BATTLE HYMN OF REYNOLDS

Tune: "Battle Hymn of the Republic".

The House of Reynolds cherishes traditions of the past; With the world's great movements they have all their fortunes cast; With "Fi-de sed cui vi-de" they're loyal to the last! The clan goes marching on!

CHORUS: Glory to our grand old family, Virile, worthy, brave and loyal! Glory to the name of Reynolds! The clan goes marching on!

Samuel, William, John and James were fathers of our clan; Posterity of Henry and George Reynolds never ran; Frederic was virile, Walter was a sturdy man. The clan goes marching on!

Josh' Reynolds was a painter; Henry, "doctor" to the King; John, Governor of Georgia, never failed at anything; We are proud of Reynolds kinsmen, and we love to sing— The clan goes marching on!

Walter was "brought up in court", a tutor of the prince; George and Fred were writers who could all the world convince; John Reynolds died at Gettysburg, there was none braver since! The clan goes marching on!

When danger threatened country, or a battle to be won, Or righteous causes need defenders or work to be done, Brave Reynolds were right there and never did a Reynolds run. The clan goes marching on!

The Reynolds sons have courage any task or foe to face; The Reynolds girls are levely with their beauty, charm and grace; The Reynolds leaven is a blessing to the human race. The clan goes marching on!

The Reynolds clan is mighty with two hundred thousand strong; In seventy-six five hundred Reynolds fought to right a wrong; Sixteen towns bear Reynolds name. Sure, let us sing that song— The clan goes marching on!

The Reynolds all are loyal to the good old U. S. A. They love the flag of freedom and will follow it for aye; They always do their duty and never run away. The clan goes marching on!

(A) INTRODUCTION

HE Reynolds family is among the forty-nine "best families" selected by the American Historical-Genealogical Society for whom the Society has published family histories during the past few years. The Reynolds family has been prominent in the British Empire and in the United States, its members having played important rôles in war and in peace. Family pride is a commendable trait and should be cultivated. All Reynolds have just cause to be proud of their family history and traditions.

In references No. 10 and No. 14 we find the following regarding the origin and meaning of the name Reynolds.

Reynolds developed from "Rainhold," a Teutonic personal name of great antiquity. Several tenants-in-chief in Domesday Book are called "Rainaldus," and the name also appears as "Ragenald" and "Rainald."

A few of the modifications and diminutives of the name are: "Reynall,"
"Reynard," "Rainey," "Rennison" and "Rennals."

The data in this volume is gathered from reliable sources. We have selected what we consider the most important material. Many of the daughters, and sons for whom no issue was shown, have been omitted from the pedigrees. A missing symbol indicates that a name has been omitted. Those desiring further information are advised to consult the volumes mentioned in the list of References.

The compiler hopes that, in producing this volume he is bringing to the Reynolds Family information which will be of interest and value to them, and that he is rendering an important service to the public. He and his associates will be glad to give their cooperation to members of the family who are interested in having a complete genealogy of the family published.

Unless otherwise plainly shown, the persons in this volume whose names are accompanied by three figures are children of the immediately preceding persons bearing immediately preceding numbers. All persons in each group bearing the same letter as a part of their numbers, are directly related. The generations of the descendants of those bearing numbers of three figures are represented as follows. However, some of our material is published as copied from various records without rearrangement according to this system.

THE REYNOLDS COAT OF ARMS

COAT of Arms is an emblem or a device which is displayed by titled persons, persons of royal blood, and their descendants. Coats of Arms were originally used for purposes of identification and recognition on the field of battle as well as in civil life.

It is claimed by some writers that Coats of Arms, in a crude form, were used by Noah's sons after the flood. There are records of other Coats of Arms, in one crude form or another, at different periods of ancient history. Heraldry, however, as we know it today, did not become of much importance until soon after the invasion of England by William the Conqueror, A. D. 1066. Heraldry became of general interest at about the time of the Crusades.

The Reynolds Coat of Arms shown in the front of this volume is the Arms of the Revnolds of London. Coats of Arms very similar to it are used by many other Reynolds families. Numerous other branches of the family have Coats of Arms resembling it.

This is the most widely used of all Reynolds Coats of Arms and has been in existence for many centuries. It is described in BURKE'S GENERAL ARMORY, THE ENCYCLOPAEDIA LONDONENSIS, LIBER HERAL-DICA and other reliable works on heraldry, in some cases accompanied by illustrations. It has been used for generations by many American branches of the Reynolds family.

	HERALDIC LANGUAGE	ENGLISH DESCRIPTION
Arms	Ermine, two lions passant, guardant, gules, ducally crowned or.	On a black and white shield two red lions, walking but facing forward, wearing ducal crowns of gold.
Crest	A wyvern, wings elevated vert, holding in its dexter claw a sword proper.	A green wyvern, wings ele- vated, holding in its right claw a sword in proper colors.
Motto	Fide sed cui vide. (Latin)	Have confidence, but see in whom you place it.

Sir Bernard Burke, of Heralds College, London, said "Heraldry is prized by all who can show honorable ancestry or wish to found honorable families."

Besides its family significance this Coat of Arms makes an excellent mural decoration and inspires the admiration and comment of all who see it.

It is quite appropriate that members of the Reynolds family who have a pride in their ancestry should display the family Coat of Arms, in proper colors.

(D) PROMINENT BRITISH REYNOLDS, PAST GENERATIONS

SIR BARRINGTON REYNOLDS: (1786–1861); admiral; s. of rear-admiral Robert Carthew Reynolds; entered the navy in 1795, on board the Druid with his father, whom he followed to the Amazon; 1801 he was promoted to be lieutenant of the Courageux; Reynolds served in the Russell in the East Indies; in 1809 was commander of the Arrogant hulk; took part in the expedition against Javas; in acknowledgment of his conduct became acting captain of the Sir Francis Drake frigate; in 1848 he was promoted to the rank of rear-admiral and afterwards commander-in-chief at the Cape of Good Hope; in 1860 Reynolds was given the rank of admiral.

Christopher Augustine: (1834–1893); first Roman Catholic archbishop of South Australia; studied under the Carmelite brothers; in 1852 he was removed to the Benedictine Monastery, near Rome, to be trained for the priesthood; he went to South Australia, was ordained and granted a benefice in the city of Adelaide; in 1873 was consecrated bishop of Adelaide; he was called by the pope to fill the archbishopric to which the see was elevated at the time; Reynolds visited Rome in 1898 but otherwise devoted the last siv years of his life to his extended duties.

FREDERIC: (1764-1841); dramatist; entered the Middle Temple, 1782, but abandoned law for playwriting. Reynolds' first piece, "Werter", was produced at the Bath Theatre, in later years it was produced often on the stage and printed both in London and Dublin. His first comedy "The Dramatist", was received with great applause and performed before George III, 1789. During his literary career, Reynolds composed nearly 100 tragedies and comedies.

George Nugent: (1770?-1802); Irish poet; about 1790 Reynolds began to write ballads and songs for the Dublin periodicals; the most popular of his short lyrics was "Kathleen O'More"; he was popular and distinguished as a wit.

Henry Revell: M.D.; (1745-1811); physician; studied at Oxford, Cambridge and Edinburgh; first practiced in Surrey, but in 1770, moved to London; fellow of the Coll. of Physicians; physician to Middlesex Hospital and then St. Thomas' Hospital until his extensive private practice forced him to resign; in 1788 he attended George III; became physician extraordinary, 1797, and physician-in-ordinary, 1806; Reynolds was known for his great care, lucidity and skill in prescribing.

JOHN: (1667-1727); di senting minister; 1699-1706; he resided in the family of Mr. Foley as chaplain; was co-pastor with James Forbes at Gloucester; in 1708 he and Dr. Gyles were jointly appointed to take charge of a dissenting church and academy at Shrewsbury; Reynolds published sermons, essays, religious poems, etc.

JOHN HAMILTON: (1786-1852); poet; educated at St. Paul's school; gave his spare time to literature and poetry; in 1814, published two volumes of verse; Reynolds was a very close friend and correspondent of Keats; he produced a highly successful farce, but after his sonnets the best poem is, "The Romance of Youth"; he gave up poetry about 1821, but he continued to write for a number of periodicals; Reynolds was always distinguished for his sarcastic wit.

SIR JOHN RUSSELL: M.D.; (1828–1896); physician; educated at University Coll., London, where he received three gold medals; his practice began at Leeds but soon continued in London; fellow of the Coll. of Physicians, 1859; assistant physician to University Coll. Hospital, to which he was attached throughout life; in 1865 he became professor of the principles and practice of medicine at University Coll.; in 1878 was physician-in-ordinary to the queen's household; he was a fellow of the Royal Society, vice-pres. of the Royal Medical and Chirurgical Society and twice pres. of the Coll. of Physicians; he was created a baronet in 1895.

SIR JOSHUA: (1723-1792); portrait painter; b. in Devonshire; received his education at his father's school; studies were distasteful to him, and the arts very interesting. His first essay in oil-painting was a portrait (still preserved) of the Rev. Thomas Smart, done about the age of twelve in a boat-house with shipwright's paint on a bit of sail; in 1740 was apprenticed to Thomas Hudson, the portrait painter, during that time Reynolds executed quite a number of portraits; in 1749 he sailed for Lisbon; it was at Minorca that the artist's horse fell and Reynolds' lip was given the scar that can be seen on all his subsequent pictures; visited Leghorn, Florence and Rome. At Rome Revnolds copied the great masters, but did not include Michael Angelo, whom he admired most of all. He returned to London in 1752, greatly developed as a man and artist, but with the scar on his lip, and deafness caused by a cold contracted at the Vatican while copying Raphael; his work at London soon put all rivals at a distance. The well known full-length portrait of Keppel did much to raise his reputation. In the period of 1755-1760, were painted a great many portraits, including members of the royal family, titled personages and famous people; many of his sitters became his personal friends. He began to make a great deal of money, most of which was spent on purchasing the best pictures obtainable; many exhibitions which showed his famous pictures. In 1754 he founded the most celebrated of all the many clubs to which he belonged-The Literary Club-also attended by Dr. Johnson, one of Reynolds' close friends. When the Royal Society was established, the famous portrait painter was pres.; he included on the staff, Dr. Johnson, professor of English Literature, and Dr. Goldsmith, of Ancient History, etc.; in 1769, he was knighted; the number of paintings executed is too great to list. He was the greatest portrait-painter England has produced and one of the greatest painters in the world: Mr. Ruskin says of him "Considered as painter of individuality in the human form and mind, I think him the prince of portrait-painters."

RICHARD: (1735-1816); Quaker, philanthropist; was a partner in the large iron works in Shropshire; later assumed charge of the extensive works at Coalbrookdale, the most important of the kind in England; in 1785 he joined in forming the United Chamber of Manufacturers of Great Britain; he represented the iron trade; in 1789 he retired having amassed a large fortune; it is computed that Reynolds usually gave away at least £10,000 a year; gave £10,500 to be invested in land for seven Bristol charities; 1795, a year of much distress; Reynolds also distributed £18,000 in London.

SIR ROBERT: (1601?-1660); lawyer; mem. of the Middle Temple; in 1644, sent to Dublin as one of two commissioners representing Parliament; when the quarrel between the army and the Parliament arose, Reynolds remained neutral; in 1659 he sat in Richard Cromwell's parliament and distinguished himself by a speech against the bill for recognizing Richard's protectorship.

Samuel William: (1773-1855); mezzotint engraver, and landscape painter; b. in the West Indies; sent to England to be educated when a youth and settled there permanently; studied in the schools of the Royal Academy; he showed a complete mastery of his art; produced many fine works; worked with great rapidity and his plates are executed in a vigorous and masterly style; etching was employed to strengthen the mezzotint with unexampled success; was engaged as drawing-master to the princesses; as a result, he was offered more than one post at court; was engraver to the king; refused the honor of knighthood; Reynolds practised water-colour and oil painting throughout his career; exhibited at the Royal Academy and British Institute.

Thomas: (1752-1829); antiquary; graduated from Oxford; in 1776 was presented to the rectory of Little Bowden which he held until his death, and to the vicarage of Dunton Bassett, which he resigned, 1802; wrote on Roman antiquaries; his principal work was "Iter Britanniarum".

Thomas: (1771–1836); informer; b. in Dublin; in 1797, he became interested in politics, which he had heretofore avoided; became a United Irishman; he was given the post of colonel of the so-called Kildare regiment, and was later treasurer of the county. When he realized that his fellow-conspirators planned to seize Dublin and subvert the gov. by force of arms, Reynolds consulted his friend Cope, and became informer. In consequence of informaturnished by Reynolds, the gov. was able to arrest the provincial committee and kill the conspiracy.

Walter: (d. 1327); archbishop of Canterbury; brought up in the court of Edward I and became one of his chaplains; in 1294, Edward I presented him to the church of Wimbledon, in Surrey; served as tutor to the young prince and was a great favorite of his; on the accession of Edward II Reynolds was made bishop of Worcester; became bishop of Canterbury, 1314.

WILLIAM: (1625–1698); dissenting minister; b. at Bures St. Mary while the plague was raging in London; at Cambridge John Whitlock became his lifelong friend; they were ordained together, and in 1655, built a parsonagehouse; in 1665 they were imprisoned for 12 weeks at Nottingham, afterwards preaching where they could in the town; this joint ministry was continued until Reynold's death.

(K) REYNOLDS TOWNS, ETC.

