—UP-TO-DATE—

CANAAN — This cross-roads hamlet is the center of an area where, for nearly a century and a half, the people of the community have successfully proven that it is a modern "land of Canaan" which conforms to the biblical description of the promised land "flowing with milk and honey."

Not only have its fertile acres been fruitful in their yields of grain and a diversity of farm products, but a citizenry with a pronounced determination to educate its sons and daughters, has produced outstanding leaders in the finer arts.

A FARM WEST of town was the home of the pioneer, Joseph Stratton, who came here with his family in 1817. One of their fourteen children was Mark Stratton, who in 1835 married a Wayne county woman, Mary Schallenberger, of near Burbank. Mark and his bride went to North Manchester, Ind., where they established a home. They were the parents of Gene Stratton-Porter, noted novelist, whose gripping stories of romance and authoritative studies of bird life are still popular a quarter of a century after her death. Mrs. Porter died from injuries suffered in an automobile accident in Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 6, 1924. Descendants of her father's brothers and sisters continue to reside in Canaan township and other parts of Wayne county. Included in her principal works were "The Harvester," "A Girl of the Limberlost," "Freckles," and "Laddie."

BENJAMIN R. SHAW, blind music teacher, born in Canada, in 1827, came to Canaan as a young man, and was a widely known teacher of vocal music for many years. In addition, in his earlier years, he wrote a great deal of poetry, two volumes of which were published.

His poems depict the sadness and deep feeling which characterized the early part of his life of physical darkness.

In an interval when sight had been partially restored, but when the curtain was again being drawn across his vision, he wrote "The Inquiry" including these lines:

The sunbeams are fading, all fading away,
How faintly and dimly they blend;
Each dark-flitting shadow, each tremulous ray,
Is a herald of gloom ne'er to end.

How life was brightened by sympathy and by unexpected kindness is reflected in a poem, "The Stranger's Letter" which included these lines:

The truth that stranger taught is Benjamin Shaw married Juliana Hoisington, a sister of Wirum Hoisington, and a daughter of the pioneer, David Hoisington. Wirum Hoisington was the grandfather of Ernest Hoisington, who with his family, still resides on 40 acres of the original Hoisington acres, a mile south of Canaan. Benjamin Shaw died in 1900 and both he and his wife are buried in Canaan cemetery.

Their son, Dr. Clement Burbank Shaw, who received his primary musical instruction from his talented father, became a world famous bass singer. For a number of years he headed a celebrated Boston, Mass. male quartette, which won fame in the concert world. His later years were spent in New York City, where he continued to sing until his final illness. He died in 1938 at the age of 80, and lies buried in Canaan cemetery.

A STUDENT IN Canaan Academy, where his grandfather was on the original board of directors, and where his father was principal for nearly two decades, was the late Dr. Jonas O. Notestein, who died in 1928 after more than fifty years as a member of the faculty at Wooster College. Thousands of Wooster students came under the influence of his fine personality, and during his many years of service at the College he was one of the leaders who built strong the foundations of this Presbyterian institution. He was graduated with a class of 13 in 1873, the third class to complete its work, and immediately took up his life work there as a teacher of Latin. From 1903 until his death he had been Aylsworth Professor of Latin.

His daughters, Lucy Lillian and Margaret, and his son, Dr. Frank B. Notestein, continue to live in the family home on Burbank road. Lucy Lillian Notestein, who serves as a trustee of Wooster College, is a department editor of the Reader's Digest. Dr. Frank B. Notestein is a consulting geologist for The Texas Co. Margaret Notestein is a member of the Women's Advisory board at the College.

IN THE FALL of 1819, according to reminiscences of Isaac Notestine, as printed in the Douglass history, the first election was held in an ashery that stood nearly a mile south of the present village of Windsor (Canaan). The electors, as given from the memory of George Sommers, a citizen, but not a voter then, included William Ewing, Sr., William Ewing, Jr., Thomas Armstrong, Joseph and Daniel Stratton, Eleizer Perago, John Templeton, James Rose, B. F. Miller, James Buchanan, Joshua and William Reed, Thomas Thrapp, Nathan Hall, David Plumer, Dr. Barnes, Daniel Blocher.

The ashery referred to was located on the east side of the road, a short distance north of the present Ernest Hoisington home.

"If we plow a little too deep, we can still turn up ashes at a spot there," Mr. Hoisington said. At the ashery lye made with wood ashes was boiled down into potash which was in great demand at early tanneries.

Ernest Hoisington's great-grandfather, David Hoisington, and his brother, John in 1819, walked from claim to a quarter section of land. They walked back to Vermont and the following year, with the aid of wagons, brought their families and limited equipment to their new Ohio home.

Since the Hoisingtons are not included in the names of first electors it is probable the voting took place after they had returned to Vermont following their first journey here.

