"Pay Down" was the earliest settlement in what was Osage County at the time these records were made (formerly Gasconade County in 1829 & located in present day Maries County since 1855). Peter Walter, a step-son of Daniel Crider, Senr, acquired land on the Gasconade river in 1829 (Section 3 Twp 40 Range 8) and immediately set about making plans for a mill to grind grain. This was the first known business in the area, and residents for miles around visited "Walter's Mill" since flour and corn meal were dire necessities to pioneer life. The early settler of that day had little money, so when grain was taken to the mill, an extra portion, known as 'the toll', would be given to the miller in exchange for his services. Thus, the name "Pay Down" was derived from this practice.

The mill was eventually sold to D B Wheery, and according to the County Court Minutes of Crawford County in 1836, it was referred to as "Wheery's Mill". A general store was established adjacent to the mill which served the residents of the area with the other simple necessities of life, such as powder, lead, patent medicines, clothing and sundry items.

The following list of names has not been taken from legal records, but rather from a ledger that was in use at the Pay Down Store, then known as "Wheery's Mill". While the list is not intended to be an accurate enumeration of all of the people living in the area at the time, it does tend to give the reader some idea of the early residents of western Gasconade, Osage and eastern Maries County. As Osage was founded only two years before these names were written into the ledger and seven years before the first census of Osage County was taken, it is felt that perhaps this roster may be the most complete listing of the residents in the neighborhood of that era - 1844-1847.

This record was taken from a family history entitled, "Daniel Crider, Senior - Pioneer of Gasconade County, Missouri", by Lester E Crider & Julian J Crider, editor & compiler (1976). It appears through the courtesy of Julian J Crider of Fort Worth, Texas, owner of the original ledger.
