Dear Ray,

I was very sorry to hear of Judy's death and have no trouble empathizing with you over the many hours you spent on the road and at her bedside as well as with the sorrow you must have felt as you worked at getting her affairs in order. Having experienced much of the same scenario lately, I know where you've been. It's all so sad.

Time marches on for me, though I've spent the better part of ^{the} past four months engaged in minor skirmishes and paper battles with a house that's been badly neglected for at least fifteen years. At the moment it looks like I may be able to enjoy a needed respite until the onset of warm weather when it will be time to attack whatever needs doing on the outside.

It's never ending - but also the price one pays for putting off until tomorrow what should have been done last week. I'd sell in a minute and move to an apartment in Hillsdale (preferably) or Caldwell if it weren't for the negative influence of those gas tanks buried in the front yard.

I've done very little from the standpoint of genealogy over the last few months

but do plan to get back into it as soon as I get house and yard under control.
When I do, I'll try to locate a marriage record for Matilda Stokes Warren Hawks.
Wonder how long she was Hawks?

1860 census (w/ Catherine Sutton)

Mary Warren/Wainer ae 60 (same woman?)

1866 Peter Warren's pension papers

Matilda Hawks

1870 census (w/ Cornelius Young)

Matilda Warren ae 88

Interestingly enough Peter's second child was called Hattie Matilda. The deponents in 1866 were Harriett Perkins and Matilda Hawks.
Peter's wife's maiden name was Carpenter.
Will we ever be able to sort it all out?

Hang in there!

Sincerely,
Tom
