"On the farm adjoining that of Capt. Parmelee, on the north, lived Dea. Josiah Stevens, father of the late Maj. Josiah Stevens. He had built a large, and at that time somewhat expensive, house on his place. The style of architecture adopted was, we think, peculiar to the colonial era of New England,—the front elevation being two stories, surmounted with a short roof, and the rear sloping back from the ridgepole with a long roof to one story in height. He had occupied his new house but a short time, when adverse circumstances made it necessary for him to change his plans of living, and he sold his place to Capt. Parmelee. The Parmelees were at this time wanting more spacious accommodations for their growing family; and the Stevens dwelling and broad acres were a very desirable acquisition. It was in the autumn of 1793 that they took possession of the new place."

Page 20 "In 1782 Josiah Stevens was voted ninety acres of land, on condition that he cause the plan and survey of the town to be made. It was neatly done on parchment, and is now in the keeping of Amasa Edes, Esq., present clerk."

Page 38: 578 WILCOX Jesse, Uriah, and Phineas Wilcox, and Mrs. Samuel Hurd, children of Stephen Wilcox, of Killingworth, Conn., were among the very earliest settlers of the town. The father gave them 300 acres of land apiece, and came up and assisted them in starting in life. They came in June 1766.

GILES

REF.: History of Newport, N.H., by Wheeler

Josiah Stevens (1743-1804) m. 2., Abigail, widow of Hon. Benj. Giles.

BENJAMIN GILES, one of the early settlers, said to have been an Irishman by birth, came from Groton, Conn., and was during his life the leading man, not only of the town but of this section of the state. He was a man of wealth and education beyond most of the early settlers. He was a devoted patriot. During the Revolution he was an important member of the provincial councils of the state; and during almost the entire Revolutionary struggle he was a delegate to the various conventions, or, as they were then called, "provincial congresses," which met to devise means for carrying on the war, and forming plans of government. He was a member of the convention which formed the first constitution of the state; was a member of the commission to settle the difficulties in regard to the boundary between Mass., and N.H. It is said that he was imprisoned, by authority of His Majesty, for seditious acts, but when it was evening he was rescued by a band of patriots dressed in female attire. He was a representative in 1775, 1776, and of six then classed towns in this vicinity; he was also a member of the state senate, and was elected to the council. When this town seceded from N.H., in March 1781, he was elected a delegate to the general assembly of Vermont, which was to meet at Windsor. He erected the first grist- and saw-mill in town. He died Nov., 1787, aged 70 years. His sister Mary m. Christopher Newton. Mr. Giles had a family, an account of which we have been unable to obtain. One of his daughters, Hannah, m. Isaac Newton; and another, Ruth, m. Rev. Abijah Wines; both r. in Town. (Mary, b. Nov. 12, 1745; d. May 14, 1821; m. Feb. 26, 1766 Christopher Newton)

STEVENS

REFERENCE: A Genealogy of the Lineal Descendants of John Steevens who Settled in Guilford, Conn. in 1645
Compiled by Charlotte Steevens Holmes, 1906

The Ancestor

Who the "John Stephens" was who is known to be the ancestor of the Steevens family of Guilford, or from whence he came, is at present in doubt. It is stated in the "Stevens Genealogy," published in 1904, edited by Rev. C. Ellis Stevens, LL.D., of New York, that John was the second son of Sir Edward Stephens, of Little Sodbury, county Gloucester, and a most creditable English line, bristling with coats of arms, extends back to Airard FitzStephen, a nobleman of Normandy. The story is very attractive, and the line, one of which any American might well be proud, but one link in the chain is broken, and the previous history availeth not.

The book referred to says:

Sir Edward Stephens, of the manor of Little Sodbury, Co. Gloucester, had issue,

(1) Sir Thomas,

(2) John, of Guilford, Conn., etc.

In a foot note the editor says: "The identity of John Stephens, and the fact that his father was Sir Edward Stephens, of Sodbury, are specifically recorded in the family documents, and in historical works and official papers on both sides of the Atlantic, and confirmed by contemporaneous circumstances, and by research, etc."

