from the second Nathaniel, five generations, into the sixth, have occupied this homestead, during a period, probably, of over one hundred and twenty-five years.

Homestead number nineteen. Capt. John King, born in England, in 1629, crossed the ocean at the age of sixteen, viz.: in 1645. Married, Nov. 18th, 1656, Sarah, daughter of Dea. William Holton, the first deacon at the organization of the church in Northampton. This was the second marriage in the settlement. Their children numbered twelve. Capt. John's homestead, granted him by the town in 1660, stood on King street, and continued in that family, then of the Dwights, (Mrs. Col. Timothy Dwight was Experience King, who, on the division of the estate, received that homestead of her ancestors as her portion) in all some five generations, covering a period little short of one hundred and fifty years, 1660-1807. Capt. John originated in Northampton, England. At his suggestion, or in honor of him, it is thought the town took its name, Northampton, being the first so called this side of the water. By occupation a tanner, an estimable member of the community and of the church, often serving as selectman, he lived forty-three years on the homestead, 1660-1703, into his seventy-fifth year, succeeded by his oldest child, born in 1657, Lieut. John, whose wife, Mehitable, was a daughter of Dea. Medad Pomeroy. He deceased in 1720. She survived him and lived until her ninetieth year, in 1755. The third in the line of descent, and the third John, youngest of the foregoing, survived his father twenty-five years in 1745, when he deceased, without children, and without a will. A division of the estate ensued, and, as already stated, the homestead passed into the possession of Col. Timothy Dwight's family. Their son, Major Timothy, who married Mary, daughter of the distinguished Rev. Jonathan Edwards, next occupied the homestead, built the present residence, where his thirteen children were born, and where his widow lived after his decease, in 1777, thirty years, until 1807. This ancient homestead of the Kings and the Dwights possesses more than usual historic interest.

Homestead number twenty. Nathaniel Dwight, ancestor of many of the Dwights, lived on Market street. Born in 1606, in Dedham; married in 1623, in Hatfield, a daughter of Col. Partridge; settled about 1695, in Northampton, where he lived for the last sixteen years of his life, a trader, farmer, justice of the peace, a land surveyor on a large scale, a decidedly religious man. His eleven children, of which Col. Timothy was the oldest, were born on Market street. He died suddenly in 1711, when at West Springfield on business; his grave was the oldest in the ancient burying ground of that town. His wife survived him forty-five years, from her thirty-seventh to her eighty-second year, 1756, sixty-one years from the time the family settled in Northampton. As their son, Col. Timothy's homestead, corner of Market and Walnut streets, was separate from his father Nathaniel's, having come to him through his mother and grandfather, Col. Partridge of Hatfield, where he lived many years, and died in 1771, the writer will omit the subsequent history, of some twenty years, and devote the space to the last occupant of the old place, viz.: Erastus Dwight, of the fourth generation, third son of Major Timothy, born in 1756. There is a melancholy story associated with this name, dating in its origin back to the commencement of the revolution, when he had attained the age of manhood. He was strongly in sympathy with the mother country, "got mad," it is said, and never got over it. Being in the hayfield at work, when the news of his father's death reached Northampton, in the summer of 1777, on hearing it, he threw up his pitchfork into the air and exclaimed, "Then are we all dead," referring to his father's numerous family. By a series of untoward events, the strong impulses of his nature having been unfavorably wrought upon, this young man, a member of Yale college, in the second year, lost his mental balance, and never recovered it afterward. For forty-four years, 1777-1821, he lived entirely by himself in the house of his great-grandfather Nathaniel. He came regularly each night to his mother's, on King street, for his food after the family had retired to rest—an outer door being left purposely unlocked, and a careful provision for his wants being always in readiness for him on the table. After his mother's decease, says the account, he resorted with like regularity to his brother Cecil's, and found there, 1807-1821, a similar remembrance always of his necessities. He died Feb. 14th, 1821, unexpectedly to his friends, and alone by himself as he had lived, found dead in his bed. Such is the sad story. The homestead of Nathaniel Dwight continued in the family at least one hundred and twenty-six years, 1695-1821. It may be added that the first one in Northampton to have a sleigh, not a pleasure sleigh, none such existed, was Nathaniel Dwight, the trader and surveyor, having, it is said, plank runners.