There are in the United States towns as follows:

REYNOLDS: Ga., Idaho, Ill., Ind., La., Mo., Nebr., N. Dak.; REYNOLDS-BURG: Ohio; REYNOLDS DALE: Pa.; REYNOLDS STATION: Ky.; REYNOLDS STORE: Va.; REYNOLDSVILLE: Ill., N. Y., Pa., W. Va. There are also in the United States numerous counties, townships, streets, avenues, etc., bearing the name "Reynolds". This is eloquent testimony to the high esteem in which the name is held in this country.

(L) REYNOLDS CENSUS OF THE UNITED STATES

The compiler of these records has made up a list from city and telephone directories of the United States, and from other sources, as follows. Care was taken to eliminate, wherever possible, persons known or believed to be colored, or of nationalities other than British and American:

Alabama 129	Maine 95	Oklahoma
Arizona 17	Maryland 110	Oregon 39
Arkansas 30	Massachusetts 600	Pennsylvania 602
California 597	Michigan 432	Rhode Island 150
Colorado 10-	Minnesota 95	South Carolina 14
Connecticut	Mississippi 28	South Dakota 8
District of Columbia 7:	Missouri	Tennessee 162
Delaware 33	Montana 46	Texas
Florida 193	Nebraska	Utah 117
Georgia 15	Nevada 8	Vermont 39
Idaho 1	New Hampshire 56	Virginia 147
Illinois 46	New Jersey	Washington 118
Indiana 318	New Mexico 9	West Virginia 105
Iowa	New York1198	Wisconsin 96
Kansas 12	North Carolina 61	Wyoming 5
Kentucky 128	North Dakota 13	-
Louisiana 4	Ohio 465	Total9,016

To secure an estimate of the "Reynolds population" of the United States, we figure as follows:

	(a) Multiply
	by
Only about half the names were taken from each directory	200
consulted	2
Half of the Reynolds reside in the rural districts or in small	(E)
towns having no printed directories which were available to us	2
There are an average of more than four persons in each American family	4
Since Reynolds daughters marry and have as many descendants	2.0
as the Reynolds sons, there are as many descendants of "other names" as there are bearing the name Reynolds (though it is much easier to locate the latter)	2
By multiplying each figure of column (a) into the preceding	-
figure, we have a total of	32
Conservative estimate of the Reynolds population of the United	-02
States, one-half of whom bear the name Reynolds and one-half of whom bear other names	288,512
The estimated Reynolds population of any of the states may be	Transfer and the second obtained by multiplying the figures shown by 52. There are Reynolds in every state of the Union. The Reynolds population of the British Empire is probably equal to that in the United States.

(M) RELIGIONS OF THE REYNOLDS

For several centuries the Reynolds lived in England, Wales and North Ireland. Most of the British (with the exception of those living in South Ireland), and, likewise, the Reynolds were and are of the Protestant faith.

There are a few Reynolds of the Catholic faith in the British Isles, but it is estimated that their number does not exceed two per cent of the entire Reynolds population.

The Reynolds who came from the British Isles to America continued in the faith of their fathers, for the most part, though their descendants in this country today will be found in the memberships of practically all the various churches. It is estimated that of all the Reynolds in America who are church members, at least ninety-five per cent are of the Protestant faith.

Biographical sketches of twenty-three Reynolds appear in WHO'S WHO IN AMERICA. Their religious faiths are shown as follows: CONGREGATIONALIST, 1; METHODIST, 1; METHODIST EPISCOPAL, 2; PRESBYTERIAN, 3; OTHER PROTESTANTS, 1; RELIGION NOT STATED, 15.

Reynolds Family Bible

I read with interest the article about the Hughes Family Bible in the Fall 2004 issue of the NSG and I thought your readers might be interested in the contents of my Reynolds Family Bible. My maternal grandmother, Mary Fletcher Reynolds Bridges, was a 5th generation Haligonian and my mother, Thelma Reynault Bridges James, possessed at one time the Reynolds Family Bible. For some inexplicable reason, my mother, late in life, tore out the family info pages and destroyed the lovely old Bible. I have enclosed copies of the pages from the Bible and also my transcription of the names and dates, etc., also my grandmother's pedigree chart,

Wadman Bible – Additional Information

- by Freda Withrow, Editor, NSG

In the summer issue of the NSG we presented information from the Wadman Bible that was discovered in a recyclable center by Art Phaneuf of New Hampshire, US. It gives me great pleasure in saying that one of our members living in the Parrsboro area recognized the family name and informed Sylvia Warren and her brother Richard Wadman that information regarding their family's Bible had been published. They were very pleased to receive the Bible and the picture of their relatives. We also heard from William Hill and Judi Graham of Nova Scotia who are both connected but more distantly than the Wadmans of Parrsboro. Ms Graham believes that the picture shown on our NSG Spring 2005 cover was possibly David and Mary (Wadman) Williams and their children Ida and William taken ca. 1892. The following additional information regarding the Williams/Campbell branch of the Wadman family was sent to us by Mr. Hill.

A look at the 1871 census of Lower Londonderry, Colchester County, N.S., revealed the following, as those persons identified in the WADMAN Bible as being members of the WILLIAMS family. (Pages 89,90 (287-321))

Elaboration on Reynolds Family Bible

- submitted by Sally Lomas, Penetanguishene, ON

The article, Reynolds Family Bible, page 69 in The Nova Scotia Genealogist, Summer, 2005, Vol. XXIII/2, prompts me to write about what I have gleaned in respect to the Reynolds family in early Halifax and their connection with the Cullymore family. A William Renolds was assigned Lot 3, in Letter D, of the Middle Division at the August, 1749 allotment of land for Halifax. (1) On Dec. 3, 1755. Mary, the daughter of William and Easter Rennalds was baptized. (2) Their son, William, was baptized April 3, 1757. (3) This William Reynolds, son of William Reynolds and Easter Rennalds, I believe is the William Reynolds noted in the Reynolds Family Bible as having been born Feb. 27, 1757.

At the same time as William Renolds was allotted land in Halifax, Mark Cullimore was also granted land. (4) Mark Cullimore was buried June 29, 1760. (5) He left a widow, Grace, and two children Matthew and Esther Reynolds, named in his Will. (6) I believe that Easter Rennalds was the mother of William in the Reynolds family Bible, (above), and was the daughter of Mark Cullimore. I am still looking for the marriage record for her and William Reynolds (Renolds, Rennalds). But, Easter Rennalds was buried March 13, 1768. (7) William Reynolds, widower, married Elizabeth Mollineux July 5, 1768 (St. Paul's). (8) Esther Reynolds' brother, Matthew Cullimore, married Easter Capel. (9) (As the widow Esther Cullymore, she later married Bartholomew Cheevers Oct. 31, 1778). Matthew Cullymore (using Stayner's spelling) had five children, one of whom was baptized, Ester Renalds. (10) So, the assumption that Esther Reynolds was the daughter of Mark Cullimore is based on Mark Cullimore's Will and the name of his granddaughter. Matthew Cullimore had two other daughters, Grace, baptized Jan. 5, 1769, (11) and Elizabeth, for whom I have not found a baptismal record. Grace Cullymore married Daniel Spike in 1787. Elizabeth Cullymore married Robert Letson in 1793. She was his third wife.

Going back to Mary Reynolds (above, baptized 1755). She married Philip Tidmarsh. (12) Her brother, William, (born 1757), as shown in the Bible entry married Mary King. Their first son, William King Reynolds (shown in the Bible entry as having been born June 23, 1785) married Mary Fullerton, daughter of James Fullerton and Lydia Cobb, (13) Dec. 10, 1807. (14) William King Reynolds would have been the first cousin-once-removed of Grace Cullymore, who married

A Brief History of The Reynolds Family In England & The First Generation In America Submitted by Edna Earl Liverman Prather

The Reynolds Family in Tyrrell and Washington Counties had its beginning in the immigration by a son and daughter of William Reynolds, Sr. and his wife, Francis. William, Sr. born 1789 and Francis C., 1792. They resided at Calthorpe Place, Chelsea, England. The children born to them were: William, Jr., b. 11 Dec 1811; Elizabeth, b. 15 Dec 1816; Francis, b. 2 Jan 1820; James, b. 3 Feb 1822; Richard, b. 19 Sep 1924; Joseph, b. 13 Feb 1826; Charles, b. 4 May 1828; and Matilda Jane, b. 14 Mar 1835. The family were members of the Church of England, which in the U.S. is the Episcopal Church. All the sons and daughters were baptized at St. Luke's Parish Church in Chelsea, except William, Jr. (St. Luke's is now an English national monument). The Mother, Francis, was buried in the cemetery at St. Luke's on 1 Mar 1847. Elizabeth and Francis, one married a Pole, the other a Frenchman. James's wife was Sophia. Further research is being undertaken to determine the marriage dates and spouses of the other sons and daughters.

William, Jr. arrived in Tyrrell County, NC in 1831. Why he chose to settle in Tyrrell County is unknown. He married Emily Swain, 5 Apr 1833, whose family was an old established one in the county, as that family had land granted to them during the reign of George II. Emily's mother, Abigail Brickhouse, was the daughter of William Brickhouse from Sound Side. Shortly after arriving in the county, William, Jr. purchased land, for in 1833 he sold a tract of land to his father-in-law, Benjamin Swain. Later various other land sales are recorded to he and his wife, Emily. Their permanent residence was the farm owned by the late Robert Spencer. The house burned in the 19330's.

The children born to William, Jr. and Emily were: Elizabeth, b. 1835; Benjamin, b. 1843; James, b. 1838; Rhoda Caroline, b. 1846; William Thomas Puckett, b. 1849.

While William, Jr. and Emily were acquiring land and rearing their family in Tyrrell County William, Jr.'s parents until his mother's death in 1847, and his brothers and sisters remained in England until 1848 when James, his wife Sophia and Charles and his wife Emma sailed to America. His father, William, Sr., was reputed to have been a diamond cutter. When he was forty-eight years old, on 23 Jun 1837, he was appointed engine keeper at the Royal Hospital in Chelsea, he resigned his position 19 Jun 1849 in order to join his sons who had settled in America. In the fall of 1849 he arrived at the home of William, Jr. and Emily, along with his sixteen year old daughter Matilda Jane, along with what possessions they brought with them from England. (There is an extant record). Charles had arrived in Tyrrell County a few months before his father and sister, as Charles and William, Jr. purchased land jointly in Sep. 1848. Charles did not remain in Tyrrell County much longer, as he was in New York in July of 1851 asking to sell his part of the land purchased and inherited in Tyrrell County as indicated by a notarized legal document sent from New York. The transfer was completed 29 Oct 1853. At the time of this legal document Charles is lost to our family. James and Sophia did not come to Tyrrell County. Where they settled in the U.S. is unknown, as are the other children except during the Civil War Elizabeth and Francis arrived in America to visit William, Jr. and Matilda in North Carolina, but were not allowed to pass through the Union Army lines. They returned to Europe without visiting in Tyrrell County.

We are still growing! Any help or suggestions you may have about any improvements will greatly be appreicated. Send your comments in!

Matilda Jane was well educated for her young age. She gives the time of leaving school in Chelsea as 22 Jun 1848. She became a school teacher in Tyrrell and Washington counties. One of her known teaching positions was in the home of William G. Armstrong in Gum Neck according to one of her pupils, H.Z. Tarkenton. Matilda Jane continued to teach until her marriage in the home of Mr. Armstrong to Nathan Spencer on 4 Sep 1846. Shortly after the marriage they settled in the Mill Pond Section of Washington County. Their married life was soon radically changed by the Civil War. Tradition says Nathan was being inducted in the Confederate Army and was being marched to Williamston to begin his enlistment. During a heavy hail and rain storm he and his brother broke away from the column of march and Nathan made his way back to Plymouth which he already fallen to the Union Army. He enlisted in the Union Army 6 Nov 1862 and was assigned to Co. L, 1st Reg of N.C. Volunteers, and was sent to New Bern, N.C. for active duty, where later he was joined by his wife and children. During the was Matilda operated a small general store. Nathan was discharged 27 Jun 1865. The family returned to Washington County where they purchased a farm where they farmed and reared their family. It is on this farm where they are buried, Nathan died 4 Feb 1907 and Matilda died 4 Jan 1916.

Matilda and Nathan were the parents of: William Carney, b. 1858; Charles G., b. 1866; Benjamin Byrd, b. 1969; Martha Ellen, b. 1871; Lora Virginia, b. 1875; Narcissus, b. 1879. Four other children were born but died early in life.

One must assume from the notarized legal document which was sent to Tyrrel County in 1851 by Charles asking for his share of land inherited from his father, and that part which he owned with William, Jr., that William, Sr. died shortly after coming to America. Whether he remained with Matilda Jane or William, Jr., or whether he went to live with James or Charles is not known. His place and time of death is not known.

William, Jr., was a farmer, school teacher, notary public, and was appointed to determine if young girls planning to marry had been coerced, and was pastor of Bethlehem Primative Baptist Church for over twenty years.

Emily died around 1856, William, Jr. then married a widow, Amasa West. After Amasa's death he married for the third time to Elizabeth Swain. No children were born to the last two marriages. William, Jr. died in October 1878 in Washington County while returning from an Association held at Halifax.

The marriages of William, Jr. and Emily's sons and daughters were: Elizabeth to William Voliva, 2 Sep 1857; Benjamin to Jamima Rhodes, 18 Nov 1867; James to Elizabeth Rhodes, 20 Jan 1859; and William Thomas Pucket to Sarah Elizabeth Tweedy, 9 Dec 1871 and to Minnie Alexander, 17 Apr 1894.