Unfortunately the editor's research did not extend quite far enough, for according to Foster's "Alumni Oxoniensis," page 1418, "John Stephens, son of Edward, of Little Sodbury, Co. Gloucester, arm., matriculated at Lincoln College, Nov. 24, 1637, aged 15." An inscription taken from St. Thomas' Church at Oxford tells the remainder of the story. (Translated from the Latin)

"John Stevens, second son born to Edward Stephens of Little Sodbury in County Gloucester, Armiger, a youth of great natural ability, and beyond the ordinary inclinations of young manhood distinguished for piety and literary attainments, died April 8, in the twenty-second year of his age, in the year of our Lord 1643. (See LeNeve's Monumenta Anglicana, Vol I, page 203)

These records prove that John, the second son of Edward, was born in the year 1622. The Harleian Society Publications, Vol. XXI, page 151, give Thomas, eldest son of Edward, as being four years old in 1623. Foster's Alumni Oxoniensis, Vol. IV, page 1420, gives "Stephens, Thomas, son Edward, of Little Sodbury, Co., Gloucester, arm., Lincoln College, matriculated Jan. 22, 1635-6, aged 16. Student Middle Temple, 1636." This corroborates the first record and proves that Thomas, the eldest son of Edward, was born in 1618. It further establishes the fact that John's birth in 1622, as noted in previous proofs, is entirely reasonable. Had this John lived he could not have been "the ancestor," as ~~the father of the~~ he was only 17 years old when the real ancestor emigrated, as the father of four children.

Such evidence as this cannot be overthrown, and removes any possibility of claiming descent from this honored line.

The H.E. Hist. and Gen. Reg., Vol 47, p. 115, refers to a will of Dame Anne Moulson, of St. Christopher, London, widow of Sir Thomas Moulson, knight and alderman of London. Date Aug. 11, 1657. Proved Nov. 2, 1661. In this document the testator wille "to Mr. John Stevens and his wife, another of my niece Knightly's daughters; Mr. Thomas Stevens, eldest son of Mr. John Stevens, by Anne, his late wife, daughter of my husband's brother, etc."

This might possibly refer to the "ancestor John." There is no authentic information as to the wife's name, which may have been Anne, instead of Mary. Steiner's history says John came from Kent. It would seem likely that he did come from that section, and that he was not an armiger, but a well-to-do farmer. This opinion is justified by the following extract from Barber's Historical Collections, pages 209, 217; "Among the first 46 original planters who settled in Guilford were John Stephens and Thomas Stephens." "The first planters who came to this town (Guilford) were of ranks, viz.: such who in England are called gentlemen and commonality. None were poor and fewer no servants. The gentlemen were all men of wealth and bear the appellation of "Mr."; the other "goodman" or "neighbor." The first planters were almost all husbandmen by profession, no tradesmen or blacksmiths among them. * * They were country people and chose Guilford as a place like their old home in England, Kent."

It is more than likely that none were entitled to bear arms, and the descendants of "John Stevens" may well console themselves with the reasonable assurance that their ancestor was "Mr." John Stevens, gentleman.

The first known record of John Stevens appears in Edward E. Atwater's "History of the Colony of New Haven," page 626, which says, the first ship, "The St. John," sailed from England May 20, 1639, and arrived in New Haven about July 10-15, 1639. The second ship came also in July, 1639, and on it were John Sheather and John Stephens, among 24 persons, most of whom settled in Guilford. John Stephens appears in the Guilford records as having settled there before or about 1645, at which time he acted as a Judge in the town. It would appear likely, however, that he had been there some years, to have been appointed to so important an office. In 1650, he gave his name and the names of his sons Thomas and William in the first list of settlers in Guilford with the spelling "Stephens." All later records were "Steevens" or "Stevens", the former being more common.

He was a member of the Church of England. He was married in England and his wife must have died before he emigrated, as she is not mentioned in any records of Guilford. Steiner's "History of Guilford and Madison" says: "John Stephens with sons Thomas and William came from Kent and were in Guilford at first division of lands."

His "Home lot" of one and one-half acres was on the east side of Fair street, next north of William Dudley. He also owned thirty-six and one-quarter acres of "upland," beside the alder swamp.

