made out 'the case,' and upon the evidence, I pronounce it the veritable 'Eliot Cabinet.' You must richly prize the article for its intrinsic and associate value."

Hon. ROBERT C. WINTHROP replied as follows :---

"I thank you for a copy of your interesting account of the Eliot Bureau. I heartily wish it were in my power to add any thing to the strength of the testimony by which you trace up this relic of the olden time to the venerated Apostle to the Indians. But you have made a strong case of presumption, and I can hardly doubt that 'I. E.' designated John Eliot."

Mr. Winthrop intimates a doubt as to the significance of the letter "A." He says :—

"Whether the ' Λ ' stood for Anno, or for Anna, the name of Eliot's wife, you do not intimate. The wife's name, as you doubtless know, was Hannah Mumford; but it is entered on the Roxbury records at least once as 'Ana.' Our fathers were rather fanciful in their mode of combining the initials of husband and wife upon silver plate. I am not so familiar with marks upon furniture."

I will remark, in passing, that Mr. Winthrop, who doubtless gave the subject very careful consideration, and whose eminent fitness to express an authoritative opinion upon it is beyond question, scarcely doubts that the letters "I. E." designated John Eliot. As to his intimation that the letter "A" may have been the initial of his wife's name, because the initials of both husband and wife were often placed upon articles of plate, it may be said—first, the fact that the name of Eliot's wife was Hannah, is quite opposed to the idea of the use of the letter A to represent her name; for, although it may have been found on the Roxbury records "at least once" as Ana, it is quite unlikely that A would be used in the place of H upon this article of furniture, if the purpose was to designate her name. In the next place, this intimation does not apply to the Bureau, because the letters I and E are eighteen inches apart, upon the same horizontal line, and the letter A is nearly eighteen inches below them both. The figures 1681 are eight inches below the last letter, which clearly indicates that each had a distinct meaning, independent of its relation to the others.

The Eliot Bureau.

Rev. Dr. Lowell has communicated to me his opinion also, which is the more valuable by reason of his having made the sufferings and character of Eliot the subject of his distinct consideration, using the following language in reference to him, in a sermon preached at the dedication of a church in Natick, in 1828:—

"How interesting are the associations which are connected with this place, and this occasion ! Nearly two centuries ago, this spot was first consecrated by the rites of religion. It was then that the apostolic Eliot imparted to the rude, untutored children of the forest, the light of Divine truth, and the wilderness echoed the voice of Christian prayer, and the songs of Christian praise. We revert with admiration to the wearisome pilgrimages, and the toilsome and perilous, though patient and persevering labors of this holy man. Imagination delights to go back through the long tract of time, and see him travelling on foot, with his staff and his Bible ; or surrounded by his Indian children, with no altar but the trunk of the forest tree, and no canopy but the vault of heaven, yet cheered by the consciousness of devotion to the best of causes, and by the hopes of success. We honor thy memory, devoted servant of the Lord Jesus! Though no fruits of thy labor remain, thou hast erected a monument to thy praise in the hearts of the pious, in all times, who shall hear the story of thy toils and thy sufferings, and hast secured to thyself a portion with those who, 'having turned many to righteousness, shall shine as the brightness of the firmament, and as the stars, forever and ever.""

In his letter to me he says :---

"I cannot doubt that I have, from time to time, acknowledged your kindness in sending me your interesting and valuable communications respecting your honorable and honored family, and the precious Eliot Antique, of which you are the favored possessor. You make out a strong case."

The next letter from which I shall extract will be that of the diligent antiquarian, J. WINGATE THORNTON, Esq. of Boston, a grandson of Judge Gookin, and connected by marriage with the Eliot family. He says :---

"I notice that on page 331, you make Capt. John Smith's hero, Daniel Gookin of Virginia, 1621, identical with the Major General of Massachusetts, but the latter was the son of the former."

As I have reason to think Mr. Thornton is correct, I am happy to state his remark here. As to the "Bureau," he says :--- 1858.]

Nr. 12

The Eliot Bureau.

"I rejoice that this memento of that Christian hero and apostle— ELIOT—is in- the possession of one who can so well appreciate his greatness, and rightly value what is so blended with his memory, and I wish that every successive owner may preserve it with like sacred regard."

J. J. CLARKE, Esq., late Mayor of Roxbury, says :-

"You seem to make it almost certain that this article of furniture once belonged to the Apostle Eliot. It is sufficiently well established to awaken, and keep alive, all the feelings which are inseparable from the contemplation of his many virtues; and that alone is enough to render it of great value."

" Cambridge, Nov. 30th, 1855.

"My Dear Sir,—Please to accept my thanks for your kind attention in sending me your interesting account of the Eliot Bureau. Such a case scarcely admits of absolute demonstration, but it appears to me that the facts, as you have brought them together, give the highest degree of probability to the conclusion at which you have arrived. At any rate, you may fairly claim this curious specimen of antiquity to have belonged to the Apostle Eliot, till some person, more learned and ingenious than is likely to be found, shall prove the contrary.

"I am, dear sir, with great regard, very truly yours, "Gen'l Sumner." JARED SPARKS.

The next letter I give is that of Hon. FRANKLIN DEXTER of Boston :---

"I have received the copy you were kind enough to send me of your description of the Eliot Bureau. You are certainly very fortunate in possessing such a precious relic of antiquity; and I think no one can deny that you fairly trace it, by presumption, to John Eliot, or at least to his son John,—and if to the son, then probably through him to the father, as it appears to have been of foreign workmanship, and therefore brought out by the venerable Apostle from England."

To the suggestion that the ownership of the Cabinet is traced through the son to the father, the chronological order of events in the history of the family is opposed, since the son died first, in 1668. This renders it probable that it came into the possession of the widow of John Eliot, Jr. subsequently, she being a daughter of Gen. Gookin.

As the last of the corroborative testimony, from the opinions of gentlemen eminently qualified to judge correctly upon the subject, I give an extract from a letter of JOHN CODMAN, Esq. of Boston :---

"I have received, and read with much pleasure, your pamphlet on the subject of the Eliot Bureau. It is a matter of which I have no knowledge; but I think, to say the least, that you have made out a very fair case, and the presumption that you have a valuable relic of the Indian Apostle is very strong.

"That you have drawn out the very beautiful verses, at the close, I think a matter on which you may congratulate yourself."

[April,

When we consider the results of the past few years' labor, we can hardly realize that in 1840 not more than three or four genealogies had been published, and that the epitaph on John Farmer's monument, then just erected, contained no distinctive allusion to his devotion to a subject in which he had been the first to awaken an interest among our people.

Mr. Shattuck was one of the few gentlemen who founded the New England Historic-Genealogical Society, and he remained an officer of it for several years. The members will remember his regular attendance at the stated meetings, and the interest he displayed in every subject which was laid before them.

As a genealogist, his most important work was the history of his own family, published in 1855, making a goodly octavo volume of 414 pages. It has been rightfully placed in the first rank of such books. In many instances it rises to the dignity of a history of the times, while it rarely descends to the bare level of a dry table of names and figures.

Mr. Shattuck married, Dec. 1, 1825, Clarissa Baxter, by whom he had three daughters who survived him.

He died Jan. 17, 1859. At a meeting of the New England Historic-Genealogical Society, held three days afterwards, Mr. Kidder introduced some resolutions, which he prefaced with these remarks :--

"MR. PRESIDENT,-I rise to call your attention to the memory of one of our oldest and most distinguished associates. You have all, no doubt, anticipated me when I mention the name of Lemuel Shattuck, over whose form the grave has this day closed. After our industrious Historiographer has so fully portrayed the character of our friend, it may almost seem presumptuous in me to take up any further time in remarks upon the subject; for there are others here who have been more closely connected with him than myself, and are much better qualified to do justice to his memory. But though others may have known him better, and enjoyed more of his society, I claim to have known him earlier and longer than any other member of this Association. We were born almost in the same neighborhood ; went to the same church ; and were familiar with the same faces and scenes. My earliest recollection of him carries me back to the days of childhood, to the hills and streams of my native town, its institutions and people. I remember his parents, their quiet and simple habits of life, cultivating their farm, with no ambitious views or aspirations for notoriety or wealth, and only wishing to be useful in their day and generation.

"It is as an historian and genealogist that Mr. Shattuck was best known to us and to the world. Of his invaluable books I shall not now speak in detail. I will only call attention to his History of Concord. This was one of the earliest town histories, and notwithstanding the great improvements made in that department of literature, it still ranks as one of the best. It was the first good one I ever saw. I well remember that I read it with interest and delight. It did more to show me the value of such works than anything else I ever read, and incited me to try and do something in that way. It showed how useful these works must be to the present and future inhabitants of all our New England towns; and that they are the foundation of our national history. I desire now to testify my gratitude to his memory for what he has done to rescue the fading traditions and crumbling records of New England from destruction. All honor to the labors of our earliest pioneers in Genealogy and Local 'History,' I ask leave to offer these Resolutions1860.1

Petaquompscot Purchase.

"Resolved, That the members of this Society learn with sincere regret of the decease of Lemuel Shattuck, one of its original founders, and its first Vice President; and we desire to express fully our appreciation of the great value of his labors in the cause of Local History and Genealogy, as well as our respect for his character as a useful associate, and a man whose printed works will, through all coming time, be his best culogy.

"Resolved, That this brief expression of our feelings be entered on our records, and a copy forwarded to the family of the deceased."

LETTER RELATIVE TO PETAQUOMPSCOT PURCHASE IN RHODE ISLAND.

[From the original in the Archives of the N. E. Hist. Gen. Society.]

On the 20th of Jan., 1657, Quassaquanch, Kachanaquant and Quequaquenuet, chief sachems of Narraganset, sold to Samuel Wilbor, John Hull of Boston, goldsmith, John Porter, Samuel Wilson, and Thomas Mumford, a large tract of land which was called the Petaquompscot Purchase. The jurisdiction of this place was for a time claimed by Massachusetts. This company afterward bought other tracts. Subsequently they admitted into partnership two distinguished gentlemen who were afterwards governors of Rhode Island, William Brenton and Benedict Arnold. It is in relation to these tracts of land that Thomas Mumford writes John Hull. "Thomas Mumford's sons," says Potter, "were Thomas, (who was 66 years old in 1722, and had a son William). Peleg, who was 74 years old in 1733, and George." In 1701, Thomas Mumford was chosen Deputy for Kings Town, R. I.; and one of the Justices one of the Peace for Westerly, in 1703, was Thomas Mumford. Samuel Wilson was danghter of John Porter.—See Potter's Early History of Narragansett, 275—299; Memoir of John Hull, in Am. Antiq. Soc. Coll., vol. iii. p. 125.

When Richard Baxter lay, as he supposed, dying in his bed, he received a copy of Cotton Mather's Life of Eliot. He said, "I knew much of Mr. Eliot's opinions by many letters I had from him. There was no man on earth whom I honored above him. I am now dying, I hope as he did.'

The first entry on the record of the 'Marages of the Inhabitance of Roxbury' is that of 'Mr. John Eliot and Hanna Mumford, September 4, 1632.'

Rev. John Danforth wrote a poem 'on the death of Mrs. Anne Eliot, the virtuous consort of Rev. John Eliot, first minister of Roxbury, who exchanged worlds March 24, 1687, in the 84th year of her age.' To which are added 'verses to the memory of Mr. John Eliot, teacher to the church of Christ in Roxbury, and a propagator of the Gospel among the Indians in New England, who rested from his labours May 20, 1690, Æt. 86.' Dr. Cotton Mather thus wrote of her: 'This wife of his youth lived with him until she became to him also the staff of his age; and she left him not until about three or four years before his own departure to those heavenly regions, where they now together see light. She was a woman very eminent, both for holiness and usefulness, and she excelled most of the daughters that have done vertuously. Her name was Anne, and gracious was her nature. God made her a rich blessing, not only to her family, but also to her neighbourhood; and when at last she died, I heard and saw her aged husband, who else very rarely wept, yet now with tears over the coffin, before the good people, a vast confluence of which were come to her funeral, say, Here lies my dear, faithful, pious, prudent, prayerful wife; I shall go to her, and she not return to me.'

Mrs. Sigourney's "Examples of Life and Death" contains a sketch of Mrs. Eliot's character and life.

"It is nicely taken Notice of, by some of our curious Inquirers, that at Lancaster, there is one Mr. John Sawyer of that Place, who has had by one Wife (at eight single Births, and four double ones) no less than sixteen Children in seventeen Years; one to every two Years, from the time of her being five Years old. By which some of our learned in Arithmetick, may possibly calculate the present Age of this fruitful Mother in our Israel: her four last Children were born within the compass of one Year and ten Months; and if her Faculty continues as long as some have boasted of, she has a considerable Chance of being the Mother of no less than Eight and Twenty more and an half."—News Letter, 1742, March 4.

" Extract of a Letter dated St. George's, at the Eastward, May 22, 1758.

"This Day at Twelve o'Clock a Whaleboat came up from Maduncock, with the melancholly News of the Indians falling upon the Inhabitants there this Morning half an Hour after Sun-rise; they killed and scalped Mr. Bradford, his Wife, and Mr. Mill's Wife, and kill'd her Child; two of Bradford's Boys they carried off, Prisoners; wounded one of his Daughters, and a Boy of Mills's, dangerously: The People hearing the Indians yell, got out and prevented their killing any more: One Child in the House escaped by crawling under a Bed."—News Letter, 1758, June 1. 1860.] Records of Falmouth (now Portland) Me.

SKETCH OF THE CHIPMAN FAMILY.

[Communicated by Rev. R. MANNING CHIPMAN, of Wolcottville, Ct.]

The surname Chipman is of local origination; Cyppanhamme, in Bosworth's Anglo-Saxon Dictionary; Chepeham, Chipeham, etc., in Doomsday Book. 'Chipham or Chipenham' and 'Chippenham,' is in co. Wilts.; 'Chippenham,' in co. Bucks.; and 'Chippenham,' in co. Camb., England. The term purports market-town, emporium.

WILLIELNUS DE CHIPENHAM, (William Chipman,) was chief of the "jurors," in modern phrase was Chairman of the Board of Commissioners, who took the "survey," or census and inventory, of the very extensive and opulent Monastery of Ely, England, the registry of which is now among the Cottonian Manuscripts in the British Museum, marked Tiberias A. VI., and in the printed copy of the Doomsday Book, forms a part of Vol. II., viz., the Inquisitio Eliensis. From that epoch, A. D. 1085, this family, thus territorially surnamed, has continued.

See 'Chipenham or Chipnam,' 'Chippenham or Chipman,' and 'Chipman,' with various armorial bearings, in Burke's General Armory. The armorial bearings, as transmitted through the early generations in this country, arc of that branch of the general family which by heraldic visitations is recorded as of Bristol, England.

A synopsis of the Chipman Family in America is here given.

1. Thomas Chipman, allied to and escheated by 'Christopher Derby, gentleman,' of Dorchester, in Dorsetshire, Eng., owned property in Whitehurch of Marshwood Vale, co. Dors., and died in Bryan's-Piddle, co. Dors., Eng. (Of this, see more fully in N. E. H. G. Reg., vol. iv, No. 1, p. 22.) His only son was:

2. John Chipman, born 1613-14, who came to Boston, Ms., in 1631; married Hope Howland, a daughter of Mr. John Howland and of his wife Elizabeth, who, with said John Howland and her parents Mr. John Tillie and his wife, was landed on the famed Rock at Plymouth, Ms., in 1620. Mr. Chipman first lived at Yarmouth, Ms., where his first child was born, 24 June, 1647; afterward at Barnstable (Marshes, now West Barnstable), Ms., where were born his eleven other children. He was often a Selectman, a Deputy, (Representative,) and otherwise in public service. He was a Ruling-Elder in the Congregational Church of said Barnstable; (which was originally formed in London, Eng., 1602, and of which the part that remained in England is still the Southwark Church in that city.) He died at his younger son's or at his second wife's house, in Sandwich, Ms., 7 April, 1708. His first wife, the mother of all his children, having not long survived her father, deceased 8 Jan. 1683-84. At least five of his daughters were married. By two sons, his eldest and only other son having died in infancy, have descended from him several thousand persons, including all; two thousand are in due order registered, who on this continent hear his surname.

3. (A.) Samuel Chipman, born 15 April, 1661, succeeded to the paternal estate in Barnstable, Ms., which, never conveyed otherwise than by inheritance in the male line of descent, his descendant of the fifth generation, Mr. William Chipman, now occupies. Said Samuel Chipman was a Deacon in the Church of (West) Barnstable. He married, 27 Dec. 1686, Sarah Cob, a daughter of Henry Cob, of Plymouth, &c., and niece appoint my 5 children, Executor & executrixes of this my Last will, & giue unto them equally to be Divided between them all the overplus of my Estate after all Debts & Legacies shall bee paid ; & in Case any shall be dead afore they come to the age of 21 yeares or be Marryed, then the share of the Deceased shall be equally Divided among those that survive. I give to my sister, Elizabeth Shrimpton, wife to my Brother, Edward Shrimpton, Deceased, £10, as also to the seven Children of my late Brother, Edward Shrimpton (that is to say, Jonathan Shrimpton, Mary Shrimpton, Ebenezer, Epafras, Silas, Elisabeth & Lydya Shrimpton, £10 apiece, all to be paid heer, in New England money ; & my Desyre is, that if there shall appear any error or mistake in ye accompts of my aforsd. sister or her Children, that it may bee made good unto them. ANTILL FAMILY RECORDS.

[Copied by JOHN L. SIBLEY, A.M., of Cambridge, Mass., Aug. 11, 1861, at Montreal, Canada, from the family bible of Mrs. Judge Aylwin, who was grand-daughter of Edward Antill, a friend of the Americans in the Revolution.]

GILES SHELLEY* was born July ye 30th, 1664.

Edward Antill (son of Edward Antill formerly of Richmond in the County of Surry in Old England, merchant, but late of New York, in America, attorney at Law, and Sarah his Wife) was born in New York the 17th of June, 1701.

Anne, his wife, whom he married the 10th of June, 1739, was born the 3rd of April, 1706, being daughter of Lewis Morris, Esq^r., Governor of New Jersey, and Isabella his wife, then both living.

Sarah, Daughter of Edward Antill, by said Anne, his wife, was born at his house in Piscataqua, in the County of Middlesex, in East New Jersey, the 18th day of August, 1740, at 7 of the Clock in the evening, and was baptized at the Church in said Piscataqua, on Sunday the 14th day of September following, by the Reverend William Skinner. Robert Hunter Morris, Esq., Chief Justice of New Jersey, her uncle on the mother's side, being her godfather, and Ursula Parker and Mary Forster her godmothers.

Edward, first son by the said Anne, was born at the same place, the 11th of April, 1742, at eleven of the clock in the morning, and was baptized in the same church, by the Reverend William Skinner, on Palm Sunday the 2^d of May following, Peter Kemble of this Place, merchant, and doctor — Mercer, of Bound Brook, Gent". and Farmer, being his Godfathers, and Eufamia Norris [Morris?] (his aunt by the Mother) his Godmother, who being in England was personated by Mrs. Catherin Johnston.

Edward Antill married at Quebec 4 May, 1767, by the Rev. John Brooks, Chaplain of the Garrison, to Miss Charlotte Riverain [Riverin?] daughter of Joseph of Riverain, by whom they had issue :---

ITEMS FROM AN INTERLEAVED BOSTON ALMANAC FOR 1778, BEING A DIARY OF EZEKIEL PRICE.

[Communicated by WILLIAM S. PATTEE, M.D., of Quincy.]

"THE author of this diary was Mr. Ezckiel Price,* who was born in Boston about 1728, and was one of the most respectable inhabitants of the town.

Mr. Price was married April 18, 1765, by Rev. Dr. Mayhew, to Ruth Avery, by whom he had six children. Of these four died young; Ezckiel deceased at the age of 60.

"Mr. Price held various offices in his day, both under the Crown, and after the separation and independence of the colonies. When a young man he was secretary to three of the Colonial Governors successively, Wm. Shirley, Thomas Pownell, and Sir Francis Bernard. He was Clerk of the Courts of Common Pleas and Sessions before the Revolution for several years. His name appears in the Records of the Courts in connection with that of Ezekiel Goldthwait.⁴

"After the siege of Boston, when the British influence was at an end, and the Tories were scattered, Mr. Price, who took the side of Hancock's Letter dated yesterday morning 10 o'clock, states that the rank and file of our army consisted of 8000, that 41 deserters from the enemy came in, and that our army was soon to advance on the enemy. It was also reported that the French fleet were in sight. Mr. Mumford came in this afternoon, he left our camp at 6 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and says a Brig was sent out from the French Frigate near the Island in order (as supposed) to look out for the French Fleet, that the Brig fired signal guns which were answered by the French Frigate, and it was supposed that the French Frigate was in sight. A letter to Gen. Heath, by the daily post from Major Lyman at camp, now on R. I., who says our army is well provided, and ready to march forward on the enemy, but says he has no news to communicate. Fear the French Fleet are not in sight.

16th. Some persons from Providence say that the French Fleet had not returned this morning.

No Post in at 9 o'clock, it is reported that more than 100 of the enemy have deserted. Accounts from New York state, that by the late fire there were upwards of 100 Houses burnt, and some transports.

17th. Advice by Post that our army had moved forward and taken possession of a height about a half a mile distant from the enemy, they were not discovered until 8 o'clock next morning, when the enemy fired about 100 shot at them which did no mischief as we hear.

18th. Nothing material from the army, no account from the French Fleet. A prisoner left New York 14 days ago, says all the prisoners there were to be released. It rained last night, which must be very uncomfortable to our worthy brethren on R. I. I feel much for them.

19th. Our advice from R. I. is, that two more deserters had come in, that they were to open their Batteries from their advanced entrenchments this day. The French fleet not arrived. This afternoon it is said that a report of firing of cannon was heard this morning toward R. I.

20th. The French fleet not arrived yesterday, nothing from camp.

21st. French fleet not arrived yesterday morning, begin to feel concerned as to their safety, had advices from Capt. Collins dated Wednesday.

22d. Last nights Post brings the agreeable news of the arrival of the French fleet at Newport. The Admirals ship lost some of her masts, one other ship of 74 Guns lost her foremast, and another 74 missing. In the afternoon arrived here the French ship of 74 Guns that was missing, in an engagement with an English 64, the French Capt. lost his arm, a number of others killed and wounded, they report that the English 64 was very much disabled, and that they saw an English 74 disabled. The evening post says our army opened 20 can-

LETTER FROM DR. FRANKLIN TO CAPT. THOS. BRADFORD.

[Communicated by JOHN JORDAN, Jr., Esq., of Philadelphia.]

Wednesday P. M., May 16th.

DEAR SIR,-I have just now been urged to apply to you in behalf of a Stranger who is suppos'd to have spoken some disrespectful words of your Company, as he is told they are exceedingly exasperated against him. He declares, that the Words ascrib'd to him are much misrepresented, and that if he had an opportunity, of giving you a true Account of them, you would be satisfy'd they were merely jocular without the least Intention of offending you or any of your Corps.

I do not presume to have any influence with you intitling me to mediate in any Affair that concerns you. I only beg leave to mention, that he is a Clergyman of the Church of England, and some pains has lately been taken in England to represent the Colonies as inimical to that Church. I hope you and the Company will on Enquiry find that the Offence is not so great as to require such Marks of Resentment as may be misconstrued there, and deemed the Effects of Enmity to the Clergy; because at this juncture, it might create us some powerful Enemies, increase their number and diminish that of our Friends.

Be so good as to excuse my giving you this Trouble and believe me to be with sincere Esteem, Dear Sir, Capt. Bradford.*

Your most obedient humb' Servt. B. FRANKLIN.

^{*} This letter has never before been published. Captain (Thomas) Bradford was an emi-nent printer, editor, and publisher, and succeeded Franklin as printer to the Continental Congress, in 1763. He died at Philadelphia in May, 1838, aged 94 years. He was a bother of William Bradford, Attorney General of the United States during a portion of Washington's Administration .--- ED.

side ; but as Gov. Winthrop ultimately prevailed, he with others found it convenient to immigrate to Rhode-Island. In Providence, they met Roger Williams, who advised them to purchase the island of Aquetnet (now Rhode-Island) of the Indians. The purchase was completed March 24, 1638. On the first day of July, 1639, they established a regular government, of which Coddington was chosen governor, and Philip⁴ Sherman secretary. After this, he often held office in the colony, and, in critical periods, as a man of intelligence, wealth and influence, was frequently consulted by those in authority.

The early record, prepared by him, still remains in Portsmouth, and shows him to have been a very neat and expert penman, as well as an educated man.

After he removed to Rhode-Island he left the Congregational Church and united with the Society of Friends. Tradition affirms that he was a devout, but determined man. They had :----

- 16. JOHN, 4 Rev. (Edmond, 3 Henry, 2 Henry1) was baptized January 4, 1614. He was a student in Immanuel College, Cambridge, but failed of graduation, owing to his puritanic views. He came to America in 1633; remained a short time in Watertown, Mass., whence he passed, 1635, to Wethersfield, Conn., where he was a magistrate. In 1640, he became one of the planters of Milford; was admitted to the church there, Nov. 20, 1640; chosen magistrate of the colony, May 27, 1641; dismissed from Milford, Nov. 8, 1647, and about the same date became pastor of the church in Watertown, where he continued till his death. He was one of the most learned men of his day, and an able and eloquent preacher.

He was twice married: 1st, to Abigail, by whom he had six children: 2d, to Mary Launce, a great-granddaughter of Thomas Darcy, Earl of Rivers, by whom he had twenty children. Cotton Mather says he had twenty-six children, but it is probable several died in infancy, as we have record of only twelve. The first five mentioned below, were children by his first wife :--- tigations. I have greatly increased the list, and will in due time give the result of my investigation. I was sorely perplexed in classifying the men. The imperfect lists did not give the residence of the men ; and even where the company to which the men belonged, could be ascertained, which was true of only a portion of them, the regiment to which that company was attached, was not stated. It was in many cases uncertain whether Captain A.'s company belonged to Massachusetts or to some other New-England State. It was as difficult to classify the officers as the soldiers.

While in this state of perplexity the librarian of the Massachusetts Historical Society kindly called my attention to a list of the commissioned officers in that expedition in the Belknap papers, which I have been permitted to copy. As this list is of considerable length, and will perhaps occupy as much space in the REGISTER as is desirable to devote to the subject in one number, I send this list of officers, and will reserve the lists of the soldiers for the next number.

EARLY PRINTING IN VIRGINIA.

[The following correspondence, printed from the originals in the possession of Miss Mary R. Crowninshield, seems to have been begun at the desire of Isaiah Thomas, Esq., who was then engaged upon his History of Printing in America, which was published the next year. In that work, vol. ii., pages 41-2, he makes these statements :--

"Lord Effingham, who was appointed governor in 1683, was ordered expressly, to allow no person to use a printing press on any occasion whatsoever." Although these instructions were given to lord Effingham, yet no act of the colonial government of Virginia can be found, after the strictest search by the greatest law characters in the state, which prohibits the use of the press. The influence of the governors was, undoubtedly, sufficient for the purpose without any legislative act."

ters in the state, which prohibits the use of the press. The influence of the governors was, undoubtedly, sufficient for the purpose without any legislative act." The expression, "the strictest search by the greatest law characters in the state," in this extract, no doubt refers to that detailed in this correspondence. We are indebted to Col. Thomas H. Ellis, formerly of Richmond, Va., now of Chicago, Ill., for the greater part of the material from which we have compiled the subjoined notes; also, to Thomas H. Wynne, Esq., and Alex. Q. Holladay, Esq., of Richmond, and Conway Robinson, Esq., of Washington, D. C., for assistance.—[ED. of N. E. Hist. and Gen. Register.]

WILLIAM W. HENING,1 Esq. TO HON. ST. GEORGE TUCKER.

DEAR SIR,

Richmond, 4th July, 1809.

Your favour of the 28th ult^o. was put into my hands this morning. —I will with pleasure, make the examination requested, and inform you of the result.—If a law ever did exist, in Virginia, prohibiting the printing of News Papers, it must have been, I presume, posterior to Purvis's collection of the laws: for at the period of the publication of that book, and for many years afterwards, no such thing as printing of any kind seems to have been contemplated in Virginia.

It is well known that Purvis was printed in London (supposed about the year 1682).—Ihave an abridgement of the Laws of Virginia printed in London also, in the year 1722; and another, purporting to be a second edition, printed in 1728; but, in truth, it is the same book, with only a new title page;—a species of typographical artifice, very common at that period, especially as it related to law-books of every kind.

My Statutes at Large have progressed, in the printing, as far as the March session 1657–8 and from the earliest period of our legislation to that date, I have discovered no law of the kind alluded to in the extractinserted in your letter.—I will immediately examine the intervening period

We have not been able to ascertain anything definite in regard to his ancestors, or early history, and it would seem that his great services to his native State have not secured for this memory the notice he deserved. He died 31 March, 1828, and probably in Richmond. A son, the Rev. Edmund Waller Hening of the Protestant Episcopal Church, was for some years a missionary in Africa.

The name Waller was probably the name of his mother. If so, he was perhaps descended, from John Waller, one of the first planters at Jamestown in 1607, or from Edmund Waller, who is said to have come over early in the 18th century. Mr. H. B. Grigsby, in his "Discourse on the Life and Character of the Hon. Littleton Waller Tazewell" (1860), supposes that this Edmund was a grandson of Edmund the poet. He is in error, however, in stating that this Edmund of Virginia was the first of the name in the colony. Early Printing in Virginia.

between 1658, and the commencement of Purvis, as well as the MSS. embraced in that book, and as low down as 1733 (when the first Revisal of our laws was printed in Virginia); and if any thing should occur which will throw any light on the subject to which your enquiries have been directed, I will communicate it to you.

I am respectfully, yrs,

WM. W. HENING.

> [Memo. by Judge Tucker.] St. G. Tucker to his friend Bishop Madison.¹

Having no recollection of any such law as that which the reverend M^{}. Bentley in his Letter to you, enquires after, I wrote to M^{}. Hening who has made the most ample collection of the Laws of Virginia, which he is now actually engaged in publishing, to make the same enquiries from him. The preceding Letter contains his answer, which you will do me the favor to transmit with my best respects to M^{*}. Bentley & Doctor Oliver.

BISHOP MADISON TO REV. DR. WILLIAM BENTLEY.

REV. & DEAR SIR,

July 12, 1809.

I transmit the Result of Judge Tucker's enquiries relative to the object of which you wished to be informed. I am sorry that no decisive answer has yet been obtained, but you will find, from Mr. Hening's Letter, that this cannot long be the Case. Mr. Hening's Diligence

In 1653, John Madison was settled on Chesapeake Bay. He was the father of John, the father of Ambrose, who was the father of James, the father of Pres. James Madison. The family planted itself on the shores of Chesapeake Bay, but gradually extended its branches through Virginia to the waters of Mississippi, and several of its members were pioneers of the tide of frontier life and adventure in that direction. See Letter of John Madison, under date of 1753, in Rives's Madison. From the writer of that letter, who was first cousin of Pres. Madison's father, sprang Bishop Madison; Col. George Madison, distinguished in the war of 1812, and governor of Kentucky, and other eminent men of that name.

The bishop was educated at the College of William and Mary, where he distinguished himself as a scholar; elected professor of mathematics in 1773; admitted to orders in the church by the bishop of London in 1775; president of William and Mary from 1777 to 1812; consecrated bishop by the archbishop of Canterbury, assisted by the bishops of London and Rochester, 19 Sept., 1790.

Bishop Madison's studies in mathematics, moral philosophy and natural history were extensive. His published writings are not numerous. Among them is a sermon on the death of Gen. Washington; an elegy on John Madison, 22 Sept., 1809, and a prayer composed (in 1807) for the celebration of the two hundredth anniversary of the settlement of Jamestown. He prepared a map of Virginia, of which a few copies are extant. The Richmond Enquirer contains also a communication from him about a manmoth, 14 July, 1809, and one on meteroic stones, 13 Dec., 1810. The same paper contains his obituary, under date of 13 March, 1812, and that of his widow, Mrs. Sarah Madison, under date of 26 Aug., 1815. The degree of doctor in divinity was conferred upon him in 1785, by the University of Pennsylvania.

One of the bishop's daughters, perhaps his only daughter, married the late Robert G. Scott, an eminent criminal lawyer of Richmond, who was some years consul of the United States at Rio de Janeiro—and was succeeded in the same office by his son Robert G. Scott, Jr.; another of Mr. Scott's sons, Charles L., was a representative in congress from California; a daughter married Edwin Harvie Chamberlayne, chief clerk in the office of the James River and Kanawha Company, at Richmond. one hundred years ago, and covering four pages of letter-paper; also, two bound volumes of her Vermont Gazetteer. Miss Hemenway was elected an honorary member of the society.

On motion of Hon. Hiland Hall, it was voted that the Rev. William H. Lord, D.D., president of the society, be invited to prepare a paper on the "Haldimand papers," to be read at the next meeting of the society. On motion of the Hon. E. P. Walton, it was voted that Henry Swan Dana, of

On motion of the Ilon. E. P. Walton, it was voted that Henry Swan Dana, of Woodstock, be invited to prepare a paper on the origin of the names of the counties and towns in Vermont.

On motion of Henry Clark, it was voted that the Hon. James Barrett, of Woodstock, be invited to prepare a paper on the Life and Services of the late Hon. Loyal C. Kellogg, of Benson.

On motion of Henry Clark, it was voted that the next annual meeting be held in Rutland, on the second Tuesday in October, 1873 (provided that no session of the legislature is convened).

legislature is convened). On motion of the Hon. Julius Converse, the society adjourned to meet in the Representatives' Hall, at 2 o'clock, P.M., to listen to the annual address by the Hon. Lucus E. Chittenden, of New-York.

EVENING.—The society met in the hall of the house of representatives, where also assembled a large audience of ladies and gentlemen.

After prayer by the Rev. Alfred Stevens, of Westminster, the Rev. William II. Lord, D.D., president of the society, in a happy and pertinent manner introduced the Hon. Lucius E. Chittenden, of New-York, who proceeded to answer the question, "who took Ticonderoga?"

It was a most interesting and thoroughly prepared review or résumé of the operations and events which culminated in the capture of Tieonderoga by Ethan Allen: without doubt, in the main, the most accurate presentation of the history of its capture that has ever been made, as Mr. Chittenden had omitted no research for facts bearing upon the subject. It had the close and gratified attention of the audience for nearly two hours.

At the conclusion of the address, Henry Clark offered the following resolution, which was adopted :

Resolved, That the thanks of the Vermont Historical Society are eminently due to the Hon. L. E. Chittenden for the repeated pleasure he has afforded them in listening to his able and eloquent defence of Vermont's great hero, Ethan Allen.

THE AMERICAN ANTIQUARIAN SOCIETY.

The annual meeting (the sixtieth) of this society was held at their hall, in the eity of Worcester, Mass., on Monday, the 21st of October, 1872, at 11 o'clock, the Hon. Stephen Salisbury the president in the chair.

The report of the council embodied a history of the doings of the society during the preceding half year, in which was given a most satisfactory exhibit of the substantial prosperity and usefulness of the society, as evinced in its financial condition, the rapid increase of its library and other collections, and the constant use made of its books by authors of volumes and other public writers. Among their own members, several have given valuable productions to the public, of which the "History of the Rise of the Republic of the United States," by the Hon. Richard Frothingham, is specially to be commended. The society has caused to be put in type about one half of the new and enlarged edition of "The History of Printing" by Isaiah Thomas, the founder of the society. That will be one of the most important works ever printed in this country.

The report of the treasurer, Mr. Nathaniel Paine, showed the state of the several funds of the society to be as follows :

| Librarian's and Gen. Fund, $ | 28,958 | 99 | Isaac Davis Fund, | $679 12 |
|-------------------------------|--------|----|----------------------|-----------|
| Collection and Research Fund, | 14,157 | 68 | Lincoln Legacy Fund, | 1,152 20 |
| Bookbinding Fund, | 10,167 | 84 | | |
| Publishing Fund, | 10,123 | 77 | Total, S | 75,845 23 |
| Salisbury Building Fund, | 10,606 | 23 | | |

The librarian, Mr. Samuel F. Haven, reported that during the last six months the library had received by gift, 317 books, 2,941 pamphlets, 4 volumes of newspapers, and 111 unbound newspapers, besides a small addition by purchase and exchange.

The Hon. Stephen Salisbury, of Worcester (who presented an interesting paper upon "The Star-Spangled Banner and National Airs"), was re-elected president of the society, with the following named officers as assistants: Vice Presidents-The Hon. Benj. F. Thomas, LL.D., of Boston, and Mr. James Lenox, of New-York.

Council—The Hon. Isaac Davis, LL.D., Worcester; the Hon. N. B. Shurtleff, M.D., Boston; Mr. Samuel F. Haven, Worcester; the Rev. Edw. E. Hale, Boston; Joseph Sargent, M.D., Worcester; Charles Deane, LL.D., Cambridge; the Rev. Seth Sweetser, D.D., Worcester; the Hon. Richard Frothingham, LL.D., Charlestown; the Hon. Henry Chapin, Worcester; the Hon. J. Hammond Trumbull, LL.D., Hartford.

Secretary of Foreign Correspondence-The Hon. Chas. Summer, LL.D., Boston. Secretary of Domestic Correspondence-The Hon. Emory Washburn, LL.D., Cambridge.

Recording Secretary-Col. John D. Washburn, Worcester.

Treasurer-Mr. Nathaniel Paine.

Committee of Publication-Mr. Samuel F. Haven, Worcester; the Rev. Edward E. Hale, Boston; Charles Deane, LL.D., Cambridge.

Auditors-The Hon. Isaac Davis, LL.D., Worcester; the Hon. Ebenezer Torry, Fitchburg.

The president called attention to the fact that the inscription on the tomb of John Smith, in St. Sepulchre's Church, London, was becoming obliterated, and it was proposed that a mural tablet, with the old inscription, should be placed in that church, at the expense of the members of the society. The matter was referred to the Hon. Geo. F. Hoar and Mr. S. F. Haven, with power to act.

After the reading of Mr. Salisbury's interesting paper and the presentation of some curious communications, autographs, &c., by members of the society, and remarks thereon, the society adjourned.

NEW-HAVEN COLONY HISTORICAL SOCIETY.

The public meetings of this society are four in number, and are held for the year 1872-3, on the second Monday of December, January, February and March. • At the annual meeting held at the society's rooms on Monday evening Nov. 25.

1872, the following gentlemen were elected officers for the ensuing year : President-Henry White.

Vice-President—The Rev. E. E. Beardsley. Treasurer—Nathan Peck. Sccretary—Franklin B. Dexter. And an advisory committee of eight directors.

THE NEW-LONDON COUNTY (CONN.) HISTORICAL SOCIETY.

The annual meeting of the society was held in New-London, Monday, Nov. 25th. The reports of the secretary and treasurer were read, which showed the society to be in an excellent condition financially. Quite a number of donations had been received during the year from different individuals. The following officers were elected :

President-La Fayette S. Foster.

Vice-Presidents-Charles J. McCurdy, Ashbel Woodward, Francis B. Loomis.

Advisory Committee-Thomas P. Field, Hiram P. Arms, Henry P. Haven, William H. Potter, John T. Wait, George W. Goddard, Henry J. Gallup, J. George Harris, Richard A. Wheeler, Thomas Shipman, James Griswold, John W. Stedman, Daniel Lee, Hiram Willey, Leydard Bill, George Pratt, Ralph Wheeler.

Secretary-John P. C. Mather.

Treasurer-William H. Rowe.

Geo. Pratt then delivered the annual address, on "The Privateers of the Revolution," which was listened to with great interest by those present. He commenced by alluding to the first naval conflict of the Revolution, and to the seizure of the brig Nancy, in July, 1775, by Capt. Robert Niles, of Norwich. Capt. Niles was placed in command of the first commissioned armed vessel, the Spy, of Norwich ; though the first armed vessel taken by Connecticut, if not the first taken in the war, was the 20 gun vessel taken on the lake by the Ticonderoga expedition, to the command of which, with the rest of the flect on the lake, Jeremiah Halsey, of Preston, grandfather of Jeremiah Halsey, of Norwich, was appointed. Mr. Pratt then detailed the connection of Thomas Mumford of Groton with the

Vol. XXVII.

The efforts of Silas Deane and others before the first continental congress to get the naval station fixed at New-London were alluded to, and it was shown that the first armed vessels of congress were there equipped. The correspondence of Mr. Mumford with the West Indics, his directions to his captains, the prize lists and shipping papers of the privateers were read to illustrate the manner and extent of the business, and with a general summary of the deeds of the county in the Revolution the address closed.

The thanks of the society were voted to Mr. Pratt for his address, and a copy of it was requested for publication.

The seal adopted by the society, the device of which was reported by Ledvard Bill, has a representation of the Thames river from the western bank, a wharf and schooner in the foreground, Groton monument rising on the opposite bank, and a canoe with two Indians crossing the stream.

NEW-ENGLAND SOCIETY OF NEW-YORK.

The New-England Society held an annual meeting on the evening of Dec. 13, 1872. The annual report was submitted by President Cowdin. It strongly recommends the project of an erection of a permanent building commensurate with the importance of such an institution. The report of the finance committee shows that the assets were $37,800, while the records of the year show larger receipts, larger membership and a larger permanent fund than ever before. The charity committee report that they have visited 313 persons at a cost of $266.72.

The following-named officers were elected for the ensuing year :

President-Eliot C. Cowdin.

First Vice-President-Isaac II. Bailey.

Second Vice-President-Col. William Borden.

Treasurer—Luther B. Wyman. Secretary—L. P. Hubbard. A committee was appointed to report resolutions expressive of the loss of the society in the death of Horace Greeley.

The first of these pamphlets contains many valuable documents upon the subjects indicated in the title. The principal report in the second pamphlet is that of the Hon. Silas N. Martin, mayor of Wilmington, 1871-2. It shows with great clearness the financial, industrial and sanitary condition of the metropolis of North Carolina, a state whose prospects are most cheering, and which is destined to make great advances in material prosperity in the next quarter of a century. The first pam-phlet is anonymous, but we presume that Mr. Martin, to whom we are indebted for copies of both pamphlets, is the compiler. J. W. D.

The Bristol County Directory and History for 1872: containing a Classified List of Professions, Trades and Mercantile Pursuits, arranged Alphabetically for each City and Town; also containing Historical and Descriptive Sketches, with a Register of Societies, Town Officers, etc., and a Full List of the Manufacturing Companies and Corporations in the County of Bristol, Massachusetts. Compiled, Printed and Published by DEAN DUDLEY, No. 8 Congress Square. Boston: 1872. 8vo. pp. 240, 88.

Brief Sketches of Freetown, Fall River and Fairhaven. By EBENEZER WEAVER PEIRCE. Boston: Printed for the Author, by Dean Dudley. 1872. 8vo. pp. 26.

The present issue of the Bristol County Directory contains, besides a business directory, a greater amount of historical matter relative to that county than any other publication that we can call to mind, much of which has never before appeared in print. There are historical sketches of each of the nineteen cities and towns, some of which are quite lengthy. Eight of these sketches have been contributed by Gen. Peirce, of Freetown, namely, the three reprinted in the pauphlet whose title is given above, and those of Acushnet, Dighton, Somerset, Swansea and Westport. The sketches of the other towns, namely, Attleborough, Berkley, Dartmouth, Easton, Mansfield, New-Bedford, Norton, Raynham, Rehoboth, Seekonk and Taunton, have been furnished by the Rev. Enoch Sanford, the Hon. John Daggett, the Rev. Mortimer Blake, D.D., and Jonathan Chaffin, Esq., or compiled from authentic sources by the editor. Mr. Dudley announces that the book will be reproduced with great improvements and entirely new matter in two or three years. He deserves great praise for the pains he has taken to preserve the local history of the places of which he publishes directories.

A small edition of the pamphlet by Gen. Peirce has been reprinted, for private distribution, with the type set for the directory. J. W. D.

Obituary Record of Graduates of Yale College deceased during the Academical Year ending in July, 1872, including the Record of a few who died a short time previous, hitherto unreported (presented at the Meeting of the Alumni July 10th, 1872). No. 2 of the Second Printed Series and No. 31 of the whole Record. [New-Haven, Conn.: 1872.] 8vo. pp. 30.

The first number of the Record, printed in 1860, was noticed at the time of its appearance (REGISTER, vol. xiv. 375). Since then one volume of 389 pages (1860-70) has been completed, and two numbers of a second issued. We believe this College was the first to prepare annual obituaries of deceased graduates, and the first also to issue them in pamphlet form. The biographical sketches must have cost a great deal of labor, as most of them are very complete as to facts and dates. J. W. D.

The author entitles the first of these pamphlets : "A Sermon of Comfort for all who who were made Mourners by the Terrible Disaster at Revere, Saturday Evening, Aug. 26, 1871, with special mention of the late Dr. Ezra S. Gannett." He has words of cheer and sympathy for the mourners, and truthfully sketches the mental portrait of his revered friend Dr. Gannett.

John Baldwin, of Stonington, and other John Baldwins. [April, 152

5. John Baldwin, oldest child of Nathaniel. In 1663, he married Hannah Osborne. In 1667, he settled in Newark, where he was known as John Baldwin, Junior. He was born previous to the year 1644, for, in that year, he, and his brother Daniel who was the next younger child, were baptized at Milford. Probably he was born in Milford not earlier than 1640. I have an unverified report of a record which states that 1640 was the year of his birth.

This account of the John Baldwins of Milford is the result of a very careful study of the records, aided by correspondence with that intelligent genealogist, Samuel H. Congar, Esq., librarian of the New-Jersey Historical Society. Mr. Savage, Miss Calkins, and others, have stated that John Baldwin, Senior, left Milford and settled in Newark; but this is a mistake. He was a constant resident of Milford, from the beginning of the settlement to the end of his life; and the probate records show that he died there.

The same writers have given currency to another inaccurate statement, namely, that Mary (or Marie) Bruen, who, in 1653, became his second wife, was a daughter of Obadiah Bruen, of New London, and thus a sister of his son John's wife, Hannah. It is manifest that they did not examine the Milford records for themselves; for these records state, in so many words, that the second wife of John Baldwin, Senior, of that town, was "Marie Brewen, daughter of John Bruen, of Pequot." This, of course, does not mean that John Bruen, father of Obadiah and Marie, was "of Pequot" (or New London), for he did not come to America, and was not living in 1653. It means that Marie was "of Pequot," where she was living in the family of her brother.

John Bruen was of Bruen Stapleford, Cheshire, Eng.; he died in 1625. The English records show that he had three wives ; that his first child was born in 1585; that Obadiah, born in December, 1606, was a son of his second wife, probably her oldest child; and that Marie was the only living child of his third wife. She was born when he was about 60 years old, and must have been over thirty years old at the time of her marriage. There is a notice of John Bruen and his family, in "Ormrod's Cheshire," which can be found in the Astor Library, New-York, and probably in some other American libraries.

Mr. Savage goes so far and so wildly astray as to make John Baldwin, Senior, of Milford, a son of Sylvester. I know that the most careful investigation cannot be sure of perfect accuracy; but, such mistakes as these should not occur. Mr. Congar encountered them, in preparing his " Genealogical Notices of the First Settlers of Newark;" but he found them so readily exposed by the records, that it was not easy to understand how they could be possible in any serious investigation. In his view, the records make nothing more certain than, that the Milford John Baldwin, Senior, never removed from that town, and that his second wife was, not a daughter, but a sister of Obadiah Bruen. On the latter point, he says in a letter to me: "The record in the old town book of Milford (which I have seen again and again), says that John Baldwin, Senior, married 'Marie Bruen, daughter of John Bruen, of Pequot." This record can be found so easily in that old town book, that I do not see how it can escape the attention of any body who examines the book with a view to the Baldwin genealogy.

he removed to Middleboro', and in 1692 purchased a farm of William Nelson and there built a house. The farm has been the residence of some of his family ever since. My father, my grandfather, my great-grandfather, my great-great-grand-father were all brought up on that farm, and it is still owned by Jacob Bennett, one of John Bennett's descendants. I have slept several nights in the very house, but it is now taken down.

The letter is addressed to "John Spread," with no designation of his place of resis-dence. It is dated from "London the 20th 7th no. 1681." After speaking of the character of New-England merchants, Claypoole says: "I am earnestly desired by a friend of mine in Worcestershire to make Inquiry for one Wm. Notes and Queries.

STONE, ELIAS, of Charlestown [REGISTER, XXVIII] .- I am now able to answer, in part, my own query, made in the last number of the REGISTER. Elias Stone mar. May 10, 1686, Abigail Long, and their relationship to Deacon Wm. Stitson is thus made clear. She was dau. of Mr. John Long (who succeeded his father, Mr. Robt. Long, as keeper of the Great Ordinary in Charlestown) by his first wife, Abigail, dau. of Capt. Francis and Mrs. Mary Norton. Capt. Norton died July 27, 1667, and his widow was married, Aug. 22, 1670, to Deacon Stitson. I find by the will of Mr. Long, and the superscription on the will of his son, John, that young Abigail Long (b. Nov. 15, '68.) was brought up by her grandmother Stitson, which sufficiently explains why she and her husband, Stone, received a life-estate in the bulk of Deac. Stitson's property, which on their deaths was to go to their children; especially as I find, on reference to deeds, most of this property had formerly belonged to her grandfather, Capt. Norton.