WILLIAM EWING, who came in 1812 and built a cabin, was the first settler in the township. Ten years later some 25 to 30 families had located here. In the next ten years immigrants came in streams, so that by 1832 not more than 25 quarter sections of land suitable for living were unoccupied.

Early families included those of John McIlvaine, James Smith, Daniel Oller, Henry Kopp, Simon Kenney, James and William Haskins, Enoch Gilbert, John and Justin Wiles, John and David Hoisington, the Shanklins, Jonas Notestine, Henry Shuffling, John D. Heckert, David Wiles, John, Henry and Daniel Frank, Jason and Sylvanus Jones, Zenas Z. Crane, Joseph, Henry and Jacob Zuver.

Canaan Academy was one of the first institutions of learning established in Wayne county. The building, a two-story frame, 36x48, was erected in 1842 by a stock company. Heads of the principal families of the neighborhood pledged and paid in the money required to erect the building and start the school.

In the Hoisington home there is a small wooden box which contains the papers reporting the early meetings of the board of trustees, and including receipts signed by Philip Van Doorn as treasurer of the academy fund, for various sums as they were paid in.

There is a record there, too, of a contract made in 1849 with the Presbyterians of the community by which the church group agreed to finish the second floor for an assembly room for religious meetings. Trustees who signed this agreement were John Parmenter, Jonas Notestine, Justin Wiles, Daniel Emerson, Wirum Hoisington, Dennis Shaw, Alfred Hotchkiss, C. C. Drake and John Barnard.

Members of the first board of trustees were Dr. John Paul, Jonas Notestine, Justin Mills, Harvey Rice and Alfred Hotchkiss. Alfred Hotchkiss was the grandfather of Harley Russell, now, at 80 years, the oldest resident of Canaan.

THE SCHOOL was opened December 3, 1843, with 47 pupils, under the instruction of C. C. Bomberger, A. B., who taught three years.

Rev. Thomas Barr and Rev. Barker had charge during the summer of 1847, succeeded in the winters of 1847 and 1848 by Prof. Isaac Notestine, who, except for short intervals, remained in charge until 1863. After that year the school was taught by a number of professors until 1875 when it was closed, Prof. J. W. Cummings having been the last principal.

While Prof. Notestine was teaching, in the winters of 1851, down, and during the following summer a new brick edifice was erected, which housed the academy until its final days.

The records show that to build this new building, 200 shares of additional stock, at $5 a share, were issued, raising a total of $1,000.

Canaan Academy was one of several similar educational institutions in Wayne and Ashland counties in the days before and immediately after the Civil War.

These schools were founded and maintained by families of high educational standards who were among the pioneer citizens of the community. They could not afford to send their sons and daughters across the mountains to schools in the East, and chose the community academy close at hand as the best substitute for the more elaborate educational centers in the "older" states along the Atlantic coast.

The University of Wooster, where the first building was erected in 1868, was among the church schools on a larger scale established in this part of Ohio in that same period. Manned by faculties of specialists in various fields of education, they quickly spelled the doom of the one-man academies such as Canaan.

There are a few people in the Canaan vicinity who recall the last days when Canaan Academy was in operation, and a great many more who well remember the old two-story brick building, which stood a quarter of a mile west of the square, on the north side of what is now State Route 604. It was torn down some 60 years ago. The site was just across the road from the barn on the Harley Russell farm, and the land is now owned by Charles Cowick.

Prof. Isaac Notestine, who served longest as Canaan Academy principal, was a son of Jonas, who was a member of the original board of directors. The Notestine family lived on a farm north-east of Canaan, now owned by Bud Bricker.

HISTORIAN Douglass writes of Isaac Notestine: "Mr. Notestine had a remarkable experience in the school room, and we deem it appropriate to classify him with such veterans in the service as Brinkerhoff and Downing." (The Brinkerhoff referred to was John Brinkerhoff, who taught 13 consecutive years at Golden Corners and in later years was principal of a school in Wooster and a member of the faculty at Wooster Academy; the Downing was Joseph H. Downing, who was one of the original students enrolled at Canaan Academy in 1843, and who was a teacher for many years.)

The spelling of the Notestine name was changed by Dr. J. O. Notestein after he became a faculty member at Wooster College.

The site for the academy was donated by Harvey Rice, who was the grandfather of Mrs. J. W. Irvin, of Wooster, and the great grandfather of Mrs. Frank Snell. After it ceasposes it reverted to heirs of the original owner, but later was sold to Capt. W. P. Van Doorn. Harvey Rice lived in the last house in the north end of town, on the west side of the road. This house still stands.

