

Dr. Henry Ricketts Palmer.

Mrs. Eldridge has provided information concerning the families, and the books that have been written of them: "The National Bank of Monmouth — 1870-1970"; "The Tubbs Family and a Century of Banking — 1875-1975"; "Henry Tubbs Ricketts — 1901-1979"; and "Elisabeth Ricketts Palmer."

Dr. Palmer was considered one of the giants of internal medicine and gastroenterology.

His research established that acid secretion, not gastric contractions, caused the pain associated with ulcers, a finding that changed the way ulcers have been treated.

Dr. Palmer represented the last of his generation. The century and a half odyssey of the Tubbs, Ricketts, and Palmer families' journey through life is now complete.

Their uncommon contributions to their fellow man in their various endeavors will live forever in the hearts and minds of those who were privileged to know them.

Contributors to this column were Jane Zimmer Swanson (niece of John Zimmer, National Bank President), Cynthia Rawson Gillen (great granddaughter of Willard C. Tubbs, National Bank President), Mrs. Glenn Smith, Linda Schantz, and Robert Forman.

They remembered Mrs. Myra Ricketts as a warm and wonderful person who was always willing to do things for you, with fine manners and politeness.

Dr. and Mrs. Palmer were remembered as being interested in other people, being kind, caring, good neighbors and people who firmly believed in conservation and the wise use of land.

As you drive by the beautiful, ancestral home in Kirkwood on Cherry Street, pause and think of the wonderful asset they have been to Warren County, and to the world of medicine, banking, business and agriculture.

Earp marker to be placed in Monmouth Park; TBS featuring Earp on Dec. 15

The Illinois State Historical Society has approved the casting of a state marker for Wyatt Earp, internationally known lawman of the Old West, who was born in Monmouth on March 19, 1848. It will be placed at Monmouth Park next to the large, granite monument placed there in the 1950's, across from the ball diamond.

The Illinois Department of Transportation, which jointly administers the program, will put up brown "Historic Marker" signs on the state highway, directing tourists to the marker.

The Wyatt Earp Birthplace Association applied for the $950 matching grant marker in 1991. Only 5 matching grants were awarded in 1991-92. A presentation was made in Springfield in 1992 before the Historical Markers Committee by Robert and Melba Matson.

The signs should also increase tourism stopovers into the city. Additional directional signs will be needed to direct tourists to the birthplace from the park to East Broadway.

The Midwest Living magazine requested information for the birthday celebration in March.

TBS's documentary series, "The Untold West," December 15, will include information on Wyatt and Josephine Earp Marcus, who became his wife.

Tour visitors from Ireland were given special tours of the birthplace and Monmouth by Verne Barnes and Jeff Rankin.

Palmer death marks end of an era in Warren County's history

By BOB MATSON
Special to the Review Atlas

Dr. Walter Lincoln Palmer, 97, professor emeritus of medicine at the University of Chicago Medical Center, will be buried Sunday in Center Grove Cemetery in Kirkwood, among family members of the Tubbs, Ricketts and Palmer families, who were early Warren County residents.

Dr. Palmer was the husband of Elisabeth Ricketts, who was the daughter of Dr. Howard Taylor and Myra Tubbs Ricketts, and the granddaughter of Dr. Henry and Emily Underhill Tubbs.

The story begins in upper New York in 1882, when Dr. Henry Tubbs was born. He taught school — "read medicine" as it was called — obtained a medical diploma from a small college in Georgia and then became an itinerant, circuit riding doctor. He eventually developed a large practice in Cleveland, Ohio.

In 1858, Dr. Tubbs migrated to western Illinois to join his family in Kirkwood, which was incorporated in 1865 as Young America.

Illness had forced him to give up circuit riding, but he retained an active interest in medicine.

Dr. Tubbs assisted his family on the farm; soon he was not strong enough to continue. This was during the time his younger brother left for the service during the Civil War. Dr. Tubbs, as he was still called, became a partner in the hardware business of Tubbs and Sofield, for nine years, that catered to the special needs of farmers. With the profits he made from this business, he established a private bank in 1874, which became the First National Bank of Kirkwood in 1875.

In 1884, Dr. Tubbs purchased over one-fourth of the capital stock in the Monmouth National Bank. He was elected president and served in that office until his death in 1899. In 1899, the bank was a charter member of the Warren County Library.

Until Dr. Tubbs married at age 46, he had employed many of his brother James' children in the banks he administered. He had carried the Kirkwood, Alexis, and Monmouth banks safely through the long, severe depression of the Nineties.

His wife was Emily Underhill, and they had three children: Rolla, Myra, and George (Shirley). Both sons died at an early age. Rolla, 19, died of typhoid fever at the University of Illinois, and Shirley, 33, president of the Monmouth bank for five years, died in Bombay, India, while traveling around the world with his wife and cousin, Arthur Tubbs, in 1921.

His nephew, Willard C. Tubbs, then became president of both the Kirkwood and Monmouth banks. The new Monmouth bank building was erected on the site of the old bank in 1916. His hearse was the first to travel over the first hard road he helped to obtain in this county, from South Main Street to Kirkwood, over the "Blue Grass Trail."

At the time of his death, Dr. Henry Tubbs's daughter, Myra Tubbs Ricketts, became a director of both banks and assumed the presidency of the Kirkwood bank for five years, until Ray Tubbs became president.

Perhaps because she lived around here longer than others, the name of Myra Tubbs Ricketts is best known.

She was born in Kirkwood in 1871, graduated from Northwestern University and in 1900 married a Chicago doctor, Dr. Howard Tubbs Ricketts, who was a professor at the University of Chicago.

Dr. Ricketts discovered the virus-like bacteria that cause Rocky Mountain Spotted Fever and that causes Typhus — the Rickettsia, named for him. Dr. Ricketts died of Typhus in 1910, while studying in Mexico City.

They had two children, Elisabeth Ricketts (Mrs. Walter L. Palmer) and Dr. Henry Tubbs Ricketts.