He must have united with the church at Guilford between 1650 and 1656, as he is recorded as a freeman in 1656. He executed a deed of gift to his son Thomas, of his East Orsek land, near the alder swamp, of date Mar. 11, 1670. He made his will Aug. 27, during his last illness, and three days before his death, which occurred Sept. 1, 1670. The will was signed with his mark, he doubtless being too feeble to write his name in full, as he had often done in days of health. The full text of the will appears in the Appendix, copied from the original probate records by the compiler.

The order of birth of the ancestor's children has been made a subject of controversy by Dr. O. Ellis Stevens, in his history previously referred to. There is no question as to his error in this particular, as well as in the English descent. All ~~the~~ published records seem to agree. Smyth's "History of Guilford," page 15, says, "John Stephens, with sons Thomas and William, appear to have been here, etc." Steiner, in his history, speaks of the sons as "Thomas and William." In connection with the Rossiters, Steiner says Thomas seems to have been the chief man in the business, and it was Thomas who handed the "offensive paper" to Governor Leete. Thomas' name appears first on the freemen's list, several years before William's. In American Ancestry, Vol. IV, page 18, this is said: "William died at Killingworth, 1710-12, of great age, selectman, youngest son of John, who came from England about 1640 to Guilford; had four children, John, in England, Thomas, William, Mary."

The most positive proof of all, however, is in John's will, where the children are named in order, Thomas being first. Talcott's manuscript gives the order as John, Thomas, William and Mary. Numerous other authorities might be cited in proof of Thomas' seniority, but as it is conceded by expert genealogists that Thomas was unquestionably the elder son, it seems entire unnecessary to record them. Dr. Stevens' effort to establish William's priority was absolutely necessary to give him a direct line of succession.

FIRST GENERATION

John Stephens, born in England, date unknown, married Mary _____. Had four children, all born in England. John, with his three younger children, emigrated to America, settling in Guilford, Conn., about 1646. He died Sept. 1, 1670.

2 John Steevens, born _____. Remained in England.

3 Thomas Steevens, born _____

4 William Stevens, born _____

5 Mary Steevens, born _____

JOHN (2) probably never came to this country. Talcott's manuscript simply says of him, "Remained in England." This language would clearly indicate that he never came over. Hon. R.D. Smyth says (N.E.Hist. and Gen. Register, Vol. 56, page 358) that this John married Mary Coit, lived in West Haven, New Haven, and New London, and returned to England. Evidently this is an error. The John he refers to seems likely to have been the son of William Stephens, of Gloucester, an entirely distinct family.

MARY (5) married, first HENRY KINGSNORTH, of Staplehurst, Co. Kent, time and place of marriage unknown, who died July 29, 1668, and she married, second, John COLLINS, of Branford, June 2, 1669. She died in 1700. Dr. C. Ellis Stevens, in his "Stevens Genealogy," 1904, page 60, says: "Mary Collins had daughter Mary, born Feb'y 1700," but this could not have been possible, as Mary was born in England before 1639 and must have been about seventy years of age in 1700. If a child was born to her it must have been in 1670. As her first marriage was fruitless, it is more than likely that the child Mary was by a previous marriage. This view is further verified in O Chapman's "Chapman Family," page 190, which says that "Deacon Nathaniel Chapman married June 29, 1681, Mary Collins, of Guilford, the daughter of John Collins. At this date a child of Mary Kingsnorth Collins could not have been more than eleven years of age, hence she must have been a child by first marriage.

Hibbard's "History of Goshen," 1897, page 442, gives the following account:

John Collins and wife emigrated from England in 1638. Was member Ancient and Honorable Artillery Co. in 1644. Had one child John by wife Susannah, born about 1644. This John married (1) Mary Trowbridge. She died in 1668 and he married (2) Mary Stevens, widow of Henry Kingsnorth, June 3, 1669. He married (3) Dorcas Swain, widow of John Taintor. He went to Middletown in 1663, thence to Saybrooke, Branford, Guilford, and in 1671 back to Branford, where he died Dec. 10, 1704. He had children by first wife. John, born in 1665, Robert, born in 1667, and Mary, probably by second wife, who married _____ Chapman.

