GRAND ARMY OF THE REPUBLIC - TWENTIETH ENCAMPMENT DIRECTORY - 1886, VOL. I

ABOUT THE DIRECTORY

This is a roster published by the Department of California, Grand Army of the Republic, just before the National Encampment of the GAR held in San Francisco, California August 2-11, 1886.

The genealogical value of this publication is very important. It documents the presence of many veterans of the Civil War who came to California in the early years after the War to seek their fortunes. It predates the 1890 census and the 1906 San Francisco earthquake and fire. The Directory lists names, military units, post affiliations and officers' rolls, and, for some posts, also the street addresses of members. Posts in California, Nevada, the Arizona Territory and the Hawaiian Islands are included.

The directory is organized by the GAR Post number, with members' names arranged alphabetically within the posts' list. An appendix lists members whose information was probably submitted too late to be included in the main directory. A cross-reference index is organized by Civil War military unit (state, unit, company). It is unclear whether this directory lists all of the members of each of the GAR posts, or if the names listed included only those members who were attending the Encampment. An alphabetic index was included in the document; but, unfortunately the index pages are in very poor condition with only fragments surviving. We expect that the alphabetic index will be reconstructed during the transcription process.

The directory also includes advertisements aimed at the GAR members, and many of the ads also mention names of the proprietors or other individuals.

The publication was found in an antique show at Tacoma, Pierce County, Washington. A few of the pages are in poor or very poor condition due to tears and missing text. Further information about the source can be found in the directory's introduction.

THE PROJECT TO TRANSCRIBE THE DIRECTORY

The Southern California Genealogical Society is committed to conserving genealogical materials and making them available to family historians and genealogists in the future. This is one of the earliest internal SCGS projects to place digital images online in addition to the transcribed index.

The transcription work has just begun, with contributions thus far from Amy Coffin, Theresa Huston, Mary and Donn Dancer, and Paula Hinkel. If you would like to participate in this project, please contact Paula Hinkel at phinkel@pacbell.net. We are using Excel as our data entry program, and a template has already been set up and is available for download.

The 1892 Great Register of Voters Living at The National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers, Los Angeles

The 1892 Great Register of Voters for Los Angeles County, California contains more than 27,500 records. Of these, approximately 12,000 are for voters who resided in the City of Los Angeles and the remaining 15,500 represent voters living in The Country. At that time, The Country was defined as any place in the county other than in the City of Los Angeles. (By contrast, note that in 1884 there were approximately 7,000 persons living in The Country.)

The registers were the result of California's Registry Act of 1866 in which all voters were required to register. Not until the passage of the 19th Amendment to the U.S. Constitution in 1920 were females allowed to vote, explaining why only males are listed.

In addition to name, age, place of birth, occupation and place of residence, the registers provide naturalization information in sufficient detail to show the date of naturalization and the court conferring the naturalization. The 1892 Great Register contains a wealth of personal information regarding each person, namely, height (in feet and inches), complexion shade, eye and hair color, and distinguishing marks.

The Southern California Genealogical Society's library presently has microfilms of the bi-annually printed Great Registers for Los Angeles County for the period 1873–1896. If you're performing research in Los Angeles County for that time period, perhaps a visit to our library to peruse the registers would help!

Please note that it is anticipated that the entire extraction of the 1892 Great Register will be included in the upcoming Members-Only section of our website, presently under construction. Lookups can be performed by the SCGS Research team and can be ordered via the SCGS webiste.

Established in 1887, the Pacific Branch of the National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers in Los Angeles had 300 acres, then increased to 520 acres that included a cemetery. It was later renamed Sawtelle Veterans Home. The following pages reflect the men living there in 1892. Part I (A-Hig) - Spring 2011.

The 1892 Great Register of Voters Living at The National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers, Los Angeles

The 1892 Great Register of Voters for Los Angeles County, California contains more than 27,500 records. Of these, approximately 12,000 are for voters who resided in the City of Los Angeles and the remaining 15,500 represent voters living in The Country. At that time, The Country was defined as any place in the county other than in the City of Los Angeles. (By contrast, note that in 1884 there were approximately 7,000 persons living in The Country.)

The registers were the result of California's Registry Act of 1866 in which all voters were required to register. Not until the passage of the 19th Amendment to the U.S. Constitution in 1920 were females allowed to vote, explaining why only males are listed.

In addition to name, age, place of birth, occupation and place of residence, the registers provide naturalization information in sufficient detail to show the date of naturalization and the court conferring the naturalization. The 1892 Great Register contains a wealth of personal information regarding each person, namely, height (in feet and inches), complexion shade, eye and hair color, and distinguishing marks.

The Southern California Genealogical Society's library presently has microfilms of the bi-annually printed Great Registers for Los Angeles County for the period 1873–1896. If you're performing research in Los Angeles County for that time period, perhaps a visit to our library to peruse the registers would help!

Please note that it is anticipated that the entire extraction of the 1892 Great Register will be included in the upcoming Members-Only section of our website, presently under construction. Lookups can be performed by the SCGS Research team and can be ordered via the SCGS website.

Established in 1887, the Pacific Branch of the National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers in Los Angeles had 300 acres, then increased to 520 acres that included a cemetery. It was later renamed Sawtelle Veterans Home. The following pages reflect the men living there in 1892. Part I (A-Hig) - Spring 2011. Part II (Hil-Towner) - Summer 2011. Part III (Trask-Z) - Fall 2011.