While serving as the Kirkwood bank president, Mrs. Ricketts had to attend farm sales in the 1930's, during the Depression, sometimes with her cousin, Glenn Smith, to bid for the banks to recover the face value of the mortgage loans. Art Tubbs was president of the Monmouth Bank, and refused to accept some of the Kirkwood "paper."

Mrs. Ricketts stated that "no one would ever lose a dollar in a Tubbs bank." And no one ever did, because she signed over her personal bonds as security for the poor loans. The Kirkwood Bank had taken in three troubled banks, and was itself taken in by the Monmouth Bank.

Myra Tubbs Ricketts was a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma, and was instrumental in re-establishing a KKG chapter at Monmouth College, where the sorority was founded.

In 1945, Mrs. Ricketts furnished the medical library room at Monmouth Hospital in memory of her father, Dr. Henry Tubbs.

Myra Tubbs Ricketts lost her husband at the age of 39, cared for her mother until her mother was 89, cared for the communities, and the family business. She died in 1953.

Their son, Dr. Henry Tubbs Ricketts, served forty years as a Director of the National Bank in Monmouth.

He was born in 1901 and died in 1979. He graduated from the University of Chicago and received his M.D. at Harvard.

He became a professor of medicine at the University of Chicago; endocrinology was his specialty, and he was the University's expert on the treatment of Diabetes Mellitus.

Their daughter, Elisabeth Ricketts Palmer, was born in Chicago in 1903, and was educated in Kirkwood, Chicago, and graduated from Vassar College.

She also worked for a year or more in the National Bank of Monmouth, and was married in 1926 to Walter L. Palmer in the family home in Kirkwood, where her parents were married. Mrs. Palmer died in 1981.

When I was chairman of the Bicentennial, Mrs. Palmer donated $1,000 for the Monmouth Bicentennial Fourth of July Fireworks Celebration at the time of a wedding in the family, which she also wanted to celebrate.

They had four children: Dr. Robert Howard Palmer, Dr. Donald Walter Palmer, Mrs. Elisabeth Eldridge, and

Making their way from Cumberland County, Pennsylvania through Carroll County, Ohio, the Longs who came to settle in Owen County married into the Fulk, Fiscus, Arney, Abrell, Norris, and other well-known families of Jefferson Township. Solomon was a son of John Long, Sr. who was born January 15, 1774 in Cumberland County, Pennsylvania. Solomon married Christina Mick. Their son Eli, born January 17, 1840 in Augusta Township, Carroll County, Ohio is shown in the picture at right with his wife Mahulda "Hulda" Fulk, born January 17, 1840. Written in pencil on the back of the photograph is simply "Eli Long and wife and Jim Corum and wife."

Eli and Hulda's sons Horatio and Alva are shown below. On the left is Horatio, his wife Nettie (Fiscus), and their first child Clifton. Horatio Seymour Long was born in 1869 and died in 1949. Nettie was born April 13, 1869 and died August 24, 1911. They married in Owen County March 17, 1889. In the picture below right is Alva Long and his wife Catherine M. (Fulk) with their baby Cecil. Alva was born in 1872 and died in the same year as his brother, 1949. Catherine was born in 1875 and died in 1921. They were married in Owen County March 13, 1898. After her death Alva married Ora Ethel Benjamin.

The Dutch Bethel Cemetery in Section 11 of Jefferson Township is the final resting place of many early Longs and their kin.

For a complete listing of those buried in Dutch Bethel Cemetery and more on the Long and allied families see the family files in the Owen County Public Library Genealogy Room.

Note: In a future issue of this magazine you will see photographs from this collection featuring the Norris family. Becky received these pictures from her cousin, Beth (Ruble) Guerrettaz, who found them on ebay and submitted the successful bid. Thanks to these generous people, the pictures are now in Owen County for the benefit of researchers.

Tracking the Palmers and their kin

Linda Rottnek recently contributed a packet of genealogical material to the Owen County Public Library for its family files. In her carefully documented records we find people from Owen County who migrated to Missouri in the mid-19th century.

She starts her lineage with Joshua Palmer, born March 12, 1749/50 in England. He seems to have made his way to South Carolina before settling in Indiana. His son Joshua, also born in England November 9, 1784, moved to Owen County, Jackson Township, after spending some time in Shelby County. He had married in Laurens County, South Carolina September 29, 1802 to Fannie Stiles. They had at least twelve children: Hose, Elihu, Byrd, Catherine, Elizabeth, Mary, Margaret, Nancy, Permelia, William, Fannie, and Joshua.

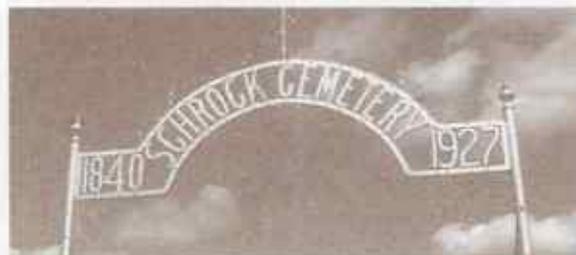

Elihu married Amy E. Armstrong December 9, 1830 in Shelby County, Indiana. They were some who migrated to Sullivan County, Missouri. His tombstone is in the Schrock Cemetery there. He was born November 5, 1805 and died January 16, 1875. James, the first of Elihu and Amy Palmer's children, married a Haltom, Mary, daughter of Joel and Lucinda (Morris) Haltom. The first three of their nine children were born in Jackson Township, Owen County before they migrated to Missouri about 1854.

Fannie was born August 29, 1827 and she married Joel Hicks December 22, 1844 here in Owen County, Indiana with J.P. William Asher officiating. Joel was a son of Abel Hicks and Sara Haltom. He was born October 18, 1823 in North Carolina. Joel served as a private in Co. K, 44th Regiment Missouri from May 1864 to March 1865. He was declared totally disabled due to rupture and chronic diarrhea. He died March 25, 1891. Fannie survived him by twenty years. They had six children: James, Mary, Martin, Reuben, John, and Winfield. Included in the file are death certificates and more detailed group sheets.

