Mr. Pennycocker,
of The Public Library,
East Hampton, L.I.

Dear Mr. Pennycocker -

I was in Patchogue last week, my birthplace, and took occasion to make some inquiries concerning my ancestry. My father was Howell P. Terry, who was born in Bayport, 1844 and had brothers Jeremiah, Charles H., Alfred, Ardiel and John, with sisters Perilla and Mary. Their father was James M. (Morris) Terry, who was born 1811, died 1902; mother, Hannah (Hawkins), born 1815, died 1905, both buried in Bayville Union Cemetery. Perilla married Cha. Terry, who built the Dryadotte Hotel, Bellport, but resided for years in Patchogue. I found a cousin, George E. Terry, about 12 years of age, son of Jeremiah's, living in East Norwich, and another cousin Mrs. Minnie Westersaka, daughter of Charles H. Terry, living in Bayville. According to the records in Ship John Clerk's office my great-grandfather seems to have been Jeremiah Terry, born ? in N.Y. (meaning probably some town in New York State), and my great-grandmother Caroline ?, born in England, dates not known.

I am trying to trace back of Jeremiah and to bridge the gap

one of three brothers who emigrated from England early in the seventeenth century and settled I believe in South

I think Mrs. Watson, Sister
Coles Terry of Sayville, whom I call on in Patchogue, suggested that I communicate with you as she thought you might be able to throw some light on my ancestral tree.

There seems to have been a Jeremiah Terry, who was born in Bayport 1739, died Aug. 25, 1823, buried in St. Johns Churchyard at Oakdale, L.I. He married 1. Elizabeth
Morris and 2. Nancy Morris, sisters.

Could my great-grandfather
Jeremiah have been a son of this earlier Jeremiah?

I would appreciate hearing from you, with any information you can give me on the subject, and thanking you, I am

Sincerely yours,
E. M. Terry

Mr. Edward H. Terry
243 South Burnet St.
East Orange, N. J.

Dear Mr. Terry:

In answering your letter of July 27th, we find by the Census of 1850 that your grandfather was living in Sayville in 1850. His family consisted of James M. Terry, age 40, Hannah his wife, age 35, and his children, John A., 17; Jeremiah B., 15; Charles H., 12; Perville L., 10; Howell C., 8; Mary C., 3. We find from other sources that your grandmother was born Nov. 10, 1818 and died on Sept. 19, 1838. Her parents were John Thomas Hawkins, born at Yaphank, L. I., Dec. 28, 1785, who married Jennie Howell on June 18, 1807.

Your great great grandparents were Marsham and Mary Hawkins. He was in Col. Josiah Smith's regiment during the revolution. Great, great, great grandparents were Zachariah Hawkins, born 1710 and Abigail Jayne Hawkins and his parents were Joseph and Mary Hawkins. He was the son of Zachariah Hawkins who was baptized in Sayville, Mass. in 1689. Book 1 of the records of the town of Brookhaven mentions him under date of Dec. 8, 1865. He was one of your great, great, great, great, great grandparents.

The Census of 1865 gives your grandfather's family Morris Terry, 54, his wife Hannah, 47, and children, Howell A., 20; Mary C., 18; Alfred W., 14; Andy C., 12. He lived in Bay Port on the north side of Main Street next to and opposite Isaac S. Medocor's.

In one of our scrap books we find an obituary notice of your grandfather, who died June 27, 1902, age 92. It reads:

O B I T U A R Y
James Morris Terry 4580

James Morris Terry, the oldest and one of the most respected citizens of Sayport, died at his home on Main Street at an early hour this morning, aged 92 years. He had been gradually failing in health for some months past and his death was expected by the near relatives of the family. He was born in Sayville on North Main Street, somewhere near Middink Avenue, but moved to Sayport seventy years ago. The blow is rather severe for his aged wife with whom he had lived for about seventy-five years. When a young man the deceased followed the water, but he retired from active work a number of years ago. His wife and eight children survive him. They are Jeremiah Terry, Charles H. Terry of Sayville; Arden C. Terry, John Terry of Sayport; Mrs. Ida Terry of Patchogue; Mrs. Wesley Haff, of Richmond Hill; Alfred Terry and Howell Terry of Brooklyn.

We find that Timothy Perkins deeded property on the South Beach, Islip, to Jeremiah Perry on April 27, 1797. There were two Jeremiah Perrys in Islip at that time, and there were three others on Long Island. Although Jeremiah was probably your ancestor we have not sufficient data to say positively which Jeremiah he was.

You may find old records that will help prove the matter, in which case we will be glad to continue the search.

Sincerely,

X DG 15

HANNAH CONKLIN (439) married ——— Connett, of Morristown, N. J. He was a merchant. She died in 1830. They had no children.

DANIEL CONKLIN (430) was never married. He was a sea-faring man. The last that was heard of him was just previous to the commencement of the Revolutionary war. His mother received a letter from him, dated in Liverpool, in which he stated that he was about to sail for New York. Nothing was ever heard of him afterwards. There is a tradition that he was taken prisoner by the British, incarcerated in the old Jersey Prison Ship, and died there. But we have no data to verify the tradition.

CATHERINE CONKLIN (431) was married March 21, 1780, to Joshua Terry, Jr., of Southold, L. I. He was a son of Joshua Terry, who was a descendant in the fourth generation, of Richard Terry, who with his two brothers, John and Thomas, embarked for America at London, England, in the ship James, and landed at Salem Mass., in 1635. Richard remained in Salem a few years, removed to Springfield, Mass., from thence to Lyme, Conn., and from thence to Southold, L. I. Joshua Terry, the father of Joshua who married Catherine Conklin, was born in 1730, and died 1793.

His wife was Sarah Hallock, born in 1732, died in 1763. He was a farmer, a man of enterprise, and possessing at one time a large property in land. Joshua, the husband of Catherine Conklin was born at Southold, Oct. 1758, and died Jan. 25, 1791. He fell overboard from his vessel when at sea, and was drowned. His wife Catherine was born at Amagansett, L. I., Saturday, Jan. 17, 1761, and died at Goshen, Orange Co., N. Y., 1841. Their children were:

- 626. I. Phineas, b. Sept. 8, 1781, d. at Staten Island, N. Y., Oct. 13, 1813.
- 627. II. Abigail, b. Aug. 23, 1783, d. May 8, 1866, at Goshen, N. Y.
- 628. III. Hannah, b. Sept. 24, 1785, d. Jan. 1, 1864, at Goshen, N. Y.
- 629. IV. Davis Conklin, b. March 24, 1789, d. Aug. 22, 1895, at Hodson, N. Y.

