 As you are now so once was I
 As I am now you must be
 Prepare for death & follow me

Friends nor physicians could not save

My mortal body from the grave
 Nor can the grave confine me here

Husband's Notes

In a book entitled "New England Families - Genealogical and Memorial" by William Richard Cutter, A.M. published by the Lewis Historical Publishing Company in 1914 at NYC in the LDS library at SLC film number 962340 there is a history commencing on page 1595 of Philip, the immigrant, and his family for several generations. The entry concerning my ancestor, this Philip, is as follows: "Philip (2). son of Philip (1) Knight. was born in Charlestown in 1645. He married Margery (or Margaret) ----- He settled in Topsfield. Children: Benjamin,

Husband	Phillip Knight #2
Wife	Margaret Wilkins
Husband's Notes (Continued)
baptized Mar, 24, 1691 at Topsfield"
Phillip #2 was baptized in Salem on 10 Feb 1649
He purchased land in Topsfield near the Salem line from John Rusk and built a home there in 1675. He gave this property to his son Philip on 4 Nov 1692 at the time of his son's marriage to Rebecca Towne.
NEHG VOL. 16, JULY 1862 AT PAGES 212 - 213 is a list of members of the Old Church, Topsfield compiled by H>G> Dannel who compiled same from church records. This record, according to Dannel, was kept by the Rev. Joseph Capen from June 11 1684 when he was ordained as minister of this church. He, Rev. Capen, notes that the listed people are "members of the church when I was ordained or after". Among those listed are Philip Knight and his wife Margaret. Also members are Francis Peabody, John Peabody and Sgt. Jacob Towne
Wife's Notes
Admitted to the Charleston Church 7 May 1650
Margaret is referred to as Margery in the birth record of her children in the Topsfield Vital Records published by the Historical Society in 1903

Dear Judge Knight,

It was very nice to hear from you at the end of December, and I turned your letter over to our Research Services with the suggestion that I be the one who worked on it. I have now completed the research and am anxious to send you the results. I think we can make a very good case for Sarah, wife of Isaac Peabody, being Sarah Estes, a sister of Matthew and Richard Estes. I enclose a number of photocopies for you to peruse, some of which you might have seen before. I call your attention to the last page in the pile of photocopies, however, in which the author of the Estes genealogy has set forth a little chart that shows the names of the children of Matthew, Richard and Sarah, for comparison purposes. Not only do all of them have a daughter named Philadelphia, evidently for Matthew's wife, but Richard and Sarah have sons named Matthew, and Sarah has a son named Estes. All of these names are rather distinctive, and suggest strongly that the family tradition calling Sarah Peabody a sister of the two Estes brothers is indeed correct. I am convinced, as is Gary Roberts, with whom I have just discussed this. These Estes siblings were the children of Robert and Dorothy Estes of Dover in England.

I examined many other sources, but felt that the enclosed photocopies were enough to establish the case. Sarah would be, therefore, an immigrant herself, possibly accompanying her two brothers when they came. It is not clear, from what I have seen, whether anyone has looked for a will in England for Robert or Dorothy Estes, or whether any record of probate for either of them exists. Such documents could clear up the matter once and for all, depending on how informative the documents are.

The final page of the sheaf of papers you included with your letter [Ex. E], the top of which shows "Sarah (Estes) Giles...", looks particularly suspect. Not only would she have been on her second marriage at the tender age of 8, but every place her name is given, on the same page, it is given differently. We see no evidence of a marriage to anyone named Gill or Giles.

I hope the enclosed is helpful to you, and I further hope that you will visit us again in the not-too-distant future. I am glad that you are making so much progress on your ancestral lines. If we may be of any further help to you, please do not hesitate to contact us.

CHAPTER V.

JONATHAN WAKEFIELD, OF SUTTON, AND HIS POSTERITY.

FIRST GENERATION.

*Q. H. d.
G. W.*

1. JONATHAN WAKEFIELD, brother of Benjamin, of Sutton and Dudley, was, according to the tradition of some of his descendants, the son of William Wakefield, who married Rebecca Littlefield, and grandson of John Wakefield, who married Elizabeth Littlefield, all of Wells, Me., and brother of Joseph, of Dudley, who married Mary Robinson. We, however, fail to find any records to show any connection with Joseph, and Worcester Deeds record much to lead us to the belief that Jonathan was the son of John and Elizabeth (Walker) Wakefield, of Boston, whose birth is recorded September 19, 1695, and he is perhaps the one who married, firstly, Susannah Trask, December 10, 1719, at Salem. In the above mentioned records the name is written John instead of Jonathan, but as these names were often confounded in early records, that fact would not have much significance. The first unquestioned record we have of him comes from the town records of Andover, Essex county, Mass., where he married, June 22, 1733, Miss Abigail Smith, of that town. She married, secondly, November 6, 1794, John Larned, of Oxford, Mass.

It is evident that Jonathan and Benjamin Wakefield obtained a part of their landed possessions in Dudley, by inheritance, as the Registry of Deeds of Worcester County, in book vi, p. 204, under date of September 12, 1735: "Benjamin Wakefield, of Sutton, and Jonathan Wakefield, of Dudley, in consideration of £100, convey sixty-eight acres in Dudley to Simeon Chamberlain, of Dudley, 'in our own good and proper right of inheritance.'" He was tax assessor in 1750 and 1757. Jonathan Wakefield was a farmer, and according to the war record of Sutton, he was in the British service between 1755 and 1761. Probably in the campaign of 1759, in the conquest of Canada, under General Wolfe, or the expedition against Ticonderoga and Crown Point, the same year, under General Amherst, though he may have been engaged in other campaigns of the French and Indian war.

