Warren/Hardesty Family of Belmont County, Ohio

This family looked like a very good prospect for the parents of Catherine Warren Sutton. There was an apparent gap in the birth dates of the children of the family that exactly fit the birth of Catherine Warren, with two years on either side of it. In addition, the Belmont County Hardesty family was related to a Campbell family, and Catherine Warren is probably buried in a Campbell family plot.

The birth information for the Belmont County Warren family children was taken from the IGI. It turns out that the submitters to the IGI based their information on an extraction of information in McKelvey's Centennial History of Belmont County, Ohio, and the data therein was altered to agree with the ages of twin daughters Sarah and Susan in the 1850 census. This left room for Catherine (and another person) in 1839 and misled me into thinking that this was likely Catherine's family. After obtaining McKelvey on film, further analysis of the ages of the children in McKelvey and in the censuses led me to conclude that Sarah and Susan were born in 1839 as given in McKelvey, and that Catherine could not be a daughter in this family. McKelvey also gives the number of children in the family, and all are accounted for without including Catherine.

The conclusion is that this is not Catherine Warren's family, and the Campbell connection is coincidental. The reconstructions below were used in reaching this conclusion.

township in 1848, the daughter of John and Elizabeth (Giffen) Denham. Mrs. Hall is a member of the United Presbyterian church. He is prominent as a landowner and as a good citizen.

Alexander C. Hammond, a progressive farmer of Richland township, was born in the township of Wheeling, September 5, 1837. He is the son of Robert Hammond, who was born in Pennsylvania, the son of Robert and Jane (Castle) Hammond. The senior Robert Hammond was a native of county Down, Ireland, and was a member of the Seceder church, of Ireland. He came to America at an early day, and after residing in Pennsylvania several years, removed to Ohio, settling in Wheeling township. The maiden name of the mother of the subject was Hannah Clark. Mr. Hammond was reared on the farm in Wheeling township, and after attending the common schools spent one year at Athens college. In 1864 he enlisted in Company E, One Hundred and Seventieth Ohio infantry, under Capt. A. W. Lee, and after a service of 100 days, received an honorable discharge at Columbus in September, 1864. He enlisted as a private, but was soon promoted to first corporal. In 1870, Mr. Hammond was married to Maggie G. Thompson, who was born in 1842, and died in 1875. She was a daughter of Thomas B. and Eliza Thompson. To this union one son was born, Harry E. Beginning his career as a farmer with thirty acres, he now owns 100 acres of good land, well improved, with a two-story brick dwelling and other improvements.

The Hardesty family is one of the most notable among the pioneers of the valley of the upper Ohio. Their ancestors removed to this region, then the Indian frontier, soon after the war of the revolution. Richard Hardesty and his wife, whose maiden name was Mary Lamb, in about 1793, removed to Wheeling to obtain protection from the red men, and Richard had been a brave soldier in the war of the revolution, and was, by his service, entitled to land in the northwest territory. In 1795 they crossed the river into Ohio at the site of Martin's Ferry, and having lost their horses to the Indian marauders near there, they made their way with ox team and sled, being compelled to cut their way much of the distance to a place known by the hunters as "Round Bottom," in what is now Richland township. There were no neighbors to their little home nearer than St. Clairsville, and but few cabins there. Richard lived there to the age of ninety-seven years. He had three sons, Robert, Samuel and John. The latter, who was born at Martin's Ferry, in 1791, is supposed to be the first white child born in Belmont county. All the sons served in the war of 1812, and during that period of conflict, Robert took part in the battle of Kirkwood Cabin. On January 5, 1809, Robert was married to Nancy McMillan. Their son, John Hardesty, one of the honored representatives of this pioneer family, was born in Richland township, January 26, 1820. He received a limited education in the log school-house of his day. On June 16, 1864, he was married to Mary J. Coats, a native of Belmont county, and daughter of David and Mary Coats. To this union five children have been born: Robert, Samuel, Ada Luella, William Ross and John G. Mr. Hardesty is one of the leading land owners of the county, having 225 acres of valuable land.