As this Mary is without doubt the one who married Nathaniel Chapman in 1681, she must have been born before John, to Mary Trowbridge Collins. Steiner's "History of Guilford and Madison," page 131, says John Collins came to Guilford in 1669 and bought John Steven's ~~home~~ home and land and was made "Planter" Feb. 13, 1670. Marrie Mary, sister of Henry Kingsnorth and afterward came into possession of lands of Henry and James Kingsnorth. Smyth's "History of Guilford," page 22, gives a more detailed statement, and says John Collins married Mary Kingsnorth, sister of Henry. There seems to be no question as to the error of these statements that John Collins married Mary, a sister of Henry Kingsnorth. John Steevens' will, made Aug. 27, 1670, clearly mentions his daughter Mary Collins (see Appendix). No mention is elsewhere made of a sister of Henry Kingsnorth, and as John Collins seems to be clearly defined, there can be no question that his second wife, Mary, was John Steevens' daughter, and the widow of Henry Kingsnorth, and it is quite as obvious that no issue resulted from the marriage.

Henry Kingsnorth was born in Staplehurst, Co. Kent, in 1618. He was a man of standing and property, both in old and New England. (Smyth's Guilford, p. 46.) He died and was buried July 30, 1668. He came over in the ship "The St. John," which sailed from England May 20, 1639, and reached New Haven about July 10, 1639. (E. S. Atwater's History of Colony of New Haven, p. 626.) The famous "Planters'" agreement was framed on this ship and signed June 1, 1639, by Henry Kingsnorth and 24 others, nearly all of whom settled in Guilford or Killingworth. A copy of this interesting document, explaining the origin of the name "planter," appears in the Appendix.

THOMAS STEEVENS (John 1.), born in England about 1628, married in 1650, MARY FLETCHER, daughter of John Fletcher of Milford. Thomas came with his father from England to Guilford about 1646. He never became a freeman in Guilford. With his father and brother William he was a strong supporter of and adherent to Dr. Rossiter, and in October, 1662, all three joined with others in seceding from the New Haven colony and tendered their persons and estates to the Connecticut colony. They were received into this colony and guaranteed protection. The bitter controversy which followed caused Thomas to remove in 1665 to Killingworth, where in 1669 he was made a freeman. Thomas was a man of ability and prominence in Killingworth and was twice elected to the General Assembly. In 1654, while living in Guilford, he was chosen corporal in an expedition against the Dutch of New York. He died Nov. 18, 1685.

20. John Stevens Esq. of Lypiatt Park and the Manor of Little Sodbury, Gloucestershire, emigrated to Guilford, Conn. after July 1639. Married Mary (?) or Elizabeth (?), wife probably died before he came to America with children. They came on the ship with Rev. Henry Whitfield and his company which arrived just after the "John" which docked 10-15 July 1639. Most of these passengers signed the "Plantation Covenant" and settled at Guilford, Conn. (3) Nathaniel Chittenden, Nath<sup>r</sup>, Wm.

William<sub>2</sub> (John) Stevens b. 1630 England, d. 26 Feb 1703/4 Killingworth. Resided Killingworth; earlier at Guilford. Married (1) Mary dau of John and Tamazin(e) (Fry(e)) Meigs b. 1633 Weymouth, Eng. d. 30 Apr 1703 Guilford or New London, Conn. Among their children was

Judith, d. 31 Oct 1732, mar Capt. Samuel<sub>2</sub> (Samuel<sub>2</sub>, William) ~~Buell~~ Buell. (See Buell family)
Note for Mrs. Cutts:

I have checked tonight (2/25/53) Welles' Buell Gen. and while he gives the same list of children for Nathaniel<sub>4</sub> (Josiah<sub>3</sub> William<sub>2</sub> John) Stevens and his wife Abigail<sub>4</sub> (Samuel<sub>3</sub> Samuel<sub>2</sub> William) Buell (the exception is that he gives the date of b. of Sarah as 30 March instead of 3 March) Welles carries the family into the next gen. only by listing name and birthdate. So this gives no help. I have listed above books that I consulted on this family and I am sure you are correct in assuming that your Rebecca b. (prob. Guilford, Killingworth or New London--see Barbour Collection in Conn. Lib.) ca. 11/1763, mar Newport 1782 Elias Bascom was ~~Rebecca-6 (Josiah<sub>5</sub> Nathaniel<sub>4</sub> above)~~ Rebecca-6 (Josiah<sub>5</sub> Nathaniel<sub>4</sub> above). The Buells intermarried much with this Stevens family before moving to Newport, N.H. so I suspect you are on the right track. I wish I had more records here to help but all these refs. were read in Des Moines long ago and I didn't take all collateral lines.