The names of her children who were living in 1732 were Elias, John, Thomas, Robert, Richard, Sarah, Abigail, Mary, Elizabeth, Hannah and Rebecca. Of these Sarah mar. Benj. Wheeler, Abigail mar. Benj. Waters, (son of Stephen and Sarah (Carter) Waters, and gr. son of Lawrence and Anna (Linton) Waters) ; Mary mar. John Sherman, Elizabeth mar. Robert Hussey, and Rebecca mar. Philip Carteret. I am inclined to think that Elias Stone, jr. (b. June 19, 1687), mar. Abigail, dau. of Jacob Waters (by his wife Sarah, dau. of Daniel Hudson of Lancaster); for I find their names attached to a receipt from Adam Waters of her portion of her father Jacob's estate, Sept. 14, 1719. HENRY F. WATERS.

HOPE HOOD'S POINT .- In the REGISTER for 1866, page 373, I called attention to the interesting facts that a point of land on the north side of the "Three Creeks," abutting on Back River, in Dover, N.H., bore the significant name of "Hope Hood's Point," and that local tradition assigned to this place the death and burial of the famous Indian Chief, Hope Hood, son of Robin Hood. The discovery of record evidence that this was the current name of this point of land as early as 1701, was the immediate occasion of that communication. Recently I have discovered an ancient record, wherein it appears that it bore this name in 1694, seven years earlier, and only five years after the death of Hope Hood.

While history indicates that this Indian warrior was killed in 1690, at some indefinite place to the westward of this, still he must be allowed to have some connection with this locality. His name affixed so early to this spot, and this tradition, for several generations, in this neighborhood, are weighty matters. His bloody deeds in Kittery and Newington, both near by, the same year he met his own fate, show that he was no stranger in this region. He may have been a dweller here in times waters of the great Piscataqua river. It was granted to my great ancestor, John Tuttle, in 1642, and it has been ever since in the possession of the family. When I was a lad, I often visited this spot, partly on account of its romantic beauty, and the thrilling story told of it, but more, perhaps, for the wild grape which grew in profusion on the sunny banks of the creek. Old people then used to relate that the "memorable tygre, Hope Hood," as Mather expressively styles him, was here killed and buried. Some affirmed that the groans of the old warrior had been heard on divers occasions. A hollow place surrounded with a ridge of earth, all overgrown with forest trees, used to suggest to me an artificial excavation, which I associated with the grave of Hope Hood. Not long ago an aged and intelligent woman told me that when she was a young girl living at her father's house, which was within a mile of this Point, there came one day several persons with picks and shovels, and a woman on horseback bearing a hazel wand, and going as they said to Hope Hood's Point to dig for treasure at the grave of the old Indian. This was about seventy-five years ago. What they found no one ever heard, but the monument of their hopeful labors may be seen to this day. C. W. TUTTLE.

ROGERS, WILLIAM.-Information is desired concerning a William Rogers, who, with wife Ann and a large family of children, resided, 1644-52, in Southampton, L. I., and afterward removed to Huntington, L. I., where he died. His descendants are numerous on Long Island and in Connecticut. I wish to ascertain at what time he came to this country, his first place of residence here, and his native place in England.

ceeded to Paris, and thence to Lyons, and with his information purchased his stock to great advantage. He was highly respected abroad, and his shrewdness, as a buyer, was appreciated at home.

In 1834, he separated from the firm of George Howo & Co., and taking Mr. James R. Walker for a partner, established the firm of N. Whiting & Co. After the dissolution of this firm, he embarked his capital in banking and real estate, in both of Which he was very successful. He left a wife and four children, two sons and two daughters. Mr. Whiting was admitted a member of this society, April 20, 1853.

CHARLES STEPHEN LYNCH was born in Boston, Oct. 8, 1825. He was the son of Stephen and Rebecca Lynch; his clucation was obtained at the Franklin school, where so many noble men have been thoroughly trained. Here he remained till he was 16 years old, when he entered the employ of Messrs. Horace Gray & Co., iron manufacturers, where he served his time, and without doubt manifested all those traits of integrity and ability that were the marked characteristics of his useful but brief life.

On the discontinuance of the business of Messrs. Gray & Co., he was for some years retained by the assignees of the firm for the settling up of the concern. So ably did he manage this critical and delicate position, and so thoroughly did he gain the confidence of those who the most closely watched his doings, that he was soon made a member of the business firm of Messrs. William E. Cofin & Co., of Boston, and for ten years, till his sudden death, filled this position to the great satisfaction and honor of all concerned.

In 1852, Mr. Lynch became a teacher in the Hollis Street sunday school, of which he afterward became the honored and trusted superintendent. There he was punetual, earnest, devout, loving, and true. Every one always knew where to find him, and every week his presence shed upon those under his charge a gracious benediction.

Mr. Lynch was married to his first wife, Miss Susan Keyes Lock, of Boston, by the Rev. Thomas Starr King, Feb. 16, 1854. Mrs. Lynch died Feb. 5, 1855, leaving no children. Mr. Lynch was again married, April 4, 1861, by the Rev. John Pier-pont, to Miss Lavinia Fiske, of Lexington, Mass. By this union they had three children : Susie Keyes, born Feb. 19, 1863, and died Sept. 20, 1866; Edith Rebecca, born Feb. 23, 1867; Carrie Vinia, born March 27, 1872.

Mr. Lynch died April 5, 1873, at his house in ward 16, and his funeral took place at the Hollis Street church, April 8, 1873, under the charge of the Rev. Mr. Mumford and the Rev. Mr. Chaney. He was interred at Mount Auburn the same day.

His character can be fully described in a few words : ho was honest and active, a man of principle, and a man of prayer: a bright light amongst the people, a thoroughly good, upright and sterling (bristian disciple. He was made a member of this society, July 9, 1860.

Prepared by THOMAS F. RICHARDSON, A.M., of Boston.

THOMAS RICHARDSON died on the 16th of December, 1872, at the age of 71 years. This generation knew little of him as a merchant, yet his energy, industry and success entitle his name to be classed with those who are respected and honored in Boston and elsewhere.

He was born in Billerica, Massachusetts, August 31, 1796. His mother was Judith Kendall. His father, Thomas, born in 1747, was a son of Jonathan, who was a son of Thomas, born in Woburn in 1675, and he was a son of Thomas Richardson, who came from England and was recorded, in 1638, as a freeman of Charlestown.

The subject of this sketch was reared in a comfortable home, received a village school education, and thenceforth conducted his own fortunes. In 1817, he went to Mobile, Alabama, where he formed a partnership in the commission business with

Mobile, Alabama, where he formed a partnership in the commission business with Mr. Thomas Blake. They were moderately successful. Mr. Richardson was an alderman of that city in the years 1821 and 1822. He returned to Boston in 1828, and here married Olivia, the eldest daughter of Cyrus Alger, the iron founder. Having given up his business in Mobile, in consequence of this marriage, he established an iron-foundry in Boston. His enterprise and energy soon put it in such condition as to touch the interests of the older concern, so that the result was the merging of the two into the "Alger Foundry." Soon afterward, he withdrew from the iron business. He then engaged in various enterprises, and particularly in the Mediterranean trade.

He took a lively interest in the public affairs of South Boston, where he resided for some years, and exerted himself to promote its prosperity. In 1835, and in 1836, he was a representative to the general court, and an alderman of the city in 1837, and in 1838. He carefully investigated all projects for the improvement of the inner harbor of Boston, was familiar with the plans or charts of the same, understood the bearings of proposed operations there, and was often consulted in regard to the same.

In 1835-6, he purchased the real estate known as the "Summer Street" and the "Bull" wharves, with the flats or dock intervening, all which he owned at the time of his death. A litigation, between the city of Boston and Mr. Richardson, regarding this property, began in 1848, and was not settled till May, 1872, when the city abandoned its claim to the title, and Mr. Richardson conceded to the city a right of drainage, through a strip of the dock, under the premises now occupied by the Boston, Hartford and Eric Railroad company.

Mr. Richardson was an independent thinker, and a close observer. His personal bearing was courtcous and kind. He was self-sacrificing, hospitable and generous.

After his iron constitution was shattered with paralysis, and the time had come for him to loosen his hold upon the reins of business, he put them without reserve into other hands. For a short period only did he survive his wife, who had devotedly shared his various fortunes, and he hore the affliction with much submission. Through all the vicissitudes of his life, he illustrated his inherited motto, " E virtute origin honos."

Mr. Richardson became a resident member of this society, May 26, 1868.

JOSEPH LYMAN HENSHAW, the third child and second son of Samuel Henshaw and Eliza (Lyman) Henshaw, was born in Medford, Mass., on May 16, 1819. He was educated at Round Hill School, Northampton. Ilis first business connection was with the firm of George Howe & Co., of Boston. He afterward entered the banking house of his father, Samuel Henshaw, and eventually became a partner. On May 13, 1846, he married Jane Paine Bradlee, daughter of J. P. Bradleo. On the cessation of the house of Samuel Henshaw & Son, he began, on March 13, 1858, a brilliant business career as an auctioneer of stocks and bonds. His integrity, a brilliant business career as an auctioneer of stocks and bonds. His integrity, intelligence, urbanity, energy, and the thorough knowledge he evinced of the shift-ing values of the securities he sold, made him a general favorite and advisor. For years his large weekly sales were attended by a throng of capitalists, and did much to determine the real vale of stocks and bonds for investments. The sale of very large amounts of municipal bonds was entrusted to him, and the solid securities which passed under his hammer, "by order of executor," must have amounted to many millions. Mr. Henshaw was early connected with the military organizations of the city. He was captain of the New-England Guards from 1852 to 1857; com-mander of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company, from June, 1865, to June, 1866; and was also major of the first regiment of infantry. He represented Ward VI. in the Boston city council in the years 1858. 1860, and 1861; in 1862 and VI. in the Boston city council in the years 1858, 1860, and 1861.; in 1862 and 1863 he represented the same ward in the board of aldermen. He died of erysipelas, on July 8, 1873, and was buried at Mount Auburn on the 12th. The vigor, generosity and geneality of his nature made him in life a wide circle of business and personal friends, who showed, in many ways, how sincerely they mourned his death. He left four children : Elizabeth Lyman, Jeannie Bradlee, Samuel and Joseph Putnam Henshaw.

He was admitted a member of this society, Dec. 31, 1867. [From a manuscript pedigree by the late Prof. Charles Beck, LL.D., we learn that Mr. Henshaw was a descendant in the sixth generation from Josnua' HENSHAWwho came to New-England, and settled in Dorchester, where he married Elizabeth. daughter of William and Elizabeth (Clement) Sumner-through Samuel,² born Aug. 19, 1701, by wife Waitstill, daughter of Samuel Topliff; Samuel,³ born 1722, died 1778, by wife Submit (Woodward); Samuel,⁵ born Feb. 3, 1744, died March 11, 1809, by wife Martha (Hunt); and Samuel,⁵ his father, born April 22, 1789, died March, 3, 1803. ters of Cheselbourne have not been preserved, those now in existence dating only from 1644. Private memoranda, however, taken with the family to New England, supply important links in the genealogy. He resided at Cheselbourne, where on the 23d of November, 1616, he was appointed administrator to the estate of his brother John, also of Cheselbourne, and guardian to his children during their minority, one of whom, William, in an affidavit respecting the sequestration of lands in the time of the Commonwealth, speaks of his uncle in foreign parts.

In the year 1635, Mr. Arnold, with his family, left Dorsetshire and came to New England. After residing a short time at Hingham, in Massachusetts, he became associated in 1636 with Roger Williams and others in the purchase from the Indians of lands at Mooshausick, which was afterwards called Providence, of which colony Mr. Williams procured the first charter. The place which they selected for their settlement they called Providence, for certain reasons presented by Mr. Williams. The land was parcelled out among the associates, Mr. Arnold receiving large portions in Providence, and Pawtuxet and Warwick. He was held in much esteem, and filled various important offices of trust. The scanty records of Rhode Island afford very little information respecting him, not even the time of his death being known. The last mention of him in the colonial records of the proceedings of the General Court at Providence, March 9, 1658-9, states that he was lately robbed of property at Pawtuxet by the Indians. It is probable he died soon after. His wife was Christian, whose surname has not been preserved. Their children were :

1. Elizabeth, b. Nov. 23, 1611; m. to Thomas Hopkins.

2. Benedict, b. Dec. 3, 1615, the oldest son, removed to Newport in 1653, and was chosen Assistant to manage the affairs of the colony in the following year. In 1657 he succeeded Mr. Williams as Governor, and continued in that office till 1660. He was also Governor from 1662 to 1666, from 1669 to 1672, and from 1677 to 1678-in which last year he died. He was the wealthiest man in the colony, and by thorough acquaintance with the manners as well as the language of the Indians, he became the most efficient auxiliary in all negotiations with them. He died in 1678, having made his last will and testament on the 24th of December in the year preceding, to which he added a codicil on the 10th of the following February. He was prominent in public affairs, and filled important situations in the colony. He was chosen Deputy Governor in 1664, and Assistant in 1667. The exact date of his death is 15th November, 1699. His will, dated June 2, 1698, was proved Dec. 12, 1699. His wife, whom he married November 24, 1646, was Sarah, daughter of Edward Smith, of Rehoboth. Their children were :

1. Esther, b. Sept. 22, 1647; m. to ---- Hawkins.

2. Israel, b. Oct. 30, 1619, eldest son of Stephen Arnold, of Pawtuxet. He re-sided on the south part of the Arnold Purchase, in Pawtuxet, which his father gave him. He made his will on the 23d of March, 1716-17, and died on the 15th of the following September. His wife, whom he married April 18, 1677, was Mary, daughter of James Barber and widow of ---- Smith. THOMAS SHARP'S LETTER FROM ENGLAND, 1632.

Communicated by WILLIAM B. TRASK, Esq., of Boston.

THOMAS SHARP was one of the eighteen Assistants of the I. Massachusetts Company, who were chosen to that office, Oct. 20, 1629. Among them were Sir Richard Saltonstall, Mr. Isaac Johnson, Mr. John Endecott, Mr. John Humfry, which four gentlemen, with Mr. John Winthrop, were the same day put in nomination for the important position of Governor of the Company, preparatory to the government being transferred to New England. The Court "having received extraordinary great commendacons" of Mr. Winthrop, "both for his integritie and sufficiencie, as being one every way well fitted and accomplished for the place of Governor,' did with a general vote and a full consent, "by errecon of hands," choose him the Governor of said Company for "the ensuing year, to begin on this present day." Mr. Sharp was probably a passenger in the fleet with Gov. Winthrop. Two days after the formation at Charlestown of what is now the first church in Boston, he, with four others, joined it. This was on the first of August, 1630. Soon after, he was visited with a severe domestic affliction, which is thus

To the Archbishop of Canterbury.

Boston Decembr 11th 1682.

May it please your Grace.

When I was last to pay my Duty to y' Grace I did promise to give you an Account of ye Genius and Temper of ye People as to matters of Religion and I find not only in this Province, but also in the Massachusetts Government where I have had opportunity to make observations, that they are wholy averse to ye Discipline of ye Church of England the it hath been otherwise represented by Mr Mason, who hath brought over Common prayer Bookes from my Lord Bishop of London. So yt I can give no Incouragement to invite an Orthodox Divine to come hither, where both maintenance wilbe wanting and he would be otherwise uneasy. I am sorry y' I am able to give your Lordship no more pleasing an account concerning them but this is the truth of ye Matters so farre as I can Learn.

Col. Chester's Plan of Genealogical Research. Jan.

he would have done had he received sufficient encouragement to carry out his plan .- EDITOR.

Hitherto, investigations respecting the genealogy of the early settlers of New England have been pursued in an informal and desultory manner, and those more extensive and successful have chiefly been confined to special cases, each involving an amount of labor and expense that might have produced more general results. The MS. Pedigrees, preserved at the British Museum and other public institutions, are, doubtless, valuable so far as they go, but they are generally sadly deficient in dates and other local particulars, and therefore are oftentimes indistinct and unsatisfactory. The same uncertainty exists in the copies of Wills preserved at Doctors' Commons and elsewhere, records of Deeds and other conveyances, the information contained in which, although important, is never complete and decisive. The only sources from which reliable particulars can be derived are, unquestionably, the various Parish Registers throughout England, wherein were recorded the Baptisms (closely succeeding the Births) Marriages aud Burials of the entire population of the country.

I propose a careful, thorough and systematic examination of these registers-parish by parish and county by county-a labor which, if performed throughout England, would require much time and expense, and which could not be properly performed except by one imbued with a love of the pursuit, and also possessed of more than ordinary facilities for engaging in it. These records are not thrown open freely to the inspection of the public, and the regular, established fees that would have to be paid to their various custodians, were every parish in England thus inspected, would amount to an aggregate truly startling. Fortunately I should be able to overcome much of this difficulty. In the prosecution of certain literary labor during the past two years, I have made the acquaintance, either personally or by correspondence, of a very large proportion of the clergy of the Established Church, who would generally, I am persuaded, place the registers of their respective parishes at my disposal.

To examine all the parish registers of England would necessarily involve the labor of years. I propose, therefore, to commence with a single county, or rather, to take a circle, say fifty or sixty miles in diameter, embracing the northern portion of the county of Essex and the southern portion of Suffolk-within which limits is comprised the region from whence most of the early New England settlers emigrated-at least, those of the most importance. This section embraces from three to four hundred parishesalthough, owing to numerous unions, the registers of two or more parishes will be found deposited at present in one place.

I propose, being furnished with a list of surnames-say twenty, fifty, or even more-such as may be deemed of the most importance-to go carefully and patiently over every one of these registers, from the commencement down to as late as say 1650 (or even 1700), and extract every entry referring to one and all of those surnames-including baptisms, marriages and burials, with their respective dates-as well as any other entries in which those names may appear-and also to make the same careful examination of all the monumental inscriptions in the various churches and church-yardsfrom which additional items of great importance are often gleaned.

I propose also, when visiting these parishes, to ascertain if any families are still remaining bearing any of those surnames, and to acquire from them any information in their possession, either of a traditional character or to be derived from their family records-securing, if possible, any autograph letters, portraits, &c. &c., that may throw light upon the subjects of my investigation.

I have the best reasons for believing that a system thus carefully and earnestly pursued, cannot fail to result in the discovery of valuable additions not only to the genealogy, but to the personal history of the fathers of New England. The mass of materials thus acquired can afterwards be readily arranged in tabular form, or otherwise, as may seem best and most convenient for reference.

Having completed the examination of this particular district, the importance and value of the results can be safely tested-and it can then be determined whether the labor shall be pursued in other neighborhoods.

BELKNAP.-Samuel Belknap, of Massachusetts, in about the year 1747 purchased a large tract of land near Newburgh, the same being known as the "Baird Patent." Samuel had several brothers, to whom he afterwards sold portions of the patent. One of these brothers had a son Abel, who had, with other sons, Chauncey and Stephen.

Chauncey Belknap, better known as "General" Chauncey Belknap, had three sons, one of whom was named Rufus Richardson. He was born about 1798, and died in 1868, at about the age of 70. He was the oldest brother of my mother and the eldest child of General Chauncey Belknap. He is buried in the old town burying ground at Newburgh.

Stephen Belknap, brother of "Gen. Chauncey," also had a son named Rufus Richardson. He was not so old as his cousin by the same name, but was named for the cousin, and was always regarded as his name-sake. He resided in Brooklyn, and died there after the close of the war of the Rebellion. He is buried in either the old town burying ground at Newburgh, or at Gardnertown, in the town of Newburgh. Any one wishing fuller particulars regarding him can write to his nephew, "Hon. Chauncey F. Gardner, Superintendent, etc., New-EDWARD S. FOWLER. burgh, N. Y."

Rev. NATHANIEL ROGERS .- From "An abstract of the Metropolitical Visitation of the Most Reverend Father in God, William, by God's Providence Lord Archbishop of Canterbury his Grace, holden in the year of Our Lord 1635" [Report made by Sir Nathaniel Brent, Vicar General, to Archbishop Laud] Printed in the Calendar of State Papers (Domestic) 1635, p. xxxiii.-[Dom. Car. I. Vol. ccxciii. No. 128], the following item is extracted :

"St. Edmund's Bury, April 27, 28, 29, One Mr. Nathaniel Rogers, minister of Assington, is an absolute inconformitan. I am told he hath resigned his benefice, purposing to go into New England. However I have suspended him de facto, though, if he have resigned, the suspension will be but brutum FRANCES B. TROUP. fulmen."

QUERIES.

BIBLE FAMILY RECORDS.-How far back can the custom of recording births, marriages and deaths in family Bibles be traced ? The oldest English Bible in my possession is a London folio of 1690. It has the name of one of my ancestors with the date 1713. But this book had no blank pages between the Testaments for family records. Such pages were stiched in, in later generations.

When did those pages begin to be inserted by printers of Bibles? I have sought them in vain in many editions,-as in a quarto by his Majesty's printers, Edinburgh, 1795; the Halle Orphan House ed. of 1745; the Dutch Dordrecht ed. of 1769. One of the earliest editions which I have containing family record pages, is that of 1816, by Collins in New York.

It will be easy for some one in a Bible museum to state whether the Bible society, British or American, from the outset furnished opportunity for family records, and what edition was first to afford that genealogical help. Who can show the earliest Biblical records? How were family records kept before Bibles yielded any spaces for such chronicles ? JAMES D. BUTLER. Madison, Wis.

[An edition of the Holy Bible printed at Philadelphia in 1807, by Matthew Carey, contains printed leaves for family records, with borders, and headings for marriages, births and deaths. The Bartlett family Bible, printed in 1611, which is described in the REGISTER, Vol. 40, page 203, contains a record of births, etc., from 1610 to 1625, written on pages which had been left blank in the volume.-EDITOR.]

LAMB .- Who were the parents of Elizabeth, wife of Abial Lamb? He was born 1646; son of Thomas of Roxbury; was, perhaps, in Portsmouth in 1670. First child, Harbottle, baptized at Roxbury, February 28, 1674-5. Wife Elizabeth received to full communion in Roxbury Church, Dec. 3, 1676.

Dorothy Lamb of Framingham married Daniel Johnson of Marlboro', 23 Dec. 1697. Was she daughter of Abial and Elizabeth ?

Intention of marriage between John Atkins, resident of Falmouth, Me., and Ellinor Lamb, Dec. 22, 1758 .- REGISTER, vol. xiv. Who were the parents of "Ellinor" Lamb? FRANK B. LAMB. Westfield, N. Y.

NEWDIGATE .- Mr. Nathaniel and Sarah (Lynde) Newdigate, of Newport, R. I., had a daughter Isabella who married Thomas Mumford of Rhode Island, also sons Lewis and John. Did any son of theirs grow to manhood? If so, did he leave children? Did Mrs. Isabella (Newdigate) Mumford leave children? If so, are any of her descendants now living? This information is desired by Mr. and Mrs. Edward E. Salisbury, of New Haven, Conn., who have nearly completed a large and valuable work of family histories and genealogies.

EDMUND TOMPKINS of Woodbury, Conn., in 1735, had wife Hannah; children, Edmund, Else, Jerusha, Hannah, Susanna. In Woodbury, were born Elizabeth and Nathaniel. In 1739, he removed to Waterbury, where Elizabeth died, and Philip, Rachel and Mary were born, and where he died in 1783, in the 82d year of his age. Information wanted of his parentage and place of marriage. Also information concerning Edmund, son of Nathaniel of Eastchester, N. Y. Nathaniel died about 1733. Address, Post Office Box 243, Waterbury, Conn.

WHITMORE .- Can any of your readers tell in what year and in what place Peter Whitmore, father-in-law of Capt. Horatio Jones, was killed in Pennsylvania, and when and from what place did he migrate into Pennsylvania ? Jersey City, N. J. JOHN WHITMORE.

REPLIES.

BUTTERFIELD. Corrections .- The research of Mr. George Tolman, of Concord, kindly communicated, establishes the marriage of Joseph Butterfield (Joseph,² Benjamin¹), ante, p. 37, at Concord, 22 November, 1709, with Sarah³ Coburn (John2, Edward1).

By like courtesy, Col. J. W. Porter, of Baugor, informs us that Joseph's Butterfield (Reuben,4 Joseph, Joseph, 2 Benjamin1), ante, p. 42, died at Milford, Me., 15 May, 1847; and his wife Elizabeth, a daughter of Col. Ebenezer Bancroft, b. in Tyngsboro, 2 March, 1764, died in Milford, 15 July, 1859. An adopted son (John Buttterfield) occupies their homestead.

Col. Porter also communicates the date of the death of Jonathan⁴ Butterfield (Jonathan, 3 Jonathan, 2 Benjamin1), ante, p. 38, as 19 March, 1769; and of his wife, Rachel, 22 May, 1779. GEO. A. GCRDON. 34

HOLMES.—The following is the inscription on the monument in the village cemetery in Alfred. Me., in memory of the Hon. John Holmes, a distinguished statesman and one of the first United States Senators from Maine after its admission into the Union in 1820:

" In memory of [John Holmes,] Born in Kingston, Mass.,] March 28, 1773, | Died in Portland, Maine, | July 7, 1843. | Forty years a resident of Alfred. | A Representative in Congress | from Massachusetts | Chairman of the Committee | which drafted the Constitution | of Maine, and one of its first | United States Senators, | And to add greater honors to his age than | man could give him, he died fearing God."

On one side of the monument is the following inscription in memory of his amiable and greatly lamented wife :

"Mrs. Sally, | wife of | John Holmes | Died Dec. 6, 1835, | Ac 62 years. She lived the sincere friend | the faithful and affectionate | wife and mother, the professed and practical [Christian,] Her death was calm and serene] Her hope sure and steadfast."

Mr. Holmes married second, Mrs. Caroline F. Swan, youngest daughter of Major-General Henry Knox of Thomaston, Me., greatly distinguished during the Revolutionary war and as member of President Washington's cabinet. Mrs. Holmes died at the Knox mansion in Thomaston in October, 1851.

Alfred, Maine.

DWIGHT.-On page 457, vol. 1, of the "Descendants of John Dwight of Dedham, Mass., by Benj, W. Dwight," there appears the following erroneous statement:

John Dwight m. Jan. 31, 1811, Naney Shaw Everett, b. June 17, 1817 (adopted dau, of Hon, Melatiah Everett of Wrentham, Mass., and Fanny Shepard).

It should be: John Dwight m. Jan. 13, 1811, Naney Shaw Everett, b. June 17, 1817 (adopted dan, of Hon, Melatiah Everet) of Wrentham Mass., and dau. of his brother Metcalf Everett and Fanny Shepard). M. E. Dwight. Pluinfield, N. J.

QUERIES.

CARWITHEN, CARWITHY .-- Examination of the REGISTER has yielded the following facts:

John Cogan of Boston appointed Nicholas Carwithye, citizen and grocer of Exeter (England) his attorney to collect a debt and legacies. This was between 1638 and 1641 (xi, 270).

Mention occurs of Samuel Carwithen of Salem, anno 1651 (vii. 335).

Joshua Carwithy married Elizabeth daughter of John Farnam at Boston 6: 6: 1657 (xi, 204); they had a daughter Elizabeth born at Boston, June 6, 1659 (xiii-220); Joshua was a "mariner" and died prior to September 1, 1663. Ilis widow married Edmund Mumford (xiii, 154-5).

Mention occurs of Digory Carwithy, master of the "New England Marchant of London" (xxxvii, 395) and of Digorey Carwithen, master of the "Nue England Merchant" May 6, 1653 (XXXI, 375); and the death of Dickery Carwithen, shipmaster, at Boston, 6: 7: 1653, is recorded (x. 72).

David Carwithen married "Francis Oldam, Widdow" at Boston, September 22, 1660 (xix, 168).

David, son of David Carwithen and Francis his wife, was born at Boston, June 1, 1661 (xv. 351).

David Carwithin, born March 3, 1688 9, died about 1713, married April 6, 1710, Mary daughter of Thomas Deane of Boston (ix, 93). Mary afterwards married Wadl, (Wadleigh?) and died June 9, 1736 (xxxi, 429; xxxvii, 288).

The records of Christ Church, Phila lephia, show that on January 16, 1731-32. William West married Abigail Carwithen (8 Pa. Arch. (2d series) 42, 271). I have seen no other mention of the name Carwithen in Pennsylvania, and shall be obliged for information connecting Abigail Carwithen with the New England family, or for further particulars as to that family.

of Duxbury, in the Colony of New Plymouth, relict of Richard Parke, late of Camb. Village."* I find no record of her after March 2, 1679-80. On that date she was presented at court in Plymouth Colony on a charge preferred by William Paybody: "somtime in October last, [she] did pull vp and deface the bound markes of the said Paybodyes land, and made claime to the said lande."†

Children:

- i. SARAH,3 m. about 1656, Benjamin Bartlett, son of Robert and Mary (Warren) Bartlett. (For children, see Histories of Duxbury and Plymouth.)
- ii. NATHANIEL, was called " eldest sonn and heire apparent" in the will of his father. Little is known about him. He lived in Duxbury and died in 1676. His nuncupative will, made in the presence of Benjamin Bartlett, who visited him during his last sickness, was proved Nov. 2 of that year. That he had a wife is shown by the following quotation from his will: "If it should please God to take mee away (after my debts be payed) I will Giue all that I have to my wife; this land heer is none of mine, to dispose of; Butt there is some att the falls that she shall haue." The land which Nathaniel mentions as not at his disposal was probably that formerly owned by his father. By the latter's will, his widow Sarah was to have a life interest in this land, which after her death was to be Nathaniel's, and if he died without issue it was to pass to the second son. Nathaniel apparently had no children. Robert Vixen of Eastham was appointed, Nov. 1, 1676, administrator of his estate, which consisted chiefly of articles for household use. A Robert Hicksont of Eastham married Sept. 26, 1679, Sarah Brewster, who was probably Nathaniel's widow.

SALTONSTALL-GURDON-SEDLEY-KNYVET.

ALL New England genealogists are familiar with that line in the Saltonstall pedigree which says that Richard Saltonstall the younger married Muriel (sometimes Meriell), daughter of Brampton Gurdon and Muriel Sedley his wife.

The parents of Muriel Sedley are frequently given as Martin Sedley and Abigail, daughter of Sir Thomas Knyvet of Ashwellthorpe. See, for instance, Muskett's "Suffolk Manorial Families" (top of page 288, in pedigree of Gurdon of Letton). But Sir Thomas Knyvet's daughter Abigail married, 17 December, 1600, Edmund Mundeford, Esq., as shown by the Ashwellthorpe registers, quoted by Blomefield, "History of Norfolk" [vol. 5, pp. 154, 163].

Saltonstall-Gurdon-Sedley-Knyvet.

In a curious memorandum of the second Brampton Gurdon (Colonel of Horse, ob. 1661) occur these statements:

"Abigall Knevet, daughter of Tho: Knevet of Ashwellthorpe Esq married Martin Sedley of Morley Esq 2 wiffe.

Sir Thomas Knevet his eldest son had two sons, Sir Tho: and Edmund & of daughters Abigall married Sir Edmund Munford."

Burke's "Landed Gentry" simply says that Martin Sedley married the daughter of John Knyvet of Ashwellthorpe.

Of these three affiliations. Sir Thomas, Thomas Esq., and John, the last appears to be correct, as shown by an entry in Farrer's "Church Heraldry of Norfolk" [vol. 1, page 211]:

"On a Brass in the South Wall of Church at Wacton a bend within a bordure engrailed (Knyvett) with a crescent for difference.

For Abigail Sedley, daughter of John Knyvett of Ashwellthorpe and widow of Martin Sedley who died December 15, 1623."

It may be supposed that Col. Brampton Gurdon, writing of a man who had died many years before he was born, inadvertently transferred to John Knyvet the name of Thomas, which had been extremely common in that very distinguished family ever since Sir Thomas Knyvet, Lord Chancellor, temp. Edward III.

John Knyvet, who died before his mother, Joan, Lady Berners (ob. 1561), lived at Plumstead, and very possibly the birth and marriage of his daughter are recorded there.

There had been a certain probability in the affiliation of Abigail (Knyvet) Sedley to Sir Thomas Knyvet, as his wife was Muriel (or Meriell) Parry, which name appears as that of Martin Sedley's daughter. But the name Muriel existed in the family of Howard, Duke of Norfolk, who had married Elizabeth Tilney, the heiress of Ashwellthorpe, widow of Sir Humphrey Bourchier and mother of Joan, Lady Berners. To his daughter by this lady the duke gave the name of Muriel; she married Sir Thomas Knevet of Bokenham or Buckenham, the head of the family of which a cadet married Joan Bourchier, Lady Berners, his posterity succeeding to the estate of Ashwellthorpe. Sir Humphrey Bourchier's mother was Catherine, daughter of John Howard, first Duke of Norfolk of that name, who married John, Lord Berners, the translator of Froissart. By both parents he was descended from the Plantagenets, as may be easily traced in any of the genealogical peerages, sub: tit: Berners and Norfolk.

It should be remarked that the name Knyvet, in whatever spelling, is habitually pronounced Knevet in Norfolk, where it is very well known and diffused among many descendants. New England genealogists are familiar with another pedigree which claims the Knyvets as one of its stocks; but it would not be an appropriate subject of discussion at present.

VIALL FAMILY RECORD.

Communicated by JULIAN POTTER, Esq., of Newport, R. I.

THE following is a family record that appears in an old Bible now the property of Samuel Appleton Blatchford, inherited from his father, Samuel Blatchford, Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, U. S. A., who had it from his father, Hon. Richard Milford Blatchford, U. S. Minister to Rome, my grandfather. The latter presumably inherited the Bible from his mother, Julia Ann Mumford, whose mother was Mary Viall the fifth child of John Viall and Elizabeth Donnelly his wife, who were married, according to the family record, May the 5th day, 1747, but whose marriage is set down in the records of Trinity Church, Newport, R. I., as follows : "April 15th, 1747, John Viall m. Elizabeth Donnelly."

The ancestry of John⁴ Viall (born 12 Jan., 1721; died 30 Sept. 1803) is clear—James,³ Jonathan,² John.⁴ Of his wife Elizabeth, all that is known is that she had a brother Terence Donnelly, who was Town Schoolmaster of Newport, R. I., in 1751–2, and who later had a school of his own and lived with his brother-in-law, John Viall, at his house on Prospect Hill Street, in Newport. It is thought he was an Irishman, and that he had some connection with Trinity College, Dublin. Proof of the ancestry of the Newport schoolmaster, and of his connection with Trinity College, would be interesting. 1901.7

This narrative of the Indian depredations in Dunstable has slumbered in the court files of New Hampshire many years. John Lovewell and his wife Anna settled in Dunstable in 1680. They were the parents of Capt. John Lovewell, the hero of Pequawket. The testimony of these aged deponents concerning the depredations by the Indians in Dunstable is important, and of greater interest from the fact that they had personal knowledge of the events to which they refer. The deposition was made in 1744, and the statement that " about fifty-five years ago" four were killed in August and two in September of the same year, corresponds with the accredited annals of Dunstable, which announce the massacre of Joseph Hassell, Anna his wife, Benjamin his son, and Mary Marks, the second day of September, 1691, and the record that " Christopher Temple and Obadiah Perry dyed by the hand of our Indian enemics" the twenty-eighth of the same month.

MAJOR JONATHAN² HAWARD (ante, page 110).—Sarah Deane, daughter of John³ (John¹) and Sarah (Edson) Deane, married Oct. 8, 1691, Jonathan Howard of Bridgewater, son of John and Martha (Hayward) Howard; and they had ten children, born in Bridgewater. LOKER, DANIEL, NEWTON, DRAPER (ante, Vol. 49, p. 341). — In this query the statement is made that John Loker of Sudbury, Mass., "in his will refers to Robert Daniel as his brother-in-law, and to Robert's wife as 'Sister Bridget Daniel'" — thus leading to the suggestion that Robert Daniell, who died in Cambridge, June 6, 1655, "between the death of his wife Elizabeth (1643) and his marriage with Reana (Andrews, 1654), married Bridget Loker," etc.

The querist is in error as to the above names mentioned in John Loker's will. The name is "Davis" (spelled Dauies), not "Dauiel." This fact is easily proved from the document itself, as well as from the accompanying inventory (mentioned by the querist), which the supposed Robert Daniell signed with his mark. Now, as the querist intimates, it is singular that a mau who could write his name legibly in 1655, should sign with a hieroglyphic in 1653. The simple truth is, he was not the man. It is also to be remembered that Robert Daniell spelled his name with two l's; a fact, by the way, that few genealogists have noticed. See the fac-simile of his signature in Vol. 30, p. 458, of the REGISTER. If further proof is needed that it was Robert Davis who was John Loker's "brother-in-law," one may refer to the will of Robert Davis (July 17, 1655), in which he makes "my wif Bridget Daues and my brother Henry Loker" executors.

While I am on the subject of Robert Daniell, I wish to venture the suggestion that there was no person of that name in Sudbury in the seventeenth century. Savage says that Robert Daniel of Sudbury, who died there in 1662, may have been son of the preceding (Robert of Cambridge) or not.

Hudson (Hist. of Sudbury, p. 26) gives the name "Robert Darnill" among the early settlers. On the next page, evidently referring to the same person, he gives "Robert Daniel (Darnell)." On the map, p. 77, occurs the name "Robert Darneil."

Bond (Gen. and Hist. of Watertown, p. 197) says of this same Robert Danlell, "His Will, dated, Sud., Jan. 16, 1661-2," etc. This is an error.

In the Middlesex Probate files may be found the will of Robert Darvill, signed by his mark, dated Jan. 16, 1661, probated April 1, 1662. As to the spelling of this name in the will, there can be no doubt, at least as to the letter before i. It might be taken for b, but by no possibility for n.

The case then seems clear. Darvill was mistaken for Danill by Bond, which perhaps led Savage into an error; and I think there is no other indication of a Robert Daniell in Sudbury in those times. M. GRANT DANIELL.

HISTORICAL INTELLIGENCE.

DERBY, CONN., RECORDS.—The first book of the records of the old town of Derby, Conn., dating from 1665 to 1717, has been copied, and will be published if a sufficient number of subscribers is secured.

The copy has been examined by experts and pronounced exact. It includes Indian deeds, the laying out of lands, records of town meetings, births, marriages, deaths, and various other matters.

It is proposed to publish it in a book $7x10\frac{1}{2}$ inches in size; 512 pages; fully indexed; bound in buckram; price five dollars, payable when ready for delivery, which will not be until the early summer. Orders should be addressed to Mrs. A. W. Phillips, Derby, Conn.

MEMOIRS OF MAJOR-GENERAL HEATH.—William Abbatt, 281 Fourth Avenue, New York, proposes to republish the rare book written by Major-General William Heath of the Continental Army, and entitled "Memoirs of Major-General Heath, containing Anecdotes, Details of Skirmishes, Battles, etc., during the American War." Originally issued in 1798, and never republished, it is one of the rarest examples of Revolutionary Americana. Its author was commissioned Brigadier-General in 1775, took part in the earliest conflicts, and remained in service until the end of the war. There will be added to the book itself the accounts of the battle of Bunker Hill, given by Generals Heath, Dearborn, Wilkinson and Henry Lee, which are equally rare and heretofore found only in separate form. It will be ready about May 1.

Notes and Queries.

The edition will be limited, and circular with particulars will be sent upon application to Mr. Abbatt.

JOHNSTON GENEALOGY.—The Johnston Record, by Lieutenaut Charles Ernest Johnston of the United States Life-Saving Service, Treasury Department, Washington, D. C., is printed, and will appear early in 1901. Edition, one hundred copies; price, $2.50.

ELIOT.—The surviving members of the committee who were requested at the meeting of the descendants of John Eliot at Guilford, Conn., in 1875, to call another meeting, have in accord with the wishes of a large number of the family, selected South Natick, Mass., as the place, and the 3d of July next as the date; and the citizans of Natick, and others interested in its history, will celebrate on the 4th day of July the 250th anniversary of the founding there of John Eliot's Village of "Praying Indians," now known as South Natick.

Provision will be made for the exhibition of relics, portraits, books and manuscripts of interest to those who attend the meeting.

It is the intention of the committee to send an invitation to be present to every descendant of John Eliot and to all collateral families whose addresses can be obtained.

Should there be omissions, it will be a favor if notice to that effect be given. Correspondence should be sent to George E. Elliot, Clinton, Conn.

Rev. Joseph Eliot, minister at Guilford, Conn., who was the third child and second son of the Rev. John ("Apostle to the Indians") and Hannah (Mumford) Eliot, of Roxbury, Mass., where he was born December 20. 1638, died at Guilford, Conn., May 24, 1694, after serving the church there for thirty years.

His descendants have decided to establish, as his memorial, a scholarship in Yale College, to be known as "The Joseph Eliot Memorial Scholarship."

The scholarship is intended for academical students only, and the proposed rales governing it will be given upon application.

GENEALOGIES IN PREPARATION.—Persons of the several names are advised to furnish the compilers of these genealogies with records of their own families and other information which they think may be useful. We would suggest that all facts of interest illustrating family history or character be communicated, especially service under the U. S. Government, the holding of other offices, graduation from college or professional schools, occupation, with places and dates of birth, marriage, residence and death. When there are more than one christian name they should all be given in full, if possible. No initials should be used when the full names are known.

Beckwith.—A. C. and E. S. Beckwith, Elkhorn, Wisconsin, will be pleased to receive (and to give) genealogical information relating to descendants of Matthew and Elizabeth Beckwith of Hartford and Lyme, Conn., and to allied families.

Fernald-Furnald.—Prof. Henry Torsey Fernald, of the Massachusetts Agricultural College, Amherst, Mass., is preparing a Genealogy of the Fernald-Furnald families in America, and will be glad to correspond with any who are interested in the family either directly or by marriage.

Howard.—Daniel Howard, A.M., of Windsor Locks, Conn., is preparing a Genealogy of the descendants of Isaac Howard, who is supposed to have come from England to Marblehead, Mass., about 1720-30, with his brother Abraham, and possibly another brother, and settled in Warwick (that part of the town which is now Coventry), R. I.; later moving to the adjoining town of Scituate (that part of the town which is now Foster), where he died in 1776.

Perrine.—Howland D. Perrine, counsellor-at-law, 120 Broadway, N. Y., expects to publish during the present year a record of the Perrine family, upon which he has been working for the past nineteen years.

- REUBEN⁴ PECKHAM (Timothy,³ John,² John¹), born in 1709, lived in 29. Dartmouth until after 1734. He then removed to North Stonington, Conn. In 1780, he and his wife Patience deeded lands there. Dec. 23, 1671, the Second Baptist Church of Newport, R. I., was organized as a Seventh-day Baptist Church, with William Hiscox as pastor. May 14, 1737, Reuben Peckham united with this church. In 1740, he was living in Hartford, Conn., and was known as "Elder Peckham," a Seventh-day Baptist preacher. In 1762, he was a witness to a quaker wedding at Nine Partners, Dutchess Co., N. Y., and appeared at various times and places at Seventh-day Baptist gatherings in Connecticut, New York and New Jersey, until 1770, and was always spoken of as "Elder Reuben Peckham of Westerly, R. I." In Apr., 1770, he joined the Pascataway Seventh-day Baptist Church at Newmarket, Middlesex Co., N. J., and was requested to preach as often as convenient. He was several times disciplined for preaching Unitarian doctrines. He married in Dartmouth, Mass., Dec. 10, 1730, Patience, born April 27, 1710, daughter of John Hathaway.
 - Children born in Dartmouth, no others known :

- 30. BENJAMIN⁴ PECKHAM (Benjamin,³ John,² John¹), born March 22, 1715, lived in South Kingstown, R. I. He had large landed estates which he farmed in a large way. He made a run-away match, June 2, 1737, with Mary, born July 16, 1722, died April, 1805, daughter of Lieut.-Gov. George and Sarah (Carder) Hazard. She was then not fifteen years old, and tradition has it they had fourteen children. Records of only seven remain. From them are descended most of the New York Peckhams, including the two Judges Rufus, and Wheeler Hazard Peckham. He was town clerk of South Kingstown, 1736–1743. He was moderator of the South Kingstown

i. A DAUGHTER,⁵ b. Dec. 31, 1735; d. 1735.

The details of this evidence have been put at length in a 'Summary of Evidence,' which the present Rector has drawn up from the writings on this subject; and which he proposes to put into print, should he find any encouragement on the part of Americans."

Few persons of the present day are aware how general was piracy two centuries ago. The following extract from "The Boston News-Letter," August 21, 1721, shows that in early times pirate ships, carrying many guns and heavily manned, sailed the high seas and pursued their unlawful calling. The "Mary" was taken somewhere in the Sargasso Sea, off the coast of Africa.

SAMUEL A. GREEN.

"These are to Certifie all Persons concerned that on the 7th Day of May last, William Russel Master of the Ship Mary of Charlestown, in his Voyage from Madera to Surranam in the Lat. 22 Deg. and 27 N. and Long. 25 and 27 W. from London was taken by a Pirate Ship upwards of 50 Guns, Commanded by Capt, Roberts, about 300 Men, who robb'd him of part of his Cargo, and Forced away from him two of his Men, against his and their own consent, viz. Thomas Russel born in Lexintown near Charlestown and the other Thomas Winchol born in Portsmouth, New-Hampshire in New England."

BRAINTREE MARRIAGES.—In the article on page 43 of the last issue of the REGISTER, in the marriage under the date of "1760, Apr. 24," the name of the man was Caleb Bailey, not Bagley. (See Deane's Scituate, page 214.) ELLA T. BATES.

EDGARTOWN DEATHS.—In the REGISTER, vol. 59, page 303, in the article entitled "Deaths at Edgartown." it is stated (page 307) that the Beulah Coffin who died Jan. 19, 1812, age 86, was the daughter of Enoch and Jane (Claghorn) (Whellen) Coffin. The contributor has made a mistake, as the Beulah, daughter of above, was born Oct. 10, 1748, married, Jan. 5, 1769, Jonathan Perse, and died Jan. 29, 1773. The Beulah who died Jan. 19, 1812, was the daughter of Enoch and Beulah (Eddy) Coffin. C. H. C.

Philadelphia, Penn.

COTTON.—The daughters Joanna (born Mar. 5, 1690), Mary (born Apr. 10, 1692), and Elizabeth (born Sept. 2, 1694), given in the REGISTER, vol. 8, page 43, as the children of Rev. Caleb Cushing, were the children of his wife, Mrs. Elizabeth (Cotton) Alling, by her first husband, Rev. James Alling of Salisbury, Mass. LAWRENCE B. CUSHING.

Newburyport, Mass.

PROCTOR.—Benjamin³ Proctor (John², John¹), born June 10, 1659, at Ipswich (see ante, vol. li., page 410), married Mary, daughter of William and Sarah (Smith) Buckley of Ipswich and Salem Village, widow of Sylvester Witheridge, and granddaughter of Thomas Smith of Ipswich, as shown by the following records:

Lynn.—Benjamin Proctor to Mary Buckley married Dec. 18, 1694. (Essex County Records.)

Benjamin Proctor and Mary Witheridge married Dec. 18, 1694. Children: Mary, born Oct. 12, 1695: Priscilla, born Dec. 11, 1699: Sarah, born Jan. 2, 1701-2. (Salem Town Records.)

Admitted to the First Church of Salem, June 5, 1709, Prudence Witheridge, dau' of Mary, w' of Benj' Proctor. (Records of First Church, Salem.)

Silvester Whitterage and Mary Buckley married Nov. 17, 1684. (Essex Co. Records.)

Children of Silvester Witheridge and Mary his wife: Prudence, born Oct. 8, 1686; Silvester, born March 17, 1688. (Salem Town Records.)

Administration on the estate of Benjamin Proctor of Salem granted to his widow Mary, June 27, 1717. (Essex Co. Probate, vol. 812, page 70.)

his wife, who was one of the daughters of Mr. Thomas Smith of Ipswich, deceased, conveyed to John Higginson of Salem all interest in the estate of her grandfather Thomas Smith and of her father William Buckley, May 27, 1727. (Essex Co. Deeds, vol. 57, page 51.)

"Jan. 2, 1702. Old William Buckley dyed this evening. He was about 80 years old." (Diary of Rev. Joseph Green of Salem Village.)

Petition of William Buckley to the General Court, Sept. 13, 1710, "in yename of our family." "My Honoured Mother Sarah Buckley and my sister Mary Witherige were both in prison from May until January following" [1692–1693].