Alexander G. Hawthorn, a prominent business man and postmaster at Loydsville, was born in Jefferson county, in June, 1846, the son of William and Mary A. (Lemon) Hawthorn. The father was born and reared in Jefferson county, and lived there until 1852, when he removed with his family to Harrison county and settled on a farm, where he now resides. In the latter county the subject of this mention was reared from his sixth year. On December 17, 1863, he enlisted in Company B, Ninety-eighth Ohio infantry, and served with his company in all its engagements until he was wounded on August 7, 1864, before Atlanta. A piece of shell which weighed a little over three-quarters of an ounce entered his jaw, and was so imbedded that he carried it for seven years before it was removed. It almost entirely destroyed his hearing, but for this great injury he is allowed only the insignificant pension of $4 a month. Mr. Hawthorn was discharged at Columbus, in September, 1865, and on his return home engaged in farming in Jefferson county for two years, after which he embarked in general merchandise at Adena. After doing business there four years he removed to Loydsville, and opened a dry goods and general store, and has an extensive custom. He is one of the worthy citizens of the place, and his recent appointment as postmaster gave general satisfaction.

Peter W. Helpbringer, a well-known and successful farmer of Richland township, Belmont county, was born in 1846, the son of John and Tamazin (Wolf) Helpbringer. His grandfather, Frederick, the first of the family in America, came to America about the year 1800, from Germany, his native land. He settled in Virginia and there raised a family, among whom was John, the father of the subject of this mention. John, in about 1830, removed to Ohio, and made his home in Guernsey county, afterward, however, in 1846, removing to Smith township, Belmont county. He then settled on a farm, on which he remained until 1882, when he and wife made their home with their son, Peter W. He was a successful farmer, and also conducted a flouring and saw-mill. He lived to the age of seventy-eight years. His wife was the daughter of Peter and Clarissa (Ridgeway) Wolf, of Scotch-Irish descent. She and her husband were members of the Methodist Episcopal church. Peter W. was reared on the farm, and has engaged much of his time in the mills of his father. He received his education in the common schools and at Duff's Commercial college at Pittsburgh. In 1878 he bought of his father what was known as the Helpbringer mill, and after thoroughly refitting it continued to operate it. On April 22, 1880, was married to Jane L., daughter of Henry and Matilda (Hall) Nell. He and wife commenced house-keeping on the Helpbringer farm, and continued to operate the mill until the spring of 1882, when he rented the mill to W. T. Minnameyer, and commenced to erect the buildings on the farm, where he now resides, in Richland township, near Glencoe, on B. & O. R. R., finishing and occupying them in October, 1883. In the years that have elapsed, howvide the means, attending one term at West Alexander Academy during this time and in the winter of 1868-69 took his first lectures at Starling Medical College. The winter of 1869-70 was spent at the Ohio Medical College at Cincinnati, where he graduated in March, 1870. His first practice was in association with Dr. William Piper for 18 months, but in October, 1871, he located at Centreville, and this village has been his home during all the succeeding busy years. At different times during this period, he has admitted partners, at one time Dr. G. L. Ramsey, and at another the late Dr. Wilkinson, as the demands upon his strength and time have been too onerous. Dr. McMaster built his comfortable home in 1876 and has his office located in the same building.

On November 27, 1871, our subject was united in marriage with Susan E. Neff, daughter of Henry and Matilda A. (Hall) Neff, the latter of whom died at the age of 49 years, in 1865, and the former of whom resides, aged 92 years, near Glencoe, where Mrs. McMaster was born July 18, 1846. She is one of seven children born to her parents, namely: George Hall, born September 10, 1845, died at the age of nine days; Susan Elizabeth, Mrs. McMaster; Dorcas Ann, born May 2, 1848, the wife of John A. Thompson, of St. Clairsville; Jane L., born March 17, 1850, became Mrs. Helpbringer, and died recently near Glencoe; Vachel Singleton, born August 14, 1852, died at the age of three years; Margaret M. C., born May 9, 1855; married Rev. T. H. Armstrong; and Henry Allen, born July 21, 1859, who resides on his farm in Smith township. Mrs. McMaster is a cultivated lady and was educated at Steubenville. Three children were born to the Doctor and his wife, namely: Elva Leonora, born April 24, 1873, married Rev. A. A. Brown, a Methodist minister of Beverly, Ohio, and they have three children, Chase McMaster, Edna Elizabeth and Stowell Nelson. Rev. William Henry McMaster was born September 17, 1875, and is one of the most brilliant young men this locality has ever produced. On July 27, 1899, he graduated at Mount Union, and graduated also at Drew University, where he took the fellowship prize of $250 in gold, which was to be used for higher education. On June 24, 1902, he graduated at the University of New York, having spent two years in teaching at Drew Theological School, and was ordained a deacon, September 17, 1899, at the Eastern Ohio Conference and preached his first sermon on his 18th birthday. For the past eight years he has been in the ministry and is now stationed at Elmhurst, New York. The youngest son, Samuel Emerson McMaster, was born September 22, 1881, taught school one year, graduated at Lebanon College in 1900, spent 1901 at the Ohio State University, and is now attending the Ohio Medical College at Columbus.