Joshua, the youngest of the twelve children of Joshua and Fannie (Stiles) Palmer, also married a Haltom. He was born December 17, 1828 in Shelby County, Indiana and died November 12, 1895 in Sullivan County, Missouri. His wife Zilla Ann M. Haltom was born March 23, 1826 in North Carolina and died March 17, 1889. They were married in Owen County November 16, 1848 with J.P. Wilson Trent officiating. Their children were William and James. James died as a baby; William lived only eighteen years. All area buried in the Schrock Cemetery.

If you research these early Owen County families and have lost track of them as they moved west, you will find this file very helpful. The entire packet of material includes group sheets, notes, copies of death certificates, copies of marriage licenses, and many photographs of tombstones there in northern Missouri where these ancestors lived out their lives. - needed to convince my still skeptical father.

We are now convinced that, for reasons we may never know, Bert Clark Palmer left his family in California about 1916, changed his name and age, and by 1930, had become Charles Benjamin Parmer. I hope to someday find out what happened between 1916 and 1930.

There was only one sure way to determine if the descendants of Bert and Charles were related - DNA testing. Merle (son of Charles) and Dick (grandson of Bert) consented to the DNA test. After a three-week wait, we received the results. Merle and Dick were a perfect match!

Cemetery Memories

by Bergetta Monroe

I have often said, "I grew up in cemeteries!" When I was a child, Memorial Day weekends were always spent in the same way. On Saturday morning my Dad worked in the local lumberyard; in the afternoon he planted the garden. I think he may have plowed and prepared the soil in the evenings during the previous week. On Sunday we went to church and then headed for the cemeteries closest to our home to visit the graves of Dad's relatives.

near Mankato or St. Peter, stating that he had last visited it on his honeymoon! Later, I took him to Lakewood Cemetery in South Minneapolis, he wanted to know how many acres it held! I called and found the answer: 253 acres!

My father's dad was a Civil War Veteran, so Dad always took a flag to put on grandpa's grave. Since every year someone had already placed flags on the veteran's graves, Dad would remove the flag from his father's grave and place it on one that was always missed. That way the flag my Dad brought could be the one to honor grandpa's service!

In August of 2010, when I hosted the Griswold Family Association in the Twin Cities, I included a guided bus tour of Lakewood Cemetery because 36 Griswold "cousins" are buried there. I hosted another bus tour of the same cemetery for MGS in April 2011.

On Monday, Memorial Day, we would go to visit the graves on my mom's side of the family, which were located further away. To my knowledge, there were no veterans on Mom's side. Three of my mom's siblings lived close to those cemeteries, so we would sometimes visit with them also. During the rest of the year, we would again stop at those cemeteries when we visited aunts and uncles.

I feel cemeteries are a very important part of our heritage, and we owe it to our younger generations to teach them to revere their ancestors' final resting places. It is our duty to share memories of these people, teach proper behavior in cemeteries, and care for headstones. Grandparents could have a very memorable day with their grandchildren if they planned an old-fashioned picnic and shared family history in a cemetery. Don't worry that the kids might not like it. Trust me, fifty years later it will be one of their most cherished memories!

The family joke was that Dad took Mother to cemeteries on their honeymoon--but it's a true story! After Mother died and my father came to live with me, he had me drive him to one of the cemeteries Feel free to contact me if you have any questions about cemetery tours, either guided or self-guided.

Breaking through my Brick Wall: Charles Parmer of Iowa and California

by Cathi Weber

For more than 20 years, I faced a brick wall in my research of my maternal grandfather, Charles Parmer. All I knew was his whereabouts between 1930 and his death in 1958. Notes in my baby book identify his parents as William and Mary (Burkett) Parmer and give his birth date as 30 July 1882. His death certificate states his birth location as Cedar Rapids, Iowa, and his occupation as a carpenter.¹ A handwritten note that says his brothers' names were Frank and Bill.

Charles told my grandmother, Grace, that he was born in 1882, which would make him 24 years older than she. (Grace was born in Pennsylvania in 1906.²) Nonetheless, I have always wondered where he was before 1930. Why had I not found any earlier record for him? Could he have had another family before he met my grandmother?

Census and other records kept leading me back to a "Palmer" family in Cedar Rapids, a family whose members' names and dates matched those I expected for the "Parmer" family, except that it did not include a Charles Benjamin born 30 July 1882. Strangely, the Iowa records indicated another child: Bert Clark Palmer, born 30 July 1873 – the same day, but in a different year than the birth information I had for my grandfather. I have been able to find records for this Palmer family back to the 1600s through New York and Massachusetts to England.

After many hours of research on the Cedar Rapids Palmers, I found records of brothers Frank and Bill and their families living in the Cedar Rapids area. I also found records of their youngest brother Bert Clark and his family living in California. Bert had married Clara Engle in 1896 in Cedar Rapids³ and moved to California by 1900. He is listed in the 1900⁴ and 1910⁵ census with his wife and children. Bert's mother, Mary E. Palmer, died 18 November 1914 in Springville, Linn County, Iowa. Her obituary lists Bert Clark Palmer living in California, and William and Frank living in Springville, Iowa.⁶

William, Carleton and Frank Palmer

I decided I needed more information about the Palmer family, that might produce any lead to a possible fourth child, Charles Benjamin. On a research trip to Cedar Rapids, I found the 1916 final estate papers of Mary E. Palmer in Linn County, Iowa.⁷ These documents included the signatures of all three sons. Remembering my mother had a letter written by my grandfather in 1956, I asked her to send me a copy so I could compare the handwriting. It was remarkably similar – the letters, the slant, the spacing. Could the signature in the estate papers be that of my grandfather?

From my Palmer family research – census, birth, marriage, death, obituary, and military records – I was able to find addresses for some of Bert's grandchildren. I mailed six letters on a Friday in July 2007. By the next Thursday, I had received e-mails from Marilyn and Don, both of whom stated that Bert left his California family about 1915 and never returned. When he did not return, the family speculated that there might have been a train robbery or that he had met with foul play. In the 1920 census, Clara Palmer is listed as a widow with five children,⁸ but I could not find a death record for Bert.

Bert's granddaughter, Marilyn, sent me a photo of her grandfather taken about 1903, which I compared with a 1954 photo I have of my grandfather, Charles Parmer. Even though the photos were taken more than 50 years apart, the features of the two men are remarkably similar.