Notes from "A Narrative of the Griswold Family"

Elizabeth Stevens who married John Graves, was the daughter of Nathaniel Stevens, a commissioned Lieutenant in Queen Anne's War. His father, William Stephens, was born in England 1630 and married March 3, 1653 Mary Meigs daughter of John Meigs and Thomasine Fry. John Meigs' father Vincent Meigs was from the Manor of Bradford Peverell, County Dorset, England, and of Guilford, Conn. Upon the death of Mary Meigs, William Stephens married Sarah, widow of David Carpenter of New London who died April 30, 1703. John Stephens, the father of the foregoing, was a member of Parliament. Previous to his coming to America his house at Lypiatt Park was besieged and captured by the Royalist Party and sometime later his father was made prisoner of State by the extremists of the opposite faction. He is descended from a long line (sixteen generations) of ancestors starting with Airard Fitz Stephen a Norman Nobleman who was given command of the ship "Mora" by William the Conqueror. This ship "Mora" was given to William by the Duchess and eventual Queen Matilda of Flanders for his personal use in the fleet which conveyed the Norman forces to England for the battle of Hastings in 1066.

Airard Fitz Stephen's son Thomas commanded the "White Ship" which was the finest in the Norman Navy. It struck a rock while carrying Prince William and was destroyed. Thomas lost his hold upon a floating spar when he learned that Prince William had been drowned and he was lost also, about 1120. The line comes down next to Ralph Fitz Stephens then to his son Fitz Ralph Fitz Stephens who was a Crusader probably in the Third Crusade under Richard Coeur de Leon in 1190. Six generations follow and we come to John Stephens (notice that the Fitz has been dropped from the name--two generations before). He was a Baron by Feudal Tenure, member of Parliament during the Reign of Richard II, Mayor of Bristol in 1403 in the reign of Henry II.

His son Thomas was in the French Wars of Henry V, a member of Parliament in 1442 at the accession to the throne of Henry VI. He was also a member in 1430 at the time of the capture of Joan of Arc as well as for the years 1400, 1423, 1427, 1432, 1442.

His son, John Stephens, fought in the Wars of the Roses and was a member of Parliament for Bristol in the reign of Henry VIII.

Thomas was Barrister at law, Official of the Court of King James I and appointed Attorney General to Prince Henry and Prince Charles, successively Princes of Wales the latter having become Charles I.

His son Edward, who studied at Oxford and Middle Temple, married Anne, daughter of Sir Thomas Grewe, Knight of Northamptonshire, who was Speaker of the House of Commons.

Thomas Stephens is buried in Stroud Church where there is a mural memorial to him. He was the father of the American settler.

M.F.W. (same as above it seems), in Hartford Times, Dec. 2, 1944, asks - Rev. Josiah Stevens (1743-1804), Congregational Church, pastor, Newport, New Hampshire; mar. Mary Gray, (1740-1787); her data asked.

We note there was no reply, as to Mary Gray. There was an answer that supplied the name as Buell, as the family name of Abigail, wife of Nathaniel (4) Stevens. This gives the Stevens line, which I copy, hoping it may be of interest.

Josiah (5) Stevens, b. Oct. 21, 1743.

One could send a letter to Mrs. Benn, of the Hartford Times, to be forwarded to M.F.W., querist of A-3212, Dec. 11, 1943. M.F.W., might tell you if he found Mary Gray. If this fails, Ill look for early Gray families of the right generation, and locality. I have a BIG file of Grays. Is there any suspicion as to her people.

Thanks for the $5.00 enclosed for searching for 10 queries. I like to have 53cts for each page, like this, and as there are only 6 ($3.18), let us calculate I still owe you 4 pages of work. There should be some "follow-up" on some of this.

I wish I knew some of your sources of information. Is the Hartford Times in your library? If so I would hesitate to quote so explicitly.