All born at Southold, L. I.

PHINEAS TERRY (626) was married in 1800 to Mary Fenton, of Orange Co., N. Y. After his marriage he resided at Westtown, Orange Co., and worked at his trade. He was a tailor. He enlisted in the army, and died at Staten Island, N. Y., Oct. 26, 1813, while in the army, which was at that time engaged in the defence of the city of New York from an anticipated attack from the British forces. Their children were:

- 630. I. Catherine, d. at the age of 29 years.
- 631. II. Conklin Davis, b. April 2, 1805, d. June 17, 1860.
- 632. III. Keturah, d. when 22 years of age
- 633. IV. James.

DAVIS CONKLIN TERRY (629) was born in the town of Southold, Suffolk Co., L. I., March 4, 1789. He was the youngest of four children of Joshua and Catherine (Conklin) Terry. He was baptized in the Presbyterian Church at East Hampton, L. I., by the Rev. Samuel Buell, and was named after his uncle, Davis Conklin. He learned the trade of a saddler and harness maker, which he carried on successfully for thirty-five years in Hudson, N. Y. His reputation in the community which knew him so many years, was that of an exemplary, honest and truthful man. He was many times spoken of by friends in connection with positions of trust and honor within the gift of his fellow citizens. But he invariably declined, and never held any political office. The only office he ever held was that of Director in the Hudson River Bank, now the Hudson River National Bank. In the affairs of this venerable institution, he always manifested the highest degree of interest, having been connected with it as a large stockholder, and one of its Board of Directors for more than thirty years. During this long period, he discharged his official duties to the entire satisfaction of his associates and constituents. He died Aug. 2, 1865.

From the Columbia Republican we copy the following:

"Mr. Davis Conklin Terry, an aged and estimable citizen, died on Tuesday last. For several years he has been compelled to go upon crutches, in consequence of a fall. But the resources of a genial disposition enabled him to bear his misfortune without a murmur.

It is related of the deceased, that upon returning from the funeral of a young acquaintance a few years since, where the beautiful hymn, 'I would not live always' had been sung, he suddenly remarked, 'I have been to heaven.' The music impressed him as almost celestial, and he then requested that the same hymn should be sung when his own funeral should take place. The request was complied with, and the occasion was one of peculiar interest and solemnity.

He was married September 2, 1813, to Deborah Coffin, daughter of Thomas Coffin and wife Sarah Coffin. She was born in Edgartown, Mass., Feb. 22, 1796, and died at Hudson, N. Y., April 29, 1840. She was a descendant in a direct line in the 7th generation, of Thomas Coffin, who was born in Devonshire, England in 1609. He married Dionis Stevens, and came to this country with his wife and four children in 1642. In 1661, with nine others, he purchased the Island of Nantucket, Mass., removed there in 1662, where he died October 3, 1682.

The children of Davis Conklin Terry and wife Sarah Coffin, were:

- 843. i. Catherine, b. June 18, 1814; d. Dec. 28, 1814.
- 844. ii. George, b. Jan. 22, 1816; d. May, 17, 1817.

- 853. iii. Frederick Bailey, b. in Hudson, N. Y., April 24, 1848; d. January 27, 1855.

He was married 2nd. to Cornelia Ten Eyck, who was born in Livingston, Columbia Co., N. Y., July 21, 1823. She was a daughter of Samuel and Margaret (Van Duesan) Ten Eyck, and granddaughter of Abram and Elizabeth (Butler) Ten Eyck. She died Dec. 26, 1854. They had no children. He was married 3rd., April 29, 1857, to Mrs. Elizabeth F. Coffin. She was a daughter of Charles McArthur and Caroline Hammond, and was born June 30, 1825. The first husband was Seth, son of Peter G. and Abigail Coffin. He died Feb. 20, 1847. Peter G. Coffin was one of the first settlers of Hudson, N. Y. There were no children by 3rd marriage.

The following obituary notice was published in a Hudson paper at the time of his death:

"After a somewhat protracted illness the above named honored and well-known citizen died at his residence in this city on the morning of the 27th. Deceased occupied many positions of trust during his lifetime, and his death will cause profound regret in this community, where he has so long resided, and where, as a lawyer, he was respected and esteemed by all who know him. His services as a public officer, embracing a period of many years, brought him in contact with the masses of the people, and his uniform courtesy and accommodating and cheerful disposition, made him host of warm-hearted friends. His moral character was highly exemplary, his temper placid, disinterested, unaffectedly reserved, and in his transactions with others, while exact, he nevertheless was always courtly, pleasant, just and candid. Punctuality with him was a rule rarely violated, and he was even prompt at his post of duty. He sometimes met with occurrences well calculated to put to the test one's patience, but he was seldom in a passion, as his natural gentleness of disposition made him invulnerable. His every-day life was characterized by evenness of temper, probity, and strict honesty in his dealings with his fellow men. Covetous himself of the good opinion of the public, and by nature possessed of a sensitive, tender disposition, deceased was ever vigilant that no act or word of his should wound the feelings of others, and he met all upon the broad level of a common humanity, a kind word and a smile for all, from the least to the greatest.

His personal reminiscences of men and events covered a wide range, and from the storehouse of his retentive memory, vigorous up to within a few months of his death, was wont to flow either the ludicrous or pathetic side of human nature when mingling at the social circle, in depicting which he was a perfect master. His fund of general information was prolific, and his manner of conversation engaging and fascinating, and this made him a welcome guest wherever he went.

In the years 1852 and 1856 he represented the city in the Board of Supervisors, and in 1858 was chosen one of the superintendents of Public Schools, to secure the success of which he was most earnest and solicitous. He was elected to the office of County Clerk on the Democratic ticket in 1864, again in 1867, and also in 1870, and occupied that trust-worthy position longer than any previous incumbent, and always to the perfect satisfaction of his constituents and those having business to transact with the office. Careful to a fault, precise and methodical in his work, he made a model official, and retired from the cares of the trust-worthy position crowned with the highest honors that can be conferred upon any officer, the satisfaction of having done his whole duty. In 1876, a want having long existed for a civil list for Columbia county, Mr. Terry, at the urgent request of many friends, compiled a useful and valuable book, containing the names of all National and State officers, County officers and Supervisors, elected or appointed from this County from its organization in 1786 up to 1876, as also the city officers and members of the Common Council of the city of Hudson, from its incorporation in 1785. He was a ready writer, and many articles from his able pen have enriched the columns of the public prints. In 1873 he was appointed a member of the Board of Water Commissioners, and continued as a member of that body up to the time of his death. He was Director and Vice-President of the National Hudson River Bank, and also a Trustee of the Hudson City Savings Institution, in which, up to a few weeks of his death, he also filled the important office of secretary and treasurer, resigning the position in consequence of failing health.