On another trip to Iowa, I met two grandchildren of Bert's brother William Palmer. Ardis had a photo of William, Frank and Bert's oldest son, Carleton. William looked a lot like the photo I have of my grandfather, Charles. We compared more information and photos to see if these two men could actually be the same person. Not only was I breaking through my brick wall, but I was also breaking through that of the Iowa Palmers. I was now nearly certain that Bert and Charles were the same person, but designs,*) gave the sum of 700*l.* to be laid out in erecting a schoolhouse in this parish, and in purchasing lands in the county of Dorset or near it, the income of which was to be appropriated to the maintenance of a master, who is directed to instruct ten poor boys of Yetminster, six of Leigh, and four of Chetnoll, making 20 in the whole, in reading, writing, and arithmetic, so as to qualify them to be put out apprentices. In consequence of a suit in Chancery, the benevolent intention of the donor was not put into execution till the year 1697; when, in obedience to a decree of that court, an estate was purchased, situated at Knighton,^b in the parish of Bere-Hacket, two miles from Yetminster, which is now let by the master for 70*l.* a year. The first master was George Rawles. The lands are vested in five trustees, who have the appointment of the master. There is in the schoolhouse a very good portrait of Mr. Boyle.

An estate was left by a Mr. Ball, consisting of about 40 acres, lying in the parish of Glanville's Wooton, to certain trustees, the rents of which were directed to be applied as follows: "to the churchwardens of Yetminster 2*l.* 12*s.* to be laid out weekly in bread for the poor; to the vicar or incumbent for the time being of Cerne Abbas the sum of 20*s.* per annum, for preaching a sermon in the church of Cerne Abbas on Ascension Day; if no sermon preached, the said 20*s.* to be paid to the curate of Yetminster; to pay at Michaelmas, yearly, to the assistant minister or curate of the incumbent for the time being of Yetminster, all the residue of the overplus and clear yearly rents, for and towards his salary and maintenance, in consideration that such curate or minister shall yearly preach a sermon at Yetminster on Shrove Tuesday, and also shall constantly read, or cause to be read, the prayers of the Church of England in the said church twice on every Sunday. Provided the said sermon is not preached, or prayers wilfully neglected, the trustees to deduct for every such neglect 20*s.* and to pay the same to the heirs of Mary the wife of Henry Bishop."

* See Birch's Life of Boyle, p. 84, and his article in the Biographia Dramatica, written by Dr. Campbell.

^b In the appointment of Mr. Robert Langton to be master in 1793, the School estate is thus described: "All that messuage or tenement, with the appurtenances, and the ground therewith used, containing about twenty good or lug, as the same is now inclosed, lying and being in Yetminster aforesaid, and now made use of for a dwelling for the said schoolmaster, and for a schoolhouse there; And all that messuage or dwelling-house, with a close of meadow near adjoining, situate, lying, and being in Knighton, within the parish of Bere Hacket, in the said county of Dorset, containing by estimation one acre (be the same more or less), with the right of depasturing two other beasts in Knighton woods and Allcrafts, with its appurtenances; And also all that messuage or tenement, dwelling-house and barn thereto belonging; and also all those closes of meadow or pasture called the Backside Closes, containing by estimation eight acres; and all that close of pasture known by the name of Metfellen, containing by estimation seven acres; and all that ground called or known by the name of the Coppices, containing, by estimation, one acre and a half; and all that close called Stub Acre, containing by estimation five acres; and all that close called Brinsome, containing by estimation four acres; and all that close called or known by the name of Creslain, containing by estimation two acres and a half; and all those closes of pasture or meadow called or known by the several names of Jumead and Hipple Mead, containing by estimation six acres; and all that close of pasture called or known by the name of Broaderoft, containing by estimation three acres; and all that pasture commonly called or known by the name of Biss Close, containing by estimation three acres; and all that close of pasture called or known by the name of Rossmare, containing by estimation three yards of land; All which premises are situate, lying, and being at Knighton aforesaid, in the parishes of Bere Hacket and Lillington, or one of them, in the said county of Dorset."

from Yetminster, which anciently belonged to the Abbey of Milton. 6 Edw. VI. lands here belonging to Milton Abbey were granted to Sir Thomas Palmer, afterwards attainted; and 4 Eliz. to Bartholomew Brokesby and Edward Downing, gent. value 5*l.* 10*s.* who the same year sold them to William Winterhay, of Chetnoll, and his heirs. 38 Eliz. William and John Winterhay sold them to Robert Meller and his heirs. This farm, together with Winterhays and Chubb's Farm, was afterwards the property of the White family, and passed as Upcerne to Mr. and Mrs. Batten, the present owners, 1872. The vicarage is endowed with the great tithes of this farm.

a tithing, chapelry, and hamlet, distant about two miles south from Yetminster, of which manor it is a member. Of the strata, cultivation of the soil, &c. the same observations are applicable as are made on Leigh. It can hardly be the Chenolle of Domesday Book^c, which then belonged to William de Braiose; for, as a member of Yetminster, it no doubt belonged to the church of Sarum, and therefore may be included in the survey of that parish. 6, 11 Jac. I. this vill and lands here were granted to Robert, Earl of Somerset. 14 Jac. I. the manor and lands here, parcel of the manor of Yetminster, and late Sir Walter Raleigh's possessions, were granted to Sir John Digby, in which family it still remains.

The Chapel of Chetnoll, dedicated to St. Peter, is of Perpendicular character, and consists of nave, west tower, chancel, north aisle, and south porch, the chancel having been erected in the year 1860, and the aisle in 1865, principally through the liberality of the family of the late Major Chadwick. The tower, which has a west window of three lights and a pointed doorway beneath it, contains three bells and opens into the nave by a lofty arch. It presents a curious feature in two internal buttresses, strengthening the tower, and sloping from the top of the north and south walls of the nave. Beneath them in the corners are rude sculptured heads, one with the hands raised behind it, the other (which wears a cowl) with the shoulders raised as though to support the buttresses. The north aisle is entered from the nave by four arches on very elegant clustered columns with carved capitals, and contains six pointed windows of

ADDITIONS AND CORRECTIONS TO AUSTIN'S GENEALOGICAL DICTIONARY OF RHODE ISLAND

By G. ANDREWS MORJANTY, A.M., LL.B., F.S.A.

