Deeds, Wills and Inventories

ABSTRACTED AND COMPILED

BY

Preface

In response to a petition by the "Upper Inhabitants" of New Kent County, Virginia, who lived far from the county court, the General Assembly passed an act, 26 November 1720, forming Hanover County from New Kent.¹ Hanover County was to include all that part of the county which lay in St. Paul's Parish, which was known as the upper parish and had been formed from St. Peter's Parish in 1704.²

Hanover County at this time stretched across its present boundaries to include Louisa County and the northern third of Albemarle County.

To accommodate the residents of the growing county, another parish, St. Martin's, was formed from St. Paul's on 1 January 1727, as follows:

"...that part of the parish which lies between the North and South branches of Pomonkey River And also that part of the said Parish lying above Stonehorse Creek in the said county shall be one entire parish...and known by the name of St. Martin..."³

The destruction of early records of Hanover County during the Civil War has left few means available for studying the county's residents until deed records begin again in the 1780's. Consequently, the records herein preserved for these two years assume a vital importance in the resolving of genealogical problems for Hanover families, and in many cases, are the only extant evidence left from this period.

Many surnames occurring in these records will be found in Louisa County after its formation in 1742 and from 1761 in Albemarle County records.

It should be noted that the New Style (Gregorian) calendar had not yet been adopted by Great Britain. During this time New Year's Day was March 25th. Dates 1 January through 24 March, 1733, were in fact 1734 by the new calendar reckoning. No dates have been altered to reflect the new calendar unless so indicated in the original book.

All spellings have been retained as in the original book. Whenever "marks" were used in place of a signature, these symbols are placed in parentheses. An "X" stands for any symbol which cannot be duplicated on a typewriter. Variations of spellings of surnames contained within the record are given in parentheses.

The microfilmed copy of the original court record book was made available through the courtesy of Dr. Louis H. Manarin, State Archivist of the Virginia State Library.

HANCOCK COUNTY

Located in the central part of the state, Hancock County was formed from Madison County on January 26, 1827; it was organized as a governmental unit the following year. It has had no boundary changes. Greenfield is the county seat. There are nine townships: Blue River, Brandywine, Brown, Buck Creek, Center, Green, Jackson, Sugar Creek, and Vernon. There has been no concerted effort to copy cemetery inscriptions in the county, but some work has been done in all the townships except Vernon.

In addition to the above records, the Genealogy Division has a volume of Photographic Records of Tombstones in Hancock, Henry and Wayne counties, compiled by Irene English Shoemaker, which has illustrations of some tombstones in Harlan cemetery, Brown Township, and Mt. Lebanon Cemetery, on Road 9, Brandywine Twp. Also there are copies of funeral accounts kept by Harold Condo, Wilkins an undertaker, for the years 1901-1905 and 1908-1912.

CHAPTER XV.

BROWN TOWNSHIP.

Brown township was originally included as a part of Blue River township. Later it was set off as a part of Green township. At the September term of the board of county commissioners, in 1836, it was organized as a separate township with its present dimensions. It is six miles east and west by five miles north and south. The civil township of Brown lies in 18 congressional townships. A strip one mile wide off of its entire west end lies in congressional township 17 north, range 7 east; the remaining portion of the township, consisting of twenty-five square miles, lies in congressional township 17 north, range 8 east.

Its surface is generally level or slightly rolling. Its natural drainage consists of Sugar creek, Willow branch and Brandywine creek. Sugar creek enters the extreme northeast corner of the township; then flows to the southwest about four miles; thence to the northwest about four miles; thence to the southwest, leaving the west line of the township about one and one-half miles south of its north line. Sugar creek, though small, is the largest stream. Willow branch, which rises about two and one-half miles north and a mile east of the southwest corner of the township, is nothing more than a large open ditch. The same is true of Brandywine creek, which rises in the northwestern part of section 20, about a mile northwest of Warrington and flows southward through the township. The latter two streams were formerly sluggish, but they have been deepened and widened and now furnish good outlets for the southwestern part of the township. Sugar creek furnishes a good outlet for its entire northern portion. The land has all been well drained and is admirably adapted to heavy farming and grazing.

