

Slaton Saga

Thomas Jefferson Slaton born in 1829 in DeKalb Co., Alabama to Elisha Slaton and his wife, Susannah Evans. They were part of an extended family which, in earlier generations, had migrated from Virginia to Georgia, then into northeastern Alabama to settle land which had been opened by Cherokee cession. Some of their relatives were settled in the surrounding counties of Jackson, Marshall, St. Clair and Limestone.¹ Other related families in the area included the Boltons, whose origins were in Georgia and the Carolinas, and the Thomasons whose roots were in Virginia and Tennessee.² Canada Sevier Bolton had married Susannah Rosamund Slaton April 10, 1845³ one of Thomas J. Slaton's sisters, and Thomas had married Martha Ann Thomason about 1849.⁴

Some members of these families began migrating to Texas as early as the 1840s; William Bolton was in Limestone Co. Texas in 1846.⁵ Others followed in the 1850s: Canada S. Bolton and many of his extended family were in Cherokee Co. Texas, Thomas J. Slaton and some of his Thomason in-laws settled first in the Springfield community of Limestone Co., Texas⁶ and spread into the surrounding counties from there.

Zachariah Thomason, born and raised in Cannon Co., Tennessee, married Matilda Hancock, daughter of Lewis Hancock and Frances Adams, who had moved there from Virginia. Their oldest child, Martha Ann, was born in Tennessee, and the rest after the family had settled near the Slatons, just north of Ft. Payne, DeKalb Co. Alabama.⁷ Martha's brothers were John Calvin, Newton Benton, Charles Milton, Wallace Allison, and Daniel. They took up land in Limestone and Leon Counties, Texas, and raised large families. Newton ran a freight wagon service, with a regular route as far as Nacogdoches and occasional help from his brothers and Thomas J. Slaton.

Frances Adams Hancock, grandmother of Martha Ann Thomason Slaton, in company with her son, Blueford Jordan Hancock, left Tennessee by wagon in 1853, bound for the Springfield Missouri area. She had divorced Lewis Hancock in 1850 on grounds that he had "offered such indignities to her person as to render her condition Intolerable"⁸ After a short time in Missouri, they moved on to Limestone Co., Texas to join Frances' other children who were already in Texas. Frances settled first at Springfield, Limestone Co. Texas with her daughter, Matilda, and grandson Wallace. They were next to Thomas Jefferson Slaton and his wife, Martha Ann Thomason, and their four children, John C, Veturia, Palmyra, and Tom N. Slaton. Blueford Jordan Hancock moved into Mexia, to become a partner in the Hancock-Adamson Hardware store and the other Hancock children spread out in the area to raise crops and children; many are buried in the Hancock cemetery in Mexia.

In 1855 Richard Heidelberg brought his family to Cherokee Co. from Madison Co. Tennessee where his family lived for several generations after migrating from Onslow Co., NC. His ancestor, Christian Heidelberg, was a Justice of the County Court of Onslow Co. North Carolina, which met in his house on 5 July 1735.⁹ On April 19, 1859 in Cherokee Co., Texas, Richard married Hannah Grisham, daughter of Fuller Grisham and Malinda Crouch¹⁰. The Grisham family lived in Fentress and Washington Counties, Tennessee before moving to Texas.

When the Civil War broke out, Zachariah Thomason, a veteran of the Mexican War, went into the 9th Alabama Cavalry as a Lt. Colonel and later commanded the 19th Alabama Cavalry.¹¹ His son, Charles Milton, served in Co. E, 12th Alabama Infantry. ¹² Daniel Benjamin went into Co. D. 26th Texas Cavalry while his brother Newton Benton & John C. served with their brother-in-law, Thomas J. Slaton in Co. B, 19th Texas Cavalry, Burford's Regiment ¹³ Martha Ann Thomason Slaton presumably spent the war years in Limestone Co., Texas with her mother and other relatives, no written records of her whereabouts have been found.