In the early part of the war deceased was engaged in the Quartermaster's Department under Gen. McKimstry, with headquarters at St. Louis, and rendered efficient service to the Government while thus employed. He was for many years an honored member of Allen Lodge No. 92, I. O. of O. F., and of Union Encampment of the same fraternity, and he occupied with marked ability all the chairs in both these bodies. He was also a revered member of Hudson Lodge No. 7, F. & A. M., and Lafayette Commandery No. 7, and was recognized and respected as a devoted and faithful workman by the craft. The direct cause of his death was general paralysis, the promonitory symptoms of which had been observed by friends a short time preceding his retirement from active business. He goes to his grave crowned with honorable years, leaving as a legacy to his fellow citizens in the community where he has so long resided the priceless heritage of a life rounded out in usefulness, a spotless reputation, and a name upon which no stain has ever rested.

early 1600's that descendants or namesakes found their way to the colonies.

Changes in given name customs could be detected by relating the name types to the year periods in which they were most frequently used. Family surnames as given names were sparse in the early periods, and the impression was gained that the trend to the colonies began here before developing in England. The trend toward Biblical names also seemed to follow the early colonial Puritan custom in time.

Even as today, parents of the 1600's christened children with the given names of popular heroes or statesmen. A flurry of Henrys in the early 1600's was possibly more in honor of Henry Hudson, the explorer, than of the earlier King Henry VIII. After the restoration of Charles II in 1660, the number of children named Charles increased notably, probably due more to parents wishing to reaffirm loyalty to the crown than to the popularity of the king. On the other hand, the brief political life of Oliver Cromwell produced few Olivers, no doubt reflecting the lack of confidence in his activities.

In search of name lists, there will often be a few that stand out as enigmas or as shining examples of utter whimsy. Hoo Stewart - 1605 and Zouch Brockman - 1615 were together in the first category until Zouch was found as a surname in the 1550's, but there was no doubt about the widowhood of the mother of Posthumous Hobbey - 1550. Somewhat more uncertain is the name given to a son in the Cooper family in 1552. Did the parents intend a lifelong parental blessing or did they have some doubts about the worldly prospects of - Godhelp Cooper?

SHE WAS SEVEN YEARS OLD WHEN THE WAR OF 1812 BEGAN,

^{594B}
Mrs. Jemima L. Latham, one of the oldest residents on Eastern Long Island, reached her 93rd year on April 5th. She is a native of Orient, L.I., but at present she resides with her daughter, Mrs. Edward Havens, in Greenport. Notwithstanding her great age, she is still in good health, and is actively engaged in her daily duties. She was born in the village of Orient on April 5th, 1803. Her father, Jesse ^{247F} Terry was drafted as a soldier in the War of 1812, but secured a substitute. The war destroyed his business, and he bought a farm at Orient Point, where he and his family moved in March 1813. Shortly after that, three English ships anchored in Gardiner's Bay, and two in the race. They took possession of Plum Island for a drilling ground. Mrs. Latham thus describes her experiences in those days.

"One day, I went to the woods by the bay for wild strawberries. Suddenly I heard a cannon fired. Looking up, I saw three barges from the ships in Gardiner's Bay, just off the shore. To the west, I saw a schooner loaded with pine wood, wood and clams, from Riverhead, hoping to slip by the ships and reach the Connecticut River. The English, however, had seen the schooner, and sent the barges to intercept her. Those on the schooner, realizing their danger, ran the schooner on the Point, and escaped, leaving the sails set. The English boarded her and took the clams and whatever they wanted, and then fired the schooner. I ran home. My father was absent, and we were all terribly frightened as we feared the English would come ashore and burn our home."

"My mother put me up in the garret, which had no stairs, to get a box containing silver and valuable papers. In her haste, she took the trunks which I had passed down to her, and left me in the garret. I had to jump down quite a distance. Then my brother was sent to the garden to dig a hole in which the box was buried. Fortunately, the English did not land at this time. Later, they used to land two or three times a week to buy provisions. They were always polite and paid liberally. One day, my brother and I were on the Sound shore, and saw the English ships chasing one of our privateers with specie aboard, from Boston. The privateer proved to be the faster, and when they were at a safe distance, they played Yankee Doodle."

"At another time, about fifty marines landed at Orient, to purchase beef. They bought two yoke of oxen. On hearing this, Colonel Moore, Captain Fred King and Jason King went at night to where the oxen were stalled, and drove them away. When the English discovered this the next morning, they were very angry, and they were obliged to buy what poultry they could find. A lieutenant, surgeon and several marines came to our house and wanted to buy geese of my mother. She told them that the geese were setting, and she could not sell them. The surgeon replied, "We do not care for that, you ought to be thankful that we do not burn the house over your heads!"

"On account of the presence of the ships in the bay, in 1813 the fisherman dared not sail down to Montauk for their usual winter supply of fish. But in October, the tide brought great numbers of mackerel into

TERRY SETTLERS IN NEW ENGLAND

By William Z. Terry
Ogden, Utah

There seems to be several distinct families of Terrys in America. Henry K. Terry, of London, England, in his book, ENGLISH FOUNDERS OF THE TERRY FAMILY IN AMERICA, gives the following list of those who came to New England and the places where they settled:

Stephen Terry, Dorchester, came 1630
John Terry, Wincor, came 1635, when 32 years of age.
Thomas Terry, Southold, came 1635, when 28 years of age.
Robert Terry, Southold, came 1635, when 25 years of age.
Richard Terry, Southold, came 1635, when 17 years of age.
Samuel Terry, Springfield, came 1650, when 28 years of age.

Mrs. Mary Terry Busker, of Salt Lake City, thinks that there was another Thomas Terry who came in 1635, and settled in Rhode Island.