The marriages to Matilda Jane and Nathan's sons and daughters were: William Carney to Hermosa B. (Maud) Newberry, 18 Jan 1882; Charles G. to Lenora Craft, 24 Jun 1894; Benjamin Byrd to Abbie Reynolds, 10 Dec 1894; Lora Virgina to William Swain, 18 Dec 1890; Alice Narcissus to Alvin Horton, 4 Jun 1894; Martha Ellen to Walter Erastus Swain, 24 Nov 1896.

One can deduce from the above marriages that there was a close family connection between Matilda Jane's family in Washington County and her brothers in Tyrrell County.

William Reynolds, Sr. was my GGG-Grandfather; Matilda Jane Reynolds Spencer, was my GG-Grandmother; and Hermosa B. (Maud) Newberry Spencer was my G-Grandmother.

SONS OF PIONEER FAMILIES IN CAVE EXPLORATION ON GUIDE DUTY AT CAVERN

The following article is courtesy of the South Central Kentucky Cultural Center. It is taken from an undated newspaper article and a few words are missing at the bottom of the first column. But due to its interesting history of the tour guides at Mammoth Cave, we felt it would be of interest to our readers.

"MAMMOTH CAVE, Ky., June 18. – Visitors who enter any of the great caverns here need no reference book in order to get the historical background for their contemporary adventure. Particularly is this true if they are lucky enough to have as their guide, one whose ancestors date back to the earliest trips through Mammoth Cave.

"Seven families have sons now on guide duty here who can trace their lineal tree back to forefathers of the third and fourth generations who were Mammoth Cave guides before them. Proud but unembittered rivalry for honors in guide history is shared by three Kentucky families — the Hunts, the Bransfords and the Wilsons.

"Perhaps the most intricate and intimate cave associations are the heritage of the Hunt family, for this line because associated through marriage before the middle of the nineteenth century with the families of Archibald and Scott Miller. The Millers' connection was cave history goes back to 1812, when Archibald was sent here to exploit the nitrate deposits in the cave for the manufacture of gun-powder for the war with England.

"Today seven members of the Hunt lineage all serve as guides, five of them representing the fourth generation of the family intimately connected with the park area. Supervisor, over young guides, is Young Hunt, 35. Serving with him are his brother, Lee, 24, his uncle, Charles; three cousins, Claude and Leon Hunt and Roe Estes, and his father, Schuyler Hunt, 60. The father has been a regular Mammoth Cave guide since 1910. However, his care career goes back to 1895 when he first served as guide in the Colossal Caverns, and later as trailer-guide in Mammoth Cave from 1905 until he qualified as a regular five years later. Schuyler and his brother, Charles, represent the third generation of that family in the cave service. Another brother, Morris, now dead, was never a cave guide, but did trail work in the underground area for a time. His son, Leon, carries on for him.

GENEALOGICAL SOCIETY

OCCGS REFERENCE ONLY

Whenever I am asked why I wanted to move to a town with less than 800 residents, all I can say is that it's where my roots are. If I cross over into the Eastern Townships of Quebec, my Reynolds family history is everywhere in Richmond Co.: my great-great-great-grandfather and my great-great-great-grandmother are buried there. In nearby Lennoxville, Bishop's University's Archives contain journals, letters, photographs, newspaper clippings, diaries, records, and other documents from the English settlers and is a treasure trove for genealogists like me!

Finally, I love the history of my part of the country. The people in this region have always been self-sufficient and highly independent. The Town Clerk of Pittsburg from 1906 - 1920, Sylvester Lyford, kept almost daily records. Some of them give me fascinating and entertaining insights of what life might have been like then.

April 3 1907 Henry Terrill got drunk on rum at Bessie Heath's.

April 6 1907 Henry Terrill sobered up.

Jan 26 1910 Saw comet with the long tail.

June 30 1912 Hard frost killed the potatoes.

July 26 1914 Fred Brown wanted me to go to [the] town office to let him see the letter his wife wrote to Fred Chappell.

Aug 4 1914 Fred Brown killed his wife with a flatiron in Kidderville.

Dec 15 1917 Electric lights started tonight.

The first Reynolds family in Pittsburg was an 'import' from Maine named James O. Reynolds, born about 1851. He married Eliza L Gault 16 July 1878 and they had nine children:

- 1. Fredrick Louis, b. 13 Mar 1879
- Leon N, b. 1 Jun 1889
- 3. Gurney Wilbor, b. 2 Sept 1890
- Carl Roy, b. 17 Sep 1892
- Willie V, b. 17 June 1894
- 6. Maynard Wilson, b. 1 Jan 1883

- 7. Ethel M, b. 1899
- 8. Essie M, b. 1904
- Muriel, b 1906.

Maynard married Dolena Lnu and had a daughter named Alice; Carl married Pauline A Lnu and had Laura M, b.1924, George E, b. 1925, Paul R, b. 1926 and Theodore W, b. 1929.

From what I can gather, James was the son of Nathan Perry Reynolds and his second wife, Flora Staples. Nathan Perry Reynolds was the son of Simeon and Mary Snell Reynolds. Can anyone out there tell me if James is indeed the son of Nathan Perry Reynolds?

JUDGE EDWARD C. REYNOLDS South Portland, ME By Kathryn DiPhilippo South Portland-Cape Elizabeth Sentry 18 November 2005 Submitted by William Marshall

[The Honorable Edward C. Reynolds joined RFA as member number 248 in 1903.]

Once a very prominent member of our community in South Portland, Edward C. Reynolds seems to be known by few today. While some remember that there used to be a Reynolds School in South Portland, and participants in the annual South Portland Historical Society Senior Final Assembly might pick up on ". . and the Edward C. Reynolds Award goes to. . .," much of his memory seems to have faded from the general population.

Let me introduce this man who was a significant person in South Portland's History. Born Edward Clayton Reynolds in 1856 in Braintree MA, Mr. Reynolds attended schools in (what was then) Cape Elizabeth. Indeed, when the town of Cape Elizabeth established its first high school, Reynolds was one of the four members to graduate in the Class of 1877, the first graduating class in Cape Elizabeth. attended Reynolds later Georgetown University where he earned an L.L.M. degree in 1886.

Among his many accomplishments and affiliations, Reynolds was the author of "The Maine Scholars Manual." a textbook that was used by school children throughout the state, which was first published in 1880 and was revised and republished numerous times, as well as "Cape Elizabeth High School," a history of the school, in 1892. Reynolds served as the Cumberland County Register of Probate, 1889-97, Maine state senator 189799, and mayor of South Portland, 1899-1900.

He also served on the South Portland School Board, was president of the Portland Country Club, and Director of the Cumberland and Federal Loan and Building Associations of Portland. He was a memberof the Freemasons, Knights Templar, and Knights of Pythias.

Edward Reynolds lived with his wife, Sophie, and their two daughters Lina and Sophie, in their home at 1024 Broadway (now the location) of Conroy-Tully Funeral Home). He died in 1938 and was buried in Mt. Pleasant Cemetery.

The former Summer Street School on Broadway (near the present-day Amato's at Broadway and Evans Street), was renamed the Edward C. Reynolds School in his honor. The Reynolds School was later closed and the building was replaced by Schoolhouse apartments Old (the Apartments at 1080 Broadway).

If you know of any additional information about Judge Reynolds, or if you are one of his descendants. I would love to hear from you. Please call me at 07-767-3268 or email Kathy@barrenhillbooks.com

LAYING CLAIM TO POCAHONTAS

How to tell if there is a princess in your past by Geraldine Hartshorn Wheeler. In The Washington Post, Sunday, July 9, 1995, p. C8 -- With photo of Pocahontas' portrait.

Thanks to the release of the Disney movie, Pocahontas has become a hot property, and lots of people now would like to claim that they are her descendants. Not many are likely to be able to do so legitimately, however.

Although the Disney film portrays Pocahontas as a seductive 18-year-old maiden fascinated with John Smith, the truth is that she was an 11- or 12-year-old girl when she met the English captain. It was only when she turned 18 that she became involved with a white man, marrying John Rolfe, an Englishman and a VA colonist, in April 1614.

After their marriage, Pocahontas and her new husband was entertained by nobles and royalty. In 1615, she gave birth to a son, Thomas; two years later, she died at Gravesend, England.

We know that Thomas Rolfe inherited his father's VA holdings and the he fathered only one child himself, a daughter, Jane Rolfe. In 1675, that daughter married Col. Robert Bolling; again the marriage produced only one child, this time a son, John Bolling, of Cobbs plantation. He was a member of the House of Burgesses, Virginia's colonial legislature. John Bolling married Mary Kennon, and their issue was one son and five daughters.

This fourth generation is what genealogists call the "gateway" key to descent from Pocahontas. If you cannot prove your descent from one of these children, you aren't related. The children were:

- Maj. John Bolling, who married Elizabeth Blair, niece of James Blair, founder of William and Mary College.
- Jane Bolling, who married Col. Richard Randolph of Curles. One of their descendants was Thomas Mann Randolph, of Edge Hill, governor of VA and husband of Thomas Jefferson's daughter, Martha.
- Mary Bolling, who married Col. John Fleming of Mount Pleasant, the great-grandson of Sir John Fleming, first earl of Wigton, Scotland.
- Elizabeth Bolling, who married Dr. William Gay.
- Martha Bolling, who married Thomas Eldridge.
- Anne Bolling married James Murray, of the ancient clan of that name.

Legitimate descendants of Pocahontas include Harry Flood Byrd, a U.S. senator and governor of VA, and his brother, Richard Evelyn Byrd, discoverer of the South Pole.

Mary Anne Harrison, wife of former New York City mayor John Lindsay, is a descendant, as is Anne Cary Randolph, who married diplomat and U.S. senator Governor Morris. Robert E. Lee's wife, Mary Anne Randolph Custis, also could claim Pocahontas as a forbear.

The only descendant of Pocahontas to occupy the White House was Edith Bolling Gait Wilson, the second wife of Woodrow Wilson. She descended from the marriage of John Bolling III and Mary Jefferson, the sister of President Thomas Jefferson.

Two Reynolds Families of Garrard, Jessamine, & Madison Counties, Kentucky

by Emalene Reynolds Rohrer and Lily M.Clark
Privately published, July 1989

©Reynolds Family Association 1999

HENRY¹ REYNOLDS was born in 1787 in Tryon County NC and died in 1826 in Garrard Co. KY. He is buried in the Henry Reynolds graveyard at the mouth of Paint Lick Creek in Garrard Co. He married Elizabeth McClain (probably) in NC.

Henry is believed to be the son of Thomas and Mary Reynolds who lived on Indian Creek in Lincoln NC. Thomas Reynolds patented land in Anson Co. in 1753. Additional deeds show Thomas Reynolds giving land in Mecklenberg Co. to his son Henry in 1767 and to other sons John and Thomas Jr.

Records indicate that Henry¹ Reynolds supplied the American Army with beef, fodder, and corn during the Rev War. His claim for payment was denied. He patented land in Tryon Co. NC in 1775. In Nov 1781 he deeded minor slaves to his young daughters, Mary and Rachael.

In 1787 Henry and Elizabeth Reynolds sold their land, more than 1000 acres in NC, and moved to KY. Henry bought land first in Madison Co. and later in Garrard and Jessamine. He and Elizabeth lived on Paint Lick Creek until their deaths. Henry's will is on file at the courthouse in Lancaster. In it he mentions his four sons, Henry, Thomas, Moses, and David. He bequeathed land to each, but gave the slaves to David because this son had cared for him in his old age.

Henry¹ Reynolds Sr and Elizabeth McClain had the following nine children:

Thomas² REYNOLDS (Henry¹) b. 1767 NC, d. 1860 Madison Co. KY; m. 1st in NC ____Titerbeam 10 Apr 1788, 5 ch born to this union; m. 2nd Elizabeth Harris, dau of Richmond Harris and Dully Harris 21 Nov 1805. 2 ch born to this union.

Moses² Reynolds (Henry¹) b. 1780 NC, d., 1855 Garrard Co. KY. Evidently did not marry or had no children by a wife who preceded him. Settlement of his estate in Garrard Co. in 1857 lists his heirs as his brother, Thomas, and his nephews and nieces, grnieces, and gr-nephews.

David² Reynolds (Henry¹) b. 1785 in NC, d. 1849 Garrard Co. KY. He m. 1st Jean Moore, daughter of John Moore, 20 Sep 1804; she died 10 Sep 1822. 10 children born to this union. Thomas served in Rev. War with captain Posey's 7th Va. Regt. under the command of Colonel Alexander McClanachan. This regiment was at Valley Forge with General George Washington in 1777-1778.

In the late 1780's Thomas came to Jessamine Co. KY and settled on Hickman Creek near his father. By 1794 he had bought 260 acres on Paint Lick Creek. In 1827 he purchased a cabinetry shop. MERCER REYNOLDS Former U.S. Ambassador To Switzerland www.sourcewatch.org

Mercer Reynolds was confirmed by the United States Senate on August 1, 2001 as U.S. Ambassador to Switzerland and Liechtenstein. He was sworn in by Secretary of State Colin Powell on August 14. Ambassador Reynolds presented his credentials to the Swiss Government on September 11, 2001. He served in that position until April 2003.

Ambassador Reynolds was born in Chattanooga, Tennessee on June 17, 1945. He earned a Bachelor of Science degree in business administration from the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, and a Masters of Business Administration degree from the University of Tennessee.

