Marking 100

Students, Grace Garver celebrate the number

By BARB LIMBACHER
T-R Staff Correspondent

STRASBURG – Wednesday was the 100th day of school at Strasburg Elementary, and by the time classes dismissed, ones and zeros were dancing in students' heads.

The 100-day countdown began on the first day of school. However, the celebration was delayed from its original schedule by a few days because of school cancellations caused by the cold, snowy, icy weather of January.

To kick off the celebration, students strolled through the zeros of a large number 100, made from plywood and furnished by 1st-grade teacher Krissy Toland.

Students wore "It's Day 100" badges and brought bunches of 100 items from home.

"One Hundred Monkeys" was read by 100-year-old Grace Garver.

A retired teacher who lives in Strasburg, Mrs. Garver, who celebrated her birthday in December, said she enjoyed being back in school and reading to 170 students in kindergarten through 2nd grades.

Outside teacher Karen Wallick's 1st-grade classroom was a mural of 100 monkeys in trees made by the students.

In other activities of the day, students heard more stories about 100s, made marshmallow and toothpick sculptures, glued fruit loops on the number 100, counted to 100 by ones, twos, fives and 10s and put 100-piece puzzles together.

Wallick, Toland and fellow 1st-grade teacher Diane Donahue, kindergarten teachers Glenna Haswell and Rebecca Horn and 2nd-grade instructors Pat Beechy and Theresa Schroder got into the act by wearing 100 scatter pins, 100 beads on a necklace, 100 bows and 100 safety pins.

Grace Garver of Strasburg fields questions from students at Strasburg Elementary after reading to them as part of the activities marking the 100th day of school Wednesday. Garver is 100 years old.

At the conclusion of the celebration students gobbled down 100 cupcakes that had been topped with 100 candles for their participation and enthusiasm during the day.

Grace Miller Garver

"An American Century"

Grace Edith was born 6 December 1898 to Zeno and Dora Miller on a farm in Canaan Township, Wayne County, Ohio. Her mother died when she was three and at the age of twelve Grace went to live with her paternal grandparents, Michael and Catherine Miller, in Creston, Ohio. She graduated from Creston High School in 1917, attended Wooster College and Ohio University and taught school for six years before her marriage to John B. Garver of Strasburg on 21 June 1923. Formerly a member of the Jackson Presbyterian Church, Grace joined the Strasburg United Brethren Church shortly after her marriage. In 1925 the church choir was organized with Grace as the director; she continued in that capacity for over sixty years. She worked in the children's departments of the church and at different times was teacher of the women's Otterbein Class. She was active in many community organizations. In 1929 Grace assisted in starting the first Kindergarten, Strasburg Schools. She was a charter member of the Women's Club of Strasburg. She was also a charter member and past president of The Ladies Auxiliary to Charles Hofer American Legion Post No. 522. Grace was active in musical circles, including being a seventy year member of the McDowell Music Study Club. As a charter member and later member of the Board of Directors, she was active in organizing the Tuscarawas County Philharmonic Society. She also performed as soprano co-soloist with the Tuscarawas County Philharmonic Orchestra. Grace was past county president of the Parent Teachers Association, a member and past Worthy Matron of Cypress Chapter No. 540, Order of the Eastern Star, and Deputy Grand Matron of District 14, O.E.S. With her husband, she was a charter member of the Strasburg Dramatic Club, playing a lead role in "January Thaw." She was active in the Republican Party and attended the Republican National Conventions in 1956 and 1960 with 16th District Delegate and husband, John Garver. After John's retirement in 1962 from the Garver Bros. Company store they enjoyed traveling, fishing, and gardening together. John died in 1983 at the age of eighty-seven. In 1978 she was honored as Sesquicentennial Queen of Strasburg's 150th anniversary. In 1992, Grace was recipient of the Strasburg United Methodist Church AGAPE Award.

Grace is the mother of three children, Elizabeth Garver Jolie, Jo Garver Bichsel, and John B. Garver, Jr. She has thirteen grandchildren and twenty-six great-grandchildren.

At 100, she continues her active life, enjoying family and friends. Her many talents, wonderful disposition, and joy in finding goodness and beauty in the world, have been an inspiration to all who know her.