MANN, William (p. 129, 1st col.) appears to have been a Somersetshire or Wiltshire man (R. I. Hist. Soc. Coll. Vol. 14, p. 83).

PALMER, George (omitted by Austin, add on page 143) was of Warwick, Providence and Kingstown. Perhaps a kinsman of George Palmer of Ipswich, Boston and Kittery, wine cooper (cf. Noyes-Libby-Davis, Gen. Dic. Me. & N. H., Pt. IV, p. 525). Grantee at Warwick 19 Sept. 1654. Freeman there 18 June 1654. Mentioned in a letter of Roger Williams 6:6; 1656 (N. E. Hist. & Gen. Reg. Vol. 36, p. 78). Grantee at Providence 27 April 1659. Bought land at Aquednesset (in North Kingstown) 27 Jan. 1660/1. Styled "of Providence" in a deed of 27:7:1662. Took oath of allegiance at Kingstown 19 May 1671. Signed a petition, as an inhabitant of Narragansett, in favor of Conn. jurisdiction, on 3 July 1663 (Fones Rec. p. 25). Petition to the King 29 July 1679. He operated the grist mill on the Mattatuxet, and on 30 Nov. 1686 this land was in the possession of his widow Bethia. Married 30 Sept. 1662 Bethia, daughter of Roger Mowry of Providence (q. v.). They undoubtedly had issue at least two daughters: 1. Hannah, born 10 Oct. 1663, married 1680-82 Nicholas Gardiner of Kingstown, son of George and Herodias (Long) Gardiner (for their issue see Gardiner: cf. also article by Dr. Sheridan E. Gardiner in AM. GENEALOGIST, Vol. 17, pp. 50-52; they had a great-grandson and a great-great-grandson named Palmer Gardiner); 2. Deliverence, born about 1664/5, married Edward Cleveland of Kingstown and Exeter, R. I. (born 20 May 1663, died 1746), son of Moses and Anne (Winn) Cleveland of Woburn, Mass., and had issue: Deliverence of North Kingstown, R. I., and Killingworth, Conn.; Edward of Canterbury, Conn., born about 1686, married 17 Apr. 1716 Rebecca Payne, died 1770; Palmer of Exeter, R. I., died 1768, married Deborah Northop; Isaac of Canterbury, Conn.; Samuel of Pomfret, Conn.; Mary, married Richard Adams of Canterbury, Conn.; George of Walpole, Mass.; Elizabeth, married Jonathan Shepard of Canterbury, Conn.; Abigail.

PARKER, George (p. 143, 1st col.) may be the George Parker bapt. at Margate, co. Kent, in March 1612, son of George, Water Bailiff and Town Sergeant at Portsmouth, R. I., 3 June 1651.

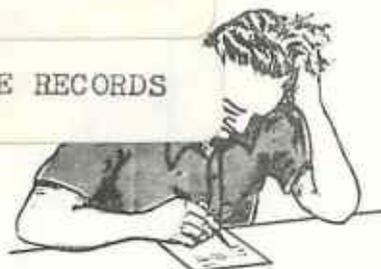

PARROTT, Judith (p. 144, 2nd col.) also married Capt. William Pease of Newport, mariner (came from England) and was his widow when she married Gov. Samuel Cranston. Capt. Pease died prior to 1 Dec. 1712 at which date she was the wife of Gov. Cranston (N. E. Hist. & Gen. Reg., Vol. 87, p. 74).

Add III Hester (2nd col.) married 1st. Capt. Thomas Fleet, at Huntington, Long Island, on 1 Nov. 1681, and had issue Simon and Parrott; married 2nd, before 1725, Samuel Burke of Southold, L. I. (Mrs. Josephine Frost of Brooklyn, N. Y.)

PECKHAM, John (p. 147, 1st col.). His wife is said by some to have been Mary, sister of Dr. John Clarke, who was bapt. at Westhorpe, co. Suffolk, on 26 July 1607, the daughter of Thomas and Rose (Kerrich) Clarke.

PELHAM (p. 149, 1st col.). Edward (Herbert², Herbert³, Herbert¹) was son of Herbert of Boston, co. Lincs., Cambridge, Mass., and Bures, co. Essex, 1st Treas. of Harvard, by his second wife Elizabeth (Bosville) Harlarkenden, widow of Roger. This Herbert was M. P. for the County of Essex in 1654. Edward's grandmother, Penelope West, was sister of Thomas, Lord De la

Abstracts from a Photo copy of a letter in the handwriting of Nellie Palmer (Mrs. Horace W. Palmer) to Mrs. Neely

"It will surprise you to learn that the records you call Archives in Salt Lake City are the manuscripts of my late husband Horace W. Palmer who devoted forty years to this immense work. If you can find time to carefully read the enclosed "introductory to Palmer Families of America" which was written by Horace W. Palmer just before his death in 1953 you will understand the extent of this genealogy also both effort and expense.

After Dr. Byron S. Palmer died in 1927 my husband continued his intense research and classification of Palmer records. We searched the public records in all of the eastern states, south of Florida in Texas and California. His secretary spent six years typing the records as Mr. Palmer prepared them for her. She made four sets, of records each containing 9,000 pages. These covered the descendants of about forty original ancestors who came to America. After Mr. Palmer's death I numbered the four sets (36,000 pages) I gave one set to the N.Y. City Library where it was bound into sixteen volumes... the largest genealogy in the library. I was asked to loan one copy to Salt Lake City for them to make a micro film. I sent a copy with the request that it be shipped on to the Los Angeles library. Salt Lake did this and kindly sent me a microfilm.