When Iva Slaton Childress, in her notes for the Jacksonville Centennial Book in 1972, indicated that the family came to Texas from Alabama in 1869, she evidently did not know that the family was shown in Limestone Co. Texas in the 1860 census and that 1869 was the year that they moved from there to Cherokee Co. Texas. She said that they went by ox-drawn wagon, driven by her father, Tom N. Slaton age 11 at the time, guided by his mother and Indian friends as Thomas J. Slaton's health was still impaired after his war service. They found a farm at Jacksonville to rent, then buy and were listed there on the 1870 census of Cherokee Co. Included in the household was Nancy Chapman, John C. Slaton's new wife; their daughter, Rhoda, soon joined them. ¹⁴

Canada Bolton returned from his war service to farm and help raise his family. The Thomason brothers returned to farm, spreading out over Limestone and Leon Counties. Wallace Allison ran a freight wagon service with a regular trip to Nacogdoches on the schedule. Thomas Slaton occasionally assisted him with the wagon driving.

Thomas Jefferson Slaton and Martha Ann had five children,¹⁵ one of whom, name and gender unknown, evidently died very young, and four grew to maturity. John C. Slaton married Nancy Elizabeth Chapman in 1870 and had a daughter, Rhoda. On the 1880 census, however, John C. Slaton is listed with wife Belle, age 20, and children Maude, age 2, and Thomas, 2 months. Nancy Elizabeth and Rhoda are shown as wife and daughter of Will L. Nervell, living between Nancy's father, Jasper Chapman, and her brother Abner. Dare we mention divorce as a possibility. John C. Slaton must have died before 1900 as Veturia and Tom N. Slaton were the only two of Thomas and Martha Slaton's children alive in 1900.¹⁶

Veturia Slaton, born 6 April 1852, married Charles W. Monkress in Cherokee Co., Texas on 22 August 1867¹⁷ and died 20 June 1912.¹⁸ Their son Virgil worked in the grocery business in Jacksonville with his uncle, Tom Newton Slaton. He married Lavinia Albritton, daughter of Washington Wiggins Albritton¹⁹, pastor of Old North Church in Nacogdoches for a number of years. Virgil died five years after their marriage, leaving no children, and Miss Lavinia taught first grade in Jacksonville for over 40 years. Both Virgil and Lavinia are buried in the City Cemetery, Jacksonville, Texas, near his parents.

Veturia Slaton

Palmyra was born 15 Sept 1855 in Alabama. On 20 September 1875, she married John D. Roach, son of James and Eliza Price Roach. James Roach came from Covington, Alabama by sea to New Orleans, then upriver to Shreveport where he had arranged to be met by freight wagons to move their belongings from there to Cherokee Co. Wallace Thomason, who ran a regular freight service from Nacogdoches to San Antonio,²⁰ was the freighter James Roach had hired to bring three wagons in addition to one, which he purchased outright. Thomas Slaton and his son, John²¹, drove two of the wagons for Wallace Thomason. This trip led to the introduction of John D. Roach and Palmyra Slaton. They had two sons, Elmer Rendel, born 11 Sept 1876, and Russell Aubrey, born 6 Feb. 1879.²² Russell died 29 May 1898 and is buried in City Cemetery, Jacksonville, Texas near his mother, who died 2 Jan 1882. Elmer died 27 July 1916 in El Paso, Texas.²³ John D. Roach married DanAnna Jones who gave him two more children, Burton and Alice. In 1874, John D. Roach ran a literary school in Jacksonville, charging 2.00 per student per month. He had 23 students enrolled. Later, after the death of his second wife, he went to Rising Star where some of his Roach and Kendrick relatives had gone, and ran a butcher shop for several years. When the railroad was being built across the panhandle, he bought a herd of cattle and followed the construction crews, selling beef on the hoof as needed. He worked on the survey crew, which laid out the town of Amarillo, and bought some land there. At various times after that, he farmed, ranched, and worked as a cowhand. In 1888 and 1889, he had a contract to deliver mail on horseback from Amarillo to Estacado, a six day round trip, for which he received the munificent sum of $832.00 per annum. He was farming his land just north of Amarillo when he died in 1907. He is buried next to his son, Elmer, in Llano Estacado cemetery in Amarillo. Burton was a pharmacist, married and lived in New Mexico. Elmer at one time had a chicken farm in Colorado Springs, Colorado, caught TB and went to Mexico to improve his health. Alice stayed with various families while growing up, also convent school at the Loretta Academy in Pueblo, Colorado, as her father did not remarry and could not very well care for her otherwise. After her father died, Alice stayed with her brother, Burton, and his wife Lila, then with her brother Elmer. When Elmer went to Mexico to recover from TB, Alice went to work for a studio hand coloring pictures; she was 16 years old. When Elmer returned from Mexico, he settled in El Paso, and Alice went there to care for him until he died. After Elmer's death, Alice returned to Amarillo and took a job with the Santa Fe Railroad. There she met Porter McKinney and married him in 1919. They had two children, John Porter and Barbara. In 1926, they moved to Shreveport, where they stayed until Porter retired from Western Union in 1951, at which time they moved to Mena, Arkansas. In 1974, they moved to Albuquerque, New Mexico where Porter died in April 1985 and Alice in November 1986.²⁴ Both Alice and Burton spent time living with their grandmother, Martha Ann Slaton, in whose household they were shown on the 1900 census. Alice was 4 years older than her cousin Iva.²⁵

