He was one of the original proprietors of Bridgewater, and one of the original purchasers of Sakonet, or Little Compton, R. I., to which place he moved in 1664. A few years since, while repairs were being made on his house, there was found some very old knives and forks, and a peculiar bronze spoon.

LIEUT. FRANCIS² PEABODY,

Born in England about 1614; died in Topsfield, 19 Feb. 1698.

Married 1st., LYDIA . . . who was abt in 1645;

Married 2nd., Mrs. MARY WOOD, daughter of REGINALD and JUDITH FOSTER, of Ipswich. She was born 1618 and died 9 April 1705.

Lieut. Francis Peabody came from St. Albans, Hertford County, England, 6 April 1635; having received a certificate of good character from his minister, he was examined for emigration, and gave his age as twenty-one. It is thought that he lived for a time in Lynn; but in 1636 he was living in that part of Ipswich called Candlewood. 1639, he moved to Hampton, N. H., where he remained several years. 1649, "being minded to live nearer Boston" he sold his property in Hampton and moved to Topsfield, where he lived until his death.

"25-1-1650. Francis Peabodie of Hampton, planter, for £76 13s. conveys to Robert Drake of Exeter, my dwelling-house, barn and 10-acre lot in Hampton between the houses of Isack Perking and Willi Cole, 6 acres of meadow * * * * 3 acres of meadow formerly belonging to Isack Pirkins, * * * 10 acres, 13 acres, 13 acres of Marsh towards ye springs * * * one share in ye great Ox common, and 3 shares in the rest of commons". (Old Norfolk Co. Records.)

He owned extensive estates, his lands lying in Rowley and Boxford as well as in Topsfield. In 1668, his county rate was £1-4s-2d, the highest in town; 1669, his tax was £4-5s-2d, it being the largest tax paid in Topsfield; 1681, his rate for the minister was £3-4s.

"At the period when the business transactions of this town [Topsfield] begin to appear in record, Lieut. Francis Peabody was evidently the first man in the place, for capacity and influence. And such he continued to be, until the infirmities of age, we may presume, withdrew him from the activities of life".

(Cleveland's Historical Address. 200th anniversary.)

That he was a man of intelligence and integrity is shown by his constant services to the town. He was soon elected to serve as town clerk and selectman, and filled both offices for many years. 1664, was on a committee to straighten a boundary so as to "not damnify the town." Also on a committee to lay out fifty acres for the "Vse of the ministray." Also on a committee to "Vew A percell of Land" which Edmund Bridges wished to buy of the town. This same year he was given permission to build a grist mill and flow the common, and the town records show that the mill was complete as early as 1666. There is an account of this mill and a picture of it in the Essex Antiquarian for July 1897. 1671, he had permission to build a saw mill, provided it did no damage to the people or their meadows. In 1842 the old saw mill was taken down and used for firewood. In 1895 the old grist mill was still standing, though not in good repair, it not having been used since 1892.

1667. On a committee to "Vew and Lay out a hie way."

1668. On a committee to "Lay out and deuide the Common on Salem side of the Riuer."

1674. On a committee to "bound the meadow that old Goodman Gould sould for ye Towne to seuerall of our Nearbores."

1676. Chosen to "Inspect ani parson ore parsons that shall profane the saboth and to proseed against ani that shall be falte as the law deractes."

1680. Chosen to "sele wates and mesures." Also chosen "by the town of topfeeld * * * according to dyraction from the honared maior genarel danison for produsing the best auidanc tha can to proue out titel good to the sile wee liu on."

1680. On a committee to agree with Mr. Danforth in reference to his work in the ministry.

1681. On a committee "to discourse with Mr. Capen to stay and preach here with vs at Topsfield a while." Also, Lliut, pebody and john Gould "are chosen to Transcribe all ye old Towne booke in to ye new Towne booke as is Needfull to bee don."

1683. On a committee to "meete With ye Gentellmen that Come from Ipswich * * * to settell a Line betweene Ipswich and Topsfield."