Mrs. Irwin cherishes a program, dated Thursday evening, October 4, 1868, given at the academy by the Excelsior society, those on the program being J. E. McGarvey, T. A. Barns, J. H. Heckert, A. P. Zuver, F. M. Christy, Fannie Hoisington, Zeno Keeney, J. D. Heckert and Sallie E. Keeney, all of Canaan; B. F. Taylor, Burbank; J. B. Warner, James Wallace and T. B. McKee, Wooster; Hattie Sollday, J. C. Wallace, Clara Forbes, and B. F. Wallace, of Plain (Jefferson); Carrie E.

Notestine, Old Hickory (Jackson); and Lee Elliott, New Prospect.

Fannie Hoisington and Sallie Kenney were cousins of Mrs. Irwin. Her sister, Mary, attended the academy, staying at the Dushene home. They fashioned a rest bench for her at a rail fence half way on her way to academy, because of her frail health.

The James Wallace on the academy Excelsior program was the father of DeWitt Wallace, publisher of The Reader's Digest at Pleasantville, N. Y., one of the outstanding and most widely circulated monthly magazines of the present day. James Wallace and J. O. Notestein were students at Canaan together, and Notestein married Margaret Wallace, a sister of Mr. Wallace.

BRICKS AND STONE from the demolished building were hauled away by persons who needed second hand building material, and much of it went into the construction of arches in Canaan township sugar camps, the making of maple syrup and sugar having been a thriving industry here for many years. Only a small amount of syrup is produced now.

Ernest Hoisington's mother, who was Barbara Whitmore, came to Canaan, from Lancaster county, Pa., when she was a girl of 17, accompanied by a relative, Mattie Hasler Lane, wife of Abe Lane. They spent their first night at the Canaan hotel, operated by a relative. Accustomed to the traditional slow-moving black-strap molasses of eastern Pennsylvania, ordinarily removed from the container with a "stick," they had their first experience with the native free-flowing, golden maple syrup. Barbara thought it was wonderful, but her companion was somewhat shocked at the manner in which diners used it at the hotel dinner table.

"The d-n hogs dip their molasses with a spoon," she exploded when the two had retired to their bedroom.

A MAJOR INDUSTRY in Canaan for many years was the carriage and wagon shop operated by Eli Snell. It was a complete plant, including a blacksmith shop, and employed a number of permen, such as Harris, a body man, and Hinderer, a painter, divided their time between this plant and the Gerstenslager buggy factory at Marshallville, which later moved to Wooster and was the parent plant of the present Gerstenslager Co., builders of truck bodies.

ANOTHER CANAAN industry started as a grist mill, and later, when purchased by Daniel Leighty, was changed into a saw mill. The machinery for the mill was sold to Frank Snyder and moved to Burbank, where it was used in a water-power mill just west of that town. Daniel Leighty and his son, Jacob, developed a thriving lumber business which continued in Canaan until some 15 years ago.

Frank Snell, who lives south-west of Canaan, and who played around the carriage shop of his father, Eli Snell, when he was a boy, recalls his father's version of an academy incident which established one particular student as an amateur Sherlock Holmes.

Students as a rule, lived in rooms in private homes. Each had a wood heating stove to warm his room, and to cut the cost of schooling, frugal fathers of students cut firewood and hauled it to Canaan for their sons to use. This student noted that his woodpile was diminishing too rapidly to be accounted for by his own consumption of wood, so he went to the Snell carriage shop to borrow a brace and bit. He explained to Mr. Snell who was a liberal supporter of the school, that he was going to drill a hole in the end of a piece of stovewood, put some powder in it and close the opening. He did so and placed the "loaded" chunk at the point where wood seemed to be disappearing.

Two days later a citizen of the town not particularly known for his industry, reported that his heating stove blew up.

MR. SNELL ALSO reports that when "Hank" Snyder operated a store which was run in connection with the old hotel property, he followed the custom of trading "store goods" for farm products. One year the whole upper floor of the store was filled with sacks of dried plies he had taken in trade. Later the dried apples were shipped to Pittsburgh, Pa. These apples came from the farm orchards in the neighborhood, were fruit grown bountifully in the days before insect infestation made spraying a necessary part of fruit culture.

THE OUTBREAK of the Civil War brought great activity at Canaan, and this community responded in a big way in the matter of volunteers. Approximately 100 young men went into service from here, forming what became Company K, 16th Ohio Voluntary Infantry. This fighting unit, later known for its fine discipline, served three full years and took part in numerous hard battles. It suffered great losses in an attack upon the impregnable Confederate positions at Vicksburg. Capt. Van Doorn was among those wounded here.

October 8th, the anniversary of the day in 1861 when the company left Canaan, was the time for the annual reunion of Company K, held for many years. One of the youngest soldiers in the unit was Milton Reed, who spent his last years in Wooster. Capt. Van Doorn also moved to Wooster from Canaan, living on North Market st. near St. James Episcopal church.

