The "Royall" Duntons: Ebenezer, Jr. (1720-1809) of Boston, Mass., Newport, R.I. and New London, Conn.

by Julie Helen Otto

As many compilers of agnate genealogies soon discover, fortune often smiled very differently on colonial cousins — even those with identical names — because of maternal inheritance, education, residence in a thriving city or town, a mercantile career rather than farming, or even sheer luck. In NEXUS 10 (1993):18-23, Joy F. Peach contributed "Phebe Kimmens and the 'Hidden' Family of Ebenezer Dunton of Southborough, Massachusetts." This article chronicled Mrs. Peach's discovery in Worcester Co., Mass. deeds of the almost completely unrecorded family of one Ebenezer Dunton (ca. 1714-ca. 1771) of Southborough, his two wives (Rebecca Lyscomb and Lydia Bellows), and their children. We then identified Ebenezer as "most likely" the person of that name born at Dorchester, Mass. 9 March 1719/20, son of Ebenezer and Sarah (Royall) Dunton (A Report of the Boston Record Commissioners of the City of Boston [hereafter BRC], vol. 21 [1890], Containing Dorchester Births, Marriages and Deaths to the End of 1825 [hereafter Dorchester VRs], p. 67). Later that year, "A Dunton Update" (10:159-60) cited material sent to Mrs. Peach by Joseph Dunton of La Marque, Texas, who enclosed data from W.S. Downs, ed., Encyclopedia of American Biography, vol. 17 (1944, hereafter Downs), pp. 130-31, which clearly showed that the man born at Dorchester in 1720 lived for a time in Boston, enjoyed a higher social status than our impecunious Worcester County Ebenezer, and left different descendants — including bibliophile and Titanic victim Harry Elkins Widener, for whom Widener Library at Harvard was named. We also discovered from Middlesex Co., Mass. probate records that our Ebenezer was in his 16th year in 1730 (making him older than the Dorchester man) and was clearly said to be son of a Nathaniel Dunton who was, we suspected, either the son of John² Dunton (Samuel¹) of Reading and Sudbury, Mass., or an unrecorded son of John's brother Nathaniel² Dunton (1655-1718) of Reading, Needham and Natick, Mass. Since that update Ann L. Dzindolet of the Society obtained copies of Nathaniel [Sr.]'s complete probate file (Suffolk Co. Probate #4062), which shows that Nathaniel Dunton, father of our Southborough Ebenezer, was in 1718 the eldest living son of Nathaniel² Dunton. Further, the "Abner Dunton" mentioned in estate accounts of our Ebenezer's brother, soldier and Cape Breton casualty Nathaniel Dunton [III] (ca. 1723-1746), was a second cousin (an unrecorded son of John and Sarah [Jeffords] Dunton of Sudbury) who in 1751 (rec. 1765) conveyed land inherited from his maternal grandfather John Jeffords of Stoneham, Mass. (Essex Co. Deeds 121:108).

Our Ebenezer Dunton's desperate financial condition in 1761, revealed in Southborough poor records, and the hardscrabble existence of several of his children (Levi in 1796 was forced to appeal to the overseers of the poor for the loan of a cooking pot and other household items) seemed inconsistent with the social position of the Royall family. Sarah Royall, born at Dorchester 15 Dec., bp. there 25 Dec. 1687, dau. of William and Mary (—) Royall, was surely the Mrs. Sarah Dunton reported in the Boston News-Letter to have died, aged 86, shortly before 1 April 1773. She was probably the Sarah Dunton admitted to Medford church 18 April 1742 ("Extracts from [the] Diary of Thomas Seccomb of Medford," Register 12 [1858]: 268). She was a sister of Isaac Royall (ca. 1672-1739) of Boston, Antigua and Medford, the merchant whose Medford mansion is a town landmark. Sarah's husband, Ebenezer Dunton [Sr.], born at Reading 29 April 1681, had moved to Roxbury, Mass. by 3 Dec. 1705, where he conveyed for £144:14:0... to Capt. Thomas Nichols, bricklayer, and Joseph Burnap, cooper, both of Reading, my messuage or tenement that was my father's [wit: John Mirriam, Jr.; Edward Emerson; Rebecca Emerson; ack. 3 Dec. 1705]