Tom N. Slaton, born 27 March, 1858 in Alabama, died 3 October 1935²⁶, and is buried in the City Cemetery in Jacksonville, Texas. As a young man, he taught school at Afton Grove, where one of his students was Melvina Heidelberg, daughter of Richard Heidelberg and Hannah Grisham. She was 16 when her parents packed her things to send her by train to Old Larissa for more schooling, but she eloped with Tom N. Slaton instead and married him on 5 Oct. 1881. They set up housekeeping with packing boxes to serve as tables and chairs and precious little else to go on with, as her parents did not approve of their 16-year-old daughter eloping. Tom Newton Slaton farmed, ran a grocery store in Jacksonville with his nephew Virgil Monkress, and and raised Jersey cattle.²⁷ The local opera house was quartered on the second floor above the grocery store, which also served as a meeting place for the Methodist congregation while their church was being built. Nights were short after performances of the oper-a when the space had to be swept and garnished for church on Sunday morning. Tom Slaton and his cousin, John Bolton, arranged music for the choir and helped sing it. He was a serious Bible student, and used to work with divinity students from SMU in the summers. Tom N. and Melvina had eight children, of whom they raised seven to maturity. An infant boy, T.J. died in babyhood. The two eldest daughters, Ada and Eva, died as young mothers and their parents helped to raise the grandchildren.

Eva married Dr. Charles J. Foscue, son of William Foscue, who had land in Anderson Co., Texas. They had three children, Kathleen, Garland, and Willie Tom. They moved Walnut Springs, Bosque Co., Texas, where Charles Foscue presumably worked at the railroad infirmary, though this is not documented. In August of 1908, Eva fell ill of something virulent and died within days on August 12, 1908. Her husband died in June, 1911; both are buried in Oak Grove Cemetery in Walnut Springs, as is his father, W.J. Foscue.²⁸ The children were raised by their grandparents with their younger cousins for playfellows.

Ada Slaton married Levi Lloyd, lawyer, on 20 December 1905 and they had one son, Bryan. In a very few years, Ada developed cancer. She was treated at the medical school in Galveston where she had the first colostomy ever done.²⁹ There were complications following the surgery and she died on April 4, 1912. She is buried in the Jacksonville City Cemetery.

Allen Slaton was born in December 1888, married Mary Bobo, and had two children, both of whom died soon after birth. Allen died in 1935 and Mary in 1967; they are buried with their children in Jacksonville City Cemetery.³⁰

Sam H. Slaton, born 7 April 1890, died 24 January 1950. On 11 March, 1911 he married Nell B. Foster, daughter of Lewis N. Foster and Emma Corene Watts. Their seven children were Thelma Elizabeth, Corene Melvina, Tom Lewis, Sam Jr., Mary Nell, Montle Louis and Dorothy Faye. Tom Lewis Slaton married Sarah Ruth Stephens; they had two sons, Tom Lewis Jr. and Jimmy Sam. Sam Slaton married Kathryn Plunkett; their children were Sheryl Kay, Marilyn Ann, and Gary Sam. Mary Nell married Hubert Lewis, had twin sons Harry Wayne and Larry DeWayne, and two adopted children, Roy Melvin and Barbara. Their son Harry is a Baptist minister and his son Larry is following him into the ministry. Montle Louise married first Cullen South and had two children, Ronald and Nancy. She later married L.J. Mon-is. Dorothy Faye married K. Medford Hutson in 1948; they had three sons, David Michael, Paul DeWayne, and Kenneth Mark. These are warm, loving people.