Grace Garver's love of life is exemplified in the following poetic lines by Angela Morgan:

To be alive in such an age!
Give thanks with all thy flaming heart,
Crave but to have in it a part —
Give thanks and clasp thy heritage —
To be alive in such an age!

She was a member of Wooster Post, American Legion.

For the past four years, as a representative of the United States department of agriculture, stationed at Amherst, Mass., where the state agricultural college is located, Miss Swartz has been in charge of the organization of agricultural departments in schools. Prior to the war she was a high school teacher.

She is survived by her father and mother, one sister, Dr. Mary Swartz Rose of New York City, and one brother, Paul Swartz, of New York City.

OBITUARY

George O Snell was born May 25, 1856, in Canaan township, Wayne county, Ohio. He was the youngest child of 13 children born to Jacob and Margaret Snell.

In early infancy he was given to the Lord in Holy baptism. In his boyhood he attended the confirmation class where he might learn more concerning his Saviour and to prepare himself for membership in the Canaan Evangelical Lutheran church. He remained a faithful member of this church throughout his sojourn here upon this earth.

ST. LOUIS LIVESTOCK MAR-

Here's the Prince of Wales, all dolled up in plaid kilties, presenting Col. C. J. Johnstone, county scout commissioner of Moreyshire, with the highest scout decoration, the silver wolf. Colonel Johnstone is 84 years old. During the Prince of Wales' visit to Scotland he completed a busy program, including attendance at the dedication of the scout memorial to the late Lady Maud Lawson.

Mr. Snell loved his Saviour and consequently his church. This was manifested by his faithful and earnest interest in the preaching of God's Word. This Word stood him in good stead unto the end and brought him comfort. He fell asleep truly, with the blessed hope of salvation realized in his heart.

He was united in the bonds of Holy matrimony Oct. 24th, 1883, to Margaret Fetzer, by the Rev. E Garber Williams. To this union there were born two daughters, Nora L. Mrs. Coffman, deceased, and Mary L. Mrs. James Miller of Nankin, O. His wife preceded him in death 33 years ago.

About a year ago Mr. Snell's health began to fail. His condition gradually became worse, until he was finally called, rather suddenly, to his rest, June 25th, 1931, reaching the ripe old age of 75 years and one month.

He leaves mourning his death, one daughter, eight grandchildren and one great grandchild and many friends.

The relatives wish to cordially thank all the neighbors and friends who so willingly gave their help during their bereavement.

As a tribute to Mr. Snell we may repeat the words of St. Paul, as they are recorded in II Tim. 4: 7-8: "I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith; henceforth there is laid up for me a crown of righteousness, which the Lord, the righteous judge shall give me at that day, and not to me only, but unto all them also that love his appearing."

MEMOIRS OF THE MARVIN & YOUNG FAMILIES

Robert F. Mehrling

This is a portion of the memoirs of Angeline (Mrs. William L.) Long, nee (Sarah) Angeline Young written in her own hand at her home in Columbus, Ohio, on January 29, 1930, at the request of her daughter, Gertrude Rang. The original is now in possession of Mrs. Rang's granddaughter, Laura Wilson, of Santa Fe, New Mexico. Mrs. Long was the granddaughter of Stephen and Sarah B. Marvin and great granddaughter of Isaac and Hannah Marvin whose families settled in Shelby, Ohio in 1818.