Thorndike Proctor of Salem formerly purchased a certain farm in Salem known as the Downing Farm, and afterwards sold a part to his brother Benjamin Proctor, since deceased, and John Proctor, only son and heir of said Benjamin, May 14, 1726. (Essex Co. Deeds, vol. 53, page 40.)

Cambridge, Mass.

BURRELL.—In the REGISTER, vol. 59, page 352, there is a mistake in the line of descent of Sergt. John Burrell, who was a great-grandson, not grandson, of John Burrell the emigrant. The line is as follows:

John¹ Burrell arrived in Weymouth, Mass., in 1639; married Rebekah —, and had these three (if not more) children: John,¹ b. 1658, d. 1731; Thomas, b. 1659; Ephraim, b. 1664.

John² Burrell (John¹) married, June 26, 1688, Mercy³ Alden (Joseph,² John⁴ of the "Mayflower"), and had: Elizabeth,³ b. 1689; Thomas, b. 1692; Capt. John, b. 1694.

Capt. John³ Burrell (John,² John¹), who moved to Abington in 1741, married, Jan. 8, 1717, Mary⁴ Humphrey (Joseph,³ Thomas,² John¹) of Hingham, and had: Sergt. John⁴ b. Sept. 24, 1719; Joseph; Abraham, b. 1721; Humphrie, b. 1723, d. at Lake George, 1756; Thomas; Mary.

Sergt. John⁴ Burrell (John,³ John,² John⁴) married Ann⁴ Vintou (Thomas,³ John,² John⁴), and had: Mary, b. Feb. 22, 1741; Ann, b. Mar. 17, 1743; Elizabeth, b. Aug. 7, 1745; Miriam, b. Mar. 17, 1749; John, b. Oct. 5, 1752; Bela, b. May 20, 1756; Nathaniel, b. May 17, 1761; Ziba, b. Mar. 12, 1765.

VIRGINIA HALL.

STIMPSON.—In the REGISTER, vol. 59, page 368, it is stated that [19] John⁵ Stimpson (John,⁴ John,³ Andrew,² Andrew¹) married Mary, daughter of Nathaniel and Mary (Kemball) Harrington, but this is an error, for in 1784 she was the wife of David Whitney, as shown in the will of Nathaniel Harrington, in Midellesex Co. Probate, file 7316. The oldest child of Daniel Whitney was named Mary Kimball.

John⁵ Stimpson probably married Mary, daughter of Edward and Anna (Bullard) Harrington of Watertown, who, according to Bond, was born Aug. 23, 1752, for in the division of Edward Harrington's estate, in 1794, Middlesex Co. Probate, file 7280, one share was allotted to "the heirs of Mary Stimson, deceased." ARTHUR M. JONES.

QUERIES.

A GENEALOGICAL PUZZLE.—Judge Sewall, in his Diary, vol. 1, p. 215, under date, May 30, 1688, says: "Mr. Joseph Eliot here, says the two days wherein he buried his Wife and Son, were the best that ever he had in the world." The editors, in a foot-note, facetiously add, "The kindest construction should be put upon this remark of the bereaved husband and father."

The context shows that Mr. Joseph Eliot was the Rev. Joseph Eliot, son of the "Apostle," who was the minister at Guilford, Conn. But there are confusing facts. He had two wives. The first, Sarah Brenton, died prior to 1685, leaving four daughters. The second wife, Mary Wyllys, died in 1729, thirtyfive years after the death of her husband. There were two sons, born to this second marriage, who lived many years after the death of their father.

Could the wellnigh infallible Judge have made a mistake in attributing this remark to the son Joseph, instead of his father, the "Apostle," whose wife,

"Hanna Mumford," died March 22, 1687, and whose son Benjamin died Oct. 15, 1687? 'The words, "the two days wherein," stand in the way of this explanation, but words spoken, and written subsequently, may not be correctly reported. It would be interesting to have some expert straighten this matter. 48 W. 36th St., New York, N. Y. ELLSWORTH ELIOT.

ADDIS, BEEBE, HAWKE .- I should like the dates of birth, marriages, and death of Millicent, daughter of William Addis, or Addes, of Gloucester, Mass., 1642. She married first, William Southmaid, second, William Ash, and third, Thomas Beebe, by which last husband she had a daughter Hannah, who married, in New London, Conn., 16 Jan., 1688-9, John Hawke. Has anybody discovered the maiden name of Millicent's mother? And was John Hawke of May/lower descent? (Miss) LUCY D. AKERLY.

550 Park Ave., New York City.

BOYCE .- Who were the parents of Ruth Boyce who married, Apr. 20, 1728, Nathaniel Jillson, Jr.? (Gillson-Jillson Genealogy, page 25.) University of Chicago Library, Chicago, Ill.

C. A. TORREY.

DAVIS .- Where can I find references to Peter Davis and his family, Quakers, who went from Boston to Rhode Island? Some of them were preachers of that faith.

STONE.-Aaron Strong, Jr., born Nov., 1768, married, 25 Jan., 1813, as his second wife, Polly, of Gailford, Conn., born 23 Dec., 1771, died May, 1830, without issue, daughter of Daniel and Sarah (King) Stone of South Hampton. Information is wanted as to the ancestry and rest of the family of Daniel Stone. A. H. STONE.

3931 S. Thomas Ave., Minneapolis, Minn.

FOSTER.-I am trying to indentify Abigail -----, who married, about 1692, Jonathan³ Foster (Thomas,² Thomas¹). Jonathan was born probably in Dunstable, Sept. 21, 1671, and died Jan. 5, 1755. He first appears in Billerica, and later was a resident of Stow and Chelmsford. Abigail is said to have died in Chelmsford, July 9, 1761. Some think she was a child of Arthur² Warren (Arthur⁴), who was born in 1639, married Abigail Rogers of Billerica, date unknown, and died Apr. 5, 1671. His widow died June 15, 1671.

523 Altman Building, Kansas City, Mo. (Dr.) WILLIAM DAVIS FOSTER.

MERRITT.-Who were the parents and wives of the following Merritts: Benjamin of Rye, N. Y., first wife Hannah, 1741; Benjamin of Newcastle Co., Del., born 1700; George of Stratfield, Conn., 1738; Edward, freeholder of New York, 1701; George of Perth Amboy, 1694; Henry of Scituate, Mass., 1628; Henry of Norfolk, Va., 1650; Isaac of Lebanon, 1741; James of Barkhampstead, Conn., 1770, wife Hannah; John of North Castle, N. Y., 1730; John of Block Island, 1702; Lovering of Kent Co., Md., 1700; Meyer of East Ward, New York, 1703; Nathaniel of Rowley, Mass., 1773; Nicholas of Lyndeboro, N. II., 1736; Pheleck of Hopkinton, R. I., 1774; Philip of Boston, born 1662, died 1741; Richard of Richmond Co., N. Y., 1701; Samuel of Scarborough, N. Y., born 1719; Samuel of Hopkintown, R. I., 1774; Thomas of Delaware, 1664-76; Thomas of Rye, N. Y., 1670-1722; Thomas of ship "Little Baltimore," 1693; William, mayor of New York, 1662, wife Margery; William of New York, 1730; William of Hartford, Coun., 1780, son William; William of North Carolina, 1790, son Berry. Douglas Merritt. Rhinebeck, N. Y.

MALTBY .-- In the REGISTER, vol. 59, page 255, it is stated that John's Kirkham (Samuel,2 Thomas1) married Esther, daughter of David Maltby of Northford. This I believe to be an error, and that she was the daughter of Daniel Maltby, Jr., who married, in 1736, Mary Harrison. Daniel and Mary had a daughter Esther, born Aug. 30, 1739. Can anybody give me definite information on this point?

Notes and Queries.

OLMSTED, BROWN, SMITH .- Thankful Olmsted of Brookfield and Ware, Mass., born Feb. 15, 1712, married ----- Brown, and died before 1752, leaving children. Her sister Abigail Olmsted, born Mar. 24, 1731, married, before 1752, - Smith of Ware, Mass. They were daughters of Capt. Jabez Olmsted, and are mentioned in his will, dated Feb. 24, 1752. Further information about F. S. HAMMOND. these families is desired. Oneida, N. Y.

TEMPLETON.-What was the ancestry of Polly Templeton, born Jan. 18, 1785 or '6, who married, about 1802, William Curtis, born Sept. 13, 1781 or '3, of Simsbury, Coun., son of Eliphalet, Jr., and Mary (Wilcox) Curtis? He died June 26, 1815, at Marcellus, N.Y., and she died July 11, 1835, at Oswego, N.Y. 530 So. Madison Ave., Pasadena, Cal. (Mrs.) L. E. STEELE.

HISTORICAL INTELLIGENCE.

ENGLISH RESEARCH .- The Committee on English Research, of the New England Historic Genealogical Society, begs to call attention to the desirability of reviving investigation concerning the English ancestry of the pioneers of New England. From 1883 to 1899, former Committees secured funds by which valuable researches among the wills of the Prerogative Court of Canterbury in London were carried on by Henry F. Waters, Esq., the results of which were published in the REGISTER, giving clues which lead to determining the ancestry of many of the early settlers of New England; but since Mr. Waters's work was relinquished, comparatively little has been accomplished by the Society in that direction.

The Committee now solicits funds for continuing research in England, on the ancestry of the early New England colonists, the results to appear in the REGISTER, and it would be glad to receive suggestions and information on this subject.

Clues, not generally known, as to the origin of several early emigrants, have come into the Committee's hands, and the Secretary of the Committee will be glad to give information to anyone who may desire to make investigations.

WOOD GENEALOGY .- Clay W. Holmes, Elmira, N. Y., compiler of the genealogy of the Descendants of William Wood of Concord, Mass., 1638, published in 1900, 8vo, pp. 365, will be glad to present to any public library or historical society making a specialty of genealogical publications, which is not already supplied with the book, a complimentary copy if the transportation charges will be paid.

GENEALOGIES IN PREPARATION .- Persons of the several names are advised to furnish the compilers of these genealogies with records of their own families and other information which they think may be useful. We would suggest that all facts of interest illustrating family history or character be communicated, especially service under the U.S. Government, the holding of other offices, graduation from college or professional schools, occupation, with places and dates of birth, marriage, residence, and death. When there are more than one Christian name, they should all be given in full if possible. No initials should be used when the full name is known.

Lec.-Joseph L. Edmiston, 1129 W. 17th St., Los Angeles, Cal., is collecting material for a genealogical record of the descendants of Dea. Benjamin Lee of Manchester, Mass., who died in 1757, and desires correspondence with representatives of the various branches.

one third of my undivided lands in the North Purchase, all which I have given him by deed of gift. To my son Samuel's children ten pounds estate of Commons in Rehoboth. To my three daughters, Bethiah, Hannah and Mary twelve pence each. To my beloved wife Alice, my house, lands and meadows, household goods and stock not otherwise disposed of, she to be sole executrix. If my wife decease before me, what estate I have given her shall be equally divided among all my children, son Joseph to have my house and home lot upon an indifferent appraisal, and to pay the value above his share to his brothers and sisters. Witnessed by John Peck, William Carpenter and John Butterworth, who all made oath to the same at Rehoboth, Feb. 24, 1695-6 before Jn^o Saffin Esq^r. Judge of Probate. John Cary Regist^r. Recorded Mar. 2, 1695-6.

[134] Inventory of above estate taken Jan. 11, 1695-6 by William Carpenter and Samuel Millard, and sworn to by Alice, widow and executrix of the will of Robert Wheaton abovenamed, Feb. 24, 1695 before John Saffin Proba^r: Jn^o Cary Regist^r: Entered Mar. 2, 1695-6 by John Cary Regist^r:

First Ownership of Ohio Lands

FIRST OWNERSHIP OF OHIO LANDS

By ALBION MORRIS DYER, A.M., of Cleveland, Ohio

THE lists of names of first owners of lands within the limits of the State of Ohio, as proposed on an earlier page of this writing, here follow. They are constructed for the purpose of this publication by comparison of the several documents mentioned.77

FIRST OWNERS OF LANDS IN OHIO

The sale of lots or the Four Ranges of Townships at public vendue in the City of New York, September 21 to October 9, 1787, terminated the. period of reservation or prohibition of "settlement and purchase of the lands inhabited or claimed by the Indians."78 Purchasers of lots at this sale obtained thereby the right of entry and occupancy of the lands that they had purchased; all others were trespassers, excepting the French and Canadians in the Illinois Company, who were protected by their oath of fidelity to Virginia.79 These purchasers received certificates of payment of purchase money issued by the Treasurer of the United States,⁸⁰ which entitled them to such right. Certain purchasers, no doubt, moved at once upon their lands, probably from the vantage camps on the Virginia hills overlooking the forbidden river, but other purchasers made no actual settlements ; facts to be ascertained by those especially interested.⁸¹ Their names appear in the Schedule of Sales returned by the Treasurer of the United States after full payment for the lots had been made, as ordained by the act of Congress passed May 20, 1785. They appear also, except the forfeitures for non-payment of purchase money, in the official Record of Patents, and on the plats of the surveyors, to which reference has been made.

The Schedule of Sales contains the names of purchasers with other data, in order as the sales were made; description of each lot sold; location by numerals to indicate the range, township, and lot; number of acres in each lot; amount of purchase price; payments made, etc. The Record of Sales is a volume made up of printed blanks used by the Board of Treasury for recording the patents as issued, one full page for each lot patented.

⁷⁷ Cf. REGISTER for October, 1910, p. 369.
 ⁷⁸ As proclaimed according to Act of Congress passed September 22, 1783, entited "An ordinance prohibiting settlement and purchase of certain lands."

7º Cf. REGISTER for April, 1910, p. 268. 8º Cf. note 81, infra, section 4. Advertisement of the Board of Treasury for the sale. ⁸¹ An entry in the Journal of John Matthews (Hildreth's Pioneer History of the Ohio Valley, p. 188) is especially interesting in this connection: November 30, [175] A part of this month I have been on the West side of the Ohio with Mr Simpson and Colonel Martin, assisting them in the survey of the lands they bought at the public sales in New York...

There is no record of a sale in the name of Simpson. James Simpson was Surveyor for the State of Maryland in the Geographer's Department, but Capt. Absalom Martin, Surveyor for the State of New Jersey, purchased and occupied as his permanent home two fractional lots on the Ohio River bottoms opposite Wheeling; land which he had himself surveyed under Hutchins the year before. He took possession of his property within a month or six weeks of the date of sale, and appears to be the first known settler in the Western Territory. Captain Martin was the son of Ephraim Martin of Baskenridge, N. J. (cf. Papers of the Continental Congress, No. 56, p. 173), and his place on the Ohio River was the landing place from Wheeling, now known as Martin's Ferry, Ohio.

The pages are numbered progressively and dated as filled out, and the blanks are filled in with name and other data corresponding with the items of the Schedule of Sales.82 The plats of the surveyors show the exteriors of the townships as surveyed, on which are lines drawn at right angles to represent the 36 square lots in each township. The plats are drawn on the scale of 40 chains to the inch, making each of these lots two inches square, on which is written the name of purchaser, date, acres, etc. The lots are numbered, also the townships and ranges as required by the ordinance: Ranges; westward from 1 to VII beginning with the Pennsylvania line. Townships, northward from the river, each range beginning with Township No. 1, and the lots; northward from the base line of the township, in ranges of six, beginning with Lot 1 at the southeast corner.88

From this data not only the names of owners but the situation of each lot, according to present day geography, may be ascertained⁸⁴ and designated by modern names of political divisions, county and township. The region covered by the seven Ranges of Townships may readily be traced on a map

* Many pages of this volume were not used, as the form was changed for the Pitts-burgh sale, and only 111 patents were issued. Some of the pages are signed with the names of the three members of the Board of Treasury, but most of them are not so signed. The patents are recorded in the several county records of Ohio, and they correspond with the form given in the Ordinance of May 20, 1785.

correspond with the form given in the Ordinance of May 20, 1785. ⁸⁹ Lots or sections in the Seven Ranges of Townships are not numbered as in the later surveys. According to the terms of the ordinance of May 20, 1785: The plats of the townships respectively shall be marked by subdivisions into lots of one mile square or 640 acres, in the same direction as the external lines and numbered from 1 to 36, always beginning the succeeding range of the lots with the number next to that with which the preceding one concluded, ceang one concluded, while the law of May 18, 1796, required that the sections shall be numbered respectively, beginning with number one, in the northeast section, and proceeding west and east alternately, through the township, with progressive num-bers till the thirty-sixth be completed.

bers till the thirty-sixth be completed. Thus it happens that some of the townships of Columbiana, Carroll, and Stark counties, part of which were outside the Old Seven Ranges of Townships, have two sets of townships and sections in the same townships with the same numbers. ¹⁴ The townships offered for sale were described by numerals in the advertisement published by the Board of Treasury, which reads as follows:

The townships or fractional parts of townships throughout the different ranges, will be sold either entire or in lots in alternate order; that is to say, where a township or fractional part of a township is sold entire, the next will be sold in lots, agreeably to the ordinance of the week of Mey 1285.

87 The Seven Kanges of Townships are first shown on the map entitled :

A Map of the Federal Territory from the Western Boundary of Pennsylvania to the Scioto River, laid down from the latest informations and divided into Townships and fractional parts of Townships agreeably to the ordinance of the Honble Congress passed in May, 1785, which, according to the Phillips List of Maps of America, p. 626, is the "Map to ac-company Cutler's 'Explanation of the map of the federal lands, confirmed by the treaties of 1784...Salem, 1787.'" The famous map issued by Joel Barlow for European exploitation of the Scioto Company's lands, entitled : "Plan des achates des Compagnies de l'Ohio'' (Cf. Winsor, vol. vii, p. 532; the Library of Congress has a fine copy of the Barlow map recently picked up by Mr. Phillips in Paris), shows the region marked: "Sept ranges de Municipalitère acquis par des individus, et occupés depuis 1786," and described as "Habité et défriché," which, considering the date of Barlow's activity, 1788, is surprising.

A "Plat of the Seven Ranges of Townships being part of the Territory of the United States N. W. of the River Ohio which by late act of Congress are directed to be sold... W. Barker, Sculp." issued for use of the second sale of lots, shows the survey as altered to Barker, Sculp." Issued for use of the second sale of lots, shows the survey as altered to fit the latest land laws, 1796. The sub-divisions sold at the New York sale are marked on this plat. This plate seems to have been used by Matthew Carey for editions of the American Atlas as late as 1818. (A reproduction from an original print is in Avery's History, vol. vi, betw. pp. 406 and 407.) An outline map of the State of Ohio, showing the land divisions, prepared by Col. Chas. Whitlesey and published in W. R. H. S. Tract No. 61, represents the Seven Ranges of Townships as extending northerly to the base line of the Western Reserve, whereas the writings of Col. Whitlesey on this subject in this and other nucline reliever.

whereas the writings of Col. Whittlesey on this subject, in this and other publications, correctly describe the Ohio surveys. The strip of land, twenty-five miles wide, be-tween the Seven Ranges of Townships and the Western Reserve, was surveyed in 1801 which was forbidden by carlier resolution of Congress, May 9, 1786. ⁸⁹ Dohrman [Dorhman] is the Portuguese refugee honored by Congress (Land Laws of the U. S., p. 222) with liberal pensions in recognition of his services to Amer-ican sailors during the war. After his escape from Lisbon he appears as a merchant in Chambers Street, New York. No doubt he attended the sale and made the first In Chambers Street, New Fork. No both the attended the safe and made the first purchase of land on the public domain. Congress voted to him a township of land in the Seven Ranges of Townships, and he went west to take possession of his property. He lived and died at Steubenville, Jefferson County, where he lies buried, and where his descendants still reside. There are many traditions in the family concerning

LAND OWNERS ON THE MUSKINGUM

While the first sale of lots was in progress at New York, the agents and directors of the Ohio Company of Associates were negotiating with the Committee of Congress for the purchase of the tract of land on the Muskingum River, west of the seventh range of townships. Papers were signed for this purchase, and for the Scioto River tract, on the 27th of October, 1787, and title to the property passed from the United States on that date. Prior to this date the Ohio Company had arranged to apportion the lands of their purchase among the proprietor-shareholders of the company, in number about a thousand, one numbered subdivision in each allotment for each share. Plans were formed at a series of meetings, beginning August 29, 1787, and extending beyond the date of signature to July 7, 1788, for the distribution of these shares of the lands to the proprietors by a method of drafts, the details of which appear in the form of resolutions 93 These names: William Bowne, John Crawford, and Richard Platt do not appear in the Schedule of Sales.

Extracts covering the matter of the drafts may be found in a set of four page leaflets issued, without date or title, for purposes of advancing the a set of four page featiets issued, without date or life, for purposes of advancing the sale of shares in the company. A set of these leaflets is in the Col. John May Col-lection, W. R. H. S., attached to Col. May's copy of Dr. Cutler's famous pamphlet "An Explanation of the Map which Delineates that part of the Federal Lands . . ." Salem, 1787. References to the subdivisions of the lands and the process of drafts as actually carried out, taken from these sources, follow :

(The instructions of August 30, respecting the allotments, which appear in the Massachusetts Gazette, Tuesday, September 11, 1787, were never carried out, but were displaced by later regulations .- A. M. D.)

At a Meeting of the DIRECTORS and AGENTS of the Ohio Company, at Mr. Brackett's Tavern, the 21st. of November, and continued by Adjournment to the twenty-second. RESOLVED

That the lands of the Ohio Company be allotted and divided in the following manner; anything to the contrary, in former resolutions notwithstanding-Viz.

Four thousand acres near the confluence of the Ohio and Muskingum river for a city and commons, and contiguous to this, one thousand lots of eight acres each, amounting to eight thousand acres

Upon the Ohio in fractional townships, one thousand lots of one hundred and sixteen and 48/100, amounting to one hundred and sixteen thousand four hundred and eighty acres.

In the townships on the navigable rivers, one thousand lots of three hundred and twenty acres, amounting to three hundred and twenty thousand acres, AND,

In the inland towns, one thousand lots of nine hundred and ninety two acres each, amounting to nine hundred and ninety two thousand acres, to be divided and allotted as the agents shall hereafter direct

RESOLVED, that the city at the mouth of the Muskingum river be so laid out into oblong squares, as that each house-lot shall consist of ninety feet in front, and one hundred and eighty feet in depth, with an alley of ten feet in width, through each square in its oblong direction; and that the centre street, crossing the city, be one hundred and fifty feet wide, anything to the Contrary, in former resolutions, not withstanding. BRSOLVED, That the eight acre lots be surveyed, and a plat or map thereof be made, with each lot numbered thereon, by the first Wednesday in March next, and that a copy thereof, be immediately forwarded to the Secretary, and the original retained by the Company's Superintendant. That the Agents meet upon the same Wednesday in March, at Rice's Tavern in Providence, State of Rhode-Island, to draw for said lots in numbers, as the same shall be stated upon the plat. That a list of the draughts be transmitted by the Secretary to the Superintendant, and a copy thereof preserved in the Secretary's office.

WINTHROP SARGENT, Scc'ry to the Ohio Company.

At a Meeting of the DIRECTORS of the Ohio Company at Mr. Brackett's Tavern, in Boston, November 23, 1787.

For the purpose of carrying into effect the surveys and other business of the Ohio Company; as agreed upon by the Directors, and Agents, at their meetings of the 29th. of August last, and the 21st. instant.

ORDERED, That Col. Ebenezer Sproat, from Rhode-Island, Mr. Anslem Tupper, and Mr. John Matthews, from Massachusetts, and Col. R. J. Meigs, from Connecticut, be the surveyors. That General Rufus Putnam, be the Superintendant of all the business aforesaid, and he is to be obeyed and respected accordingly.

General PARSONS in the Chair. General Varnum, General Tupper, Mr. Barlow, Col. May, and Capt. Heyward, were appointed a Committee to examine into, and report upon, the returns of the Agents. This Committee reported, that one thousand shares of the Ohio Company's purchase were taken up by the Agents, and that the drawing for the eight are lots may commence as soon as the Meeting shall direct; which report was accepted and approved.

The Meeting shall direct; which report was accepted and approved. RESOLVED, That the Secretary enter upon the records the number of shares in each agency. RESOLVED, That Mr. Cutler, General Parsons, Major Dexter, Col. Talmadge, and Major Corlis, be a Committee to prepare the names and numbers, and make all necessary arrange-ments for drawing the eight acre lots.

RESOLVED. That the drawing shall commence tomorrow morning, at the State-House in this town.

Adjourned till tomorrow morning, at 9 o'clock.

Thursday, March 6.

Met agreeably to adjournment. The committee for preparing names and numbers reported, that they had procured two boxes, Into the one of which they had put the names of the adventurers, as returned by the Agents (amounting to one thousand) and into the other the numbers, from No. 1 to No. 1000 inclusive: That they have procured two lads to assist in drawing out the names and numbers.

That they have appointed Colonel J. May to receive the numbers, and call them off; and Major W. Sargent to receive and call off the names; And, That they have appointed General II. Jackson, and Col. Talmadge, Clerks; and General B. Tupper to receive and string the several names and numbers together, as they shall be severally drawn out.

RESOLVED-, That the report of the Committee be accepted and approved; and that the Meeting adjourn to the State-House immediately, and proceed to drawing the lots. Adjourned to the State House.

At 9 o'clock, r.m. having completed the drawing of the names and numbers (a list of which is with the files of the Company, in the Secretary's office) the Meeting adjourned till to morrow morning, at 9 o'clock, at Mr. Rice's Tavern.

ANNABLE .-- In the register of marriages at All Saint's, Cambridge (Phillemore's Cambridgeshire Parish Registers: Marriages, vol. 4, p. 9), occurs that of "Anthony Annable & Jane Moumford [Momford] 26 Ap. 1619." Anthony Annable came in 1623 with wife Jane and two daughters. He settled at Plymouth, but removed to Scituate and Barnstable (1638-9), in which latter place his wife Jane was buried. He was married twice afterwards. (See Pope's Pioneers, Savage, etc.) Henry Vickers and Elizabeth Annable were married the 9 May following (p. 10). WILLIAM P. GREENLAW.

MIXER.-Savage's Genealogical Dictionary says that Isaac Mixer came in 1634, aged 31, with wife Sarah, aged 33, and son Isnac, aged 4. In vol. 1, p. 103, of Phillimore and Blagg's Suffolk Marriages, is found Isaac Mixer Jun. and Sarah Thurston married May 11, 1629.

Isaac Mixer, widower and Anna Bloss widow married 12 Feb. 1628.

These are in the registers of Capel St. Mary, and in the same volume are Joseph Briden and Jane Mixer married June 11, 1618.

George Mixer and Doreth Chisnall married 26 Oct. 1620.

RECORDS OF THE CHURCH IN WINTONBURY PARISH (NOW BLOOMFIELD), CONN.

FROM A COPY IN THE POSSESSION OF THE CONNECTICUT SOCIETY OF COLONIAL DAMES

Communicated by Miss MARY KINGSBURY TALCOTT of Hartford, Conn.

WINTONBURY Parish was originally a part of Old Windsor, Conn., and may be considered an offshoot of the First Church there, which came from Dorchester, Mass., in 1636. By 1734 the inhabitants of this outlying territory had so increased in numbers that they desired to have religious meetings in their midst, the meetinghouse in Windsor being six miles distant. Their petition was considered reasonable by the Connecticut General Assembly in May 1734, and "winter privileges" were granted to them for two years. Finally, in Oct. 1736, the parish was set off, bounded on the north by Simsbury and the Windsor Third (Poquonock) Society, east by the Windsor First Society, south by Windsor and Hartford, and west by Farmington and Simsbury. "Of this parish, which was nearly four miles square, about seven-tenths lay in Windsor, one-tenth in Farmington, and two-tenths in Simsbury, and it was named in consequence from the towns of which it was composed—WIN-TON-BURY." (Stiles's History of Ancient Windsor, vol. 1, p. 293.)

The Wintonbury Church was organized 14 Feb. 1737/8, and on the following day Rev. Hezekiah Bissell was ordained as pastor. He was born at Windsor, on the east side of the Connecticut River, 30 Jan. 1710/11, and was prepared for college by his pastor, Rev. Timothy Edwards. He was graduated at Yale College in 1733. He married, 30 Nov. 1740, Mary, daughter of Rev. Ephraim Woodbridge of Groton, Conn., a graduate of Harvard College in the Class of 1701. He continued as minister of the parish until failing health in 1779 obliged him to ask for assistance in his pastoral work. He died 28 Jan. 1783, and a large table-monument in the burying ground sets forth his virtues. The entries made by Mr. Bissell form by far the greater part of Book I of the Church Records.

Wintonbury Church Records

After much controversy Rev. Solomon Walcott, a graduate of Dartmouth College in the Class of 1776, was installed as pastor at Wintonbury on 24 May 1786; but, since the dissensions that had preceded his settlement still continued, he was dismissed in 1790.

The town of Bloomfield, comprising the territory of the parish of Wintonbury and also a portion of the Poquonock Society of Windsor, was incorporated in May 1835, the church taking the name of the new town. In 1840 the territory known as Scotland Parish in Simsbury was added to the town of Bloomfield.

Wintonbury was the fifth parish within the limits of the ancient town of Windsor.*

ADDENDUM

WILLIAM LEE AND JOHN LEE OF BOSTON

WILLIAM LEE, shipwright, appears in the Boston records from 1705 to 1750, but probably left Boston before his death, as he was atman of property and no administration on his estate has been found. He married first, in Boston, 8 Nov. 1705, Rev. Benjamin Wadsworth officiating, MERCY JACKSON, daughter of John of Boston, housewright, deceased, intestate; probably secondly, in Boston, 24 Aug. 1721, Rev. Benjamin Wadsworth officiating, RUTH WARDEN; thirdly, in Boston, 29 June 1738, Rev. Peter Thacher officiating. REBERAH HOOD. probably a widow, who died between 25 Apr. 1749. when her will was dated, and 30 May 1749, when it was proved; and fourthly, in Boston, 24 Aug. 1749, Rev. William Welsted officiating. REBECCA WINSLOW. He is styled "Mr.," and was apparently a close relative, probably a brother or half brother, of "Mr. Thomas Lee, merchant" (vide supra, 2), two of whose children were named William and Mercy.

On 15 Sept. 1708 William Lea of Boston, shipwright, his wife Mercy, and Elizabeth and Abigail Jackson, spinsters, the three daughters of the late John Jackson, conveyed to their brothers, John and Thomas Jackson of Boston, housewrights, for £60, the estate of their father, 32 feet, 2 inches, on the Back Street, leading from Mill Bridge to Winnisomet ferry place.* On 9 Sept. 1740 William Lee, shipwright, and Rebecca his wife mortgaged for £225 land on Middle Street, Boston, and in New Boston to Rober Auchmuty of Roxbury, Esq., Samuel Adams and William Stoddard of Boston, Esquires, Peter Chardon of Boston, merchant, Samue Watts of Chelsea, Esq., George Leonard of Norton, Esq., Rober Hale of Beverly, Esq., John Choate of Ipswich, Esq., and Thoma Cheever of Lynn, Gentleman, all directors of the Manufacturin: Company. so-called, to pay for William Lee's share in the Company. On 18 Mar. 1748 William Lcc mortgaged to Thomas Lee of Boston merchant, as security for a debt of £500, a brick building, 33 feet 3 inches, on Middle Street, Boston. He acknowledged this deealone, and is called "Mr. William Lee." | On 28 Dec. 1750 h again mortgaged the same building, 33 feet, 3 inches, on Middle Street, to Thomas Lee, merchant, as security for a debt of £120, his wife Rebecca [(Winslow)] joining with him in this conveyance. f O 7 Aug. 1749 William Lee sold to John Pulling of Boston, shop keeper (father of the brave Maj. John Pulling of the Revolution) his wharf and land, 97 feet from the east end of Fish Street, and the warehouses, etc., "which I bought of Elisha Cooke, Esg. and Jane his wife."8

In her will, dated 25 Apr. 1749 and proved 30 May 1749, Rebeka (-----) (Hood) Lee, the third wife of William Lee, bequeathed to her dear and loving husband, William Lee of Boston, shipwright, he pint silver tankard, and left articles of wearing apparel to her siste Mary Henchman and her two daughters-in-law [stepdaughters] Mercy Elliot and Abiel Guffett [daughters of her husband Willian Lee by his first wife]. To each of her granddaughters, Rebecc Howard and Rebecca Clark, she bequeathed a silver cup, to her so Comby Hood, she left one-half of the rest of her plate, and to her granddaughter Rebecca Hood she gave the other half of her plate her gold chain and gold-spangled necklace, and numerous article of clothing, linen and household stuff. William Lee and her siste Mary Henchman were executors, and Mary Goodwin, Elias Jarvis and John Procter were witnesses.

Children by first wife, born in Boston:

- WILLIAM, b. 27 June 1706.
- MERCY, b. 9 July 1709; living in 1749; m. in Boston, 26 May 1749 ii. Rev. William Welsted officiating, HENRY ELIOT.
- iii. ELIZA[BETH], b. 14 July 1712.
- ABIA (or ABIEL), b. 14 Apr. 1716; living in 1749; m. in Bošton, 7 Apr. 1748, Rev. William Welsted officiating, EDWARD GUFFIT.
 ABIGAIL, b. 25 Jan. 1716 [1716/17]; probably the one who m. in Boston, 5 Feb. 1735, Rev. William Welsted officiating, JOHN PERKINS.

Children by second wife, born in Boston:

There was a William Lay of Boston, victualler, who married, 11 Jan. 1689, Mary Howen daughter of John. Apparently she died not later than 25 July 1694, as on that date William La and Anna Howin, spinster, daughter of John Howin, conveyed the land and house of said Joh Howin to Returne Mullins of Boston, cooper, the deed being signed only by William Lay an Anna Howin, (Suffolk Deeds, lib. 17, fo. 279.)

66 New England Vessels in the Louisbourg Expedition [Jan.

"The ship which we chased came up very fast till within gunshot. Twice he struck his colors. Capt. Griffith in the Casar came across him and they exchanged a broadside with each other. Then Capt. Smithurst [in the Prince of Orange] came across him and did the same. Captain Fletcher [in the Boston Packet] also; and if Capt. Snelling [in the Molineux] had tacked in time, as the chase was running down towards him, we should have taken him. I believe that the chase flung something overboard, which gave him the start of us again. We were not much more than a gunshot from him till it was quite dark, and then had chased him so far that I was afraid of running ashore, and in tacking lost sight of him. For the rest, I refer your Honor to Capt. Rous [of the Shirley]. I expected he would keep in with the shore, so I kept in close by the ice the whole night. The Rhode Island men behave extraordinary well, though their vessels [the Fame and the Casar] sail very bad. They are quite out of wood and water and we have spared them all we can."

The Shirley fired 115 guns at the Renommée in this encounter. Captains Fernald and Saunders commanded the other two vessels that made up the nine mentioned as being in the chase.

On Apr. 19 Captain Smithurst's mate brought into Canso a Cape Ann schooner that had been recently taken by the Prince of Orange off Chapeaurouge Bay (Gabarus Bay), and Captain Saunders returned. Captain Swan sailed at 3 P.M. Captain Fernald, in the New Hampshire Colony sloop Abigail, recaptured the schooner St. Peter on the 18th off Chapeaurouge Bay, and brought her into Canso on April 20.* Pomeroy states that this was the sixth prize brought into Canso.

The Resolution, Captain Donahue, returned to Canso on the 20th, and, carrying thirty soldiers and an officer and accompanied by the Bonetta, Captain Becket, sailed about 6 P.M. on Apr. 21 from Canso for the Bay of Vert, where they were to cruise for the purpose of intercepting and capturing provision vessels, and had orders not to land. On this day, also, Lieut. Col. Edward Evelith of the Fifth Massachusetts Regiment was sent, with seventy men, two schooners (or sloops, according to one diarist), one of which was perhaps the schooner Fishhawk, and five whaleboats, against the town of St. Peter's, on Cape Breton Island. On Apr. 21 Joseph Emerson, chaplain of the Molineux, wrote:

"We saw a sail, gave chase, came up about 11 o'clock, found her to be a sloop who just before we came up retook a schooner which the brig took sometime ago from Boston with stores for the army & wine for the General."

The Shirley returned to Canso Apr. 21. On Apr. 22 the Molineux and the ship Massachusetts were cruising near each other off Cape Breton. On this day H.M.S. Ettham, 40 guns, Capt. Philip Durell, arrived at Canso from Piscataqua, after a voyage of six days. She was the first of His Majesty's vessels to join the Colonial forces. When she received her orders to join the expedition, she was just on the point of sailing for England as convoy for the mast ships, as the vessels were called that carried to Europe the American timber that was to be used for vessels' masts. At 6 o'clock in the evening

*According to Cleaves, at 3 o'clock, Apr. 21. Perhaps he means the preceding afternoon, as this item is followed by accounts of what happened in the morning. Cf. his record in regard to Brimblecomb.

one of the transports, which had been given up as lost, arrived at Canso in good condition.

It was at first planned to add the St. Jean to the fleet of Colonial cruisers and to send her out in search of the St. Peter, but later this was decided to be inadvisable. She was, however, ordered to carry water, wood, and provisions from Canso to the fleet off Louisbourg on Apr. 22. That night a disorderly affray occurred on board the brigantine Victory, and her commander, Capt. John Friend, was on that account replaced by Capt. William Adams.

On the 23d Lieutenant Colonel Evelith returned to Canso from St. Peter's, where he had burned some French houses. He brought with him a French prize sloop laden with wood. They had captured another sloop, but were forced to abandon her, and a third sloop that they chased ran ashore.

Commodore Peter Warren, with H.M.S. Superb, 60 guns, Capt. Richard Tiddeman, H.M.S. Launceston, 40 guns, Capt. Warwick Calmady, and H.M.S. Mermaid, 40 guns, Capt. James Douglas, touched at Canso on Apr. 23, in the forenoon, and then proceeded to Cape Breton to join the Colonial cruisers blockading Louisbourg. The Abigail, Captain Fernald, was sent to blockade the harbor of St. Peter's.

On the morning of Apr. 24 the three men-of-war under Commodore Warren joined the fleet off Louisbourg. The Boston Packet took a schooner loaded with wood, which was formerly commanded by Captain Donnel and had been captured by the French off Annapolis Basin in 1744. The Fame captured a sloop that ran ashore while attempting to escape. She also was loaded with wood. In the afternoon a shallop was taken. These vessels came from St. Peter's and were captured at Margaret's Bay.

It is now necessary to go back in point of time to Apr. 14, when the Connecticut contingent, consisting of five sloops, two brigantines,* and one schooner, eight vessels in all, seven transports and the Connecticut Colony guard sloop Defence, † 12 guns, commanded by Captain Prentice, sailed from New London at 11 o'clock Sunday morning. It should be noted that both the Massachusetts and the Connecticut contingents sailed on Sunday. The Rhode Island Colony sloop Tartar, a brig of 14 guns, Capt. Daniel Fones, accompanied the Connecticut fleet as an additional safeguard. They reached Holmes Hole (Vineyard Haven) on the 13th, Nantucket on the 15th, and Cape Sable on the 21st. One of the transports was the schooner Charming Molly, Captain Byles. Another Connecticut transport was the sloop Diamond, Capt. Ephraim Doane, and five others appear to have been commanded by Captains Coit, Robbins, Mumford, Talcott, and Lais. It is possible that some of these were not in this fleet, but came up to Louisbourg later with reënforcements or supplies. Capt. Aaron Bull commanded a Connecticut transport sloop which

*Cleaves says that one of the Connecticut vessels was a snow.

Francis Parkman in the All online that Vessels with a show. Francis Parkman in the Allantic Monthly for March, 1891, p. 322, wrote: "two sloops hired in Connecticut of 16 guns each." Burrage, p. 22, follows Parkman. He states also that there were 13 vessels in the fleet, viz., Massachusetts, 9; Connecticut, 2; Rhode Island, 1; and New Hampshire, 1. There were in reality 15 armed vessels, viz., Massachusetts, 12 (of which 2 were hired from Rhode Island owners); Connecticut, 1; Rhode Island, 1; and New Hampshire, 1.

102 New England Vessels in the Louisbourg Expedition [April

Captain Bennett sailed from Louisbourg on the 20th and reached Boston July 2, with the first news of the capture of Louisbourg. Early in the morning of the next day, July 3, which was Commencement Day, Governor Shirley ordered all the bells in Boston to be rung and guns to be fired to announce and celebrate the victory.

Captain Bush sailed from Louisbourg for England on the 22d, with Captain Montague and a joint letter from Warren and Pepperell to the Duke of Newcastle. The vessel was reported by a French prize to have been captured and taken into Saint-Malo, yet Captain Montague, with the news of the surrender of Louisbourg, arrived in England on July 20. At 4 o'clock in the afternoon of Tuesday, July 23, the Tower and park guns in London were fired in honor of the capture of Cape Breton, and in the evening London was illuminated, amidst the blaze of many bonfires.

The Shirley, Captain Rous, arrived off Louisbourg from Annapolis, with artillery, on the 24th, but was prevented by a heavy fog from entering the harbor until the 25th.* She saluted the fleet with 17 guns. Coit's, Mumford's, and Robbins's vessels were taken into the King's pay on the 24th. This was doubtless a result of the action of the council of war, which on June 22 advised that eight vessels be used as transports to carry the prisoners to France, viz., two brigantines and a schooner belonging to Connecticut (probably the vessels commanded by Coit, Mumford, and Robbins), two sloops belonging to Boston, commanded by Bramham and Clark, a schooner (? the St. Peter) of York, commanded by Adams, a sloop of Portsmouth (the Abigail), "Jno. Furnell, Master," and two vessels commanded by Robert White and Saml. Barnes. As the only schooner in the Connecticut contingent of Apr. 14 was the Charming Molly, Captain Byles, that had sailed for New England in May, it would seem probable that this schooner and one or both of the brigantines had come later with supplies or reënforcements. The embarkation of the French prisoners and refugees on the transports and warships for their journey to France began on June 24.

The Tartar joined the Resolution and the Bonetta in the Gut of Canso about June 8. The fleet of three vessels, under the command of Fones, cruised for a week in search of the enemy reënforcements, but without success. On the 15th, near Tackquannash in Askmacouse Harbor, Famme Goose Bay, at six in the morning, smoke was sighted to leeward. The Tartar and Bonetta went in pursuit, believing it to be from the fires of the French and Indian troops. Soon after they had disappeared from sight, two sloops, two schooners, a shallopway, and about fifty Indian canoes appeared. The wind having dropped, the Resolution was left helplessly becalmed, and was easily surrounded and attacked by the lighter craft. Captain Donahue and his vessel were dangerously near capture, when a freshening breeze brought back the Tartar and the Bonctia. When these vessels brought their guns to bear on the French and Indians, many were killed. The enemy then retreated into shoal water, the Resolution pursuing them at pistol-shot range until she ran aground, but later she was floated. The French and Indians retreated up the narrow creeks and sought refuge in the woods. They were under the command of M. Marin, a Canadian officer, and were about 1200 in number, being the reënforcements sent from the siege of Annapolis Royal to the relief of Louisbourg. This defeat which they suffered at Famme Goose Bay prevented their crossing to Cape Breton Island and reaching Louisbourg. Two days after this repulse the forces under Pepperell entered the city of Louisbourg.

*Accounts vary, giving Rous's arrival on the 24th, the 25th, and the 26th. Cleaves gives Rous's arrival from Annapolis both on June 26 and July 2.

The fleet under Fones cruised for another week in order to prevent a second attempt of the reënforcements to cross to Cape Breton Island, and then, on the 22d, Captain Fones despatched the Bonetta, Captain Becket, to Canso with news of the defeat of Marin. The Bonetta arrived at Canso June 23.

Returning from Canso, the Bonetta rejoined Fones's fleet and cruised with them until the 26th, when Fones sent additional despatches to Commodore Warren. The Bonetta carried these, touching at Canso on the 27th, speaking the Defence off St. Esprit on the 29th, and reaching Chapcaurouge Bay the same day. Meanwhile the Tartar and the Resolution continued to guard the Gut of Canso. On Saturday, June 29, they sighted four Indians at a place called Fustic, about a league west of the Gut. Captain Donahue and eleven of his men went ashore in his launch to investigate, and were suddenly surrounded and cut off by about 300 Indians. The Tarlar, being within musket shot of the shore, tried to cover the landing party with gunfire, but Captain Donahue and five of his men were killed, the other six being captured. The Indians are reported to have cut open Donahue's chest, to have sucked his blood, and then to have eaten Donahue and the other five slain. Captain Fones in the Tartar, with Captain Donahue's Resolution, reached Canso July 7 with the sad news of Donahue's death, and on the 8th the Resolution sailed into Louisbourg Harbor with her colors hoisted at half-mast. Capt. David Donahue was the only naval commander to lose his life in the expedition of 1745 against Louisbourg.* Capt. Joseph Richardson was appointed captain of the Resolution.

The Massachusetts, Captain Tyng, returning from Annapolis, passed Canso on June 26 without stopping, apparently not seeing the signals of Captain Cutter, the commandant there, and therefore must have reached Louisbourg about the 27th. The Defence sailed from Louisbourg on June 28, spoke the Bonetta, Captain Becket, about 8 o'clock on the 29th off St. Esprit, and anchored at Canso on June 30.

H.M.S. Hector, Captain Cornwall, sailed from Louisbourg June 30 with despatches, and arrived at Boston July 9, "in eight days."

The Defence sailed from Canso at 7 A.M. on July 1 and anchored in Louisbourg Harbor at 11 A.M. on July 3. The Diamond, Capt.

^{*}David Donahue was mate on the Mary galley, of London, which was wrecked, 4 Sept. 1742, in the River Gambia, on the western coast of Africa. The ship was plundered and destroyed by the natives, and her cargo of slaves escaped and barbarously murdered all of the erew except the captain and Donahue. These two hid for twenty-seven days in the remains of the cabin, and finally made their escape and reached Senegal. But Donahue escaped death at the hands of the African savages only to be barbarously killed three years later by the Indians in Nova Scotia.

104 New England Vessels in the Louisbourg Expedition [April

Ephraim Doane, sailed from Louisbourg with sick soldiers on July 2 and reached Canso at 3 P.M. on July 3, sailing again from Canso July 5 for New London.

Captain Giddings, who sailed from Boston June 22 with despatches and several vessels and one company of Colonel Choate's regiment, arrived at Chapeaurouge Bay July 2 and anchored at Louisbourg July 3. Captain Edman also arrived at Louisbourg on the 3d, with a company of Worcester County men.

At least one of the transports that sailed from Boston with part of Colonel Choate's regiment, a day or so after Captain Giddings sailed, arrived at Canso July 3.

On July 3 there arrived at Louisbourg the Fame from Annapolis, a schooner, probably Captain Giddings's, from Boston, the Defence from Canso, and a 20-gun man-of-war, with 200 soldiers, from Newfoundland. H.M.S. Launceston and several transports sailed for France with about 1200 refugees, H.M.S. Lark for Newfoundland, and H.M.S. Superb, Captain Tiddeman, for Boston. Some of the transports may have sailed for New England on July 3.

Captain Robbins, Captain Cerl [? Coit], Captain Mumford, and several sloop transports, six vessels in all, sailed for France July 4, and a schooner from New England, with troops (Cleves says two transports), arrived.

On July 5 Captain Saunders with despatches, II.M.S. Eltham, a schooner (apparently the Hopestill), and the "Annapolis store ship" Blacket and Fenwick, Captain Kitcherman [Kitchenman] sailed for Boston. Captain Saunders arrived on the 14th; the Eltham, the storeship, and a prize sloop with 204 prisoners arrived on the 17th. This last-mentioned may have been one of the vessels that sailed for Canso on the 5th.

The Defence and "two other sloops" sailed from Louisbourg July 5 for Canso, where the Defence arrived on the 6th.

On July 12, in lattitude 42° 16′, between Cape Sable and the Isle of Shoals, the Diamond spoke Captain Saunders in an armed vessel that had sailed from Louisbourg after the Diamond sailed.

Commodore Warren issued orders dated July 5 to Captain Fones and Captain Donahue. The latter, however, had been killed, and Captain Fones was still in the Gut of Canso or Bay of Vert. Captain Fones may have received these orders when the Tartar reached Canso on the 7th, or he may have joined Commodore Warren's squadron on the 8th and then received them. In either case he seems to have returned immediately to the Bay of Vert, following these instructions, and to have gone to Isle de St. Jean, to seize that island and bring away prisoners or hostages. They landed at St. Peter's, on Isle de St. Jean, and, according to Pollard, "devastated the establishment of le sieur Roma, and another [estate belonging] to la Joie, then under the command of an Ensign of foot, M. Dupont Duvivier, and 15 men. Duvivier escaped to the woods and when a party of English advanced into the forest, they were set on by Duvivier, reinforced by a number of Indians and 28 men were killed."*

1923] New England Vessels in the Louisbourg Expedition 105

On July 5, in the morning, a schooner arrived at Louisbourg from Boston via Canso, having on board Colonel Choate and two companies of soldiers. The Shirley, Captain Rous, sailed July 6, amid the salutes of the men-of-war, with despatches for England, where she arrived after a voyage of three weeks. The Molineux, Captain Snelling, with a sloop and schooner, arrived at Louisbourg from Boston with recruits on the 6th.