After serving in the U.S. Army from 1968 to 1969, Ambassador Reynolds took a position with the Coca-Cola Bottling Company in Chattanooga. In 1979, together with his friend and business partner, William DeWitt, he founded Reynolds, DeWitt & Co., an investment firm based in Cincinnati, Ohio. Ambassador Reynolds was co-chairman of the company from 1979 until August 2001, at which time the requirements of U.S. government service led him to step down from that position.

From 1980 to 1985, Ambassador Reynolds was co-chairman of Spectrum 7 Energy Corporation, which was active in the oil and gas exploration business. He also served from 1985 to 2001 as Chairman and CEO of Reynolds Plantation, an 8000-acre lake and golf community on Lake Oconee, east of Atlanta, Georgia.

During the 2000 Presidential election campaign, Ambassador Reynolds was co-finance chair in Ohio for the Bush/Cheney campaign and was a member of the Bush/Cheney national executive finance committee. After the election, he was asked by President-elect George W. Bush to be co-chairman of the Presidential Inauguration Committee.

Ambassador Reynolds' interest in foreign affairs led him to serve on the advisory board of the Center for Strategic and International Studies (CSIS) in Washington, D.C. He has also been actively involved in the board of the Bridging the Rift Foundation, located on the Jordan/Israel border. The foundation seeks to build bridges between people through programs involving economic development, cutting-edge research, and advanced educational opportunities.

A strong believer in volunteer community service work, Ambassador Reynolds has participated in Summerbridge, a civic organization devoted to tutoring inner-city youth in Cincinnati. He has also been campaign chairman for the National Coalition for the Protection of Children and Families, a group focused on fighting pornography and child abuse. He has been a fundraiser for the United Way charity and the Fine Arts Funds. In addition, he has served on the University of North Carolina Educational Foundation and the University of Cincinnati executive committee.

Ambassador Reynolds is married to Gabrielle Reynolds. The Reynolds have five children.

THE DO-GOODERS OF OSGOOD Richmond VA "Times-Dispatch," 9 July 2000 from Bill King

This is a story about a love triangle. There was Goldie. There was Gilmore. And there was Osgood. Gilmore and Goldie Reynolds were husband and wife for 62 years. They loved each other. They loved to play the stock market. And they loved Osgood, Indiana. All 2½ miles of it.

Not that they bragged about it. They were private people. They lived in a simple stucco home. They didn't wear fancy clothing or flashy jewelry. They were tightlipped about their good fortune and good deeds. Most people didn't know they contributed to the volunteer fire department or that Goldie helped pay for the new town hall.

Even after they died--Gilmore in 1990, Goldie in 1998—they still had a secret. Now everyone in town knows it. Goldie and Gilmore Reynolds left Osgood and its 1,688 residents virtually their entire estate, totalling $23 million.

DO YOU KNOW KENNETH P. REYNOLD?

Letter to RFA: "... While going through and pricing articles for our church's yard sale in July 2005, we found a picture of a baby. The baby's name on the back of the picture was Kenneth P. Rennold [sic]. It was taken by a photograph studio. The wording on the front says 'Manchester, Factoryville PA.' Also, on the back with the name it says 'age 10 weeks 1906.' Susan J. Stanton of Sussex NJ who found the photo is very eager to find a family who knows Kenneth. She sent a photocopy of the baby, but the quality isn't good enough for the newsletter to reprint; however, the photo looks to be in very good condition.

Elisha P. Reynolds, Sr. Biographical Book: Rock Island County, Illinois Submitted by Renee Kerr

Elisha P. Reynolds, Sr., an extensive railroad and bridge contractor, and one of the pioneers of Rock Island, came to this place from Vermont in November, 1839. In that early day travelers in this section of country did not have the excellent railroad facilities we now have; indeed, the stage coach was seen only at few places and at rare intervals. Mr. Reynolds was hardy and determined, and on reaching Chicago set out for Rock Island on foot, walking the entire distance - 150 miles- through the unsettled country. Mr. Reynolds was born in Washington Co., Vt., Feb. 13,1817. His parents were Elisha and Betsey (Stuart) Reynolds. The former was born in New York, of English descent, and the latter was a native of Massachusetts, of Scotch descent.

The subject of this sketch remained with his parents until he was 21 years old, receiving a good commonschool education. After leaving home he worked for three years for $10 per month, but being dissatisfied another two years. Seeing a vast field of fertile land all about him, he determined to try his had at farming, and accordingly, in 1844, he rented a farm of 640 acres across Rock River. This venture did not prove so successful as he anticipated, and after three years he left the farm and engaged in the brick business and contracting, erecting buildings, etc.

This line of work he successfully followed for seven years, when in 1853, he enlarged his field of operation, taking in the construction of public works. He took at this time the contract for grading five miles of the Rock Island Railroad. In this he employed as many as 50 men at a time. He was especially fitted for this line of work, and which he has since successfully followed, doing some very hard work.

The largest contract he ever took to complete in one year, and in fact one that ranks among the heavy contracts of the country, was the construction of 250 miles of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad, furnishing everything except the iron, ties and spikes. The amount he received for this work was $1,500,000. During this time he worked 3,00 [3000?] men and 1,500 teams. At the present time, however he employs only 300 men. In 1884 he built 250 miles of railroad for the following companies: The Chicago, Burlington & Quincy, Cedar Rapids & Northern, and Winona, Alma & Northern Railroads.

Among his extensive bridge building operations is the building of the railroad bridge over the Mississippi at Minneapolis, and the one in Dubuque, and also the one in Louisiana across the Mississippi, and the one over the Ohio at Cincinnati, the one at Glasgow over the Missouri, and also the one at Plattsmouth over the same river. He has had the contract for and direct charge of building 1,500 miles of railroad, and besides the bridges mentioned above, numerous others over small streams. In 1860 Mr. Reynolds purchased 350 acres of land in Hampton township, this county, which he still owns and upon which he keeps his tenants. Mr. Reynolds was united in marriage with Eliza Young, a native of Vermont, April 17, 1847. To them ere born five children, four of whom are still living,- John G., Betsey, Lucy and Benjamin. Mrs. Reynolds died in 1858 and Mr. Reynolds contracted a subsequent marriage with Amanda Ogden Oct. 20, 1860. Mrs. Reynolds is a native of Illinois and the mother of one child. -Elisha P. Of his children, John, Benjamin and Lucy are married. The two former are in company with him under the firm name of E.P.

Reynolds & Co., who are engaged in contracting and building railroads in different States and Territories of the Union. Although not a politician, though being a strong Republican in his political views, he has been chosen Mayor of Rock Island for two terms, conducting the affairs of the city in that straightforward, business like way so characteristic of the man.

Walter Reynolds, son of J. Tyler Reynolds Yesteryear, "News Transcript", Freehold NJ. 100 Years ago(June 2000):

Yesterday was the anniversary of the Battle of Monmouth and a number of flags were displayed throughout Freehold.

A terrible accident happened near the Dittmar Powder and Chemical Company's works at Maxim, three miles from Farmingdale, Wednesday morning about 9 o'clock, by which Joseph Clark Chamberlain and Walter Reynolds, son of J. Tyler Reynolds of Southard, were instantly killed.

Both men resided near the works and were employed by the company, and they had been instructed to take a quantity of dynamite that was spoiled and had been condemned, and distribute it over a cornfield belonging to the company so the growing crop would be benefited by the nitrate of soda which the explosive contained.

Chamberlain had worked all day Tuesday scattering the mixture over the field, and it was not considered especially dangerous if carefully handled. It was packed in cartridges and placed in boxes of 50 pounds each, but the cartridges had no caps in them. Just how the accident happened will never be known as there is no living witness to tell the story.

The men had almost finished the job assigned to them, and had driven to the field with several boxes of the condemned material in the wagon and had evidently placed two or three cases on the ground preparatory to opening them for distribution.

The supposition is that Reynolds attempted to open one of the boxes that had been thoroughly saturated with the nitro-glycerin that had run out of the cartridges that had not been properly mixed, by using an iron implement of some description, and that the concussion caused the explosion that terminated with such disastrous results.

Chamberlain always used a wooden wedge when doing such work, and from long experience at the work, and knowing the dangerous matter of the compound he exercised great care. The men in the works nearby were greatly alarmed by the explosion and at Farmingdale the buildings were shaken by the explosion.

The employees hastened to the place where Chamberlain and Reynolds had been working a few minutes before and discovered a hole in the ground about four or five feet deep and of similar width where the boxes containing the explosive had been standing but the two men had been literally blown to atoms and hardly a vestige of their bodies was visible in any direction.

Abram David (A.D.) Reynolds

From Men of Mark in Virginia, Vol. IV Lyon G. Tyler, 1908 (contains an autographed photo of A.D. Reynolds)

Abram David Reynolds was born at Rock Spring, Patrick County, VA 13 Aug 1847. He is the son of H. W. and N.J. Reynolds. His father was a farmer and manufacturer of tobacco. The father was averse to public life; he never would offer himself for any office and he advised his son to imitate his example. He was marked by wonderful foresight in the future. The earliest known ancestors of the Reynolds family in Virginia, the great-grandfather of Abram David Reynolds, himself a Reynolds, emigrated from England and settled in Henrico County, and later removed to Patrick County, Virginia.

A.D. Reynolds was reared in the country. He enjoyed sound physical health and was early trained to toil. He worked in every department of his father's tobacco factory, and served as a regular hand until he became general manager and one of the proprietors.

His character, especially on the moral and spiritual side, was much influenced by his mother but the greatest influence exerted upon him was that of home. He declares that he has never been much of a reader, and that contact with men has been his book. His education was seriously interfered with by his early entrance into the army, in which he enlisted at the age of 16, However, he studied in Edgewood academy, Henry County, Va., and in the Virginia Military Institute at Lexington. After the war he entered the Bryant and Stratton Commercial college at Baltimore, Maryland, from which he was graduated in 1867.

On 1 March 1863 Mr. Reynolds enlisted in the Confederate army as captain of Company I, 3rd Virginia reserves. In the following May, he was promoted major in the same regiment. His entrance upon the active work of civil life may be dated from his engaging in the tobacco business immediately after the war. This work was entered upon with great energy and with the determination to make up the years lost in the war. At this time, Mr. Reynolds was of an interest in the business.

In addition to his connection with the tobacco greatly encouraged by the gift from his father business, Mr. Reynolds has been president of the Holston National Building and Loan Association, an institution still doing business, and director in the first National Bank of Bristol, Tennessee. For many years, Mr. Reynolds has been identified with the Prohibition party, his political allegiance having been changed upon the issue which, to his mind, was one of ethics and sound public policy, and he has given liberally of time and money to promote the temperance cause.

Mrs. Reynolds is a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South. His relaxation is taken in horseback riding. During the summer months he spends considerable time at his Bon Air farm, near Elk Park, North Carolina. This farm, which is used almost exclusively for grazing, has an elevation of over 4,500 feet.

In regard to his ambitions Mr. Reynolds declares that his first was to be a soldier. The extent to which this ambition was gratified is shown by the fact that, before he was 17 years of age, he was commissioned major. His next ambition was to assist his father in recovering his fortune which was lost by the emancipation of his negroes. The success attained by the family in their endeavor to improve their finances is shown by the acquisition, before his father's death, of sufficient property to have enabled them to purchase every slave they had lost, even thought paying the highest price which could have been obtained in the market before emancipation.

Major Reynolds, states that his present ambition is to give farmers of his section an object lesson in a the way of improving the soil and at the same time making the business profitable, but that the crowning ambition of his life is to demonstrate that a business man can live a consistent Christian life. One of his most fondly cherished hopes is that he may live to see the liquor business abolished. To the young, Major Reynolds commends sobriety, energy, persistence, and honesty; these virtues will, in his judgment, accomplish anything in reason for which a young man may strive.

On 1 Oct 1872, Major Reynolds was married to Senah A. Hoge, daughter of Joseph H. Hoge of Giles County, Virginia. They have had eight children, seven of whom are now (1907) living.

Reynolds Families of Bullock County, Alabama Submitted by Colleen Kenyon

From Collections and Recollections of Bullock County, Alabama. Bullock Co. Historical Society, ca. 1977, page 123:

In the 1800's there were the extensive plantations of the Reynolds family. The "Old Doctor," J. H. Reynolds, lived near the Macedonia Baptist Church which is located south of the Bickerstaff or Hooks Crossroad.

His son, the "Young Doctor," W.A. Reynolds, accumulated a sizeable portion of land at Mt. Hilliard, which by 1880, was a nice village of 100 or more families, with about 870 people in the vicinity. There were two country stores, one originally operated by the R.J. and J.T. Sims families. The village also contained Mt. Hilliard Methodist Church, the School and Masonic Lodge, a cotton gin, and had the services of two practicing physicians. The "Young Doctor" Reynolds resided in Mt. Hilliard until he moved his family to Union Springs where he and his family resided permanently.

Markers in Mt. Hilliard Cemetery for the Reynolds family bear dates as early as the 1870's. The design and proportion of these markers testify to the prominence and wealth of the family. The Reynolds family was connected with the H.H. Sellers family of the Mt. Hilliard and Post Oak communities and these two families produced a large number of outstanding doctors and nurses, as well as planters and land owners.

