My father, mother, brothers,
 and sister - Birthdays

A Genealogy of the Parsons Family in Gloucester New England, the descendants of Jeffrey, who by the latest accounts we can get was born in Ashsprington, England as appears by the following letter from Elizabeth Parsons (sister) Morgan - niece of Jeffrey and written to his son James - He said Jeffrey came out of England when young with his Uncle to Barbadoes and there he staid some years: from thence to New England and settled in Cape Ann Gloucester, Massachusetts.

Copy of the letter.

Dear Cousins,

I some time since received a letter from my son in which he sent me the welcome news that he had seen his relations in New England and that my Uncle Jeffrey had five sons and two daughters living near together in good fashion and good health and that you had sent me a book for a token which I take very kindly and give you my thanks, though I have not received it yet, my son not having returned to England.

I had a letter from him last week, he says he hopes to return home in a short time being now in port Antonio on the Delaude Mohorca. My father, your Uncle James Parsons, died about six years ago and my mother about 12. They left behind them seven children where of John, Robert, Isabella are since dead. But James, Jeffrey, and Sarah, together with myself (God be praised) are yet alive and in health, and join with kind love and service to you and the whole family of our Uncle.

I am married to one Francis Morgan so that if you please at any time to send me a letter you must direct it for Elizabeth Morgan at Ashsprington, near Dartmouth in Devon, in England. I have had no opportunity of making you a requital for your present and must therefore desire of you to except of my prayers and best wishes for yourself and family and all my relations too. I once more desire to be kindly remembered and so rest their and your affectionate kinship and hearty servant.

May 17 - 1714.

Elizabeth Morgan.