Homestead number twenty-one. Lt. Ebenezer Clark, the third son of the first Dea. John, the home-lot being part of the twelve acres the town gave Lt. William on his joining the settlement in 1659. Ebenezer's house was the second one built by Lt. William, the first, a log structure, set on fire by his negro servant Jack, in 1681. He married, in 1712, Abigail, the daughter of Esq. Joseph Parsons. Lived, after his marriage, on the homestead, where his eight children were born, a few months short of seventy years. In respect of longevity, but few men born in Northampton surpassed him. He lacked a year or so of attaining the full number of one hundred. At the age of fifty, in 1731, served the town as selectman. Of his six sons, Elihu, the youngest, succeeded to the homestead. Married, at the age of thirty-four, in 1765, Martha, daughter of Samuel Mather, probably the same as the physician. Lived but twelve years after his marriage, and deceased in 1777, four years previous to his venerable father. Elihu, his son, next lived on the place, until 1815, leaving several children, having reached about the same age as his father. His widow occupied the homestead until her son Elihu became twenty-one, when he purchased the property. In 1826, Judge Dewey moved to Northampton, bought this place, erected his own house on or near the site where the old one stood. From Lt. Ebenezer it had descended to the fourth generation, and continued in that line, 1712-1826, one hundred and fourteen years.

Homestead number twenty-two. Noah Clark, the ninth child and fifth son of the first Dea. John. Born in 1694, married at the age of twenty-four, in 1718, Eunice Dickenson of Hatfield. Lived a near neighbor of his brother, the preceding Ebenezer, fifty-eight years. His homestead was at the top of the hill above the Baptist meeting house. He died at the age of eighty-two, younger than either of the six brothers. Silas, his fourth son, born in 1729, next took the place, in 1756, being the year of his marriage. Whole number of his children, twelve. His wife, Elizabeth, daughter of Jonathan Strong, descended from Elder John. The foregoing Jonathan Strong was the first tythingman chosen in Northampton, viz.: in 1761. He occupied a conspicuous

King, Deacon Hezekiah, of Dutchess County, New York, and estate in Sharon, Conn., 1703-03-08. Inventory taken 19 December, 1740, by Jabez Crippen and James Smith, appointed and chosen by Samuel King, son of sd. deceased and executor. Estate in Tolland, Bolton, and at Hockanum, 1231-17-06. Taken 19 November, 1740, by Nathaniel Allis and Benjamin Talcott, being appointed and chosen by Samuel King, son of sd. deceased, male executor of his last will. Will dated 8 October, 1740.

I, Hezekiah King, of Dutchess County, in the Province of New York: I will that my wife Sarah, with my son Samuel, with the help and assistance of Capt. Jonathan Dunham of Sharon, shall be executors. I give to my wife Sarah all my household goods, a yoke of oxen and three cows forever; also the improvement of my land in Bolton. To my eldest son Hezekiah I have already given by deed of gift. I give to my son Samuel the half of a six schore acre lott in Sharon, which is my home lot, to take his choice in it, the other half my executors to sell for the payment of £4 to my eldest daughter Sarah, to Esther £12, to Mary £20, and to Bathsheba £20, these sums to be the remaining portions of my estate to each of sd. daughters added to what they have already received. The remainder of the money sd. land shall be sold for to be for the payment of my debts. I give to my two youngest sons, William and John, my land in Bolton after their mother's decease, they to pay to their youngest sisters, Mary and Alice, £20 apiece. All notes of hand due to me I order my executors to make use of for the payment of my debts. And as to the place I now live upon, I give my wife the improvement of it so long as she is pleased to live upon it, and my interest shall hold good. If she move, then my interest to Samuel. My right of land in Sharon not already laid out I order my executors to dispose of for the payment of my obligations to the Country. I give all the overplus to my wife and my son Samuel, only I oblige them to reward Capt. Dunham for his service and help.

Witness: Samuel Chapman,
Joseph Parke, Alexander Spencer.

Inventory taken 19 December, 1740, by Jabez Crippen and James Smith, appointed and chosen by Samuel King, son of sd. deceased and executor. Estate in Tolland, Bolton, and at Hockanum, 1231-17-06. The remainder of the money sd. land shall be sold for to be for the payment of my debts. I give to my two youngest sons, William and John, my land in Bolton after their mother's decease, they to pay to their youngest sisters, Mary and Alice, £20 apiece. And as to the place I now live upon, I give my wife the improvement of it so long as she is pleased to live upon it, and my interest shall hold good. If she move, then my interest to Samuel. My right of land in Sharon not already laid out I order my executors to dispose of for the payment of my obligations to the Country. I give all the overplus to my wife and my son Samuel, only I oblige them to reward Capt. Dunham for his service and help.