I hope you kept a copy of letter sent me. I took each question as I came to it. Some answers Im quite satisfied with, others are sketchy.

Hope to try with other queries for your group.

Sincerely, "Aksarben Indexer"

N.E. Register, vol. 1, p. 248, 249 Congregational Churches & Ministers in Rockingham Co. Gosport, or Star Island, is one of a cluster of eight small islands usually called The Isles of Shoals, composed of beds of rocks, partly covered with soil. They are about nine miles from Portsmouth Light House, and twenty-one from Newburyport Lights. Five of these islands are within the limits of Maine. Of these, Hog Island is the largest of the whole group, and contains about 350 acres. Of the three in New Hampshire, Gosport, or Star Island, formerly called Appledore, is the largest, and contains 150 acres. White Island, on which the Light House is located is only one acre. These islands were visited, as early as 1614, by the celebrated navigator, John Smith, who gave them his own name; but they have long been called "The Isles of Shoals." They invited settlement, merely by the advantages they furnished for fishery. This business was prosperous, for about a century, previous to the American Revolution. The population varied from 300 to 500, employing a number of schooners and other craft. A meeting-house, previous to 1641, was erected on Hog Island, where the people from the several islands used to assemble. There was also a Court House on the same island. At a subsequent period, a meeting-house was built on Star Island, where the greater part of the inhabitants have resided. . . . .

Not long after the death of the Rev. Mr. Tucke of Gosport, the war of the Revolution commenced. The inhabitants were exceedingly exposed; business was arrested, and many left the Islands not to return. The population for the last half century, has varied from 66 to 103. The preachers who have resided there have also instructed the school, and have been supported in part, by the inhabitants, and in part by contributions from benevolent societies, and individuals. Near the beginning of the present century, Rev. Josiah Stevens was located at the Shoals. There was at that time, a comfortable parsonage house, and a stone meeting-house, which was also the school-house, on Gosport. Mr. Stevens was much respected and beloved, and very useful as a minister and teacher. He was born in Killingworth, Ct., about 1740. In mature age, he removed, with his wife and five or six children, to Newport, N.H. He aided in founding the church in that place, and was one of its deacons. He served two short terms in the Revolutionary war; and was in the battle of Bellington. A fellow-soldier spoke of him, as a man of decided piety, who amidst the bustle of the camp, was constant in his morning and evening devotions. Immediately after the adoption of the State Constitution, he received a civil commission, and transacted much business, as a magistrate. He was often engaged in teaching. After commencing to preach, he labored for a time in Goshen. His father was Josiah Stevens. A son of Rev. Mr. Stevens, Maj. Josiah Stevens, was also a deacon of the church in Newport, where he died in 1844, aged 31. He was father of Hon. Josiah Stevens of Concord, who was born in Newport, Jan. 28, 1795, and was in 1838 elected Secretary of State. His eldest son is Josiah. The Rev. Mr. Stevens died in Gosport, where the following inscription is found on his gravestone:

In memory of the Rev. Josiah Stevens, a faithful instructor of youth, and pious minister of Jesus Christ, (supported on this Island, by the Society for propagating the gospel,) who died, July 2, 1804, aged 64 years.

BENJAMIN GILES, one of the early settlers, said to have ben an Irishman by birth, came from Groton, Conn., and was during his life the leading man, not only of the town, but of this section of the state. He was a man of wealth and education beyond most of the early settlers. He was a devoted patriot. During the Revolution he was an important member of the provincial councils of the state; and during almost the entire Revolutionary struggle he was a delegate to the various conventions, or, as they were then called, "provincial congresses," which met to devise means for carrying on the war, and forming plans of government. He was a member of the convention which formed the first constitution of the state; was a member of the commission to settle the difficulties in regard to the boundary between Mass., and N.H. It is said that he was imprisoned, by authority of His Majesty, for seditious acts, but when it was evening he was rescued by a band of patriots dressed in female attire. He was a representative in 1775, 1776, of six then classed towns in this vicinity; he was also a member of the state senate, and was elected to the council. When this town seceded from N.H., in March 1781, he was elected a delegate to the general assembly of Vermont, which met at Windsor. He erected the first grist- and saw-mill in town. ## THE STEVENS FAMILY of ANDOVER

From a typescript at Andover Historical Society, compiled by Charlotte Helen Abbott. The material has been rearranged to "Register" standards by Marcia Wiswall Lindberg, C.G.