On the 4th the Molineux spoke a schooner that had sailed on the 23d from Boston for Louisbourg. A Rhode Island schooner commanded by James Jordon arrived at Canso in the afternoon of July 8.* On the 9th seven transports sailed from Louisbourg for Boston with prisoners, and a sloop commanded by Trefethen sailed for Portsmouth. Another diarist says that eight schooners sailed for New England with prisoners on the 9th. A schooner sailed for France on the 10th.

The Defence sailed from Canso for St. Peter's on July 11, spoke Captain Hammond, who was bound for Louisbourg, on the 13th, and returned to Canso on the 15th. A schooner, Captain Jordon, from Canso, three weeks out from Rhode Island, arrived at Louisbourg July 11, and five or six schooners with prisoners and soldiers, together with the Fame, Captain Thompson, with sick soldiers, sailed at 10 A.M. for Boston. Captain Mitchell, in command of a sloop transport, Donahue's Resolution, Captain Richardson, and two schooners (one diarist says two sloops and two schooners) were in the fleet of five or six vessels that sailed for New England on the 12th.

The Boston Packet, Captain Fletcher, on July 13 took a French privateer schooner, 4 guns (4 cannon and 12 swivel guns), from Canada, laden with provisions, and from this vessel it was learned that the Prince of Orange had been captured by the Renommée several weeks before.

Several wood sloops returned from St. Ann to Louisbourg on July 14; a transport sailed at 6 A.M. from Louisbourg, reached Canso on the 15th, passed Cape Negro on the 23d, and reached Boston on the 29th; and the Amplus sailed from Louisbourg about 7 A.M., spoke a brigantine from Massachusetts on the 15th, and at four in the afternoon of the 16th put into Canso, where they found strawberries ripe. The Amplus sailed from Canso at dawn the next day, sighted several vessels from Boston, passed Cape Sable on the 26th, sighted Cape Ann on the 28th, reached Nantasket on the 29th, and anchored at Boston before sunset.

Late in June or early in July Captain Wickham arrived at Boston from Newport with 74 Rhode Island sailors for the Vigilant, 61 of whom were embarked before July 3 on the snow Casar. The Casar was delayed in Boston until July 9, when she was ordered to sail forthwith, and she arrived at Louisbourg July 16, having convoyed six or seven vessels with troops from "the neighboring governments," that is, Rhode Island and Connecticut. These vessels doubtless included the two Rhode Island transports (Sheffield mentions two brigantines, the Success and the Susan), the brigantine Success (which was hired by the Colony before June 18, 1745, from William Ellery "Sheffield, p. 18, says that Jordon arrived at Louisbourg July 25.

Inscriptions at Salem, Conn.

FROM A COPY IN THE POSSESSION OF THE NEW ENGLAND HISTORIC GENEALOGICAL SOCIETY

In this article is given the genealogical, biographical, and historical information derived from the inscriptions prior to 1850, with a few of later date, that are found on gravestones in the present town of Salem, Conn. This town was formed in 1819 from parts of northern Lyme, of Colchester, and of Montville, and several burial places formerly in those older towns are now within its limits. Similar information from inscriptions in the present towns of Old Lyme, Lyme, and East Lyme has already been published in the REGISTER (vol. 77, pp. 194-213, vol. 78, pp. 250-255, 365-387, and vol. 79, pp. 66-80); and to the introductory paragraphs of the article containing the inscriptions at Old Lyme (ib., vol. 77, pp. 194-195) the reader is referred for a brief statement about the successive divisions of the original town of Lyme and the method employed by the Editor in condensing for publication Mrs. M. M. LeBrun's verbatim copy of these inscriptions.

Memoirs

His paternal ancestry has been traced to Robert¹ Carver, said to have been a nephew of Gov. John Carver, who received a grant of land in the Plymouth Colony in 1638 and was buried at Marshfield in April 1680, aged 85, through John² Carver of Duxbury, who was born about 1637, probably at Duxbury, married 4 November 1658 Millicent Ford, daughter of William and Ann Ford of Duxbury, and died at Duxbury 23 June 1679, William³ Carver, who was born at Duxbury 6 September 1659 and died at Marshfield, Mass., 2 October 1760, "more than one hundred years old," according to report, William⁴ Carver of Marshfield, who was born there 29 October 1685 and married first, 8 February 1712, Abigail Branch, daughter of John and Mary (Speed) Branch, Reuben⁵ Carver, who was born at Marshfield 6 December 1718, married Mary Phillips, and about 1766 moved to Fox Island, Me., Amos⁶ Carver, who was born at Marshfield in 1749 and married Anna Lane of Vinalhaven, Me., Isaac7 Carver of Searsport, who was born at Fox Island 22 April 1775, married Hannah Nichols, daughter of James and Hannah (Caldwell) Nichols of Londonderry, N. H., and died 17 October 1830, Woodburn⁸ Carver, who was born at Searsport 8 December 1803, married in 1828 Mary Pendleton, daughter of Phineas and Nancy (Gilmore) Pendleton, and died at Searsport in 1889, and Nathan Pendleton⁹ Carver, his father, who was born at Searsport 8 February 1829, married there, 7 August 1851, Frances Abbie Pendleton, daughter of Joseph and Frances (Coombs) Pendleton, and died in Boston 5 May 1904.

Mr. Carver was descended also from Maj. Bryan Pendleton, who was at Watertown, Mass., as early as 1634, at Sudbury in 1639, at Watertown again in 1646, when he became a member of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company, at Ipswich in 1649, and at Portsmouth, N. H., in 1651, and, wherever he was, was prominent, influential, and resourceful, filling offices of trust, representing different towns in the General Court, and commanding military forces, "a great ringleader to others," as Randolph said of him in his report to the authorities in England in 1676.

Mr. Carver was educated in the public schools of Boston and at Boston University, where he received the degree of Bachelor of Laws in 1882. He was admitted to the bar at Boston in the same year, and in 1888 was admitted to practice before the United States Supreme Court. He began his law practice as a member of the firm of Carver & Blodgett, later Carver, Wardner & Goodwin, and later still Carver, Wardner, Cavanagh & Walker, with offices in both Boston and New York. He made a specialty of international, commercial, and admiralty law. He retired from active practice in 1922, and after that maintained a residence in Camden, S. C., as well as in Brookline.

He was a director and member of the finance committee of the Boston Insurance Company and the Old Colony Insurance Company, a director of the Massachusetts Bonding & Indemnity Company, a voting trustee of the Bangor & Aroostook Railroad, and vice president of the International Law Association, representing the United States. He was a member also of the American Bar Association and the Bar Association of the City of Boston. He had been a member of the Algonquin Club, the Boston Art Club, the Union League Club of New York, and the Richmond County Country Club.

Interested in genealogy, Mr. Carver had visited Leyden, Holland, where Isaac Carver, said to be the father of his immigrant ancestor, Robert Carver, had died. He counted among his treasures the family Bible of his greatgrandfather, Isaac⁷ Carver, which contains the vital records of some of the Marshfield family.

Mr. Carver married at Searsport, 11 August 1886, Clara Thurston Porter, who was born at Searsport 15 August 1863, daughter of Robert and Lois A. 1927] years, when custom and precedent were forced to make concessions to progress and advancement, he substituted an automobile for his phaëton, and derived much pleasure from extended automobile trips. For several years Mr. Mumford and his family had spent only week-ends in Plainfield. Their summers were spent at East Hampton, Long Island.

THOMAS JEFFERSON MUMFORD, of Plainfield, N. J., lawyer, financier, agriculturist, and philanthropist, a Pilgrim Tercentenary member since 1919, was born at Pleasant Mount. Wayne Co., Pa., 28 February 1843, the son of Thomas Hillibridge and F New York City 19 March 1924.

His club affiliations were many, and included, among others, the Union League Club, the Long Island Country Club, the Plainfield Country Club, the Baltusrol Golf Club, the Westchester-Biltmore Country Club, the Maidstone Country Club of East Hampton, and the Sahmanuser Club in the Adirondacks.

Mr. Mumford was a liberal supporter of many worthy institutions and charities. In a tribute to his memory it was said that his "life was lived for those about him who were in need of succor and assistance; his thoughts gravitated naturally toward charity and helpfulness; and his long and singularly beneficent life was the epitome of good works, right thinking, and noble striving toward the bright goal of final reward." Among his notable benefactions were the Day Nursery, which he generously gave to the King's Daughters and liberally maintained, the handsome rectory of Grace Church, Plainfield, which he built, equipped, and presented to the parish in 1914, and a donation of $25,000, in which Mrs. Mumford joined, made shortly before his death, to the building fund of the Young Women's Christian Association. "His hand also," it has been said, "was open generously to every worthy case of need, and his kindness in every way was proverbial; he was always ready to assist every good cause and considerable assistance he gave without letting his left hand know what his right hand gave."

He married first, at Harrisburg, Pa., Clara Gibson McKinley, who died 10 July 1912; and secondly, at Plainfield, N. J., 19 June 1919, Mrs. Gertrude (Aron) Quick, daughter of Charles E. and Elizabeth (McGee) Aron of Plainfield. No children were born of these two marriages. Mrs. Mumford survived her husband, together with a stepdaughter, Dorothy Quick, and two sisters, Mrs. George Price of Washington, D. C., and Ada Mumford of Lawrence, Kans.

MRS. ANA BYRD (HALL) HALL, of Stamford, Conn., a resident member since 1919, was born in New York City 22 June 1852, the daughter of Alvah and Sophia Errett (Pettigrew) Hall, and died at her home, "Woodburn Grange," in Stamford, 20 March 1924.

Though an enthusiastic genealogist, she had not filed her ancestry with the Society; but it is known that her father, Alvah Hall, born at Bartlett, N. H., 10 April 1816, was the son of Elias Hall of Bartlett (a selectman there for three years and toll keeper of the Union Bridge) and grandson of Joseph Hall of Bartlett. Her mother was born in New York City 24 September 1820, the daughter of Robert and Helen (Boistreage) Pettigrew.

Mrs. Hall was educated at the Ferris Institute, in New York City. As a young woman she was among the most brilliant of the amateur musicians of New York, and music continued to be to her, through all her life, an inspiration and delight. She early became interested in Egyptology, and she devoted such painstaking study to genealogical research and writing that it has been said of her: "These dim figures of the past became real to her and she wove the scattered records of their lives into pictures as vivid and as full of quaint interest and action as the tapestries with which her skillful needle decorated her home."

"A devoted and loyal American," says a local paper, "her aid to the Stamford Chapter of the American Red Cross and other charitable enterprises was unfailing. She was a member of the Stamford Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, and of several genealogical societies."

She was married 4 June 1883 to Albert Clement Hall, who was born at St. Johnsbury, Vt., 6 May 1848, the son of Dudley Pettingill and Amelia Hibbard (Gregory) Hall. Her husband and two children, Albert Clement Hall, Jr., of Stamford, Conn., and Mrs. William Eric Morrison of West Point, N. Y., survived her.

with the installation of a three-tier bookstack in one of the vaults of the Society and another tier on the bookstack in the Library. It was in no way the fault of any officer of the Society that these bookstacks were not installed during the summer and Wilder Hall cleared in time for the October meeting, as the contract for the work had been let early enough and the contractor had promised to have everything out of the way before the October meeting.

The minutes of the May meeting were read and approved, and the reports of the Corresponding Secretary, Librarian, Historian, and Council were accepted, the Council reporting that since the May meeting members of the Society had been elected as follows:

The most distinguished Abbott family of England originated in Guildford, co. Surrey, a town about thirty miles southwest from London. Maurice or Morris Abbott, said to have been born in Farnham, co. Surrey, about 1520, but of unknown ancestry, became a successful clothier at Guildford, where he died in 1606. Of his six sons three became especially eminent. The third son, Robert Abbot, D.D., born about 1560, rose in the church to the high position of Bishop of Salisbury in 1615. The fourth son, George Abbot, D.D., born in 1562, became Bishop of Lichfield in 1609, Bishop of London in 1610, and in 1611 attained the highest preferment in the church when he was appointed Archbishop of Canterbury. The fifth son, Sir Morris Abbot, Knight, born about 1564, became an eminent London merchant, a member of Parliament, governor of the East India Company, and Lord Mayor of London in 1638. The coat of arms of this distinguished Abbott family was Gules, a chevron between three pears pendent stalked, or. Although there is no known or even likely connection between this Abbott family and the Abbotts of Herts, it is a curious fact that on the original will of John Abbott, yeoman, of Sawbridgeworth, co. Herts (a parish five miles south from Bishops-Stortford), dated 20 Mar. 1637/8, is a seal having a chevron between three small objects which are difficult to distinguish, but which may be meant for pears. (Commissary Court of London for Essex and Herts, original will, 1638, no. 107.)

Bishops-Stortford, the home of at least five generations of the paternal ancestors of George Abbott of Roxbury and Andover, Mass., is a thriving market town and parish about thirty miles northeast from London, on the extreme eastern border of Hertfordshire, adjoining the county of Essex. The parish is bounded on the north by Farnham, on the east by Birchanger and Great Hallingbury, all in Essex, on the south by Thorley, and on the west by Little Hadham, both in Herts. The place has been known for centuries as Bishops-Stortford, because the manor of Stortford has belonged to the Bishops of London from a period prior to the Norman Conquest. For centuries the parish has had a population of a few thousand, and its present inhabitants number about eight thousand. Grain dealing and malt manufacture have long been the largest industries of the town.

The parish church, dedicated to St. Michael, is situated on a hill, and is a fine, large, stone structure, dating from early in the fourteenth century. A peal of ten bells hangs in the massive tower. The registers begin in 1561, although they are imperfect for the earlier years; and there are unusually valuable church wardens' accounts, dating from as early as 1431.

The descent of George Abbott of Roxbury and Andover, Mass., progenitor of a numerous New England family, from William Abbott of Bishops-Stortford, co. Herts, who lived about 1470-1532, is set forth in the following pedigree.

1. WILLIAM ABBOTT, of Bishops-Stortford, co. Herts, born probably about 1470, was living as late as 21 Nov. 1532. The name of his wife is unknown.

He is first found in the records in 1509, when he was a church warden, an office which he held also in 1517 and 1518, as is shown by the ancient churchwardens' accounts. In 1523 his name appears at Stortford in a subsidy of 14 Henry VIII, the amount of his assessment being illegible on the badly damaged roll. (Lay Subsidies, Herts, 120/117, in the Public Record Office, London.) At a general court of the manor of Bishops-Stortford, held on the Thursday before St. Catherine's Day,* 24 Henry VIII [21 Nov. 1532], Will. Abbot was one of twenty-four jurors on an inquisition. (Court Roll 171/37, in the Public Record Office, London.) These five records furnish all the information that has been found concerning William

While no positive proof has been discovered that he had a family, it is probable that he was father of at least one Child:

- 2. JOHN ABBOTT (William), of Bishops-Stortford, co. Herts, born about 1495, was living as late as 1545. The name of his wife is unknown.

He was a resident of Bishops-Stortford as early as 1523, when he was assessed in a subsidy of 14 Henry VIII, for goods worth 40s., the amount of his tax being illegible. (Lay Subsidies, Herts, 120/117.) He also appears in the following later subsidies: in 34 Henry VIII [1542-43], tax 3s. 4d.; in 35 Henry VIII [1543-44], tax 3s. 4d. on goods worth £10; and in 37 Henry VIII [1545-46], tax also 3s. 4d. (1b. 120/160, 121/157, 121/171.) In a rental roll of the Bishop of London for his manor of Stortford in 37 Henry VIII [1545-46] it appears that "John Abot paies for a tenement that he dwelleth in on the est syed of northstrete by yere xx d." (Court Roll 299, in the Public Record Office, London.) As John Abbott left no will, the names of his children cannot be stated with certainty; but he was probably father of at least two Children:

- JOHN, of Bishops-Stortford, b. about 1520; bur. at Bishops-Stortford 8 Apr. 1570; m. about 1543 JOANE CARROWE, daughter of Thomas and Joane Carrowe. The will of his father-in-law, of which an abstract is here given, supplies some information about his family : The Will of Thomas Carrowe of Stortford, co. Herts, dated
 - 25 June 1548. To my wife Joane, my son Thomas (under twenty-one), and my daughters Mary, Dorothy, and Grace (under twenty-one). To my daughter Kyng and my son-in-law Robert Kyng. I give my daughter Joane no moncy, as it would not serve her husband two months; therefore I give her for life my house in Northgate where Whayt now dwells and my house where the Coryor dwells. Remainders at her decease to her sons John Abbot and Awbery Abbot. To John Abbot, my daughter's son, £10 at twenty-one, to her son Awbery £6. 8s. 4d, and to her daughter Joane £5 at eighteen. Executors: William Archer and Robt. Kyng. Proved 3 May 1551. (P. C. C., Bucke, 14.) Children:

*The Feast of St. Catherine fell on 25 November.

1. John. of Bishops-Stortford, b. about 1543; bur. at Bishops-Stortford 26 Oct. 1579; m. 18 Sept. 1569 Susanna Shere-wood. In 1575 Francis Saunton als. Mathewe was guerent v. John Abbotte and his wife Susanna, deforciants, for a messuage in Stortford. (Feet of Fines, Herts, Easter Term, 17 Elizabeth, in the Public Record Office, London.) Children: Mary, bapt. 5 May 1570; m. 3 Apr. 1592 Thomas Durdefall. Thomas, bapt. 1 July 1572.

Aubery, b. about 1545.

3. Joane, b. about 1547; m. 27 Apr. 1578 John Momford. WILLIAM, b. about 1525 and probably named for his grand-3. ii. father.

3. WILLIAM ABBOTT (John, William), of Bishops-Stortford, co. Herts, born at Bishops-Stortford about 1525, died in Mar. 1569. He married, about 1550, MARGARET -

He was a man of good estate, and appears in the churchwardens' accounts as paying poor-rate assessments of 12d. in 1558 and of 4s. 4d. in 1566. In the autumn of 1564 Henry Parseley was querent v. William Abbott and his wife Margaret, deforciants, for a messuage and land in Stortford. (Feet of Fines, Herts, Michaelmas Term, 6 and 7 Elizabeth.) William Abbott is also of record in two subsidies at Stortford, paying in 5 Elizabeth [1563] 10s 8d. on lands worth £4 and in 8 Elizabeth [1566] 5s. 4d. on lands worth £4. (Lay Subsidies, Herts, 121/202, 121/208.) An abstract of his will is here given.

The Will of WILLIAM ABBOTT of Stortford, co. Herts, dated 12 Mar. 1568/9. To my wife Margarett my messuage where I dwell, with the tenement adjoining, where Thomas Smith dwells, together with the appertaining crofts, lands, etc., until my son George be twenty-one years old, and then it is to remain to him. To my said wife Margaret my other lands in Stortford and a piece of land which I late bought of my cousin Elliott in Farnham, with remainder to my sons, John. Robert, and Thomas Abbott (all under twenty-one). All the residue to my wife Margaret, to bring up my children, and she is to be sole executrix. Supervisor: my cousin Rowland Elliot. Witnesses: Robert Gooday, William Barnarde. Proved 29 Mar. 1569. (Commissary Court of London for Essex and Herts, Meade, 111.)

GEORGE ABBOTT (William, John, William), of Bishops-Stortford, co. Herts, yeoman, born at Bishops-Stortford about 1550, 4. was buried 11 Jan. 1619/20. He married, about 1576, BRIDGET -, who was buried 13 Aug. 1625.

George Abbott succeeded to the homestead of his father according to the latter's will. His name appears several times on the court rolls of the manor of Bishops-Stortford. On. 13 Apr. 1577 he was amerced 3d. for default of suit of court; on 6 Apr. 1583, 30 Mar. 1585, and 27 Sept. 1585, he was one of the chief pledges; and on 1 Oct. 1604 he was ordered to make two easy stiles in his croft out of Napton Field into London Lane before Hallowtyde [All Saints' Day, 1 November] next, and so to keep them, upon pain of forfeiting 10s. (Court Rolls 205/21, 206/2, 206/3, and 189/30.) In 1596 he sold some property in Bishops-Stortford by the following fine: John Gace and Thomas Myller, querents, v. George Abbott and his wife Bridget and Edward Hake, gentleman, and his wife Margaret, deforciants, for two messuages, with lands, in Stortford. (Feet of Fines, Herts, Easter Term, 38 Elizabeth.) On 20 Sept. 1602 he was a witness to the will of John Gace of Stortford (P.C.C., Montague, 61), and in 1608 he was churchwarden. An abstract of his will follows.

The Will of GEORGE ABBOTT THE ELDER of Stortford, co. Herts, yeoman, dated 12 Oct. 1619. To my eldest son, George Abbott, my table and frame, stools, benchboard, and cupboard in the hall of the messuage in Stortford where I dwell, and also the bedstead in the chamber over said room. To my wife Bridgitt all my other household stuff, maintenance for life in my said messuage, meet for an aged woman, and an annuity of 40s. out of my said messuage, with lands of eighteen acres, to be paid at the four quarterly feasts, and these bequests are to be in lieu of dower; but, if she prefer to remove from said messuage and to live elsewhere, then she is to have an annuity of £6 out of my said messuage, in lieu of dower. To my said son George Abbott and his heirs my said messuage and lands at my decease, he paying to my wife as aforesaid and also paying to my son Edward Abbott, within one year of my decease, - Marshe of Chrissing, co. Essex, yeoman (father-£30, so as ---in-law to my said son Edward) shall deliver, within six months of my decease, to my said son George an obligation wherein said Marshe shall be bound in £60 to my said son George to pay within one year to my son Edward Abbott £40 of the £50 which he promised on the marriage of his daughter to my son Edward; and, if said Marshe fail to pay, then my gift to my son Edward is to be void. If my son George fail to pay the £30 to my son Edward, the latter is to have my croft of three acres, in two parcels, next the commons, called Chalnerscroft or Chalkcroft. To my daughter Joane (if she happen to be a widow before her two children be of age) £10. To the two daughters of my daughter Anne (now wife of Mathewe Reeve) 20s. each at twenty-one or marriage. All the residue to my son George Abbott, who is to be sole executor. Witnesses: Thomas Miller, Thomas Barnarde, Sr., scr. [Signed] Georg Abbott. Proved 8 Feb. 1619/20 by the executor. (Commissary Court of London for Essex and Herts, original will, 1619, no. 133.)

yearly the rent thereof to the said Agneis, my wife, for life. To my said son Thomas for life my meadow of two acres I late bought of Mr. Tomson in Stortford, on the backside of Cawton the tanner, with remainder to my son Robert Chaundler and his heirs, and, if the said Robert die without issue, then remainder to my son John Chaundeler and his heirs. To my son Robert Chaundler and his heirs and assigns for ever my dove house, yard, and barn, my tenement in Stortford I late bought of Wardall, and my croft and pasture I late bought of John Turnor. I will have it remembered that I have surrendered my copyhold lands and tenements by the hands of Raf Smyth and Richard Bedwell, tenants of the lord's customary, for the use of Robert Chaundler, my son, and his heirs and assigns, he paying yearly to my wife Agneis the rent thereof for life. To Robert Chaundler £20. I will that my son Robert Chaundler pay to Anne Chaundler, the daughter of John Chaundler, 5 marks at the day of his [sic] marriage, and to Barbara Chaundler, daughter of Thomas Chaundler, 5 marks at the day of her marriage, and to Margaret Bedwell, my daughter's daughter, 5 marks at the day of her marriage. To my wife Agneis a lease of a meadow and tene-ment I late bought of Stonard. To six poor men of Stortford a pair of hose each. To six poor children of the same town a coat each. All the residue of my goods to my wife Agneis, who is to be executrix; and John Chaundler and Robert Chaundler are to be executors with her. Supervisor: my son-in-law Richard Bedwell. Witnesses: Raif Smythe, George Hawkyns, and Willm Bardnerd. Proved on the oaths of Agnes and Robert Chaundler, executors, 23 May 1554, with power reserved for John Chandler, the other executor, when he shall demand it. (Commissary Court of London for Essex and Herts, Garland, 7.)

Children, born probably at Bishops-Stortford:

- JOHN, b. about 1525.
- THOMAS, ancestor of the Chandler family in America, b. about 3. i. 4. ii.
 - AGNES, b. about 1530; m. about 1550 RICHARD BEDWELL of Bishopsiii. Stortford.
 - ROBERT, b. about 1532; bur. at Stortford 2 Aug. 1611; m. before iv. 1560 JOANE -

He was an executor of his father's will in 1554, paid an assessment of 10d. on the churchwardens' accounts in 1558, and was taxed at Bishops-Stortford 2s. 8d. on lands valued at 20s. in the subsidy of 5 Elizabeth [1562-63], 16d, on lands valued at 20s. in the subsidy of 8 Elizabeth [1565-66], and 10s. 8d. on goods valued at £4 in the subsidy of 39 Elizabeth [1596-97]. (Lay Subsidies, Herts, 121/202, 121/208, 121/271.) In 1570 John Miller was querent v. Robert Chaundeler and his wife Joan, deforciants, for a messuage in Stortford (Feet of Fines, Herts, Easter Term, 12 Elizabeth). On 6 Apr. 1583, 24 Sept. 1583, and 27 Sept. 1585, Robert Chaundler appears as one of the chief pledges at courts and views of frankpledge held for the manor of Stortford (Court Rolls of Ecclesiastical Commis-sioners, 206/2, 206/3, in the Public Record Office, London). He left no will; and, as the parish registers do not give the names of the parents of infants baptized prior to 1580, the list of his children that follows, while probably correct, should not be considered as positively proved.

Children, recorded at Bishops-Stortford:

JOHN CHANDLER (Thomas, Thomas), of Bishops-Stortford, co. 3. Herts, born, probably at Bishops-Stortford, about 1525, was living 17 Mar. 1581/2. He married, about 1550, JOANE

He was a considerable legatee in his father's will of 1554, and was also named in it as an executor. But little mention of him, however, has been found. In 1563 John Denyzon was querent v. John Chaundeler and his wife Joane, deforciants, for a messuage and lands in Stortford (Feet of Fines, Herts, Easter Term, 5 Elizabeth, in the Public Record Office, London). At a court and view of frankpledge of the manor of Stortford, held 17 Mar. 1581/2, John Chandler appears as one of the chief pledges (Court Rolls of Ecclesiastical Commissioners, 206/2, in the Public Record Office, London). As he left no will, and as the parish registers of Bishops-Stortford do not give the names of the parents of children baptized before 1580, the names of his children are not known with certainty, but are probably as here given.

TOBIAS, of Bishops-Stortford, tanner, b. about 1551; bur. at Bishops-Stortford, as "Tobias Chandler old man," 24 Oct. 1629; m. 21 Sept. 1574 JOHANE MOMFORD, who was bur. at Bishops-Stortford 29 June 1618.

He was churchwarden at Bishops-Stortford in 1598. He was taxed at Stortford on goods in the subsidy of 39 Elizabeth [1596-97]. the amount of the tax being illegible, and he was taxed there 8s. on goods valued at £3 in the subsidy of 43 Elizabeth [1600-01]. (Lay Subsidies, Herts, 121/271, 121/280.) At a court of the manor of Pigotts in Stortford, held there At a court of the manor of Figots in Stortford, here there 1 Oct., 4 James I [1606], Tobias Chaundeler, Sr., appeared as essoin for Thomas Chaundeler, probably his uncle (Herts Gene-alogist and Antiquary, vol. 2, pp. 377-378). On 9 Dec. 1618 he was a witness to the will of his cousin, Henry Chandler (5).

The will of Tobias Chandler, Sr., of Stortford, co. Herts, tanner, was dated 20 Aug. 1627. In it he bequeathed to his three daughters, Margaret, Jhone, and Grace, beds, blankets, sheets, etc.; to his son John a doublet, etc., and his least Bible; to his son Robert his best horse and greatest Bible; to his son George his horseman's "coote," etc.; to Henry Moncke a shirt; and to Mr. Dillingham 6s. 8d., to preach at his burial. Wit-nesses: William Dillingham, Tho: Jennynges. The will was proved 24 Nov. 1629. (Commissary Court of London for Essex and Herts, original will, 1629.)

Children, recorded at Bishops-Stortford:

1. Tobias, probably a son of Tobias and Johane (Momford) Chandler, although he was not named in the will of his supposed father, bapt. at Bishops-Stortford 21 Sept. 1575 as Tobias Chandler [parents' names not given]; m. 22 Apr. 1604 Katherine Johnson, who in her will, dated 16

Apr. 1662 and proved 4 Oct. 1662, names her son-in-law, William Gyatt, her sons Henry and Thomas, her grandchild Alice Birch, her grand-children Luce and Mary Shuckford, and her son-in-law Thomas Shuckford, whom she makes executor. 4. THOMAS CHANDLER (Thomas, Thomas), of Bishops-Stortford, co. Herts, ancestor of the Chandler family of America, was born, probably at Bishops-Stortford, about 1528, and was buried there 4 June 1611, aged over 83 years. He married, about 1552, JOANE ------, who was buried at Bishops-Stortford 11 Mar. 1606/7.

The earliest mention found of him is in the subsidy of 4 Edward VI [1549/50-1550/1], when as "Thomas Chaundler jun." he was assessed at Stortford 10s. on goods. He is taxed at Stortford in subsequent subsidies as follows: in 5 Elizabeth [1562-63], as "Thomas Chaundeler," 13s. 4d. on goods valued at £8; in 8 Elizabeth [1565-66] and in 13 Elizabeth [1570-71], as "Thomas Chandler," 8s. on goods valued at ± 8 ; in 39 Elizabeth [1596-97], as "Thomas Chandler," on goods, the amount of the tax being illegible; in 43 Elizabeth [1600-01], as "Thomas Chandeler," 8s. on lands worth 40s.; and in 3 James I [1605-6] as "Thomas Chandler," on lands worth 20s., the amount of the tax being illegible. (Lay Subsidies, Herts, 121/185, 121/202, 121/208, 121/225, 121/271, 121/280, 121/ 302, in the Public Record Office, London.)

In 1556 Henry Hoye was querent v. Thomas Chaundeler and his wife Joane, deforciants, for a messuage and lands in Stortford (Feet of Fines, Herts, Trinity Term, 2 and 3 Philip and Mary).

Thomas Chandler also appears for many years in the churchwardens' accounts. In 1558 he paid an assessment of 12d.; in 1562 he paid 5s. for wood in Thorleywyk; in 1573 he was collector for the market house and in 1582 he paid 12s. rent. The churchwardens' rental accounts show that in 1592 Philologus Bush and Robert Smith held a double tenement in South Street, formerly Bowyers, where they resided, each paying 6d. per year. In the next year (1593) the said double tenement was held by Philologus Bush and Thomas Chandler, the latter evidently having secured Smith's moiety. Philologus Bush and Thomas Chandler continue to reside there, and appear there yearly until 1600, when Thomas Chandler is succeeded by Henry Chandler. Then Philologus Bush and Henry Chandler appear there yearly until 1619, when the latter is succeeded by his widow. These records are important, since they show that Henry Chandler was undoubtedly a son of Thomas Chandler and about 1600 received from him this half tenement. After the death of Thomas Chandler in 1611, it is recorded that Edward Chandeler held Lowemeade, late Thomas

After attending the elementary public schools Frederick Sturdivant Vaill was a pupil at the Gunnery School at Washington, Conn., the Friends' New England Boarding School (now the Moses Brown School) at Providence, R. I., and the Collegiate School of Duane and Everson in New York City. He began work with the firm of Deering & Milliken of Portland, but soon accepted a position with Clarence Whitman & Company, a dry-goods commission house, in New York City, and for several years was a travelling salesman in the West. About forty years ago he returned to Portland, where, in partnership with his brother, Edward Griswold Vaill, he carried on successfully a real-estate business, from which he retired in 1915.

In his later years he spent his winters at St. Augustine, where he took an active part in the civic life of the community. He served for several years as vice president of the St. Augustine Public Library Association, and at the time of his death was a member of the Board of Trustees of the Library. In 1924 he was appointed one of nine delegates to represent the City of St. Augustine and the State of Florida at the coremonies in Aviles, Spain, when the remains of Don Pedro Menendez were moved to another sarcophagus in the Church of St. Augustine Historical Society: and on the death of Chauncey M. Depew, the president, he succeeded to that office, which he held until January 1930.

His interest in patriotic, historical, and religious organizations was great. He was a charter member and at one time governor of the Society of Mayflower Descendants in the State of Maine, a member and treasurer of the Maine Society of Colonial Wars, a member of the Maine Society, Sons of the American Revolution, the Maine Historical Society, the Maine Genealogical Society, and the Huguenot Society of South Carolina, and a trustee of the University of the South. He was also senior warden of Trinity Church (Protestant Episcopal), St. Augustine, and belonged to the Masonic fraternity. He did much to make outdoor life possible for the young. Among the pines island to the Young Women's Christian Association for a girls' camp. Besides his home in Florida, he owned a large estate, "Broad Acres," at Yarmouth, Me., where he kept a valuable collection of articles of the Colonial and Revolutionary periods.

He did much to make outdoor interpossible for the young seven miles from of his large and beautiful estate bordering the Matanzas, some seven miles from St. Augustine, he built a spacious lodge for the use of the Boy Scouts, and nearby he erected a similar building as a camp for the use of the young people of the Episcopal Diocese. In Maine he gave the use of ten acres of his wooded island to the Young Women's Christian Association for a girls' camp.

He married at Silverhill, Ala., 5 October 1925, Evelyn Wilkes, a native of Chicago, Ill., daughter of Henry A. and Mary Etta (Boston) Wilkes, who, with a son, Frederick Sturdivant Vaill, survives him.

Mrs. Vaill, who is regent of the Maria Jefferson Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, of St. Augustine, has succeeded to the Pilgrim Tercentenary membership in the New England Historic Genealogical Society formerly held by her husband.

CHARLES WINTHROP GOULD, B.A., M.A., LL.B., of Santa Barbara, Calif, elected a Pilgrim Tercentenary member 9 June 1920, was born in New York City 19 August 1849, the son of Charles and Henrietta Saltonstall (Mumford) Gould, and died at Santa Barbara 18 March 1931.

He was a descendant of Richard' Gould, 1662-1746, who emigrated about 1700 from North Tawton, co. Devon, England, to Branford, Conn., through Dr. William,² 1692/3-1757, William,³ 1727-1805, whose second wife was Mary (Guy) Johnson, widow of Timothy Johnson, Hon. James,⁴ 1770-1838, B.A. (Yale, 1791), M.A. (ib., 1794), LL.D. (ib., 1819), tutor at Yale College, 1793-

1795, judge of the Superior Court of Connecticut, who married Sally McCurdy Tracy, and Charles,⁶ his father, who was born at Litchfield, Conn., 30 September 1811, married 6 May 1835 Henrietta Saltonstall Mumford (born 21 December 1811, died at Santa Barbara 11 November 1889, daughter of Thomas and Mary Sheldon (Smith) Mumford), and died 8 September 1870.

He received his early education in the public schools, and entered the College of the City of New York, but withdrew from that institution near the end of his sophomore year to join the Class of 1870, Yale College, with which he was graduated with the degree of Bachelor of Arts. In 1873 he received from Yale the degree of Master of Arts.

For a short time he was engaged in sheep raising in the West; but soon he returned to New York City, studied law in the office of Porter, Lourie & Soren, and attended the Columbia Law School, where in 1872 he was admitted to the degree of Bachelor of Laws. He then entered the law office of Arnoux, Ritch & Woodford, later practised his profession alone, then became connected with the firm of Vanderpoel, Green & Cuming, and finally was senior partner in the firm of Gould & Wilkie. He retired from practice in 1916, and made his home in California.

He was appointed by President McKinley as counsel to the Commission on the Evacuation of Cuba, and was subsequently sent there to furnish relief for the "Reconcentration." As a result of the merciful policy of President McKinley 80,000 people were returned to their destroyed homes and the agricultural life of two of the largest provinces in Cuba was resumed.

After his retirement from the practice of law Mr. Gould took up the study of biology and anthropology. He wrote occasional articles for the newspapers, and was the author of "America, a Family Matter," 1921, and "Mental Tests and History."

He was a trustee of the Metropolitan Museum of Art from 1915 to 1930, when he was elected advisory trustee for life, a trustee, 1915–1929, and secretary, 1924–1926, of the Cooper Union, an officer of the Society for the Relief of Cuban Orphans, an organization which he had helped to found, a member of the University. Tuxedo, and Yale Clubs and the Down Town Association, and an associate member of the Boone and Crockett Club.

He married 20 January 1881 Louise Adele Dickerson, who died 30 October 1883, daughter of Edward Nicoll and Caroline (Nystrom) Dickerson. They had no children.

Mr. Gould's nephew, Col. John Winthrop Barnes, U.S.A., has succeeded him in his Pilgrim Tercentenary membership in the New England Historic Genealogical Society.

WILLEY LYON KINGSLEY, B.A., M.D., of Rome, N. Y., manufacturer, banker, benefactor of the Society, elected a life member 1 December 1925, was born at Rome 28 June, 1866, the son of Hon. Willey Josiah Paschal and Georgeanna Manolt (Vogell) Kingsley, and died suddenly at West Palm Beach, Fla., 6 April 1931.

His father, Hon. Willey Josiah Paschal Kingsley, M.D. (New York Medical College, 1855), organizer of various manufacturing companies, founder of a hospital for the treatment of malignant growths, mayor of Rome, 1895–1899, was born at Frankfort, N. Y., 9 July 1824, the son of Obadiah and Lydia Jane (Tucker) Kingsley, married at Utica, N. Y., 4 December 1860, Georgeanna Manolt Vogell (born at Elmira, N. Y., 13 June 1837, died at Rome 15 June 1919, daughter of Rev. Henry C. and Amelia M. (Grant) Vogell), and died at Rome 26 January 1912.

His early education was received from private teachers in his own home, and there he was prepared for admission to Yale, where he was graduated with the degree of Bachelor of Arts in 1886. He then entered the Harvard Medical School, and in 1891 received from Harvard the degree of Doctor of Medicine. Returning to Rome, he formed a partnership with his father under the name of W. J. P. Kingsley & Son, and after the death of his father he carried on the business alone.

He was chairman of the Board of the Farmers National Bank & Trust Company, owner of the Rome Sporting Goods Manufacturing Company, and then was tutored by Harris R. Green. He entered Brown University with the Class of 1871, but left at the end of his sophomore year.

From 1877 to 1881 he was engaged at Worcester in the manufacture of boots and shoes, in partnership with his father. After the death of his father he and G. A. Child bought 22,000 acres of land in Coleman County, Tex., fenced it in, and began to raise sheep and cattle. In this business, however, he was not successful, and he returned to the manufacture of boots and shoes and became president of the Lestershire Boot & Shoe Company at Lestershire, N. Y. Later he founded the Child-Chamberlain Company, with an office in Boston and a factory at Newport, N. H., and he also established the Rubberhide Company, makers of rubber boots combined with leather soles. He retired from business in 1921 to devote his time to the culture of orchids and to research in genealogy.

From 1876 to 1879 he was a member of the Worcester Light Infantry, Company C, Tenth Regiment, Massachusetts Volunteer Militia. In 1880 he was an unsuccessful candidate, on the Democratic ticket, for representative from Worcester in the General Court.

He was an authority on orchids and their growth, and at the time of his death he was engaged in writing a book on "The Sport of Orchid Hunting."

Because of his thorough study and knowledge of the history and literature of Italy, he was made by the King of Italy a commander of the Order of the Crown of Italy.

He was a member of the Boston Natural History Society, the American Orchid Society, the New England Botanical Club, and the Brown University Club of Boston. He was also a communicant of the Protestant Episcopal Church.

He married 7 November 1878 Susanna Sawyer Messinger, daughter of David Sewell and Harriet (Sawyer) Messinger, who, with one son, Hon, Richard Washburn Child, A.B. (Harvard, 1903), LL.B. (ib., 1906), LL.D., (Colgate University, 1924), commander of the Order of the Crown of Italy, grand cordon of the Order of St. Maurice and St. Lazarus of Italy, United States Ambassador to Italy, 1921-1924, survives h.m., as does a sister, Mrs. Charles Summer Bird (Anna J. Child) of Walpole, Mass., who since 3 April 1923 has been a life member of the New England Historic Genealogical Society.

ANDREW GRAY WEEKS, A.B., of Marion, Mass., a benefactor of the Society, elected a life member 3 May 1911, was born in Boston 2 October 1861, the son of Andrew Gray and Harriet Pitts (Pierce) Weeks, and died at Marion 7 December 1931.

He traced his descent from George¹ Weeks, immigrant to New England in 1635, and a selectman of Dorchester, where he died 28 December 1650, who married Jane Clap, through Ammiel,² who died at Dorchester 20 April 1679, aged 46 years, Ebenezer,³ born in 1665, whose wife was Deliverance Summer, William,⁴ 1689/90-1749, of Falmouth, Me., who married Sarah Tukey, William,⁵ a settler in that part of Falmouth now known as Cumberland, whose wife was Rebecca Tuttle, Nathaniel,⁶ who married Rachel (Prince) Sweetser, Ezra,⁷ 1790-1868, innkeeper at Westbrook, Me., whose wife was Hannah Merrill, and Andrew Gray,⁸ his father, a wholesale druggist of Boston, who was born at Cumberland Centre, Me., 11 June 1823, married in New York City, 16 September 1847, Hannah Pitts Pierce (born at Charlestown, Mass., 14 December 1824, daughter of Charles and Harriet (Pitts) Pierce), and died at Guilford, Vt., 26 June 1903.

He attended the Chauncy Hall School in Boston and entered Harvard College with the Class of 1883, but left college in May 1882 to enter the employ of Weeks & Potter, wholesale druggist in Boston. In 1895 he became treasurer and general manager of the Weeks & Potter Corporation, which at that time succeeded the firm. After the liquidation of the business in 1901 he served for several years as trustee of a number of large estates.

In 1908 he received from Harvard University the degree of Bachelor of Arts, as of 1883. Always interested in research in zoology, he was an associate in zoology, 1902-1905, and an associate in entomology, 1911-1916, at the University Museum of Harvard University. Besides contributing articles to the leading scientific journals he issued an original work entitled "Illustrations of Diurnal Lepidoptera Hitherto Unknown to Science," in which he gave the results of his expedition to Bolivia in 1905, when he obtained eighty-one previously unknown species. A second volume, printed in 1911, covered his researches on the upper Orinoco River. He also explored the upper part of the Province of Quebec, Canada, and plotted fourteen new lakes, the names of which were accepted by the Government. He made, too, a detailed study of the fishes of Buzzards Bay.

After living for a number of years in Boston he moved to Marion, where he took several prizes awarded by the Massachusetts Horticultural Society for garden development.

Among his many clubs were the Union, Puritan, Algonquin, and Country Clubs of Boston, the Harvard Clubs of Boston and New York, the Triton Club of Quebec, the New England Zoological Club, and the Massachusetts Fish and Game Protective Association.

He married first, at New Bedford, Mass., 30 October 1883, Alice Standish Taber; and secondly, at Marion, 10 December 1915, Helen Peck, born at Shelburne, Mass., daughter of Austin and Mary (Hawkes) Peck, who survives him, as do two children, Mrs. Edgar Rust and Helen Peck Weeks.

CHARLES SUMNER FROST, of Lake Forest, Ill., architect, elected a Pilgrim Tercentenary member 3 March 1920, was born at Lewiston, Me., 31 May 1856, the son of Ephraim Albert and Eunice M. (Jones) Frost, and died at Forest Park, Ill., 11 December 1931.

He traced his descent from Edmund' Frost (son of John Frost of Ipswich, co. Suffolk, England), who migrated to New England and was one of the original proprietors of Newetowne, now Cambridge, Mass., where he was elected elder in 1636 and died in 1672, through Dea, James," 1643-1711, of Billerica, Mass., whose second wife was Elizabeth Foster, Joseph," 1682/3-1737, who married Sarah (French) Flint, Joseph," 1711/12-1751, of Tewksbury, Mass., whose wife was Abigail Kittredge, Ephraim," 1732-1800, who married Mary Patton, Ephraim," 1758-1826, whose wife was Ruth Phelps, Ephraim," 1805-1842, whose wife was Rebecca Symmes, and Ephraim Albert," his father, who was born at Tewksbury 22 April 1833 and died at Lewiston 7 March 1897. His mother, Eunice M. Jones, was born at Newport, Vt., 7 February 1831, and died at Lewiston 17 July 1902, the daughter of Orrin and Thirza (Adams) Jones.

After graduating at the Lewiston High School he studied architecture for three years in various architects' offices, and took special courses in architecture at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology with the Class of 1879. He was a draftsman in Boston until 1882, and then he went to Chicago, 111, where he practised his profession with the late Henry Ives Cobb. S.B. (Harvard, 1892, as of 1881), under the firm name of Cobb & Frost. Later he established his own office, and afterwards became the senior member of the firm of Frost & Granger, until his withdrawal in 1911 to establish his own office once more. Among the many Chicago buildings of which he was the architect are those of the Union League Club, the Calumet Club, the Northern Trust Company, the George Smith Memorial of St. Luke's Hospital, and the building of the Terminal Station of the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern Railway Company and the Chicago & North Western Railway Company.

He was a member of the Union League Club and the Onwentsia Club and a fellow of the American Institute of Architects. He was a Republican and an elder of the Presbyterian Church.

He married at Chicago, 7 January 1885, Mary Hughitt, daughter of Marvin and Belle (Barrett) Hughitt, who, with three children, Mrs. David Dangler (Margaret Frost), Virginia Frost, and Marvin Hughitt Frost, survives him.

RICHARD HENRY DANA, A.B., LL.B., of Cambridge, Mass., lawver, author, public-spirited citizen, elected a resident (annual) member 5 April 1916, was born at Cambridge 3 January 1851, the only son of Richard Henry and Sarah (Watson) Dana, and died there 16 December 1931.

He was a descendant of Richard' Dana, a settler in 1640 at Cambridge, where he died 2 April 1690, whose wife was Anne Bullard, through Daniel. 1663-1749, tithingman, surveyor, who married Naomi Crosswell, Richard 1699-1772, A.B. (Harvard, 1718), A.M. (ib., 1721), lawyer, who married Lydia Trowbridge, Hon. Francis, 1743-1811, A.B. (Harvard, 1762), A.M. (ib., 1765), LL.D. (ib., 1792), Delegate to the Continental Congress and to the Convention that framed the Federal Constitution, Secretary of Legation in France, United States Minister to Russia, Justice and later Chief Justice of the Supreme Judicial Court of Massachusetts, fellow of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, who married Elizabeth Ellery, Richard Henry, 1787-1879, A.B. (Harvard, 1866, as of 1808), LL.D. (Williams, 1867), lawyer, author, poet, whose wife was Ruth Charlotte Smith, and Hon. Richard Henry," his father, A.E. (Harvard, 1837), A.M. (ib., 1840), LL.B. (ib., 1839), D.C.L. (Hobart, 1853), LL.D. (Harvard, 1866), lawyer, United States district attorney for Massachusetts, overseer of Harvard College, 1865-1877, member of the Massachusetts Historical Society, fellow of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, author of "Two Years before the Mast," who was born at Cambridge 1 August 1815, married 25 August 1841 Sarah Watson (born at Hartford, Conn., 6 May 1814, died at Cambridge 26 November 1907, daughter of William and Mary (Marsh) Watson) of Hartford, and died at Rome, Italy, 6 January 1882.

He attended a private school in Cambridge conducted by Mrs. Delano, the public schools of Boston and Cambridge, and St. Paul's School, at Concord, N. H., from 1865 to 1870, was admitted to Harvard College, and received from Harvard the degree of Bachelor of Arts in 1874. In college he was prominent in rowing, and was a member of the University crew for three years and its captain for two years. He was also class orator.

On leaving college he studied at the Harvard Law School for a year, spent a year abroad, travelling in England, Continental Europe, and Egypt, and then returned to Cambridge, to complete his course at the Law School and to receive the degree of Bachelor of Laws in 1877. He then entered the law office of Brooks, Ball & Storey of Boston, and in the following year was admitted to the bar. He spent a short time in the law office of his father, and for two years was associated in the practice of the law with his college classmate, Herbert Lee Harding. In 1880 he opened his own office, and continued in the successful practice of his profession until he retired in 1911.

Besides his work as a lawyer he devoted much time to public affairs, notably to the cause of civil service reform. For many years he was secretary of the Massachusetts Civil Service Reform League and for five years editor of the Civil Service Record. He drafted the civil service reform act of Massachusetts in 1884 and also, in 1888, the original bill providing for the adoption of the Australian ballot system by the Commonwealth. He was president of the Cambridge Civil Service Reform Association, 1897-1901, chairman of the Council of the National Civil Service Reform League, 1905-1912, and president of the same organization, 1913-1923. He had been vice president of the Massachusetts Reform Club and a member of the Executive Committee of the Good Government Club of Cambridge.