Nehemiah, b. 1717.

Ruth, b. 7 Mar. 1722; probably m. 21 Aug. 1736, Nehemiah White of Weymouth.

JOHN KING of Weymouth, yeoman, made his will 13 Jan. 1755, and it was proved at Boston, 6 Feb. 1756. To his wife (not named) he gave his whole estate. To Jonathan Hollis, son of Thomas Hollis, one-half of his real estate at decease of his wife. To Thomas Hollis, son of Thomas Hollis, the other half. To Abiezer Holbrook, Jr., £10 in lieu of indentures to teach him the trade of a cordwainer. His wife and his friend, Thomas Hollis, to be executors. Witnesses: Job Nash, Zachariah Shaw and Eben' White. Administration to his widow and Thomas Hollis was granted 6 Feb. 1756. (Suffolk Probate Records, 51: 101.)

Martha King of Weymouth, widow, made her will 7 Feb. 1757, bequeathing to Jonathan Hollis and Thomas Hollis, Jr., her estate. Witnesses: Eben' Clark, Eben' Hollis and James Clark. Probated at Boston, 4 Mar. 1757, at which time James Clark was absent. Inventory of estate of John King taken at Weymouth, Feb. 1756; total, £262 5s. (Suffolk Probate Records, 52: 171, 173.)

He entered his intention at Weymouth, 5 Feb. 1713, with Martha Vinson. They evidently had no surviving children.

Child, born at Weymouth:

Martha, b. 12 Sept. 1716; d. before 1756.

WILLIAM KING, aged 40, Dorothy —, his wife, aged 34, Mary, his daughter, aged 12, Katheryn, aged 10, Hannah, aged 6, and William, his son, aged 8 years, sailed from Weymouth in Dorset on or near 20 Mar. 1634-35, in Rev. Joseph Hull's Company, and arrived at Dorchester 7 June, 1635. As there is no reference to his name in the Weymouth Land Grants or other Weymouth records it is apparent that he did not settle there. He evidently settled in Salem, and there died shortly before 25 Feb. 1650-51. The settlement of his estate shows that he had a widow, Dorothe Kinge; an eldest son, William; a second son, Samuel, then 18 years of age; a third son John, aged 13, a daughter, Mary, then wife of John Scudder; a second daughter, Katherine, then wife of John Swaysy; a third daughter, Hannah; a fourth daughter Mehitabel, aged 15; and a fifth daughter, Deliverance, aged 9. (Records of the Quarterly Courts of Essex County, 1: 206.)

It has been conjectured that he came from Sherborne in Dorset. The baptisms, marriages and burials of all Kings in that parish from 1545 to 1695 were published in Notes and Queries for Somerset and Dorset, 3: 144-146, and they show that one William King married there, 17 Feb. 1616-17, Dorothy Hayne, but no positive proof has been found showing that these were the identical persons who came in Hull's Company. (Notes and Queries for Somerset and Dorset, 358; 11: 87.)

Dear Sir,

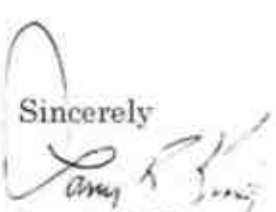

Recently I finished publishing a book on my family history called, "Kings of the Kingdom" which I believe would have value to your library. This is a family history about the Thomas Rice King family who joined the Mormon Church in New York, lived in Nauvoo, Illinois, helped settle Fillmore, Utah, and then was called by Brigham Young to move to Circle Valley, in Piute County, Utah. Here he and his family created the Kingston communal United Order, a tiny settlement of about 250 people before the order was terminated, leaving as a remembrance the small Utah community of Kingston. During the time of the United Order, the Kings were considered a strong-willed and forceful family and often referred too by others as the "Kings of the Kingdom", thus the name of the book. From this family came such notables as William H. King, U.S. Senator from Utah 1916 - 1940, Murray Edwin King, prominent writer for socialism, and Culbert Olson, Governor of California 1940 - 1944.