Some maintain that the four mentioned by Henry K. Terry as coming in 1635, namely: John, Thomas, Robert and Richard, were brothers and that all four of them came on the ship "James", but this idea does not seem to be born out by the records to which we have access. Quite a number of writers follow the idea of three brothers. Rev. Ephraim Whitaker in his history of Southold records that Richard Terry sailed from England with his elder brothers, Thomas and Robert in 1635. Both Thomas and Richard subsequently made their homes in Southold. In the New England Historical and Genealogical Register, Volume 14, is found this record: "Thomas Terry — Age 28, Robert Terry — age 25, Richard Terry — age 17, embarked for America at London, England, in the ship 'James'. Certificate from the minister on their conformity in Religion and that they are no subsidy men."

In the history of the Davis Family by Albert Davis, in writing of Joshua Terry (Richard, Garshon, Richard I) of Southold, the following is found: "He was fourth in descent from Richard Terry, who, with his brothers John and Thomas, embarked for America at London, England, in the ship 'James' landed at Salem, Mass., 1635. Richard remains in Salem a few years, removed to Springfield, from thence to Lynn and subsequently to Southold, Long Island.

In our family history the tradition is preserved that three brothers, Thomas Terry, Robert Terry and Richard Terry, sailed from London, July 13, 1635, on the ship "James" and landed at Salem, Mass. Thomas and Richard later settled at Southold, Long Island, and have numerous descendants; Robert settled at Flushing, Long Island, in 1640, but our family history has no further mention of him. Also, in printing records there seems to be but little concerning him. We have found him mentioned in the will of Edward Farrington, dated the 4th day of the 4th month, 1673, at Flushing, Long Island, as having land adjoining the Farrington's.

There were five distinct families of Terry's among the pioneers of Utah. Our family consisting of Marshall Terry, his four sons, and two nephews, arrived as follows:

Marshall Peter Terry	1847 (First Company)
*Joshua Terry	1847 (Second Company)
Marshall Terry	1849
James Marshall Terry	1849
Joel Terry	1848 - 1851
Jacob M. Terry	1852
George Thompson Terry	1898 - 1901

The four other families who came as pioneers were:

Thomas Giles Terry, who came in 1847, and later went to Southern Utah, settling in Enterprise. (This is the grandfather of Terry Land, husband of Nora Land, your historian.)

Ottis L. Terry arrived in 1850. He settled in San Pete.

Charles A. Terry came in 1850 and later settled in St. George. One branch of his family headed by William A. Terry, settled at Alpine.

William R. Terry came in 1852. He was captain of the Company. He settled at Progar.

RICHARD TERRY, THE IMMIGRANT

By William S. Terry

(Grandson of Joel Terry)

Born in England about 1618. Mrs. Chase, in her notes prepared in June, 1933, gives the date of his birth as August 17, 1618, and refers to Yates-Terry Genealogy by Josephine C. Frost (Mrs. Samuel Knapp Frost). He died on his farm in Quashneck, Southold, Long Island, about May, 1676. His will, dated July 3, 1675, proved at Southold on May 13, 1676, names his five sons and five daughters and his brother, Thomas. It designated his wife Abigail as executrix and his son Gershom executor.

Richard Terry sailed from London on the ship "James" on July 13, 1635, and landed at Salem, Mass. He moved around during the next few years. In 1640 he settled in Southold, Long Island, going there apparently from New Haven. He was recorded as one of the thirteen original settlers of Southold. He was recorder of Southold town, and clerk of the Court from October 3, 1664, until he moved from the village and settled on his farm "Quashneck" at Corchaug in 1672/3. While recorder he spread upon the Town records, the "Bearths" of his children. In the list which we give here the quaint spelling is retained just as Richard himself recorded them. The records of deaths, marriages, etc., of course are added from other sources.

In 1649, Richard Terry sold certain property described as "One first lot at Quashneck". The deed was signed by his wife, Abigail, as giving her consent to the sale.

In Stuart S. Terry's manuscript, Gershom Terry is reported to have spoken to his father as "Lieutenant". We have not found any other reference to this title.

Married May 22, 1649-50, Abigail Lines, name variously spelled Joines, Mine, Lins, Linds, etc. In the HUN & S, HCO, Vital Statistics, Vol. VI., p 103, she is said to have been the daughter of Ralph Lines who died in New Haven in 1640. We have not found the record of her death. She was living on the Quashneck farm with her son, John, in 1686.

In Griffin's Long Islander Traveler, December 23, 1898, the statement is made that Richard, when he came to Southold, brought with him a certificate of marriage from the minister of New Haven. Some have taken this as evidence of a former marriage and some have even attempted to connect up certain children. We find nothing to substantiate this claim. Griffin's Journals have been subjected to the criticism that he is inclined to accept hearsay evidence. It is an acknowledged fact that Griffin was not a careful researcher. We are inclined to doubt the accuracy of the statement in the Traveler, but suggest, that if there were some kind of certificate, it could have been of the several declarations which in those days preceded marriage. It seems scarcely possible that Richard could have been married at the time when he came to Southold, without there being some definite record concerning it. The idea of other children seems to be definitely excluded by Richard's will and by the list of children as written by himself on the records of the Town of Southold.

of 1686 as quoted above. If Nathaniel was not married until about 1689, how could he have had four males and one female in his family in 1686?

There is even a more definite difficulty in the way of accepting the birth date as 1675. The record of deeds of Southold Township, as quoted by Stuart T. Terry, show that both Nathaniel Terry Senior, and Nathaniel Terry Junior, signed as witnesses to the deed dated December 31, 1707, conveying land at Fresh Meadow from William Wells, Townsman, to John Goldsmith, Taylor. To thus sign, Nathaniel Terry Junior must have been of legal age, and therefore must have been born in 1675. I understand that the New York Historical Society accepts the marriage date as November 31, 1682.

This still leaves a problem as to the birth date of Mary Horton. Her parents were married December 23, 1655. Her brother, Barnabas was born in 1656.

The list of children as we have it is evidently incomplete. It clearly does not reflect the census of 1686, where one female and four males were counted.

Children

1. Nathaniel, born (probably) November 16, 1683; died December 17, 1722.
2. Phoebe, born June 5, 1690; married December 10, 1714, her cousin, Caleb Horton.
3. Nathan, born October 12, 1693; died April 16, 1725, age 32 years.
4. Uriah, born August 4, 1696; died November 10, 1753; married September 15, 1720, Mary Goss, who was born 1697, died November 14, 1717. Their son, Uriah, went with cousin Parshall Terry to settle the Wyoming Valley in Pennsylvania. Here he became one of the leaders, a poet, a school teacher, and an elder in the Presbyterian Church.
5. Mary, born November 13, 1701; died 1755, age 53 years 11 months; married November 28, 1733, Jonathan Hopley as his third wife. His first wife was Hester Horton, sister of Mary Horton Terry.