1. JOHN<sup>1</sup> STEVENS was born in 1605 at Covenshire? (Oxford County), England, and died at Andover 11 April 1662, age 57. He came to Newbury in 1638 on the ship Confidence, with his wife ELIZABETH (-----), his mother Alice and his brother William, then 21 years of age. He removed from Newbury to Andover in 1645. John's cemetery stone has been enclosed in granite and placed near the old lot in the First Cemetery, opposite the Kittredge manse in North Andover. Elizabeth was born in 1613 and died at North Andover, 1 May 1694, age 81. According to Moses T. Stevens, the homestead of John<sup>1</sup> Stevens was in North Andover Centre, south of the mill pond, near the crossing of the B & M Railroad track on the road that leads east past the Unitarian Church. John's stone reads: "Here Lyes Buried The Body of Mr. John Stevens Who Deceased ye 11 day of April 1662 in the 57th year of his age."

The will of Elizabeth Stevens, dated 1694: To John<sup>2</sup>, the eldest son, 1/2 the meadow, 1/4th of the post yard for 4 years; to Timothy, the other half of the land, pewter, etc. and a wine bowl; to Nathan, 4 acres lying behind Andrew Foster, Jr.; fruit and chests; to Ephraim, 1/2 of my great division; to Deacon Joseph, land in Cochichewick and Shawshin fields and a little pasture by my barn he now uses; to son Benjamin, the homestead; to Elizabeth Woodman, the brass kettle, pillion, napkins, wheels and cards; to Mary Barker, a feather bed and things for her Mary; to grandson Joshua now living with me, 6 acres the town gave me; to Ephraim's Sara a tablecloth; to his Elizabeth, pillow bars and frying pan; to Joseph's Mary linen. His stone was standing in 1920. Nathan's will, dated 1718, made bequests *"To Samuel, son of my brother John, deceased, 1/2 of the meadow called Woodchuck meadows; to Abiel, one cow. The homestead and moveables and 1/2 the cattle are to go to Samuel if he will quitclaim to Benjamin and David, all his rights in their father's lands. A brief record of my Experience in the Civil War 1861-1862

For Alfie and Mamie.