"Kings of the Kingdom is a hard bound edition, and has over 220 pages with 118 maps illustrations, and pictures. It is complete with footnotes, references, and index. For your convenience enclosed is an order form. The cost is $39.50 which includes all shipping and handling charges.

I believe you will find the book of interest by many of your patrons. Some of the comments of others who have read the book are also attached.

Thanks for your consideration.

Sincerely

Larry R. King

Comments about the book, "Kings of the Kingdom."

"Congratulations on your literary work The Kings of the Kingdom. I deem it a masterpiece. I know that its composition entailed an enormous amount of research. It was tedious, and sometimes not very much fun, but the results made the effort worthwhile, many times over. The things you said needed to be said, and all the many hundreds of living descendants of Thomas Rice King (perhaps thousands) are indebted to you for having said them."

David S. King
Former U.S. Congressman

"After typing King family genealogy for my mother, Nellie E. Bertelsen, for many years I was delighted to see The Kings of the Kingdom become a reality. Larry has made a great contribution to our family by putting so much of his time into this family heritage history. The book should be in every King descendant's home."

Delora Bertelsen
Mayor, Springville, Utah

"It is with pleasure that I recommend to all members of the King family and to others interested in the history of Utah in this centennial year your book The Kings of the Kingdom. I am familiar with the history of the Kings in Fillmore, in the United Order at Kingston, and in Antimony, and your book preserves an accurate record which would be invaluable to the members of the King family and to others interested in Southern Utah history. In my opinion, you tell it as it is. I recommend your book to all those interested in Southern Utah and the King family history."

Dwight L. King
Attorney at Law, Salt Lake City, Utah

"My husband and I have devoured your book about the Kings. We recognize the years that you put into this project and have become more than your cheerleaders — we are grateful kin. Words cannot express our appreciation for your scholarship and your willingness to compile such an impressive volume. Our only regret is, we wish you were related to each of our ancestors. Thank you again for your exceptional work."

Susan Easton Black
University History Professor & Author

"I have really enjoyed your book. It gave me insight into the Family that I did not comprehend before I had an opportunity to read it. I can see now that I sadly lacked this understanding of the 'Kingdom'. Thank you for your hard work and dedication in creating such an heirloom."

Wayne F. King
Attorney at Law, Burbank, California

Believe this to be Hogbein's Will King's (1690) son Hogbein's Will of Orange County, California.
Copied from manuscript at

With a valuable historical appendix, in which is included a funeral discourse by the author, on the death of the Rev. Benjamin Birge, 1820.

AUTHORITIES.

Beardley, Hist. of the Episcopal Church in Conn., II, 38, 39. Pres. Litchfield, 116.
Stiles, Literary Diary, III, 440.

PHILIP DOWDRIDGE KETELTAS, the next to the youngest of eleven children of the Rev. Abraham Keteltas (Yale 1752), was born in Jamaica, Long Island, on December 7, 1771.

Immediately after graduation he began the study of medicine with Dr. Nicholas Romeyn, of New York City; and after a thorough preparation he established himself in 1795 in practice in New Rochelle, New York.

On May 7, 1795, he was married by the Rev. Theodosius Bartow, to Lavinia Gedney, of New Rochelle, and he then removed to the City of New York, where he practiced physic for more than forty years with distinguished success.

By his first wife he had two daughters and one son who grew to maturity; and by a second wife, Mary W. Allen, a son and a daughter. His elder son entered the Class of 1822 at Yale, but withdrew after two years and was graduated at Union College in the corresponding class; he was admitted to an honorary degree here in 1870.

During the summer of 1844 the health of Dr. Keteltas rapidly declined, and he lingered in great debility until his death, at his home in New York, in christian hope, on February 16, 1845, in his 74th year.

NATHANIEL KING was born on December 26, 1767, in Amenia, Dutchess County, New York, the only son of Lieutenant Samuel King, an extensive farmer of Amenia, and son of Hezekiah King (who removed early in life from Boston, Massachusetts, to Bolton, Connecticut) and Sarah King. His mother, Rebekah Thompson, was the daughter of Amos and Sarah (Alling) Thompson, of New Haven.

His father died in 1784, and he was subsequently fitted for College, in part by his uncle, the Rev. Amos Thompson (Princeton College 1760), pastor of the Congregational Church in North Canaan, Connecticut, and in part in the Academy at Sharon, Connecticut, under John Thompson Peters (Yale 1789). He entered in December, 1791.