John H. Reynolds, M.D. was a distinguished physician and surgeon of Mt. Hilliard, Bullock County, Alabama. He was born in Anson County, North Carolina in 1833. He resided there until 1834 when he with his parents, Newnon and Lucy Scarborough Reynolds, came to Alabama and resided in Russell County for some time and then settled in Macon County, Alabama, where his mother died in 1856.

The father of Newnon Reynolds was one of three brothers who came from Ireland to America prior to the Revolutionary War.

Dr. James H. Reynolds studied medicine with his brother, Dr. John A. Reynolds, and in 1854 graduated from Nashville, Tennessee Medical College. In 1856 he married Miss Sarah Strom, daughter of John and Lucy Strom, who were both born in South Carolina, but came to Alabama and settled in Pike (now Bullock) County in 1835.

In 1862, Dr. James H. Reynolds served in the 53rd Alabama Infantry, but the people of the neighborhood needed his services. In 1886. In 1886 he was elected to the state senate. He practiced medicine 34 years at Mt. Hilliard, Alabama.

The above information on the Reynolds Family was given the author by Mrs. Willa Reynolds Fenn Union Springs, daughter of Dr. W.A. Reynolds and Myrtle Pennington Reynolds, of Union Springs, and grand-daughter of Dr. J. H. Reynolds of Mt. Hilliard.

Sir Joshua Reynolds, b. at Plympton, Earl, Devonshire, England July 16, 1723; d. at London, Feb. 23,1792. English portrait painter. He was educated by his father, a schoolmaster and clergyman. In Oct 1740, he went to London and studied under Thomas Hudson. In 1746 he established himself as a portrait painter at London. By invitation of his friend, Commodore (afterward Admiral) Keppel, he sailed for Italy on the Centurion, arriving in Rome at the close of 1749. Owing to a cold which he took there, he became deaf and never recovered his hearing. After two years in Rome he visited Parma, Florence, Venice, and other Italian cities. He returned to London in 1752, and was intimately associated with Johnson, Burke, Goldsmith, Garrick, and others. The Literary Club was established at his suggestion in 1764.

In 1768 the Royal Academy was founded, with Reynolds as its first president. His annual address form its well-known Discourses. In 1784, on the death of Allan Ramsey, he was made painter to the king. Reynolds wrote three essays in Idler (1759-60). His most famous works include portraits if Johnson, Garrick, Sterne and Goldsmith, The Age of Innocence, Mrs. Siddons as the Tragic Muse, The Infant Hercules, The Strawberry Girl, and Garrick Between Tragedy and Comedy.

KEYNOLDS – MAC DOGHNAILL – MacRANNALL

The old Irish name Mac Raghnaill (son of Randal or Reginald) has been long anglicized to Revnnolds, a name also very common in England and Scotland. The MacRannalls were a sept of Muintir Eolais in County Leitrim who sometimes feuded against, and sometimes fought with, their powerful O Rourke neighbours. The Chief of the Name was known as Magranill of Mounigh. An interesting account of the family in the 17th century is given in volume five of the Journal of the Royal Society of Antiquaries, of 1905. James Reynolds of Lough Scur Castle was one of a number of Reynolds who were Members of Parliament. At one time the MacRannalls who changed their name to Reynolds owned 6,600 acres in Leitrim and 1,000 acres in Roscommon. More that a dozen Reynolds fought on the side of James II at the battle of Boyne and, after his defeat, lost much of their land.

Thomas Reynolds (1771-1836) was son of a wealthy Dublin poplin manufacturer. He lost his fortune which led to his accepting a bribe to betray his colleagues in the revolutionary society of the United Irishmen. He fled the country after they were captured.

The Reverend Christopher Reynolds (1834-93) was the first Catholic bishop of South Australia.

Dr. Osborn Reynolds (d.1866) was a novelist and playwright while his son, James Emerson Reynolds (1844-1920) was a distinguished and innovative professor of chemistry at Trinity College Dublin.

WHO HAS THE MISSING DIARY?

The 43rd Annual Reunion of RFA was held on 20 Oct 1934. An annual published as the 1932-33-34 Annual in 1934, on page 56, the members of at that date were recorded under the early lines of that time. Under the Virginia Line was:

Mrs. E. Middleton, Conway AR
Dr. John H. Reynolds, Conway AR
There is no other mention of these two persons in any of RFA records.

They may have joined RFA at that reunion. The other VA members listed besides Mrs.Middleton and Dr. Reynolds were Miss Henrietta Reynolds, Stockton CA; Mr. Lloyd W. Reynolds, Alexandria VA; Mrs. Lon Rogers, Ashland KY; Mr. John Wesley Turner, Hawkinsville GA; and Mr. Stephen F. Tillman, Washington DC.

Seventy-one years later, Christopher Reynolds, of Berea OH, has contacted RFA with information about these two persons and also seeking help.

Mrs. E. Middleton was Rose Jewel (Reynolds)
Middleton. Her ancestor was James H.
Reynolds from Enola (Faulkner) AR, who was great-great-grandfather of this Christopher Reynolds.

The records in his files show that Mrs. Middleton gave to RFA between 1933-1934 the diary of James H. Reynolds. His diary would contain information about his life and time as a soldier in the Civil War. This diary is not now in RFA records.

If you should see such a diary during your research trips or if you know anything about Chris' ancestor James H. Revnolds please let address him know. His e-mail is spiriman@aol.com. His address is F. Christopher Reynolds, 289 Wyleswood Dr. Berea OH 44017, and phone 440-243-5346.

Evaluating Evidence by Brian Bonner Mavrogeorge <mavrogeorge@genealogysf.com> The Learning Company

When did grandpa die? The family Bible has May 31st, his tombstone June 1st, the death certificate June 1st, and the Civil War pension application has May 31st.

Apply the rules of genealogical evidence: consistency, directness, and origin (CDO). Is the evidence consistent with what already is known—support it, refute it, or is it neutral? Is the evidence a direct statement of fact or implied? How did the evidence originate—was it recorded at the same time as the event by a witness, or later from second-hand knowledge? All of this evidence is direct. The Bible supports May 31st, but who wrote it? The tombstone refutes it; who told the stonecutter? The official record refutes it, but is secondary evidence from a non-witness.

The pension file is the best of the evidence. It supports the date, is direct, and although it is secondary (recorded at a later date) it contains information from his wife and doctor who were present at the death. (From An infomercial from The Learning Company, From RootsWeb 21 May 1999.)

John and Elizabeth (McKee) Reynolds of Washington Co. Maryland From RFA Archives and RFA Reynolds Recollections, Nov-Dec 1992

A History of Washington County, Maryland. From earliest settlements to the present time, including A History of Hagerstown, Maryland, by Thomas J.C. Williams. Balto., Regional Publishing Co., 1968 [This may be a reprint]

The Reynolds Family. Among the many families that Washington co. has contributed toward the building up of the great states that lie beyond the Ohio river one of the most important is that of Reynolds. In this sketch we must limit ourselves to the lineage of a certain John¹ Reynolds of "Sharpsburg Hundred," who bought land between the Antietam and the village in 1761, for we cannot find the links that connect this many with any others, although the traditions point to some kinship with the Bakersville family.

The most reliable tradition says that the father of our John¹ was an Englishman, married a Welsh lady by the name of Cook or Crooks, and settled in Ireland, near Dublin, where his son [John¹] was born and married a Scotch-Irish lady by the name of Elizabeth McKee, and came to America, first to Delaware or Dauphin Co., Pa., and finally bought "Anderson's Delight" 212 acres for L235, 1761, July 1, To which he added later 35 acres of "Abston's Forest."

He¹ was born about 1714 and made his will 1784, Mar. 22, which was probated Apr 13 next, out of which some family items can be gathered. During the Revolution, 1777, Jan 9, John¹ Reynolds was appointed by the "committee of observation" to appraise wagons, horses, etc. for Col Joseph Smith's battalion, but he resigned the next week. We will number his children and descendants by families and generations. He had nine as follows:

1. John² Reynolds m Margaret Smith, of James, and bought of Joseph Smith, 1767, Dec 28, part of "Ward's Spring" and part of "Resurvey on Elwick's Dwelling", adding to it later. This was near his father's and near to James and Joseph Smith.

In 1775, Sep 18, the committee of observation ordered certain persons to "carry the association to all freemen resident in the district and require their subscription to the same", which signified the securing of the cooperation of the citizens in the Revolutionary plans of Congress. John² Reynolds Jr., was ordered to do this at Sharpsburg. At the meeting of the committee, 1776, Feb 19, he was recommended for the appointment of Captain of the 36th battalion, and in June he was appointed captain of the 1st battalion of "the Flying Camp," and Dec 10, captain of the 7th Maryland. Having a family of 7 children, [See below] Capt. John² resigned his commission, 1777, Dec 28, and two years later, 1779, Mar 17, he sold out and started with his wife and children for KY, but was killed by Indians and his family were taken into captivity. See pages 100-102, vol. I. [See also Frontier Mother for a complete story of their terrible experiences with the Indians and final restoration to home and friends. Note, however, that William was the youngest, not the oldest of the children, and did not settle in Baltimore: it was his cousin, Isaac, that went there in 1800. A much more extended account of this captivity was published in the "Western Christian Advocate," Cincinnati, OH, 1835, May 1, 8, 15, and 22.]

- 2. Elizabeth Reynolds m Thomas Smith see Smith Family - and died after 1803, Nov 23.
- 3. Joseph Reynolds, born 1747, Nov 10, died 1808, Jul 7, in OH, m Sarah Smith, 1774, Apr [cannot read poor photocopy].
- 4. Francis Reynolds appears on the roll of the 7th regiment, 1780, Nov 1st.

 - 7. Margart Reynolds m Osborne.

N. Quincy MA: Christopher Pub. House, 1979. [NGS CS71.R464.1979, abstracted 1986 by SRT]: Recounts experiences of a Reynolds family during its migration effort in 1779 by riverboat from Western Maryland to a region known as Kentucky. Recorded information on these events were published in "The Torch Light," a Hagerstown, MD, newspaper in 1835, based on recollections of one of the surviving Reynolds children [Elizabeth], told when she was 64 years old.

John Reynolds m (Washington) MD Margaret _____ Children:

- 1. Joseph Reynolds (eldest) taken by Indians separately to Canada in 1779.
 - 2. Sarah Reynolds, age 9 in 1779.

- 3. Thomas Reynolds, age 4½ in 1779.
- 4. John Reynolds (age 6 when other Indians took Him from main party, 1779).
 - 5. Mary Reynolds (older than Elizabeth).
- 6. Elizabeth Reynolds (youngest girl) age 8 at capture; kept by Indians in (Logan) OH, 1779, until ransomed.
- 7. William Reynolds (youngest) few months over age 3 at capture; kept by Indians in (Logan) OH, 1779, until ransomed.

John Reynolds served in Rev. War as captain. Started for KY Sep 1778. Margaret's 31st birthday was 25 Mar 1779. John was killed ca. late April 1779 by Indians. Rest of party taken by Indians (2 families and Reynoldses and others). Elizabeth named uncles, Joseph Reynolds and Robert Smith (Washington) MD. Oct 1779. Mrs. John Reynolds was released at Fort Detroit, free of the Indians; when she arrived at the Fort she had only 3 of her 7 children with her: the eldest girl, Mary, 11; the 2nd girl, Sarah, 9; and Thomas 41/2. Nearly four months after separation, Elizabeth was ransomed and returned to her mother, Dec 1779. John was returned to his mother by a white man who had redeemed him. About this time. Mrs. Reynolds knew the location of all her children; she was technically a prisoner of war of the British. William was returned to Mrs. Reynolds in mid-Dec 1779. The officers paid his redemption. Joseph was taken by a Canadian tribe, an old Wyandot Chief who so liked him he adopted Joseph and designated Joseph to succeed him as Chief. Mrs. Reynolds had been allowed to cross the river and visit him. Mrs. Reynolds with help from several "stole" (the Indian's complaint) Joseph back in late summer 1780. There was a British captain Reynolds at Fort Detroit who told Mrs. Reynolds he had been born in Maryland. After 18 months, Mrs. Reynolds and her children were placed on a ship for Montreal by the British Fort Commander. They returned to Western Maryland. Mrs. Reynolds remarried in 1785 William Baird. Margaret Reynolds Baird was author's wife's gr-gr-grgrandmother. Mrs. Reynolds had 2 children by Mr. Baird, one of whom was Frances and is the one through whom author's wife descends. A brother of Capt. John, [not named] enraged by their experiences devoted almost all his life to revenge, becoming one of the most celebrated Indian fighters of the area. References:

Reynolds and Crook Family of Washington Co., Maryland by Joseph H. Reynolds, Chicago IL, 1922 ©Reynolds Family Association, 1992

[The genealogy of this family was originally published in the 1922 RFA Annual. There were also updates and corrections published periodically in subsequent Annuals. These updates have been incorporated into the main article.]

The first Reynolds of our line of whom we have any knowledge was born in England about 1681. His Christian name is unknown, but may have been John or Joseph. He married a Miss Crook or Crooks who was born in Wales. They moved to Dublin County, Ireland, near Dublin.

How long he lived in Ireland is not known, but after rearing a family, he and his family emigrated to America and settled on the Swatara River, or Creek, near its junction with the Susquehanna, in what is now known as Dauphin County, Pennsylvania.

Dauphin County was a part of Lancaster County until March 1785.

We have no record of the time of his arrival in this country, but it is supposed to be about 1725-1730, from the fact that he is said to have had a family previous to emigrating, therefore was probably 45 or 50 years of age on arrival here.

