

Jordan family gets together for 100-year reunion

A Jordan family reunion was held in August in Harrison with about 57 people attending. While at the reunion, the family gathered its history of the last 100 years in Nebraska. That history, as compiled by family members, follows:

Although official documents were not recorded until the early 1890s, records and personal papers establish that the Jordan family has resided in Sioux County, Neb., for 100 years. The home was celebrated its 100th anniversary in past summer. Descendants of John and Cornelius Jordan celebrated that 100th anniversary and entered a family reunion and birthday celebration.

History began in Ireland

The Jordan history began in County Wick, Ireland, where Dennis McCoy was born in 1804. He became a seaman and as a youth worked in the salt yards and later made many trips across the Atlantic Ocean. He even led around the "Horn." Dennis met a ballerina from the County Donegal, Ireland, named Hannah Galois Gallagher and fell in love. They were married in Ireland in 1840. On Oct. 31, 1845, their first child, Thomas, was born in County Donegal, Ireland.

With their second child on the way, they decided to leave Ireland with its potato famine, and boarded a sailing vessel bound for America. Their son, Anthony, has been listed in records as being born in Ireland, but is likely he was born on board ship as they reached land in 1847. It took at least 30 days to make the crossing.

They first settled in Pennsylvania and lived there for three years. There, their first daughter, Sarah Frances, was born on May 3, 1850. In a covered wagon and oxteam they traveled to Clinton County, Iowa.

Their fourth child, Joseph, was born in 1853. It is not known if he was born in Clinton County, Iowa, or in Pennsylvania, but the federal census of 1880 lists him as born in Pennsylvania. While living there six children were born in Center Township.

Traveled by covered wagon

Dennis and Hannah in 1866 again loaded their belongings and eight children into a covered wagon. They moved to Boone County, Iowa, where they settled on a farm in Des Moines Township, northeast of the city of Boone (then called Montant). The new home was a dug out cave. Later a small house was built. Dennis farmed in the summer, and in the winter walked five or six miles each morning to work in the coal mines.

Dennis and Hannah were thrifty, hard working people, honest and very conscientious. They prospered and were able to accumulate ownership of several farms.

In 1890 Dennis and Hannah moved into Boone. They had scarcely settled into their new home, when Dennis died, at the age of 86 years. Hannah died in 1903. Their nine children included Sarah who later married Cornelius Jordan.

Served in Civil War

On the Jordan side of the family Cornelius Jordan, the fifth son of Richard and Martha Ellen Hickey Jordan born April 2, 1846 in Kenosha, Wisc. At the age of 17 he enlisted in the Civil War, serving as a private in Company B of the 17th Regiment of Wisconsin. At the close of the war he was liberated from the Libbyville prison and transferred to a recuperating center in Texas.

In the year 1867 or 1868 he enlisted as a Government Independent Scout using the name of Bolleen and was sent to Fort Laramie then in Dakota Territory. From there he traveled to Fort Fetterman on the Platte River west of what is now the Town of Douglas. He also scouted during the building of the Union Pacific Railroad. He was sent from Fort Fetterman to Fort Abies on the Red River there he met his brother Peter, who had been a teamster under General Custer. Cornelius and Peter returned to the

What do we make of Jesus?

What are we to make of Jesus Christ?

This question is often stated thus: "I think Jesus was a great moral teacher but I don't see why Christians make so much of Him?" Many people, even anti-God people hold this sort of view of Jesus Christ; they support His teach-

Jews. They were asking Him who He was — He replied "before Abraham was born, I am" (John 8:58). That statement "I am" was the most holy name for God. The Jews had NO question in their minds who He was claiming to be, here in their response: "Therefore they picked up stones to throw at Him."

Church bazaar