(Middlesex Deeds 13:798, abstracted in H.W. Belknap, The Burnap-Burnett Genealogy [1925], p. 56). Ebenezer Dunton and Sarah Royall were married at Dorchester 24 Aug. 1715. Their first children (two Rebeccas, 1716-17 and 1718) were born and died at Roxbury. The Duntons probably moved to Dorchester ca. 1718, as the second Rebecca's birth was also rec. there; Ebenezer, Jr. was born there in 1720, and another son, Samuel, on 29 March 1722 (VRs, pp. 65, 67, 70). The next child, Thomas, was born at Boston 1 Nov. 1723 (BRC, vol. 24 [1894, repr. 1978], Containing Boston Births from A.D. 1700 to A.D. 1800, p. 159). On 20 Feb. 1727 Ebenezer Dunton and family, residing at the house of his brother-in-law Jacob Royall, were warned from Dorchester (Register 50 [1896]: 69).

In the Marshall P. Wilder Papers at NEHGS (folder Mss-C-3187b) is an original court paper from a 1740 infanticide case which involved the Royalls' "Irish Servant Made," Elizabeth Agen [Egan?]:

I Sarah Dunton Testifies that for about three or four months last past I have Observed that Eliz^h Agen has Looked very Bigg & Like a Woman with Child and all of a Sudden namely on the Tuesday aforementioned Shee Appeared to me So Slim and looked so Poorly that I took notice of her and Told her that her belly Looked much Less then usual whereupon She turned from me & gave me Some Flighty Answers. I also Remember that Some few days before I Saw her Look So Slim, I told her that she looked Bigg Like a Woman with Child, and I verily believed She was with Child, and hoped She would not be so foolish as to make away with it, but She Utterly denied it and Said

[Signature] Sarah Dunton

July 4th 1740. Mrs Eliz^h Royal - Eliz^h Hews & Sarah Dunton Aforenamed Appeared and made Oath to their Respective Depositions aforewritten, before us, Simon Tufts, [Edw?] Trowbridge, Justⁱⁱ Pac^s [J.P.]

This domestic tragedy probably occurred at the Royalls' Medford mansion, as suggested by the presence of Sarah's sister-in-law Elizabeth (Eliot) (Oliver) Royall (1679/80-1747) or her daughter-in-law, Elizabeth (McIntosh) Royall (d. 1770); the name of Simon Tufts as J.P.; and reports to Mrs. Royall by at least two named slaves (Edward Doubleday Harris in Register 39 [1885]: 352 noted that "in the rear, or rather at the west of the [Royall] mansion, were the servants' quarters, peopled with the negro slaves brought from Antigua"). We have as yet found no death or probate for Ebenezer Dunton, Sr., but the mention by Thomas Seccomb of Medford of Mrs. Dunton's 1742 church admission may be a clue. On 22 July 1765, at Medford, "Miss" Sarah Dunton, "a Lady of fine Accomplishments" (and, I believe, an unrecorded daughter of Ebenezer and Sarah [Royall] Dunton) married, as his second wife, Hon. Joseph Newmarsh (1707-1765) of New Castle, N.H.; that the ceremony was held at "the seat of the Rev. Mr. [Ebenezer] Turell of Medford" suggests the bride's social status as a kinswoman of the Royalls (Boston Gazette, 29 July 1765, in C.K. Shipton, Sibley's Harvard Graduates, vol. 8 [1951], pp. 455-57). That the bridegroom was a widower of 58 (who died two months later) and the bride called "Miss" yet not flattered (as customary) in her marriage notice as a "young" lady, suggests that Mrs. Newmarsh may have been past her first youth. The Duntons here under study were clearly proud of their Royall ancestry; descendants of several granddaughters were named "Royal" or "Sarah Royall" for their matriarch.

What, then, could be found of Ebenezer Dunton, Jr. of Dorchester and Boston, who despite these social connections was not seen in later records there, and who must be differentiated from yet another Ebenezer, his first cousin once removed (1730-1804, husband of Beulah Cheney) of Wrentham and Sturbridge, Mass.? The Columbian Centinel [hereafter CC] records the death in New London, Conn., in Sept. 1809 of an Ebenezer Dunton, said to be 94 years old. His gravestone, transcribed in the Hale Collection at Connecticut State Library (CSL), says ae. 91, within two years of the Dorchester/Boston man.

In the 1850 census, an ancient Abiah Holt (ae. 92) of New London (whose 1784 marriage record in the Barbour Collection names her father as Ebenezer Dunton) gave her birthplace as Rhode Island; vital records showed a few incidences of the name at Providence, but more at Newport. A list of Newport Duntons matched several of Ebenezer's first four children, baptized at Christ Church, Boston in 1748, as sent us by Mr. Dunten; later this family used Royal[I] as a given or middle name. Here, then, was evidence of the move of Ebenezer, Jr. from Boston to Newport to New London.

Ebenezer⁴ Dunton [Jr.] (*Ebenezer*³ & Sarah Royall, *Samuel*² & Sarah Kendall, *Samuel*¹ & Anna Felch), b. Dorchester, Mass. 9 March 1719/20, d. New London, Conn. 24 Sept. 1809 ae. 91 (ae. 94 in CC of 30 Sept. 1809 and Hale Coll. [Newspapers], CSL; g.s., Hale Coll. [Gravestones], 312-1-308).

Ebenezer Dunton appar. m. (1) Salem, Mass. (int.) 7 Nov. 1743 (VRs, 3:319, 435) Margaret Gould (called "Jr.", implying that her mother's name was also Margaret). While no birth record was found in Salem or nearby towns for Margaret (Gould) Dunton, James and Margaret (Chadwell) Gould (m. Salem 13 April 1726 [VRs 3:432]), had children rec. at Danvers 1729-1740, and our Margaret could well be an older, unrec. child of this couple — the only other Margaret Gould "Jr." (b. Boxford, Mass. 6 March 1712 to Samuel and Margaret [Stone] Gould) married William Foster of Andover, Mass. (B.A. Guild, The Family of Zaccheus Gould of Topsfield [1895], p. 52). Margaret (Gould) Dunton was likely a descendant of Thomas Gould of Salem Village (now Danvers); a yeoman James Gould, perhaps her father, was of Danvers when he wrote his will in 1771. Ebenezer m. (2) prob. Boston or Newport, R.I. at an unknown date Dorothy/Dolly —, who d. New London by 7 Aug. 1794 ae. 73 (New London Gazette, that date; g.s. transcribed as 1 Aug. "1704" [clearly a typographical error] ae. 75 in Hale 312-1-308); and (3) New London 4 Nov. 1794 Hannah (Lattimore) Jones, b. there 29 Aug. 1735, bp. New London Church of Christ (Congregational) 30 Aug. 1738 (C.D. Parkhurst, "Families of Early New London and Vicinity," mss. [1938], 15:269), d. New London 15 July 1814, relict of Ebenezer Dunton (Edward Prentice, Ye Antient Burying Place of New London, Conn. [1899], p. 19, #234; Hale Coll., New London, 312-2-357). She was a daughter of Peter and Hannah (Pickett) Lattimore, and widow of Richard Jones. Mrs. Hannah Dunton was buried not with her last husband, but in the Antient (sic) Burying Place with the Lattimores and a Jones daughter.

If Abiah Holt's statement that she was born in Rhode Island is correct, Ebenezer Dunton, Jr. was there by 1758 — likely at Newport, where an unnamed son died in 1764, and several children were baptized or married in the later 1760s. The 1774 Rhode Island census shows two Duntons, both at Newport (p. 12): "Elizabeth" Dunton [doubtless a misreading of "Ebenezer"], with three males over 16, two under 16, five females over 16, and three females under 16, for a total of 13 adults; and Thomas Dunton, with one male over 16, three males under 16, and two females under 16. Ebenezer's name does not appear in indexed New London Congregational Church records.

On 25 Aug. 1789 at New London, Ebenezer Dunton [Jr.] leased premises from Thomas Shaw (New London Deeds 24:222). The next year, when his (quite large) New London household was enumerated in the first U.S. census, it consisted of one male over 16 (himself); two males under 16; and 11 females (1790 U.S. Census, Conn., p. 129). No probate appears for this Ebenezer in New London or any probate district in Connecticut.

Children of Ebenezer Dunton, Jr., the first four bp. Christ Church, Boston, prob. by Margaret (Gould); later ones prob. by Dolly —:

Sarah⁵ Dunton, b. Boston ca. 1743, bp. Christ Church, Boston 3 July 1748, d. Newport, R.I. 24 April 1828 ae. 85 (A.G. Beaman, ed., Rhode Island Vital Records, New Series, Vol. 11: Births 1590-1930 from Newport Common Burial Ground Inscriptions [1985, hereafter Beaman], p. 244); m. Rhode Island (by Rev. Gardiner Thurston, no place given, but prob. Newport) 17 April 1766 William Langley (J.N. Arnold, Vital Record of Rhode Island

Numerous children of William and Sarah (Dunton) Langley died during their parents' lifetime. Six such infants (Sarah, Nathaniel, Sarah #2, Royal, Sarah #3, and William) are buried under an unusual stone in Newport's Common Burial Ground: "one long (horizontally) slate stone with six rounded tops, all with angel faces and wings at the tops" (Beaman, 11:245). This 1785 marker is by the well-known Newport carver John Bull (1734-1808) (Markers 2 [1983]:76). An abstract of William Langley's will (Rhode Island Genealogical Register [RIGR] 9 [1985-86]: 244-45) runs as follows: *William Langley, of Newport, merchant. His widow's death at Thomaston, and his own identification as a housewright, suggests this Ebenezer Dunton, "Jr." was the man responsible for "Montpelier," Capt. Phebe Kimmens and the "Hidden" Family of Ebenezer Dunton of Southborough, Massachusetts

by Joy F. Peach

Sometimes in genealogy the search for one person leads to completely unexpected findings illuminating quite different families. So I found in the search for Phebe Kimmens. Esther Kimmens Whitcomb of Bolton, Mass., has been searching for her ancestress Phebe for years. The first record we have of Phebe is when, on 27 November 1774, she confessed to fornication, owned the covenant, and had her child John baptized at Hopkinton, Mass. (Hopkinton VRs, p. 122; microfilmed Hopkinton church records, Hopkinton Public Library. Henceforth sources for dates, if a town is given, are to its published VRs, or Mass. state records after 1850, or Conn., Vt., or N.H. VRs on microfilm at the Society, unless otherwise noted). There is no clue to the identity of this child's father, whether Kimmens (or Cummings?) was Phebe's maiden name, or whether she was using the name of John's father.

Phebe next appears in Templeton, Mass., where (as Phebe "Skimins") she married (int.) 27 July 1779 William Coolidge (born at Bolton 25 Sept. 1758, son of Philip and Lydia [Foskett] Coolidge), a Revolutionary soldier (E.K. Whitcomb and D.O. Mayo, Bolton Soldiers and Sailors in the American Revolution [1985, henceforth BS&S], p. 19), apparently not treated in E.D. Coolidge, Descendants of John and Mary Coolidge of Watertown, Massachusetts, 1630 (1930). His Revolutionary pension, paid twice a year, was $47.75 (E.K. Whitcomb, About Bolton [1988], p. 323). William and Phebe's daughter Lydia was baptized at Templeton 15 April 1781; a son Daniel was born at Bolton, Mass. 18 Jan. 1785. Phebe (Kimmens) Coolidge died at Bolton 10 June 1799, ae. 49, and William Coolidge promptly married (2) (int. Bolton) 7 October 1799 Anna Eames of Marlborough, Mass.; he died at Bolton 15 March 1826, ae. 72, and his widow died there 7 July 1847, ae. 74 (town rec.) or 6 July, ae. 77 (Bolton VRs, p. 199). Both wives of William Coolidge had borne illegitimate children: Anna's daughter Eunice Eames was baptized at Marlborough 17 Sept. 1786 and married Beriah Oakes, Jr., there 13 June 1804.

Child of Phebe Kimmens, father unknown:

1. John Kimmens, b. prob. Hopkinton, Mass. (rec. Bolton) 26 Aug. 1774, bp. Hopkinton 27 Nov. 1774, d. John Kimmens, a cooper, became a Quaker after moving to Bolton. For some generations this family was part of Bolton's sizable Quaker community, as seen on several family tombstones. "John Kimmens, who lived in a plaster house on the point of land formed by the Old Marlborough Road and the road which passes the old burying ground, had a cooper shop. Upon his death in 1821 his widow Judith (Houghton) was left the use of the shop during her lifetime" (History of Bolton, 1738-1938 [1938], p. 209).

Royce, Bessboro: The History of Westport, Essex Co., New York [1902], p. 305), and is listed there in the 1830 census.

3. Daniel Coolidge, b. Bolton, Mass. 18 Jan. 1785, d. N.Y.C. 1 Nov. 1847, in 63rd yr. (N.Y. Evening Post, 2 Nov.); m. Concord or Weare, N.H. 29 April 1812 Ruth Hutchins, b. Hutchins, Descendants of John Hutchins of Newbury and Haverhill, Mass. [1975, hereafter Hutchins], p. 83). Daniel moved from Weare, N.H. in 1821 to New York City, where he was a bookseller and binder, at least part of this time at a site "[now] under Brooklyn Bridge," according to Esther K. Whitcomb's son, who attempted to locate information about Daniel for his mother. Daniel's address in 1846 was 38 Rose Street. That Daniel Coolidge was a Quaker is evident from his letter of 7 June 1846 to Keziah Houghton. He may have owned or lost property on "Fair-Mount" in South Bolton, and his reference in the same letter to "Four Thousand Dollars when General Jackson took so much 'Responsibility Upon himself'" prob. refers to the bank failures of the 1830s. Children, b. Weare, N.H. (Hutchins, p. 83; W.W. Hinshaw, Encyclopedia of American Quaker Genealogy, vol. 3 [1940], pp. 84, 228): Phebe Hutchins Cooledge, b. 17 Feb. 1814, d. prob. N.Y.C. 17 May 1881, m. Francis Metford; George Fox Cooledge, b. 6 Oct. 1815, d. prob. N.Y.C. 4 Aug. 1873; William Penn Cooledge, b. 25 Aug. 1817, m. prob. N.Y.C. 16 Dec. 1850 Susan Knapp (Hutchins, p. 83).

In a letter now in the possession of Esther Kimmens Whitcomb, Phebe's son Daniel Coolidge, writing from New York, informs his "dear friend" (a kinswoman?) Keziah Houghton that "Grandfather Phillips Mansion is pull'd down" (7 June 1846). Could this Grandfather Phillips be connected to Daniel's mother, our unplaced Phebe? This Kimmens research led me to some interesting discoveries about a tangentially-related family.

Phebe's daughter-in-law, Judith Houghton, had a brother James who on 8 September 1789 had published intentions at Bolton to marry a Beckey Dunton whose birthdate and parentage were not known. Following these Dunton-Phillips connections led eventually to Ebenezer Dunton of Southborough, Mass. Although the findings below would seem to rule him out as the father of Phebe Kimmens, the stories of his heretofore-unknown children are an interesting study of what can be found by research in deeds and town poor records.

Ebenezer Dunton was most likely the child of that name born at Dorchester, Mass. 3 April 1720 to Ebenezer and Sarah (Royall) Dunton (A Report of the Boston Record Commission, vol. 21, Dorchester Births, Marriages and Deaths to the End of 1825 [1891], p. 67). Details of his life are sketchy, but he must be the Ebenezer Dunton, "oncapabel of Labore fore almost fore weekes," who petitioned the selectmen of Southborough 4 March 1761 as a poor person, "my Provisions allmost spent a Number of small children to maintain which depen on my labors for mantananc" (Southborough, Mass. Town Records: Welfare, LDS Roll #861098). Ebenezer apparently died at Southborough prior to 18 September 1771, when his widow Lydia requested that Nathaniel Dunton be named administrator of his estate (Worcester Co. Probate #A:18056). Ebenezer had married (1), at Southborough, 19 March 1744/5 Rebecka Lyscum, born at Marlborough, Mass. 7 March 1726, died at Southborough 13 August 1752, daughter of Samuel and Mary (Clark) Lyscum. Four sons of this couple were recorded at Southborough before Rebeckah's death: Ebenezer, Nathaniel, Reuben and Samuel. Whether there were any other children is not known, but there may perhaps be room for one other between Reuben (birthdate unrecorded) and Samuel, born in 1752. Ebenezer married (2) at Southborough 6 August 1753 Lydia Bellows, born there 30 April 1729, daughter of Thomas and Martha (Maverick) Bellows. Although none of the children of Ebenezer's second marriage are recorded, Worcester County deeds show that he and Lydia had at least six.

Ebenezer's probate file contains virtually no information about his family, and lacks a distribution. On 30 May 1773, "Nathaniel Dunton of Marlborough, yeoman, lately of Southboro, administrator on the estate of his honored Father Ebenezer Dunton deceased" sold to Nathan Fay of Southboro, for the sum of 13 pounds 6 shillings and 8 pence, a tract of land in Southboro containing 13 acres and 70 rods (Worcester Co. Deeds 73:3).

On 28 October 1773 Lydia (Bellows) Dunton married (2) at Southborough, as a second wife, Ebenezer Phillips, a neighbor in Southborough (for his ancestry, see G.B. Roberts, Ancestors of American Presidents, prelim. ed. rev. [1989], pp. 97, 99, 133 [Ebenezer's sister Joanna (Phillips) Fay was an ancestor of President George H.W. Bush] and NEXUS 8[1991]:32; for his family, see A.M. Phillips, Phillips Genealogies [1885], pp. 106-7). Again, no children of this Ebenezer and Lydia are recorded; Ebenezer Phillips, however, had children by first wife Hannah Lyscom, a sister of Ebenezer Dunton's first wife, Rebecca Lyscom (Hannah, born at Marlborough 29 April 1722, is erroneously given in Phillips Genealogies above, p. 107, as daughter of Israel of Marlborough, but VRs show the Hannah born that date as daughter of Samuel and Mary). No death date for Ebenezer Phillips has yet been found, but he evidently died ca. 1778-79; Lydia, called "of Templeton," married (3) Winchendon, Mass. 14 October 1779, as his third wife, Robert Bradish, probably the Robert Bradish born at Marlborough 21 November 1712, who died at Athol, Mass. [—] June 1792, son of James and Damaris (Rice) Bradish. A death record for the much-married Lydia (Bellows) (Dunton) (Phillips) Bradish has yet to be found (although an unnamed "— Bradish, wid[ow]", died at Leicester 13 March 1819, ae. 89).

Three Worcester County deeds shed light on the "hidden family" of Ebenezer and Lydia (Bellows) Dunton:

1. On 13 December 1784 Ebenezer Dunton and Samuel Dunton of Athol, Reuben Dunton of Shrewsbury, David Dunton and Samuel Bradish with Hannah his wife, and Nathan Stoddard with Lydia his wife of Winchendon, Levi Dunton of Leicester, all in the County of Worcester and Commonwealth of Massachusetts, Nathaniel Dunton of Stafford, Connecticut and James Dunton of Fitzwilliam, New Hampshire, in consideration of the sum of £27 paid to them by Nathan Fay of Southborough, sold the said Nathan Fay "about seventeen acres of land lying in said Southborough ... being part of the lands which Ebenezer Dunton late of said Southborough deceased died seized and possessed of and which descended to us the aforementioned grantors as we are children to the said deceased and heirs to his estate with other children of said deceased" (Worcester Co. Deeds 106:312-3)
2. On 28 September 1785 Lydia Bradish, widow of Ebenezer Dunton late of Southboro, deceased, now the wife of Robert Bradish of Winchendon, cordwainer, "being fully and absolutely authorized and empowered by the said Robert to ... dispose of and dispossess herself of all and every part and the whole of her right of dower and power of thirds ... as freely and absolutely as if she had not been married to him the said Robert Bradish," sold to Nathan Fay of Southboro, for the sum of £5, the property in Southboro which she acquired by virtue of having been the wife of Ebenezer Dunton (Worcester Co. Deeds 106: 319-20). [This deed makes no mention of Lydia's second husband, Ebenezer Phillips.]
3. On 14 June 1787 Rebecca Dunton of Winchendon in the County of Worcester ... spinster, for the sum of £28s, sold to Nathan Fay of Southborough her right, title, etc. of about 17 acres of land in Southborough, "being part of the land which Ebenezer Dunton late of Southborough deceased died siezed [sic] and possessed of, it being all my right to the above which devolved to me as a child and heir of Ebenezer Dunton" (Worcester Co. Deeds 107:12)

These deeds help piece together otherwise unconnected Dunton data found in various places, and make possible the reconstruction of Ebenezer Dunton's family as follows:

Children of Ebenezer Dunton and his first wife, Rebeckah Lyscom:

- i. Ebenezer Dunton, Jr., b. Southborough, Mass. 15 Sept. 1745, d. Phillipston, Mass. 16 Sept. 1820, ae. 75, of fever. He is the best documented child of his parents. Ebenezer Dunton, Jr. m. (1) Southborough 18 Feb. 1766

