Patton Family
1-6

At last this is ready and I'm mailing it out promptly whether you prepaid or not-- as I'll not have another free weekend for 4 weeks for certain.

The company that copied this collated and stapled as well so I could get it to you sooner. While this is more expensive than the mimeograph method, this takes up much less of my time and produces a more acceptable copy. The mimo machine I was using required I learned to our sorrow a deep cut stencil which few typewriters cut. This process accepts any carbon film type and will accept regular typewriter ribbon if it is black, fresh and the type keys are completely free of buildup.

HELP WANTED!

Mrs. Kent has helped with part of the spousal index for PEL # 3 but I truly need others to help as well. It can either be done on 3x5 cards (the form I've included) or typed on labels (per sample), (then place on index cards, after making a master for other reprod. I will

Do you keep a file card system on the PEL or other PATTON data? If so you may be interested in duplicate labels--write to me about this if you are interested.

PEL's #1,2,& 3

I will collate the extra pages of 1,2 & 3 and get them to those of you who have requested them AFTER April 15th and INCOME TAX.

WANTED, SOMEONE WITH TIME TO DO JUSTICE TO THE PEL

Is anyone interested in taking over the PEL? There is actually enough data and queries to publish 3 times a year, but there is just no way I can do that. When I began the exchange letter I was a homemaker with some free time. I had no idea then of the personal problems that lay ahead of me, nor could I foresee that at an age when many of my friends were retiring, I would be beginning a very demanding new career. At best I now have about 20 hours a month for recreation or genealogy.

I would like to do some research on my own Patton line and want desperately to know more of my James FAIRLEY line before I go to Scotland this summer.

I have a lot of research I want to type up (OH PATTONS in 1850 Census, Marriage Records of PATTONS in Highland Co OH, Cemetery records, etc.). I will be happy to make PEL #5 of it and photo copy material I receive + doing the Spousal Index for # 3, but I don't feel I can commit myself past that for the time being.

IF YOU DO NOT TYPE

To those of you who wrote saying you do not type--may Highschool business departments will refer you to advanced students who will type for experience and a modest fee. If that isn't available to you I am willing to type up to 100 words IF your printing or hand writing is explicitly clear---and no more than twenty such requests come in.

Some History on this family:

John Wesley Patton enlisted 10 Oct 1861, James G. Patton enlisted 11 Sep 1861 in the original members of Company K Forty-Four Vol Inf. John was discharge on a medical certificate G.O. No 36 1860. He rejoined Cav 7 Feb 1864, was discharged 30 Jul 1865. He was 5'8" tall, Very dark hair, Dark eyes, and Olive Complexion. He was a carpenter by trade, and is known to have made some fine pieces of cherry wood furniture. His hobby was making Violins.

Oral history says the family came to OH after the death of the mother, the father remarried in Fayette Co. names of either wife is not known. Information in Family Bible (very old) was destroyed in a fire in the early 1930's. Reason for believing John was also the father's name it appears on John Wesley death certificate. Many of J.W.P.'s children moved from this vicinity to California and Iowa. Trying to re-establish records and contacts.

If their are those from this Patton/Rupert line who are interested in some of the George Ludwig Rupert b. 1758 Hannover Germany, ReVolutionary War Vet. I have a few records I will share.

1 I am so sorry to be so late getting these sheets to you, but I
2 did not feel that your Patton was in any way related to mine. I have 3 most of the collateral lines if you want any of them. I have been 4 searching for William Patton's father who was supposed to have been a 5 minister in Ireland who emigrated to the Colonies never to be heard of 6 again. I have read 60 years of Synod records from Ulster and he was not 7 mentioned in them. There were about 3 Samuels though. If anyone wants 8 those references, I have taken down all the Pattons from ca 1730 - 1794.
9 I did read somewhere that there was another Synod for Dissenters, and I
10 suppose that he was in that one. Will try to find that one sometime. I
11 also am trying to borrow thru Interlibrary loan the matriculation records
12 of Glasgow University because most Ulster ministers went there.