The religious connection of the whole family is with the Methodist Church. Dr. McMaster has served six terms as notary public, being first appointed by Governor Hoadly. He is a member of Hess Post, G. A. R., No. 595, at Armstrong's Mills, and was one of the charter members of Weyer Lodge, F. & A. M., at Centreville, serving for 10 years as its secretary. He belongs also to the Belmont County Medical Society and keeps abreast of the times in his profession. Dr. McMaster is the accredited examiner for these insurance companies: The Mutual Benefit, of New Jersey; the Home, of New York; the Michigan Mutual, of Detroit; the New York Life; and the Prudential.

WILLIAM HARRISON WARREN, a prominent farmer of Mead township, Belmont County, and a worthy representative of old pioneer families of the county which have been conspicuous through generations both in agricultural and military life, was born in his present home in Mead township in 1840, a son of Daniel and Sarah (Hardesty) Warren.

On the maternal side of the family, Mr. Warren comes of Revolutionary stock, his grandfather, Obadiah Hardesty, serving in the Continental Army. Mrs. Warren was born in Glencoe, Richland township, Belmont County, where her father located on a farm soon after the close of the Revolutionary War, and died in 1877, aged about 77 years. On the paternal side the early ancestors belonged to the State of Maryland, and there Daniel Warren was born in 1790, a son of Haddick Warren, who first located at Middletown, Washington County, Pennsylvania, and from there came to Belmont County, Ohio, in 1804, all of the following children having been born prior to this time—Daniel, John, Caleb, James, William, Polly, Catherine and Sarah. Haddick Warren was one of the first settlers to locate in the eastern part of Belmont County, buying a farm near Neff's siding, where he spent the remainder of his life and where his tomb may be found. He also was a soldier in the Revolutionary War.

It is a subject of comment that when the country needed help in the various struggles from which has come American independence, the Warren family always had a loyal member to offer service. Thus in the War of 1812 Daniel Warren participated with gallantry. After his marriage he came to Mead township and located on a farm in section 30, the same property now owned by his son, our subject. He engaged in agricultural pursuits through the whole of his life, attaining very substantial results. His political views made him in early life an old line Whig, and an active supporter of the Republican party after its formation.

On December 21, 1815, Daniel Warren and Sarah Hardesty were united in marriage, and a family of 14 children were born to them in the old home on the farm. Nancy, the eldest, was born February 21, 1817, and died in the old home at the age of 55 years; John, born October 4, 1818, died unmarried in St. Joseph, Missouri, aged about 33 years; Eliza, born April 4, 1820, married James Shipman, and they moved first to Kansas, then to Illinois and later to Missouri, where she died about 1897, their three children also being deceased; Noah V., born November 17, 1821, died at Pomeroy, Meigs County, Ohio, aged 21 years; Morgan, born November 4, 1823, married Jane Thornberry, moved to Iowa and was drowned in the Ottawa River in 1876,—he had been a soldier in the Civil War in the 29th Reg., Iowa Vol. Inf., and left a large family, five sons residing in Kansas; Mary Ann, born November 4, 1823, died in 1877, the wife of Joseph Carle; Charity, born October 14, 1825, died at the age of nine years; Susan, born February 10, 1829, married William Graham, and both died at their home at Captina Creek, one of their daughters and two of the sons residing in Belmont County, one in West Virginia and one in Nebraska; Sarah, the twin sister of Susan, married William Wiley, and at death left a son and daughter, residents of Jackson County, Indiana; Haddick L., born January 17, 1831, resides at Alma, Ross County, Ohio, was a brave soldier in the Civil War from Meigs County, and married Elizabeth Moore; Rebecca, born April 21, 1833, is the widow of James Wiley, and resides at Ella, Marshall County, West Virginia; Rhoda, born October 20, 1834, married Prince Green, and resides in Spraytown, Jackson County, Indiana; Ebenezer, born July 4, 1838, died unmarried in 1871.