After graduation he studied law in the office of Ambrose Spencer (Harvard 1783), of Hudson, New York, and with Jacob R. VanRensselaer (Yale 1786), of Claverack, New York, and Moss Kent, younger brother of Chancellor Kent.

Being admitted to practice, he settled in February, 1797, in the village of Hamilton, now in Madison County, New York, where he remained until his death, on July 28, 1848, in his 81st year.

He maintained the reputation of an honest lawyer, whose controlling desire was to give furtherance to justice.

He was three times a member of the New York State Assembly (in 1798-1800, and 1802); and was a Brigadier-General of the Militia from 1807 to 1811.

General King first married, on December 15, 1803, Ottilia Mayer, of Hamilton, who bore him four sons, two of whom died in infancy, and three daughters.

After her death he married, on September 19, 1816, Mary Bates, of Paris, New York, who had one son.

He married thirdly, on November 22, 1818, Mrs. Elizabeth Tefft, of Hamilton, by whom he had two sons and one daughter.

Three of the sons entered their father's profession.

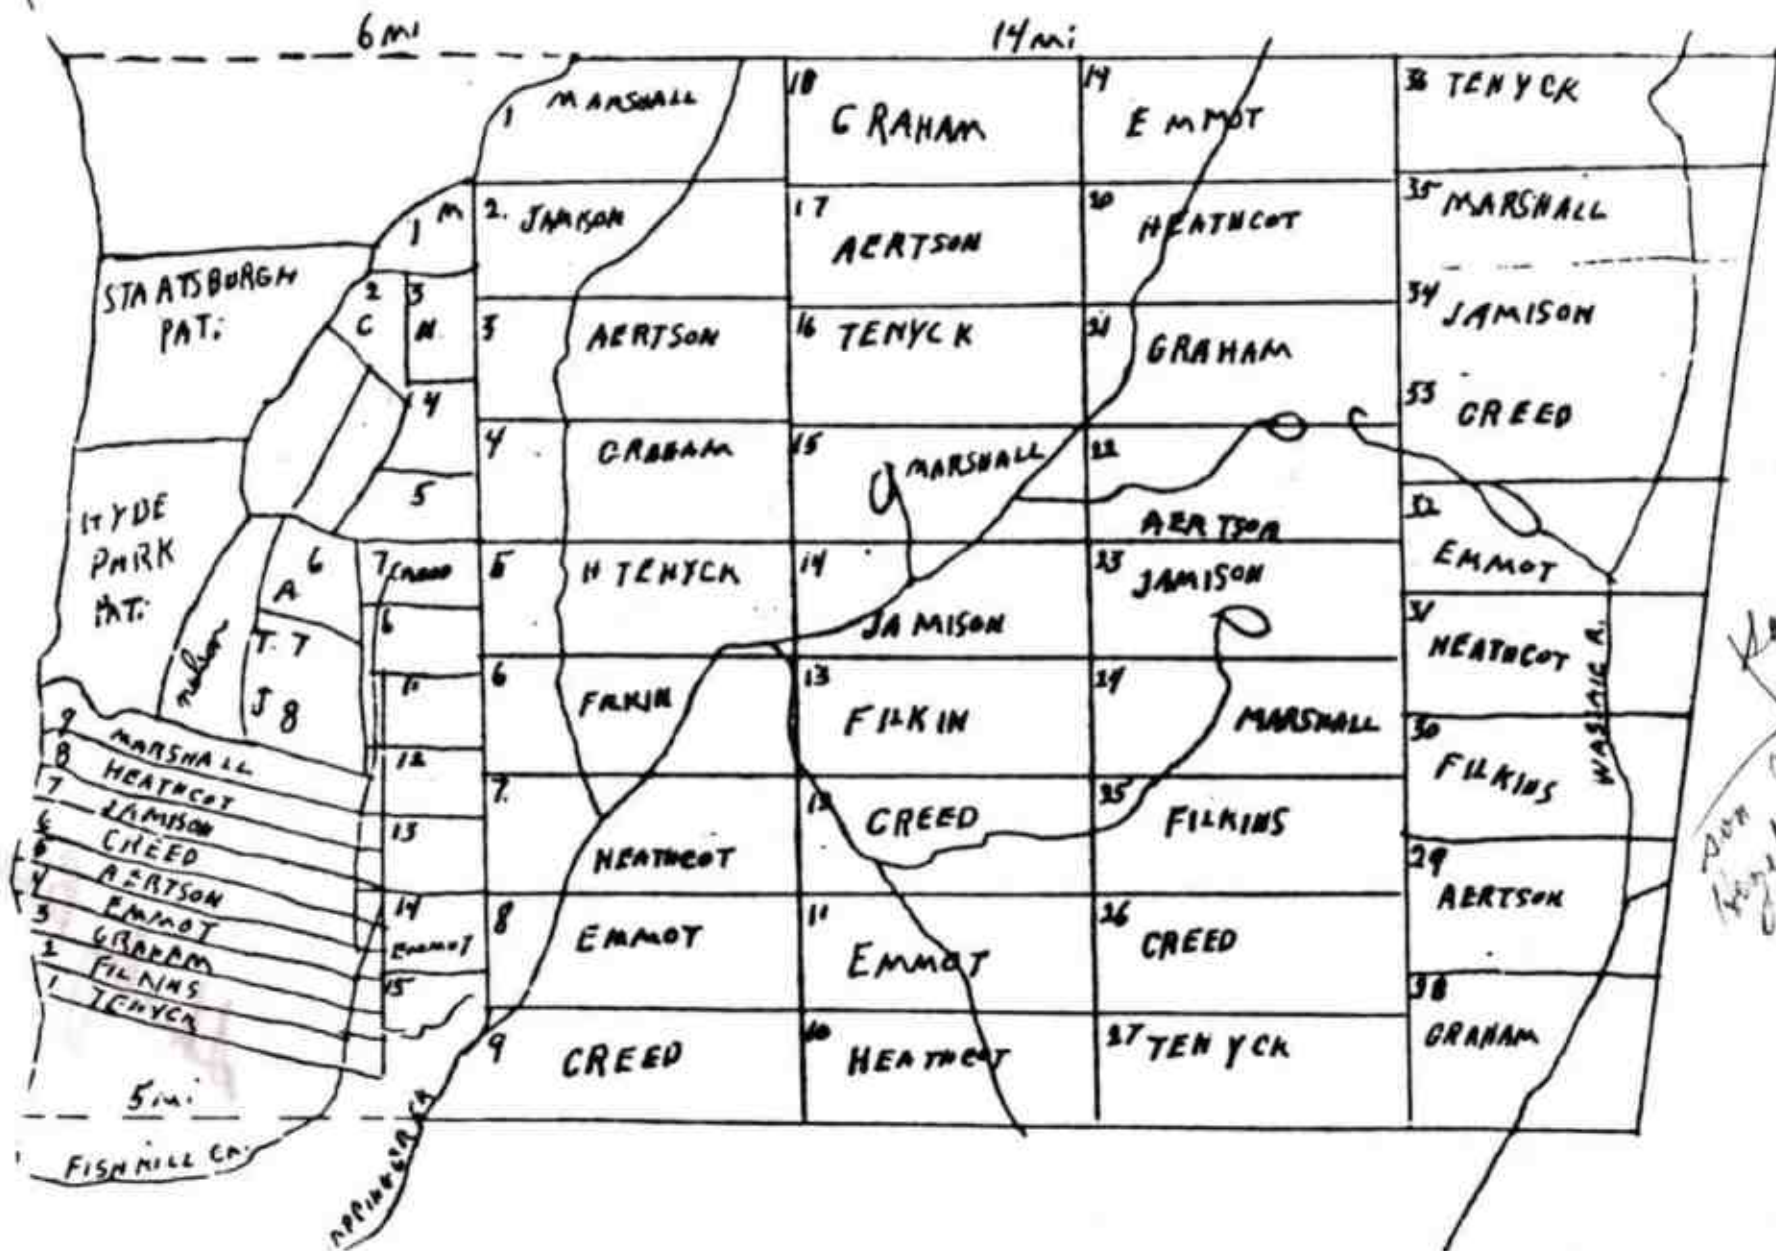

SAMUEL LATHROP, the sixth son and child of the Rev. Dr. Joseph Lathrop (Yale 1754), of West Springfield, Massachusetts, was born on May 1, 1772. He was pre-

THE KING FAMILY

From the year 1634, or an earlier date, immigrants by the name of King, or Kyng, have continued to arrive in America. A large list is given in Savage's Genealogical Dictionary of New England, and in the New England History and Genealogical Register, and also in other publications.