13 Now for Cumberland Co. data. I asked a friend to look for Naturali-
14 zation records. He hasn't yet, and I may have to go there agin to do it.
15 I did spend one day at the Courthouse and Historical Society. The Society
16 had tax records. In an application for the Pa. Scotch Irish Society it 17 was claimed that Wm. Patton (records included) was implicated in the Men of 18 Ireland revolt ca 1790. He presumably had to flee Ireland. Who knows?
19 From the Braham family history comes the information that "Mary Ann Patton,
20 my grandmother, wa born about 8 miles from Carlisle, Cumberland Co., Pa.
21 Sept. 29, 1799." Patton family history says that William Jr. was the 3rd 22 child and was 2 years old when the family came to America. I haven't been 23 able to find a ships passenger list, so do not know if they went to Phila.
24 or to S. Carolina where the man who bought property in partnership with 25 him in Mercer Co. first settled. I have mixed feelings of this point of 26 entry. These other people came in 1792 and Wm. Patton seems to be in 27 Cumberland by 1795. Of course it is possible he came directly from S.
28 Carolina to eastern Pa. You just wonder why. Wm. had moved to Mercer Co.
29 by spring of 1800 as I have a deed recorded there.

Note: On 19 Jan 1980 Jack R. Howard located the descendants of Charles Wesley PATTON.

Jack R. Howard
256 E. Susquehanna Ave.
Towson, Maryland 21204

1 Have compiled family data on all descendants -- with a few exceptions
2 noted below -- of one ALEXANDER PATTON, who "came from Virginia", obtained
3 a land grant of 100 acres on Back Creek in the old Hawfields area of "old"
4 Orange County, North Carolina on Sept. 3, 1779; died there "in the latter 5 part of 1784".

6 This Alexander Patton possibly had a brother named Andrew Patton, inas-7 much as Andrew Patton obtained a land grant of 150 acres on Back Creek, near 8 Alexander Patton on the same date. I do not know of Andrew's descendants.

9 Alexander had only two sons, John and Samuel -- I believe I have data 10 for all their descendants, except as noted below. Alexander also had at 11 least one known daughter, Jane who married William Rogers, Orange Co., N.C.:

12 Am desirous of obtaining lead(s) as to parents or origin of the above
13 Alexander and/or Andrew Patton.

14 Also would like to contact any descendants of the following:

- 15 1. Charles W. Patton, son of H. Wade Patton (born 24 Nov 1849 in Haywood 16 Co., Tenn., died 16 July 1879) and his wife Martha "Mattie" L. Douglas 17 (she was born ca 1857, died ?). Charles W. Patton was born about 18 1877 or 1878 -- he and his mother were listed in the household of her 19 father J. H. Douglas on the 1880 Census for Tipton County, Tenn. His 20 father "Wade" Patton was son of William Patton & 2d wf. Sarah E. Rogers.
- 21 2. Henry Clay Patton, born 14 Nov 1852, died 20 Sept 1894. Was son of 22 Alexander Johnston Patton (1829-1904), of Cabot, Lonoke Co., Ark., and 23 his first wife Mary Ann Rogers. Henry Clay Patton "had charge" of a 24 large mercantile store in McGehee's Station, Desha County, Ark., for 25 about 15 years and was "killed by colored people" there. They were 26 hanged in front of his store. Did he marry and leave descendants?
- 27 3. Edgar Lafayette "Ed" Patton, born 3 Jan 1873, Cabot, Lonoke Co., Ark., 28 3d child of Alexander Johnston Patton (1829-1904) and his third wife
29 Mrs. Rebecca Reeves (Chandler) Hancock. "Ed" was said to have been a 30 doctor(?) and "disappeared" while on a "sick call" sometime around 31 1900. His body, horse or buggy were never found. Two of his brothers
32 joined the Army for Spanish-American War; they were Ernest Johnston 33 Patton (1874-1964) and Capt. Robert Lee Patton (1876-1968). "Ed" may 34 have gone to Texas or Oklahoma -- did he marry and leave descendants?
- 35 4. Finis W. Patton, Jr. and his sister Jean Patton -- she married Everett 36 Tucker. Finis W., Jr. was born 1924 and Jean was born 1926. They were 37 children of Finis W. Patton (1902-1944) and his wife Elizabeth Coleman.
38 Finis W. Patton, Jr., was in the Army and was last known to be working 39 at Oak Ridge, Tenn. Finis W. Patton, Sr., was 7th child of Alexander
40 Dunn Patton (1864-1945) and his first wife Clara Pautenhaus(sp?).