Vernon Slaton married Dess Reilly and they had two children, Vernon Jr., and Violet. Dess died young. Violet was an exceptionally pretty child and a gorgeous young woman with enormous blue

She was the 1935 tomato Festival Queen, 1936 Texas Centennial Queen, and Dr. Pepper Sunshine Girl. She still is pretty and has beautiful eyes.

Iva Emily Slaton, born 11 November 1898, studied music and taught in Bullard and Nacogdoches before she married Gaston Childress June 20, 1920. When her father sold his Jersey cattle In the spring of 1920, he and her brothers teased Iva, saying that men were coming from all over to buy Jerseys, but that they were giving her to a man from New Jersey. Gaston Childress was born and raised in Texas and went to work for Swift & CO., meatpackers, who sent him to their facility in New Jersey to work. He came from there back to Jacksonville for his wedding and they spent their honeymoon on the train back to New Jersey, where their first daughter, Kathleen, was born in 1921. As Iva's health suffered in the New Jersey winters, Gaston came back to El Paso to work for another company and their other two daughters, Betty Jane and Dorothy were born there. When the girls were very small, the family moved back to Fort Worth where their father played a leading role in the Fort Worth Fat Stock Show. Several years later, they moved again to Houston, where their father helped organize and run the Houston Fat Stock show. He continued working in the meat packing Industry throughout this time. Eventually he accepted a job with Roeglein Provision Co. in San Antonio, where he moved with his wife and youngest daughter. He stayed with Roeglein until his retirement. Kathleen, the oldest child, married Robert S. Guthrie of Houston, and had three sons. Betty Jane married Johnnie Parker and had two sons. Dorothy married Fred Bonnie and is the mother of a grown daughter. Iva died in July of 1980, and Gaston Childress In October of 1981. Both are buried in Sunset Cemetery in San Antonio.

Elmer, the last child of Tom N. and Melvina Slaton, was born 24 April 1906.³¹ He was the closest in age to his cousins, Kathleen, Garland, and Willie Tom, who grew up with his family after their parents died. He died in February 1970 and is also buried in Jacksonville City Cemetery.

Research on these families is an ongoing project and much of the information here is subject to correction if better Information Is found. The footnotes show the sources I have seen, not all of which are primary sources. Please contact me if you have additions or corrections that need to be made.

THIRD GENERATION.

Children of Thomas and Abiel Harrington Slayton.

5. THOMAS, 3. The records of Weston read: "Thomas Slayton of Thomas Slaton, and Abiel, his wife, was born in Weston 20, 1732-3." Like all other boys in those times he lived at an early age, and he was a farmer. From the history of North Brookfield we learn that he marched in Capt. Obadiah Cooley's company 1756, in the expedition expected to capture Crown Point. When Loudon spent the autumn digging ditches around Albany, and snow began to fall the Massachusetts troops were sent home. Brookfield Nov. 24th. In 1757 he joined Capt. Jabez Upham's company which started Aug. 9th for the relief of Fort William Henry. Nearly there they heard it had surrendered Aug. 9th, so they turned back, reaching home Aug. 26th. This ended his soldiering so far. He learned; thereafter he was "a man of peace." Remember to stand for Brookfield for the present, and that all events occurring are taken from the old town records or from tomb-stones.

Thomas m. JUDITH WHITE, of Charlton, June 13, 1758. Her name has been published the previous March. She was b. 1739. He inherited 40 acres of Mr. Harrington, Dec 14, 1758, and his father had decided forty-nine acres to him March 7, 1762. I think the homestead was at the homestead; for it is said their first three children were born in the old house, and the last three after 1770 in the new house. David made his will giving to his "wife Judath Slayton the improvement of the whole of my lands and building, which was common and undivided with the other part of my farm,—to improve during her natural life, also—the use and improvement of my household furniture and household movables excepting cylinder meet tubs, meal chests,"—his third son, Isaac, made excellent pay each heir equally.