Captain John King, tradition says, was born in Northampton, England, in 1629. At the age of 16, in 1645, he came to Northampton, Mass.* He married, November 18, 1653, Sarah Holton, daughter of Deacon William Holton, of Northampton. This was the second marriage in town; they had 12 children. The town granted him a homestead on King* street. At his suggestion, or in honor of him, it is thought, the town took its name. He was a tanner by trade, an estimable member of the church and the community, often serving as selectman. He lived 48 years on the homestead, from 1660 to 1708, and was succeeded by his eldest son John, born 1657, whose wife was Mehitable, daughter of Medad Pomeroy. Sarah Holton King died May 8, 1683. John King's second wife was Sarah, widow of Jacob Mygatt, and daughter of Wm. Whiting. John King died Dec. 3, 1703, aged 74 years. Sarah died in Windsor, Conn. 1705.

Jonathan King<sup>2</sup> ( John<sup>1</sup> ) born April 25, 1683, at Northampton, Mass. Married Mary French, daughter of Thomas and Mary French, of Deerfield, Mass., April 3, 1711. At the burning of Deerfield, Feb. 29, 1704, during the French and Indian war, Mary French, aged 9 years, was taken captive by the Indians. She was carried to Canada, baptized at Montreal April 6, 1706, and was redeemed by Ensign Sheldon in that year. She used, in after years, to relate to her children her experiences, living upon ground-nuts, &c., while with the savages, who, however, were kind to her.*

Jonathan King, of Northampton, county of Hampshire, province of Massachusetts Bay, bought of Hezekiah King, of Bolton, county of Hartford, Colony of Connecticut, for "two hundred pounds covenant money," "one parcel of land containing nineteen acres," another "parcel of thirty-three acres," March 28, 1727, "in the thirteenth year of His Majesty's Reigne." He deeded the home lot in Bolton to his son Gideon, who deeded it to his brother Seth Sept. 24, 1760, "in the reign of our Sovereign Lord George III. of Great Britain." Seth King sold the old homestead for sixty-three pounds to Elijah Hammond. The King farm is situated in Vernon, formerly part of Bolton, between the Center and depot, on the New England railroad.

Jonathan and Mary King brought letters to the church in Bolton during the ministry of Rev. Thomas White, who was ordained there in 1725. Jonathan was one of the selectmen of Bolton in 1728.

Mary French King died at Bolton March 24, 1758, in the 72d year of her age.

*Thomas French, of Northampton, Mass., son of John of the same, married, 1683, Mary, daughter of John Catlin, of Hartford, settled at Deerfield, had seven children, of whom, in the assault, February 29, 1704, by the French and Indians, one was killed, five others, with himself and wife, were carried off to Canada. On the way, however, the wife was killed, and he brought back only two children. He was deacon and died April 5, 1738. John French, of Northampton, came about 1676 from Rehoboth; wife, daughter of John Kingsley; children, John, Thomas, Samuel, Jonathan, Mary, Hannah, Elizabeth. Perhaps he was son of John, of Dorchester. Certain he died February 1, 1697.—SAVAGE'S GENEALOGICAL DICTIONARY.

Jonathan King died at Bolton June 10, 1774, in the 92d year of his age.

Gideon King<sup>3</sup> ( John<sup>1</sup> Jonathan<sup>2</sup> ) born 1729, Bolton, Conn., married Charity Tucker, of Bolton. She is said to have been six feet tall.

The family removed from the old homestead of Jonathan King to Town Hill, New Hartford, Conn. A warrant deed was given Gideon King April 6, 1797; also, later, a deed from the town of New Hartford. This homestead, quitclaimed by heirs to Plato King, was described as follows: "Bounded west on highway, north on land of Proserpina Goodwin and Grove L. Marsh, south partly on Meeting House Green and land of Charles D. Kellogg, east on land of Plato King, containing thirty acres on a line parallel with the highway on west side of said lot, with the buildings thereon." The quitclaim of Salmon King was dated May 15, 1810, at Vernon (once Bolton) before Oliver King, Justice of the Peace. Witnesses, Oliver King and Francis King. Plato sold the homestead to Edw. Bolles and Albert Day, of Hartford, for $1200, May 19, 1834. The same premises were deeded to Douglass Williams August 29, 1834. The latter sold the old house to Henry A. Kellogg, who occupied it several years, when he removed to his present residence and tore down the old one. Mr. Kellogg still preserves a portion of the old "King House," which is attached to his barn, some of the lath and plastering still remaining upon it.