I enlisted July 1861 in Company F. Seventh Regt Maine Col. was mustered into the United States service August 21st 1861 at Augusta Me. As 1st Sergt of the Company. The Regt was ordered to Baltimore Md where we built Fort Marshall and where we remained until November when we crossed Chain Bridge into Va. and went into winter quarters at Camp Griffin. In the Spring of 1862 we started on the Peninsular Campaign with Genl McClellan in command. Our first battle was at Williamsburg Va. At the close of battle which placed Williamsburg in our hands. Genl McClellan with his Staff paid the 7th Maine a visit. and with his hat in his hand addressed to them the following complimentary words:-
"Soldiers of the Seventh Maine I have come to thank you for your bravery and good conduct in the action of yesterday. In this battle you and your comrades arrested the progress of the advancing enemy. saved the army from a disgraceful defeat and turned the tide of victory in our favor. In recognition of your merit you shall hereafter bear the inscription 'Williamsburg' on your colors. Soldiers my words are feeble, but from the bottom of my heart I thank you" we fought our way up the Peninsula to Mechanicsville our nearest point to Richmond Va. we came in sight of the Town about 4 o'clock in the morning and were at once ordered to lie down and rest. Short was the rest tho. for at 5 o'clock we were ordered to fall in line for battle. In less time than it takes me to write it the enemy run a piece of Artillery out from behind an old building and opened on us with solid shot. One struck in front of the Colonels horse causing him to rear and threw the Col off. He was taken on a stretcher and carried to the rear. Genl Davidson in command of the brigade rode up in front of the line and said come on boys. and we charged the Town at right shoulder shift. The shot were flying thick and fast but none of them touched Davidson. we captured the town but were forced to retreat again fighting all the way to Malvern Hill where we made a stand and engaged in a fierce battle but were obliged to retreat to Harrison Landing on the James River under the protection of our Gun Boats. We left Harrison Landing about Aug 27th Expecting to take part in the 2<sup>d</sup> battle of Bull Run Aug 30th but did not arrive in time. Sept 14th marched to Crumpton Gap South Mountain Md under Genl Franklin. At this time our Srgt Major was home on recruiting service. and I was detailed to act in his place. and also to serve as Adjutants Clerk. Sept 17th the old 7th took an active part in the battle of Antietam and lost heavily. The Regt was then ordered to Portland Me to recruit its ranks. The Regt returned to Va the last of Dec and went into winter quarters. May 1st The Army of the Potomac struck tents and started on the Spring Campaign of 1863 Genl Joe Hooker marched to Chancellorsville and Genl Sedgwick with the Sixth Corps went to Fredericksburg. May 4th in light marching order we charged Marys Heights. we had to run across an open field before we came to the heights. A rebel battery was shelling us all the way and knocking the boys out right and left. The line was broken and our Lieut Butler gave the command "Co. A." fall in this way I was on his left the next moment a shell burst a piece of it striking him in the head and killing him instantly that left me in command of the "Co." I gave the order <sup>forward</sup> Boys and we went up the heights and captured them. The Capt of the Rebel battery complimented us. he said you men made a splendid charge and I was giving you hell all the time. The next day the 5th the 7th was on the skirmish line all day. In the afternoon Genl Lee sent up from Chancellorsville about 40,000 troops and recaptured the heights. at which time I was taken prisoner we were marched to Belle Isle James River near Richmond. The Johnnies were short of rations and we had to go hungry I had $10.00 in my pocket and I got one of the guards to go over to Richmond and buy what he could with it. He returned with a few biscuits and round cakes just about enough for two. The day we were paroled we were ordered to fall in line and sign our names when called. It was a long time to wait and being weary I sat down to rest. The guard taking notice of my independence ordered me to fall in. I gave him a look of defiance and he returned it with the remark "fall in there I mean what I say I dog" under the circumstances the only thing for me was to obey with the wish that I had him across the line where I would have caused him to use different language. We were in line until 10 o'clock then under a mounted guard commanded by Major Turner a Rebel brute we marched to City Point and took transports enroute for Camp Parole Annapolis Md. I was exchanged and returned to my Regt. We took part in the march to Mine Run the Genls decided not to make an attack and we went back to our winter quarters. The campaign of 1864 begun by the advance of the Army under Genl Grant who crossed the Rapidan on May 5th and began the battles of the Wilderness. The old 7th always at the front was engaged the first day in Caleb Stevens of Woodford was killed we lost about 15 men in the skirmish. The night of the 6th of May the Johnnies charged our line, the New York troops broke on our right and all was confusion. The afternoon of the 10th the 5th 6th & 7th with other Regts made a charge we captured a brigade with all the Officers. When we were advancing through the Wilderness we were obliged to keep our belts on 4 days and nights that we might be in readiness at a moments warning

A brief record of my Experience in the Civil War, 1861.

At the battle of Spottsylvania Court House the 12th of May I received two slight wounds which disabled me so that I was obliged to go to the hospital for a couple of weeks. My brother Orin, P. Stevens Lieut in the 5th Maine Regt was fatally wounded that day after helping me bind up my first wound with a belt strap. On going to the rear I stopped to ease my wound in the thigh and while examining it I received another in the calf of my leg. On leaving the hospital I joined my Regt at Cold Harbor and there I received a 1st Lieut's commission from the Governor of the State. This was entirely unsought by me. My three years term of service would expire in Aug and I did not wish to be mustered on it. July 1864 Genl Early made his raid on Washington D.C. Our brigade was sent up from the Army of the Potomac to take part in the fight and we arrived just in time for action. the brigade made a charge. Our Major Jones was killed and I think about 15 privates. John Pocket from Bath belonging to our Co. was standing by my side when he was shot through the body and instantly killed. When Genl Early saw our Sixth Corps badge in those intrenchments he knew better than to make any serious attack. We followed Early in his retreat to the Shenandoah Valley to Strasburg near Harpers Ferry where my term of service expired. I came home then went to Augusta where I received my discharge Sept 5th 1864.

Lovingly your father.