The youngest member of this family was the subject of this record, William Harrison Warren, who was born on December 16, 1840. He was reared to farm work, and the principal business interests of his life have been centered in agricultural developments. His fine farm of 218½ acres is well cultivated and finely improved, and he has here engaged in general farming, combined with dairying, his general prosperity being the result of excellent management and the intelligent use of modern methods and improved machinery.

On April 16, 1866, Mr. Warren married Harriet Eliza Berry, who was born September 30, 1845, in Mead township, a daughter of William C. and Mary (Haughtengohow) Berry, the former of whom was born at Wellsburg, Virginia, now West Virginia, and died in 1879, aged 68 years. He was a son of John and Mary Ann (Clark) Berry, an old Virginia family of prominence. The mother was also born at Wellsburg and died in 1862, aged 51 years. Mrs. Warren is one of a family of ten children born to her parents, these being: James, deceased; Jacob, a resident of Mead township; Clark died at the age of six months; Mary Ann married Ira Kidder, lived at Moundsville, West Virginia, and died in 1898; Rachel Ellen died unmarried in 1869, aged 27 years; Harriet E., the wife of Mr. Warren; Augusta J. is the widow of James White of Moundsville; William J., a resident of Mead township; John W., a resident of Moundsville, married Lizzie Lash, and James Albert, a resident of Moundsville, married Lizzie Schrimp.

To Mr. and Mrs. Warren has been born a family of eight children, namely,—William S., born April 2, 1867, is a physician in practice at Businessburg, Ohio, graduating from Bryant & Stratton's Business College and Starling Medical College. He married Anna C. Boyd, and their four children are: Mary Elizabeth, aged seven years; Dulcie E., aged five years; Harriet Isabel, aged two years, and William Boyd, an infant, deceased. Myrta I., born March 29, 1869, married George H. Ramsey of Mead township, and they have five children—Forrest, born in 1891; Clarence E., born in 1893; Harriet Mildred, born June 6, 1896; Harry Warren, born February 15, 1898, and Loring Fulton, born September 3, 1901. Carrie B., born March 3, 1871, married William A. Craig, and they reside in Businessburg, their children being Loring Day, born August 5, 1894; Harriet Eliza, born July 29, 1897, and an infant, born May 2, 1899, deceased. Daniel H., born July 5, 1873, is a graduate of the Western Pennsylvania University and for the past year has been practicing his profession of dentistry at Allegheny City. He is also a graduate in pharmacy, graduating from Scio College July 26, 1900. Otta L., born October 6, 1873, married George McCommon, a professor in a school at Windsor, Ashtabula County, Ohio. V. Josephine, born July 14, 1877, is a young lady at home. Charles Foster, born October 10, 1879, is a teacher at Neff's siding. On April 18, 1902, he married Ada L. Neff, of Neff's siding. The youngest son, Harrison Edwin, was born November 1, 1882, and remains at home assisting his father.

During the stormy period of the Civil War Mr. Warren, true to family tradition, offered his services in defense of his country, belonging during nine months at the close of the war to Company I, 5th Ohio Vol. Cav., under the brave Kilpatrick, and escaped any serious injury. In political sentiment he has always adhered to the Republican party, supporting its candidates and promoting its influence. In fraternal connection he is associated with the Masonic body, belonging to Weyer Lodge, No. 541, of Centreville, Ohio, as are also his sons, and he also belongs to Spangler Post, G. A. R., of Bellaire. The religious connection of the family is with the Methodist Church at Pleasant Hill.

Mr. Warren and family are well and favorably known in Businessburg and vicinity and enjoy a wide and pleasant social prominence.

JOHN M. WILKINS, who is numbered among the influential farmers of Belmont County, Ohio, is a general farmer, owning about 149 acres of cultivated land in Richland township. He was born on the home place in 1846 and resides there today.

Mr. Wilkins is a son of Robert and Margaret (Murray) Wilkins, both natives of Richland township, and now deceased. Robert Wilkins became an agriculturist and also raised stock to some extent, becoming quite successful in his occupation. He married Margaret Murray, whose father was bridge contractor on the old National Road. She died in 1893, when 76 years of age, leaving as mourners her husband and several children. She was the mother of six children.