But I made one serious mistake. With the records I sent a copy of the last circular which Dr. Byron S. Palmer sent out to Palmers in 1923, shortly before his death. Evidently no one read the introduction. So someone assumed the records were Dr. Byron Palmer's and I believe they must have been catalogued under his name instead of my husband's (Horace W.). You will note that for the records of Quiriel and Lucius, Mr. Larry K. Palmer sent you the page numbers 266 and 267 which you will see are the xeroxed numbers I put on the manuscripts. Also that he attributed the records to Byron S. Palmer.

Sincerely
Nellie Palmer

Narraganset Twp granted to Conn Volunteers in the Narraganset war, now Voluntown Conn. Conn. rewarded her Narraganset soldiers many years before the final action of Mass. Colony. In Oct 1696 Lieut. Thomas Leffingwell of Norwich and Sergt. John Frink of Stonington, moved the court of Conn;

"That they, with the rest of the English Volunteers in the former wars might have a plantation granted unto them. The Ct. in answer then granted them a tract six miles sq to be taken up out of some of the conquered land, where it might be had without prejudice to any former grant. a Committee of the grantees made choice of a tract. Oct 14, 1697 Capt Samuel Mason, Mr. John Gallop and Lieut James Avery were appoit. a committee to view the said tract. Upon the report of the above com. the ct in Oct 1700 confirmed their former grant to a com. of seven viz; Lieut. , miss. infor. about the PALMER families and related...

At a meeting of the Volunteers July 1, 1701, Capt Richard Bushnell was chosen clerk to make a list of the names of those who were volunteers in the Narraganset wars, Lieut Thomas Leffingwell, Lieut James Avery, Sergt John Frink, Richard Bushnell and Deacon Caleb Fobes were chosen a committee to receive and decide the correctness of the claims presented. On the next day the Volunteers voted to grant to Capt Samuel Mason an equal share with the others. From the old proprietors record at Voluntown I have secured two lists of the grantees or "Volunteers" the first list was made in the order of the rerollment of the names and was copied for Hon Richard A. Wheeler of Stonington in 1860 by Elisha Potter, then Town Clerk of Voluntown and published by him. Some years ago in the Narragansett Historical Register. This list was copied for me by the town clerk Mr. Charles E. Maine of Voluntown and I am assured that it is correct. I have compared these lists, and while there are some few discrepancies in the spelling and some names in each list not in the other, the lists are otherwise identical. For the convenience of readers I have arranged the second list here according to the numbers drawn for Cedar Swamp lots. Mr. Wheeler's list marks the names of those deceased. The restrictions of the Conn. Grant to English volunteers shut out the Indians who formed a large contingent of their forces, and also the white men who were pressed into the service. In Mass, thirty yrs later all who had any hand in the Narraganset campaign, both from Mass and Plymouth, whether volunteers or "Impressed" were made grantees. Conn. Volunteers, in 1701 were found to be about one hundred and eighty.

• HERALDIC Glass in STOPHAM CHURCH, England.

The window in the north wall of the nave is of two trefoiled lights with a quatrefoil under a two-centered head; it is filled with glass mainly of late sixteenth or early 17th century date with some 19th century additions or replacements. It is an unusual composition and comprises (in the Dexter light) an armoured figure in a kneeling attitude wearing a quite impossible surcoat; below him is a civilian kneeling on top of a vase, and still further down a cartouche with this inscription.

A GHOST OF A CHANGE AT JAMAICA'S ROSE HALL.

For more years than the oldest Jamaican can remember, the window holes of Rose Hall have stared down at the sea like sunken eyes set in the stark stone walls.

Jamaicans can't believe it when you say you never heard of Rose Hall or the white witch who owned it. It's like pretending ignorance of the Jones Boys or Billy the Kid.

During the 18th and 19th centuries, adventurous Britons "came out to Jamaica" as they called it, to establish fortunes and great houses based on sugar and slave labor. Rose Hall was one of the most beautiful of these great houses, lavishly appointed and landscaped.

John Palmer built Rose Hall between 1770 and 1780 and it cost him a reputed $85,000. Respectability reigned until the beginnings of the slave uprisings in the 19th century, when the house was inherited by Annie Palmer, widow of a second John Palmer, whom she is supposed to have murdered.

Now Rose Hall began to take on its own life, haunted by the life of its owner. Some said Annie murdered four or five lovers and practiced voo-doo.

She was inhumanly cruel to her slaves. One night she herself was murdered by a slave under who knows what provocation.

As grisly tales will, this one got itself written in 1919 in H.G. DeLisser's "The White Witch of Rose Hall." even tourists, driving along the lonely road to Montego Bay at sunset, have looked nervously at the grim pile of decaying stones and wondered whether Annie Palmer's ghost was striding through its halls.

Now Rose Hall is having a revival. John W. Rollins, an American and a former lieutenant Governor of Delaware who lives with his family nearby, plans to develop 6000 acres into a home, shopping and resort development, with Rose Hall as its centerpiece.

Rollins plans include building luxurious homes on the hills overlooking the Caribbean, town house duplexes along the beach, hotels, shopping areas, night clubs and restaurants.

Access will be provided to the Half Moon-Rose Hall Golf Course an 18 hole championship layout near the sea designed by Robert Trent Jones.

In 1966 the Jamaica Tourist Board reported that in 1966 the number of California visitors rose by 300 percent. Much of this increase must be due to the fact that Delta Air Lines operating direct daily flights between San Fran. and the Caribbean, pioneered a circle tour in 1964.

Under this plan, the San Fran. can c over 8000 jet miles from here to NY then go to San Juan, Puerto Rico, Montego Bay, Jamaica, New Orleans and home at a bargain rate only slightly higher than the NY round trip fare. After you fly to Jamaica you can pick up a Hertz rental car on the fly-drive system in either Kingston or Montego Bay.