He was president of the Boston Young Men's Christian Association, 1890-91, and the New England Conservatory of Music, 1890-1898. For several years he was treasurer of the Board of Trustees of the Episcopal Theological School in Cambridge, and was otherwise active in the work of the Protestant Episcopal Church; and he had been president of the Alumni Association of St. Paul's School.

In 1901 he was appointed by the Governor as one of three commissioners to inquire into the advisability of building a dam at the mouth of the Charles River, and the report in favor of this project was written chiefly by him.

He was the author of numerous magazine articles and pamphlets relating to tariff reform, tax reform, civil service reform, rowing, musical education, pensions, and historical matters. N. 86

He was a member of the Massachusetts Historical Society, the Cambridge Historical Society (president, 1906-1916), and the Boston Authors' Club, and a fellow of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences. He was also a member of the Harvard Clubs of Boston and New York, the Union and Exchange Clubs of Boston, and the Oakley Country Club.

Mr. Dana married first, at Cambridge, 10 January 1878, Edith Longfellow of Cambridge, who was born at Cambridge 22 October 1853 and died 21 July 1915, daughter of Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, the poet, and his second wife, Frances (Appleton) Longfellow; and secondly, in Boston, 25 February 1922, Mrs. Helen S. (Ford) Mumford of Brookline, Mass., daughter of Daniel Wilson and Marietta (Billings) Ford and widow of James Gregory Mumford, A.B. (Harvard, 1885), M.D. (ib., 1890). Mrs. Dana survives her husband, as do also his six children by his first wife, Richard Henry Dana, A.B. (Harvard, 1901), S.B. (Columbia, 1904), B.F.A. (Yale, 1910), Henry Wadsworth Longfellow Dana, A.B. (Harvard, 1903), A.M. (ib., 1904), Ph.D. (ib., 1910), Mrs. Henry Casimir de Rham, 2d (Frances Appleton Dana), of Cold Spring, N. Y., Allston Dana, A.B. (Harvard, 1906), S.B. (Massachusetts Institute of Technology, 1908), Edmund Trow-bridge Dana, A.B. (Harvard, 1909), A.M. (ib., 1910), Ph.D. (ib., 1912), and Mrs. Delia Farley (Dana) Hutchinson. Mr. Dana's sister, Elizabeth Ellery Dana of Cambridge, who has been a life member of the New England Historic Genealogical Society since April 1912 and is about to publish an exhaustive Dana genealogy, for which she has been collecting material for many years past, also survives him.

ROBERT TURNER WALKER, S.B., of Boston, architect, elected an annual member 26 June 1928, was born at Lyme, N. H., 16 October 1867, the son of Augustus Chapman and Maria Churchill (Grant) Walker, and died unmarried in Boston 24 December 1931.

He claimed descent from Richard¹ Walker, a passenger to New England in 1635 in the Elizabeth, a settler at Lynn, Mass., captain, deputy, planter, later a resident of Reading, Mass., where he was a town officer, whose wife was Jane Talmadge, through Richard,² born in 1638, whose wife was Sarah Story, John³ of Chelmsford, Mass., who married Lydia Colburn. Edward,⁴ born in 1688, who married Deliverance Gaskin, Seth,⁶ 1725-1769, of Newington, N. H., whose wife was Ann Tripe, William,⁶ 1759-1832, of Barnstead, N. H., a soldier in the Revolution, who married Elizabeth Shaekford, Joseph Alcott,⁷ 1802-1864, whose wife was Abigail Wiggin Murray, and Augustus Chapman,⁸ his father, A.B. (Dartmouth, 1871, as of 1862), A.M. (ib., 1874), M.D. (Harvard, 1866), assistant surgeon in the Civil War with the One Hundred and Thirty-third New York Volunteers, 1862-1864, surgeon with the Eighteenth New York Cavalry, 1864-65, physician at Greenfield Mass., who was born at Barnstead, N. H., 9 June 1833, married at Lyme, N. H., 11 September 1862, Maria Churchill Grant (born at Lyme 29 September 1838, cied at Cambridge, Mass., 17 August 1917, daughter of Sidney Smith and Louisa (Turner) Grant). and died at Cambridge 5 April 1918.

He attended the public schools of Greenfield, spent one year at Phillips Academy, Excter, N. H., and studied architecture at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, where he was graduated in 1890 with the degree of Bachelor of Science in Architecture. He entered the office of Alexander Wadsworth Longfellow, in Boston, where he was head draughtsman for over thirty years. Later he established his own business and devoted himself chiefly to ecclesiastical architecture and to designing monuments.

He was an ardent worker in the Church of the Advent (Protestant Episcopal) in Boston, and was a member of the corporation and the vestry, secretary and treasurer of St. Vincent Guild, and a member of the Men's Guild. He was the founder of the National Guild of Acolytes, known as the Order of St. Vincent, and served as its secretary and treasurer. He was also a member of the Society of Arts and Crafts, the Society for the Preservation of New England Antiquities, and the Episcopal Club.

- 9. DANIEL⁴ KNOWLES (John,³ William,² Henry¹) was born about 1722. He married, 24 Mar. 1744, DEBORAH CARPENTER.

Perhaps he was the Daniel Knowles who was a farmer and sheep raiser at South Kingstown and had many dealings with Nailer Tom Hazard in 1782 and later. In 1761 he went to Newport (Friends' records) and is referred to as "Daniel son of John," a designation which seems to identify him instead of Daniel (No. 6, ii) as the Daniel mentioned so often in Nailer Tom Hazard's "Diary." But there is much uncertainty about this identification.

In 1774 he was mentioned in the South Kingstown census. In 1787 he was taken back into the Society of Friends. In June 1900 Isaac Knowles of New London, Conn., prepared for the late Mrs. Charles Edward Bolton (No. 19, iii, 7) a pedigree of his family. If his ancestor, Daniel Knowles of Groton (born in 1758), was a son of the Daniel who was in jail at Groton in July 1785 (probably for disturbing public worship) and was visited by Nailer Tom Hazard, he belongs to the Rhode Island family. Whether Isaac's ancestor was a son of Daniel (No. 9) is still a problem. For the moment he is assumed to have been his son.

In 1778 the Rhode Island General Assembly voted to sell at auction the estates of Samuel Knowles, which had been seized by the sheriff and adjudged by the Superior Court of Judicature to be forfeited. He had been accused of uttering and passing counterfeit money. In May 1779, being a friend of Adjutant General Rawdon, he was reported to have gone over to the enemy and to have joined their fleet. When the preliminary treaty of peace was published in the Royal Gazette on 5 Apr. 1783, he returned to Richmond and was imprisoned for four months at Kingstown Hill in a room eight feet square. He was banished in October 1783, and went to New York and then to London. He embarked for home in 1790 on the snow Adventure, with his prize stallion "Nimrod," but was carried to Lisbon. He returned to London and brought suit, but was sent to jail for debt. He was finally released by act of Parliament. At the request of several citizens the Rhode Island Assembly pardoned him and restored his rights of citizenship in February 1791, as though he had never been banished.

His will, in which he was styled of Richmond in King's County, was proved 16 Aug. 1799. In it he left to his son Joseph Knowles, sometimes called Joseph Mumford, his "British Government bounty of lands with the family lands and gratuities," to his brother Robert, during his lifetime, $50, and to Anna Knowles, daughter of his cousin [nephew] Jonathan, $100.

18. ii. JOSEPH MUMFORD, b. 10 or 11 May 1774.

11. JOSEPH⁴ KNOWLES (Robert,³ William,² Henry¹), born in South Kingstown 16, 1 mo. 1730 [16 Mar. 1729/30], died 7, 3 mo. [7 Mar.] 1809, aged 79. He married at Kingstown, "before a great concourse of people," 11, 10 mo. [11 Oct.] 1753, BATHSHEBA SEAGER, born 31 Jan. 1732, died 29, 1 mo. [29 Jan.] 1800, aged 68, and buried two days later in the new meeting-house graveyard at South Kingstown, the fourteenth child of John and Alice Seager of South Kingstown. Joseph* Knowles and his wife were members of the Society of Friends, and the record of their marriage reads: "Friends I Desire you to be my witnesses that I take this my friend Bathsheba Seagar to be my wife promising through the Lord's assistance to be unto her a faithfull and loving Husband untill it shall pleese God by Death to separate us." After Bathsheba had made a similar declaration, they signed their names, and their signatures were followed by those of thirty-six witnesses.

Joseph Knowles owned large farms (315 acres) in Peace Dale, where the Hazards built palatial residences and churches and schools sprang up. He owned also 1500 acres in Kingston and 500 acres near Kingston Hill (formerly "Little Rest"). The village of Kingston or the "West End" of South Kingstown is now, with its courthouse and jail, the habitat of famous lawyers.

In 1798 he must have been placed under a guardian, for Tom Hazard speaks of a division of the estate, which may have been held up. In April 1802 the relatives declared that Joseph was insane, and they were authorized to divide his estate.

Bathsheba (Seager) Knowles, his wife, was an active member and an elder in the Society of Friends. She was an overseer of the poor, and was sent on various missions. When over sixty years old she was thrown from her son Joseph's young mare into the mud; but she remounted, and rode twenty miles to the Greenwich quarterly meeting. Her husband also was an active Quaker; and they lie side by side on Tower Hill.

- JAMES, b. in 1759; d. 13 Nov. 1824; m. DORCAS GARDINER, b. in 1773, d. in 1851.

He lived at "Little Rest," or Kingstown Hill, having built the "Brick House," now one of the oldest houses in the town, on "ministerial land," in South Kingstown. In Hazard's "Jonny-Cake Papers," page 241, he is referred to as "Jim Knowles," who for many years, in the good old times, used to underbid all other purchasers for the poor of the town, at the annual sale of the town paupers to the lowest bidder. He treated them well, except when he came home intoxicated.

- 13. HAZARD⁴ KNOWLES (Daniel,³ William,² Henry¹), of South Kingstown, born 2 October 1736 or 1737, died at Jamestown 19 Aug. 1823, aged 87 years. He married first MARGARET CONGDON, who died 28 Feb. 1788, daughter of James Congdon; and secondly MARY BENTLEY.

In 1774 he is listed in the census as of South Kingstown. In 1775 the Colony took from his farm at Jamestown some of his cattle and sheep, valued at £66. 12s. 9d. (Rhode Island Colonial Records, vol. 7), and his home was burned by the British. He was probably the Hazard Knowles who lived in 1815 on the Little Neck Farm on the upper part of Point Judith (Jonny-Cake Papers, p. 360), having acquired much property on the Point. The author wrote (p. 335): "I presume you have not forgotten that remarkable man Hazard Knowles of Conanicut, nor his idiotic son, who, when his father once broke through the ice [and] called to his son to help him out, . . . declined doing [so], saying, 'I see that farm coming to me now.""

Children by first wife:

"Miniature on Ivory made about April 1839 by Geo. H. Hite, an English artist who came to New York at that time. The five boys portrayed are Francis E. Dakin eldest

Henry Mumford Dakin Geo. Wm. Bethune Dakin sons of the late Samuel Dana Dakin of Utica & N. Y. City. Richard Lansing Dakin

Edward Saltonstall Dakin

This copy was made by Henry E. Huntington Gallery of San Marino Pasadena, California, Dec. 1928."

This ivory miniature makes clear the genealogical connection between the Dakins of the two Bible entries, and shows that Samuel Dana Dakin, who married Mary Pierce Mumford, was the father of George William Bethune Dakin, who married Anna M. Olcott.

HISTORICAL INTELLIGENCE

GENEALOGICAL RESEARCH IN ENGLAND: ANNOUNCEMENT .-- The Editors of the REGISTER announce with regret that it has been found necessary to postpone until the April number of the magazine the continuation of the article entitled "The Fiske Family," which has been appearing in recent issues under the head-ing "Genealogical Research in England." This postponement will allow time for a further study of certain parts of the pedigree of the Fiskes of Laxfield, co. Suffolk.

THE JOURNAL OF THE BARBADOS MUSEUM AND HISTORICAL SOCIETY .- The first number (for November 1933) of The Journal, the quarterly magazine of the recently formed and incorporated Barbados Museum and Historical Society, of Bridgetown, Barbados, British West Indies, has recently appeared. The dozen or so articles which comprise the fifty pages of the magazine cover various matters relating to the history and antiquities of Barbados; and, very properly, a history of the formation of the Society and a description of its corporate seal begin the issue. Then follow such interesting articles as "Pre-paring for a New Governor in the Reign of Queen Anne," "A Letter from Admiral Rodney," "The Historic Sites and Buildings of Barbados," and "Odd Pages from Old Records."

The Historical Society is to be congratulated on bringing out The Journal. Well arranged and printed, of clear, readable type, remarkably free from typographical errors, this quarterly shows the careful work of its eminent editor, E. M. Shilstone, Esq. Barbados is rich in historical records still unpublished, and The Journal supplies a much-needed vehicle for the printing of this material.

Particulars as to the cost of The Journal may be obtained from the Honourable Secretary, The Barbados Mnseum and Historical Society, Bridgetown, Barbados, B. W. I.

THE AUSTRALIAN GENEALOGIST .- The Society of Australian Genealogists, organized in 1932, with headquarters at Sydney, New South Wales, the first society of its kind in Australia, is publishing a quarterly magazine, entitled The Australian Genealogist. The objects of the Society, "to promote and encourage the study of Genealogy and Heraldry and allied subjects," are reflected in the pages of this periodical. Among the articles that have already appeared may be mentioned "Concerning Bookplates and Their Heraldic Interest," "Local Graves of Pioneers," "Sources of Anglo-Jewish Genealogy," "Some Pedigrees from the N. S. W. Census of 1828," "Military Adventures in India," and "List of Transports." There are also pages devoted to the queries of members.

This publication, edited with unusual care by Herbert J. Rumsey, F. S. G., and printed in clear, readable type, is bringing to the attention of the public hitherto unpublished records of Australian genealogy. It has a great field for itself, and it deserves success.

The Honourable Secretary of the Society is E. McC. S. Hill, F.S.G., of 23 Denning Street, Coogee, Sydney, New South Wales. .

JOSEPH⁵ KNOWLES (Joseph,⁴ Robert,³ William,² Henry¹), of Prudence Island, born 28 Jan. 1760, was drowned, with his son William, in Bristol Harbor 6 May 1810, and was buried on the farm of Daniel Chace at Prudence Island. He married, 16 Mar. 1783, MARY CARPENTER, who was born at South Kingstown 11 Dec. 1759, died 9 Jan. 1823, and was buried in the Allenton Cemetery at North Kingstown, daughter of Daniel and Renewed (Smith) Carpenter of South Kingstown.

His wife was not a member of the Society of Friends, and he was dismissed from that Society for marrying her. He moved into his father's house 5 Apr. 1784, moved again in April 1790, to John Rose's farm, and moved for a third time, in March 1796, to the Lyman farm at Jamestown. He was living on the Malbone farm on Prudence Island in 1807, and seems to have been at that time in reduced financial circumstances. This farm, of 820 acres, had a harbor known as Potter's Cove, where the Rhode Island Club now holds annual clambakes. The land was owned by John Bowers of Somerset, Mass., at one time a great merchant. He had bought in 1803, when of Newport, land on Saugatucket River. This land was sold in 1807. Joseph Knowles was of Portsmouth in 1808.

He attended Liberty Normal Institute during the winter months and worked on his father's farm during the summer.

In 1859 he began to teach school, but he gave up his position in 1862 to enlist as a private in Company H, One Hundred and Forty-Third Regiment, New York Volunteers. He was severely wounded in the leg at Resaca, Ga., and was discharged from the hospital 7 June 1865, although the wound did not entirely heal until over a year later.

In 1865 he began work as a clerk in a tannery store at Allisonville, N. Y., but two years later moved to Sheffield, Pa., and entered the employ of Horton, Crary & Company as a bookkeeper and clerk and later as a partner and general manager. In 1893, when the tanneries were sold, he became president of the Penn Tanning Company (a subsidiary of the United States Leather Company), a position which he held for about ten years.

He was vice president and a director of the Warren National Bank, Wallows Turner Company, and Wetmore Lumber Company, and a director of the Pennsylvania Gas Company, Great Southern Lumber Company, Federal Light & Traction Company, New Orleans & Great Northern Railroad Company, and Penn Oil Company.

He was a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and of the Knight Templars. He was a Republican.

Interested in the civic life of Sheffield, he served as school director and as postmaster for twenty years, and was active in the affairs of the community. In 1902 he moved to Warren, where he made his home until his death.

Although seriously handicapped by partial blindness from 1896, yet he was able to carry on his work.

Fond of travel he made many extensive trips to all parts of the United States, Alaska, Canada, and Mexico, besides visits to Europe and Egypt. He spent winters at Jamaica, Nassau, Cuba, and Florida.

He compiled and printed "Ancestors and Descendants of Richard Dunham and His Wife Laura Allen," 1916, and "Ancestors and Descendants of Calvert Crary and His Wife Eliza Hill," 1917.

He married at Warren, 13 September 1870, Laura Antoinette Dunham, born at Sheffield 22 April 1846, daughter of Richard and Laura (Allen) Dunham.

Four children, Horace Allen Crary of Warren, Miner Dunham Crary of Northport, Long Island, N. Y., Clare Jerry Crary of Warren, and Mrs. Raymond Vail Ingersoll (Marion A. Crary) of Brooklyn, N. Y., survive him.

MRS. ROBERT ROGER HAYDOCK (ANNIE LOUISE HEYWOOD), of Milton, Mass., elected a resident (annual) member 19 June 1923, was born in New York City 15 November 1855, the daughter of Charles Frederick and Mary Elizabeth (Low) Heywood, and died at Milton 19 January 1936.

Her grandfather, Samuel P. Heywood (son of Lemuel and Lucy (Heywood) Heywood, of Holden, Mass.), born at Royalston, Mass., 4 July 1794, married Sarah Hall Blanchard of Medford, Mass., and died at Cambridge, Mass., 24 February 1870. Her father, Charles Frederick Heywood, born at Charlestown, Mass., 14 November 1823, married Mary Elizabeth Low (born in Boston 1 December 1823, died at Pelham Manor, N. Y., 17 October 1896, daughter of David and Mary (Langdon) Low), and died at Pelham Manor 14 February 1893.

Her schooling was received in her home by instruction from her father and from private tutors.

She was married 6 June 1883 to Robert Roger Haydock, of New York City, and Philadelphia, Pa., steel manufacturer, who was born at Whitestone, Long Island, N. Y., 6 June 1856 and died at Milton 11 May 1928, son of Robert and Hannah (Wharton) Haydock.

Mrs. Haydock was a member of the Massachusetts Society of Colonial Dames of America. She was also a member of the Protestant Episcopal Church.

Three children, Mrs. Arthur Henry Weed (Eleanor Low Haydock) of Milton, Robert Haydock, A. B. (Harvard, 1910), of Hewlett, Long Island, N. Y., and Mrs. William Henry Young Hackett (Louisa Low Haydock), A.B. (Bryn Mawr, 1913), of Dedham, Mass., survive her. A son, George Guest Haydock, A.B. (Harvard, 1916), born 15 September 1894, was killed in action in France 28 May 1918. N.90

EUGENE NATHANIEL SPINNEY, of Milton, N. H., elected a resident (annual) member 2 November 1904, was born at Rochester, N. H., 6 April 1866, the son of Joseph Franklin and Helen Augusta (Wentworth) Spinney, and died at Milton 19 January 1936.

He traced his descent from Thomas' Spinney, weaver, a resident of Kittery, Maine, as early as 1652, when he signed the submission to Massachusetts, constable in 1656, who married Margery Randall, and died 31 August 1701, through Samuel,^a 1659–1737/8, of Kittery, who married first Elizabeth Knight, Jonathan^a of Kittery, born in June 1708, who married Sarah Parker, Ebenezer,⁴ 1735–1779, of Kittery, who married Phebe Cole, Capt. David,⁵ 1768–1848, of Wakefield, N. H., whose wife was Lydia Paul, Parker,⁶ 1803–1874, of Milton, who married Mary Dearborn, and Joseph Franklin⁵ of Ipswich, Mass., his father, hotel proprietor, who was born at Wakefield 13 August 1839, married 9 February 1863 Helen Augusta Wentworth (born at Rochester 12 February 1845, died at Milton 31 October 1897, daughter of Lewis B. and Parmelia (Hayes) Wentworth), and died at Shelburne Falls, Mass., 15 November 1902.

After attending the public schools of Lynn, Mass., he joined his father in managing the Agawam House at Ipswich, Mass., and later became the proprietor. In 1897 he purchased and conducted the hotel at Shelburne Falls, retiring from the position eight years ago to move to the old family home at Milton.

He had devoted much of his spare time to genealogical work, and compiled a manuscript genealogy of his branch of the Spinney family.

He was a member of the Piscataqua Pioneers and a charter member of the Western Massachusetts Rod and Gun Club. He was also a Mason.

He married at Ipswich, 27 September 1893, Iza Thayer Stone, daughter of Lorenzo Rockwood Thayer and Etta Maria (Fall) Stone, who, with two children, Parker Thayer Spinney of Wabash, Ind., and Mrs. Ulmont Marvin Carlton (Helen Augusta Spinney) of Cambridge, Mass., and two grandchildren, survives him.

JOHN REYNOLDS TOTTEN, F.G.B.S., of New York City, elected a resident member 5 October 1904 and made a life member 23 January 1919, was born at Barrancas Barracks, Pensacola, Fla., 4 November 1856, the son of Gen. James and Julia Ann Hubbell (Thatcher) Totten, and died in New York City 1 February 1936.

His father, Brig, Gen. James Totten (son of William Totten, for many years connected with the Medical Department of the United States Army, and later an ordnance storekeeper at the Little Rock (Ark.) Arsenal, and Jane Browne, his first wife), a graduate of the United States Military Academy in 1841, a soldier in the Mexican War, breveted major and lieutenant colonel of artillery for gallant and meritorious service in battle in the Civil War, Inspector General of the Department of the East, 1866-69, was born at Cincinnati, Ohio, 11 September 1818, married at New London, Conn., 5 December 1843, Julia Ann Hubbell Thatcher (born at New London 6 March 1823, died there 31 January 1906, daughter of Anthony and Lucretia Christophers (Mumford) Thatcher), and died at Sedalia, Mo., 1 October 1871.

He attended the Cheshire (Conn.) Episcopal Academy. Appointed to the United States Military Academy, he was graduated in 1878 and was commissioned a second lieutenant in the First Infantry, United States Army. For two months he was an assistant instructor of military tactics at the United States Military Academy. He was later transferred to the Fourth Artillery and on 6 January 1886 was advanced to the rank of first lieutenant. He was graduated at the United States Artillery School at Fort Monroe, Va., with the Class of 1882.

From 1884 to 1889 he was teaching at the United States Military Academy as an instructor of French and English and later as an assistant professor of Spanish.

During his service he was stationed at Fort Randall and Fort Hale, Dakota Territory, Alcatraz Island, San Francisco Harbor, Calif., Fort Monroe, Va., Fort Preble, Maine, and Fort Adams, R. I. On 1 April 1891 he resigned from the United States Army.

Following his retirement from the Army he devoted himself to genealogy. He joined the New York Genealogical and Biographical Society in 1894, and became a life member in 1905. The following year marked the beginning of his long service with that Society.

He was elected a trustee in 1906, serving until he resigned in 1934. During these years he had oversight of the library and of the publication of The New York Genealogical and Biographical Record. He was financial editor of the Record from 1916 to 1921 and editor from 1921 until his death. He was a member of the executive committee from 1904 to 1911, and from 1913 to 1927, and served as its chairman from 1905 to 1911, and from 1915 to 1927. He was librarian from 1904 to 1911, and served as fourth vice president in 1931, and third vice president in 1932 and 1933. "In recognition and appreciation of his great service to the cause of Genealogy in general and especially along these lines working for the benefit of the New York Genealogical and Biographical Society," the trustees of that Society elected him a Fellow of the Society, the first to receive this honor.

He was a member of the New London County Historical Society, the New York State Society of Mayflower Descendants (life member and former historian), the Society of Colonial Wars in the State of New York, the Society of Sons of the Revolution in the State of New York, and the Association of Graduates of the United States Military Academy.

He compiled the Christophers Family Genealogy, the Preston Family Genealogy, and the Thacher-Thatcher Family Genealogy. In recent years he published in the Record many articles dealing with the early Dutch families of New Netherland.

He married first, in New York City, 4 February 1880, Lizzie Swan Townsend, daughter of John Drake and Eliza Ann D. (Swan) Townsend, and secondly, at Garrison-on-Hudson, N. Y., 5 September 1889, Elma Smythe (Preston) Van Voorhis, who survives him, daughter of Cyprian and Mary Hamilton (Stockwell) Preston and widow of Arthur Stoddard Van Voorhis. Three children by his first wife died in infancy.

ROGER DEERING, of Miami, Fla., who succeeded, 6 December 1927, to the Pilgrim Tercentenary membership in the New England Historic Genealogical Society held by his father, was born in Chicago, Ill., 26 October 1884, the son of Charles and Marion Denison (Whipple) Deering, and died at Albuquerque, N. Mex., 2 February 1936.

The line of his descent from Roger' Deering, shipwright, who married in St. Saviour's Church, Dartmouth, co. Devon, England, 30 August 1647, Joan Palmer, and came to New England about 1663, settling at Kittery, Maine, appears in a memoir of his father, Charles' Deering, a generous benefactor of the New England Historic Genealogical Society, which was written by Walter Dill Scott, LL.D., and published, with a portrait, in the REGISTER, vol. 81, pages 371-378.

He attended St. Mark's School at Southborough, Mass., but, serious illness causing him to return to his home at Evanston, Ill., he completed his schooling in the public schools of that city.

An invalid from youth, he spent much time in travel, visiting Egypt, Spain, and the Southwest.

He was a member, however, of the Union, the Players, the Links, and the Brook Clubs of New York City.

In his will he left most of his entire fortune, estimated at over $7,000,000, to Northwestern University, an institution to which both his grandfather and his father had given generously.

His mother and two sisters, Mrs. Chauncey McCormick (Marion Deering) of Chicago and Mrs. Richard Ely Danielson (Barbara Deering) of Boston, Mass., survive him.

In his will he designated as his successor in his Pilgrim Tercentenary membership his nephew, Roger McCormick of Chicago, son of Chauncey and Marion (Deering) McCormick. MRS. WILLIAM LEANDER MCKEE (BESSIE (PARDEE) VAN WICKLE), of Bristol, R. I., elected a resident member 7 July 1916 and made a life member 27 January 1919, was born at Hazleton, Pa., 30 January 1860, the daughter of Ariovistus and Anna Maria (Robison) Pardee, and died at Bristol 4 February 1936.

She traced her descent from George¹ Pardee (son of Anthony and Anstice (Cox) Pardee), who was baptized at Pitminster, co. Somerset, England, 19 February 1623/4, was a settler as early as 1644 at New Haven, Conn., where he was juryman, rector of the Hopkins Grammar School for two terms totaling eleven years, innkceper, admitted a freeman 16 June 1662, married secondly, 29 December 1662, Katharine Lane, and died in April 1701, through Joseph² of New Haven, born 27 April 1664, whose first wife was Elizabeth Yale, Lieut. John,³ 1697-1766, of Norwalk and Sharon, Conn., shoemaker, tanner, representative to the Connecticut Assembly, whose first wife was Betsey Horn, Capt. Thomas, 1722-1806, of Sharon, an officer in the train band, representative to the Connecticut Assembly, who married Weltheon Cook, Calvin,⁵ 1757-1795, of Stephentown, N. Y., surgeon in the State Militia, whose wife was Rachel Johnson, Ariovistus,⁶ 1778-1853, of Ypsilanti, Mich., farmer, village treasurer, who married Eliza Platt, and Ariovistus,⁷ her father, surveyor, coal operator, iron manufacturer, benefactor of Lafayette College, to which he gave Pardee Hall, president of the board of trustees of Lafayette College, a presidential elector in 1876, who was born at Chatham, N. Y., 19 November 1810, married secondly, at Bloomburg, Pa., 29 August 1848, Anna Maria Rob-ison (born at Bloomburg 25 November 1820, died at Hazleton 28 June 1892, daughter of William and Betsy (Barton) Robison), and died at Ormond, Fla., 26 March 1892.

She was married first, at Hazleton, 20 September 1882, to Augustus Stout van Wickle, A.B. (Brown, 1878), coal operator, bank president, a trustee of Peddie Institute, of the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York City, and of the American Museum of Natural History, who was born at New Brunswick, N. J., 4 January 1856 and died at Hazleton 8 June 1898, son of Simon and Anna Randolph (Stout) van Wickle; and secondly, at Bristol, R. I., 29 May 1901, to William Leander McKee, wholesale merchant, deacon of the Old South Church, Boston, who was born at Hagerstown, Md., 21 September 1863, son of Leander and Anna Margaret (McDowell) McKee.

For many years Mrs. McKee lived in Boston, where she was a leader in social activities, and spent her summers at "Blithewold," her summer estate at Bristol, but for the past three years she made Bristol her permanent residence.

Surviving her are her husband and two daughters by her first marriage, Mrs. George Armstrong Lyon (Marjorie Randolph van Wickle) of Brookline, Mass., and Mrs. Robert Toland (Augustine (van Wickle) Shaw) of Philadelphia, Pa.

ELLEN FRANCES VOSE, of Stoughton, Mass., elected a resident member 2 March 1904 and made a life member 1 February 1919, was born at Milton, Mass., 12 June 1850, the daughter of Jesse and Frances (Ellis) Vose, and died at Stoughton 4 February 1936.

She was a descendant of Robert' Vose (son of Thomas and Margery Vose of Garston, co. Lancaster, England), who married in 1629 Jane Moss of Childwall, co. Lancaster, came to New England, was a resident of Dorchester as early as 13 July 1654, but soon moved to Milton, where he was a selectman, was made a freeman 30 May 1666, and died 11 October 1683, through Capt. Thomas' of Milton, selectman, town clerk, representative to the General Court, an officer in King Philip's War, who was baptized at Dutton, co. Lancaster, England, 18 February 1640/1, came to New England with his parents, married Waitstill Wyatt, and died at Milton 23 April 1708, Lieut. Henry,^{*} 1663–1752, of Milton, selectman, town moderator, an officer in the militia, whose first wife was Elizabeth Badcock, Lieut. HISTORICAL INTELLIGENCE

SIBLEY'S "HARVARD GRADUATES."-After an interval of three years the fifth volume of Sibley's "Harvard Graduates" will soon be off the press, and work on compiling the sixth volume has already begun.

This sixth volume will contain biographical sketches of those who attended Harvard College in the Classes of 1713 to 1725, inclusive. To aid the Editor, Clifford K. Shipton, Ph.D. (Harvard, 1933), in obtaining all the information possible about those affiliated with these Harvard classes, the second and last section of an alphabetical list of the members of those classes is given below; and any reader of the REGISTER who has any information from manuscript or other sources about any of these men will add greatly to the usefulness of the work by communicating with Mr. Shipton, in care of the Massachusetts Historical Society, 1154 Boylston Street, Boston, Mass.

In the list that follows, the date in parentheses indicates the Harvard class with which the person named was affiliated, and the year of his death, when known, is placed at the end of the line. Towns are in Massachusetts, unless otherwise stated.

Memoirs

She was descended from William¹ Patten, who, with his wife, Martha Nesbitt, emigrated from Stonebridge, co. Monachan, Ireland, and settled in 1794 at Argyle, Washington Co., N. Y., through James,^a who married Mary Robertson of Salem, N. Y., and Hon. William,^a her father, farmer, a settler in 1843 at Sandwich, DeKalb Co., Ill., a resident in 1850 of California, an officer in the Civil War, a member of the Illinois Legislature, ruling clder of the United Presbyterian Church, who was born at East Greenwich, Washington Co., N. Y., 21 January 1817, married 11 October 1843 Elizabeth Nelson Pratt (born at Cossayuna, Washington Co., N. Y., died at Sandwich 8 January 1856, daughter of Simon Newcomb and Deborah Isabel (Nelson) Pratt), and died at Yuma 1 February 1897.

Miss Patten grew up on her father's farm, attended a country school, was a student at Bettie Stuart Institute of Springfield, Ill., and at Monmouth College at Monmouth, Ill., and took a training course in nursing in New York City.

Over forty-five years ago she went to Yuma to keep house for her brother, Edward Patten, and, after his death, lived there alone.

She was an active member of the Yuma Presbyterian Church, the Westminster Bible Class, the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, and the Yuma Library, to which she gave freely of her time and interest. She was also a member of the Society of Daughters of the American Revolution (Fort Morgan Chapter).

Many years ago she became interested in the history of her ancestors, and possessing a mind well fitted for research, together with a remarkable memory, she made yearly journeys to her father's early home in Washington County, N. Y., where she searched the records so thoroughly that she soon became an authority on the history of that county.

In 1917 she prepared and published "The American Ancestors and Descendants of Simon Newcomb Pratt and His Wife Deborah Isabel Nelson, of Cossayana, N. Y."

She also assisted Archibald R. Small, M.D., to prepare his "History and Genealogy of the Robertson, Small, and Related Families of Washington Co., N. Y."

ALBERT BRILL RUSSELL, of Ilion, N. Y., elected a resident (annual) member 1 May 1923, was born at Ilion 26 November 1878, son of Samuel Thomas and Sophia Eleanor (Jones) Russell, and died unmarried at Ilion 15 February 1940.

He traced his descent from John¹ Russell, glazier, who was born in England about 1597, came to New England in 1635 on the Defense and settled at Cambridge where he was admitted a freeman 3 March 1636, and served as selectman, clerk of courts, constable and surveyor, later (by 1648/9) a resident of Wethersfield, Conn., where he was admitted a freeman 17 May 1655, and finally a settler at Hadley, Mass., where he was admitted a freeman 26 March 1661, served as clerk of writs and juryman, and died 8 May 1680, aged 83 years, through Rev. John,² A.B. (Harvard, 1645), A.M. (ibid., 1648), minister at Wethersheld from 1648/9 to 1659, and at Hadley from 1659, who was born about 1626, married secondly Rebecca Newberry of Windsor, Conn., and died in 1692, Rev. Samuel, 3 1660-1731, A.B. (Harvard, 1681), A.M. (ibid., 1684), minister at Bradford, Com., 1687-1731, trustee of Yale College, whose wife was Abigail Whiting, Rev. Samuel,⁴ 1693-1746, B.A. (Yale, 1712), M.A. (ibid., 1715), tutor at Yale, 1714-1726, minister at North Guilford, 1725-1746, who married Dorothy Smithson, Samuel, 5 1724-1790, of North Guilford, whose wife was Deborah Baldwin, Samuel Smithson,6 1764-1820, of North Guilford, and Paris, N. Y., who married Eunice Camp, Samuel Baldwin, 7-1797-1837, of Paris and Sherburn, N. Y., Albert Newton, 8 1826-1913, of Paris and Ilion, and Fairfax County, Va., and Samuel Thomas, his father, who was born in Fairfax County 28 May 1853, married Sophia Eleanor Jones (born at Pen Yan, N. Y., 30 November 1853, died at Hall, N. Y., 25 September 1924, daughter of Richard Mott and Rachel (Kester) Jones), and died at Utica, N. Y., 25 May 1929.

The subject of this memoir, after attending the public schools of Ilion and Pratt Institute in Brooklyn, N. Y., began work in an architect's office. For a short time he was employed in the office of A. R. Russell & Sons and the Remington Typewriter Company, both at Ilion.

He then accepted a position with Clark & Baker Company which merged with the Library Bureau, Mr. Russell becoming productive manager for the factories in the United States and Canada. In 1921 he resigned this office.

He was manager (1927-1929) and president (1929-1935) of A. N. Russell & Sons

Company. In 1935 he accepted the position of equipment engineer, Museum Division, National Park Service, Department of Agriculture, but retired from active work two years later.

He was a director of the Ilion Building and Loan Association, and of Camp Russell, Inc., a member of Fort Schuyler Club, Utica, and vestryman of the Ilion Episcopal Church.

Two sisters, Rae M. Russell of Woodgate and Ilion, N. Y., and Helen A. Russell of West Chester, Pa., and a brother, Rev. Joseph J. Russell of Providence, R. I., survive him.

Col. JOHN WINTHROP BARNES, U. S. ARMY, RETIRED, LL.B., LL.M., of Santa Barbara, Calif., who succeeded, 18 March 1931, to the Pilgrim Tercentenary Membership held by his uncle, Charles Winthrop Gould, was born in San Francisco, Calif., 11 April 1877, the son of William Henry Leno and Mary Mumford 3 (Gould) Barnes, and died at Santa Barbara 4 March 1940.

He claimed descent from Thomas¹ Barnes, who was born at Hingham, England, in 1602, immigrated to New England about 1630, settled at Hingham, where he was a farmer and weaver, and died 29 November 1672, through Peter,² 1652-1742, of Hingham, weaver, miller, farmer, whose first wife was Anna Canterbury, John,⁴ 1685-1760, of Hingham, farmer, constable, who married Elizabeth Vinton, John,⁴ 1718-1788, of Hingham, whose wife was Margaret Curtis, William⁵ of Roxbury, Mass., born 25 January 1761, who married Jane Thompson, James,⁶ 1801-1869, of Roxbury and Springfield, Mass., a graduate of West Point in 1829, second lieutenant (1 July 1829) and first lieutenant (30 June 1836, until his resignation 31 July 1836) in the Fourth Artillery, United States Army, engineer, superintendent and builder of railroads in Virginia, New York, and the middle West, colonel (26 July 1861) of the Eighteenth Infantry, Massachusetts Volunteer, Militia, brigadier general (29 November 1862) and brevet major general (13 March 1865), United States Volunteers, brilliant soldier, who married Elizabeth Sanford, and William Henry Leno,⁷ his father, lawyer, partner (1858-1859) with Joseph H. Choate of the firm of Choate & Barnes, later a successful barrister in San Francisco, who was born at Springfield 9 February 1835, and married 25 November 1858 Mary Mumford Gould (born 8 May 1837, died in 1897, daughter of Charles and Heurietta Saltonstall (Mumford) Gould).

The subject of this memoir was prepared for college under private tutors and entered the University of California with the Class of 1900, but left in his sophomore year to accept a commission of second lieutenant of infantry in the United States Army. He was graduated from the Army School of the Line in 1910 and the School of Applied Tactics at Fort Benning, Ga., in 1920. On 31 December 1921 he was retired for physical disabilities incident to the service as colonel of infantry.

He served in the Philippines during the Spanish-American War and the Philippine Insurrection, on the Mexican border from 1913 to 1917, and in the World War as executive officer and commanding officer of the One Hundred and Sixty-Second Depot Brigade at Camp Pike, Ark., as provost marshal, Tenth Division, under Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood at Camp Funston, Kans., and at the time of his retirement was a member of G.-3 Operating Section, Infantry School, at Fort Benning.

Studying law at the University of Southern California, he received the degree of Bachelor of Laws in 1928, and that of Master of Laws in 1929, and upon admittance to the California State Bar in September 1929, became associate counsel of the Legal Aid Clinic of the University of Southern California, a voluntary position without remuneration.

He wrote confidential monographs entitled "The Battle of Belleau Wood," "The Morale of the French Army after the Battle of Chemin des Dames," "The Use of Machine Guns by the German Army during the 1914 Offensive," and "Elimination of Act and Intent as an Element of Crimes" (his thesis for the degree of Master of Laws). 1942]

John, four years old, and Elizabeth, three years old. Her third child was born three months after her brother Nicholas, twentythree years old, was acquitted by the court and released from jail at Newport on the charge of passing a counterfeit [Mary's] $\pm 5/00$ bill. Mary named this new baby Nicholas. She was the daughter of one of the most important and influential pioneer families in Rehoboth, and was related to most of the other first families; all of the important Town and Colony officers were her relatives.

Mary was an ambitious and aggressive business woman, ruling her house and apparently everyone she met. She was passionately fond of money, as is shown by the treatment of Daniel Hunt at the time he was arrested at Rehoboth and taken to Bristol for examination before Justice Byfield on the charge of passing a counterfeit bill [Mary's]. Israel Peck, her brother, wanted Mary to let Hunt have what good bills she had in the house in order that he might make as "Great an appearance as he could before Col. Byfield". Mary refused, fearing that Hunt would keep the good bills and not return them, so Israel and Nicholas Peck let Hunt have what good bills they had for his appearance. So far as Mary was concerned this counterfeiting was strictly a business. She had sold the bills to Hunt, made her profit on the transaction and he had to pass them to make his. If he got caught, that was his affair, not hers. She was always in the background; if anyone got into trouble or lost money, it was not Mary.

What started this young married woman on a career of counterfeiting will never be known, but start she did. The taverns seemed to be easy places for passing counterfeit bills, and perhaps what she saw at the "Sign of the Black Horse" gave her the idea. She had at least one other relative operating a tavern. Entering what was exclusively a man's field, she became so successful that she was probably the biggest single counterfeiter in New England.

Before making up her mind to go into this new way of making easy money, Mary apparently studied the situation carefully and found that the counterfeit money in circulation was being made from engraved counterfeit copper plates, some of which were not very faithful reproductions of the genuine bills, most of which were badly printed. She also saw men constantly caught with counterfeit plates in their possession, and noted that the Courts usually sentenced them as counterfeiters. So, being the clever woman she was, she invented an unique way of making these bills with a pen * without the use of the fatal copper plates. Her method was ingenious, and it would be interesting to know how she came to think of it. Under her system clever pen work would produce a bill that was almost a perfect facsimile of the genuine and that would oftentimes be accepted in preference to a genuine bill that would be considered a counterfeit.[†] Others had attempted to make complete bills with a pen by putting the bill against glass with a piece of paper over it and tracing by hand. This was not very successful. This was the way the copper plate counterfeiters had to put the signatures on their bills after they were printed.

Mary⁴ (Peck) Butterworth's kitchen was her workshop. With her babies around her, and with the new Bill of Public Credit she wished to duplicate on the kitchen table, she went to work. The operation is described by Nicholas Campe, one of her principal counterfeit passers: "She Layed a peas of fine water starched musoline upon them [the genuine bill] and So Pucked out the Letters upon Said musoline & then Layed the musoline upon a clean Peas of Paper and so made ye Impression of the Letters by the Letters Pucked out on the musoline". Campe, however, doesn't describe the whole process, which consisted of first lightly passing a hot flat iron over the damp starched muslin, causing it to pick up the printing from the new bill, and then ironing the muslin hard to transfer 1 this picked up printing to the blank piece of paper which was to be the counterfeit bill. She then threw the piece of muslin into the fireplace and the "plate" was destroyed. Then with a fine crow quill pen she carefully traced out the letters on the new bill. She afterwards went over the letters again imitating carefully the thickness of the lines on the original bill, and at no time having in her possession Thousand Worlds". Silas Greenman was convicted, however, in 1718, five years later, for copper plate counterfeiting. [General Court of Trials, Newport County (1671-1724), File Paper No. 6.] About 1740, some seventeen years after Mary Butterworth was counterfeiting at Rehoboth, there was a woman at Tivertown, Rhode Island, who supported her whole family by imitating a bill of credit with her pen, as she needed money, and having her boy pass it. Her undoing came when she gave a bill to her no-good brother to pass. He got drunk and told all about how the bill was made. Also, there was another woman in South Kingstown, Rhode Island, who made counterfeit bills with a pen and was caught. She was brought to Providence, Rhode Island, where she was to have her ears clipped by the sheriff after a stand in the pillory in front of the Old Colony House. Neither one of these two wome counterfeiters lasted long. The writer is indebted to Horace G. Belcher, Esquire, of Lakewood, Rhode Island, for calling his attention to these two cases. The writer has been unable to find the original court records.

† On 2 May 1728 James Franklin (brother of Dr. Benjamin Franklin), of Newport, R. I., printer, addressed a letter to Governor Jenks and the Rhode Island General Assembly relating to the method of printing bills-he had a process of printing from dies that he wanted adopted. He explained how the printing was done by giving "the Reasons why our Bills of Credit, as they are now printed upon Copper Plates cannot be secure from being Counterfeited. . . . That a Bill Printed upon a Copper Plate is so much like the Stroke of a Pen, and the Ink lying but upon the Surface of the Paper not having so deep an impression as by the Common Way of Printing Bills of Small Denominations have by our common Writing Ink been made larger, and even whole Bills been wrote out so as to Pass many Hands without Discovery . . . that more Ink being laid upon a Copper Plate for one Bill than another, makes not only an Inequality in the Color of the Bills printed from the same Plate, some being very pale and others very Dark, but in the Dark Ones the Letters appear fuller than in the pale, and the Extream park or Flourishes of every Letter came off on the Paper, to the full extent of the Strokes of the Engraver on the Plate, when in the Pale Bills, the Extream Park of many Letters do not appear at all, which makes a Manifest Difference in their Shape; insomuch That Persons unacquainted with Printing, and not knowing the reason of this Difference, very often Mistake the true Bills for false, and the false for true; as it now happens with the Ten Shilling Bills of the Province of the Massachusetts Bay; there being a Counterfeit Plate of that Denomination. The Letter (e) in the word Province being most taken notice of, the true Bills are taken for false, because the Flourish at the Bottom of the (e) does not Appear at all in the Pale Bills, and in the Dark it comes off full and plain. . . . By this means there being a Manifest Difference in the true Bills, tho' taken from the same Plate, a small difference in the false from the true, is not much taken Notice [Rhode Island State Archives, Petitions, vol. I.]

[‡] The writer has tried this method of transfer and it works perfectly, making a surprisingly good reproduction. An expert penman would have little difficulty in tracing over the writing and making a facsimile so perfect that it would probably defy detection.

^{*} In the Greenman counterfeiting trial at Newport, Rhode Island, 14 Oct. 1718, Joseph Mumford testified that in 1713 Silas Greenman of Kingstown, Rhode Island, showed him either a 3s or a 3s 6d counterfeit Massachusetts bill that he had made in the house of his father, Capt. Greenman, at Kingstown, "in the chamber where he weaved & that he shut the dore & that he drew it with his pen". Greenman told Mumford that "he would not put one [of these bills] away for Ten Throckmorton vs. Gooch, etc.

On 19 May 1636, Bassingbourne Throckmorton, citizen and alderman of Norwich, complained that the inhabitants of Bungay on 21 May 1537 granted a close there called Culpyes or Joyes close to one Richard Wharton for 99 years, for 10s. rent to the churchwardens of Bungay. In 1540 said Wharton conveyed his term therein to one Anne Throckmorton, widow, who paid said rental until her death about 60 years last past, when the residue of the term came to her son Lionell Throckmorton, gent, being her only son, heir, child, and executor of her will. He succeeded to the premises and paid said rent until his death in 1599, by will leaving said premises for life to his wife Elizabeth who died in 1608, when the remainder of term came to complainant, according to the will of his father, who has since held same and paid the rental. But one William Gooch and his father-in-law Richard Bayspool in confederacy with Samuell Style, Thomas Bacon, Richard Dey, Hamond Dowty, and John Turck, have seized and carried away the wood in the closes, and claim complainant and his ancestors had no freehold in the premises, and seek to secure it as a copyhold.

William Gooch, defendant, claims that John Dowsing, town reeve of Bungay, by deed of 1 Feb. 11 Chas. I. [1635/6] leased the premises to him for one year. States that one John Joye by will of 10 March 1504 devised said close to the church wardens of Bungay for superstitious uses, like masses, lights, requiems, etc. forever. And said close was let for the purposes of his will until 3 Sept. 1573, when by letters patent Queen Elizabeth granted it to one Edward Forthe and one

Henry Bett, gents, of Stepney, co. Midd., commissioners for suppressing lands for superstitious purposes. They conveyed same on 19 Sept 1573 to Thomas Codd, gent., and his successors, for the use of the parish. Defendants claim that complainant and his ancestors had no rights therein, except as tenants at will. (Chan. Pro. Chas. 1, T-55-40.)

Throckmorton, etc. vs. Gooch, etc.

On 10 Feb. 1635/6, Bassingborne Throckmorton, Esq., et als., creditors of Richard Calver late of Ditchingham, co. Norfolk, deceased, sued his widow Frances wife of George Gooch and her son William Calver, to recover their claims. No Throckmorton genealogy appears. (Chan. Pro. Chas. I, T-51-56.)

Gooch vs. Calver.

In 1638, George Gooch, gent., and Frances his wife, sued Gregorie Calver, gent., and others, concerning the estate of Richard Calver.

Among the witnesses, in evidence taken at Bungay, co. Suff., 18 May 1638, Bassingborne Throckmorton, Esq., alderman of Norwich, aged about 75 years, deposed that as a creditor of the estate of Richard Calver he had given Philip Morse a retainer of 3s. 4d. to proceed in suit proportionably with other creditors to recover his debt of £5.