Nathaniel Terry -- III Son of Nathaniel Terry and Mary Horton

Born (probably) November 16, 1683, at Southold, Long Island; died December 17, 1722-3 (NYG & B Rec. Vol. 38, p. 250; and Vol. 47, p. 357).

Our Family History has preserved the tradition that Nathaniel Terry, Junior, was the father of Jonathan Terry. James P. Terry's manuscript this is stated without any qualifications. Stuart T. Terry in his manuscript says that Jonathan Terry was probably the son of Nathaniel Terry, Junior, or of his brother Nathan.

Children born at Southold

1. Abigail, the daughter of Richard, born March 7, 1650; married Thomas Rider (Syder).
2. Sarah, born November 7, 1652; died at Orotokog, Long Island, March 16, 1724; married Deborah Wells.
3. Nathaniel, born in the beginning of January, 1656. (Direct line) married Mary Horton.
4. Sara, born August 1658.
5. Richard, son of Richard, born March, 1660-61; died at Orotokog, February 21, 1723.
6. John, born May the Middell, 1662; died April 27, 1723; married Hannah Moore, who died August 28, 1693, daughter of Nathaniel Moore.
7. Samuel, born beginning of April, 1664. Land owner in Southold in 1721.
8. Elizabeth, born April 2, 1666.
9. Mary, daughter of Richard, born about the Middell February, 1668; died February 4, 1708; married (1) Mr. Wells, (2) Thomas Moore.
10. Betina, born September 13, 1672; died October 11, 1739; married (1) June 7, 1695, Thomas Goldsmith, (2) Thomas Hayes, (3) Richard Steer.

Nathaniel Perry II

Son of Richard Perry and Abigail Linn

Born beginning of January, 1686, at Southold, Long Island; died October 23, 1723, at Southold. His name is found on the census report of 1675 where he is rated as having two males in his household. Some think that this was himself and his brother Richard. In the census of 1686, he is rated as having four males and one female in his family. In 1706 and 1708 he gave deeds of land to Abraham Youngs. In 1708 he received deeds of lands from Abraham Corey and from P. Longworth and wife.

Married November 31, 1682, (NIG & B Rec. Vol. 49, p. 66) Mary Horton, who died September 26, 1728, daughter of Calab Horton and Abigail Mallock, grand daughter of Barnabas Horton and alde of Peter Mallock, two of the original thirteen settlers of Southold. Calab Horton, in his will made December 30, 1699, names: "My daughter, Mary, ye wife of Nathaniel Perry."

The date of her birth is in question. Horton genealogical books gives it as 1675. Either this date is wrong or the marriage date is in error. Some researchers accept the birth date. This compels the rejection of the marriage record and also the birth date of Nathaniel Jr., which is given as November 16, 1683 (NIG & B Rec. Vol. 38, p. 250). It is well to notice that to reject the marriage record conflicts with the census report

Some doubt this, and believe that Jonathan Terry was the son of Nathaniel Terry Senior, and Mary Horton. The evidence for this is fragmentary and very incomplete. One line of argument is based on the birth date of Mary Horton as given in Horton genealogical books, and upon an analysis of the list of children of Nathaniel Terry and Mary Horton as given in printed records. Finding an evident gap in the list of children at about 1695, the effort is made to fit Nathaniel into this gap and then to argue that he was too young to have been the father of Jonathan who was born about 1707. This line of reasoning breaks down completely in the face of the facts given in Section II above, where it is definitely shown that Nathaniel, Jr. was at least twenty-one years of age on December 31, 1807.

Another line of reasoning is based upon the statement that Parshall Terry and Uriah Terry who went together into the Wyoming Valley in Pennsylvania, were cousins. The argument again is not complete. These two men were both energetic leaders and worked together, hand in hand, in the settlement and development of that frontier country. Their names were often coupled together and they were often spoken of as cousins. The lines of descent of these two men from Richard Terry who settled in Southold, Long Island, in 1640, seem to be: (a). Richard, Nathaniel, Uriah, Uriah and (b). Richard, Nathaniel, Nathaniel, Jonathan, Parshall, (if we accept the two Nathaniels). Thus, Uriah was definitely of the fourth generation, while Parshall would possibly be of the fifth generation. In order to make these two men "first cousins", it is argued, both must be of the fourth generation, and hence the second Nathaniel must be eliminated.

Until something more definite is found, we shall follow the traditional view and list Jonathan here. The mother is not named, neither is there any mention of other children, if any.

Child

1. Jonathan Terry, born about 1707 — (A)

Jonathan Terry — IV (Probably son of Nathaniel Terry, Jr.)

Born about 1707, probably at Southold, Long Island; died at Southold, November 18, 1753, age 46 years. Tailor at Southold.

Married, May 17, 1730, Jemimah Parshall, born about 1709-10 at Southold. Daughter of Israel Parshall and Joanna Swamy. The book, THE PARSHALL FAMILY A. D. 170-1913, by Erace Field Parshall, gives an interesting account of the ancestors of Jemimah Parshall back to 170 A. D. Her father, Israel Parshall, is mentioned in the book as one of the prominent men in Southold. After the death of Jonathan Terry, Jemimah Parshall Terry married, October 4, 1755, Daniel Walls.

Children

1. Parshall, born August 8, 1734.
2. Nathaniel, killed by Indians in Wyoming Valley, Pennsylvania, October 15, 1763.
3. Jemimah, born March 25, 1738; died 1825; married Jonathan Parshall.

4. Remittance (drowned 1755, James P. Terry's records. -Wase not found in other source material.)

5. Elizabeth, drowned July 29, 1755, at Southold. Probably 9 years of age.

Parshall Terry -- V
Son of Jonathan Terry and Jemimah Parshall

Born August 9, 1734, near West London, Conn.; died at East Palmyra, New York, May 15, 1811, (Harvey's History of Wilkes-Barre, Pa.) The date of death seems to be wrong by one year, as in 1810 his son, Nathan, applied for administration papers at Genesdique, New York, to settle the estate. The place of birth is in doubt, as there is evidence in family histories that Jemimah Parshall Terry resided all her life in the vicinity of Southold, Long Island. The place of death has been questioned because of a worn statement made at Terrytown, Pennsylvania, by Captain Jonathan Terry, son of Parshall, that his father "died among his friends in this place in a good old age." However, Jonathan was not talking especially about the place where his father died, but was denying false rumors which had found their way into print, to the effect that Parshall Terry was killed by his son, Parshall, Jr. during the massacre of Forty Fort in July, 1778. Under these conditions, the term "this place" may have been loosely used. Terrytown may or may not have been definitely meant.