The above supposition is based on the following note left by Joseph Smith Reynolds Sr., b. Feb. 26, 1780, in Washington Co., MD It reads:

"Great-grandmother Reynolds, maiden name Crook, born in Wales of Protestant parents. Great-grandfather Reynolds, born in England of Episcopalian parents, but himself of Presbyterian belief. Emigrated to Ireland near the City of Dublin. Removed to America with his family; settled on the Sweetarrow with the Susquehanna. Grandmother Reynolds, maiden name Elizabeth McKee, born in Ireland, Episcopalian."

John Reynolds (No. 2) was born in Ireland, and in 1744 married Miss Elizabeth McKee in Dauphin Co., PA, or Anne Arundel Co., MD. He first appears in Washington County, MD where under date of July 1, 1761, John Reynolds "of Sharpsburg Hundred" purchased land between the Antietam and the Village of Sharpsburg, known as "Anderson's Delight," containing 212 acres for £235, to which he added later 35 acres of "Abston's Forest."

He was born 1714 and made his will March 22, 1784, which was probated April 13, 1784 at Hagerstown. During the Revolution, January 9, 1777, John Reynolds was appointed by the "Committee of Observation" to appraise wagons, horses, etc., for Col. Joseph Smith's battalion, but resigned the next week.

The above-mentioned homestead dates back to 1748. Its first owner and occupant was Col. Thomas Cresap who obtained it by grant from the land-office of Maryland, October 6, 1748. Cresap sold it to William Anderson December 4, 1750, who disposed of it July 1, 1761 to John Reynolds.

This homestead is situated about the center of the Antietam battlefield of the Civil War, and during the battle, the buildings were struck by shot and shell of which they still bear the marks. One shell pierced the southern end of the dwelling, went up through the parlor ceiling, and was found in the attic.

In the RFA archives are many pieces, even some fragments, of paper from persons who did not become members of RFA and/or no other piece of paper has been found to really identify the fragment or the submitter. Some are of such poor quality, both in handwriting and/or copying, and others faded with age.

One of the more legible copies is a letter to Mrs. Rippier 3 April 1941, from Florence M. (Mrs. J.C.) Abbott (before the 1948 Tillman book): I am seeking information of the Reynolds of Yorktown VA. It has been said that a New England Reynolds came South... Here are the following names:

I. George Norton Reynolds living 1790 in Yorktown VA, m. Martha Sims in Charleston SC. Five sons and two daus: Richard Reynolds, Dr. William Sims Reynolds, Geo, Norton Reynolds Jr, Lawrence Reynolds, Thomas Reynolds (Lt. Governor of MO 1860, b. 1821, d. 1887). Mary Reynolds m – Savage and Harriot Reynolds m. M.Y. Leitch.

II. Thomas Reynolds, brother of I, above, of Yorktown VA, d.1800.

In the William and Mary's Quarterly, Vol. 12, p. 128-129, the following is what I found:

Caucasian in the Woodpile by Ern Reynolds

The late Senator J. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina (RFA ____) was the son of a Reynolds lady kin to us. In December 2003 the great man now deceased posthumously presented all his living kinsman with a 78-year old mixed-race daughter previously unacknowledged by him.

It seems that the South Carolina Constitution defined anyone with as little as one-eighth Negro blood to be Black. This new Thurmond daughter qualifies by more than the minimal fraction. Here is a clear case of Caucasian in the woodpile (genealogically speaking), and the Caucasian was Strom.

Old Strom made no effort to publicly acknowledge paternity while fighting for white supremacy. To have done so would have not only been awkward, but politically disabling. The Chivalry would not have been able to stop laughing at his hypocrisy long enough to cast a supporting vote. The hilarity might also weaken one too much for the recreations of "drinkin', wenchin' and lynchin'".

About lost ethnic roots, Booker T. Washington said, "The Negro race in the strongest race in the world; If a Black crosses with a Chinaman, an Englishman, or any other white person the child is still a Negro. We hold our own." The best indication of Washington's own paternity was that it was actually derived from a Scots-Irishman named Ferguson who lived antebellum on a neighboring Franklin County, Virginia plantation.

In this 21st Century the best behaved people in my neighborhood seem to be the Sudanese Christian refugees. They have survived as a minority disfavored in a gruesome jihad. From appearances they have no blood kinship with the Scots-Irish of the American South, though several are Anglicans. The Sudanese here in Roanoke, Virginia apparently exhibit no visible tendencies of lawlessness, impulsivity, emotionalism, or violent behaviors.

The latter four stereotypes are often racially misattributed, when in fact those proclivities are most demonstrably Anglo-Irish or Scots-Irish. Consider "The Troubles" between the Orangemen and the IRA since the 1960's in one of the few remaining Western venues where religion is universally taken seriously. There everyone believes fervently in life after death, and seems determined to pass on just as soon as possible.

Oliver Cromwell knew very well what he was doing in the 17th Century when he resettled very large numbers of Protestant Lowland Scots to Catholic Irish Counties Antrim, Armagh, Down, Fermanagh, Londonderry, and Tyrone. Since then force has just as reliably been met with counterforce, without a breather. There's hardly a pacifist among them.

One need only examine the well-established history of Ulstermen, English Borderers, Scots Borderers, and the lex talionis to verify their ready tendency to commit mayhem. Lawlessness and keeping a generous distance from authority have long been routine family values. Keeping close to a political boundary convenient to flee across is another related ingrained habit of peripatetic Scots culture.

In the 18th Century the most persistent and longestrunning guerilla warfare in the entire American Revolution took place in North Carolina between Loyalist Highlanders settled on the coast, against Patriot Lowland Scots in the piedmont. A certain spirit of quick aggression came over with them from North Britain — and still predominates in the American South. Scots-Irish are the clear majority in modern Dixie. Just as our English Reynolds forbears settled on the coast, our land-hungry lowland Scots ancestors settled the backcountry, far from the sea and far from restrictive authority. Once loose in the American woods, the Scots proved in two centuries to be more dangerous and adaptive than could the native Indians in two millennia. Then these thrusting Scots-Irish people broke raw land to cotton with slave labor. The hewers of wood and drawers of water for the transplanted Scots were going to be somebody else.

Here is the lesson to be pondered. Before we stereotype Southern Blacks, lets take their individual Scots-Irish quotients into account. Then the balance of inherited attributes seems to reach a truer perspective. We should consider the possibility that misattributions of ethnic tendencies should be laid at the door of a series of Caucasians in the woodpile. Welcome to the family.

A Last Appeal and Warning November 1912 Submitted by Ern Reynolds

The attempt of the Democratic candidate for the Legislature to break or buy his way into the Legislature makes it necessary that an appeal be made to the moral sense and honor of the people of this county. You will bear me out in saying that you have never seen a campaign like this. Money, whisky and the power an employer has over his employes [sic] exercised, in order that the will of the people may be turned aside and a man elected whom the people do not desire to see in the Legislature and who cannot be there for the interest of anybody but himself.

I speak now to Democrats and Republicans, say to them that I feel their minds are made up and it is fortunate that under the ballot system no in vogue in this State, a man can vote his sentiments without fear of discovery. When you enter the booth to prepare your ballot you are alone with yourself ad your Creator. Let not persuasion, intimidation or anything else influence you to go to the polls and cast your ballot against your wishes.

If you desire to vote the Republican ticket, plainly mark a big X through the heading of all the tickets on the ballot sheet, except "The Republican Ticket," with an indelible pencil (or pen and ink), fold your ballot so that the face of it cannot be seen (unless you desire to vote an open ballot), in which case you need not fold it, and hand it to one of the commissioners of election. This can be done in one minute or less, but you have five minutes in which to do it; so take your time, don't get scared; and if you do get scared, take time and 'cool off' before you begin operations.

In case of doubt ask the Republican poli clerk for assistance. He is sworn not to tell how you voted and if he does the penalty is the Penitentiary. On the Sunday and Monday preceding the election day, there will be circulated roorbacks, eleventh hour lies, false circulars, warning letters, statements made to deceive the voters and to catch the unwary. I want no, at this time, to warn you against such. This most remarkable campaign in the history of Mineral County is about to close. Let the people stand up and vote their sentiments regardless of any of the desperate influences being brought to bear and we will clear the fair name of the County of the blot that is attempted to be put upon it.

Sincerely and respectfully, FRANK C. REYNOLDS Chairman, Republican Committee

The author of this "roorback," eleventh hour lies, false circulars, warning letters, and statements to deceive the voters" was fighting fire with fire. He was attorney FRANCIS CORNELIUS REYNOLDS (1868-1940). This roorback was distributed before election day in November 1912 in which the Republican ticket of President William Howard Taft lost to T. Woodrow Wilson. But in Mineral County, West Virginia, the seat in the lower house of the state legislature stayed in safe hands. Frank Reynolds' father Francis Marion Reynolds (1843-1931) had previously held that seat with considerable distinction. In that same election F. M. Reynolds won re-election to that county's Circuit Court Judgeship. Both men were descended from Thomas Reynolds, brother to Christopher Reynolds, and founder of Ern Reynolds' line in Virginia 1622.

What Is a Roorback?

William Safire, The New Language of Politics, p.406, (1968)

Smear - The predecessor word was "roorback." In 1844, the pro-Whig Ithaca (NY) Chronicle published an excerpt from the journal of one Baron Roorback entitled "A Tour through the Western and Southern States." In it, Roorback told of seeing Democratic presidential candidate James K. Polk purchase forty-three slaves and have his initials branded on their shoulders. Others newspapers that shared the Chronicle's leanings toward Whig candidate Henry Clay reprinted the smear. As far as is known, the story was a complete falsehood, and no Baron Roorback existed. Polk survived the smear to win, and a "roorback" came to mean any false or damaging story about a political candidate published too late to permit refutation. (Cf. Gutter Flyer.) Smear was popularized during the latter part of the Hoover administration...

Where Was Christopher Reynolds of Virginia In 1634?

Here's why we can't prove Christopher Reynolds was a founding member and vestryman in 1634. He did adjure to leave England and one could not get elected a Burgess without the experience of serving on vestry first:

The first Vestry Book, 1632-1725, of St. Luke's Church, Smithfield VA, was buried to escape Tarleton in 1780. When dug up in 1810 it was bottom book and ruined by water, was still mentioned in present tense in 1900, not heard of after 1900.

(Historical and Biographical. Illustrated. Chicago; F. A. Battey & CO., Publishers. 1883. page 387, Big Creek Township, White County, Indiana) [GenFor

LEVI REYNOLDS was born in this township March 7, 1850, and is one of five children, now living, born to Benjamin and Lydia J. (Gardner) Reynolds, natives respectively of Pennsylvania and North Carolina. Benjamin Reynolds, although he attended school but three nights in his life, acquired, by his own exertions a sound practical business education. When a young man, he settled in Perry County, Ohio, where he married, and soon after bought and operated a stage line from Vincennes to Toledo, following the Wabash and Maumee Rivers. In 1828, a distemper carried away many of the large number of horses used, leaving Mr. Reynolds almost penniless. In about 1830, he came to this county and began life anew. Being well acquainted with the country, he was employed to locate land on commission, which commission consisted chiefly in lands, and thus he became owner of from 15,000 to 20,000 acres in Indiana and Illinois. He was eminently a public-spirited man. He had a contract for excavating many miles of the State ditch, a part of which he sub-let. He was largely influential in locating and building the N. A. & S. R. R., and also the Pan Handle Railroad, in both of which he became a large stockholder. He was also interested in the Junction Railroad, and in 1854 or 1855 had the misfortune to lose $100,000 by that concern. His first wife bore him five children, four of whom are yet living. He married his second wife, LYDIA J. GARDNER, at Vincennes, in 1839 or 1840. She is now living at Monon, this county, and is a member of the Presbyterian Church. Mr. Reynolds laid out the town of Reynolds, which was named for him by GOV. WILLARD. During the late war, Mr. Reynolds met with his second financial reverse, having to pay over $40,000 bail debts. From this, however, he had nearly recovered before his death, June 6, 1869, at his home in this township. Levi Reynolds and a brother cultivated the home farm after the father's death, until the same was sold under administrator's sale and bought by the mother, and the estate divided. In 1878, he went to Monticello, and engaged in the livery and saloon business until 1881, when he returned to the farm. He was married in September, 1879, to Mary E. cooper, a native of Perry County, Ohio, who has borne him two children - Roy H. and Glenn C. Mr. Reynolds is Road Superintendent of the township, is a member of Brookston Lodge, No. 66, A. F. & A. M., and in politics is a Democrat."

REYNOLDS OF HARRIS COUNTY, GA Update by Cynthia Nason cinason@juno.com

1807 Joseph Vance, b. Mar. 21, 1781

The ancestry of John Reynolds (born 2 Mar 1782 SC, died about 1848, Harris Co, GA) remains unknown. He is in Stephen F. Tillman's book, The Rennolds-Reynolds Family of England and Virginia 1530-1948, (as #1300, page 145, and #7912 in another Tillman book). In a previous article—published in the September - October 2002 issue of this newsletter—I described, in detail, several of Tillman's errors regarding John's ancestry. I will briefly review some of that information. Then I will focus on providing additional detail about John and his supposed brothers, new information uncovered since the previous article about John's possible origins, and additional information about John's descendants.

John Reynolds married Elizabeth (Davis or Chester, born 1789 SC, died 1872 Harris Co., GA) 29 May 1808, probably in Georgia or South Carolina.