THE PATTON FAMILY

(no date, publisher, or author -- 1892 written in pencil on front)

Ludlow Patton, the representative of the Patton family in the Oranges, was one of the first of the New York business men to locate permanently in that part of Orange township known as South Orange and Orange Valley. He visited the "water cure" establishment in 1851-2 and was so well pleased with the location and surroundings that he purchased twenty-six and one-half acres, being a part of what in the early times was known as the Zenas Freeman farm. It was located on the side of the mountain, partly in South Orange and partly in what was then Orange, now West Orange. He built a $10,000 dwelling and a $3,000 barn, a large sum in those days. He reclaimed, trimmed, adorned and put in superb condition these acres. A beautiful fountain--the only one then in the oranges--sent up continuous its jet of spray in the midst of a lawn dotted with the rarest and most graceful trees and shrubbery. It was at that time one of the finest residences in any part of the Oranges. He gave it the name of "Dawnwood." These improvements drew the attention of others to this locality and gave an impetus to the movement which had just begun in the sale of suburban property. The price paid by him at the time was only $96 an acre. It is probably worth as much as that per running foot at the present time.

The name of Paton is written in old deeds Patton, and the family, originally from the south of England, is of considerable antiquity. An old parchment deed in the possession of an English family of the name states that "in the six-and-twentieth year of Henry VI, William Patten alias Waynfilete (from a town in Lancashire where he was born) was son and heir of Richard Patten and eldest brother of John, Dean of Chichester." For his learning he was first consecrated Bishop of Winchester, then for his wisdom made Lord Chancellor of England, and was the sole founder of the Magdalen College, in Oxford.

Col. Robert Patton, the grandfather of Ludlow Patton, of Orange, was born in Westport, Ireland, in 1755, and died in New York City, January 3, 1814. He was brought to this country when he was seven years of age and resided in Philadelphia. In October, 1776, he enlisted as private in the Revolutionary Army, was taken prisoner by the British and confined for some time in New York City. After his liberation he rose to the rank of major and served under Washington and Lafayette; he was later promoted to a colonelcy. He was one of the original members of the Society of the Cincinnati. In 1789 he was appointed by President Washington, postmaster of Philadelphia, that office then being the most important in the country. He discharged the duties continuously for nearly twenty years when he resigned and went to New York City. He was intimate with President Madison and the latter offered him the postmaster-generalship, but Patton refused the appointment on the ground that he was unwilling to remove his family from a free to a slave community. One of his chief characteristics was his strict integrity. When he was made postmaster he refused to appoint any of his sons to a clerkship and on his resignation he strictly enjoined them not to apply to be his successor, saying that the office had been long enough in his family and should now go to another. When war was declared in 1812 and a government loan, which every one prophesied would prove a failure, was placed on the market, he went at an early hour on the first day and subscribed $60,000, asserting that if his country should be ruined his property would then be valueless. Col. Patton married Cornelia, daughter of Robert and Jemima (Shepard) Bridges. The latter was a son of Edward Bridges and Cornelia Culpepper, and through this line Mrs. Patton was connected with Lord Thomas Coalpepper, second colonial Governor of Virginia. Through the same line the descent is also traced from Oliver Cromwell. Col. Patton was a descendant of the noble family of Chandoss. By his marriage with Miss Bridges, Col. Patton had eight children, among whom was William Patton.

Rev. William Patton, D.D., son of Col. Robert and Cornelia (Bridges) Patton, was born in Philadelphia, August 23, 1798. He was graduated at the Middlebury (Vt.) College, in 1818, and at Princeton (N.J.) Theological Seminary, two years later. He began his labors as city missionary in New York and organized the Broome Street Presbyterian, known as the Central Presbyterian Church, which he started with four members and which, under his pastorate, grew to be one of the largest and most influential churches in New York. ....

Rev. William Patton, D.D., died in New Haven, September 9, 1879. His wife, Mary Weston, born in Waltham, Mass., March 6, 1793, was the daughter of Zachariah Weston, born in Lincoln, Mass., March 8, 1751, a descendant of John Weston, of Salem, Mass., born 1631, died 1723. Dr. Patton was largely indebted for his success in his great life work to the prudent counsels and hearty sympathy of his admirable wife, whom he married soon after reaching his majority and to whom his accomplished son, Rev. William Patton, D.D., President of Howard University, Washington City, owes no little of his eminence as a man and a minister. A brother of Dr. Patton was the late Robert B. Patton, Professor of Greek in the New York University. The children of Rev. William Patton and Mary (Weston) Patton were William Henry, William Weston, Cornelia Magoffin, Mary, Ludlow, Elenor Chandler, John Magoffin, Carharine Tace, John Angell James and Emily.