Regiment, New York Volunteer Infantry and was commissioned first lieutenant, May 16, 1864. He took part in all the engagements in which his regiment participated until he was mustered out. He was a prisoner during the battle of the Wilderness, May 7, 1864, and he was wounded, May 17, 1864, during the assault on Petersburg. He took a prominent part in public schools. For many years he was president of the board of education, an office he held until the time of his death. He was instrumental in forming the union school district, acted as highway commissioner for six years. He secured the incorporation of the Cemetery Association and was president of the corporation. He was a member of Round-Lodge, Free and Accepted Masons, of New York. In religion he was a Methodist, and in politics was a Republican. He married, April 29, 1858, Martha A., daughter of Apalachin, May 23, 1842, daughter of Anson Buffum and Lois M. (Burton) Buffum. Children, born at Apalachin: 1. Charles, mentioned below. 2. William, born February 7, 1862; died January 27, 1879. 3. Emma Louisa, born May 26, 1865; died October 12, 1865. 4. Nettie Elizabeth, born August 31, 1868; married Ransom Holmes, of Apalachin; children: Dora and Ransom S. Holmes Jr. 5. John Ransom, born July 12, 1872; bank cashier, Cambridge, Massachusetts; married Mary Cooper, has two children: George Royal and Frances F. 6. George Anson, born August 25, 1875; a real estate broker, Cambridgeport, Massachusetts; was member of Massachusetts legislature two terms, also member of town council; married Susie Richardson; children: John Silas and Susan.

7. Charles Frederick, son of John S. Palmer, was born at Apalachin, June 20, 1860. He was educated in the public schools. During his youth he worked on the homestead and succeeded to the ownership of the farm on which he has always lived. He is a specialty of fancy fruit and market gardening and of registered cattle and sheep. He is thoroughly progressive and enterprising in adopting the best modern methods of culture and making it financially profitable. He is president of the Cemetery Association, and has been justice of the peace of the town for twelve years. He is an accomplished and influential Methodist, and a trustee and secretary of the official board of the Methodist Episcopal church. In politics he is a Republican. He is also a member of Tioga Lodge, Independent Order of Odd Fellows; of Wamsutta Tribe, Improved Order of Red Men, of Binghamton; of Anawan Lodge of Hay Makers of Binghamton. He is a member and was one of the founders of the Order of Royal Fellowship of Philadelphia and is a councilor of the order.

He married, August 18, 1878, Anna Goodnow, of Apalachin, born November 13, 1860, daughter of Abram and Parmelia (Barney) Goodnow. Children, born at Apalachin: 1. Evan R., born January 12, 1881, died October 4, 1881. 2. Lillian M., born June 1, 1885, died March 17, 1907; married George B. Palmer; one son, Francis Charles, born February 28, 1907.

Walter Palmer, immigrant ancestor, was born, according to tradition, in county Nottingham, England, died in Stonington, Connecticut, November 19, 1661. The first authentic records of him in New England are in Charlestown, Massachusetts, when he and Abraham Palmer were admitted freemen, May 14, 1634. He owned considerable real estate and received land in the first division in 1637 and again in the division of 1643. He was among those who met to prepare for the new settlement at Seacuncke, afterwards Rehoboth, Massachusetts, and settled there. At this time he gave the value of his estate as four hundred and nineteen pounds. He was deputy to the general court from Rehoboth, and in 1653 moved to what is now Stonington, Connecticut. He bought land from Governor Haynes on the east bank of the Wequetequoc river. His entire tract of land contained about twelve hundred acres. His will was dated May 19, 1658, and proved May 11, 1662. He married (first) in England, Ann _____; he married (second) Rebecca Short, a member of Rev. John Eliot's church in Roxbury. Children of first wife: Grace, married Thomas Minor; John, died unmarried; William, died unmarried; Jonas; Elizabeth. Children of second wife: Hannah, born June 16, 1634; Elihu, January 24, 1636; Nehemiah, mentioned below; Moses, April 6, 1640; Benjamin, May 30, 1642; Gershom; Rebecca.

(II) Nehemiah, son of Walter Palmer, was born November 27, 1637, in Charlestown, died in Stonington, Connecticut, February 17, 1717. He was interred in the old burial ground on the east side of Wequetequoec cove, and his gravestone is still standing. He was admitted a freeman in Connecticut, May 10, 1666, and became a prominent man in the town of Stonington, where he settled. For fifteen years, from 1668 on, he served as deputy to the general court, and in 1681 was on a committee to buy land from the Indians. He gave most of his property to his sons before his death. He married, in Stonington, November 20, 1662, Hannah, born in 1644, died October 17, 1727, daughter of Thomas and Ann (Lord) Stanton. Children, born in Stonington: Joseph, October 3, 1663; Elihu, March 12, 1666, died young; Jonathan, August 7, 1668; Daniel, mentioned below; Elihu, baptized December 14, 1674; Jonathan, baptized December 14, 1674, twin of Elihu; Nehemiah, baptized July 8, 1677; Hannah, baptized April 11, 1680.

(III) Daniel, son of Nehemiah Palmer, was born June 12, 1672, died February 28, 1762. He received one-half the homestead by deed of gift from his father, for his "dutiful care" of him, and owned land also in Voluntown, given him by Nehemiah Smith, his wife's father. He was a commissioner in 1724 and 1728, and justice of the peace for fifteen years. He repeatedly served as deputy to the general court. He gave much of his land to his children before his death. His will was dated May 12, 1747, and it is interesting to note that he owned several slaves, as he bequeathed to sons Daniel, Nathan, Nehemiah, Rufus and James, each a negro girl or boy, and to his daughter Rebecca a negro girl. He married (first), March 25, 1700-01, Margaret Smith, who died June 4, 1726, daughter of Nehemiah Smith. He married (second), January 12, 1732, Mrs. Mary Denison, born November 14, 1680, died 1762, widow of William Denison, and daughter of John and Abigail (Chesborough) Avery. Children by first wife: Nehemiah, born April 9, 1702; Daniel, mentioned below; Samuel, April 7, 1707, died August 5, 1727; Nathan, October 27, 1711; Rufus, October 7, 1713; Huldah, November 15, 1715, died July 25, 1727; Lydia, August 16, 1718, died June 25, 1727; James, July 18, 1720; Rebecca, April 13, 1725.