A FIFE AND DRUM trio, composed of Dr. G. W. Littell, fifer, Frank Feeman, drummer, and Dan Marshall, bass drummer, won a wide reputation for its martial music. This unit had served with the 16th regiment during the war, and following the mustering out of the military unit, the trio played at regimental gatherings, at Memorial Day ceremonies here and elsewhere, and at numerous special events.

Capt. Van Doorn was desirous of having the trio continue beyond the lives of the original trio and he organized a young fife and drum group, which included Frank Snell, Rev. Frank Lane, Bert Bechtel and Jacob Snell. Andrew Bechtel, for a time, played the bass drum for this group.

Best known of the original trio was Littell, who in later years operated a drug store in Creston and served as post master there from 1880 to 1885.

REPRESENTATIVES of three families whose lives have been identified with the community for many years are residents of Canaan today.

One is Miss Effie Sell, who lives in the north end of town. Her father, Frank Sell, was funeral director.

Another is Harley Russell, 80, whose home, probably the oldest house in town, is at the extreme west end of the village. He operates part of the original farm of Alfred and Sarah Hotchkiss, who came into Canaan some 130 years ago. They cleared a place in the woods at the south end of the farm for their first crude cabin home, and a few years later built the present house. Their daughter, Emily, married Thomas Russell, who was a native of Canada, and Harley was one of three sons born to this marriage. The others were U. A. Russell, who spent most of his life in Wooster, and Henry, who died at Canaan.

HARLEY RUSSELL, more than 50 years ago, went to California, and worked for four years in the Mojave desert, at the huge borax deposit where Twenty Mule Team borax was made. He returned to Canaan, and has lived there ever since. Mrs. Russell was Golda Totten. They have one son and three daughters, Robert, in Creston; Mary, wife of Frank Gerstenslager, Creston; Robert, in Creston; Mary, wife of Frank Gerstenslager, Creston; Lillian Miner in Barberton, and Ercell, who disappeared without a trace two years ago. There are five grandchildren.

THE THIRD representative of pioneer families is Clinton J. Orr, 77, whose home is at the extreme east end of town. Mrs. Orr was the former Daisy Hawk. Mr. Orr is a grandson of Hugh Orr, one of five brothers who fled from Ireland during a rebellion in 1801. Two of those five brothers were never heard from again, but the other three made their way to America. Descendants of one of them were the founders of Orrville. Hugh Orr, on coming to Wayne county, first settled in East Union township, but in 1830 moved to Canaan, to a farm some three miles west of Canaan Center. There their son, James Orr, was born and lived a busy and useful life. Clinton Orr is a son of James Orr, and was born and reared on the same farm. He lived there until retiring from active management of the farm 28 years ago.

Mr. Russell and Mr. Orr, between them recall numerous storekeepers in Canaan, including Felzer, Baker, Lane & Leighty, Yoder, Marshall, Bowers, and the present owner, A. S. Reber, who came from Apple Creek some 15 years ago and has built a tremendous business in foodstuffs, featuring a wide variety of meats.

Well remembered Canaan blacksmiths are Ramsey Hart, Fred Unger, and Theodore Darrah.

DR. A. C. KNESTRICK, physician in Wooster for many years, started his medical career in Canaan. The last doctor the town had was C. M. Hanna, who left in 1913 and died three years later in Creston.

The only church in Canaan at present is the Methodist, Rev. H. E. Stout, of Burbank, being the pastor.

Eighty years ago there was a Reformed church in the north end of town. Later this building was purchased by the Presbyterians, and used by them for a church. When a new Presbyterian church replaced another destroyed by fire at Jackson, the Canaan church was discontinued. The property was unused for years, and later was designated as a community center. Canaan Grange uses it for a meeting place, and other community events are held there. A new furnace is now being installed and other improvements are in progress.

OLDEST RESIDENTS recall two bands in Canaan, one which was organized in the eighties, and the other in 1897. In 1902 this band made a trip to Washington D. C., where it played at a National Guard convention. One of its engagements was at the last street fair held in Orrville, where, with the Maysville band, it escorted the redoubtable Carrie Nation from the depot to a platform where she delivered a fiery anti-saloon address.

Serving the community for many years as a notary public was "Tip" Slutz, who was also a school teacher. He performed various services just below the grade of lawyer, for people of the community. His sister, Isadora, who married and moved to Mansfield, became quite well known as a writer of fiction.

THE CALDWELL Atlas of Wayne county, published in 1873, includes a plot of Canaan Center, listing property owners at that time as Asa Stephenson, F. N. Haskins, James Pernoyier, Fred Glime, T.