Ludlow Patton, fifth child and third son of Rev. William and Mary (Weston) Patton, was born in New York City, August 3, 1825. He was reared in that city and kept in training for the gospel ministry, .....On February 28, 1849, Mr. Patton married Miss Abby Hutchinson, daughter of Jesse and Mary Hutchinson, of Milford, New Hampshire. She was one of the celebrated Hutchinson Family of singers that achieved a world-wide reputation in their day, ..... The last public performance of Mrs. Patton was on September 10, 1892, when she sang, along with her husband and her brother John, at the funeral of her life-long friend, John G. Whittier, the Quaker poet. ....To the day of her death, which occurred November 24, 1892, by apoplexy, her face beamed with purity and benevolence and her voice lost none of its sweetness. .... (apparently Ludlow Patton was still living at the time the booklet was written.)

Total of six pages in the booklet.

GENESIS OF BUNCOMBE COUNTY

By Hon. Theodore F. Davidson

From Margaret Kerns

pg. 59 Settlements Shortly after the conclusion of the Revolutionary War, in 1784, or 1785, settlers from the headwaters of the Catawba and the adjacent country, whose frontier establishment was the blockhouse at Old Fort, began to cross the mountains into the Swannanoa valley. Among the first of these was Samuel Davidson, who came in with his wife and infant child and one female negro slave and settled upon Christian Creek of the Swannanoa, a short distance east of Judger's ford near the present railroad station called Azalea. He had been here but a short while when one morning he went out to find his horse. Soon his wife heard the report of guns, and, knowing too well what had happened, she took her child and the servant and made her way along the mountains to the Old Fort. An expedition from there at once set out to avenge the death of Davidson. They found him on the mountain near his cabin, killed and scalped, and buried his body on the spot where it was found and where his grave may still be seen. ...

pg. 60 Chapter V Buncombe County At this time the Swannanoa River was recognized as the dividing line between Burke County on the north and Rutherford County on the south.

In 1785 Joseph McDowell, Jr., ran this dividing line, "Beginning at the west point of the line that formerly divided the above said counties, thence west to the Indian boundary as in the Act of Assembly of the seventeenth of May one thousand seven hundred and eighty-three," that is, to Pigeon River. It crossed Swannanoa River about half a mile above Biltmore. In 1788 this survey was adopted by the Legislature. ... From portions of Burke and Rutherford counties was subsequently formed the County of Buncombe, named for Col. Edward Buncombe, a North Carolina soldier of the Revolution.

In 1729 this territory would have been embraced in the County of Clarendon. At this time the County of New Hanover, with indefinite western boundaries which seem to have extended to the Pacific Ocean, then called the South Seas, was formed, and the name of Clarendon as a county disappears. From New Hanover County in 1738 was cut off and erected the County of Bladen, whose western limits were left undefined. Again from the County of Bladen was formed in 1749 the County of Anson, still with undefined western limits. Here Buncombe's genealogy divides into two branches to be united again in her own creation.

That portion of her territory which was taken from Burke may be traced from this point as follows: In 1758 Rowan County was formed from a part of Anson County, and up to the beginning of the Revolutionary War continued in its entirety. In 1777 was formed from its western portion a new county called Burke.

That portion of Buncombe County which was taken from Rutherford may be traced as follows: In 1762 was formed from the western part of the County of Anson a new county called in honor of the new queen of England, Princess Charlotte of Mecklenburg, by the name of Mecklenburg County. In 1768 the western part of Mecklenburg County was erected into a new county, and named in honor of North Carolina's notorious colonial governor, Tryon County, but during the struggle for independence the North Carolinians were but little disposed to honor the name of their former oppressor, and when in 1779 this county had become inconveniently large, it was formed into two new counties, and the name of Tryon dropped, and the eastern part called Lincoln, while the western portion received the name of Rutherford County, in honor of Gen. Griffith Rutherford.