Will of BASSINGBOURNE THROKMERTON, esq., citizen and Alderman of Norwich, dated 10 Sept. 1638, with codicil dated 15 Sept. 1638: My body to be buried in the Trinity church or chancell of Bungay, co. Suffolk, near to my father and mother there buried. To the reperation of St. Powles church in Norwich. To the poor of St. James parish in Norwich. To my cousin Chapman of Bungay 20s. To Mr. Gamon, minister of St. Lawrence parish in Norwich. To the poor of the East Wymer in Norwich. To the children of my daughter Layer £5 each at 21 years. To my son Thomas Throkmorton £100 for the use of my daughter Layer and her children. Her husband John Layer to have no part thereof. To my son-in-law William Railey £100 for his three daughters Margery, Anne, and Susan. To Edward Curtis 40s. To Mary Senior 40s., and to rest of servants 5s. To Hester Throkmorton my wife, household stuff given by my mother Downinge. To my sons Lyonell, Thomas, John, Miles, and Robert, all my household stuff not before given or bequeathed; and the lease in Norwich which I purchased this 15 Sept. 1638 of Sir Edward Blenerhassett equally divided between them. To Lyonell all my lands etc., in Norwich, Bungay, and elsewhere. To John Linnicke and Hester Gleane £5 each. Executors:-Mr. Eustacy Darcie, Mr. Raphe Blenerhassett. Witnesses:--Henry Rose, Christofer Giles, Edmond Smith, and John Mathews. Proved 5 Nov. 1638. (P.C.C., 152 Lee.)

Will of HESTER THROCKMORTON of St. Paul's, Norwich, widow [undated]: To son John Lenicke £100 and goods. Brother Edward Pye. To Deborah Cuckson and servant Mary Scamer. Residue to daughter Hester Gleane and son John Lenicke. Executor, son-in-law John Gleane. Wit: William Evans, Geo. Downing. [Probate not given.] (Arch. of Suffolk (Ipswich) original, 1642, no. 115.)

Throckmorton vs. Darcy, etc.

On 13 May 1640, Lionell, Thomas, Myles, and Robert Throckmorton, sons of Bassingbourne Thockmorton late citizen and alderman of Norwich, deceaced, complain that he died siezed of lands etc., there and elsewhere, and of a personal estate of over £3000, and by will of 10 Sept. 1638 left certain bequests of over £300, one being of £100 to said Thomas for the benefit of his sister Elizabeth Layer and her children, gave specified bequests to his wife, left his lands to his son Lionell, and the residue of his personal estate equally among the complainants. The executors Ralph Blenerhasset and Eustase Darsye have embezzled part of the estate, and have not distributed the remainder according to the will. A summons is asked for against the said executors. [The son John is not named or referred to in any part of the document.] (Chan. Pro. Chas I., T-39-42.)

The answer of Eustace Darcy, Esq., one of the defendants to the bill of complaint of Lyonell, Thomas, Miles and Robt. Throckmorton, complainants.

Defendants saith that Bassingborne Throckmorton late citizen and alderman of Norwich died seized of estates there and in Bungay, co. Suffolk, and elsewhere, and of personal estate of good value but not of the amount alledged. By will Memoirs the International Harvester Co., and passed away in 1927. He was the son of William Deering of Harvester fame. They had three children: Roger, who was a Pilgrim Tercentenary member of the Society, now deceased; and two daughters, Mrs. Chauncey McCormick (Marion Deering) and Mrs. Richard Ely Danielson (Barbara Deering), who survive. Mrs. McCormick succeeds her mother as a Pilgrim Tercentenary member. Mrs. Danielson is a life member of the Society.

Mrs. Deering made her home at different times in Chicago, New York City and in Spain, and more recently in Miami, Florida. She was interested in many philanthropies. She made many gifts to Northwestern University, and with others of her family established the Charles Deering Library at the University, the total gifts amounting to some $10,300,000. She was a life member of the governing board and a great benefactor of the Art Institute in Chicago.

She was a member of the Society of Mayflower Descendants, Society of Colonial Dames, Daughters of the American Revolution, Colony Club of New York, and the Friday, Fortnightly and Casino Clubs in Chicago.

The black marble tablet to Rev. John Robinson, in the stair hall of the Society's rooms at 9 Ashburton Place, given by Mrs. Deering, bears the following inscription:

Rev. John Robinson M.A. Pastor of the Pilgrims at Leyden "Whence at his prompting went forth the Pilgrim Fathers to settle New England" Given by his descendant Marion Whipple Deering 1922.

ALFRED PARKER LAIGHTON, of Flushing, L. I., N. Y., elected a life member 21 July 1920, was born in Portsmouth, N. H., 25 Sept. 1875, son of Charles Mills and Florence Sullivan (Peduzzi) Laighton, and died in Flushing 11 Dec. 1943.

Mr. Laighton claimed descent from the Pilgrims John Alden and Priscilla Mullins through David Alden and Mary Southworth; Elizabeth Alden and John Seabury; Samuel Seabury and Abigail Mumford; John Seabury and Elizabeth Henshaw; Elizabeth Seabury and Ammi Ruhama Hall; Frances Seabury Hall and Charles E. Laighton and Charles Mills Laighton and Florence Sullivan Peduzzi.

He also became a member of the Society of the Cincinnati, New Hampshire Branch, in 1929, inherited from his brother Paul DeBlois Laighton, they being descendants of Gen. John Sullivan of New Hampshire Revolutionary fame.

Mr. Laighton attended public schools in Portsmouth but at the age of fifteen went to Boston to enter business. Three years later he continued on to New York City and became a cloth salesman and broker with W. H. Hinchman & Co. About 1915 he formed his own company, A. P. Laighton & Co. He was a member for many years of the Textile Brokers Association in New York City and a member of its board of directors at his death, having a wide acquaintance in the trade by whom he was held in high esteem for his ethics and adherence to the standards of the brokerage fraternity.

He married, 3 March 1919, Caroline Stanard Rogers, daughter of John Leverett and Mary Elizabeth (Swords) Rogers, and made his home in Flushing, Long Island, where he was some years on the vestry of St. John's church and active in charitable work.

He leaves his widow, one son Alfred Kendall and two daughters, Caroline S. and Emily S.

HAROLD LEWIS BOND, of Waban, Mass., a leading figure in the construction equipment and building materials industry in New England, elected a life member 27 Feb. 1919, was born in Stetson, Maine, 12 Oct. 1866, son of Sidney Howard and Elsie Ann (Davis) Bond, and died in Waban 17 Dec. 1943.

He claimed descent from William¹ Bond who was baptised in Bury St. Edmunds England, 3 Sept. 1625, and came to Watertown, Mass., in 1630; through Thomas,² of Watertown, born 23 Dec. 1654; Thomas³ of Watertown, born 29 Apr. 1683; Henry⁴ of Watertown, born 6 Sept. 1712; Henry⁵ of Watertown, born 25 Oct. 1749; David Gilmore⁸ of Wiscasset, Maine, born 20 June 1775; John Nichols⁷ of Jefferson, Maine, born 12 August 1841; and Sidney Howard⁸ of Jefferson, born 9 March 1841. On his mother's side he claimed descent from Dolor Davis who settled in Cambridge, Mass., in 1634.

Harold Lewis⁹ Bond came to Malden with his parents in 1876, graduated from the Malden Grammar School in 1880 and early went to Boston to work as an errand boy. In 1901 he started in business with a partner as Harold L. Bond & Co., Memoirs selling tools and equipment for construction work in which line he ultimately attained leadership in New England. He was successively president of the Harold L. Bond Co., Waldo Bros. & Bond Co., and the Bond Co., retiring from active business in 1935, following which he wrote and published "An Encyclopedia of Antiques" in 1937.

He was one of the organizers of the Second National Bank in Malden and a director from 1917 to 1920. During the first World War he served in 1918 as manager of the New England district for the Division of Supplies for the Emergency Fleet Corporation and he was a member of the Massachusetts board on the Curtailment of Non-War Construction. He was a member of the Malden school committee 1905–07 and of the board of trustees of the Converse Memorial Library in Malden 1912–18. He belonged to the Massnic order, Massachusetts Society of the Sons of the American Revolution, Governor and Company of the Massachusetts Bay in New England, Boston Art Club, Engineers Club and Boston City Club. He was on the Malden Republican city committee for several years, on a committee to revise the city charter in 1911 and committee on the 250th anniversary of the incorporation of Malden. Mr. Bond removed from Malden to Waban in 1918.

He married 12 June 1889 Harriet Eliza, daughter of Henry Augustus and Julia F. (Chapman) Case, who survived him with their five children, Harold Charles Bond of Newtonville, Mass.; Lowell Bond of New York; Mrs. Charles R. Marshall of New York; Mrs. Phillip Bache of Martha's Vineyard, Mass., and Mrs. Fred Howell of Weston, Mass., also twelve grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

KATE THAXTER WENDELL, of East Milton, Mass., elected a Colonial member 4 Nov. 1930, was born in Brooklyn, N. Y., 28 Jan. 1865, daughter of Capt. George Blunt and Mary Elizabeth (Thompson) Wendell, and died in East Milton 23 Dec. 1943.

Kate Thaxter⁸ Wendell claimed descent from Evert Jansen¹ Wendell, of Embden Holland, who emigrated to New Netherland in America in 1640 under the Dutch West India Company, through Johannes² 1649–1691, who married Elizabeth Staets for his second wife; Abraham,³ 1678–1734, who married Katarina De Key; John,⁴ 1703–1762, who married Elizabeth Quincy; John,⁵ 1731–1808, who married Dorothy Sherburne; Jacob,⁶ 1788–1885, who married Mehetable Rindge Rogers; and Capt. George Blunt,⁷ 1831–1881, who married Mary Elizabeth Thompson.

She attended Miss Josephine Wright's private school in Quincy; the Greenleaf Street School, Quincy; Quincy High School, and Miss Ireland's school in Louisburg Square, Boston, afterward attending Newnham College in Cambridge England for two years.

Miss Wendell became a teacher in private schools, at the Misses Howard's School for Girls, Springfield, Mass., 1886–1890; Misses Bond's School for Girls, Baltimore, Md., 1892–93; Mrs. Quincy A. Shaw's School, Boston, 1893–94 and The Brearley School, New York City 1894–1917.

^{ar} Miss Wendell's Colonial membership in the Society passes on to her brother Arthur Rindge Wendell, an annual member since 12 June 1931.

FRANCIS BACON TROWBRIDGE, A.B., LL.B., of New Haven, Conn., elected an annual member in 1891 and made a life member 1 Feb. 1923, lawyer, genealogist and author, was born in New Haven 7 June 1866, the son of Thomas Rutherford and Katherine (Bacon) Trowbridge, and died in New Haven 27 Dec. 1943 following a short illness.

Francis Bacon⁸ Trowbridge claimed descent from Thomas¹ Trowbridge (1632-1702), who emigrated from England to Dorchester and then settled in New Haven, Conn., and married first, Sarah Rutherford; through Thomas² (1663-1711) and Mary Winston; Captain Daniel³ (1703-1752) and Mehetable Brown; Rutherford⁴ (1744-1825) and Dorcas Hitchcock; Henry⁵ (1781-1849) and Harriet Hayes; Thomas Rutherford⁶ (1810-1887) and Caroline Hoadley; and Thomas Rutherford⁷ (1839-1898) and Katherine Bacon.

Mr. Trowbridge prepared for college at Hopkins grammar school in New Haven, graduated from Yale in 1887 and from the Yale Law School in 1890. He was admitted to the Connecticut bar in 1890 but never practiced.

He was the author of "New Haven Genealogies"; "The Champion Genealogy":

CANTON, MASS., ADDITIONAL RECORDS: — No record of marriages in the Town of Canton, Mass., were kept between 1798 and 1808. (See page vi, lines 13 and 14 of "The Records of the Births, Marriages and Deaths and Intentions of Marriage in the Town of Stoughton from 1727 to 1800 and in the Town of Canton from 1797 to 1845.... Edited by Frederic Endicott.... Canton.... 1896.")

However, I have come across two old papers which throw light on the dates of the marriages, first, of James Endicott and Betsey Crane, and secondly, of Thomas Dunbar and Chloe Bent. Both of these marriages occurred in the unrecorded years mentioned.

The intentions of marriage of James Endicott and Betsey Crane are recorded in the Canton Records, on page 217, the date being April 19, 1801. Simeon Crane, a brother of Betsey Crane, wrote her from China, in a letter dated Jan. 14, 1802, in which he stated he had received word of the date of her marriage. This letter, in my possession, allowing for the time taken to send and receive letters from China, would indicate the marriage must have taken place soon after the intentions were filed, or about May 1801.

As for the date of the marriage of Thomas Dunbar and Chloe Bent, intentions of marriage for which are to be found in the Canton records as April 15, 1804, the exact date of marriage is given in an old yellow paper in my possession as Aug. 31, 1804. This original sheet shows: "Thomas Dunbar, born July 25, 1775. Chloe Bent born March 9, 1781. Married Aug. 31, 1804. Children: Chloe, b. May 1, 1805; Son, b. Jan. 30, 1807, d. Feb. 4, 1807; Nathaniel, b. Jan. 30, 1807; Wm., b. March 27, 1809; Dorothy, b. Oct. 5, 1810, d. Sept. 7, 1833; Samuel, b. Nov. 1 2, 1812, d. May 20, 1813; Thomas, b. Aug. 19, 1814; Sarah, b. July 17, 1816; Hannah, b. July 17, 1816; Mary Ann, b. Feb. 21, 1819; Elijah, b. Jan. 6, 1821; Julia, b. Sept. 29, 1824, d. April 20, 1825."

The above list of births is, with a few exceptions, like that on page 185 of Canton records. However, a serious mistake occurs in the printed "Records" where the birth of their first child, Chloe, is given as Jan. 1, 1805, whereas in the original written family record it is, plainly, May 1st, 1805. Next after Chloe come twins, namely their "First Son" and Nathaniel, born Jan. 30, 1807. This first son is not mentioned in the printed list. He died five days after his birth, on Feb. 4, 1807. Unfortunately this date of Feb. 4, 1807, though plainly in the "Deaths" column, was given in the printed list as the date of the birth of "Wm.," the next child to be born, but on the original paper it is March 27, 1809. In the original paper the date of Dorothy's death is given, but does not appear in the printed records. Finally, Samuel, born Nov. 12, 1812, is not in the printed list at all. He died May 20, 1813. In the case of Julia, I have copied the corrections in the date of her birth and her death exactly as in the original where "4" and "5" are written over those two dates respectively.

Mr. Morrill was prepared for college in the Noble & Greenough School in Boston and was a member of the Harvard Class of 1897. Later he studied in Heidelberg, Geneva. and Paris.

He entered the diplomatic service of the United States, and was Secretary of the Embassy to France, 1899-1900, and Secretary to the Embassy to Germany, 1900-1902. He spent the year 1902-1903 in Egypt recovering his health. Altogether he spent nine winters in Egypt, devoting much of his time to studying Egyptian antiquity and Arabic. Later years were spent in travel and in writing.

In 1926, he published "Lanterns, Junks, and Jade", his interest in China growing out of his travels in that country.

He devoted much attention to Heraldry, and identified all seals appearing in documents in the Massachusetts Archives before 1776 and in the archives of Suffolk County up to 1730.

He married in New York City, 28 Oct. 1919, Adeline Eldridge.

He was a member of the Sons of the American Revolution, the Loyal Legion, and the Society of Colonial Wars, becoming a member of the latter Society by right of descent from Col. Nathaniel Jordan of Maine. His father was an Ensign in the U. S. Navy during the Civil War.

His Morrill descent follows: (1) Abraham, came to Massachusetts in the Lion, arriving in 1632, married Sarah Clement of Haverhill, Mass., 10 June 1645, died at Roxbury, Mass., 20 June 1662; (2) Isaac, born 24 Aug. 1648, died 17 Oct. 1713, married 14 Nov. 1670 Phebe Gill, born 6 Jan. 1649/50, died 6 May 1714, representative to the General Court; (3) Capt. John, born 2 Nov. 1679, died 14 March 1760, married 23 Dec. 1703 Mary Stevens, born 17 Dec. 1679, died in 1761; (4) Rev. Moses, born 1 May 1719, died 18 Feb. 1778, in Biddeford, Maine, Harvard, 1737, married 1 Dec. 1743 Hannah, daughter of Capt. Samuel Jordan of Biddeford. He was minister of the church in Biddeford. (5) Nahum, born in Biddeford 16 Nov. 1768, died 19 Feb. 1838, married 3 Dec. 1789 Sarah Littlefield, born 16 June 1766 in Wells, Maine, died 17 June 1836; (6) Samuel, born 4 Feb. 1800, died 27 March 1872 in Boston, Bowdoin, 1820, M.D., 1823, married 11 Nov. 1828 Anna Rebecca Carter, born 26 April 1804, died 6 May 1894; (7) Ferdinand Gordon.

DEVERE ALLEN, of Wilton, Coun., who was elected an annual member 2 Oct. 1945, died as a result of an emergency operation while on a vacation in Westerly, R. I., 27 Aug. 1955. He was born in Providence, R. I., 24 June 1891, a son of Henry Lathrop Allen, born in Norwich, Conn., 29 July 1853, died in Stonington, Conn., 31 May 1943. Henry Lathrop Allen married, in Hopkinton, R. I., 12 April 1879, Sarah Elizabeth Champlin, born in Hopkinton 6 Jan. 1861, died in North Stonington 26 Aug. 1912, a daughter of Elijah Champlin and Sally Ann Lewis.

Mr. Devere Allen married 22 Aug. 1917 Lilian Marie Hollister, born in Hartford, Conn., 17 April 1893, daughter of the Rev. Frederic Morton Hollister and his wife Enid Smith. The children were: (a) Jean Fern, born in Wilton 4 Sept. 1919, married there, 25 Sept. 1937, Hugh Niven Young, of Wilton; and (b) Shirley, April, born in Wilton 18 April 1921, married Louis Katona.

Mr. Allen was prepared for college in the Wheeler School, North Stonington, Conn., and was graduated with the B.A. degree from Oberlin College in 1917.

Mr. Allen was editor of the National Patriot, 1917-1918; of Young Democracy, 1918-1921; managing editor of The World Tomorrow, 1921-1925, editor, 1925-1931, and 1932-33; associate editor of The Nation, 1931-1932; and editor and director of Nofrontier News Service (now the Worldover Press).

He was a candidate for the United States Senate on the Socialist ticket, 1932 and 1934, and for Governor of Connecticut on the Labor Party ticket, 1938. He was a member of the National Council Workers' Defense League, a member of the International Policy Committee, the Fellowship of Reconciliation; a member of the Peace Committee of the New England Yearly Meeting of the Society of Friends; and a member of the Faculty of the Institute of International Relations, conducted jointly by the American Friends Service Committee and Duke, Cornell, Northwestern University, and other colleges. He was Director of the European Bureau of the Worldover Press at Brussels, Belgium, 1939–1940, and was European correspondent for many American newspapers.

He was a member of the American Academy of Political and Social Science, the American Federation of Teachers, the Authors' League of America, the Rhode Island and the Connecticut Historical Societies, and of Phi Beta Kappa.

He was a member of the Society of Friends.

Among his publications may be mentioned "The Fight for Peace", 1930; "Some Prudence Island Allens", 1946; "What Europe Thinks About America", 1948; and "Adventurous Americans".

His Allen descent follows: (1) William, died in Swanses, Mass., in June 1685; (2) William, born on Prudence Island, Portsmouth, R. I., about 1666, died in 1740, married Martha Sweet; (3) William, born on Prudence Island in 1691, died in Exeter, R. I., in 1777, married, first, Freelove, married, secondly, Mercy, widow of John Mumford and daughter of James Reynolds; (4) Jonathan, born in 1722, died in November 1802, married, first, Rachel, widow of William Rathbun and daughter of William and Thankful Sweet, and secondly, Damaris — ; (5) Jonathan, born in Westerly in 1754, died in North Stonington 7 March 1839, married Anna Hall, born 28 April 1756, died 28 Aug. 1833, daughter of Edward and Joanna (Chapman) Hall; (6) Jonathan, born in North Stonington in 1792, died in Colchester, Conn., 8 Sept. 1862, married Nancy, daughter of John and Sabrina (West) Wright, born 27 Dec. 1792, died in 1855; (7) Amos Hall, born in North Stonington 15 Jan. 1825, died in Stonington 29 Dec. 1913, married in Montville, Conn., 2 Dec. 1852, Nancy, daughter of John and Polly (Main) Partelo, born 18 Jan. 1825, died 26 Dec. 1915; and (8) Henry Lathrop Allen.

15. GEORGE ADOLPHUS[®] DAME (Waldron Moore,⁸ Waldron H.,[†] Alexander A.,⁶ Capt. George,⁵ Theophilus,⁴ Moses,³ John,⁴ John1) was born in Titusville, Pa., 13 Jan. 1879. He married in Pittsburgh, Pa., the Rev. Hugo Mueller officiating, 12 May 1904, ELIZABETH BERTHA SCHRAM, daughter of Louisa Schram.

At the age of eighteen he enlisted in the 16th Pennsylvania Volunteer Infantry, during the Spanish American War, and saw active service in Porto Rico. He was mustered out of service as Quartermaster Sergeant. In 1900 he went to Pittsburgh, and after trying different jobs was employed by the Jones & Laughlin Steel Co., and learned to be a heater. After his retirement in December 1937 he moved to New Port Richey, Fla. He was elected to the City Council of New Port Richey in 1940 and has been re-elected ever since. In 1942 he was appointed by Governor Holland to fill the unexpired term of a deceased Judge of the Justice Court of Pasco County, Fla. In 1944 he was elected by the people of Pasco County as Judge of Justice Court for a four year term. He did not seek re-election, and at that time he established an office as a Notary Public at Large, doing most of the work for the Probate Court handling estates in Pasco County.

He married, 9 June 1742, MARY SHERwood, born 1 June 1710, died 1 Jan. 1790, daughter of Capt. Samuel and Rebeccar (Burr) Sherwood.†

In 1737 he was living in Colchester, Conn., on land given him by his father, and, as he married to his parents' liking and was the youngest son, he inherited much and was given much by them. His land records and estate have not been examined, but he removed to that portion of New London that became Montville (1786) before 1751. He became a wealthy merchant and there is data about his descendants in Osborne's 1893 account of the family and in the "Andrew Ward Genealogy". The following item may be of interest; it was evidently drawn in connection with the settlement of his father's estate:

30 May 1740, George Dolbeare of Colchester, Hartford Co., Conn., "Husbandman" ordained his brother Benjamin Dolbeare of Boston, merchant, as his attorney; signs; wit: Thomas Mason and Ithamar Ward; ack. same day (Suffolk Probate, Misc. Docket).

Under this authority Backus and Sprague sold, on 6 Feb. 1723/4, 130 acres of land to "Sam¹¹ Church of Volintown." On the same day they sold 200 acres to Robert Parke and Samuel Church.³⁰

In 1723 Samuel Church was signatory to two petitions requesting the installation of Samuel Dorrance to be their minister and on 15 October of that year he was one of the signers of the Confession of Faith. After several futile attempts Mr. Dorrance was, in 1723, installed as the minister of the Voluntown church which was the first, and, for many years, the only Presbyterian Church in Connecticut.³¹

The original settlers of Voluntown were a closely knit community. Among them were Robert Parke, John Gallup—called by Ellen Larned "the Plainfield Land Grabber," Ebenezer Dow and Thomas and Joseph Welch, who do not seem to have been related. Yet all of these men are connected in one way or another with this genealogy. Thomas Welch married Samuel Church's sister-in-law, Ann Edwards. Robert Parke's son, Benjamin, married Samuel Church's daughter, Mary. John Gallop's cousin's granddaughter, Abigail Harris, married Samuel Church's great-grandson, Gideon Church. Joseph Welch was probably Abigail Harris' maternal great-grandfather, and Ebenezer Dow married her father's half-sister, Martha Harris. Two sons of Samuel Dorrance were among the early settlers in what is now Kingston, Luzerne Co., Pa., where Samuel Church's grandson, Elias Church, settled in 1773.

Another example of this interrelationship is shown by Mr. Welch. On 12 Aug. 1790 Capt. Seers Harris, of Plainfield, Conn., was appointed to administer the estate of Thomas Welch of Canterbury, Conn., son of Thomas and Ann (Edwards) Welch. Thomas' sister, Ann Welch, had in Plainfield, 25 May 1744, married Daniel⁴ Harris (Ebenezer,³ Thomas,² Thomas¹).^{*2} Scers Harris is a very unusual name and the Captain of Plainfield was undoubtedly the nephew of Daniel4 Harris and brother of Abigail Harris, mentioned above, as is shown by the will of their father, Peter Harris, dated in Kingston, "Weftmoreland County in the State of Connecticut" 26 Dec. 1778, in which "I Do Give and bequeathe to my well beloved son Seers Harris my whole Wright of land lying and being in the township known by the name of Chillesquaqua to be his Own for Ever." Seers Harris does not seem to have gone to Pennsylvania with his father since his name does not appear on the records there. He is shown in the 1790 Census in Plainfield, the birthplace of his father.33

On 14 May 1724 Samuel Church was one of twenty-four residents of Voluntown who petitioned the General Court to locate the meeting house in the northern part of the town—where the unfinished frame was still standing.³⁴ On 27 April 1722 the Proprietors and In habitants of Voluntown had chosen a "spot of land" near the geo graphical center of the oblong shaped town as previously ordered by the Court. At the October 1725 session of the Assembly it was finally ordered that the Voluntown First Meeting House be built "with all convenient speed" on this "spot of land."³⁵

On 26 March 1725 Samuel Church of Voluntown, County of New

Samuel Church of Stonington, Conn.

London, sold to Jacob Bacon of Voluntown: "sd tract of land within the bounds above mentioned I purchased of Thomas Collins of Warwick . . . except ye twenty acors sold to Thomas Wellch."³⁶ It is this deed which proves that the sale by Thomas Collins in 1715 was to Samuel Church of Stonington and not to the Samuel Church, Sr., who died in 1724. It also shows that the tract sold by Samuel Church to Thomas Welch in 1719 came off this property.

On 9 Dec. 1725 Samuel Church of Voluntown, County of New London, deeded one hundred acres of land "to my well beloved son, Samuel Church of sd Voluntown"³⁷ and on 20 Feb. 1727 Samuel Church and Robert Parke agreed to a division of the property they owned jointly. Samuel Church to take all land east of the agreed line (except land sold by Robert Parke to Patrick Parke) and Robert Parke to take all land west of the line of partition.³⁸

On 1 Feb. 1727/8 Samuel Church of Voluntown, County of Windham, deeded land to Daniel Laurance of Plainfield and Henory Cobb of Mortlake. In May and July 1728 Samuel Church sold three more tracts of land; 150 acres to Robert Parke, 100 acres to Daniel Laurance and 200 acres to John Mumford of Newport, R. I.³⁹ It is obvious from these deeds that the records of all of Samuel Church's land transactions have not been found since he is the grantor of several hundred acres more than he received in the deeds of which he is the grantee.

The deed to Mumford, dated 17 July 1728, is the last reference to Samuel Church of Stonington found on the records. On 17 Sept. 1729 Samuel Church of Voluntown, County of Windham, Colony of Connecticut, sold to James Admonde, "late from Ireland, now of sd Voluntown," a tract of land "by estimation sixty acres be it more or less ... which land I had from my honored father, Samuel Church, late of Voluntown, deceased, as may appear by a deed under his hand bearing date December 9. 1725,"⁴⁰ which proves that Samuel Church of Stonington had died prior to 17 Sept. 1729 and was not the Samuel Church, Sr., who died in Voluntown 27 Nov. 1724 "about the nintyeth year of his age." No death record has been found for Samuel Church of Stonington. If he were a son of Samuel and Rebecca (Shattuck) Church, he could not have been born before 1673 and therefore could not have been more than fifty-six years old when he died.

In the early months of 1738 the heirs of Thomas Edwards of Stonington signed a series of deeds which prove the parentage of Mary (Edwards) Church:

"We, Mary Church and Daniel, son of ye sd Mary Church, boath of ye Town of Coventry and ye County of Windham and Colony of Connecticut in New England, for ye consideration of ye sum of ten pounds of Bills of Publick Credit . . . Quit-Claim unto Daniel Edwards of Coventry in ye County and Colony aforsd . . . one tract or Parcel of Land lying and being in ye Township of Stonington in The County of New London and Colony aforesd, being one hundred acres of land franted to Thomas Edwards of sd Stonington . . . In witness whereof, we, ye sd Mary Church and Daniel Church, ye son of ye sd Mary Church have hereunto the our hands and seals ye seventh day of April, 1738." Witnesses: Joseph Clark and Noah Porter. Acknowledged the same day by Joseph Strong, Justice of the Pace. Recorded 13 April 1738."

HARVARD CLASSES OF 1766-1767

Sketches of the men named hereinafter will be included in volume 16 of Sibley's Harvard Graduates. All printed material regarding them, all public repositories of manuscripts and portraits, have been or will be covered in the regular course of research, but the editor would be glad to hear of any manuscripts or portraits in private hands. He would also be happy to have any material on the several lost men.

THE SONS AND DAUGHTERS OF NEWPORT

An account of the Re-union of the Sons and Daughters of Newport, R.I., August 23, 1859, compiled by George G. Mason, was published there by the City Printers, Fred A. Pratt & Co., in that year. This book (p. 255-297) contains the "Names" of those who registered on that day, but the compiler rearranged them by state, provided no index, and omitted the parents. The original Register has been preserved in the Newport Historical Society, whose officers, Capt. Theodore Waterbury, Director, and Dr. C. P. Beauchamp Jeffrey, President, have graciously given us permission to print it in its entirety.

Genealogically this is an important record because it will provide at least partial answers to the problems of many who attempt to trace ancestry through families which were living on Rhode Island in the first half of the 19th century. The Committee on Arrangements must have had at least one member who realized the value of family records because the large ledger-like volume (folio in size), which was used as the register, was printed for the occasion with the pages facing each other divided into four columns -on the left-hand side spaces were provided for the signature of the registrant and the "Parents Names" (two lines being left for the latter); on the right-hand page were columns for "Present place of residence" and the "Occupation" of the registrant.

The data given on the left-hand page is the most important because marriage records of the city of Newport for the period ending about 1840-1850 are indeed few. This register supplies the father's name and at least the given name of the mother, and, in about sixty percent of the instances, her maiden name. A study of the registration indicates that frequently groups of two or more brothers and sisters registered together, thus furnishing evidence of family relationships.

An examination of the hand-writing suggests that a considerable proportion of the registrants had reached the meridian of their life, and some may have been in their seventies. This in turn is evidence that the majority of the parents were married between say 1790 and 1825. Although there were undoubtedly some young people among the "sons and daughters" who returned to the fair city sometimes called the "Queen of the Sea" it is certainly safe to assume that the number was more than balanced by those who seem to have been in the fifth, sixth, and seventh decades of their life and perhaps even a few born during or shortly after the Revolutionary War.

In transcribing the names in this register an effort has been made to verify the spelling of surnames by checking 'difficult' signatures against Mason's published list or surnames found among the marriages, births and deaths in Newport in Arnold's Vital Record of Rhode Island, vol. 4, part ii. - The Editor.

THE RHODE ISLAND CENSUS OF 1782

Transcribed by the Late KATHARINE U. WATERMAN of North Scituate, R.I.

A transcription of the 1782 Census of Rhode Island was given to the Society in 1945 by Katharine Utter Waterman, wife of Lewis A. Waterman. The value of this source to genealogists, historians, demographers and other scholars is of special note, since the census was taken about midway between the Rhode Island censuses of 1774 and 1790, both published.

The following introduction to the 1782 census was prepared by Mrs. Waterman and explains her arrangement. Also included is the text of the resolution of the Rhode Island General Assembly calling for the statewide count.

The first census of the United States was taken by the Federal government in 1790; however, in 1781, under the Articles of Confederation, Congress apparently desired an enumeration classified by race and age. As this Congress had no enforceable power over the states, it could only ask the latter to carry out the desired measure (Journals of the Continental Congress, 21:1129, 1165).

This probably explains the entries in the Rhode Island Colonial Records in regard to the 1782 census. On page 521 of vol. IX [see below] is a list of men who were appointed by the Assembly of January, 1782 to enumerate the inhabitants in their respective towns. On page 652 is the report of John Handy, Esq., who presented to the Assembly of February, 1783, a summary of the returns from the several towns, which summary was made "in consequence of a resolution to Congress". His tabular summary is on page 653 and was accepted (p. 654), copies ordered sent to delegates of Rhode Island at Congress "as containing an exact account of the inhabitants of this state" except those of New Shoreham "which being under control of the enemy" could not be numbered. It was added that the census of 1774 had shown 575 inhabitants there.

John Handy's table contained only totals-Whites, Indians, Blacks, Mulattoes, each in four classifications according to age. The original enumerators had listed each head of family by name and given the number of persons in his family and household, each color, sex, and age classification in its own column. Hence, the original lists are very valuable from the standpoint of family research, but the printed table, compiled by Handy, is worthless for such a purpose.

A collection of these manuscript lists as turned in by the enumerators is contained in Volume 14, File No. 5, of the Foster Papers in the Rhode Island Historical Society Library in Providence. There are 268 manuscript pages. Unfortunately, five of the original lists are missing, viz. Barrington, Johnston, North Providence, Richmond and Smithfield. Whoever collected the lists in the first place also failed to obtain the one prepared for the Town of Cumberland, which was later found in "Rhode Island Manuscripts," 10:88, and transferred to the original census volume by Clarence S. Brigham in November, 1904. John Handy's summary was later compared with the original manuscript returns, and errors found were corrected in a new tabulation, now inserted in the Foster volume ahead of the enumeration proper. So far as I have learned, only the John Handy tabulation has ever been printed.

Every effort has been made to copy the spelling of the manuscript exactly. However, neither the old nor the modern style of writing has been consistently followed by the enumerators so that the copyist can be wholly guided by the habit of the writer. The letters are often so carelessly formed that more than one reading is possible. Sometimes letters are omitted, and often only the surname is used. Where the intended spelling is still obscure after checking with other lists of the locality, such as the 1774 and 1790 censuses, the name is marked with an asterisk, indicating that the typed copy may not be a true equivalent.

The quaint effect of the writing, spelling, and abbreviations of the manuscript is lost in typing, but the greater usability of the copy must excuse the esthetic loss.

The following symbols are used for the census classifications:

| A | Male | s under | 16 |
|---|------|---------|----|
| | | | |

- a Females under 16
- B Males 16 to 22
- b Females 16 to 22
- C Males 22 to 50
- c Females 22 to 50
- D Males upwards of 50
- d Females upwards of 50 X - Indians
- Y Mulattoes

- Z Blacks

Page numbers refer to the manuscript pages. An asterisk indicates that the original spelling is doubtful. A man's family includes all persons resident in his home, whether related or not. "Mrs." was always written in the manuscript with a double s, the first being the old long s, which cannot be duplicated on the typewriter. Widow is indicated by a large block "W" in the manuscript.

From the Proceedings of the General Assembly of the State of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations at Providence on the last Monday in January, 1782 (Records of the State of Rhode Island ..., ed. John R. Bartlett, 1864, pp. 521-2):

It is voted and resolved, that an account of the number of families and persons in this state be immediately taken; that the number of families of whites, Indians and blacks, both male and female, be specified in distinct columns; that the number under the age of sixteen, the number above sixteen and not exceeding twentyone, the number above twenty-one and not exceeding fifty, and the number above fifty years of age, be particularly ascertained; and that the persons whose names are set down in the subsequent list be, and they are hereby, appointed to take the mid account in their respective towns, to wit:

Newport, Mr. John Townsend; Providence, Mr. Benjamin Hoppin; Portsmouth. Mr. William Anthony; Warwick, Mr. Charles Holden; Westerly, Mr. Thomas Noyes; North Kingstown, Mr. William Hammond; South Kingstown, Mr. Paris Gardner; East Greenwich, Mr. Archibald Crary; Jamestown, Mr. John Weeden; mithfield, Mr. Luke Arnold; Scituate, Mr. Stephen Kimball; Glocester, Mr. Amos Winsor; Charlestown, Mr. Peleg Lewis; West Greenwich, Mr. Samuel Hopkins, Jr.; Goventry, Mr. Stephen Potter; Exeter, Mr. Robert Reynolds (son of George); Middletown, Mr. Oliver Durfee; Bristol, Mr. Richard Smith; Tiverton, Mr. Benja-min Howland; Little Compton, Mr. Philip Taylor; Warren, Mr. James Miller; Cumberland, Mr. Jotham Carpenter; Richmond, Mr. Robert Stanton; Cranston, Mr. Nehemiah Knight; Hopkinton, Mr. George Thurston, Jr.; Johnston, Mr. oueph Borden, Jr.; North Providence, Mr. Hope Angell; Barrington, Mr. Thomas Allen; Foster, Mr. Jonathan Hopkins, Jr.

It is further voted and resolved, that in case any of the above named persons shall refuse, or by any casualty be rendered unable to serve, then the deputies in the respective towns be, and they are hereby, empowered to appoint others in their stead; that the persons named in the foregoing list, or those who may be appointed in their stead, as aforesaid, take an oath before they proceed on the said business, to take a just and true account of the families and persons, agreeable to this act; and that the said persons be paid for their services by their respective towns. And it is further resolved, that the secretary forthwith transmit a copy hereof. logether with a proper roll, with ruled columns to take the numbers, to the town derks of the respective towns, to be by them delivered to the persons who are or shall be appointed to take the said account, that a return thereof may be made to this Assembly at the next session.

THE PARENTS AND SOME DESCENDANTS OF WILLIAM JAMES, BLACKSMITH, OF WESTERLY, R.I.

By ALDEN GAMALIEL BEAMAN, Ph.D., of Princeton, Mass.

23. EZEKIEL⁵ JAMES (George⁴, Benjamin³, William²⁻¹) was born in 1775 at Richmond. He died in 1845, according to his gravestone.

He married SUSANNAH SHERMAN, who was born in 1777 at Exeter and died 5 Oct. 1849, daughter of Eber and Penelope (Bentley) Sherman. She is mentioned as wife of Ezekiel in the will of his father George (Richmond Probates, 6:286-94), in the Richmond Land Evidence (e.g., 5:20, dated 2 April 1805; 6:365-6, dated 15 Jan. 1821, and 7:453, dated 7 April 1834); on their gravestones (Rhode Island Historical Cemetery, South Kingstown No. 82, removed to South Kingstown No. 2) and by Frank Dempster Sherman (op. cit., p. 607). The will of Caleb Bentley of Exeter, dated 13 Jan. 1790 and proved 7 Feb. 1792, mentions his daughter Penelope Shearman (Exeter Council and Probates, 5:126-8).

Ezekiel James left no will, and the births of none of his children have been found recorded. Data on them are based on Richmond Land Evidence (7:453: 8:304), South Kingstown Land Evidence (18:114-15) and their death records (Richmond Deaths 1850-1910, pp. 3, 29, 39; Exeter Deaths 1854-1903, p. 4; South Kingstown Deaths 1850-1914, pp. 31, 71, 96; Charlestown Deaths 1850-1921, p. 34).

THE JOURNAL OF SAMUEL HAWES

Edited by Richard Brigham Johnson

The journal of Samuel Hawes of Wrentham, Massachusetts, dating from 19 April 1775 to 10 February 1776, is a lively and at times humorous account of Samuel's life as a soldier during the siege of Boston. It complements, too, the diary of Israel Litchfield, presented recently in the Register (129 [1975]:150-171, 250-269, 361-378). Read together, these two documents provide a striking view of army and town life in the early months of the American Revolution.

Hawes was the eldest son of Samuel and Priscilla (Ruggles) Hawes, and he was a fifth generation descendant of Edward and Eliony (Lumber) Hawes, who were among the first settlers of Wrentham.¹ Before his service in the army, Hawes had married on 20 September 1773 in Cumberland, Rhode Island, Rebecca Farrington, the daughter of John Farrington of Wrentham. They apparently had eloped—and with good reason—since their first daughter was born on 22 December 1773. The Haweses had one more child, a son, Samuel, born 25 June 1775, but there is no further record of Samuel's later life. He probably died in 1780.²

The Hawes journal was presented to the Society in 1858 by Howard Malcolm, after being published three years earlier by Abraham Tomlinson, the proprietor of a museum in Poughkeepsie, New York, with notes by Benjamin Lossing, the artist-historian. Little is known about the lives of Malcolm or Tomlinson, but Lossing (12 February 1813-3 June 1891), the son of John and Miriam (Dorland) Lossing, was a descendant of

27. Joseph Willard (29 Dec. 1738-25 Sept. 1804) was the son of the Reverend Samuel and Abigail (Wright) Willard and great-great-grandson of Simon Willard, one of the founders of Concord, Mass. He graduated from Harvard College in 1765 and became the minister at Beverly, Mass., in 1772. On 7 Mar. 1774, he married Mary Sheafe, the daughter of Jacob and Hannah (Seavery) Sheafe, of Portsmouth. Known for his work in astronomy, mathematics, and the classics, he was the natural choice for the presidency of Harvard College after the resignation of Samuel Langdon in 1780. Such, however, was the condition of the College as a result of the war and the vagaries of the treasurer, John Hancock, that Willard was not inaugurated until 19 Dec. 1781. He and his wife had 13 children; the youngest of whom, Joseph, was an incorporator of the New England Historic Genealogical Society. D.A.B., s.v. "Willard, Joseph."

D. 18. Behold their Spite[!] This morning before the sun rise the enemy fired at our working party on the neck this side the george tavern. Our rifle men fired at them and it is thought killed too of them but not withstanding all their fireing of balls and bombs though some of them came so near that it could hardly be called an escape yet their was not one man wounded on our side. One bomb was thrown in the evening but did no Damage. One of the enemy came to our centrys and is now in the guard house.

D. 19. I went upon fatigue. The morning began with fireing from the wicked enemy at our guard but did no hurt. In the afternoon the rifle men fired at the enemy and the enemy at them and they wounded one of the rifle men in the foot Slitely but what Damage we did them is uncertain. Let this Suffice for a short acount of the transactions of the 19 day.

 D^{r} 20. I went upon the main guard. At night our boats went up with in gun Shot of the comon and alarmed them by fireing Several guns and then returned without any Loss on our Side.

D. 21. Nothing remarkable hapened this day. At night one of the enemy deserted and came to us.

29. There are at least four Lieutenant Fosters who served in Massachusetts. Ezekiel was from Greenfield and served in Captain Agrippa Wells's company, which marched on the Lexington Alarm under Colonel Samuel Williams; he was also in the camp at Cambridge and Prospect Hill. Gideon was from Danvers and marched in Captain Samuel Epes's company on the Alarm under Colonel Timothy Pickering. Jonathan was from Boxford and in Captain John Cushing's company, under Colonel Samuel Johnson; he served under Colonel Jedidiah Huntington in 1776. Josiah was from Dracut and served in Captain Peter Colburn's company under Colonel Ebenezer Bridge. There are three other, less likely, although no less distinguished, possibilities: Alexander of Attleborough in Captain Samuel Richardson's company, Colonel John Doggett's regiment; Samuel of Manchester in Captain Andrew and Dr. John Greene bought land from the Indians at Shawomet, just to the south. This was renamed Warwick in 1644 in honor of the Earl of Warwick, who was instrumental in helping to obtain its first royal charter.

Rhode Island Genealogy

By this time it had become clear to her neighbors that the new settlements represented, if not a danger, at least a threat to their peace of mind. The New England Confederation, formed in 1643, left out Rhode Island, on the grounds that she had no stable government and held anarchistic principles shocking to the other colonies. Roger Williams went to England to obtain a charter, returning in September 1644 with a patent authorizing the union of Providence, Portsmouth and Newport under "The Incorporation of Providence Plantations." After a bitter dispute with Massachusetts over ownership of the Shawomet land, during which Gorton, Randall Holden and others were dragged off to jail in Boston, Warwick obtained its own charter and joined the government of the others. The charter declared the colony's subjection to King Charles, but guaranteed the right of religious liberty for all.

One historian has observed that the four original towns in Rhode Island were all founded so that their inhabitants would not have to live with other people⁶; it might also be said that they had agreed to disagree. The Compact signed by the first inhabitants of Providence in 1636 clearly stated that the government was to have jurisdiction "only in civil things," and the Portsmouth Compact of 1638 stipulated that none was to be held accountable for his religious beliefs.

Many of the earliest surviving records for the four original towns are available in print: Early Records of the Town of Portsmouth, edited by Clarence S. Brigham (Providence, 1901), Early Records of the Town of Warwick, edited by Howard M. Chapin (Providence, 1926), and the Early Records of the Town of Providence in twenty-one volumes, edited by Horatio Rogers (Providence, 1892-1915) with an index published in 1949 by Richard LeBaron Bowen. The records of Newport are included in the first volume of Records of the Colony of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations in New England, edited by John Russell Bartlett (Providence, 1856-1862; reprint ed., New York, 1968). Volumes I through VII of this work contain the records of the Court of Commissioners and then the General Assembly, from 1636 to 1776, along with numerous other documents. A second set of volumes, Records of the State of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations, continues to 1792.7 This work is often called "Colonial Records of Rhode Island" or simply, "Bartlett." It contains, scattered among records of legislation and foreign affairs of the colony, many references to ordinary inhabitants. The General Assembly was made up of six representatives from each town, and during its earliest years especially, it dealt with many matters of individual concern which are of genealogical interest.

Commercial opportunities of the Narragansett Bay area had been early recognized by Roger Williams, and it was with the development of a trading post at Cocumscussoc, near present day Wickford, that settlement on the west side of the Bay began. Richard Smith, a wealthy planter with interests also in New York and Boston, built there a home which became known as "Smith's Castle." His daughter Catherine married Gysbert op Dyck, a Hempstead, New York, physician, and they became the progenitors of the prominent Updike family of Rhode Island. Making their fortunes in trade with New York, Boston, and the West Indies, these families maintained social and business relationships with both Roger Williams and Connecticut Governor John Winthrop, Jr. They laid the groundwork for a slavery-based plantation life which flourished in Narragansett from the late seventeenth century until sent into decline by the Revolution.

The unifying factor in Rhode Island's diversity became trade, which for many years depended upon the sea. Unable to produce great quantities of anything to export, Rhode Islanders learned to make a profit carrying goods produced by other people. "A surprising number of the first settlers became traders at least part time, and many more dabbled in small ventures; others tied their lives to commerce by fitting out or commanding vessels that carried the goods."⁸ With a natural position as a seaport, Newport grew rapidly, developing a rather mobile population; by 1729 Antiguan planters were using it as a summer resort. It is characteristic of genealogical research in colonial Newport that one turns up names of many people who appear not to have settled there for any length of time, but are shown in probate or court files as merchants, mariners, or craftsmen, then pass out of written records without a trace. Until the Revolution, Newport easily maintained its economic and cultural prominence over the stodgier town of Providence.

In the latter half of the seventeenth century, hunger for land broke loose in the colony as men in the settled towns joined together to purchase large areas of land from the Indians. The Conanicut Purchase agreement of 1657, led by William Coddington and Benedict Arnold, was signed by a great number of men, mostly from Portsmouth and Newport, some in for only 1/900th of a share. In 1657 the Pettaquamscutt Purchasers, headed by Samuel Wilbore, Thomas Mumford, John Porter, Samuel Wilson and John Hull, bought rights to the southeast quarter of the area since known popularly as "South County." At the same time the powerful William Harris was intriguing to get control of much of what became Providence County by obtaining "confirmatory deeds" from the Indians, siding with Connecticut in land disputes when it suited his purpose.

1825, and her husband may have been about the same age. Furthermore, the several William Sandses and their wives lie in the burial plot immediately adjacent to that of George and Celia Ann (Gorton) Peirce. However, Robert could fit here only if he had attained his majority by the time of his father's death, as no Robert is included in the children's guardianship.

Children, surname Sands:

- 17. i. WILLIAM A., b. ca. 1813.
 - RAY T., b. ca. 1818 and named for his great grandfather Sands; d. 30 May 1838 "in his 20th year" (gravestone erected by his wife); m. at East Greenwich, 28 Sept. 1837 (St. Luke's Church records, Arnold's VR 11:529) HANNAH S. WHITING, dau. of Nathan and Sarah (Salisbury) Whiting. His father-in-law, Nathan Whiting, administered his estate (East Greenwich Probate no. 563). His widow m. second 20 Sept. 1841 (Arnold's VR 11:529) Nathaniel Jones Cheney, son of Asa and Roxana (Pitman) Cheney of Milford, Mass. For his family and antecedents see Charles H. Pope, The Cheney Genealogy (Boston, 1897), 114-15. On her death on 9 Jan. 1886 at East Greenwich, her estate was administered by her husband Nathaniel. His estate shows one daughter, Emma F. Brown.
 - iii. ANN M. (probably for Maynard), named for her aunt and her paternal grandmother.