1684. On a committee "to prouide for Mr. Capen ordanation."

1685. On a committee to settle the bounds of the parsonage lands.

1687. On a committee to "seate the people in the meeting house."

1694. On a committee to renew the bounds between Ipswich and Topsfield.

His will is a very lengthy document. In it he gives to his sons, John, Joseph, and William both land and money; to his sons Nathaniel and Isaac, land only, though Isaac receives a large amount, "on consideration of ye providence of God in disanabling him by the loss of one of his legs." He gives 100 acres of land to his wife's son, Daniel Wood. He also makes bequests to his grand children, Jacob Peabody, Samson How, Kesia and Mercy Peabody; and he gives five pounds each to his daughters Lydia Perley, Mary Death, Sarah How and Hepsibah Ray. He provides for his wife as follows:

I do reserve for Mary my wife ye south end of my house for her use to live in, as also ye new cellar, as also ye use of two milch cows which she shall choose out of my milch kine. Also my will is yt my son Isaac shall pay to my wife Mary yearly twenty bushels of Indian corn, four bushels of wheat, four of rye, and six of malt; also yt my wife have liberty to keep two or three swine, as also yearly half a duzen pounds of wool; also my will is yt my wife shall have pasture for her cows with my son Isaac's, as also yt my son Isaac shall provide fodder for them in ye winter; as also yt my wife shall have liberty for an horse to ride on as she shall have occasion. Also my will is yt in case my wife marry again yt then all ye privildges abovesaid shall cease but during her widdowhood she shall also have (as benefit by my orchard) yearly a barrell of cider, as also sour apples as her occasions either in summer or winter shall require. Moreover my wife shall have ye use and dispose of two beds, together with needful fire wood provided for her, for which end she shall have ye use of such of my oxen as shall be needful. Also I do order yt Samson How shall live with my wife till he shall come to ye age of twenty-one years, and be at her command to be helpfull to her on all accounts as she shall have occasion; and in case Samson How shall be taken away by his father before he shall have served as aforesaid, yt then my said wife shall have that hundred acres of land abovesaid (given conditionally to ye said Samson) to provide for herself such help as shall be necessary: and in case my wife shall dye before ye said Samson How shall arrive at ye aforesaid term of years yt then he shall be at my wife's dispose to whom she shall see good, and in case ye said Samson will not comply with such dispose, yt then ye said hundred acres of land intended for him shall be at my wife's dispose.

Signed: FFRANCIS PABODY.

PEDIGREE XIV.

The Andrews Family.

(Andreas, Andrewes, Andros, Andrus, Adduse.)

Several persons bearing this name early settled in New England, among them being Daniel Andrew of Salem, who married one of John¹ Porter's daughters; John Andrews of Ipswich; Nicholas Andrews of Rowley; and Robert Andrews, also of Rowley.

A genealogy of this family has been published in the Essex Antiquarian, Vol. III.

Capt. ROBERT ANDREWS,

Born in England; died in Rowley Village, 29 May 1668.

Married GRACE, who came from England with him; died 4 Jan. 1702. Both are buried in Topsfield.

Robert Andrews lived in what is now Boxford, but so near the Topsfield line, that he was always identified with the Topsfield people. 1661, he bought 200 acres of land on the west side of Pye Brook, and on it, built his first house, which was destroyed. He built a second one which he bequeathed to his eldest son. He also bought land on Fish Brook, and in Rowley Village, and in Topsfield. He was a farmer and carpenter.

His will is much defaced by time, and is preserved between sheets of silk tissue. In it he gives his eldest son, Thomas, the homestead and the land bought from Zaccheus Gould; son Robert, eight score acres of land; John, the Seller Lott; Joseph, the land in Topsfield, bought of John Wild's son; and he mentions his daughters Mary, wife of Isaac Cummings; Elizabeth, wife of Samuel Symonds; Hannah, wife of John Peabody; and his unmarried daughters, Rebekah, Sarah and Ruth.

Peabody.

^{1st in England about 1590}
John Peabody, who, so far as can be ascertained, is the progenitor of all of that name in this country, however varied the spelling of the name may be, is supposed to have emigrated to N. E. in or near the year 1635. It is most probably, by the absence of his name from the list of passengers, that he did not come in the same vessel with his son Francis, but at some other time, possibly with his youngest son William, as we find them named together in the list of original proprietors of Plymouth. In 1637 John was owner of 10 acres of land at Bluefish; he was admitted freeman Jan. 2, 1632-8, and with Wm. was named as one of the original proprietors of Budge-water in 1645. His will is dated July 15, 1649; he died about 1666.

① Francis Peabody, St. Albans, Hertfordshire, England, born 1614. Came to N. E. in ship Planter, Nicholas France master, in 1635. His name is enrolled in a certificate found in the Augmentation Office in Rolle Court, Westminster Hall, London. He is called "husbandman 21 years of age. He first resided at Ipswich, and in summer of 1638 was one of first settlers of Hampton, N. S. "Being minded to live near Boston" he sold his Hampton estate & went to Topfield. One of most prominent men of T. & large landholder there and in Roxford & Rowley. ^{ok d.