In 1792, while David Vance from the upper Beers Creek settlement was a member of the Legislature from Burke County, and Col. William Davidson, who lived on the south side of the Swannanoa, about two miles from Asheville, represented Rutherford County in the same body, the County of Buncombe was formed of the western portions of Burke and Rutherford counties, with its western borders fixed by the line of the territory which two or three years before North Carolina had ceded to the United States, and which was afterward created into the State of Tennessee.

In April, 1792, there was organized at the residence of Col. William Davidson, which stood on the south bank of the Swannanoa, about one-half mile above its mouth, at a place subsequently called the Gum Spring, the County of Buncombe, in accordance with the provisions of the act creating that county. At this place was transacted for one year the business of the County of Buncombe, until in April, 1793, the county seat was fixed where it has ever since remained.

pg. 66 ..Among the friends who accompanied Carson on this occasion was the celebrated Colonel David Crockett, who married a Miss Patton on Swannanoa, and was killed at the Alamo, fighting for Texas and her independence. ....

pg. 86 Samuel Lusk was for some while coroner of Buncombe County. In April, 1799, he resigned that office and was elected sheriff. To this last place he was annually re-elected until April, 1803.

pg. 88 Colonel John Patton was born April 4, 1765, and was one of Buncombe's first settlers. He removed to that county while it was yet Burke and Rutherford and settled first where Fermhurst now stands. From here he removed to the Whitson place, on Swannanoa above the old water works. After residing here for some while he returned to the vicinity of his former home, and bought and fixed his residence upon the Colonel William Davidson place, where the first County Court was held. At this place he continued to reside until his death on March 17, 1831. He it was who formally opened on April 16, 1792, the first County Court. On the minutes of that court, immediately after the justices were sworn and took their seats, appears this entry:

"Silence being commanded and proclamation being made the court was opened in due and solemn form of law by John Patton specially appointed for that purpose."

At that term, on the same day, he was duly elected to the then very important office of county surveyor. Near his new residence he built, many years ago, a bridge across the Swannanoa River, which remained until about the beginning of the war against the Southern States. His house was for many years famous as a stopping place, being upon the Buncombe Turnpike road, and he raised here a large family of children, many of whose descendants are yet living in Asheville. One of his sons, the late Montreville Patton, represented Buncombe County in the House of Commons in 1836, 1838 and 1840, and subsequently in 1874-1875, and after being for many years a citizen and prominent merchant of Asheville, and in later life the clerk of the Inferior Court of Buncombe County, died in 1896, highly respected by every one who knew him as a kind hearted but determined man of unwavering integrity and unpretentious usefulness. The late residence of Colonel John Patton stood on the southern side of the Swannanoa, at the ford about half a mile above its mouth, until within the last thirty years, when, after bearing for some time the name of the Haunted House, it was removed as being no longer tenable. His wife, who was, before her marriage, Miss Ann Malloy, a Virginian, was born February 12, 1768, and died on August 31, 1855. She, with her husband, are buried at Newton Academy graveyard.

pg. 10 (from the "Journal" of Bishop Francis Asbury) .. On Thursday, November 6, 1800, and the following days, we find this entry...

pg. 107 Thursday, 13. ...in consequence thereof Mr. Davis, the Presbyterian minister, and several others, came together.

pg. 113 (In Dec. 1810) Sabbath, 2. We visited James Patton: this is, perhaps, the last visit to Buncombe. ..

pg. 114 Patton and Erwin was a firm of merchants composed of James Patton and his brother-in-law Andrew Erwin. James Patton was born in Ireland on February 13, 1756, and emigrated to America in 1783. He was a weaver by trade, but soon became a prosperous merchant. After his arrival in America he labored for several years at mining, well-digging, working on the canals, grubbing, etc. After this he set out from Philadelphia where he had landed, and with a small pack of goods went south as a peddler. He made his way into North Carolina and for several years traded in Wilkes, Burke and Buncombe counties, getting his supplies from the north. In 1791 he met Andrew Erwin, who afterwards married his sister, and went into business with him. This partnership continued for twenty years, and was settled up in one day, James Patton taking the North Carolina lands belonging to the firm and Andrew Erwin taking those in Tennessee.

