VREDENBURGH LINE

1. WILLEM ISAACZEN VAN VREDENBURGH*

Came to New Netherland from The Hague arriving in New Amsterdam in May 1658 on the Gilded Beaver. He was the son of Isack Van Vredenburgh and Cornelia Jans of The Hague and was baptized 1 Jan 1637 in the Kloosterkerk in that city. For a while after his arrival in New Netherland he served as a soldier in the service of the Dutch West India Company in the Esopus or Kingston area. He was apparently a civilian by 1661 as he referred to himself in that year as a "discharged soldier". He lived in Wiltwyck (now Kingston) until he moved to New Amsterdam in 1664 or before where on 19 Oct 1664 he married Apollonia Barents Kool, dau of Barent Jacobsen Kool, a yacht master in the employ of the Dutch West India Company. Willem may have been a tailor as in 1672 he subscribed the amount of six florins in work, namely, the making of a pair of breeches, toward the repair of Fort James. By 1679 he had moved back to Wiltwyck, which by this time had become Kingston, where his last three children were born. Issue