The first land entry in the township was made by Pryor Brown (for whom the township was named), who, on July 3, 1830, entered the east half of the northeast quarter of section 33, township 17, range 8. He was followed by a number of families whose names are still familiar in the county. Among them are Adaline Edwards, John S. Murfin, Eli Baldwin, John McQuery, Aaron Cass, Elizabeth McCarty, John Walker, Alford Thomas, Seth Walker, Samuel Collins, Samuel Noland, Stephen Noland, Stephen Harlan, Abraham Cook, William Walker, Jesse Oldham, John Kennedy, George Kennedy, Ursula Wilkinson, Conrad Coon, William Wilkinson, Ben-

RESIDENCE-CENSUS: 1840 U S Census, Hancock County, Indiana; 1840; page 380; John McQuary household;; viewed, hand copied, at National Archives, Laguna Niguel, CA; NOTE: Persons in household: 1 male 30-40 {John III}; 1 female 30-40 {Lucinda}; 1 male under 5; 2 males 5-10; 3 females under 5 and 1 female 10-15. One of the 2 males in the 5-10 bracket could be John IV. His age was listed as 17 in the 1850 Census of Hancock County, Indiana, Sarah Baldwin household. The female in the 10-15 bracket could be Nancy who married Benjamin Gray; age bracket fits her age (23) as listed in the 1850 Census of Madison Co., IN. Five 5 children in household unaccounted for -- 1 male under 5; 1 male 5-10; 3 females under 5. Also have discrepancy between 1830 and 1840 records. Did the under 5 male and two of the under 5 females shown in the 1830 Census die? Were they "outsiders"? The 1850 Census of Madison County, IN, shows a Martha McQuary (sic), age either 17 or 19, in the household of Robert and Mary Wiley. (Census pages 138B and 139, Family No. 877.) A Martha Jane McQuary (sic) married Alexander Morris on 8 April 1852 in Hancock County. (Marriage Book C-3, page 275) She could be one of the unaccounted for females under 5 in 1830 but, if so, where was she in 1840? No known connection between the McQuerrys (or Kilbys) and Wileys at that time.

LAND: Acquisition of Land from Government; 1833; John McQuery Jr (sic) filed for SE 1/4 of NW 1/4 of Section 13, Township 17, Range 7, 40 acres, on 16 Dec 1833; Tract Book -- Record of Original Acquisition of Land from Government, page 45; Hancock Co, IN, County Recorder's Office, Hancock Co, IN, Courthouse, Greenville, Indiana; NOTES: (1) Property in Brown Township, Hancock County. - (2) Some entries not legible or only partially legible. Many Loose Papers are undated and/or do not show when submitted to the Court.

DEATH:;;;;; NOTE: Two John McQuerrys died in Hancock County, Indiana, in the 1840s. Initially it was believed John McQuerry Jr died in 1840 and that his son, John III, died about 1845. Data reviewed to date (6-11-97) indicates John McQuerry III died in 1840 (between Census time and 13 Nov 1840) and John McQuerry Jr died in 1847. Data indicating this is summarized below. References refer to Hancock County, Indiana, Probate Order Books. Microfilmed copies of these documents were viewed, and photocopies made of selected pages, at the Hancock County, Indiana, Courthouse, Greenfield, IN, in June, 1994.

- (1) At the November, 1840, term of Court, James McQueary (sic) and Eli Baldwin Administrators for the estate of John McQueary, deceased, requested Court's permission to sell land belonging to the deceased to pay bills. (Ref. Probate Order Book A, Page 217.)
- (2) Some bills paid by James McQuerry as Administrator for the Estate of John McQueary (or McQuary) identified the recipient of goods or services as John McQueary (or McQuary) Jr. All goods or services received (by the deceased) on or before 28 Aug 1840 per documents found. {Loose papers}
- (3) An accounting of items belonging to the Estate of John McQuerry (sic), deceased, and sold (at a public sale?) appears to show John McQuerry Sr as one of the buyers. (The word believed to be Senior, or Signr, is very fuzzy/blurred.) Lucinda McQuerry was listed as one of the buyers -- the the only female buyer. James McQuerry and Eli Baldwin signed the paper as "Administrators". The sale was, apparently, in 1841. {Loose papers}
