Don't Overlook the Obvious!

A research tip from Dorothy Losee

Dorothy Losee is a retired high school teacher who began researching her English, Welsh, and Scottish ancestry 14 years ago. As a 12-year volunteer at the L.A. Family History Center she has most recently been involved with data input for the card catalog (soon to be accessible on the web). Dorothy served as Treasurer of BIFHS-USA for 12 years and is now finishing her second year as Corresponding Secretary.

For many years I had been searching for my grandfather, Thomas Harvey Allen, as a child. I knew about him as an adult. His father (which I learned from a sibling's records) was Benjamin T. Allen.

I searched and searched to no avail. Finally, at the suggestion of Nancy Carlberg (BIFHS-USA President) who asked what the T. stood for — and my reply was that I had no idea — I started looking for T. Allens. Yes, there he was listed as Thomas Allen with my grandfather as a child. Thus the mystery was solved. I finally had him as a child — with all of his siblings listed on the census for the year — including the sibling which I knew about.

If only I had thought about this years ago, my search would have proceeded so much quicker!