Col. William Shepard, Revolutionary war. He was appointed Jan. 1, 1777, resigned March 20, 1779." The above records show that he was in the army from the first day of the war most of the time till the last year; but he was at home occasionally. The records of B. say: "CAPT. REUBEN SLAYTON & MARY MOORE of B. May 30, 1777," whether m. or pub. at that date I cannot say. Being named executor in his father's will, he was at home and filed the will in Probate Court, Sep. 22, 1778; and the same day he paid to "Eli Forbes, Co. of Essex, Clerk, 80 £. lawful silver money" to redeem the homestead which had been sold for taxes. Between 1781 and 1786, he bought and sold lands in B. and Charlton nine times, in some of the deeds being styled "yeoman," in others "gentleman." He moved to Chester in "Hampshire Co., State of Massachusetts Bay," about 1785. From there he moved to Springfield, Otsego Co., N. Y., about 1800. He first bought land there in 1801, and sold it in 1809. In 1811, he went to Chautauqua County and helped his son Reuben build a sawmill. In the autumn he went back to Springfield after his family, reached home sick with fever, and died in ten days. Nine ch.

2. SAMUEL, b. September 26, 1751, in B. In March, 1779, he went to Woodstock, Vt., and took up 100 acres of land on Slayton Hill. He built a log cabin to live in while clearing up his land. Jan. 1, 1780, he m. in W., HANNAH STOWE from Walpole, N. H. Prosperity attended them; he built a frame house in 1788; additions were made to his farm and family until he was the proprietor of 510 acres of land and eleven children. His wife Hannah, b. Oct. 3, 1761, in Middletown, Ct.; she d. April 2, 1813, in S. W. For his second wife Samuel m. MISS SIBBEL CARR, Jan. 12, 1817, in Hartland, Vt. She was b. Feb. 16, 1779, in Hartland; d. Sept. 3, 1847, S. W. Samuel d. Aug. 10, 1830, S. Woodstock. Eleven ch.

3. PATIENCE SLAYTON, b. Dec. 13, 1757, in B.; and this is the oldest date wherein we find the y in the name. She m. JOHN BEMIS of Spencer; he, son of Edmund and Eunice, b. Sep. 3, 1749, Spencer. They were published in B. "June 24, 1775, No cards". After Mr. Bemis d. she m. a Mr. JOHNSON. She d. about 1836, in Cornish, N. H.

14. EBENEZER, b. April 12, 1759, in B. He was in the army. He was living in Charlton in 1783 and Sep. 7, was pub. in married to REBECKAH HAMILTON of B. The Charlton record "Ebenezer Slaton of Charlton and Rebeckah Hamilton were 22, 1784." Their first five children are said to have been b. in land deeds show that they were living in Chester, Hampshire, 1795, and after 1803. He was quite a land speculator. I cannot find the following: The town records of Chester say, "Ebenezer S. South Hadley, m. POLLY FLEMING in Chester, Nov. 19, 1803; town records of S. Hadley have no name of Slayton. Before original deed to 100 acres, executed by "Ebenezer Slayton and his wife", and signed by them Aug. 25, 1823; the land in Pa. Isaac, his brother in B. Ebenezer moved his family to Pa. locating at Pleasant Mount in Wayne Co. We have not learned date of death of his wife; but after that event he often revisited going in his one horse "shay;" or visited his daughter Rebecca there in Walworth, Wayne Co., N. Y.; and there he d. Dec. 20, 1882. Nine ch.