All of their children said that they (the children) were born in Georgia; the eldest was born about 1818. I cannot explain the 10-year gap between their 1808 marriage and their first child's birth at this time.

In Tillman, John is shown as the brother of Samuel and Richard Reynolds, but this association seems doubtful. Tillman apparently gave birthdates for the men that made his claim that they were brothers seem more plausible. Tillman assigned Samuel, a Revolutionary War veteran, a birth year of 1765, but descendants place his birth as occurring about 1757. John's birth year is given in Tillman as 1770; a family Bible, however, gives his birth date as 2 Mar 1782. The sole link among the three seems to be that all were supposed to have been born in South Carolina.

The parents that Tillman gave for Samuel, Richard, and John are wrong. The children of Jeremiah Reynolds (#1287, page 144, in Tillman) and Susanna Chamness are well-documented in NC Quaker records, and these three men are not among them. Tillman apparently confused a William Reynolds in North Carolina—who migrated from Pennsylvania with a William Reynolds originally from Virginia.

My method will be to give the information from Tillman on each of the three supposed brothers, occasionally adding comments, in brackets, as corrections or additions to his information. Then I will follow up with information from other sources including my own research. I am citing some e-mail addresses of researchers whose material I have used; I have, however, sometimes found it difficult to contact people through e-mail because their addresses have subsequently changed. In some cases, I show two Tillman numbers for an individual, reflecting the two versions that I have seen of Tillman's information. According to Tillman—

Samuel Reynolds (#7902, page 357/#1288, page 144), the Revolutionary War veteran, born 1765 [1757], Spartanburg, SC, died 10-14-1845 [pension file shows two different death years], Franklin Co., TN. He married Mary Jane Gray, born 1765 SC, and settled in Franklin Co., TN. Children: James, William, Jonathan, Elijah, Jacob, John, and Middy.

According to the pension file, Samuel Reynolds married Mary Gray in December 1790 in Georgia.

He enlisted from Spartanburg Co., SC, for his stint in the Revolutionary War. By 1790, he had moved to

Elbert/Franklin Co., GA; he was also in Wilkes Co., GA. After 13 years in Georgia, he then went on to Franklin Co., TN, where he later died. Two different years are shown as death dates in the pension file: one in 1845 and the other in 1847. Other than possibly being in Georgia at the same time, there is no evidence to tie him to his supposed brother John and none at all, so far discovered, to tie him to his other supposed brother, Richard. Only two of Samuel's children are actually mentioned in the pension file: Jacob T. Reynolds and John Reynolds. There were other children according to Gary Watkins, a descendant of Samuel's. He believes that Samuel's line descends from the Thomas and Mary Reynolds whose family was in the Carolinas by the 1750s and that Samuel's father may have been a James Reynolds, son of Thomas and Mary, who resided on Indian Creek in Laurens Co., SC. Thomas may belong to the Reynolds-Sharp line from Virginia. I am not covering this line in further detail because Gary has done extensive research on it, and I would prefer that he publish the information on hisline if he so chooses. According to Tillman-

Richard Reynolds (#7917/#1303, page 145), born 1772 SC, married Susan, born 1785 VA, and settled in Tennessee, Kentucky, and then Hardin Co., IL (1850 census). Children: Jeremiah, born 1804. married Nancy; Polly, born 1821, who married __ Edwards; Fornoy, born 1832; Joseph, born 1835; Rutherford, born 1829 or 28 Jan 1832, and married 15 Mar 1850 Julia Ann Foster: Richard; and Pleasant Dabney [according descendants, incorrectly identified as a female by Tillman; he married Sarah Chauncey] born 13 Oct 1834, married 1st S. Chauncey, who died 31 May 1864, and married 2d, Sep 1869, Job Haley.

There is no known connection of Richard Reynolds to his supposed brothers, Samuel and John, other than their probable shared birth state, South Carolina. The following information on the Richard Reynolds line came from RootsWeb—Julia

Adler (j.m.adler@worldnet.att.net). Richard Reynolds was born in South Carolina around 1772. Before 1804, he married

Susan (surname unknown), and settled in middle Tennessee. Susan was born in Virginia about 1785. They were living in middle Tennessee when their son Jeremiah was born in 1804; by 1822, they were in Hickman Co., Kentucky. Richard is on the 1830 census of Caldwell Co., KY, and he and Jeremiah were neighbors on the 1840 Caldwell County census. The family moved to Monroe Precinct, Hardin Co., Illinois, about 1842.

Richard and Susan were the parents of five known children:

- (1) Jeremiah, born 1804 in Tennessee, married Nancy Lucinda Bowles (born 14 October 1825 near Glasgow, KY) in Gallatin (now Hardin) Co., IL, 15 May 1843.
- (2) James, born before 1814, married Agnes (surname unknown) in Kentucky before 1835.
- (3) Unknown daughter, born about 1818.
- (4) Polly, born about 1821 in Kentucky, probably married Richard Edwards. Polly is in Hardin Co., IL, in 1850 without her husband.
- (5) Unknown son, born before 1830 in Kentucky.

Because all of the "brothers" are supposed to be from South Carolina, I have been researching records from there. As I mentioned in the earlier article, John could be related to the Reynolds family living near Ezekiel Chester—his wife's stepfather—on Wildcat or Wild Cat Creek of Lynches River, in Lancaster Co., SC. William and Nancy Reynolds, or Runnolds, as well as a James Reynolds, were in that area of eastern Lancaster, which is adjacent to Chesterfield County.

I found additional information on RootsWeb regarding William and Ann "Nancy" Reynolds. One researcher (RootsWeb) gives Nancy Reynolds' maiden name as NIXON, with her parents being John Nixon and Elizabeth Gayden. William Reynolds and Nancy Nixon, of St. Thomas Parish, were married 22 May 1777, Orange Co., VA (Reynolds marriages in Orange County are listed in a 2005 issue of the newsletter.

John and Elizabeth Nixon are documented in Orange County deeds in 1761 (page 18, Deed Abstracts of Orange County, Virginia [1759-1778] by Ruth and Sam Sparacio), Deed Book 13, pages 171-174. The property was from two patents inherited from John's father, Henry Nixon, which establishes the Nixons' presence in the area as early as 1735. One of these deeds, in particular, indicates that the nixonS were residing in the same area as the Herndons, who had connections to the Reynolds family in Orange County.

Henry Nixon's 1735 land patent was located in Spotsylvania Co., VA, below Mountain Run. In the Orange Co. deed—in which John and Elizabeth Nixon sold this property to Bryan Sissons—there is no mention of its being in Spotsylvania, from which Orange County was created in 1734. (The town of Reynolds is shown, on an 1895 map of Orange County as being near the border with Spotsylvania County)

In Bryan Sissons' 1759 Orange Co., VA, patent, Henry NIXON was listed as an adjoining landowner. Another adjoining landowner was James Herndon. According to Tillman, William Reynolds—supposed to have been born about 1748 in Caroline Co., VA—was the son of Joseph (#1716, page 195) and Elizabeth Herndon Reynolds.

Tillman identifies William Reynolds who married Nancy Nixon as William REYNOLDS (rennolds) #1716.1, page 195, who left an 1813 will in Orange County, recorded 26 Jun 1815—Will Book 5, pages 71-72. I believe, however, that the William Reynolds who married Nancy Nixon is a different William who had already left Virginia by this time. The 1813 will listed that William's children as William, Mary, Nancy, Caty, Lucy (Bell), Peggy, Betsy, and Henrietta (page 89, A Digest of Orange County, Virginia Will Books 1734-1838 [in later reference, Digest) and Will Abstracts of Orange County, Virginia [1778-1821], both by Ruth and Sam Sparacio). Capt. John Moore and William T. Burrus were appointed as trustees for the legacy left to William's daughter Lucy Bell. William named his friends-James Nelson (probably a Reynolds relative), Jackson Mills, and William C. Webb Jr. and his son, William Rennolds, as executors. Witnesses were Robt. Young, Wm. M. Daniel, Walker Stephens, and Fielding Herndon, William W. Rennolds and Washington Rennolds served fot the bond of James Nelson and William Rennolds.

Thus, in this one will, three different William Reynolds were named. Joseph Reynolds—supposed to have been the brother of the William with the will recorded in 1815—made a will 28 Aug 1813, recorded 27 August 1821 (Digest, page 90), Will Book 5, pages 397-398, naming his children as William, Washington, Joseph, Mary (Weaglesworth), and Henrietta (Wells). The William and Washington in this will appear to be the same as the securities mentioned above for the estate of William Reynolds who died about 1815. The William who married Nancy Nixon possibly was a fourth—and related—William. My point is that confusing one William with another among this many Williams in one county is not only possible but highly likely.

I believe that the William Reynolds who married Nancy Nixon in Orange Co., VA, had moved perhaps first to North Carolina, then to South Carolina, by the late 1700s. He later lived in Georgia. Nancy "Revnaulds" is named in the will of her father, John "Nixson," Sr., of Kershaw Dist., SC, 1797 (Will Book C. page 291, SC Department of Archives and History [SCDAH] will transcripts). Kershaw County was formed from and is adjacent to Lancaster County. William Revnolds is traceable in the Lancaster Co. - Kershaw Co. area back to 1785 when he had a plat for land there on Beaver Creek, then in Camden District (abstracts of these and many other SC documents are available online through the SCDAH web site). Wm. Reynolds and Jno. Nixon are in adjacent households in the 1790 census (page 25) of Camden District, Lancaster Co..

From South Carolina, William and Nancy Nixon Reynolds moved, about 1813, to Georgia, possibly first to Clarke County then by 1820, to Jackson County. William died about 1830, leaving a will. Jackson Co, GA, Will Abstracts, Books A & B 1803-1888, transcribed by Faye Stone Poss: A-100 William Reynolds, Will dated 4 Aug 1829, probated 5 Jul 1830, recorded page 133:

That all my real Estate together with my personal property Shall be sold & Equally devided between John Reynolds my son & Elizabeth King, Patcy Pendergrass, Sarah West, Rhoda Paterson, Frances Gillham, with the Exception of 250 ac. of land whare on I now live which is to remain in the possession of Ann Reynolds my wife for her support during her life & at her death to be Sold & Equally devided between the above mentioned hiers.

I require that $60 shall be taken out of the sale of the first property, & put on interest & when Amanda Caroline Reynolds dau. of Travis Reynolds becomes of age (she) Shall receive the said amount with all the profits arising from said amount & in case the said child should die before it becomes of age the amount shall be equally divided between the above mentioned heirs. Executors: John Reynolds & William Patterson. Wits: James R. McCleskey, Jesse Pate.

William and Nancy's daughter Martha "Patsy" Reynolds or Runnolds Pendergrass died before 1850 in Hamilton Co., TN. Patsy married 11 Oct 1804 to Nimrod Pendergrass (born 28 Sep 1781 Lancaster Co., SC, died 19 Aug 1871 Hamilton Co., TN). Researchers on this line include Jay Judd juddi@ohsu.edu and David Wilson ljwdcw@yahoo.com. Nimrod Pendergrass bought land in Jackson Co., GA, Apr 1812; sold it, Oct 1814; and then moved to TN. Patsy is the only child of William and Nancy's for whom I have been able to find descendants so far.

John "Runnels" in the 1820 Jackson Co., GA, census was aged 26-45, with a female in his household, presumably his wife, aged 16-26, and two young (under 10) males, presumably their sons. This information seems consistent with the makeup that my John Reynolds' household should have had in 1820 except that his wife should be older (not the first instance of a wife claiming to be younger than her actual age that I have found, however!). I am continuing to research the possibility that this John Reynolds might be the son of William and Nancy Nixon Reynolds.

I know that my John Reynolds was in Harris Co.,

GA, by 1836. I have been unable to document him elsewhere before that. If there are not enough choices for John's ancestry already, there is the proximity of the John Reynolds' household to that of Spencer Revnolds in Harris Co. GA. Only one land lot lay between John's land and Spencer's land in the 20th District of Harris County. The land records of this area, unfortunately, are difficult to sort out; Harris County was formed from Muscogee County, whose early deeds were destroyed. This Spencer (born 1811) seems to definitely tie into the Wilkes Co., GA, Reynolds line. Spencer was the guardian for the orphans of Josiah Reynolds deceased. Josiah and Spencer were the grandsons of Margaret Watkins or Wadkins Barber (widow of George Barber [or Barbourl Sr.)—mentioned in her 1830 Henry Co., GA, will. This Barber family moved from North Carolina before the Revolutionary War and settled on Long Creek of Broad River in what is now Wilkes Co., GA. Information on the Barber-Watkins genealogy is available at the following web site: http://pages.prodigy.net/blankenstein . According to this information, Spencer and Josiah were among the children of George Reynolds and Sarah "Sallie" Barber, with George being the son of a Spencer Reynolds. There were probably additional children of George and Sarah Barber Reynolds including George W., William, Benjamin "Ben," Watkins or Wadkins "Watt," and Baskin (?) Reynolds (there were probably daughters as well, but their names are not recorded that I can find). Two of Josiah's children married Mullins' siblings in Harris Co., GA. One George Mullins was living with my relatives Nathaniel and Elizabeth Reynolds Dobbs in the 1880 Chilton Co., AL, census. This George is probably related to the Harris Co., GA, Mullins family—a coincidence?