MARVINS

"My grandfather, Mr. Stephen Marvin, and my grandmother, Sarah Burr _____, were married, April 5, 1818, in Connecticut at Saugatuck, a suburb of Bridgeport. Grandfather was twenty one and Grandma would be eighteen her next birthday in June. They immediately started on their wedding journey with an ox team carrying their worldly goods. My great grandmother, Deborah Burr Moyer, came with them. My great uncle, Silas and his wife, Judy, also. I am almost certain grandfather's father and mother came in the same party. There were three other families in the group of pioneers, the Wilsons, Whitneys and Smileys. They were six weeks making the trip. The last twenty miles they had to cut their road through the then wilderness in Ohio to the present site of Shelby, Sharon Township, Richland County. Great Uncle Silas settled on a place two miles east of Shelby. I also think my great grandfather had his farm perhaps a quarter of a mile east of Uncle Silas. I remember visiting these two farm homes when I was four years old. At that time Uncle Hiram Marvin lived there and they always spoke of it as the old Marvin place. My mother, Angeline Marvin, was the first white child born in Sharon Township. She was born, March 10, 1819. There were twelve other children born to this couple, namely: Burr, Charles, Daniel, Eleanor, Edwin (these two died very young), Hiram, Jane, Ellen, John, Laura, George, and Emily. The rest grew up. Several lived to an old age--past eighty. My grandfather was a tanner and shoemaker as well as a good farmer. He carried on all three of these trades. Grandmother Marvin was so sweet and kind every one loved her. She lived to her seventy eighth year.

"My great grandmother was Deborah Burr, a full cousin of the famous (or infamous, as you will) Aaron Burr. She was a woman of determined character and versatile attainments--was well educated, a tasteful milliner. She taught school several years at Milan, Ohio. My mother spent quite some time with her grandmother to have the advantage of the school there. Either Mr. Wilson or my grandfather built the first large frame house in Shelby. I think grandfather's was first. He put twenty-five thousand bricks in the chimney. There was a wide fire place in the kitchen that would take a six foot back log. There was a brick oven built in at the side. There were two other fire places on the first floor, three more on the second. The house was built in 1833. Uncle Silas was a cabinet maker and he supplied most of the furniture. The half of the upper floor was partitioned with folding doors so it could be used as a ball-room or for community gatherings. The home still stands at 57 N. Gamble at Shelby, Ohio.

"Uncle Daniel went to California in the Gold Rush. I guess he didn't get much gold. He and Uncle George were seriously wounded in the Civil War at the Battle of Stone River. In 1868, my grandparents reached their fifty years of wedded life and held open house for three days. There was ample entertainment for all comers. My grandfather died the following August of an acute illness."

YOUNGS

"Downing Howard Young, my father, was born in West Virginia. When he was two years old the family came to Holmes County, Ohio. He had seven sisters and nine brothers. He loved his mother but did not get along well with his father. He was a delicate boy as regards to health, perhaps his mother shielded him. His father, having such a family to provide for, may not have had enough love and patience to encompass them all. My father ran away from home when he was sixteen years old and made his own living from then on. Having had but six months in school but being ambitious and observing, he became very well educated. He was admitted to the Bar when still a young man. The earliest account of his family origin, that there were two boys left orphans, George and Charles Young--just where I don't remember having heard. One boy was brought up by a Welsh family. I think it was Charles was adopted by a Scotch family. Father was from the Scotch branch. His maternal grandmother was Bridget Brannon, born in County Down, Ireland. That's all I know so far. Of his own brothers and sisters, I knew two sisters and one brother. Aunt Phoebe Wagner came to visit us a few times in New Haven. She had one son; he married and lived near Greenwich, Huron County, several years. Her two daughters died young. I've forgotten this cousin's given name. He and his wife came to see us at New Haven several times. Once they came bringing with them a young girl named Laura Critchfield. She was a granddaughter of father's brother, Lemuel. She had a striking resemblance to Ella Howard, my sister Mira's only daughter. I never saw her again. Father's brother Wesley, visited us at New Haven--a nice old man with a young second wife. About the year 1865 or 6 one of Uncle Wesley's sons, Nathan Young, an ex-Civil War veteran, with his wife and two pretty little girls came to New Haven to live. He bought the house opposite where Aunt Cele lived, built a shop and set up in the harness business. They lived there about ten years. We always enjoyed their company. They had another little girl in N.H. named Grace. After leaving they had a boy and three other girls. We've always kept in touch with that family.

"Father's sister, Elizabeth, lived several years with father and mother, until she married Joseph Ruckman. I might mention here that father took care of his mother in her last days. She died at his home in Shelby. Aunt Elizabeth Ruckman lived on a farm south of Plymouth with her family of ten children, only five miles from our New Haven home. So we knew them well.

"Father and mother were married, September 4, 1837. He was just twenty-one and she was past eighteen years. Downing Howard Young and Angeline Marvin--their children:
