Jacob Sherman's Copy-Book, with Genealogical Notes

..... The value of this old book was realized when there were found scattered through it, on unused pages, records of an old Rhode Island family, the ancestors of Mr. Sherman, telling of their removal from that state to Pownal, Vt., giving a detailed record of births, marriages, and deaths, and finally, on the last few sheets, furnishing accounts dealing with other early settlers of the town.

The book was owned by Jacob 4 Sherman of North Kingston, R.I., a great-grandson of Philip 1 Sherman of Providence through Eber 2, and William 3 and wife Abigail. His name appears in the list of William Sherman's children as the 10th child, born 20 Nov. 1733. The maiden name of his mother Abigail is not known.

Pownal, Vt., which is geographically among the Berkshire Hills . . . is an extremely interesting town genealogically. It is really a portion of East and West Greenwich and Kingston, R.I., transplanted intact to Vermont. As the Bates, Sherman, Gardner, Myers, Niles, Matteson, Barber, Pratt, and other families intermarried in Rhode Island until they were practically all related, so did these same families upon removal to Pownal continue the same practice, and have continued it ever since. A comparison of the Pownal town records with those of East and West Greenwich shows curious results--the similarity of names and the combination of names being astonishing.

in the year 1787 then was born Thomas mattison october the 12 Day on friday ("Samuel" on a line below is connected with "Thomas" by a line drawn round the two words, evidently by way of correction.)

GARDNER

The Gardner family, so numerous in Pownal at the present time, descends from Joseph 3 (George 2, George 1) of East Greenwich, R.I., who married Hannah Briggs. The names of all their children are not known but two of them, George, who certainly was a son, and Benjamin beyond doubt another son, came to Pownal.

GEORGE 4 GARDNER married at Newport, R.I. 11 Nov. 1737, ALICE BROWNE, daughter of Tobias. He died 10 Aug. 1801, aged 94 years, leaving a will in which he mentioned the 8 children noted below. In 1752 he sold his West Greenwich lands and settled at Beekman's, N.Y., living there until 1762, when he made his purchase of Pownal lands. It was he who laid out the settling lots for the proprietors of Pownal in 1782.

In 1779 George Gardner became involved in a dispute with the town proprietors. As their clerk and the keeper of their records he was accused of removing certain sheets from the land records. He was finally prosecuted and forced to leave town, and his lands were seized. Gardner removed to Hancock, Mass., where he remained until about 1790, when he returned to Pownal to spend his last days. Under date of 27 June 1782 there appears on the town record this report: Your Committee to whom was referred the petition of George Gardner Esq. of Hancock in the State of Mass. begs leave to report, that it appears that a judgement was obtained before the Hon. Superior Court by a Committee of the Proprietors of the town of Pownal in 1779, for cutting a number of leaves out of the Proprietors books, for which without doubt the Honorable Superior Court thought they had a sufficient reason, but it does not appear to your committee from the witnesses that have been heard by them that said George Gardner ever did cut out all or any of the leaves that are cut out of the Proprietors books, and they recommend that the aforesaid Committee who obtained a judgment against said George Gardner and a sum of money in damages for cutting out a number of leaves from the Proprietors Books, pay the same again unto the aforesaid George Gardner except the lawful cost occasioned by said suit.

Children, the first three recorded at West Greenwich:

- i. George 5, b. 3 June 1739
- ii. David, b. 13 June 1741
- iii. Paul, b. 29 Aug. 1743
- iv. Abraham
- v. Benjamin
- vi. John
- vii. Thomas
- viii. Mary
- ix. Hannah
- x. Tabatha.

The Rev. Elder Benjamin 4 Gardner was an interesting resident in Pownal in its early days. In 1765 he sold his West Greenwich lands for £4000. On Pownal records, under date of Dec. 1789, appears the following:

Reporting of Committee on granting Benj. Gardner his claim for a gift of land.

In or about 1763 Elder Gardner then a Public preacher and an ordained Elder of the Baptists so called removed into the town of Pownal to reside and was duly appointed to preach and administer in all the rights and ordinances of that Society.

He had evidently claimed a deed of glebe land for his services, and his claim was allowed.

Rev. Benjamin Gardner died 10 Dec. 1793, aged 78 (gravestone), and his wife Jemima died 5 Feb. 1806, aged 82 (gravestone). His will names one son, Benjamin, Jr., and two daughters, Anna Stuart and Jemima Williams. Comparing his age, close companionship with, and the fact that he went bond for George Gardner at the time of his litigation with the proprietors of Pownal, there seems to be no reasonable doubt that they were brothers.

GEORGE 5 GARDNER, born 3 June 1739, died 8 Sept. 1839, well over 100 years of age--his gravestone calling him 102. He married ANN MYERS of West Greenwich. He appears from the land records to have left Beekmans in 1763, the year after his father. His first daughter, Amy, has been considered the first white child born in Pownal--a tradition which seems to have some basis of truth.

Children:

- i. Amy6, b. 25 Feb. 1763; m. John Sherman
- ii. Sarah, b. 23 Feb. 1765; m. William Bissell Sherman
- iii. Oliver, b. 19 Feb. 1767
- iv. John, b. 16 Feb. 1769.
- v. Else, b. 10 Mar. 1771
- vi. Susanna, b. 29 Jan. 1773
- vii. Mary, b. 3 Apr. 1775.

The Gardners, with the exception of the Rev. Benjamin, were all Tories in the Revolutionary war. After the battle of Bennington they were levied upon for supplies for the troops, and gave most grudgingly.

MYERS: Oliver Myers was son of Nicholas "Mias" of Little Compton, R.I., and his wife Elizabeth Nichols. His will, dated 7 Aug. 1769 at West Greenwich, names sons Oliver, Hezekiah, Nicholas, and Gideon; and daughters Ann Gardner, Elizabeth Howard and Mary Myers. All these, except the last two, came to Pownal. Oliver Myers, Jr., married Elizabeth Niles, whose brothers were also Pownal settlers.

He was taken to Canada and after sometime was exchanged and marched on foot from Canada to New Orleans, subsisting on nothing but parched corn for days at a time. He was in the battle of New Orleans.