15. ASA, b. March 27, 1766, in B. The name Asa was borrowed from the Walker family. There is no evidence of his ever buying land. He m. SUSANNAH ANDERSON, April 14, 1791, in Chester, then in Hampshire Co., 45 miles west of B., and all their ch. were b. there. He was a Lieut. of militia in 1792, and a Capt. in 1804. He carried on a tannery and a big shoe shop. He was considered wealthy. He kept up a large stock of boots and shoes, and he with his son Charles took them in wagons to Canada to sell. This must have been in 1812 while there, war was declared and the British authorities confiscated his entire stock, and he returned to Chester a poor man. Poor, b.

had borrowed some to complete his outfit, and now he had to pay up. While in Canada, a Mr. Lane had told him of cheap lands in St. Lawrence Co., N. Y. He had been in the army of the time during the war, and after it ended, he decided to start anew in another state. Loading his household utensils on an ox-cart, and his family into a wagon drawn by two horses, they reached Potsdam, St. Lawrence Co., and July 18, 1816, he bought 100 acres on Plum Brook in the northwest part of the town of Bert and wife, for $675. A log dwelling house was soon built on the land cleared for wheat. Which year it was, I cannot say, but in 1816, but when his first crop was harvested, there was no frost yet. So he invited his neighbors for miles around to a "barbecue" in the morning about 100 were on hand bright and early. They worked all day, some scored and hewed, and soon some began felling trees. The barn was up, roofed over and shingled, boarded around, and large loads of wheat stowed away in the bay. The boat was hauled up the sawed at the mill which he had built earlier. The barn was built on feet and about 20 years ago it was taken down and erected in a new village, where it now stands clothed in a modern dress.

He started an ashery and engaged in the manufacture of potash, and it is said he could take a barrel of potash by the chimney from the ground over the box into the wagon. It is also said he had double teeth all around, and that he could bend a tree between his teeth. He built a large tannery and manufactured leather. He was an energetic, enterprising, useful citizen. His wife, Susannah was b. Feb. 18, 1770, and d. July 20, 1848, Asa d. Sep. 20, 1852 in P. Eight ch.

16. ISAAC, b. Sep. 21, 1768, in B. He was always a farmer on the homestead with his father. For many years he owned a carding machine or mill which stood about 20 rods east of E. B. of the present time, at a dam across Seven-mile river. He did much teaming to Boston with wagon and three horses, carrying pork, beef, tow and woolen cloth to sell for himself and

SMITH.

On the earliest list extant of the proprietors of Watertown (1636-7), are four of the name of Smith, viz., John, Sen'r, John, Jr., Thomas, and Francis. Isabella, wife of John Smith, Sen'r, d. Oct. 12, 1639, aged 60. It is probable that John and Isabella were the parents of John, Jr., and Thomas, and perhaps of Francis, and Daniel.

1 JOHN SMITH, Jr., adm. freeman, May 22, 1639, may have been the John Smith, who d. in Lancaster, July, 1669. The Will of John Smith, of Lancaster, dated Ap. 12, 1665, mentions son John, dr. Ann, son Richard, dr. Alice, and he appointed "my beloved son-in-law John Mose," sole executor. [See Morse, 16.]

2 FRANCIS SMITH, was adm. freeman, May 18, 1631; was proprietor of Wat., Feb., 1636-7; but not in 1642. [See Farmer.]

3 DANIEL SMITH [200], was a resident of Wat. as early as 1642, but he was not a proprietor in 1636-7. Perhaps he was a son of John, Sen., and Isabella.

4 MATTHEW SMITH, of Wat., took the oath of fidelity in 1652, and was drowned at Noddles Island, May 21, 1658.

5 RICHARD SMITH, of Wat., took the oath of fidelity in 1652.

6 (II.) THOMAS SMITH (supposed to be a son of John, Sen., and Isabella), came to America in the summer of 1635 [See General Reg. V., p. 248]; was proprietor of Wat., 1636-7, where he d., Mar. 10, 1692-3, aged 92. He was adm. freeman, May 17, 1637. He m. MARY, dr. of William Knapp, Sen. [5.] His Will, dated Mar. 16, 1687-8. Inventory, £73. 4. 3.

7 1. JAMES, b. Sept. 18, 1637. The estate of James Smith, late of Lancaster, was distributed, Ap. 8, 1701, to wid. HANNAH, sons James, Samuel, dr. Hannah, son John, dr. Sarah, and sons Joseph, Benjamin, and Daniel.

2. JOHN, b. and d. Nov., 1639.

3. THOMAS, b. Aug. 26, 1640; d. in Lex., Dec. 25, 1727.