9. CAROLINE ELIZA CASE, born at North Kingstown, R.I., 21 Feb. 1808 (Arnold's VR, 5:63), died on Bowen Street, Providence, 29 March 1854, aged 46 (Alphabetical Index of the Births, Marriages and Deaths Recorded in Providence, Deaths 9:109, Index 3[1881]:104); married at Kingston, 27 Sept. 1829 (Prov. Journal notice, Arnold's VR 16:280) JOHN HELME CLARKE, died at Butler Hospital in Providence, 30 March 1869, aged 63 years, 2 months (Deaths 12:100, Index 3:106, listing his occupation as "painter"), son of Thomas Peckham and Ruth Sisson (Dunton) Clarke of Providence (for his ancestry, see George Austin Morrison, Clarke Families of Rhode Island [New York, 1902?], 130-31, which calls his wife "Catharine Phin Case"). Both are buried in the Clarke Cemetery at South Kingstown.

Children, surname Clarke, order uncertain:

- i. CAROLINE F., b. 1834; d. 2 Oct. 1835 (1833 per an 1880 transcription which is often inaccurate), aged 18 months (g.s., Clarke Cemetery).
- ii. JOHN CASE, a minor living with his father in Providence when the partition of his grandfather's estate commenced; of age and in Red Bluff, Tehama Co., California in 1865 (So. Kingstown Deeds 21/325).
- 18. iii. ARTHUR MAYNARD, a minor over 14 in 1854.
 - iv. EDWARD (Morrison, Clarke Families, 131); it is clear that he died young, as he is not mentioned in the partition of his grandfather's estate, did not join with his brothers in conveying South Kingstown land, and was not placed under guardianship when his father opened same for his brother in 1854.

v. FRANK, a minor under 14 living with his father in 1863; of age 1865; in Iowa in 1868.

10. WILLIAM HELME CASE, born at South Kingstown, R.I.; a minor over 14 when his father d. in 1829 (So. Kingstown Probate 5:11) and he chose Philip Taylor as his guardian; under guardianship as incompetent in 1844; died by 4 July 1857 when Elisha R. Potter was appointed administrator of his estate (South Kingstown Probate 7:90); married at "Milltown, Conn.," 24 or 25 Sept. 1829 (Prov. Journal, Arnold's VR 16:280; R.I. American, Arnold's VR 19:420) ELIZA H.⁶ MUMFORD, daughter of Nathaniel and Mercy (Helme) Mumford.

Children, surname Case:

- 19. i. JAMES HELME (twin), b. ca. 1830.
 - NATHANIEL MUMFORD (twin), b. ca. 1830; killed by a sharpshooter while serving with the 3rd R.I. Heavy Artillery, 19 Oct. 1864 at Ft. Pulaski, Morris Island, S.C. (North Kingstown Deaths 3:19); unm.
- 20. iii. JOHN PECK, b. at South Kingstown, 5 Jan. 1831. iv. MARY, d. inf.

11. CELINDA MAYNARD CASE, born about 1816 if the age on her gravestone is correct, but on 8 June 1829 she chose (for which she would have had to have been 14) her mother as her guardian (So. Kingstown Probate 5:11), died 2 Sept. 1855 "in the 40th year of her age" (i.e., 39; Smith, "Almanac Notes" gives her age at death as "about 36," clearly an error); married at North Kingstown, 8 June 1836 (St. Paul's Church Recs. in Arnold's VR 10:336) Capt. WILLIAM HOLLOWAY, Jr., born 9 Nov. 1799 (g.s.), died at North Kingstown, 31 Dec. 1885, aged "86/1/27" (Deaths 4:66, which states that he was born at South Kingstown), son of William and Mary (Sherman) Holloway. Both buried in Elmgrove Cemetery, North Kingstown. For his ancestry see Roy Vivian Sherman, Some of the Descendants of Philip Sherman, the First Secretary of Rhode Island (Akron?, Ohio, 1968), 258.

Children, surname Holloway (all registered 27 Jan. 1858 in North Kingstown Births 3:13):

- CHRISTOPHER, b. 1 Feb. 1838. In 1863 and 1867 he was of New York City; the North Kingstown land records show deeds from him in 1881-87, in which he was of New York City, with wife Emma A. executing also.
- ii. LUCIEN, b. 28 April 1839; d. at North Kingstown, 23 Nov. 1842 (Deaths 3:3); buried Elmgrove Cemetery.

says that Mrs. Sands was away on a voyage with her husband at the time of the fire, but as can be seen he was then deceased. His will leaves his entire estate to his wife Charlotte (East Greenwich Probate 8:339), and Charlotte's probate (Brooklyn, Kings' County, New York, ancillary probate in East Greenwich #562) mentions only her nieces. It is therefore safe to assume that he left no surviving issue.

At least one child by first marriage, surname Sands:

i. JOSEPHINE AMANDA, b. ca. 1843; d. 29 March 1845, "age 2 years"; buried with her parents.

18. ARTHUR MAYNARD CLARKE, born at South Kingstown, R.I., in June 1838, died at Boyd Ave., East Providence, R.I., 10 June 1920, "aged 82/0/3" (Deaths 3:34), buried in North Burial Ground, Providence; married by Rev. Abraham M. Granger, Baptist clergyman, at Providence, 16 Jan. 1865 (Marr. 8:142, Index 2:81) HANNAH ARNOLD WAKEFIELD, born at Thompson, Conn., in May 1842, died at Hope Hospital, Providence, 30 Nov. 1916, "age 74/6/2" (Deaths 25:342, Index 18:187; also East Providence Deaths 2:196), daughter of Ebenezer and Miranda (Wade) Wakefield.

Arthur Clarke was a "minor over 14" on 2 May 1854 when his father petitioned for guardianship (Providence Probate A 7267); he was of age and released his guardian on 29 Sept. 1863. He is described variously in the records as clerk (1863), mechanic (1865) and painter (1865, 1868, 1869). They were living with her parents when the 1865 Providence census (17:241-242) was taken.

Children, surname Clarke:

- i. CARRIE E., b. at Providence, 6 Oct. 1865 (Births 8:133, Index 4:101); d. there 28 Sept. 1866 (Deaths 11:219, Index 3:105).
- ii. WALTER, b. at Providence, 2 Feb. 1868 (Births 9:15, Index 4:102); d. there 22 April 1869 (Deaths 12:103, Index 3:106).
- iii. EBEN HOWARD, b. at Providence, 31 July 1872 (Births 10:1, Index 9:81); d. 5 March 1888 (Deaths 17:67, Index 8:107, also East Providence Deaths 2:17) of malignant scarlatina.
- iv. BERTHA ELIZABETH, b. at East Providence (per her death cert.), 28 Sept. 1877; m. JAMES HOWARD CARTER and had issue. According to her mother's probate (East Providence Probate #1217), she was the only heir.
- v. BERNON HELME, b. at East Providence, ca. 1882; d. 22 March 1888, aged "8/9/1" of scarlatina (Providence Deaths 17:67, Index 8:107, also East Providence Deaths 2:17).

19. JAMES HELME CASE, born about 1830, died in service at Fort William, Virginia, 23 March 1864 (North Kingstown Deaths 3:19); married in 1857 (North Kingstown Marriages 3:8, month and day lost where margin was burned) SUSAN SPENCER, aged 16, a native of Warwick, daughter of Samuel Spencer.

Collateral Descendants of John Peck Rathbun 1984]

Child, surname Case:

i. SUSAN, b. at North Kingstown, 20 Oct. 1858 (Births 3:25).

20. JOHN PECK CASE, born at South Kingstown, R.I., 5 Jan. 1831, died there 30 June 1910 "age 79/5/25" (Deaths 1:123); married first at Franklin, Conn., JULIA A. MASON, who died the same year; married second at South Kingstown, 16 Nov. 1871 (Marr. 1:44) MARY E. (READ) SLOCUM, died at Providence, 7 Dec. 1893, aged 50 (South Kingstown Deaths 1:76), daughter of Jason and Sarah (Thomas) Read and widow of James Harrison Slocum; married third at South Kingstown, 28 Oct. 1896 (Marr. 1:120) ANNIE (NICHOLS) PORTER, born 23 July 1850, died at South County Hospital, South Kingstown, 12 Sept. 1934 (Deaths 3:124), buried in Elmgrove Cemetery, North Kingstown, daughter of Joseph Taylor and Marietta (Hazard) Nichols.

There is a biography of him in Representative Men and Old Families of Rhode Island (Chicago, 1908), 2:996-97.

Children by second marriage, surname Case, born at South Kingstown:

- FRANK, b. 21 Nov. 1872 (Births 1:50); d. there 13 July 1888 (Deaths i. 1:65); unm.
- ii. son, stillborn 18 Jan. 1874 (Births 1:55, Deaths 1:35).
- iii. ANNIE, b. 19 Feb. 1876 (Births 1:61); d. there 23 Feb. 1897 (Deaths 1:85): unm.

21. DANIEL ELDRED BULLOCK, born at North Kingstown, R.I., about 15 Jan. 1811 (per his death record), died there 11 Sept. 1880 "aged 69/6/26," of old age (Deaths 4:46); married ANN AUSTIN, died at North Kingstown, 8 May 1885, aged 74, of cancer (Deaths 4:64).

Smith, "Almanac Notes" called him "Esq." He and his four oldest children then living (Almira, Mary, James and Charlotte) were baptized at St. Paul's Church, Wickford, North Kingstown on 4 June 1845 (Arnold's VR 10:356). His will, dated 31 Dec. 1879 and proved 11 Oct. 1880 (No. Kingstown Probate 39:261), mentions his wife and all of the children following except nos. iii, v, viii and xi.

Children, surname Bullock (recorded at North Kingstown, the first ten as a group on 20 Jan. 1858, 3:7; the youngest at the time of birth, 3:28. In the group recording there was obviously an error in the date of birth for either Anna Irene or Francis Delphine.

- ALMIRA GREENE, b. 9 March 1834; d. 9 June 1895; m. CHARLES E. i. SPENCER.
- ii. MARY ELIZABETH, b. 20 May 1836; m. at St. Paul's, Wickford, North Kingstown, 18 July 1851 (Marriages 3:3) JOHN WILLIS.
- iii. CHARLES H., b. 19 Oct. 1837; not bp. with siblings on 4 June 1845, so presumably d. young.

The Benchley-Bensley Family

[JANUARY

Central Falls, R.I.). The article that follows presents what information has been discovered about the Benchley/Bensley ancestry in England and the first four generations in America. A very special thanks is due to Elizabeth J. Johnson, who did a great deal of research in Rhode Island records and read drafts of this article, and to Peter B. Benchley, who gave financial support for needed English research. Others who provided research assistance and/or valuable comments and suggestions include Robert C. Anderson, F.A.S.G., Jane Fletcher Fiske, F.A.S.G., Ruth Ann Sherman, F.A.S.G., Richard W. Price, A.G., Robert S. Benchley, Steven W. Myers, Norma Moore, and Michael J. Wood.

Bensley is a name quite common to county Norfolk. A review of Percival Boyd's multi-volume "Marriage Index" (typescript, at the Society of Genealogists, London, the LDS Family History Library, Salt Lake City, and the New York Public Library), the International Genealogical Index (IGI) of the Genealogical Society of Utah, and probate indexes, shows a wide distribution of the name in the period 1538 to 1750, with the largest concentration in and around Norwich and the eastern part of the shire. Benchley is not a form generally found in England; however, many American records show Benchleys as Bensleys and some Benchley descendants actually use that spelling. In Norfolk records, Bensley is found also as Bensly, Bensely, Benseley, Bencely, Bencely, Bencly, Bencly, and Bencily. Bensly, alias Benslyn, is an old name in East Norfolk, believed to be a diminutive of Ben (Walter Rye, Norfolk Families [Norwich, 1913], 41). Only one book about surnames has been found which includes the names: Benchley, a "Dweller in the pasture land by the terrace, lodge or stream-bank": and Bensley, a "Dweller in a grove where beans were grown" (Elsdon C. Smith, New Dictionary of American Family Names [New York, 1956], 32, 33). An entry in the IGI shows Bensleys in Norfolk by 1556.

The Benchley/Bensley family seems to have lived in the parish of West Raynham, which was occasionally referred to as Rainham Parva, or Little Rainham. East Raynham was sometimes called Rainham Magna, or Great Rainham (Francis Blomfield, An Essay Towards a Topographical History of the County of Norfolk, continued by Rev. Charles Parkin, 5 vols. [Fernsfield and Lynn, 1739-1775], 3:815; see also Rev. George Munford, An Attempt to Ascertain the True Derivation of the Names of Towns and Villages . . . of the County of Norfolk [London, 1870], 17). There are three Raynham parishes - East, West, and South - which belonged to the Marquess Townshend, whose seat was Raynham Hall. Investigation of wills and administrations in the four courts having jurisdiction over the Raynham parishes has not disclosed more information about the family. or indicated where they might have lived earlier. Within the time period roughly from the mid-seventeenth to the mid-eighteenth century, only two probates were discovered for Bensleys within a ten mile radius of the Raynhams: Sarah Bensley of Walsingham, singlewoman, 1792, and William Bentsley of Wood Norton, husbandman, 1760, neither of which suggests any connection to the family of Little Rainham.

The Benchley-Bensley Family

As indicated above, not all America Benchleys and Bensleys descend from William¹ of Rhode Island. While these other families will not be discussed here, it has been necessary to study them, particularly in New York, where descendants of both William¹ of Rhode Island and Adam¹ of Pennsylvania settled in the late eighteenth century.

In the following genealogy, references to the United States Federal census are from the National Archives microfilm publications unless otherwise specified. Such citations will provide the year, page, and family and dwelling numbers - for example, 1850 Census, p. 250, #329-413. The enumeration district (ED) number is also shown for 1880, 1900, and 1910 census references. All older records of the Town of Smithfield, Rhode Island, are kept by the Central Falls City Clerk, unless shown otherwise. Early North Providence, Rhode Island, records are in the City Clerk's Office in Pawtucket. New York State censuses were examined in county courthouses, county historians' offices, and on microfilm prepared by the Genealogical Society of Utah (GSU). References to cemetery grave marker inscriptions and newspaper obituaries and marriage and death notices in Herkimer County, New York, are from card files in the library of Herkimer County Historical Society (HCHS). Raynham Parish Registers were searched at the Norfolk Record Office, Norwich, England, by Miss Jenifer A. Edmonds of Norwich.

1. ROBERT^B BENCHLEY or BENSLEY was born probably about 1632 or earlier, perhaps in co. Norfolk, where he was buried in the parish of East Raynham on 9 January 1677/8. His wife was probably the Mary Bensley, widow, buried in East Raynham 4 February 1699/1700, but whether she was the mother of any of his children has not been determined.

Just when Robert came to Raynham has not been learned, but it was probably not long before his death, since there are no entries for the surname in the parish registers prior to his burial (the registers for West Raynham begin in 1538 and those for East Raynham in 1627). In 1756 his grandson William Benchley of Rhode Island quitclaimed his right to the estate of his grandfather Robert Benchley "of Little Rainham."

If his son Robert was the one married at St. Michael-at-Plea, Norwich, in 1682 (see below), the elder Robert may have been the son of Robert Bensley who married Mary Playford in that parish on 14 June 1635 (The First Parish Register of St. Michael-At-Plea, Norwich, A.D. 1538-1695, transcribed by Thomas R. Tallack [hereinafter St. Michael-at-Plea PRs] [Norwich, 1892], 13).

Probable children:

2. i. ROBERT^A, b. ca. 1657.

ii. (perhaps) ELIZABETH; m. in East Raynham, 10 Dec. 1695, JOHN GUNS (Phillimore's Parish Register Series, Norfolk Parish Registers [hereinafter Norfolk PRs], Vol. 11 [London, 1926], 128).

Elizabeth's placement here is tentative, for her date of marriage makes it somewhat unlikely that she was Robert's daughter, unless

DESCENDANTS OF SAMUEL WILSON OF SOUTH KINGSTOWN, RHODE ISLAND

Ken Stevens*

Little has appeared in print about Samuel Wilson of Kingstown, Rhode Island. John O. Austin treated the family briefly in his Genealogical Dictionary of Rhode Island (1887; reprint ed., Baltimore, 1969 [hereinafter Austin], 230). The Newport Historical Society has a small manuscript written by Samuel's great-granddaughter, Jane Wilson (1752-1834), which was printed in the Register, 69[1915]:380-381. From these sources and the various public records of South Kingstown, Newport, and neighboring towns, the following account of the first five generations of Samuel Wilson's family has been compiled.

1. SAMUEL¹ WILSON was born about 1622, probably in England, and died at Kingstown, Rhode Island, about 1682, aged 60 years (Austin, 230).

He married first, probably at Portsmouth, Rhode Island about 1657, MARY TEFFT, daughter of John and Mary (Barber) Tefft. John Tefft in his will, dated 30 November 1674, named his son-in-law Samuel Wilson as executor and left him "my now dwelling house and two acres in Pettaquamscutt" (Austin, 392). Mary died probably not long after the birth of her son Jeremiah in 1674, and Samuel married, second, about 1678, ELIZABETH (_____) SWEET, widow of John Sweet who had died at Warwick in 1677. Elizabeth survived Samuel, and was aged "55 years or thereabouts" on 18 September 1684 when she deposed regarding the settlement of her first husband at Potowomut Neck (Austin, 194, 230).

The town of Portsmouth, settled in 1638, was named in 1640. That year Samuel Wilson was granted a house lot there (Early Records of the Town of Portsmouth [Providence, 1901], 17). Six years later, on 27 May 1644, he was given an addition to his land (ibid., 28).

He was a petit juryman at a Quarter Sessions Court in Newport 6 October 1646 (Howard M. Chapin, Documentary History of Rhode Island, 2 vols. [Providence, 1916, 1919], 2:155). In 1653 he was listed as having served on a jury and in 1655 he was made freeman at Portsmouth (John R. Bartlett, Records of the Colony of Rhode Island, 9 vols. [Providence, 1856-60] [hereinafter R.I. Col. Recs.], 1:80, 300).

His name appears in Early Records of the Town of Portsmouth up until 1659, when he was chosen constable for at least the fifth time since 1653

^{*} Ken Stevens recently published the first two volumes in the series, Wilson Families From New England, utilizing his thirty years of research on this subject. Additional volumes are in preparation, and correspondence regarding Wilson forebears is welcome. His address is Post Office Box 118, Walpole, NH 03608.

[OCTOBER

(pp. 60,76,85,86,89). In 1655 he was appointed "to make and gather a rate" [tax] in the town (p. 62). He evidently bought from James Sands 30 acres in Portsmouth and sold them to William Shearman during this period, for a deed dated 24 November 1656 from Ralph Earll to Daniel Greenell includes this information; Wilson was the fourth owner listed, and Earll the sixth (p. 331). In 1657 he and his father-in-law John Tefft were among ten men "to be suplied with plantin land on hoge Island and injoy it for seven years" (p. 80).

On 20 January 1657 Samuel Wilson and five others purchased of certain Indian sachems a large tract of land, extending for several miles along the westerly side of Narragansett Bay, which came to be known as the Pettaquamscutt Purchase (Rhode Island Historical Society Collections [hereinafter RIHSC], 3[1835]:275,293). He evidently settled there in 1659 or 1660, when his name disappears from Portsmouth records. He soon constructed a large and imposing home on his property, described by Caroline E. Robinson, in her book The Hazard Family of Rhode Island (Boston, 1895 [hereinafter Hazard Family], 61) as being:

forty-two feet by fifty-six feet upon the ground and of two stories in height with a roof of one-third altitude. The front door was ornamented in the Ionic style with two large volutes which formed the door-cap and projected a foot and a half from the building. The brick chimney was fourteen feet square at the base, which contained three ovens, one of which was in the cellar, and eleven smoke flues. There was a boiling spring in the cellar and a good well of water near each side of the house. The windows, which were diamond pane glass set in lead, and perhaps the frame of the house, were made in the mother country.

This fine dwelling was the first to be located on Tower Hill in what was successively known as Pettaquamscutt, Narragansett, Rochester, Kings Town and finally, after 1722, as South Kingstown.

One must wonder at Samuel's judgement in locating such an elaborate building on an exposed and unprotected site, across Narragansett Bay from most settlements, far removed from other habitation and just a few miles from the cedar swamp which was the stronghold of the powerful Narragansett Indian tribe. The settlers in Rhode Island generally maintained a good relationship with the Indians but the Narragansetts were inevitably drawn into King Philip's War. On 15 December 1675, just four days before the colonial forces launched their attack on the Indian stronghold, the Indians raided Tower Hill and burned the dwelling house of Samuel's good friend and neighbor Jireh Bull. The Wilson house, however, was not destroyed; it was owned by Samuel's descendants until 1823 when it was taken down and replaced with another built close to the original site.

After their victory over the Indians in the Great Swamp Fight the forces of the United Colonies of Massachusetts Bay, Plymouth, and Connecticut returned to their base at Wickford. The residents of PettaN.144 quamscutt supplied them with provisions and probably sheltered from the bitter December cold some of the many wounded soldiers. The record shows that on "14 September 1678 Mr. Samuel Wilson and Mr. John Watson of Pettaquamscutt, having presented to the commissioners a charge of sundry particulars, upon the colonies, for provisions to the army in the Narragansett country – the commissioners being not certified by the officers of those companies charged to receive such supply, no vouchers signing their accounts, cannot at present see cause to allow their demands" (David Pulsifer, ed., Records of The Colony of New Plymouth, 2[1859], 396).

In 1669 Samuel Wilson was appointed Conservator of the Peace in Pettaquamscutt, a position somewhat similar to that of a present day sheriff (R.I. Col. Recs., 2:256). The Colony Records contain several references to his activities in pursuit of his official duties.

His land holdings extended all the way down the shore to Point Judith, a distance of over twelve miles from Tower Hill, as evidenced by a deed on 26 June 1678 whereby he sold to James Sands of Block Island "half of my share of land at Point Judith, except the little neck adjoining the harbor" (Austin, 230).

Years later, several of Samuel's children made depositions in a court case over ownership of church land in Kingstown (copies found in file of an earlier case, McSparran vs Mumford, 1723, Newport Co. Court Files). Mrs. Mary Webb, then "aged 72 or thereabouts," stated on 17 May 1735 that her honored father Samuel Wilson was one of the original proprietors of the Pettaquamscutt Purchase, and was always of the "Presbytirian Perswasion." On 23 March 1738[/9], Jeremiah Wilson, aged 64 or thereabouts, professing himself a "Prisbiterian and that he generally attends Mr. Torry's meeting," testified that he was the only surviving son and heir of Mr. Samuel Wilson, deceased, who was one of the grantors of land called the minister's farm in South Kingstown, and he "never heard that his father was a churchman [i.e., Episcopal] ... never heard that any of his Father's posterity were ever Churchmen or Even Pretended to it." On 26 March 1739, Sarah Potter of South Kingstown, widow, aged 73 years and upwards, gave similar testimony.

According to family tradition, Samuel, his two wives, and many of his descendants are buried in the family burial yard on Tower Hill near the intersection of Pettaquamscutt Road and Torrey Road. In 1880 this plot was reported to be badly overgrown and in poor condition (George Harris, A Visitation to the Cemeteries of Ancient Kingstown, 3 vols. [manuscript, R.I. Hist. Society], 3:50), containing many rude stones, only four of which had decipherable inscriptions – only one Wilson stone, that of Samuel's son Jeremiah, predated the 19th century.

Samuel left a will in which he gave his sons James and Jeremiah equal interests in the homestead and named Jireh Bull executor. This will can [OCTOBER no longer be found, but reference to its terms is made in land records and in the following agreement dated 30 June 1684 "by and between the Orfens of Mr. Samuel Willson deceased at Petteqamscutt," signed by Samuel Wilson, Mary Hannah and Robert Hannah (South Kingstown [hereinafter SK] Deeds, 1:247):

... by and with the consent of Mr. Jireh Bull res[id]ent of the place aforesd who was left Executor in our Deceased Father's will [we] unanimously agree as followeth touching the lands left by said Willson to his posterity. We agree that our eldest brother Samuel shall inherit 3 lots to witt two lotts which was said Wilsons by virtue of his first purchase and one he had of his father-in-law Tift. We also agree that what lands shall fall to our share besides shall be equally divided amongst us each to have share alike from the eldest to the youngest, Samuel having one equal share with us.

Disagreements among the children over the division of their father's lands lasted for many years. A partition of the estate on 15 March 1694 was signed by Thomas Mumford as guardian of James Wilson; Robert Hannah and his wife Mary; John Potter and his wife Sarah; and Hannah and Potter in behalf of the orphan Jeremiah, brother of James (Jane Fletcher Fiske, Gleanings from Newport Court Files [forthcoming, 1991] [hereinafter Newport Gleanings], item 13; Austin, 230). Another agreement, dated 24 November 1694, between James Wilson and Jeremiah Wilson, sons of Samuel Wilson, deceased, noted that, by virtue of the will of their father, James and Jeremiah had equal shares in the dwelling house and land, and James, for the consideration of Jeremiah's rights and interest in the house, sold to Jeremiah 200 acres within the 600 acre lot with 90 acres allowed to John Potter. This did not end the matter, and on 12 March 1706 Jeremiah Wilson of Block Island, "to maintain love and good will between himself and near relatives," confirmed to Robert and Mary Hannah all right which he had, either from his father Samuel or his brothers Samuel and James who were deceased, in the 448 acres that they had by deed of partition in 1694, being part of the portion that fell to said sister Mary, and of which a deed of gift had been given to Robert Hannah and his wife Mary by Samuel Wilson, elder brother of Jeremiah (Austin, 230).

In February 1724/5, Jeremiah Wilson of Newport, "brother and heir of James Wilson of Kingstown, now called South Kingstown, yeoman, deceased, mariner," sued George Webb of South Kingstown, husbandman, for possession of a dwelling house, stable, and 250 acres which had belonged to "Samuel Wilson of Kingstown, yeoman, who died in or about 1680 intestate ... then descended to Samuel, his eldest son and heir, brother of the plaintiff, who died about 1690 intestate"; further details of this case are given below in the account of Jeremiah (Newport Gleanings, item 211).

Children, all by first wife, Mary Tefft; surname Wilson:

i. SAMUEL², b. probably at Portsmouth ca. 1658; d. at sea (Jane Wilson Ms) "in or about the year 1690," according to the court case Wilson vs Webb cited above. He left a will dated 4 Sept. 1690, witnessed by Thomas Fay and Ephraim Turner, which was among wills rejected by the court in 1700 as having but two witnesses at a time when the law in Rhode Island time required three (Austin, 230; full list in Newport Gleanings, item 14).

By a deed dated 14 December 1682, Samuell Wilson of Pettacomscutt sold for £20 to Thomas Ward of Newport 700 acres "bounded by the sea from point Judith to Petticomscutt River, and soe to the head of the pond called Quaskakaonkanuck which pond lyeth about Northwest from the Mill, and from that pond on a Northwest line six miles alsoe on a west line drawne from the head of the Cove North of Point Judith Neck six miles and a halfe ... with all woods [and] waters" (Rhode Island Land Evidence, Vol. 1 1648-1696 [Providence, 1921], 168). On 29 April 1687 he deeded another 100 acres adjoining his own land and that of Capt. Samuel Seawell [sic] to Henry Bull of Rochester, for £30 (James N. Arnold, ed., The Records of the Proprietors of the Narragansett otherwise called The Fones Records [Providence, 1894], 159-160). The following month, on 24 May 1687, calling himself "Samuel Willson of Rochester in ye Narragansett Cuntry" he sold for £30 to John Holmes of Newport one half share, it being a 14th part of all lands and meadows in Point Judith Neck in the Pettaquamscutt Purchase (Newport Gleanings, item 243). On 26 June 1688 Samuel Wilson of Rochester "for my deceased father's last will, also the love I owe to my brother and sister Robert and Mary Hannah," conveyed to them one equal half share of what had been his father's in that parcel of land in Rochester called the Thousand Acres, near Robert Hazard's farm (R.I. Land Evidence, 1:215)

- ii. JOHN, b. at Portsmouth or Kings Town ca. 1660; d. before his father, without children (Jane Wilson Ms) and probably unmarried.
- MARY, b. at Kings Town ca. 1663; d. in 1737; m. (1) ROBERT¹ HANNAH of Kingstown, who d. between 3 Sept. 1706 when he made his will, and 14 Oct. 1706 when it was proved (SK Town Council & Probate, 1:27); m. (2) 21 April 1708 GEORGE WEBB, who d. 2 April 1735 (Austin, 91). In his will, Robert Hannah named his wife Mary, his son Robert Hannah, and his only daughter, Mary Niles.

Mrs. Mary Webb gave her age as 72 or thereabouts when she made a deposition 17 May 1735, as noted above. In her will, dated 19 May 1735 and proved 25 May 1737 (ibid.), she named as executors her son Robert Hannah and son-in-law Nathaniel Niles, and left her estate to be divided equally among her grandchildren (children of Robert Hannah), and children of her daughter Mary Niles.

Children; surname Hannah: 1. Robert. 2. Mary, d. in 1765; m. 26 Jan. 1699 Nathaniel Niles, son of Nathaniel and Sarah (Sands) Niles, b. at New Shoreham 21 March 1677, d. in 1766 (Register, 85[1931]:150).

iv. SARAH, b. at Kings Town ca. 1665; d. shortly after 27 Jan. 1738/9 when she was mentioned in the will of her son John; m. ca. 1691 JOHN POTTER, b. at Portsmouth ca. 1665, d. between 25 June 1715, when he made his will, and 12 July 1715 when it was proved, son of Ichabod and Martha (Hazard) Potter (Austin, 357). As noted above, Sarah Potter made a deposition in 1738, calling herself 73 years and upwards. For further data, see Austin, 357, and Irene B. Wrigley, "Descendants of Ichabod Potter," in Rhode Island Genealogical Register (hereinafter RIGR), 3 [1981-82]:208.

Children, births recorded at North Kingstown (James N. Arnold, Vital Record of Rhode Island, 21 vols. [Providence, 1891-1912] [hereinafter Arnold], 5:North Kingstown:91); surname Potter: 1. Martha, b. 20 Dec. 1692. 2. John, b. 20 May 1695. 3. Samuel, b. 2 Sept. 1699. 4. Sarah, b. 15 April 1702. 5. Susanna, b. 17 Sept. 1704. 6. Mary, b. 2 March 1706/7. 7. Samuel, b. posthumously 28 July 1715 (recorded also at S. Kingstown).

v. JAMES, b. at Kings Town in the fall of 1673, d. there in Feb. 1705/6 (inventory); m. ALICE (SABEERE) HUBBARD, daughter of Stephen and Deborah (Angell) Sabeere of Newport (Austin, 169), who d. at Newport probably shortly before 16 Dec. 1734 when administration was granted on her estate as cited below. On 29 Oct. 1722 Tabitha Gardner of Kings Town, aged 69 years or thereabouts, testified under oath that James Wilson, late of Kings Town, deceased, would have been 49 years of age some time this present fall of the year if he had lived, and that he deceased 16 years ago last February. A few weeks later, when queried further, she stated that she was with her sister, who was the mother of said James Wilson, about three or four days after his birth and it was then the time of the year that peaches began to be ripe, for she then found a ripe peach and gave it to her sister which "we thought made her very sick" (SK Deeds, 1:250).

James inherited the interest of his father in the Pettaquamscutt Purchase; at least twice during the year 1704 the proprietors held their meeting in the house of James Wilson (RIHSC, 3:284-5). In his will (SK TC & Probate, 1A:20), dated 8 Feb. 1705/6 and proved 14 March 1705/6, he named as executors his wife Alice and Joseph Smith, and left to his wife and "her son Samuel Wilson" his now dwelling house and a lot bought of Thomas Mumford, half the farm, and all moveables. The rest of the land was to go to the children of James' brother Jeremiah when they came of age, and if Samuel died without issue, his portion was to go to them or their heirs also. His brother-in-law, Daniel Sabeere of Newport, received 200 acres which he immediately sold to his sister. The inventory of James' estate taken 27 Feb. 1705/6 lists 200 sheep, 6 oxen, 11 steers, 31 cows and 31 horses, and a Negro woman valued at £15.

Several lawsuits were brought against the widow Alice in her capacity as executrix of this estate by Jeremiah and his daughters and others. It was not until 20 July 1724 that the disputes with the family were eventually settled by a complicated arrangement which apportioned the assets in a manner agreeable to all those involved. The deeds were signed by Alice Wilson, Jeremiah Wilson brother of the deceased husband James Wilson, by Edward Robinson of New London, merchant and Mary his wife, daughter of said Jeremiah Wilson, and by Ann Ray another daughter of said Jeremiah (Newport Gleanings, 306).

Alice returned to Newport where she was involved in several land transactions between 1723 and 1725 (Newport Colonial Deeds, vol. 7). Administration on her estate was given to Nicholas Easton on 16 Dec. 1734 (Newport Colonial Town Council & Probate, 7:216, 220).

The Jane Wilson Ms states that James had no children, which suggests that the child referred to by James in his will as his wife's son Samuel Wilson was in fact a child of Alice's first marriage. This is reinforced by the fact that James left to him only a portion of the real estate.

2. vi. JEREMIAH, b. 1674; m. (1) ANN MAINWARING, (2) MARY (SMITH) GUTHRIDGE.

2. JEREMIAH² WILSON (*Samuel*¹) was born at Kings Town, Rhode Island, about 1674, youngest of the six known children of Samuel and Mary (Tefft) Wilson. He is buried in the old Wilson family plot on Tower Hill where his gravestone reads, "Jeremiah Wilson died June 2, 1740 in the 66th year of his age" (Harris, 3:50).

His marriage at New London, Connecticut on 8 December 1700 to ANN MAINWARING is recorded at New Shoreham (Block Island) (Arnold, 4:New Shoreham:21). Ann was baptized at New London in the First Church 18 June 1682, daughter of Oliver and Hannah (Raymond) Mainwaring (Records of First Church of Christ, New London, 1670-1916 [hereinafter New London CRs], per typescript index to Conn. church records at Conn. State Library [hereinafter CSL]). She died there 9 September 1720 in her 38th year and was buried in the Town Burial Place (Charles Hale Collection of Connecticut Cemetery Inscriptions, CSL [hereinafter Hale Coll.]).

According to a deposition Jeremiah made 3 April 1722, he had been an apprentice to James Sands, Sr., of Block Island, who died in 1708 (Newport Gleanings, item 143). Although he must have been only sixteen or seventeen in 1691, Jeremiah's name appears on a petition to the General Assembly dated 30 September of that year, from the "poore Destressed Inhabitants of Block island which Expect Dayly No other than to be Invaded" asking for protection (New Shoreham Town Book No. 1 [typescript, George R. Burgess, transc., R.I. Hist. Society, 1924, copy at NEHGS], 122). On 13 October 1699, he signed as witness to a curious deed of gift whereby Sarah, widow of James Sands, parcelled out the service of her Negro woman named Leanow among her children and grandchildren for several years and then freed her (ibid., 108). A note dated 1711 records that an earmark registered for Jeremiah Wilson 19 July 1695 now belonged to Capt. John Sands (ibid., 178). He was admitted a freeman at New Shoreham in April 1696 (ibid., 563).

At the time of his marriage, Jeremiah was a mariner residing on Block Island, and the births of three of his daughters were recorded there, although they were baptized in New London. His name continues to appear on New Shoreham records up through 1705. On 20 October 1701 he witnessed the receipt of payment on a bond given by Anna Gutredg, widow of Robert, to Nathaniel Mott (ibid., 354). A list, undated but probably about 1705, of "what every inhabitant of this town hath in the Corne Neck" includes "Jeremiah Willson for Mr Guteridge ... 30 acres," and directed that, as his proportion, he lay out 2 rods 4 feet of fence "in the pond" (ibid., 351, 352).

On 19 April 1711 he purchased a dwelling house in New London located "on the highway that goes to the ferry" and apparently severed all his connections with Block Island (New London Deeds, 6:230).

After the death of his first wife he settled in Newport, Rhode Island, where he married 26 January 1721 MARY (SMITH) GUTHRIDGE (Trinity Church Records, Arnold, 10:475), possibly widow of a Richard Gutteridg who died at Newport 14 August 1720 aged 51 years and is buried in Newport Common Burial Ground with an earlier wife Sarah who died in 1712 (Alden G. Beaman, Vital Records of Rhode Island, New Series [hereinafter Beaman], 11 [1985]: 194). Clues in the Jane Wilson manuscript make it possible to identify Mary as the daughter of William and Mary (Ruck) Smith, born at Salem, Massachusetts 10 August 1690 (Vital Records of Salem, Massachusetts to the End of the Year 1849, 6 vols. [Salem, 1916-1925], 2:303). Her parents settled in Newport about 1695 and her father died in South Kingstown, in an accident, in 1701, aged 41; he is buried there in the old Wilson Cemetery (Newport Gleanings, items 16 and 67; Harris, 3:50; see also Essex Antiquarian, 4[1900], 2:19-22, and Essex Co., Mass., Deeds, 10:111; 13:306). The Jane Wilson manuscript states that Mary had by her first husband a daughter who married "at WoodBrige [sic; probably a Woodbridge] at Grotton [Connecticut]," but efforts to identify this child have so far been unsuccessful. Record of Mary's death has not been found.

Jeremiah was admitted a freeman at Newport in 1722 (RI Col. Recs., 4:309), and on December 14th of that year he sold his New London property to his son-in-law, Edward Robinson of New London, shopkeeper (New London Deeds, 8:6). As noted above, in February 1724/5 he sued his brother-in-law George Webb of South Kingstown, husbandman, to recover possession of a dwelling house, stable, and 250 acres in South Kingstown that had belonged to his father (Newport Gleanings, item 211). He was a vintner of Newport 15 July 1725 when he sued Philip Shearman of Portsmouth for £2 1s. 7d. due for liquor "had at the plaintiff's house at sundry times between July 1724 and 24 March following" (ibid., 234). In February 1726/7, still of Newport, he was called a yeoman when he sued John Watson, Jr., of South Kingstown, yeoman, to recover one seventh part of a tract of 18 acres in South Kingstown which James Wilson, late of South Kingstown, who deceased in or about 1703, had held as tenant-in-common with other proprietors of the Pettaqamscutt Purchase, and had by his will devised to his brother Jeremiah's children to be equally divided. It was stated that "the children were Mary and Ann Wilson. Mary took to husband Edward Robinson and Ann took to husband Nathaniel Raye ... Nathaniel died on or about 1722 ... on 14 December 1724 Mary, Edward, and Ann quitclaimed the property to Jeremiah Wilson" (ibid., item 306).

By 1733, when Jeremiah was close to 60 years of age, he moved again, this time to South Kingstown, where he lived the remainder of his days. On 23 March 1738[/9], as noted above, he deposed that he was a "Prisbiterian and that he generally attends Mr. Torry's meeting."

Jeremiah's will, dated 19 May 1740 and proved 9 June 1740 (Austin, 230; SK Town Council and Probate [hereinafter TC & Prob.], 3:146), names his wife Mary and son Samuel as executors and lists bequests to his children: Mary, wife of Edward Robinson of New London, merchant; Ann, wife of William Mumford; Sarah, wife of William 'Fanning; Judith; Samuel; Jeremiah; John; Alice; James; George; Elizabeth, wife of Rev. Joseph Torrey; and Mary, wife of William Pollock, and the widow Mary. The estate, which was valued at £1778 19s. 11d., included a house and lot in Newport, land in Providence, a house and land in South Kingstown, two Negro men and two Negro women, and a large amount of livestock.

This will is unusual in two respects. It proves that Jeremiah had two daughters named Mary, both living at the time of his demise, and it nominates a minor, his 17-year-old son, as executor. Apparently the town council did not object to this arrangement, for we find several of Jeremiah's creditors each suing the executors in Washington County Inferior Court of Common Pleas to collect amounts due them. It was not until 1744, when Samuel came of age, that the estate was finally settled.

(1) at Newport 14 Aug. 1723 WILLIAM FANNING (Trinity Church Recs., Arnold, 10:475), who d. before 1744 when she remarried. His identity has not been learned, but he was probably connected with the Fanning family of New London. William N.141

Samuel Wilson of South Kingstown, R.I.

Fanning of Newport, mariner, in May 1730 received a judgment in court against Martha Russel, widow of Joseph Russel (Newport Gleanings, item 528). On 31 March 1740 Sarah Fanning, alias Wilson purchased a small parcel of land in New London with a tenement thereon and on 30 June 1744 her brother-in-law. Edward Robinson of New London, merchant, sold her the adjoining plot including the shop and frame of a small house (New London Deeds, 13:11; 14:50). She m. William Mumford, real estate to her nephew Nathaniel Mumford, and the remainder of her personal estate to her sisters Ann Mumford and Sarah Gould, and the children (not named) of Ann and of sister Elizabeth Torrey, deceased. Her brothers-in-law, the Rev. Joseph Torrey and William Mumford, were named executors. (The tradition that Samuel Wilson named Point Judith, the spot where Narragansett Bay joins Long Island Sound, after his infant granddaughter is nonsense, for in 1678 Samuel sold land at Point Judith, and he died 30 years before the birth of this grandchild.)

Children by second wife, Mary (Smith) Guthridge, recorded at South Kingstown (Arnold, 5:SK:59); surname Wilson:

X. MARY, b. 13 Nov. 1721; d. 30 May 1759 (g.s.); m. (1) at South Kingstown by her brother-in-law, Rev. Joseph Torrey, 10 May 1739, to WILLIAM POLLOCK (Torrey's Marriage Book, 8); m. (2) 1 Oct. 1755, JOHN WILLS of Newport (ibid.). Her gravestone in Common Burial Ground, Newport, reads: "Mary, died 30 May 1759 ae. 38 years, late wife of John Wills of Newport and former wife of William Pollock of South Kingstown, daughter of Capt. Jeremiah Wilson, mother of William Pollock."

Child, by first husband; surname Pollock:

1. William Wilson, m. his half-cousin, Mary Torrey, daughter of Rev. Joseph and Elizabeth (Wilson) Torrey (Torrey's Marriage Book, 8). He became prominent in the affairs of South Kingstown.

- 3. xi. SAMUEL, b. 23 March 1723; m. HANNAH CASE.
- 4. xii. JEREMIAH (twin), b. 11 May 1726; m. (1) ABIGAIL (WILKINSON) DYE, (2) SARAH PEARCE.
- 5. xiii. JOHN (twin), b. 11 May 1726; m. (1) HANNAH HAZARD, (2) THANKFUL (DAVIS) COOPER.
- 6. xiv. JAMES, b. 2 Sept. 1728; m. JANE ROUSE.
 - xv. GEORGE, b. 7 Feb. 1730; d. between 16 Feb. 1753, when he signed his will, and 10 July 1753, when it was proved (SK TC & Probate, 1:383). George Wilson, yeoman, left his estate to his siblings, naming his brothers Samuel, John, James, and Jeremiah, and sisters Mary Pollock and Alice Wilson, appointing Jeremiah executor.
 - xvi. ALICE, b. 15 June 1733; m. at South Kingstown 13 April 1755, by Rev. Joseph Torrey, ZEPHANIAH BROWN (Torrey's Marriage Book, 12), b. at North Kingstown 23 Dec. 1721 (Arnold, 5:NK:60), son of Samuel and Mary (_____) Brown.

Children, births recorded at South Kingstown (Arnold, 5:SK:39); surname Brown: 1. Christopher, b. 16 Feb. 1756. 2. Mary, b. 28 Dec. 1757. 3. Alice, b. 17 Feb. 1761. 4. Freelove, b. 4 March 1763. 5. Darius, b. 3 March 1766. 6. Sarah, b. 13 Aug. 1768.

3. SAMUEL³ WILSON (Jeremiah², Samuel¹) was born at South Kingstown, Rhode Island, 23 March 1723 (Arnold, 5:SK:59) and died there in 1774 between the time the Rhode Island Census of that year was taken (John R. Samuel Wilson of South Kingstown, R.I.

1774 [1853; rep. ed., 1969]), and 8 August, when administration on his estate was given to his son (SK TC & Prob., 6:26, 28). He married at South Kingstown 30 December 1744, with his brother-in-law, Rev. Joseph Torrey, officiating, HANNAH CASE (Torrey's Marriage Book, 10). She was born there 12 November 1727, daughter of Imanual and Hannah (_____) Case (Arnold 5:SK:40), and died sometime after 3 February 1780, when "Nailer Tom" Hazard noted that he visited the widow Wilson (Caroline E. Hazard, The Journal of Thomas B. "Nailer Tom" Hazard of Kingstown, Rhode Island 1778-1840 [Boston, 1930] [hereinafter Nailer Tom's Diary], 12).

Samuel Wilson of South Kingstown was made freeman in April of 1745 (R.I. Col. Recs., 5:110). In 1754 he was commissioned Lieutenant in the Second Company, Rhode Island militia (Joseph Jencks Smith, Civil and Military List of Rhode Island 1647-1800 [Providence, 1900], 167). In the administration of his father's estate he was termed blacksmith.

There is no record of Samuel's date of death. He and his wife were listed in the 1774 Rhode Island Census, but on 8 August of that year, as noted above, Samuel Wilson [Jr.] was called by the town council in South Kingstown to administer the personal estate of his father, Samuel Wilson, late deceased. Samuel declined and John Wilson, another son, was appointed. At the same time Imanual Case was appointed guardian for his nephews William Wilson and George Wilson, orphan children of Samuel Wilson, late of South Kingstown, deceased. At the meeting of the council on 12 September 1774, John Wilson, Jr., appeared and refused to undertake the task of administration. The record is unclear as to the outcome of this matter.

During the Revolutionary War, Samuel's eldest son, Samuel, who apparently was alienated from the family at an early date, was a captain in a Loyalist regiment of the British army. The youngest son, William, was a sergeant in the Rhode Island militia and later received a pension for his service during the Revolution. Of John and George, both old enough to have served, there is no military record, nor do their names appear in the 1777 Military Census of Rhode Island (Mildred M. Chamberlain, transc. [Baltimore, 1987]).

- i. SAMUEL⁴, b. 16 Jan. 1746[/7]; d. in infancy.
- ii. SAMUEL, b. 21 Jan. 1747[/8]; d. after 29 March 1786, when he entered a Loyalist claim for loss of property, cited below. The name of his wife who, according to the claim, owned or had an interest in land in North Kingstown, has not been learned.

Samuel Wilson, Jr., of South Kingstown in 1770 was appointed Captain in the Rhode Island Militia. In July of 1780 the Rhode Island Assembly confiscated the lands of Samuel Wilson, late of South Kingstown, yeoman "who has left the state and joined the enemies thereof" (R.I. Col. Recs, 9:139).

On 29 March 1786 Samuel Wilson, a resident of Parrsborough, Cumberland Co., Nova Scotia, entered a claim for the loss he had suffered in the war (Public Records of Great Britain, American Loyalists Claims, Series 1, 1776-1831, 45:25-29; 67:4). He deposed as follows: he was a native of Rhode Island residing in North Kingstown when troubles broke out; from the first he took part with the British government; he continued at North Kingstown and assisted many of the Loyalists to escape to the British then at Rhode Island (Newport), but being apprehensive of being taken up, he made his escape and joined the British in 1777; he served during the war as captain in Colonel Wrightman's regiment of Loyalist troops, and came from New York to Nova Scotia in 1783.

He further stated that his loss included his life interest in 40 acres of land in North Kingstown, the property of his wife. Also, as heirat-law of his father he was entitled to a share of a tract of land in South Kingstown containing 100 acres on which was a good house with household furniture and some cattle. He added that his father died after the troubles began; at the time of his father's death he [the claimant] had three brothers and one sister; during his father's lifetime he was in possession, managing his father's estate; on his father's death he went to North Kingstown and his uncle got possession and, with a brother, kept it. His brother is since dead but his uncle has retained possession.

- iii. JOHN, b. 25 Jan. 1749; d. in infancy.
- iv. JOHN, b. 29 March 1752; d. between 20 March 1779, when he made his will, and 14 Jan. 1782 when the South Kingstown Town Council noted his death (see below). Early in life John was termed mariner, then yeoman, and in his will he is called gentleman. He was generally designated John Wilson, Jr., to differentiate him from his uncle, Col. John Wilson. This distinction is spelled out in a conveyance dated 21 Feb. 1775 whereby John Wilson, the younger, yeoman, sold land to John Wilson, the elder, housewright (SK Deeds, 7:322). John Wilson, Jr., is listed in the 1774 R.I. Census in South Kingstown heading a household comprised of three males and one female, all over 16 years of age, all probably his siblings.

After his death his will could not be found. It was believed to be locked in a chest, and on 14 Jan. 1782 the Town Council instructed Col. John Wilson and Mr. Nathaniel Mumford to open the chest and take account of what was in it. They found the will, witnessed by Joseph Torrey, John Torrey, and Oliver Torrey, and it was proved 12 Aug. 1782 (SK TC & Prob., 6:85,89,90,133). John had named his uncle Imanual Case as executor and left real estate to his brother George Wilson; to brother William Wilson a bond for money against their uncle John Wilson, a chest, saddle and bridle, mare, and wearing apparel; and to his sister, Hannah Wilson, bed and bedding. Case declined to act as administrator and on 9 Dec. 1782 William Wilson, Jr., brother of the deceased, assumed that trust, with surety posted by Jeremiah Wilson and William Wilson Pollock.