Of Marlborough, he bought land at Stafford from Abijah and Levi Willard and Samuel Ward, all of Lancaster, Mass., 15 March 1775 (Stafford Deeds 4:431) and served from there in the Lexington Alarm of April 1775 (Record of Service of Connecticut Men... [1889], pp. 21, 47; DAR Patriot Index, vol. 2 [1980], p. 63). Nathaniel was at Stafford as late as 1787, when the death of a child was rec. there. By 5 July 1788 (Stafford Deeds 7:47-48; rec. The cost to the town of Gerry (£6 5s. 6d) of Samuel's serious illness in the summer of 1794 was itemized in Southborough's poor accounts; an inventory of Dunton's personal effects was taken 24 June 1796; and Southborough contributed to coats, trousers, a gown, shirts, shoes, stockings, a hat, apron and handkerchief for Samuel, his wife or at least one son in 1799. Templeton 20 Sept. 1750 (DAR Application of Jennie Bradish Read, National #37739, 1 Nov. 1901), d. Cattaraugus Co., N.Y. 24 Dec. 1812, "reported son of Robert Bradish" (ibid.; a Samuel Bradish was among the children of Robert Bradish who with an earlier wife, Lydia Morton, was warned out of Winchendon 11 June 1771 (Warnings, p. 86). Samuel, a private on the Lexington Alarm roll of Capt. Abel Wilder's co., Col. Ephraim Doolittle's regt., was badly wounded at the battle at Bunker Hill, also losing an eye (for a detailed account see Rev. A.P. Marvin, History of the Town of Winchendon... [1868], pp. 87-89). Hannah and Samuel were "of Winchendon" in 1784 when they signed the deed to Nathan Fay; a Samuel Bradish, the only man of this name in the 1790 Mass. census, was then at tiny Windsor, Berkshire Co., with a household of one male over and four under 16, and one female. When Samuel and Hannah moved to New York is uncertain. Known children of Samuel and Hannah (Dunton) Bradish:

2. Walter Bradish, m. Polly Deets (DAR Appl. #37739).

vi. Levi Dunton, b. prob. Southborough, Mass. ca. 1755/6, d. Boxborough, Mass. before 8 Aug. 1827, when Sally Dunton, widow, and Thomas Dunton, son, declined to administer the estate of Levi Dunton, laborer, deceased, and requested the judge of probate to name Reuben Smith of Stow administrator (Middlesex Co. Probate #6533). Levi was from Hopkinton in 1775, Southborough and Grafton 1777, and Barre 1780 (Mass. Soldiers and Sailors in the Revolution 5 [1899]:73-74, including a "descriptive list of deserters from the Corps of Guards, Morristown, N.J.," which describes Levi as age 25, 5'7", dark complexion, engaged for the town of Marlborough, deserted 4 July 1779). Levi, then a resident of Harvard, Mass., ae. 62, with seven children, first applied for a pension 15 April 1818. He stated that he belonged to Capt. Daniel Barnes's co. in the 15th Massachusetts Regt. commanded by Col. Timothy Bigelow "part of the time" and was afterward in Gen. Washington's life guard and left the service at the end of his three-year enlistment. On 10 July 1820, ae. 65, a resident of Bolton, he stated that he enlisted in the forepart of the summer of 1777 in Col. Timothy Bigelow's co., Capt. Daniel Barnes's regt., and was in the battle at which Gen. Burgoyne surrendered. Southborough poor records include £4 13s. 1d. lent to Levi in 1796 "during the town's pleasure." An inv. of Levi's estate, dated Bolton 1 May 1820, shows furniture and tools worth $12.08, with no real estate. Levi stated that he had "formerly been assisted by the town of Southborough in said Worcester County, and unless my pension be continued I must have assistance from the charity of the town [of Bolton]" (Pension Appl. #34781). Levi was "of Southboro" when he m. (1) Leicester, Mass. 26 May 1784 Beulah Livermore, b. there 19 March 1753, dau. of Jonas and Elizabeth (Rice) Livermore (W.E. Thwing, The Livermore Family of America [1902], p. 26); he was "of Leicester" when he signed the deed to Nathan Fay that December, and m. there (2) (int.) 22 March 1786 Sally Ball of Boylston, Mass., poss. the "widow Sally" who d. Southborough 4 April 1838. He petitioned the Southborough selectmen as a poor person in March 1796 (TAG 67[1992]: 220). It is not known when Levi moved to Harvard, Bolton, or Boxborough. His signature appears just below that of John Kimmens in a Bolton general store ledger of ca. 1820. We have not been able to identify all of his seven children. Child of Levi and Beulah (Livermore) Dunton, b. prob. Leicester:

1. Levi Dunton [Jr.], b. ca. 1785, d. Leicester 17 Oct. 1813; m. there 31 May 1809 Lucretia C. Sargent, not identified in Aaron Sargent, Sargent Genealogy (1895). Levi, Jr. and Lucretia had at least one child, Levi Dunton, b. ca. 1812, d. Leicester 15 July 1828, ae. 16.

Known children of Levi and Sally (Ball) Dunton (order uncertain):

2. Unnamed infant, d. Southborough 6 June 1796.
3. Unnamed son, over 21 in 1827, not res. Mass. (Middlesex Co. Probate #6533).
4. Thomas Dunton, declined to admin. father's estate.
5. Sally Dunton, b. say 1798; of Bolton, m. (int.) there 19 Nov. 1819 Reuben Smith, b. Stow, Mass. 9 Aug. 1793, son of Nahum and Mary (Stone) Smith. Children, rec. Stow: "Algernon" Sidney Smith, b. 28 Nov. 1822; Abigail Ann Smith, b. 18 Feb. 1827; Orlando Vier Smith, b. 14 June 1830; "Angerline" Smith, b. 24 Dec. 1832.

vii. David Dunton, b. say 1756/7, d. poss. Howard, Steuben Co., N.Y. ca. 1829 (LDS Anc. File); "of Winchendon" in 1784, m. there 1 Sept. 1785 Polly Stoddard. A David Dunton appears in the 1790 census at Lanesboro, Berkshire Co., Mass., with a family of two males over 16, one male under 16, and three females. The LDS Ancestral File lists children of David and Polly (Stoddard) Dunton, last five b. Saratoga Co., N.Y., as:

1. Joshua Dunton, b. Mass. ca. 1787, d. (no place given) 8 April 1865 [res. 1840 Howard, N.Y. 1840]; m. Phebe —.
2. James Harvey Dunton, b. Vt. ca. 1800, d. Hancock Co., Ill. 28 Sept. 1845; m. Steuben Co., N.Y. or Ill. Mary Comfort Knowles, b. ca. 1801, d. Hancock Co. 20 July 1845, dau. of Daniel and Mary (—) Knowles.

5. William Dunton, b. ca. 1807, at Howard 1860; m. Phebe Robords.
6. Charlotte Dunton, b. ca. 1808; n.f.r.
7. Sabrina Dunton, b. ca. 1811; m. George Robords.

viii. Lydia Dunton, b. say ca. 1758, "of Winchendon" 1 July 1784 when she m. there Nathan Stoddard, prob. rel. to Polly above. A Nathan Stoddard, with one male over and one under 16, and three females, was at Windsor, Mass., in 1790. That Nathan Stoddard, Samuel Bradish, and Nathaniel Dunton were then at Windsor, with David Dunton at nearby Lanesborough, is very suggestive, but whether the first two men were the Dunton sisters' husbands awaits proof, probably in later Worcester County deeds or sources in Berkshire County.

ix. James Dunton, b. say 1760, prob. the James Dunton, Revolutionary pensioner, who died at the Southborough almshouse 17 Feb. 1852 (ae. 91, a laborer), leaving widow Sally Dunton (Worcester Co. Probate #A:18062). James was engaged for the town of Lancaster, Mass. 12 June 1781 and served in Capt. Thurston's co., Col. Whitney's regiment. He is described as ae. 21, 5'4" with light complexion, occupation tanner (Mass. Soldiers and Sailors 5 [1899]:70). He m. Fitzwilliam, N.H. 24 Aug. 1784 "Siball" (Sibyl) Angier, b. Fitzwilliam, N.H. 22 Jan. 1797 (two days after the death of her last child), dau. of Silas and Elizabeth (Drury) Angier (Joel Whittemore, The History of Fitzwilliam, New Hampshire... [1888], henceforth FW), pp. 543-44). He m.