Parshall Terry was a tailor. It is said that he could make a coat for a man in a day and that he often did it for one dollar.

He was one of the provisors and directors in the Connecticut-Susquehanna Purchase Company, whose object it was to settle the Wyoming Valley in Pennsylvania. In 1762, he and ninety-three others went into the Wyoming Valley, but they remained there only ten days. They returned to Wyoming Valley in May, 1763; their activities in this valley were opposed both by Indians and by the followers of William Penn, referred to as Pennsylvanians. On October 13, 1763, the colony was attacked by the Indians and about twenty of the settlers were killed. This attack was a complete surprise as they had shortly before made a treaty with the Indians in which they had agreed to purchase the country. The attack was really a part of the Pontiac War of United States History.

It is related that Parshall Terry and his brother Nathaniel were in the field together when they were suddenly attacked by the Indians. Nathaniel was the first to observe the Indians and warned his brother. At the same time he was shot dead by an approaching Indian. Parshall, who was unarmed, secreted himself by a fallen log where he was concealed in a patch of tall grass or nettles and remained securely hidden, although the Indians passed several times within a few feet of him. Some years afterwards at a Conference, Parshall met an Indian who told him that he was in the Wyoming attack, that he saw two men near each other, that he shot and killed one of them but the other one must have fallen into the river and drowned himself, or the Devil took him, for he (the Indian) had watched a long while and would have seen the other man had he been alive.

After this attack, the settlers left the Valley temporarily, but returned in 1769. This time they met with serious opposition from the Pennanites, which lasted several years before the Connecticut colony was finally settled in the Valley. During all of these struggles, Farnhall Terry took active, energetic, go-ahead part and was especially hated by the Pennanites. Twice they seized him and carried him to Boston where they threw him into jail, but he managed to escape both times.

Farnhall Terry built the first grist mill at Terrytown, Wyoming Valley. It is related that his son, Jonathan, drove nails in the hoofs of the family mare, and crossed the river on the ice to Wilkes-Barre. Here he had his mare shod, purchased millstones, packed them on a "jumper" and drove home on the ice. The trip required three days. Years afterwards, this mill was known as "Grandpa Terry's little mill."

Farnhall Terry I, is said to be the first to discover coal in Wyoming Valley. It is said that one day he was using a camp fire and had made a crude fire box out of some black stones which he gathered up. Later, after going to bed he got up to find that the "stones" were also burning. He sold his farm which contained one of the richest deposits of coal in the Valley, for a bull and a barrel of oats.

Farnhall was one of the first settlers of Wilkes-Barre, Pennsylvania. He resided in Kingston township until about 1790, when he removed to Wyalusing, later to Terrytown in what is now Bradford County, Pennsylvania. He was an elder in the first Presbyterian Church at Wyalusing. Services were held alternately at Wyalusing and Terrytown. In April, 1794, he made an affidavit in a law case in Circuit Court giving a brief account of the settlement in Wyoming Valley.

Farnhall Terry was a private in the 24th Regiment, Connecticut Militia in 1778; and is named among the refugees at Fort Mifflin. He subsequently served as militiaman at Continental post in Wilkes-Barre under Col. Eubank Butler. (Harry's History of Wilkes-Barre — note Vol. II, page 902).

In 1818 he deeded his holdings in Pennsylvania to his son Jonathan and daughter, Deborah, who had married John Horton, and went to East Palmyra, New York. It seems that all his family except Jonathan, and Deborah, had moved to Palmyra. Records of deeds show that he had considerable land holdings in and around East Palmyra. One purchase made was 950 acres, the deed to which was signed July 3, 1789. He was perhaps a land speculator.

Married (1) at Eastport, Long Island, May 15, 1765, Deborah Clark, born June 7, 1736, at Mattituck; died at Stroudsbrough, Pennsylvania, in July, 1778, during the flight from the battle and massacre of Wyoming Valley; daughter of William Clark of Mattituck, and Brookhaven, Long Island, and his wife, Mary Beeson (maiden name) widow of John Benjamin. Married (2) Sarah Lee Horton, widow of Lieutenant Kereel Horton. She had eleven children. Their combined families numbered twenty-two. They had a private school in their home. Married (3) Bethia Wells, according to James P. Terry's record. Stuart T. Terry first records it thus, but later interlined a note which says: "His third wife was Joana Moore of Southold. She married a Farnhall who moved to Morriston, New Jersey, where he died. She moved to Orange County, New York, where they were married."

Children
(First Marriage)

1. Parrhall, baptized February 22, 1736, - - - - - (6-4) a
2. Jonathan, born June 23 or 17, 1758, probably near Southold, Long Island; died at Terrytown, Pennsylvania, February 16, 1833. This is Captain Jonathan Terry, founder of Terrytown. Married in the spring of 1778, Abigail Terry, born March 28, 1757, daughter of Uriah Terry and Abigail Cleveland.
3. Nathan, born about 1760, living in Pontiac, Michigan in 1838; married Eleanor Lewis, born October, 1778; died in Pontiac, Michigan August 25, 1849.
4. Deliverance, born about 1762 in New York State; married about 1782, Israel Parrhall.
5. Joshua, born 1764, - - - - - (6-3)
6. Deborah, born May 17, 1766, at Little Britain, Orange County, New York; died at Terrytown, Pennsylvania, May 1844; married in April, 1785, Major John Horton, born July 30, 1752 at Cothan, New York; died at Terrytown, Pennsylvania, April 28, 1843.
7. Nathaniel, born March, 1768; died September 27, 1818; married (1) Bridget Goldsmith, born 1773; died 1801; married (2) Annie Armstrong, born 1787, died 1811.
8. Epsie, born 1770. - Probably married three times: 1 - Mr. Haller, 2 - Mr. Carrolls and 3 - Alpheus Dodge.
9. William, born 1772; supposed drowned while swimming.
10. Subastian (or Resittance), born about 1777; married Lebeus Garner.
11. Ebenezer, (name found in Mrs. Chava's and also Stuart F. Terry's manuscript, but not on James F. Terry's record). Died in childhood.