Samuel Wilson of South Kingstown, R.I.

- v. JAMES, b. 20 May 1754; d. between 25 June 1774, when he made his will, and 14 Nov. 1774, when it was proved (SK TC & Prob., 6:29,57). In it he called himself a mariner, and named his uncle Joseph Torrey as executor, leaving to his brother William Willson clothing that included a blue suit and beaver hat; to brother George Willson one white and three checked shirts, stockings, silver shoe buckles and knee buckles, a striped holland jacket, a blue sea jacket, a baize jacket, and eighteen dollars; and to sister Hannah Willson three chairs, turkeys, and money to equal the bequest to George.
- vi. HANNAH, b. 5 Oct. 1756; d. 18 June 1819, unmarried (Nailer Tom's Diary, 525).
- vii. GEORGE, b. 20 Dec. 1758; d. 16 Feb. 1839 at 4 o'clock in the morning (ibid., p. 798). He was a cordwainer at South Kingstown. Nailer Tom several times mentions trips to George Wilson's: with a cow skin to tan, to have his feet measured for a pair of shoes, to obtain a leather apron and to pick up his shoes which had not been ready on a previous visit as promised.

7. viii. WILLIAM, b. 2 Oct. 1761; m. LUCY CARPENTER.

4. JEREMIAH³ WILSON (Jeremiah², Samuel¹) was born at South Kingstown 11 May 1726, a twin (Arnold 5:SK:59), and died probably in Ohio, sometime after the 1790 Census was taken. He was married, first, at South Kingstown by Rev. Joseph Torrey 17 March 1754 (Torrey's Marriage Book, 12) to ABIGAIL (WILKINSON) DYE, widow of John Dye or Dyer of South Kingstown. She died after 25 February 1765 when she endorsed a deed to waive her right of dower (SK Deeds, 6:330).

Ieremiah married, second, SARAH PEARCE, who was born at East Greenwich, Rhode Island, 2 January 1751, daughter of Giles and Desire (Case) Pearce of North Kingstown (Frederick C. Peirce, Richard Pearce of Portsmouth, Rhode Island [Rockford, Ill., 1888], 58), and died evidently before 1788, when Jeremiah sold his homestead without any mention of her dower rights in the property. She was called Sarah Wilson in the probate of her father (ibid.).

Jeremiah was termed a yeoman of Scituate on 8 June 1747 when he and his brother John Wilson of South Kingstown agreed to partition three tracts of land there which they owned as tenants-in-common, that came to them under the will of their father, Jeremiah Wilson, late of South Kingstown, deceased. The land included 400 acres in Scituate which went to Jeremiah and two lots of 14 acres each located in South Kingstown which went to John (SK Deeds, 5:28).

By 1774 Jeremiah was back in South Kingstown where the Rhode Island Census of that year shows him with a household comprised of three males over 16 years of age, one male under 16, one female over 16 and one female under 16 years of age. Tax lists and other records indicate that, unlike some of his near relatives, Jeremiah remained in South Kingstown throughout the Revolutionary War, but the names of his sons do not appear in the 1777 Military Census.

ix. HANNAH, m. DAVID CURTIS, brother of Falorus Curtis (above), of Cheshire, Canandaigua, Ontario Co., N.Y., in 1838 (Curtis Fam., 55, 85); not found in Canandaigua or census indexes for Ontario Co. in 1840 or 1850.

Child, surname Curtis: 1. Calista, m. ___ Gilbert (ibid., 85).

8. JAMES⁴ WHITEHORNE (James³, John², George¹) was born about 1769 in South Kingstown, Rhode Island, and was dead by August 1820 when the census was taken there. He was referred to as the "late James, Jr.," in the newspaper notices of the marriage of his daughter Mary in January 1821. He married, about 1790, LYDIA CASWELL, born about 1770, daughter of John and Hannah (West) Caswell (George Freeman Sanborn Jr., "Thomas Caswell of Taunton and His Descendants," The Mayflower Descendant [hereinafter MD], 38[1988]:125-28; Caswell Surname Organization, Grand Prairie, Texas, Mrs. Noreen E. Haler to Mrs. David Wells Lenth on 2 July 1990, see below; RIGR, 1[1979]:197).

In 1800 and 1810 James was the only Whitehorne listed as head of a family in South Kingstown. On 23 February 1807 he joined Thomas Hopkins and Robert Willcox as witnesses to a deed whereby Thomas Hoxsie of South Kingstown, yeoman, his wife Esther, and Samuel Hox-→ sie of South Kingstown, yeoman, sold land to Paul Mumford and Benjamin Greene, both of South Kingstown (Richmond Deeds, 5:61-62; RIGR, 10[1987]:330). On 12 June 1816 James joined the Exeter Baptist Church (Arnold, 10:425), as did his daughter Mary on 31 July 1819.

The widow Lydia was the only Whitehorne entered as a family head in South Kingstown in 1820, the family then consisting of three males fitting the ages of James, John, and Stephen (one aged under 10 and two 10 to 16), three females 16 to 25, and one 45 and upward (1820 Census, R.I.: Washington Co., 116). Her descendants may claim Mayflower descents from Richard Warren through Jane (Blackwell) Peckham, mother of Lydia (Peckham) Caswell, wife of Job³ Caswell (MD, 38[1988]:125), and very probably from Francis Eaton through Mary (Ramsden) Caswell, second wife of Thomas² and mother of Job³ Caswell (ibid., 39[1989]:1-3).

Mrs. David Wells Lenth of Deep River, Connecticut, has collected information (herein referred to as Lenth Notes) about the family of James and Lydia (Caswell) Whitehorne (see Rhode Island Roots, 14[1988]:91). She speculates that James and Lydia might have removed to Wallingford or Dorset, Vermont, as did Rev. John, Stephen, and Clark. Their deaths were not found in Rhode Island records.

1. EDWARD^B HEATH, the earliest proven Heath ancestor in England, was born say 1525. He lived at Little Amwell, a hamlet in the parish of Ware, Hertfordshire, where he was buried 8 March 1592/3. He was a collarmaker. He married say 1550, ALICE _____, who was buried at Ware 24 December 1593.

Edward Heath of Hoddsden

In his will, dated 6 March 1592/3 and proved 23 March 1592/3, witnessed by Wilm Nycoll and George Bearstolke (Essex Record Office, Chelmsford [hereinafter ERO], D/ABW 19/222), Edward Heath of Ware ... "Collermaker sycke in bodie," asked to be buried in the churchyard of Ware and made bequests as follows:

Children, birth order uncertain; surname Heath:

- MARGARET, m. and had children. She may be the Margaret Heth who m. in the adjacent parish of All Saints and St. John, Hertford, Herts., 26 Nov. 1571, John Norris. She d. probably before 6 March 1592/3 when her father in his will left a bequest to her (unnamed) children.
- 2. ii. WILLIAM^A, probably the eldest son, b. say 1550-1555.
 - iii. ROBERT, living 6 March 1592/3 when his father made his will. He may be the Robert Heath "dwelling with Thomas Heath at Ware end" who was buried at Great Amwell, Herts., 6 Oct. 1603. He evidently had children, who are mentioned but not named in his father's will.
 - iv. JOAN, living 6 March 1592/3 when she was named in her father's will; m. and had children. No further information.
 - ELIZABETH, living 6 March 1592/3 when she was named in her father's will; m. at Ware, 3 Dec. 1582, JOHN KING, possibly the man of that name buried there 17 May 1593.

Children, bp. at Great Amwell; named in grandfather's will; surname King: 1. Margaret, bp. 18 Sept. 1583; m. at Great Amwell, 29 Dec. 1607, William Curtice. 2. John, bp. 24 July 1586.

vi. THOMAS, probably the Thomas Heath buried at Ware 19 Oct. 1616; m. there, 29 Nov. 1599, AGNES WOODBURNE. He was named in his father's will 6 March 1592/3, apparently not yet married.

Children, first two bp. at Great Amwell, last five at Ware; surname Heath:

1. Thomas, bp. 14 Dec. 1600; buried at Great Amwell 20 Jan. 1601/2.

- Martha¹, bp. 12 Dec. 1602; d. at Roxbury, Mass., 1 Aug. 1686; m. at Roxbury, 24 July 1643, George Brand, a baker, who d. in 1669. She immigrated to New England with her cousin, Elder Isaac Heath, in 1635. No issue.
- 3. Dorothy, bp. 20 July 1605.

JULY

riod, Oct. 1586 to May 1590, when there is a gap in the records (Register, 122:21). If so, his birth would necessarily be in early to mid-1590, in order to fit his birth between his brothers George and John; such spacing is consistent with the date of his first marriage and the birthdate of his first wife. He m. (1) at Great Amwell, 10 Feb. 1616/7, MARY CRAMPHORNE [sic], bp. at Sawbridgeworth, Herts., 16 Jan. 1592, bur. at Great Amwell 24 Nov. 1621, daughter of Thomas and Mary (Lyndesell) Cramphorne. UNPLACED HEATHS

AGNES HEATH, bp. not found; m. at Great Amwell, Herts., 20 Aug. 1593, HENRY TILSTON. It was probably their dau. Elizabeth Tilston who was bp. there 16 Nov. 1595, parents not stated. No further information.

ANNE HEATH, bp. not found; bur. at Ware 11 April 1634; m. there, 8 May 1623, EDWARD CHAPMAN. They were presumably the Edmond [sic] and Anne Chapman who had dau. Anne bp. at Ware 13 June 1627, bur. there 2 Dec. 1627.

AVIS HEATH, bp. not found; bur. at Ware 12 Nov. 1602. She had an illegitimate son, THOMAS, bp. there 18 June 1598 who could be the man of that name who m. ELIZABETH MUMFORD, but chronology suggests that he was more likely the son of William Heath (see above).

GEORGE HEATH, buried at Ware 6 July 1588. He made a nuncupative will dated 4 July 1588 and proved 15 July 1588 by the witnesses William Picke, Agnes Barton wife of John Barton of Ware, and George Bearstowe and Agnes Glover of Amwell, in which he "gave all his goods unto Elizabeth his wyfe and made her his sole executrix" (PCC, 47 Rutland, on FHL microfilm 91,974).

MABEL HEATH, bp. not found; bur. at Ware 19 Nov. 1620; m. there, 22 Feb. 1592/3, JOHN DAVISON, probably the same bp. there 14 Nov. 1575, parents not stated. Either he or his son, John, Jr., was bur. there 7 June 1618. RICHARD HEATH, placement not certain, but quite possibly a brother of Edward Heath (d. 1593) of Ware. Richard was a painter and lived at Sawbridgeworth, Herts. In his will dated 3 Dec. 1593, proved in 1594 (ERO, D/ABW 19/239), he named his wife KATHERINE ("Catarne"), eldest son George, son William and his two children, and daughter Ellen. Similarity of given names with those used in the Ware family (Edward Heath had twins named Richard and Katherine, baptized in 1568) suggests close kinship between the two. Significantly, Richard Heath's will was witnessed by Thomas Cramphorne whose daughter, Mary, later became the first wife of the immigrant, William Heath. Richard Heath's widow, Katherine, in her will dated 20 Jan. 1593/4 and proved 28 March 1594, named her daughter Ellen (ibid., 19/243).

SUSAN HEATH, bp. at Ware 7 March 1573/4, parents not stated; bur. there 23 April 1604; m. there 28 April 1595, LAWRENCE WHEATLEY, who was bur. there 10 Oct. 1622. Children, bp. at Ware; surname Wheatley: 1. Robert, bp. 12 Oct. 1595. 2. George, bp. 30 July 1598; bur. at Ware 16 May 1610. 3. William, bp. 28 June 1601; bur. at Ware 19 Feb. 1630/1; m. there 24 Nov. 1628, Joane Hitchings. 4. Susan, bp. 18 April 1604; bur. at Ware 9 Feb. 1610/11.

her out of society funds (FR, Women's Minutes, 1690-1801, 42) and on two occasions in 1725 money was given to provide her with sugar, chocolate, and flannel (ibid., 55, 56). She died at the house of her son John James, 4 1st month [March] 1726 (FR, Births & Deaths 1638-1812 [Book 822], 35), and is buried with her first husband in the Coddington Burial Ground.

- 2. i. JOSEPH², tanner, b. 21 Feb. 1679/80; m. HANNAH BARNEY.
 - ii. WILLIAM, b. ca. Nov. 1682; d. 5 May 1683, aged 1 year, 5 months (g.s.); bur. near his father.
- 3. iii. WILLIAM, blacksmith, b. ca. 1684; m. MARY _____.
 - iv. SARAH, b. June 1685; d. 8 Feb. 1688/9.
- 4. v. JOHN, cordwainer, b. ca. 1686; m. (1) ANN TAYLOR, (2) LYDIA PECKHAM.
- 5. vi. BENJAMIN, cordwainer, b. prob. ca. 1690; m. (1) REBECCA WOODMAN, (2) JOANNA/JOAN (? CLARKE).

2. JOSEPH² JAMES (William¹), tanner, was born 24 February 1679/80 (FR, Monthly Meetings 1738-1812, 16), and he died about May 1718. He married, about 1700, HANNAH BARNEY, who was born at Salem, Massachusetts, 6 February 1680/1 and died after 1746, daughter of Jacob Barney and his second wife, Ann Witt, of Salem and Rehoboth, Massachusetts (Vital Records of Salem, Massachusetts to the end of the year 1849, 1 [Salem, 1916], 68).

In his will dated 30 July 1692, Jacob Barney, Jr., yeoman (who is identified as a Baptist minister in the Barney genealogy, cited in Note 5), mentioned in addition to other children his son Jonathan and daughters Ruth Barney, Abigail Marshall, and Hannah Barney, who were to receive £10 each at age 21 or marriage, whichever should occur first. All four siblings were found in other records presented below in this article, providing clues which helped in the identification of Hannah, wife of Joseph James.^[5]

William and Susannah (Martin) James of Newport

Joseph James appears in Newport records in an official capacity. He was chosen surveyor of highways on 5 June 1705 and again in 1707

all of Newport, were deeded land by Sarah Barney, widow of Jonathan Barney, on behalf of Benjamin Barney aged about nine or ten years and eldest son to Jonathan Barney, deceased. The land, which "lyeth near a lane called Griffins Lane," was described as 40 by 30 feet, bounded northeast by north, by a lot belonging to Governor Cranston, northwest by west, by a dwelling house standing on part of a lot of land of Mr. Arnold Collins, south[west] by south, by aforesaid Barney's land, southeast by east, on Abraham Anthony's land.

The three purchasers were concerned about the validity of the title in case Benjamin Barney might claim the land when he reached age 21. Sarah Barney agreed to put in escrow another lot, described as the 4th lot counting from her house toward the windmill, bounded front and back on Griffins Lane, southeast by south on her own land, northeast by north on land given by said Jonathan, deceased, to his son Benjamin, northwest by west on land [torn] Sarah Barney, deceased sister of Benjamin; witnesses were Sarah Clarke, John Doyle, and Abiah Rideout (NCD, 1:241-242, 256-257). This was land for an addition to the Sabbatarian Meeting House; the month after Joseph James's death a meeting of the church was held at the house of Hannah James to endorse the deed so that the church would have full authority over the land (Seventh Day Baptist Church Records, 1708-1817, Folio 1400:24, NI IS).

Peter Barker's connection to Joseph James and/or Jonathan Sabin may not extend beyond their strong ties to the Sabbatarian Church. Nevertheless, there is an illegible record of a land sale from Peter Barker to Jonathan Sabin in 1719 (NCD, 1:319). Peter Barker, son of James, married Freelove Bliss, daughter of Major John Bliss, a member of the same church. Joseph James was also a witness to the will of John Bliss, dated 3 Feb. 1716/7 (ibid., 3:120-121).

Thomas Starr of Newport, housecarpenter, in his will dated 29 Oct. 1704 and proved 1 Jan. 1704/5, mentions wife Ruth, sons Thomas and Jehosophat, and daughters Sarah, Elizabeth, and Hannah (Jane Fletcher Fiske, Gleanings from Newport Court Files (forthcoming), item 502).

Peter Marshall, husband of Abigail Barney and father of Elizabeth Marshall, who married, 19 Sept. 1704, Thomas Starr, son of Thomas Starr and his first wife Elizabeth ("Newport Town Records," Newport Historical Magazine, 3[1882]: 101-106) petitioned the Town Council concerning the estates of Widow Ruth Starr and Jehosiphat Starr her son, both deceased. The Council ordered that an inventory be taken, and appointed Samuel Cranston, Justice of the Peace, Mr. Joseph James, and Lt. John Rogers, Town Treasurer, to take it (NTC, 3:160). On 7 Oct. 1717 administration on the estate of Ruth Starr, deceased, was given to Joseph James (ibid., 3:155, 162).

In 1719 Jonathan Sabin, probably the father-in-law of Joseph James's daughter Sarah, was appointed guardian to Sarah Starr, aged 14, daughter of Thomas Starr (ibid., 5:1), an appointment no doubt occasioned by the death of Sarah's grandfather, Peter Marshall, whose inventory was presented in May 1718 (ibid., 3:192).

A case from the Court of Common Pleas, initiated by writ dated 3 Feb. 1730, identifies Sarah Starr and provides additional evidence concerning the identity of Ruth (Barney) Starr. Daniel Shrieve of Newport, cordwainer, and wife Sarah sued Philip Shearman of Portsmouth, weaver, in an action of trespass to recover a dwelling and garden in Newport, described as lying in a gore, bounded west by land of Daniel Thurston and north by the highway, which had belonged to Sarah Shrieve's grandfather, Thomas Starr, who died in 1704. His oldest son and heir, Thomas, died in 1709, leaving Sarah, his only daughter. Various depositions were made, including one by Mary Brodick, widow, who said that she was at the wedding of Thomas Stair [sic] and Elizabeth Marshall; William James of Westerly

^{4.} Beaman (Register, 126:248) included Content James, wife of Benjamin Bull, as a child of this William James, but research by the present authors has identified her as daughter of another William James who will be treated in a subsequent article.

^{5.} Abigail Barney, born 31 Oct. 1663, married Peter Marshall. Ruth Barney, born 27 Sept. 1669, probably married, as his second wife, Dr. Thomas Starr of Yarmouth, Plymouth Colony, who had moved to Newport and was called house carpenter when he died there in November 1704. Jonathan Barney, born 29 March 1677, married Sarah Griffin. Data presented here is from William C. Barney, President of the Barney Family Historical Association, and Eugene D. Preston, Genealogy of the Barney Family in America (Springfield, Va., 1991).

In his will of 1706 (NTC, 13:41), Jonathan Barney gave to his wife (Sarah Griffin) permission to sell four lots of land in Newport, and gave other land to his children. On 3 Feb. 1708/9, Joseph James, tanner, Peter Barker, yeoman, and Jonathan Sabin, cordwainer, (NTM, 1:88, 91). He is named in records as one of the constables of the town on 29 May 1700 and again in 1709 (Court Files, Suffolk [Mss., Mass. Archives], 4715; NTM, 1:109). He was a deputy to the General Assembly in 1714 (Bartlett, 4:177), and was chosen for jury duty at least four times from 1699 to 1716 (ibid., 1:50, 63, 79, 165).

Other records give us a glimpse into some aspects of his daily life. He was admitted a freeman of Newport 6 May 1701 (Bartlett, 3:429). In April 1704 it was reported to the Town Council that one of the hogs kept by Mr. James Brown and Mr. Joseph James had escaped (NTC, 18:2). On 17 April 1704, Joseph James, William Collins, and [illegible] Byres were appraisers of the estate of John Clarke, late of Newport (ibid., 1:34-35). Joseph James was witness to a Newport deed dated 16 September 1706 from Walter Clarke to Joseph Chanterell (LNR, 2:368). Early in 1707 Joseph James, along with a number of other holders of small lots, received his lot in fee simple^[6] (NTM, 1:93). On 2 August 1714 Joseph James complained to the Town Council that there was not a sufficient fence between land he hired and that of George Goulding (NTC, 4:19). Lt. Joseph James was listed in 1714 in Newport companies and, along with Lt. Benjamin Bull, was a deputy from Newport to the General Assembly, 27 October 1714 (Bartlett, 4:177). At some time in 1717 or 1718, Daniel Shrieve, cordwainer, was born 16 Jan. 1702 (Austin, 177), and died about 3 Sept. 1748, when inventory of his estate was taken (NTC, 10:175). He married, before 12 Nov. 1726 when their son John was born, Sarah Starr ("Newport Town Records," NHM, 2[1883]:74), who was born ca. 1705 and died between 4 March 1756 when she made her will and 6 April 1756 when it was proved.

Daniel's brother Caleb Shrieve married Ann, eldest daughter of Joseph James. A third brother was William Shrieve, who sold the portion of the land given him by his father and originally owned by Joseph James, to John Warkman in 1729; it was described as on Back Street, bounded south by land of heirs of Joseph James, deceased, north on Daniel Shrieve, west on Stephen Brayton, and east on a highway (NCD, 3:16). Administration on the will of Daniel Shrieve was given to his widow, Sarah Shrieve, 5 Sept. 1748 (NTC, 10:175). In her own will, written 4 March 1756 (ibid., 12:21), Sarah Shrieve, widow, named sons John, deceased, Starr, and Daniel, and daughters Mary, Ann, and Elizabeth.

John Shrieve was born 12 Nov. 1726 and died ca. 7 Nov. 1749 when administration on his estate was granted to his mother. Starr died ca. 5 Sept. 1763 when administration on his estate was granted to Daniel Shrieve. This Daniel is probably the same for whom guardianship was given to Samuel Mumford 5 April 1756, and who died ca. 7 March 1766, when Samuel Greene as guardian recommended the sale of land to settle debts against the estate and "to Support his Family" (NTC, 15:15). Guardianship of Ann was granted to Samuel Mumford 3 Oct. 1757 (ibid., 12:23).

6. These were lots granted by the proprietors under the act of 4 Oct. 1677 for the building and settling of Newport. Some of these small landholders had apparently complained about a number of penalties and encumbrances, which were subsequently removed.

Joseph James and Edward Woodman had failed to pay the rent due for use of the burying place, presumably for grazing animals there; both men agreed to pay the amount due by "December next," and it is later recorded that Joseph James paid £6 for rent of the burying place for one year (ibid., 3:160, 184). The inventory of the personal estate of William Gibson, deceased, was taken in March 1717/8 by Jonathan Sabin and Joseph James (ibid., 3:187).

Still other records give us a glimpse of his family life. Joseph and Hannah James and William James were listed as members of the Newport Sabbatarian Church in 1708 (Arnold, 11:304). As seen from Note 5, Joseph James was probably an Elder of the church, since he was one of the signers of the deed acquiring church property. By agreement dated January 1713 Joseph James agreed to take in the two-year-old child of one Thomas Wells who had died, leaving the child to be cared for by the town; for the sum of £30 received from the Council, and by posting a bond for £200, Joseph was to maintain the child until it reached the age of eighteen (NTC, 3:25). In a similar matter, an undated record, sometime between 1707 and 1717, relates that Joseph James was caring for an unnamed woman "in her Sickness," and a disbursement was made out of town funds to help her recuperate enough to be moved elsewhere (ibid., 17:63). As attorney to Thomas Hiscox, Joseph James on 6 February 1709/10 was authorized to take an inventory of the goods of the widow Hiscox, Thomas's mother, who was not capable of taking care of herself, and to provide a "comfortable room and other things needful" (NTC 2:95).

Joseph James owned a significant amount of land. In 1702 he received 1½ acres from the Newport Town Council, "it being lot #21," bounded east on Henry Beere's lot, west on Simon Parrot's lot, north on land of Samuel Cranston, and south on a highway (Newport Misc. Records, 1:15). A record concerning Mary Timberlake "of Newport, now residing Little Compton," dated 10 November 1701, describes land she bought of Anthony Low, bounded north and northeast by lands of John Clarke, John Woodman, and Joseph James; south on a street and partly on land of Joseph James and "land I gave my son John Timberlake, dec'd"; southwest on land formerly of Nicholas Easton, dec'd; and northwest on the artillery land and burying place (LNR, 2:346).

By deed dated 15 December 1715, Joseph James and wife Hannah sold to his brother William James, blacksmith, the portion of land in [North] Kingstown that he had inherited from his father (North Kingstown Deeds, 3:145-147, 148-149; Register, 126:247).

A map of the Quaker settlement at Easton's Point dated 20 March 1725 (at NHS) shows that Joseph James owned acreage there. Although he gave similar testimony. For further material in the court case, see Gleanings from Newport Court Files, item 502).

350 William and Susannah (Martin) James of Newport [OCTOBER

Evidence for the approximate date of Benjamin James's death, and for his second marriage, is from a record dated 4 August 1740: "In Council appeared Joan James and desired that ye council would allow her time to get Bondsmen for Administration for her Husband Benjamin James Estate; they have ordered her to bring Bondsmen in ye afternoon" (NTC, 8:102). A stone in the Coddington Burial Ground in Newport for Caleb, son of Benjamin and Jone James, who died "8 March 1728 ae 5 mos. 6 day," is located in the same section as the stones for William and Susannah (Martin) James and their infant children. The date of death is from inscriptions in a folder entitled "Island, Newport Cemeteries," at NHS; the stone itself is no longer legible.

The identity of Benjamin's second wife, Joan, is a puzzle which has been only partially solved. On 15 March 1741, a sale of land in Dartmouth, Massachusetts, was made to William Wilcox by John Clarke, cordwainer, Samuel Clarke, tailor, Mary Clarke, by power of attorney dated 24 March 1739 from her husband, Daniel Clarke, cooper, and Joan James, widow, all of Newport (Bristol Co. Deeds, 30:435). The land, described as a one-quarter share, is described as "in Dartmouth on the east side of the river Nocachuck, so called, being of our great grandfather Daniel Wilcox, late of Tiverton in the county of Bristol . . . in and by his last will and testament dated 9 June 1702 gave to his son our grandfather Daniel Wilcox who is also deceased, being the place where our grandfather previously lived."

This sale proves that the Hannah Wilcox who married Samuel, son of Jeremiah Clarke, was the daughter of Daniel² Wilcox and Hannah Cook, born 11 April 1684, not the daughter of Stephen² Wilcox as stated in Austin and elsewhere. It also establishes the correct lineage for all the Clarkes mentioned in the previous paragraph. Although Joanna was not named with her brothers in the will of their grandfather, Jeremiah Clarke, dated 13 June 1728, with codicil 9 January 1728/9 (NTC, 6:121-123), it seems almost certain that she belongs in that family. It is possible, but unlikely, that she was born before Hannah's marriage to Samuel Clarke, and thus had the Wilcox descent without the Clarke.

On 5 October 1741 the Newport Town Council ordered that several people be supplied with wood, including Mrs. Joan James, who received 1½ cords (NTC, 8:190). In May 1752, Joan James of Newport, widow, sued Timothy Witherly of Newport, house carpenter, for rent due (Newport Co. Court of Common Pleas, D:40). He in turn sued her in November of the same year for £36 damages for failure to pay a bill of £18:6:6 for two days' work, 750 shingles, and half a cord of wood. She claimed she owed only £5:18 which she had always been willing to pay, and the jury awarded him that amount (ibid., Nov. 1752, no. 87; D:40).

In November 1757 the Newport lower court heard a case in which Joan James of Newport, widow, sued Ann Shrieve of Newport, widow, heir at law to Rebeccah James late of said Newport, spinster, deceased, who held all the real estate of said Rebeccah in the county of Newport by descent, for money due by book and damages of £4,816. The defendant defaulted and the court awarded Joan £2,408 "... of the real estate of the said Rebeccah possessed by the said Ann in the county of Newport" (ibid., E:591).^[11]

The Newport census of 1774 shows Joan James living alone. The last record found of her is as an adjacent landowner mentioned in a deed for a house and lot conveyed by Nathan Miller and his wife Rebecca to William Moor on 3 May 1785 (ND, 3:365-367). The lot was part of a larger parcel which had belonged to Isaac Lawton and had been confiscated after the war to be distributed to some of the soldiers of the Revolutionary Army; it was bounded on the east by Spring Street and on the north partly on 'land of the late Samuel Weeden and partly on land of Joan James.

mentioned in the deeds above was an older brother to Edward. Their sister Rebecca was b. 10 Jan. 1690[?/1]. Sylvia Woodman, another sister, was b. 17 Sept. 1698 and d. 9 Feb. 1741[?/2]. Her brother Edward was appointed administrator of her estate but died before administration was completed; the final account was presented by Richard Billings, husband of Edward's daughter Abigail Woodman. (See Helen Denny Woodman, The Woodmans of Rhode Island [St. Petersburg, Fla., 1989], 1,7, and Benjamin F. Wilbour, Little Compton Families [Little Compton, 1967], 790-792.)

^{11.} The identity of the Rebecca James in the above case has not been ascertained nor have the relationships among the three women been determined. It seems likely that Joan is suing for services rendered to the deceased, rather than for a share of the inheritance; unforunately the file of the court case is missing. Relating this case to the Dartmouth deed described above, it should be remembered that the deed from Job and Sarah (Trude) Lawton and John and Esther (Shrieve) Fish described earlier reserved a life interest which Daniel Wilcox had in the property, yet neither of these half-sisters (daughters of Ann [James] [Trude] Shrieve) seems to have any connection to the Wilcox family through their mother or their fathers.

Two of the Church present as witnesses" (Second Congregational Church Records, 1728, folio 838B:47, NHS). Stephen Lambeth is enumerated in the 1774 census immediately following Joseph James with a household consisting of one male and one female over 16 years.^[12]

v. ? JOHN, d. after 1774 when he is listed in the census immediately following Stephen Lambeth with a household of one male over 16, two males under 16, and two females over 16.^[12]

6. BENJAMIN³ JAMES (John², William¹), gunsmith, was born about 1741, and he died 7 February 1801 "in the 60th year of his age" (g.s., Newport Common Burying Ground). He married at Newport, 20 June 1769, ELIZABETH BENNIT [BENNET], Rev. Gardner Thurston of the Second Baptist Church officiating (Arnold, 7:352). Elizabeth was born about 1748 and died 9 August 1831 "in the 83rd year of her age" (g.s.), daughter probably of Christopher and Mary (____) Bennett (Arnold, 7:352, recorded her surname as both Binnies and Bonnes; the original is clearly Bennit). Christopher Bennet, mariner, in his will dated 31 October 1755 and proved about 31 January 1756 when the inventory was taken, named his wife Mary; he left land in Newport "where I now live" which had been purchased of Job Almy, deceased, to be divided equally among his son Christopher and daughters Mary, Ann, Merebah, and Elizabeth, "when they arrive to their Respective Ages or Days of Marriage" (NTC, 12:15). Mary married James Clarke 23 December 1761 and Merebah married John Clarke in 1766 (Arnold, 4:Newport, 9).

Benjamin James is listed in the 1783 and 1786 tax lists for the town of Newport, the latter year in Ward 3 (Newport Town Papers, Town Rate, 31 July 1783 and 1786, ms at RIHS). He mortgaged land on Back Street on 9 June 1786 (ND, 3:409). In 1786 he signed a petition to revoke the City N.147

Charter of Newport (Newport Historical Magazine, 1[1882]:224-229). The estate of Benjamin James was declared insolvent. The final account, recorded 10 May 1802, included $4.25 paid for a coffin and 75 cents for advertising the estate and an amount paid by the widow Elizabeth to A. Bush, Jr., "on account of Rent for the House" (NP, 3:362).

With vital records missing, land records provide significant evidence for the link between Benjamin James, gunsmith, and his father John James, cordwainer.^[13] On 11 May 1795 Benjamin James of Newport and Elizabeth his wife, witnessed by Jonathan Almy and Benjamin James, Jr., sold to Paul Mumford of Newport a small part of "a Garden Lot whereon my house stands in Tanner Street"; on 10 August 1795 more of the Garden Lot was sold to Mumford, and both deeds were recorded (ND, 6:3,31). On 29 April 1808 Elizabeth James, widow of Benjamin James, late of Newport, gunsmith, and Benjamin James, Charles James, William Jame's, and Susannah Bliven, children and heirs at law of the said Benjamin, and Ray Bliven, husband of Susannah, all of Newport, mariners, sold to Paul Mumford one-quarter acre with dwelling house, bounded by Tanner Street and land of Paul West, deceased; on 2 May 1808 Martha James of Newport, wife of Benjamin James, mariner, signed a quitclaim deed for the same property (ibid., 10:365,368). This is consistent with the land left in ownership of John² James after the two land transactions next described.

On 22 August 1738, the trustees of the town gave John James a mortgage on land described as "A lott ... in Newport, being the same whereon the ... house standeth ... about 3/4 of an acre," bounded on the north, south and west by land of Stephen Brayton, and on the east by a street (Colony Mortgages, 1715-1742, 235). A fragment of a deed relating to John James shows that on 20 September 1749 John and his wife Lydia sold a small piece of that land to Joseph West of Newport, including "the easternmost part of a dwelling House, commonly called the old Part"; it was bounded north on land of Stephen Brayton, east on a highway, south and west on John James, "which southernmost line by Agreement is Not to Run Straight but according to ye Partition between ye Two Houses as It now Standeth" (NCD, 3:197,226).

The land described is consistent with the bequest in John James's will to son Benjamin: "... the lower part of said dwelling house and lands together with yard and stable and also land called little meadow ... by Estimation about Half an Acre" The property also seems to include "ye ^{12.} None of these families is enumerated in the census of 1782. The decision to assign the three as descendants of Benjamin James is supported by the land record of 1785 described above (p. 349). In 1774, the household listed immediately before that of Joseph James is Isaac Lawton, before him is William Phillips, and before him is Samuel Weeden, Jr. It may be coincidence, but it appears that all three of the children were living on land held by Benjamin and Joan James in 1774 and that by 1782 they had all moved away and the land was in their mother's name.

^{13.} Benjamin, gunsmith, is not, as stated in some genealogies, the son of a Captain Benjamin James, born about 1717, who married Elizabeth Smith of Bristol in 1738. In a future article by the present authors, that son will be shown to be a Captain Benjamin James who married Ruth May of Bristol.

at Middleborough 6 July 1716, daughter of Ichabod and Esther (Hodges) Southworth,^[69] and she died, probably at Tiverton, before September 1791 when Benjamin remarried. Esther Southerd [sic] of Taunton in her will, dated 26 December 1759 and proved 1 July 1760, named her daughters Mariah Hammond and Desier Shaw, wife of Samuel, who had already had their legacies, son-in-law Nathaniel Macomber, and daughter Abigail Sawdy, wife of Benjamin of Tivertown, to whom she left one bed and bedstead with all the furniture thereunto belonging and one brass kettle.^[70] On 11 April 1791 "Mr. Benjamin Sawdy of Tiverton in the State of Rhode Island and Miss RUTH BABBIT of Middleborough" were married by Rev. Caleb Turner of the Lakeville and Taunton Precinct Church.^[71] Ruth was living in 1800 when she was listed in the census alone at Tiverton.

Benjamin Sawdy of Tiverton, weaver, and his wife Margaret on 7 September 1741 sold to Lemuel Hart of Tiverton "my homestead where I now live," two acres and a dwelling, bounded easterly on land belonging to Ellexander Blowers, south and west on Eber Crandall, and north on heirs of Edward Willcock, deceased; witnesses were Philip Gray and Restcome Sanford.^[72] On 18 February 1750/1 Samuel Borden of Tiverton, yeoman, and his wife Peace sold for £160 to Benjamin Sawdey of Dartmouth the 15th 50-acre lot in Tiverton; the deed was witnessed by Peace Mumford and William Crandall.^[73] On 1 April 1751 Benjamin Sawdy of Dartmouth, weaver, and his wife Margaret sold part of this land to John Wilbour of Dartmouth, yeoman, for £100; both Benjamin and Margaret (who signed by mark), acknowledged the deed on 22 June 1752 before witnesses Eunis Brownel and Joseph Mosher.^[74]

In June 1767 Benjamin Sawdy was ensign of the first militia company of Tiverton.^[75] The 1774 Rhode Island Census lists his family as consisting of one boy and one girl under 16 years and two men and four women 16 or older.^[76] In the 1777 Military Census, Benjamin was listed as 60 or older.^[77] In 1782 the household included two boys and two girls under 15 years, one man and and one woman between 22 and 49, and one man and two women 50 or older.^[78] In 1790 Benjamin was listed on the same page in the census as his sons Benjamin and Samuel, with two boys under 16, two men over 16, and seven females.^[79]

He was called Benjamin Sawdey of Tiverton, husbandman, in August 1779 when a deed was recorded to him for the improvement for five years of a piece of land and housing in Norton, Massachusetts belonging to Josiah Braman, gentleman, of Norton. This was the result of a court case tried at Bristol County Inferior Court of Common Pleas in June 1779, in which Benjamin had won £120 damages and costs; it involved land set off to Josiah Braman and wife Anne.^[80]

Benjamin Sawdy was one of the majority of Tiverton voters who voted against adoption of the federal constitution in March 1788.^[81] Among others voting "nay" were his sons Benjamin Jr., and William Sawdy, and son-in-law Stephen King.

On 9 May 1791 Benjamin Sawdey of Tiverton, gentleman, and his wife Ruth, both signing, sold to Samuel Sawdey, weaver, the southwest corner of his homestead farm, bounded by land already owned by Samuel. Witnesses were (his grandsons) Silas Sawdey and Richard Sawdey.^[82] On 31 March 1800, again both signing, Benjamin Sawdey of Tiverton and his wife Ruth sold for $650 to Daniel Dwelley of Tiverton, yeoman, two tracts of land there: 35 acres with dwelling and barn, adjoining land of Nathaniel Shaw, bounded east on a fresh pond and north and west on highways, and 15 acres on the other side of the highway, bounded west on Samuel Sawdey's land.^[83]

TAYLOR VISITS MUMFORD.

United States Steel Head Sees Oldest Stockholder in Hospital.

Myron C. Taylor, chairman of the United States Steel Corporation, called yesterday upon Charles H. Mumford, a veteran stockholder of the corporation, in the Presbyterian Hospital in Newark.

Mr. Mumford, who will be 93 years old in January, fractured a hip a month ago. He is said to be the oldest stockholder of the Steel Corporation. For many years he has been a familiar figure at annual meetings. Usually he is called upon for informal remarks at these gatherings. Some years ago, during the administration of the late Elbert H. Gary, he suggested apple pie as a juncheon feature which would make for satisfied stockholders. URSDAY. NOVEMBER 24, 1932.

CHARLES MUMFORD DIES IN NEWARK AT 92

Concert and Lecture Manager Probably Oldest Stockholder of U. S. Steel.

Special to THE NEW YORK TIMES. NEWARK, N. J., Nov. 23.—Charles Mumford of 45 Roseville Avenue, retired manager of lecturers and musicians, died late last night at the Fresbyterian Hospital, to which he was taken eight weeks ago after his hip had been fractured in a fall at Pleasure Bay, N. J.

Mr. Mumford was believed to be the oldest stockholder of the United States Steel Corporation and for many years was an outstanding participant in the stockholders' annual meetings. He was visited at the hospital on Nov. 7 by Myron C. Taylor, chairman of the board, who frequently sent him flowers during his illness!

He achieved distinction at the stockholders' meetings as an impromptu speaker, often relieving what otherwise would have been dull sessions with talks of homely humor that were heard with delight by the officers, directors and stockholders. Ten years ago, in one of them, he expounded upon the virtues of pumpkin pie, and persuaded the late Judge Elbert H. Gary, then head of the corporation, to include the dessent in the menu of the stockholders' annual luncheon.

"It will be a bribe to the stockholders not to ask embarrassing questions and will put them in good humor," Mr. Mumford argued. The officers, with Judge Gary, roared at the quip, but it was noted thereafter that pumpkin pie was a fixture of the annual luncheons. A meeting never was adjourned before Mr. Mumford had been called upon for his "annual address."

MUMFORD-At Newark, Nov. 23; Charles, of 45 Roseville Av., Newark, N. J. Funeral services at the Roseville Presbyterian Church on Friday, Nov. 25, 2:30 P. M

Mr. Mumford was born ninety-two years ago in Brooklyn and belonged to the Lafayette Avenue Presbyterian Church there. Recently he was active in the Roseville Avenue Presbyterian Church here and at one-time taught a Bible class in that church.

Among the celebrities of the last century whose tours Mr. Mumford managed were Henry Ward Beecher, Theodore Tilton, Emma Abbott, soprano; John B. Gough, English temperance orator, and, Camilla Urso. French violinist. He was the manager of the American Literary Bureau in New York.

Mr. Mumford retired about twenty years ago. While his activities centred in New York, he made his home for many years in Red Bank, N. J., and came here thirty-four years ago.

and came here thirty-four years ago. He is survived by two daughters, the Misses Emma Adler and Florence Tilton Mumford.

Funeral services will be held at 2:30 P. M. Friday at Roseville Avenue Presbyterian Church. The interment will be Saturday in Woodland Cemetery, Philadelphia.

Mr. Mumford was one of the most prominent concert and lecture managers of his time. The American Literary Bureau, of which he was manager, was the first lecture and musical bureau established in the United States. For fourteen years he was manager for Theodore Tilton, editor, author and lecturer on women's rights. Mr. Mumford brought to America, for reading or lecture tours, Edmund Yntes, James Anthony Froude, Wilkis Collins, Richard Anthony Proctor, Charles Bradlaugh, Martin Farquhar Tupper and others.

Emily Mumford, Sociologist Known for Medical Studies

Dr. Emily Mumford, a sociologist known for her work on the effect of psychotherapy in lowering later medical care costs, died of complications of a brain tumor Oct. 3 at her home in Manhattan. She was 66 years old.

Dr. Mumford was professor of clinical sociomedical sciences in psychiatry and public health at the College of Physicians and Surgeons at Columbia University and chief of the division of health utilization and policy research at the New York Psychiatric Institute.

Studies in which she took part reported that the person who undergoes psychotherapy develops a healthier style of living and is less apt to require unneeded hospitalization. Thus the cost of psychotherapy is offset, the studies showed.

Dr. Mumford's writings included a textbook on medical sociology, "Interns: From Students to Physicians."

She was born in Missouri and graduated from the University of Tulsa in Oklahoma. While working as a magazine editor, she took courses at Columbia University that drew her toward sociology. She received a master's degree and doctorate in sociology from Columbia.

She is survived by her husband, Dr. Herbert J. Schlesinger, who is Albert J. Marrow Professor of Psychology at the New School for Social Research.

E.mly. . Co!-MU/AF ORD-- Dr. leagues of Dr. Emily Mumford at New York State Psychiatric Institute and Columbia University College of Physicians and Surgeons wish to express profound scidness at her death earlier this month, Dr. Mumford, a medical sociologist, perhaps best known for her research on the medical and cost benefits of appropriate mental health care, was Director of the Department of Health Utilization and Policy Research at the Institute. Sincere condolences to her husband,

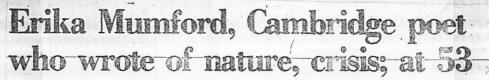

Dr, Herbert J. Schlesinger. Dr. Herbert Pardes, Director NYS Psychiatric Institute and Chairman, Dept. of Psychiatry

Columbia Presbyterian

MUMFORD—Emily. The Department of Psychology of the Graduate Faculty (New School For Soclal Research) extends its condolences to our colleague and friend, Herbert Schlesinger, on the loss of his beloved wife, Emily Mumford—scientist, teacher, research colleague, and companion. We are saddened by her passing.

BOSTON GLOBE, TUESDAY AUG2, 1988

Services will be held today at 11 a.m. in Memorial Church, Harvard Unversity, for Erika (Jentsch) Mumford, a poet, who died of breast cancer Saturday at her home in Cambridge. She was 53.

Mrs. Mumford wrote three collections of poetry, "The Door in the Forest;" "Willow Water," which dealt largely with people in crisis, the author among them; and "The Karma Bazaar," reflecting her travels in India. Her poems were also published in such periodicals as Ploughshares, Yankee, Hudson Review, Sequoia and Sojourner.

"She was an ardent tracer of the prints left by natural presences," Helen H. Vendler, a critic and professor of English at Harvard, said of Mrs. Mumford yesterday. "Her poems were at home with the tides and the trees. She also knew human feeling and the darker underground of myth."

Diana Der-Hovanessian, president of the New England Poetry Club, of which Mrs. Mumford was a member and former director, said: "She was everything a poet can be - beautiful on paper, beautiful in spirit and beautiful to behold."

Born in Geneva, Mrs. Mumford spent her childhood in Germany and came to this country in 1946... her parents settling in Worceste... She graduated from Radcliffe College in 1957 and received a doctorate in Celtic languages and literature from Harvard in 1973.

Mrs. Mumford's work received prizes from the Poetry Society of America and Poet Lore.

ERIKA MUMFORD

Poetry Festival at Robert Frost's home in Franconia, N.H. In 1985 she went to London as one of six finalists in the International Observer-Arvon Foundation Poetry Competition. In 1986 she won a poetry feliowship from the Massachusetts Artists Foundation.

She leaves her husband, David; four children, Stephen, Peter, Jeremy, and Suchitra, all of Cambridge; ano two brothers, Jerry Jones of Mill Valley, Calif., and Dieter Jentsch of Bonn, West Germany. Among her most admired poems is "Vertigo," appearing in "Willow Water:" The longest night of all we lay on the warm sand beside the sec the paim trees hissed in the warm wind.

We sighed and moved apart. You said how near the planets were, how far the last receding coldest star. Then the floor tilted under me. I stood against a wall of sand as in the doorway of the world. Around me streamed the gulfs of space.

From star to star the light years poured.

So loosely held in earth's embrace

saves us from floating through that door.

MUMFORD—In Cambridge, July 30, Erika (Jentsch), age 53 years (Award Winning Poet). Wife of David Mumford. Mother of Stephen, Peter, Jeremy and Suchitra. all of Cambridge. Sister of Jerry Jones of CA and Distes Jentsch of Germany. Funeral sec., vices will be held at the Harvard Memorial Church, Harvard Yard, Cambridge, Tusaday, at 11 a.m. Relatives and friends invited. Arrangements by Long Funeral Home, 1979 Mass Ave., CAMBRIDGE, MA.

Milton Mumford, head of Lever Bros. dies

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Milton C. Mumford, who headed consumer products giant Lever Brothers Co. during its ambitious push to market soaps and detergents in the 1960s, died Saturday after suffering a stroke. He was 83.

Mumford joined Lever Brothers, a subsidiary of the British-Dutch conglomerate Unilever, as a vice president in 1954. He was named chief executive of Lever Brothers five years later, and was made chairman in 1964. He retired in 1971.

During Mumford's tenure as CEO and chairman, Lever Brothers launched a forceful marketing campaign to promote brands such as Pepsodent and Close-up toothpastes and Lux and Lifebuoy soaps. Led Lever Brothers in the 60's Milton C. Mumford, chairman of the Lever Brothers consumer products empire in the 1960's, died Saturday at his home in Pebble Beach, Calif. He was 83.

He died several days after a stroke, said John T. Gould Jr., a spokesman for Lever Brothers, the United States subsidiary of Unilever, the British-Dutch conglomerate.

Mr. Mumford presided over Lever Brothers in a boisterous period of consumer-products marketing, as the company aggressively promoted such brands as Lux and Lifebuoy soap, Wisk and Rinso detergent, and Pepsodent and Close-up toothpaste. By the time he retired, the company was beginning to confront the burgeoning consumer movement, which 🔫 gions. would begin to question the effectiveness of manufacturers' claims for products. And Lever Brothers was among the companies facing increased regulation of detergents containing phosphates, which were held to increase water pollution.

Mr. Mumford started his career at Marshall Field and Company in Chicago in 1935, after graduating from the University of Illinois. During World War II, he served as a commander in the Navy, serving as special assistant to the chief of personnel, on management and organizational problems. In 1950, Mr. Mumford became general manager of Marshal Field's Fieldcrest Mills subsidiary.

NDAY, NOVEMBER 25, 1996

In 1954, Mr. Mumford joined Lever Brothers as a vice president, shortly Marshall Field sold Fieldcrest to an investor group. He became president and chief executive of Lever Brothers in 1959 and chairman in 1964. He retired as chairman in 1971, but remained a director until 1983.

Mr. Mumford was a founder of the New Yorker Club in 1971, a luncheon club created for government figures and executives of all races and religions.

Mr. Mumford served as director of the Equitable Life Assurance Society, the Crown Zellerbach Corporation, the Federal Reserve Bank of New York and Consolidated Edison of New York.

He is survived by his wife, Dorothea, also of Pebble Beach; a son, Christopher of Mill Valley, Calif., and a daughter, Letitia Vollenweider of Zurich.