Two other children of George Barber and Margaret Watkins or Wadkins married siblings of George Reynolds. Reese Barber married Catherine Reynolds, and George Barber, Jr., married Elizabeth "Betsy" Reynolds 11 May 1806, Clarke Co., GA. According to Tillman—

John (#7912, page 358/#1300, page 145), born 1770 [family Bible has his birth as 1 Mar 1782], married Elizabeth or CHESTER], born 1789 SC, and settled in Harris Co., GA. Children: John L. (#1301 & #7913); Jacob (#1302 & #7916), born 1819; Henry, who settled in Columbus, GA [sic]; Nancy, who married Jesse Cline and settled in MS: Elizabeth. who married [Nathaniel] Dobbs [Jr.] and settled in Clanton, AL; Susannah, born 1826, who married Amber [sic-Ambrose Alexander | Norris [Jr.] & settled in Russell Co., AL; and Ailsey, who married John Castle [also cassels].

Jacob F. Reynolds is shown in Tillman as #7916, page 358/#1302, page 145. Tillman has the following information on Jacob, which is largely based on the 1850 census:

Jacob Reynolds married Mary ___, born 1822, and settled in Harris Co, GA. Children: William, born 1839; Susan, born 1841, and Jane [sic— James], born 1843.

According to my research, Jacob F. Reynolds (born 1818 GA, died by Jun 1864, Harris Co., GA) married 8 Nov 1841, Harris Co., GA, Mary Lord (born about 1815 GA, probably died before 1870 in Harris Co., GA). They had the following children, all born Harris Co., GA:

William W. (born 25 Aug 1842, died after 1908 Clay Co., GA), Civil War veteran, in Grimes Co., TX, by 1875; Limestone Co., TX, by 1880; resided 1894-1902 in Alabama and in Randolph and Clay Counties, GA

Susan (born about 1845, probably died young)
James (born about 1848, probably died young)

Leroy Lee (born Sep 1851, died after 1910 Clay Co., GA), married 25 Jul 1872 Emmaline Duke (born 1852, died after 1910 Clay Co., GA), resided Clay Co., GA, and Randolph Co., GA.

John L. Reynolds is shown in Tillman as #7913, page 358/#1301, page 145. "He married ____ and settled in Birmingham, AL. Issue: W.P." One version of Tillman shows John's wife as Frances and children as Wendfield Pinckney, who married Mary EASTIS or EASTES; Lizzie; and Emma.

John L. REYNOLDS (born 1819 GA, died after 1880 Jefferson Co, AL?) married 20 Oct 1844, Chambers Co., AL, Frances HOLT (born abt 1826 South Carolina, parents born Virginia) Chambers Co., AL. Jesse HOLT was the bondsman. They were in the 1850 Harris Co., GA, census with no children listed. According to Tillman, this couple moved to Birmingham, Jefferson Co., AL. In the 1880 census, I found a household in Jefferson County with information that seems to match: J.L.Revnolds, aged 60, born Georgia, with parents born in South Carolina, with wife, F. REYNOLDS, aged 54, born South Carolina (parents born Virginia). They have a 17-year-old son residing in the household, L.D.; also in the household is C. ROBERTS, female, aged 56, born South Carolina (parents born Virginia), probably the wife's widowed sister. I have not been able to locate the family in the 1860 or 1870 census, however. Certainly, John L. and Frances HOLT REYNOLDS could have had children who had already left the household by 1880.

According to Tillman, the couple had a son, Wendfield Pinckney, who married Mary Eastis (the daughter of Daniel Eastis and Elizabeth Ellard, according to researchers on RootsWeb) in addition to two daughters—son L.D. is not mentioned. I found references on RootsWeb to a "William Pickney" Reynolds that seems to fit the description of Wendfield (Winfield) Pinckney, but I am not sure that the information in Tillman is correct—that W.P. was the son of John L. and Frances Holt Reynolds. The researchers of William Pickney Reynolds, who married Mary Jane Eastis, list the couple's children as Isham, Daniel, and Georgia, which matches neither Tillman's account nor what I have located so far if William Pickney and Winfield Pinckney are to be identified as the same man. I located "Windfield" P. and Mary Reynolds in the 1900 St. Clair Co., AL, census. In their household is a son George W., aged 14. I found Winfield P. Reynolds in the 1920 Jefferson Co., AL, census, with no children listed in the household. I also found a Jefferson Co., AL, cemetery record for Winfield P. Reynolds, born 9 Dec 1856, died 25 Dec 1936.

Nancy Luvenia Reynolds (born about 1820 GA) married 14 Aug 1839, Harris Co., GA, Jesse G. Cline (born about 1815 Kentucky, died before 1880, the son of John Cline and Nancy Vickery) This family moved to Randolph Co., AL, by 1850 and was in Walker Co., TX, by 1880. My source for some of the information on this line is Gene W. Rogers, grogers@mcia.com. The children of Nancy Luvenia Reynolds and Jesse G. Cline were—

John H. Cline, born 1843 Rockdale, Randolph Co., Alabama, died May 2, 1862, Yorktown, VA Susan Cline, born 1845 GA

Felix Howell Cline, born 1848, Rockdale, Randolph Co., AL

Cicero Cline, born 1850, Rockdale, Randolph Co., AL Jessie M. C. Cline, born 2 Dec 1851, Rockdale,

Randolph Co., AL, died 20 Aug 1889 at Bath Community, Walker Co., TX, married Mary Gordon Arnold, 4 Jan 1881, Walker Co., TX

Nancy A. Cline, born 1855, Rockdale, Randolph Co., AL.

Rabur/Robert Cline, born 1857, Rockdale, Randolph Co., AL

Henry James Reynolds, born 20 Mar 1822 GA, died 14 Dec 1894, Beulah, Lee Co., AL), married Lucinda Elizabeth Powell (born 2 May 1823 GA, died after 1880, Beulah, Lee Co., AL). She was the daughter of (Layola?) Millington or Mellington Powell and Mary Ann "Polly" Wooten. Members of the POWELL family resided in Butts and Putnam Counties, GA, before moving to Harris Co., GA. Henry and Lucinda Powell Reynolds were in Chambers Co., AL., in 1850; Harris Co., GA, in 1860; and Clay Co., GA, 1870 and 1880. (There is no evidence found, so far, that backs up Tillman's claim that the family lived in Columbus, GA.) The family moved to Lee (the portion formerly part of Chambers) Co., AL. Their children were—according to the Henry James Reynolds Bible (now belonging to Alice R. McEachern)-

John M. Reynolds born 21 Aug 1842 Mary E. Reynolds born 30 Apr 1844 Sarah J. Reynolds born 1 Apr 1846 Sopprona Louisa Reynolds born 2 Apr 1848 Noah L. Reynolds born 14 Oct 1850 Henry T. Reynolds born 3 Nov 1852 Joseph Anderson Reynolds born 26 Apr 1855 Martha Eliza Reynolds born 10 Sep 1857 Andrew Jackson Reynolds born 20 Feb 1860 Lucinda Addie Reynolds born 17 Apr 1863 Alcy Arvonie Reynolds born 26 Oct 1865

Elizabeth S. Reynolds (born 17 Feb 1823 GA, died 24 Nov 1914 Chilton Co., AL) married Nathaniel A. Dobbs, Jr., Harris Co., GA, 20 June 1843. Nathaniel Dobbs (born 16 Aug 1825 GA, died 7 Feb 1917 Chilton Co., AL) was a minister and Civil War veteran. This Nathaniel seems to come from a family originating in Anson Co., NC. (Another Nathaniel Dobbs family came from Pendleton Co., SC, and also settled in Georgia.) The family moved to Coosa Co., AL, by 1860 and to Chilton Co., AL, by 1870. (I have not found this family in the 1850 census, but DOBBS relatives from Harris Co., GA, were in the 1850 Macon Co., AL, census.) Their children were—

John W. or M. Dobbs (born 1845 GA) married M.E. Mallory 13 Sep 1888 Coosa Co., AL

G.B. Dobbs (born 1847)

Joe R. Dobbs (born 1849)

Benjamin F. Dobbs (born 11 Jun 1850 AL, died 1 Mar 1916, Clanton, Chilton Co., AL), married before 1880 Clementine J. Cassels, probably a relative of James Cassels who married Mary Ailcy Jones Reynolds (see below)

Sara Joan Dobbs (born 6 Jan 1853, died 18 Aug 1946 Chilton Co., AL)

Georgia A.E. Dobbs (born 1855)

Henry J. DOBBS (born 20 Oct 1858, died 27 Mar 1936 Chilton Co., AL)

Emmaline H. or K. Dobbs (born about 1863 AL, died Sep 1948 Clanton, Chilton Co., AL)

Columbus A. Dobbs (born 31 Dec 1867, died 21 Feb 1956 Chilton Co., AL)

Susanna Laura Cerenna "Susan" Reynolds (born 24 Jun 1824 GA, died 25 Oct 1911 Phenix City, Russell Co., AL) married Ambrose Alexander "Alex" Norris, Jr. (born 8 Mar 1832 Laurens Co., SC, died 23 Nov 1911 Phenix City, Russell Co., AL) in Harris Co., GA 12 Jul 1852. Alex was the son of Ambrose Alexander NORRIS, Sr., and Martha (Baldwin?). The NORRIS family moved from Harris Co., GA, to Russell Co., AL, before 1880. Many descendants remain in that area. Alex and Susan are buried in Evans Cemetery near Phenix City, Russell Co., AL. Most of their children and most of the spouses of their children as well as many other family members are also buried in Evans Cemetery. They had the following children, as listed in the family Bible, all born in Harris Co., GA:

Henry Harrison Norris (born 20 Apr 1853, died

18 Jul 1924 Phenix City, Russell Co., AL) married—

(1) Mary Ann "Molly" or "Polly" Christian
(born about 1852 GA, died before 1887), 11
May 1873 Harris Co., GA, probably the daughter of David and Mary A. Christian;
(2) Fannie M. Brown (born May 1858 GA, died before 1910 Russell Co., AL)

Momzel Lafayette "Fate" Norris (born 22 Nov 1855, died 21 Apr 1912 Phenix City, Russell Co., AL)

 (2) Belle Conti (formerly married to ______ McShehan)
- Josaphine Norris (born 24 Jul 1858, died 30 Dec 1864 Harris Co., GA)

Martha Jane Vashti Norris (born 2 Jul 1865, died Jan 1942 Russell Co., AL) married Henry Louis Williams, Jr. (born 24 Jul 1859 Russell Co., AL, died 7 Sep 1932 Russell Co., AL), the son of Henry Louis Williams, Sr., and Rachel Niblett

Andrew Jackson Norris (born 1 Jan 1870, died 22 Apr 1956 Phenix City, Russell Co., AL) married—

Mary Ailcy Jones Reynolds (born 1826 GA, died 1911 TX) married James Cassels or Castles (born about 1813 SC?). By 1880, this family had moved from Harris Co., GA, to Itawamba Co., MS, where Jim Cassels died in 1886. The family then moved to

Fannin Co., TX. Their children, all born in Harris Co., GA, were—

Lura or Luna born about 1853, died before 1870 Harris Co., GA

Ely born about 1856, died before 1870 Harris Co., GA

Elizabeth Frances "Bettie" (born 1865, died 1907 Fannin Co., TX), who married—

- (1) John Elisha Stine (born about 1863, died 1899 Fannin Co., TX) 6 Jan 1881 Fulton, Itawamba Co., MS
- (2) James W. Parker

John and Elizabeth Reynolds' estate was apparently left intact from the time of his death in about 1848 until her decease in 1872. By the time that Elizabeth died, most of the family had left Harris Co., GA, and moved on to Alabama, Mississippi, and Texas. I have always been puzzled about the lack of information on his ancestry because John was not a poor man. He left an estate in Harris County, consisting of both real and personal property, with each of his surviving children inheriting about $50 and the surviving children of his deceased son, Jacob, inheriting a proportional share of the estate.

THE FIRST ALABAMA CAVALRY, USV http://www.1stalabmacavalryusv,com

The roots of the unit lay with the Southern Unionists of North Alabama. Persecuted for their beliefs by the Confederacy, they lived and died true to the Union The history of the 1st is a diverse one. Rich, poor, black, white. Confederate deserters, Jacksonian Democrats - they all answered the call to be in the US Cavalry.

The site was started to collect the Stories, Pictures, and Tombstone locations of men who enlisted in the First. Most, contributed by descendants and friends of the 1st Alabama Cavalry, USV, tell of the triumphs, hardships, and campaigns of the troopers and give a face to these individuals.

"Whereas I Joshua Reynolds Rector of Stoke Charity in ye County of Southampton have already made my last will and Testament bearing date 20th May 1733 and thereby have given & bequeathed to my dear wife Mary Reynolds, and her sister Elizabeth Field, upon a condition therein mentioned All my personal estate whatsoever excepting as therein is excepted: Now I do hereby revoke ye sd devise, as far as it anyway concerns my dear wife Mary Reynolds and I do hereby give and devise unto her sister Elizabeth Field solely and alone, all that my Personal Estate which I had before given and bequeathed unto them both jointly; I say, I now give the same wholy to my wife's sister Elizabeth Field only: But limited with ye same condition and with ye same exceptions as in my said will mentioned and I do declare that these presents shall be a Codicil to my said Will." Dated 17 Feb 1733/4.

The portrait of Elizabeth Field, known as "M" Field", painted in 1748 by Sir J. Reynolds, is in my possession. It is interesting as being one of the few portraits known to have been painted by him before his visit to Italy in 1749, after which date he completely changed the stiff style of painting he acquired from his master, Hudson. See Taylor's "Life of Reynolds," vol. i, p.30.