He married Mary Adams Isham (usually called Polly) of Marlborough, Conn., February 18, 1801. She was born February 19, 1776.

She was "a woman of thoughtful mind and earnest Christian life." She died "most happily" January 1, 1809. Her grave is in the East Cemetery in Manchester, a few feet from the entrance.

Mr. King married, for his second wife, Mary, daughter of John and Abigail (Butler) Ames,* of Wethersfield, Conn. She was born January 5, 1780, and died at Warren, Penn., September 15, 1821.

Mr. King was dismissed from the pastorate at Orford October 25, 1808, and was installed in Greensboro, Vt., July 11, 1810. He was dismissed from Greensboro January 26, 1814, and removed to Warren, Bradford Co., Penn. He married, for his third wife, Mrs. Eunice Talmadge, of Albany, N. Y., May 28, 1822. She was born at Woodbury, Conn.; her maiden name was Hinman.

Mr. King gathered a church at Warren, with which his ministry continued twenty five years, until his death April 15, 1839, at the age of 68.

The following extract is from a historical address by Rev. S. W. Robbins, at the celebration of the one-hundredth anniversary of the organization of the First Church of Christ, in Manchester, Conn., in 1879:

At the time of Mr. King's removal to Pennsylvania the northern part of the State was sparsely settled, and the pastor shared with his people the inconvenience of a home in the wilderness. There were no roads, and wheel-vehicles were curiosities. On alternate Sabbaths the pastor rode ten miles on horseback, the way being indicated by marked trees, to preach in another town. From the two towns a church of eight members was gathered, and services were held first in a log school-house, then in a frame school-house, until finally a church was erected in which he continued to minister until called to a better country. An address by a pastor in Warren, containing reminiscences of the early history of that church and from which I gather these facts, speaks of Mr. King as a plain, primitive man, somewhat eccentric. His talents, piety, and worth placed him on an eminence. He was remarkable in particular for his prompt performance of duty. No weather kept him from the place of meeting. He would sometimes remark, after a stormy Sabbath, "We had a good meeting." "Who were there?" "The Lord and Mr. King." Even when enfeebled by his last sickness he desired to be carried to the church, that he might once more stand up in his place and speak in the name of Christ. His labors, continued thus to the end of life, were rewarded with a good measure of success. His tombstone bears these lines, which were found among his papers:

There have been some 22,000 of the name in the United States, and a large percentage of them, perhaps one fourth, have dropped the initial E, and call themselves Ames, though they are distinctly separate from the Ames family proper. The name began to be so mutilated more than 150 years ago. Mary Ames was descended from Anthony Eames, who moved from Marshfield, Mass., to Voluntown, Conn.—AZEL AMES, CHELSEA, MASS.

In yonder sacred house I spent my breath,
Now silent mouldering here I lie in death;
These silent lips shall wake and yet declare
A dread Amen to truths they published there.

KING HERALDRY

In the floor of St. George's Church, Basseterre, on the Island of St. Kitts, W. I., is a gravestone with the following inscription: "Here lies Interred the Body of Benjamin King of this Island, Esqr., who departed this Life * * * of Dec., Anno Domini, 17** in the Forty fifth Year of his age." This stone bears a heraldic device which, though much defaced by time and the fire which devastated Basseterre many years ago, may be easily deciphered as having on the shield a lion rampant, between crosses crosslet, and a crest, a demi ostrich rising out of a coronet.

The stone was examined and the inscription and arms copied by Harrison Ellery, Esq., of Boston, while on a visit to the West Indies a few years ago. It was also photographed by Mr. C. C. Lyon of St. Kitts, in 1890, and copies were sent to the writer. The arms in question are those of King of Devonshire and Torkester, Co. North., as given in Burke's General Armory, viz.: "Sable, a lion rampant or, crowned argent, between three cross crosslets or. Crest, out of a ducal coronet or, a demi ostrich argent, wings endorsed, beak of the first.