A. Barnes, Levi Bowers, Henry Snell, John Wooner, Leander Stevens, Abigail Morgan, Eli Snell, Elizabeth Shaver, Isaac Bechtel, Benjamin Shaw, Daniel Emerson, James McGarvey, G. R. Miller, A. Dushene, Dr. Neil Hardy, Aurilla Wing, J. S. McIntire, and Rebecca Slutz. Locations of the carriage shop of Eli and John Snell, the Reformed and Methodist churches, and the school are noted on this plot.

Farm owners on the road west were Henry Hotchkiss, Thomas Russell, Daniel and David Wiles; Daniel Stratton, Alfred Parmenter, James Barnes, David Notestine and James Orr.

On the road east, Gleason Reader, Mrs. T. Smith, George Ackerman, Simon Alleman, David Wiles, Frederick Glime, John Huff and Emmanuel Hustedler.

On the road south, Wirum Hoisington, Thos A. Keeney, John Brenizer, David Bowman, Henry Zellers, George Groop.

On the road north, Daniel Whonsetler, R. Sherman, Cyrus Ewing, Philip Whonsetler, Henry Smith, F. N. Haskins, George Weimer and Jacob Zuver. The Notestine farm was east of the Haskins land.

These were largely sons and their grandchildren, in a number of cases, still till the soil their pioneer ancestors cleared.

The Wayne county deed record, Vol. 6, Page 441, contains a plot of the original Windsor, (by which Canaan Center was first known) recorded July 3, 1828 upon presentation by Joseph Stratton, one of the trustees, and naming John Wiles and John Hoisington as "proprietors of the town."

CANAAN.

Oct. 16.—A quartet has promised to give good music for the meeting to be held on next Sabbath afternoon for men only in the Presbyterian church. A large attendance is anticipated.
Thos. Barnes is making preparations to build a new house this fall.
Bertha Miller returned home Wednesday from Medina for a visit.
Saturday is the day appointed for donation work at the cemetery. The dinner, similar to the last one, will be in the old school hall.
Rev. Glenn was assisted in the communion service at the Presbyterian church on Sabbath morning by Rev. Wingert. Three persons united with the church and one child was baptized.
Jennie Carson is visiting with relatives in Wooster.
Mrs. Frank Ritter spent a part of last week in Cleveland.
Mrs. Lizzie Rohrer and Mrs. Nihuff, of Wadsworth, Nelson Snow and wife of Medina, and Mrs. Van Dorn and Mrs. J. J. Keeney, of Creston, were visitors here and attended the soldiers' reunion.

While each reunion of the soldiers grows smaller because of the absence of those who, from time to time, answer the great roll call, yet each is more enjoyable and sociable as the friendship of those remaining, becomes nearer and dearer. Mrs. E. Russell and family very hospitably entertained Co. K, their families, friends and neighbors on Wednesday of last week. Fifteen answered to roll call by secretary, coming from Ashland, Canton, Medina, Sterling, Burbank, Wooster and Creston. A bountiful dinner was served on the lawn, Mrs. Russell adding ice cream. After dinner very touching speeches were made by the ladies as well as soldiers, giving incidents of army and home life during the war. They will meet with Comrade Hough near Medina one year later.

way of Cleveland, stopping at the Forest City house expecting to take an electric car for home in the evening. Directly on his arrival at the hotel he was taken extremely sick and was sent to Lakeside hospital where he died two hours later. He was 70 years of age, of fine physique, gentle, loyal in his friendship and charitable in his estimate of men and their opinions. An ex-soldier of the civil war with the scars of battle on his person; a man of strong convictions, with settled ideals of life, a life-long Republican, a Mason and a business man of integrity, a citizen whom all delighted to honor. Arrangements for a funeral were not completed Monday.
Two musical organizations began life here last week. The Gayle Musical club and the Creston Glee club, the former under the leadership of Miss Martha Webster, of Wooster, and the latter under C. A. Fenney, of Creston. The memberships comprised, largely, the first musical talent of Creston.
Dr. G. H. Smith and his newly wedded bride are now "at home" at their residence on Russell avenue. Now let Dr. Van L. Allen go and do likewise, and our benevolent medical fraternity will be complete.
It is now suspected by the natives that in the stygian depths on the cemetery road, Charybdis has a entrance; that in the witching hours of night the mucky waters are swallowed and disgorged by the monster. We desire not to be robbed of our feet, and, therefore, take notice to any modern Odysseus who may think to reach the heart of the town by way of the cut-off, who knows what Charybdis may do.