(IV) Daniel (2), son of Daniel (1) Palmer, was born in Stonington, Connecticut, June 10, 1704, died in Voluntown, Connecticut, August 17, 1772. His estate was distributed among his heirs, March 13, 1773, and he made a will which has been lost. His wife Mary and son Samuel were executors, and Samuel died before the final distribution, in 1772, when those who received shares were Rebecca Sherman, his daughter, Joseph, his son, Lydia Margaret, Mary Stanton, and Huldah, his daughters, and Joseph, the son of Samuel who was deceased. Daniel Palmer married in Stonington, January 6, 1731, Mary, born in Stonington, March 21, 1704, daughter of Deacon Joseph and Mary (Palmer) Palmer. Children: Samuel, mentioned below; Daniel, born January 17, 1734; Mary, January 17, 1737; Lydia, May 13, 1738; Rebecca, August 24, 1742; Joseph, December 27, 1744; Margaret, November 1, 1747; Huldah, March 17, 1750; Freeclove, May 14, 1753.

(V) Samuel, son of Daniel (2) Palmer, was born in Voluntown, Connecticut, November 20, 1731, died January 19, 1773, before his father's estate was distributed. His children were all mentioned in the will of his younger brother, Joseph Palmer, in 1780. He married, January 19, 1754-55, Lucretia H. Children: Rebecca, born May 25, 1756; Lucretia, September 13, 1757; Elizabeth, September 19, 1759; Margaret, January 4, 1761; Daniel, September 22, 1763; Joseph, mentioned below.

(VI) Joseph, son of Samuel Palmer, was born in Voluntown, Connecticut, March 1, 1767. In 1790, according to the first federal census, there were in Orange county, New York, Henry and Joseph Palmer. The latter had in his family himself and two females. Both were given as of Haverstraw.

(VII) Daniel (3), son or nephew of Joseph Palmer, was born about 1790 in Orange county, New York. He removed to New York, in 1832, and lived in Mounthope, a town taken from Mounthope and Wallkill. His farm was afterwards known as the Craig place. He married — and among his children were: Heman B., October 12, 1822; George, mentioned below; William O., July 20, 1830, at Mounthope, Orange county.

(VIII) George, son of Daniel (3) Palmer, was born about 1828 in Orange county, probably at Mounthope, died in Little Meadows, Pennsylvania, in 1891. He was a chairer. He removed to Little Meadows in 1853 and lived there the remainder of his life. He married Nellie La Bar. George La Bar was an early settler in Lansing, Tompkins county, New York, in 1798, and his son was a sheriff of that county. Children of George and Nellie Palmer: Frank, mentioned below; Lucelia; Archie, who died

Frank, son of George Palmer, was born at Newfield, Tompkins county, New York, in 1852, died at Little Meadows, Pennsylvania, March 20, 1904. He attended the Pennsylvania schools and Wyoming Seminary. As a young man he engaged in the lumber business and built a large mill at Little Meadows for the manufacture of lumber, and also a buckwheat flour and feed mill there. In 1889 he established a large plant at the coal station at Apalachin, New York. He carried on business to the time of his death, turning himself to the plant at Little Meadows while his son had charge of the business at Apalachin. In politics he was a Republican. He married, in 1873, Mary Belle, born May 7, 1859, at Little Meadows, daughter of John and Maria (Harris) Lewis. Her husband died in the service during the civil war. He was in an engineering corps. Children: George B., mentioned below; Esthier, born September 4, 1877; Louise, February 28, 1878; Lewis, June 7, 1890.

George B., son of Frank Palmer, was born at Little Meadows, Pennsylvania, March 27, 1875. He was educated there in the public schools and in the Owego high school, graduating from the latter in 1894. For two years he was a student in Cornell University. He left college to engage in business with his father, under the firm name of Palmer & Son, since 1902 has had charge of the business at Apalachin, New York, where he has a mill. He also owns a half interest in a lumber tract at Nichols, New York. He is a member of Friendship Lodge, Free and Accepted Masons, of Owego; Eelskataka Chapter, Improved Order of Red Men; and of the Binghamton Club of Binghamton, New York. In religion he is a Methodist, and in politics a Republican, progressive.

He married (first), May 10, 1906, Lillian Giles, of Apalachin, born June 1, 1885, died March 17, 1907, daughter of Charles and Anna (Goodnow) Giles. They have one son, Francis Charles, born February 28, 1907. Married (second), February 8, 1912, Alma D., daughter of George and Charlotte (Brown) Glann.

HAYNES Walter Haynes, immigrant ancestor, was born in Sutton Mandfield, Wiltshire, England, in 1583. He also owned a house and other buildings on the island of Purbeck in the southeast part of Dorsetshire. He came to New England in the same ship with Peter Noyes, yeoman, of Penton, Southampton, with his wife Eliza; sons under sixteen years of age, Thomas, John and Josiah; daughters Suffrance and Mary; and servants John Blandford, John Rediat and Richard Biddlecome, arriving in Boston in 1638. His family and that of Peter Noyes intermarried. About a year after his arrival in this country Haynes removed from Watertown, Massachusetts, to Sudbury, having a grant of land there December 22, 1639. He was one of the foremost citizens, and was on the first board of selectmen in 1639 and served the town ten years altogether as selectman. He was one of the first, perhaps the very first, to build on the west side of the Sudbury river and is believed to have built the Haynes garrison house which was near the old Haynes home. The garrison house stood until the middle of the nineteenth century. The Haynes homestead was in the northeast section of the town in the part called the Pantry district. Hon. G. F. Gerry, a lineal descendent of Haynes, has written a charming poem entitled "Pantry School" (see "History of Sudbury," p. 510). Haynes was admitted a freeman, May 13, 1641; deputy to the general court in 1641-44-48-51. He was commissioner to settle small causes, 1645. He was a member of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company (see "Whitman's History of the Company," 1842, p. 97). Haynes had learned the trade of linen weaver. He died February 14, 1664-65. His will was dated May 25, 1659, with codicil dated March 4, 1663-64, and proved April 4, 1665, bequeathing to wife Elizabeth; sons Thomas, John and Josiah; son-in-law Thomas Noyes; son-in-law Roger Gourd and "my daughter his wife" a tenement in Shaston, Dorsetshire, England. The will of Alice Haynes, his mother, is printed in the New England Genealogical Register (vol. XXXIX, p. 263). A Thomas Haynes died in Sudbury, July 28,