He died October, 1765. His will of October 2, was proved October 22, of the same year (1765). In his will he speaks of being very sick and weak. He makes first provision to his dear and beloved wife, Abigail, then to his son Jonathan, whom he orders to take Isaac Wakefield and Mary Wakefield, until they are aged respectively, twenty and eighteen years. To his other children he provides that his son, Amasa, as his sole executor, shall pay £4 each to son Samuel, in eight years from date, to son Silas, in ten years from date, to son Isaiah, in twelve years from date, to son Luther, in fourteen years from date, to daughter Tabitha, in six years from date, to daughter Mary, in sixteen years from date, and to daughter Abigail, in eighteen years from date. He mentions the fact that Rachel Wheeler has had her share. He provides that his son Luther and daughter Abigail, shall be supported and educated. The inventory of his estate gives its total valuation as £174 18s 7d. (Worcester Registry of Probate, book 9, pp. 67-69.)

SECOND GENERATION

X 3. JONATHAN² WAKEFIELD (Jonathan¹), son of Jonathan and Abigail (Smith) Wakefield, was born probably at his father's homestead at Dudley, October 16, 1736. He was a farmer, and resided in Sutton, Mass. no

Jonathan was engaged with his father and his brother Amasa, in the colonial service for various lengths of time, between 1755 and 1761 (French and Indian war; see military record of Jonathan, sr.) According to the Massachusetts Revolutionary War Archives, Jonathan Wakefield enlisted in the colonial army, from Captain Putnam's company, and Colonel Holman's regiment, for nine months. He was mustered June 29, 1775. He is recorded as belonging to Sutton, Mass. "Colonel Jonathan Holman (a veteran of the British service in Canada), raised from the vicinity of Sutton what was known as the "Sutton Regiment," long before the battle of Lexington, and as soon as the news of that fight reached them, they sprang to the saddle, and, riding all night, reached Concord just as the British were retreating. This regiment was destined to a very long and severe service, from its very early rally to the cause, ending finally at the great battle of Saratoga, nearly two years later."

According to the History of Sutton, they were incorporated into the army of General Washington at Cambridge (probably at the above given date, June 29, 1775), and began the march with him soon after the evacuation of Boston, proceeding first to Rhode Island, thence to Long Island, where they were engaged in battle, thence up the Hudson River to White Plains, where in that hard fought battle the "Sutton Regiment" bore a prominent part; though this much reduced it, it returned the largest list of men after the battle. During the siege of Boston it was this regiment from which the detachment was made for the fortification of "Nook's Hill," on the night of the 9th of March, 1776. Dorchester Neck is very uneven, abounding in hills and valleys. Nook Hill in the northwestern part of it, less than half a mile from the Height, was a very important location for a battery, on account of its proximity to Boston.

It was an eminence fifty feet or upwards above the sea. Washington made up his mind to fortify it, and Saturday night, March 9, sent a detachment for that purpose. It was a cold, blustering night and the soldiers were so imprudent as to build a fire for their comfort. This was seen by the British in Boston, who opened a severe fire upon them, and Jonathan Wakefield was one of four soldiers and a surgeon who was killed by the same shot of a cannon ball. The scene of this tragedy is often spoken of as Dorchester Heights, but more properly called Dorchester Point.

Jonathan Wakefield married May 21, 1760, Miss Anne Wheeler, daughter of ——— and ——— Wheeler; and sister of Abel Wheeler, sr., who married Jonathan's sister, Rebecca Wakefield. She died December 24, 1829, aged 89 years, and is interred at the North Newport, New Hampshire, cemetery. She is described as a woman about five feet tall. Jonathan Wakefield died intestate, and his brother Amasa was appointed administrator of his estate. The Worcester Registry of Probate, vol. xiii, p. 548, and vol. xiv, p. 319, records the inventory of same, totalling £313 9s 3d, real and personal, and on April 9, 1778, Amasa Wakefield gave his balance of £1 10s 0d, which was allowed the widow, and he was discharged. Vol. xix, p. 427, under date April 19, 1782, Jonathan, jr., and Josiah, his son, receipted for their part of the estate, to John Elliott, their guardian.

WHIPPLE ANCESTRY

We have two separate and distinct Whipple families in our ancestry. What makes Whipple ancestry a bit difficult to untangle is the fact that there are men named John, Matthew and William in each family.

First Whipple Family's original ancestor is Matthew Whipple born about 1560 in Bocking, Essex County, England. He married a lady named Joan. He never came to America. He had two sons, Matthew, Jr. born in about 1590 in Bocking, Essex, England who married Ann Hawkins on May 7, 1622 in Bocking. The other son, John, who became known as "Elder" John, was born in Bocking in about 1596. He married Susanna Clark in London on 28 August 1621. Until 2006 there was some question about this lady's last name but a research article in NEHGR in January 2006 definitely establishes her as Susanna Clark.

The two Whipple brothers, Matthew and John came to America with their wives in about 1638 and settled in Ipswich, Massachusetts.

My Great Grandfather was Edward Boardman Knight who was born in New Hampshire in 1834. He is also the ancestor who moved to West Virginia after the Civil War to practice law. He married a lady named Hannah Elizabeth White on 15 September 1864 in Newport, Sullivan County, New Hampshire. Both Edward and Hannah are related to the Matthew Whipple Family. Edward is descended from Elder John Whipple and Hannah is descended from Matthew Whipple, Jr. Please see the attached charts.

The second Whipple Family is descended from Capt. John Whipple who was born in about 1617 in England. His parents are unknown. He came to America in 1632 on the Lyon and settled in Dorchester, Massachusetts. Hannah Elizabeth White is also descended from Capt. John Whipple as well as Matthew, Jr. See the attached chart.