In 1807 these gentlemen moved to Swannanoa, and settled on the farm where Mr. Frank Reed now lives. There they lived until 1811, when they removed to Asheville. Mr. Patton opened a store and hotel and engaged at the same time in tanning leather and farming. His hotel was the Eagle Hotel on South Main Street, about midway between Swannanoa and Eagle streets. In 1831 he bought out and improved the Warm Springs. After a long and prosperous life he died at Asheville on September 9, 1846. His tanyard stood on the west side of where Valley Street now runs at a big poplar near where that street enters South Main Street. An autobiography of his is yet in existence. The partnership between him and Andrew Erwin was dissolved on March 11, 1814.

Andrew Erwin is the man to whom Bishop Asbury refers as "a chief man." He was born in Virginia about 1773, and died at his residence near the War Trace in Bedford County, Tennessee, in 1833. When seventeen years of age he entered the employment of James Patton, with whom he soon afterwards went into partnership as innkeeper and merchant at Wilkesborough, North Carolina. In 1800 and 1801 he was a member of the House of Commons of North Carolina from Wilkes County. He was Asheville's first postmaster. In 1811 he removed to Augusta, Georgia, and afterward carried on an extensive mercantile establishment as the leading partner in various firms in Savannah, Charleston, Nashville, New Orleans and elsewhere, but his business was unsuccessful and ended in disaster. pg. 145

James W. Patton, the oldest son of James Patton above mentioned, was born February 13, 1803. He became a merchant and hotel keeper in Asheville and conducted there a large tanyard and several other business undertakings. For many years he was chairman of the County Court of Buncombe and one of that county's most prominent men. He died in December, 1861.

A granddaughter of this same James Patton mentioned above, Miss S. Rose Morrison, became the wife of Albert T. Summey, whose long life in Buncombe County as one of its most worthy and best-known inhabitants reached down to a time comparatively recent. He was born in that part of Lincoln County which is now Catawba County, September 1, 1823. ....

In 1808 the County of Haywood was created out of Buncombe's territory, and included all of Western North Carolina beyond Buncombe County. ...

For some time there had been a small combined church and school house there, when on July 13, 1803, William Foster, Jr., conveyed the land on which it stood "including an old school house with a new one, and a frame Dwelling house, a spring, &c." containing eight acres, to "Andrew Erwin, Daniel Smith, John Patton, Edmond Sams, James Blakely, William Foster, Senr., Thomas Foster, Jur., William Whitson, William Gudser, Samuel Murray, Joseph Henry, David Vance, William Brittain, George Davidson, John Davidson of Hominy, and the Reverend George Newton," as a gift "for the Further Maintenance and support of the gospel.....In the neighborhood of Robert Patton's meeting house, and one from the neighborhood of the mouth of Hominy..."

"Robert Patton's meeting house" was the predecessor of Piney Grove near the present town of Swannanoa, and was on the side of the mountain about three-fourths of a mile east of Piney Grove to which it gave way.

At the home place of Colonel Daniel Smith just described was born on January 7, 1894, (?) (probably should be 1794, Smith died 1824, his wife 1842) his son, James McConnell Smith. The latter married Polly Patton, daughter of Colonel John Patton hereinbefore mentioned.

..Probably the oldest burying-ground of white peop the county is the old Robert Patton burying-ground near the town of Swannanoa.

29 (see p 26-27) John PATTON who was b ca 1790 NC or KY. I have since located him
30 and his brother Dorn in Lincoln and Franklin Cos. TN where both fought in the War 31 of 1812, and lived in this area from 1810 to 1827. Then I find John Patton on the 32 1830 census of Tuscaloosa Co. Al. He died between 1830 and 1840, when I find the 33 widow Sarah over in Itawamba Co MS on the 1840 census. Still looking for the names 34 of his eight daughters.

41 On the second Sunday in June each year the descendants of Harriet Elizabeth Patton and 42 Zebulon (170 from 12 daughters and one son) assemble for the annual reunion.
43 We are trying to find more information of the 1st generation John PATTON. My aunt
44 believes he is the 4th son of James Patton b 13 Feb 1756 in County Derry, Parish 45 Tamlect. Embarked at Lairn 4 June 1783, landed in Philadelphia # Aug 1783. John 46 4th son of James, settled and died in Calhoun Settlement, Abbeville Dst SC. Not 47 yet able to verify that he is the same John Patton that married Naoma WALDROP.