About Wolfe and Yost

In part of the edition of The Republican, Monday evening, it was made apparent that W. C. Yost had been nominated for treasurer on the Republican ticket. It should have stated that C. H. Wolfe was nominated for treasurer and W. C. Yost for solicitor.

practically all of the matters disposed of up to the time of adjournment it is likely that the same will be rendered Wednesday afternoon. It was expected that Charles Rosenblum, the youth whom it is claimed was shot when he should have been tried before the juvenile court, would be brought into court on a writ of habeas corpus. ORDERS ARE HERE

General Critchfield Regarding Move of Eighth

Captain M. R. Limb is in receipt of orders from General Critchfield regarding the movement of company of the Eighth next Monday. The general gives the details as to how the uniforms are to dress, and states that the uniforms must be worn by the soldiers. Directions as to how the uniforms will subsist are also sent. The general states that no horses are to be along by any of the officers, and who need horses will have to procure them in Canton. Company D is all ready to go, and will move with the regiment Sunday evening, spending the night in Canton and turning home Monday evening. The company went to camp, two days ago, but their jobs because they went to the regiment, and two are being treated with the same treatment as to this time. Captain Limb states that the matter will be adjourned, but as all that is asked is one day and no one will be dismissed from the company because he goes to Canton, this is an unusual call, and it is desired that there be a full company present.

Card of Thanks.

BOTH SIDES FIRM

St. Louis Shoe Workers' Strike. Women Organize. St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 24.—Both sides in the shoe workers' strike are firm. The shoe workers' president says of the shoe workers' association, which em-

St. John took charge of the second team which consisted of eligible men and the third team worked through their formations with Galt in charge. The material for a freshman team is good and great things are expected along that line in furnishing men for next year's team.

He has also taken a prominent part in educational work, being founder and for many years principal of the academy at Savannah, O. relatives and a number of Creston friends.

The tribute of flowers was generous, the groupings beautiful and artistically arranged.

These floral gifts to remembrance will wither but the good deeds of his life will live on, in the memory of those who knew him.

When he was sixteen years of age his father died. Being one of the older children, he was a great help to his mother in her care and struggled for a large family. Seven of this family of thirteen children are still alive—John Wesley, Jane Eliza, Theron Francis, Mary Amelia, Lucy, Allen Tibbets and James Corrington. The five who preceded him to the spiritland are William Lee, Myron Kendall, Benson, Cynthia, Victoria and Newton.

His father's home was the headquarters for the pioneer preachers and Methodist circuit riders in that section of the state. Like the ancient home at Shunem, this home had a prophet's chamber, and such stalwart men of God as Adam Poe and Bishop Morris often found shelter there. His mother had strength of character and tact, like Susannah Merley, in training her children and in caring for them.

On May 20, 1850, Mr. Jordan was married to Elvose E. Brown, who survives him, who walked by her side more than forty-five years. Six children were born to them three of whom died in early childhood—Lewis Harland, Irving and Burt. Willard Brown, Frank Usher, and Frederick Samuel remain to strengthen her declining years.

Mr. Jordan was a member of Rock River Lodge 230, I. O. O. F., of Berea, O. He lived in Rockport until 1864 when he removed to Berea, O. Berea was his home for twenty-five years. He came to Creston in 1880 and has since resided here. He was a man of great energy and vitality. Although deprived of entering the service of his country in the time of the civil war, on account of physical disability, he took an unusual interest in military affairs, and was loyal and patriotic to the depths of his heart. He always maintained a keen interest in politics, and few men of his age read so much or are so well posted on current events as he was.

He has finished his life's work and has gone peacefully to sleep to await the final call of his Maker in the great day.

Merton H. Turner has resigned his position as Superintendent of the Belleschasse Telephone Co. in Levis, Canada. When he accepted the position it was with the understanding that he was to have an assistant and to simply act as superintendent of the line. When he began work the company did not furnish the promised help and in addition to superintending the line he was also compelled to be the company's electrician. These responsibilities took from eighteen to twenty hours a day, and he found his health gradually breaking beneath the burden of three men's work, consequently he resigned. The Canadian Co. thought since they had secured a bright young Yankee they would work him, but fortunately the young man knew the limit of his endurance.

Over-Work Weakens Your Kidneys.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

All the blood in your body passes through your kidneys once every three minutes.

The kidneys are your blood purifiers, they filter out the waste or impurities in the blood.

If they are sick or out of order, they fail to do their work.

Pains, aches and rheumatism come from excess of uric acid in the blood, due to neglected

kidney trouble.

Kidney trouble causes quick or unsteady heart beats, and makes one feel as though they had heart trouble, because the heart is over-working in pumping thick, kidney-poisoned blood through veins and arteries.

It used to be considered that only urinary troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all constitutional diseases have their beginning in kidney trouble.

If you are sick you can make no mistake
by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases and is sold on its merits

by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail

free, also pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble.
Mention this paper when writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.

Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

-On account of alleged prejudice, of the court against the defendant, a divorce case has been transferred from Coshocton to Wayne county Court of Common Pleas. The plaintiff is Mrs.
 Jennie McClain, who petitions for divorce against her husband, Adam McClain, on grounds of extreme cruel-

 port it promises to be an interesting trial for those who take pleasure in such unfortunate cases.

The skunk bill has gone through the House. It provides that skunks shall not be killed on any one's premises without the written permission of the owner. It was argued that skunks are the greatest fur-bearing animal in the State, and they ought not to be exterminated, as was now likely with indiscriminate killing.
 Skunks are also said to be a terror to field mice, and the author of this bill declares that the passage of this bill will prove of at least a million dollars value to the farmers of Ohio.

 with took possession of all the stock

 liabilities will be paid to the New York and other creditors. The store for the present is open and doing good in office. A special last Friday says:

 "A shortage has been found in the accounts of J. W. Kilmer, postmaster at Marshallville. U. S. Inspector Vickery made an examination of the books, Thursday, and discovered that Kilmer was $400 in arrears. The office is now in charge of Peter Aull, one of the bondsmen. The position is one that pays only $400 a year, and Kil-wearing it several hours before discovering her mistake.

John Hennessy died last Friday at his home in Leetonia, to which place
 he removed from Wooster a few years ago. His age was about 55 years. The funeral services were held in Leetonia, and the remains brought to Wooster at noon Sunday, received at the railroad station by a large number of friends, who took charge and laid him to rest in the cemetery of St. Mary's Catholic church. He lived here many years in the 5th Ward, and was an industrious man, one of force of character and of bright social disposition.

Thomas Russell was severely hurt last Wednesday by an accident at his home in Canaan township. He was taking a horse into the barn, when the wind blew the door back, striking him and scaring the horse so that it threw itself and Mr. Russell over the eight feet high approach to the barn. The horse fell on Mr. Russell, injuring his head and breaking his right leg. His hurts are considered serious. A number of friends were visiting his home
 as guests at the time, and the merry making was turned into sadness.

William Miller is in the Medina jail, having been arrested on Thursday of last week near Lodi for forging the name of his brother John Miller, a farmer of Spencer township, to a $200 promissory note and obtaining the money on it at the Lodi bank. He was brought before Mayor Parmlee at Lodi, and in default of $500 bail was committed to Medina jail. Miller is about 42 years old, and resided in and about Wooster for several years. His wife and family live on South Walnut street. Some time ago she filed petition for divorce.

The Pythian Sisters of Wooster
 Temple on last Monday evening, week, celebrated the anniversary of the Order of Knights of Pythias. The guests were the members of the Morgen Stern and Rising Star Lodges, Mrs.
 Louisa Ellsperman, M. E. C. made the welcome address. Mrs. Little Harry
 M. of T., then presented, on behalf of Knights, a handsome emblem to the Temple in a nice address. Appropriate addresses were delivered by Knights Emil Podlich, John S. Speer,
 and M. E. Walzellaum. The Pythian

day. He occupies the W. H. Wertz Eagle hotel property. W. H. Wertz has moved out on his farm this week. A. Franks moved, this week, from this place to Knox county, on a farm he bought. Mr. Killoy, of Cleveland, was in town a few days. The Repository agent from Canton was in town this week, looking up his interests. Show in town three nights this week in Race's new hall. D. McElhinney got badly hurt in the coal mine at Burton City, last week.

March 5.—Postmaster Simon was in Wooster a couple of days last week on business. He stopped over at Overton to meet with the Overton band boys. Our post master is a veteran band teacher and was in his element at Overton. By the way, what's the matter with Congress being the legitimate owner of a band?

W. A. Bonewitz has leased the Burgan hotel, and will take possession about the middle of this month. John Burgan will retire from the hotel business and occupy the Bonewitz property. Mr. and Mrs. Bonewitz are old residents of this place and their many friends wish them success. Mary Bonewitz, who has been cook at the Warren House in Lodi for several years, will return home and serve in like position for her parents.

Miss Irene Weifer is at home from Ravenna.

The Epworth League and Christian Endeavor Society will hold a union meeting at the M. E. church, next Sunday evening.

At a regular meeting of the Ladies' Missionary Society of the M. E. church, held at Mrs. Kepler's last Saturday, Mrs. Inez McKee was made a life member.

Candidates for the various offices will be placed in nomination by the respective parties next Saturday afternoon.

The closing exercises at the Fairview school, last Friday evening, were both enjoyable and interesting. An admission fee of 10 cents was charged, and the proceeds will be used in the purchase of a flag.

Dr. Warner and wife entertained a party of friends Saturday evening. An elegant supper was served by Mrs. Warner.

A quarterly tea will be held by the ladies of the M. E. Missionary Society at the home of Mrs. Belle Campbell Saturday evening, March 17.