Parrhall Terry - VI-a

Son of Parrhall Terry and Deborah Clark. Born in Southold, Township, Pennsylvania. During the Revolutionary War he became a member of the First Westmoreland Independent Company in 1776 and served in Washington's army for some time. He deserted January 11, 1777. As to the incident which led to his desertion it is related that on a march he stopped to tie his shoe. Being reprimanded for this, a quarrel ensued. The officer struck him with his sword. Thereupon, Parrhall knocked the officer down and fled. Receiving no sympathy from the members of his family who were all staunch Whigs, he joined other deserters and went to reside at Kings Point and Sheshegan. Later he joined the British Army becoming First Lieutenant in Butler's Rangers, Royal Greens. It is a little hard for us to understand why there should have been some among the colonists who were honestly on the side of the British during the struggle, but there seems to have been many such.

Parshall Terry, Jr., was one of them. In fact he was so loyal to the British Crown that he refused to live in the Colonies after they gained their independence and removed to Canada.

It is just a little unfortunate that Parshall, Jr., was with the British and Indians in the Battle of Wyoming, often spoken of as the Wyoming Massacre, in July, 1778; while his father and brothers were on the Colonial side in the same battle. Reports were later published that he killed his father, mother and brothers and sisters during the battle. These reports, of course, have been denied emphatically by members of the family. Captain Jonathan Terry, in a sworn statement given at Terrytown, and published in the History of Bradford County, Pennsylvania, by Dr. Craft (Appendix, page 490-491) said "False reports have been circulated in respect to my brother, Parshall Terry, and I have heard that it has been in print that he killed his father, etc., hence I wish to, in this place, declare the real truth in regard to it. My brother, Parshall Terry, was indeed on the opposite side of the great question from us, who were true Whigs, and was with the enemy -- as well as many more. He also came into the fort with Butler and his army; but he offered no manner of violence to any of his friends. On the contrary he said he had come into the fort to save our lives; and his father, who was also my father, has survived many years, and died among his friends in this place, in good old age."

In 1783, at the close of the Revolutionary War, Parshall, Jr., moved to Upper Canada, now Ontario, where he was given some large holdings by the Crown. (NOTE: Eliza Hlanford's research says: "Some record books of Trants, Canada, show she lives, says Parshall Terry, the Loyalist, came to Upper Canada in 1783"). Here he is supposed to have engaged in exporting timber.

In 1792, he moved to York (now Toronto), then a wilderness, and built a sawmill on the banks of the Don River. May 10, 1797, an order was issued granting his petition "to hold 500 acres of land in one body, 150 of which are in front, being No. 4, and a half of No. 3 in the first concession below Black Creek on which he now dwells; and also to hold 700 acres in the forks of Black Creek, there being plenty of vacant lots." Later, we find an order granting 300 acres to his wife, Rhoda Skinner Terry, as "the petitioner has already received the utmost quantity of land that can be granted to him." In this order, Rhoda is named as the "daughter of a U. E. Loyalist."

Parshall Terry acted as J. P. (Justice of Peace) in 1800, and in 1806-7-8. He is mentioned as Foreman of the Grand Jury. There is a tradition that he was a member of the First Parliament for upper Canada, but this has not been verified as the records were destroyed during the War of 1812.

Stuart T. Terry is authority for the statement that Parshall was a Justice of Peace for a long time, a Judge at one time and several times a member of the legislative assemblies.

Two views of Parshall, Jr., by members of his family are interesting. His sister, Deborah Terry Burich, had this to say about him -- (she was talking about the survivors of the Wyoming Massacre who were assembled at Fort Mifflin): "When my Tony brother, Parshall, (who had been with the Indians up the river, and was in the battle) came in he spoke kindly, saying he had come to save our lives, but seemed overcome with shame. When my father upbraided him with the wickedness of his conduct, and the horrible country he was in, he could not look him in the face, or answer a single word. My father had on a pair of new shoes, which at that time were articles of great importance, which few people could afford to wear in hard weather, an Indian, observing them got down on his knees and recklessly cut the strings with his knife, and took them off his feet. My Tory brother had not influence enough with them to prevent them from robbing us of everything they could carry away."

Quite a different picture was presented by J. Washington Ington, a great grandson of Parrish, Jr., in a paper read before the Bradford County Historical Society, November 23, 1914. Among other things, he said: "Whatever Parrish Terry's faults may have been as a politician you know Canadians would view his conduct in a different light from what you naturally do. He left a splendid name behind him. He was a man of great determination, and old-settlers used to tell of his inflexible integrity. My only son, who is in England, bears the name of Thomas Terry, and although still a youth, is intensely proud of his second name." James Parrish Terry, in his sketch of the Terry line has this to say of Parrish Terry, Jr.: "In justice to him it ought to be said that between him and the rest of the family, there were only political differences."

He married (1), in 1777, Amy Stevens of Wyoming Valley, Pennsylvania, married (2), Rhoda Skinner of upper Canada, now Ontario.

Children
(by wife, Amy Stevens)

1. Parrish, born September 30, 1778; married Hannah Terry - - (7)
2. Mary, born 1780, in New York State; married Joseph Lutz.
3. Kitty or Submission, born about 1782, in New York State; married Alexander Gallaway, born 1780. Lived in New York until about 1796 when they moved to Michigan.
4. Elizabeth, born about 1784 in New York State.
5. William, born about 1785, at Fort Niagara, Canada; died in Illinois, Physician; married (1) Mary Reeves, born 1739, in New York; died in Ontario, Canada; married (2) Sara Cook; married (3) Mary Red, she died in Calhoun County, Illinois.
6. Joshua, born 1789, in New York, died in Michigan, daughter of Captain Elias Reeves.

(by wife, Rhoda Skinner Terry)

Information supplied by Miss Glasford and just a little different than that in William S. Terry's book. From the St. James Register in Upper Canada.

1. Sarah Maria, born December 22, 1796, at York, Ontario, Canada; married Edward Thompson.

2. Deborah, born December 22, 1796 - 7da. Married Dr. Thomas.
3. Mary, born either 1797 or 1798; married Isaac Cornell, February 21, 1811.
4. Timothy, born September 23, 1798 - (Wm. S.) Joined the L. D. S. Church in 1838 and went to Missouri and Illinois. Married (1) in November, 1831, Adella May, born February 8, 1807, in Ireland; died in 1842 in Illinois. Married (2) Elizabeth Lambert, born September 9, 1813, in England; died in Illinois. Member of the L. D. S. Church. There were five children in the first family and eight in the second. Most of those lived in and around Nauvoo, Illinois. Two of the first family came to Utah, namely, Peter Parrish Terry and George Thompson Terry.
5. John, born 1800.
6. Nancy, born 1804; married John Darling.

Miss says there is another son, of Rhoda and Parrish, Simcoe Terry, omitted from the list.

After Parrish Terry was drowned in the San River, July 23, 1808, his widow, Rhoda, married William Cornell, father of the above mentioned Isaac who married Mary Terry. They were the parents of Ann, Eliza and Lydia.

 Presbyterian Church, to Samuel Fayette Norton, M.D., B-31 Aug
 1783, D-27 Nov 1846, [son of Nathaniel & Mary (Corwin)
 Norton]. Following Cynthia's death, Samuel Fayette Norton
 m-2nd Eliza Swezey, and had other children, not Hutchinson line. Res. Middle Island, Buried at the Trinity Methodist graveyard at Coram.

Cynthia was an accomplished musician, and lyricist. One of her descendents, Randall E. Woodard of Port Jefferson, has kindly sent me copies of some of the odes she wrote. The originals are rather badly creased with age, but one copy is good enough as to be totally readable and thus shareable. At the time this ode was written, the War of 1812 was still much on people's minds. The peace had finally been signed at Ghent, Belgium two months before, but the hostilities were still dragging on.....

EIN ODE

To be sung 28th Feb'y 1815.....Tune Schenectady

From all below the western skies,
 Let shouts of grateful praise arise;
 This newborn empire sound abroad,
 The honors of its guardian God.

Let our grand council lead the song,
 And roll the tide of praise along;
 Till the fair current spread around,
 From Georgia's banks to Hampshire's bound.

When Britian great in arts and arms,
 Poured on our coast wars dire alarms;
 And mustered all her thundering power,
 To crush our glory in an hour.

Our God with scorn her rage beheld,
 His own kind arm became our shield;
 Confusion on her plots he frowned,
 And shook her Babel to the ground.

Let that same God protect our host,
 Defend our navies and our coast;
 And guide our councils by his hand,
 From discord save our happy land.

Unite the plans, direct the choice,
 Of freedom's sons in heart and voice;
 To him whose virtuous deeds alone,
 Shall rise and vie with Madison.

Signed...Cynthia Hutchinson

M-2nd 9 Aug 1864 Port Jefferson, to Hannah Amelia (Corwin) Wells, B-4 Aug 1827, D-7 Dec 1917 Peconic, [dau. of Josiah Corwin & his 2nd wife, Hannah Homan].

He established and ran several business ventures in New York City, Brooklyn, and the Bowery, each being successful. He invented and manufactured a product which he patented under the name of Vault Lights. This was rather like a block of glass, which when it was installed in a sidewalk over a cellar area, would allow the light to pass down through it to light the cellar. In some areas of New York City, many of these vault lights are still visible. Imbedded in the sidewalks. Despite all his business in the City, he always maintained his home in Peconic, on the North Road. Buried Southold.

RICHARD TERRY, the Immigrant.

Born in England about 1618, may have been August 17, 1618. Died on his farm "Quashaneck" near Southold, Long Island about May 1673. His will dated July 6, 1675 was proved at Southold May 13, 1676.

Came to America in 1635 sailing from London on the ship James on July 13th. The three Terry's on the ship, Thomas age 28, Robert age 25, and Richard age 17, are supposed to have been brothers. They landed at Salem, Massachusetts. Richard remained there a short time, then removed to Springfield, thence to Lynn, and finally in 1640 to Southold, being one of the original thirteen settlers. Thomas Terry afterwards settled at Southold. Robert Terry settled at Flushing, Long Island.

Richard Terry was recorder of the Southold Town and clerk of the court from 1664 to 1673. He recorded the names and births of his children on the Town records.

Married May 22, 1649/50 Abigail Lines, name variously spelled Loines, Line, Lyne, Linde, etc. She was probable the daughter of Ralph Lines who died in New Haven in 1640. She was living with her son John on the Quashaneck farm in 1686.

¹⁸²⁷ PARSHALL TERRY, son of Parshall ¹⁸⁰⁶ Terry and Deborah ¹⁸²⁷ Clark (38)
 Baptized Mattituck, L.I. February 22, 1756; drowned in the Don or Credit River, Canada, July 20, 1808.

Was in Washington's army, deserted and joined the British. After the close of the Revolutionary War, he moved to Canada where he was a highly respected citizen, judge, member of parliament, exporter of lumber, holder of extensive land grants.

Married (1) about 1777 ¹⁸²⁸ Ann Stevens of Wyoming Valley, Pa.
 Married (2) Rhoda Skinner ¹⁸²⁵ of Ontario, Canada. After the death of Parshall Terry, Rhoda married William Cornell. Children by this second marriage were: 1. Ann, b 1810, md Dr. Lee; 2. Lydia, b 1812, md George Thompson; 3. Eliza, b 1814, md Mr. Thomas. There is considerable confusion in the listing of the children of Parshall Terry and Rhoda Skinner. The three Cornell children named above are often given as children of Parshall Terry and Rhoda Skinner. However, Mrs. Ross (Lissa) Glassford, of Toronto, Canada, states that she has verified the births of these three from an old Cornell family bible. Mrs. Glassford is a great grand daughter of Parshall Terry and Rhoda Skinner, and also a great grand daughter of William Cornell, second husband of Rhoda Skinner Terry Cornell.

There are some unsolved problems connected with this family. The list of children of Parshall Terry and Rhoda Skinner, given here is the list used by James P. Terry except that he includes also the three Cornell children: Ann, Lydia, and Eliza. The list of children given in Stuart T. Terry's manuscript seems to be very much confused. He lists Timothy as born in 1810, which is of course, impossible. The date of his birth as here given, September 23, 1798, seems to be accurate. Rhoda Skinner Terry Cornell in her will names Timothy as her eldest son.

Mrs. Glassford believes that her great grand mother, Amy Terry, daughter of Parshall and Rhoda, was born in 1798 or before. Parshall Terry in a petition for land filed in 1798, stated that he had nine children. If we count both Timothy and Amy, we still lack one. There is evidently something missing.

Mrs. Glassford states that there is a Simcoe Terry among the children. She gives the information that he was named for John Graves Simcoe, governor of Upper Canada.
