In each year, Benjamin Covey was among the highest in assessed valuation - he was certainly not poor.

Benjamin lived among a bunch of Hallays in Columbia Co, but his wife probably came from Dutchess Co.

Here for more than a century was the religious, business, and civic center of Westbury, Mass. by in private homes, the people met in town meetings. Here crossed paths from what is now Hapkinson, Richmond and Westbury. There was a ford across the river and here was the first mill dam and grist mill.

On the hill to the eastward stood the first meeting house in southern Rhode Island built by Seventh Day Baptists in 1680.

Those members of this church suffered imprisonment in defense of the Colony's liberties and the onslaught of hostile natives, were foremost among those who established and developed the colony on the principles of freedom for civil government, Samuel Worth, who was a leader in the struggle for independence and joined in founding Brown University.

In the winter of 1702 more than 3000 were baptized.

The first road was laid out in 1702. It led to South Kingstown town line and the town landing at Percepsuck Rock.

In 1736 the people petitioned the General Assembly to divide the town, complaining that "some of us are obliged to go 10 miles to a town meeting and great and difficult to cross by go over."

Charlestown was set off from Westbury in 1738, Richmond from Charlestown in 1747, and Hapkinson from Westbury in 1757.

Erected by the Seventh Day Baptist Churches of Hapkinson and Westbury.

(Stone cut by Comelli Granite Co. in 1936 by Father of present prop.)