Walter in Wooster a few days ago Dr. D. Garver's team became fright-

March 5.—Thomas Russell, who was quite seriously hurt a few days ago, is improving quite rapidly and it is hoped by his many friends that he will soon be seen on our streets again. Henry Hotchkiss and wife, of Grubertsville, Cal., who have been spending the winter visiting friends in and about Canaan, expect to return to their home the latter part of this week. Mr. H. and wife were very pleasantly surprised by about a hundred of their former friends, calling upon them with well filled baskets at the home of their brother and sister, Thomas Russell and wife.

Robert Slater will move to Smithville in the near future.

The High School students are doing some very fine work at present and a class of six will graduate in the near future. All this is encouraging to the patrons as well as speaking highly of the principal, Miss Mary B. Buchanan.

Miss Jessie Mathers, who is attending school at Smithville, was at home over Sunday.

It is rumored that Captain W. P. Van Doorn has received an increase of pension, so much for Hokey Smith.

Andrew M. Bechtel, who has been a resident of Canaan for quite a number of years, will leave our community this spring.

Our doctor, J. W. Ferguson, has been kept very busy of late on account of quite a large number of our people being on the sick list.

Preparations are being made by our Sunday School to give an Easter concert.

Mrs. Slutz and Mrs. Bitter are on the sick list.

D. E. Bowers, George Irvin and Thomas Barnes, each have closed a successful term of school in Canaan township.

Mr. Frank Barnes, who has been teaching in Medina county, is at home, spending his vacation. Mr. B. has been engaged to teach the summer term at the same place. Canaan boys always hold their positions.

A very enjoyable surprise party was given Mr. Zeno Reese at his home, south of town, on last Thursday evening. It being the twenty-seventh anniversary of his birth. Neighbors and friends to the number of fifty-two assembled at his home to honor the occasion. One of the leading features of the evening was the fine supper that was served. All showed that they appreciated it by partaking of it liberally. There was music in abundance and every thing that was necessary to make it an evening of pleasure. It was well toward the middle of the night when we began to leave the scene of pleasure and amusement.

heareth the prophecy of this book, if any shall add unto these plagues that are written in this book:

19 And if any man shall take away

20 He which testifieth these things saith, Surely I come quickly. Amen. Even so,

A GUILTY WRETCH.

Harley Russell in Custody on a Grave Charge.

James Totten, of Canaan township, on Wednesday, before Mayor Smith, caused a warrant to be issued for the arrest of Harley Russell, of the same township, for criminal conduct with Miss Goldie Totten, aged 14 years. Marshal Latimer and Deputy Andrew Reid arrested Russell and brought him to the city. When arraigned Thursday morning he pleaded guilty. Bond was fixed at $300, in default of which he was committed to jail.

Russell is 29 years of age and the son of very highly respected parents. It is stated that the intimacy between Russell and the girl has been carried on for some months. He must certainly be a depraved wretch, for a few years ago he figured in a similar scrape, but escaped and was away many months.

Canaan Township Couple Overcame Parental and Legal Obstacles.

Harley Russell and Miss Goldie Totten, of Canaan township, on last Thursday were refused a license to wed by Probate Judge R. L. Adair for the reason that the young lady was not of the age of consent, although it was said her parents were willing. The couple were not to be kept apart, as they left here that night, presumably for Kentucky where the marriage law is not so rigid. They have returned and the young woman is now Mrs. Russell. This, it is supposed, will settle a criminal charge resting against Russell. It is stated that he executed a bond to the girl's father guaranteeing that he will live with and provide for her.

CANAAN TOWNSHIP CASE.

He Plead Guilty and was Bound over to Court.

Last Wednesday, on affidavit made by James Totten, father of the girl, of Canaan Center, Mayor Robert J. Smith, of Webster, issued a warrant for the arrest of Harley Russell, aged 29 years, of Canaan Center, for carnally knowing Goldie Totten, a girl aged 14 years, with her consent. Marshal James Latimer at once went to Canaan, arrested Russell and committed him to city prison that afternoon.

He was arraigned before Mayor Smith Thursday morning, plead guilty to the charge, and was bound over to Court of Common Pleas to await action of next grand jury, and in default of furnishing the required $300 bail he was committed to the county jail, from which he was later released by giving bail.

The law makes it a penitentiary offense, of from 3 to 20 years imprisonment, for carnally knowing any female person under 16 years of age, even with her consent, as the principle of law is that under the age of 16 years she is not competent to give her consent.

It is stated that Mr. Harley Russell and young Miss Goldie Totten, of Canaan township, were married out side of Ohio the latter part of last week. She is a minor, did not have consent of her parents, and hence Probate Judge Adair refused to issue marriage license. They went away, and assert they are legally married.
