

ARROYO GRANDE CEMETERY

The following names were copied by Betty June Mitchell from a small, unmarked cemetery located on a hillside running parallel to northbound Highway 101 in the town of Arroyo Grande, California, about 10 miles north of Santa Maria.

The cemetery is unkempt, with many of the granite and wrought iron markers and fences damaged beyond recognition for identification of names or dates.

Santa Margarita Cemetery
San Luis Obispo County, California

By Martha A Crosley Graham
Project & Publications Chair

The Santa Margarita Cemetery is located east of the town of Santa Margarita, California. As near as we can figure, the first burials were in 1909 or 1910. There is a small old [original] Santa Margarita Cemetery on the Santa Margarita Ranch. This first Site was abandoned when the present Cemetery was opened.

Degrees Minutes Seconds:

Latitude: 352329N

Longitude: 1203517W

Decimal Degrees:

Latitude: 35.39139

Longitude: -120.58806

There are many unmarked and unknown graves in this Cemetery. The Cemetery Records are not available thus our Society has to rely on an old Index created by SLOCGS Members in 1975. They walked the Cemetery and recorded the data on existing headstones and temporary markers.

In January of 2008, I went out and photographed all of the headstones and temporary markers that included names and dates. An Index has been created from the photographs plus the original SLOCGS Index. This index includes [wherever possible] Full Name., Date of Birth and Date of Death. Some of the markers are eroded, but every attempt has been made to identify as many graves as is possible. The name Index is listed on the following pages while the index including birth and death dates can be found online at <http://www.datagen.us/SMargCem.html>.

Bible Records

Often what is found in family bibles must be "taken with a grain of salt" as they are only as good as the information that the recorder had at hand in a moment in time. My family had one family bible with handwritten entries, rather obviously with most being entered at one time. This probably occurred when the bible was new. Forever, I had been told that it belonged to my Mothers's parents, Richard C. Williams and Annie Laura Pellowe.

This bible bumped around from cupboard to shelf and traveled from Cornwall, England to Morenci, Arizona by wagon, coach, ship, train and stagecoach then on to Gardena California. Later it went on to East Los Angeles and El Monte, California to Canby, Oregon. At that point I collected it and it now resides in Atascadero. "So what!" you might say. Well as I had a closer look, now interested in Family History Research, it became apparent that it was actually my great-grandparent's bible, Esau James Pellowe and Elizabeth Ann Trezona who lived their lives in Cornwall, England. Furthermore, all of their children had not been entered, including my grandmother.

Facts like marriages and deaths had been added along the way in different handwriting and with different writing materials. All of these additions helped to guide the way to factual information and documentation. One entry however, I should have known better, mislead me in the wrong direction. The name and birthdate of my Uncle, Clarence E. Williams looked like it had been entered by a child and was just randomly written on a blank page. It all seemed correct as his birthdate was given as 1904, the year after my grandmother and her two young children arrived in Arizona. Uncle Clarence was the last surviving member of the family and I had looked in the California Death Index for him for many years with no luck. (There are lots of Clarence Williams'). The basic reason for not finding him came to light when I managed to get a copy of his Arizona Birth Record. Grandma arrived early in 1903 and Uncle Clarence was born in November, 1903, nine months later, not 1904 as noted in the bible. With that new knowledge, there he was. So, take heed of what you find written in a bible, use it as a guide but then do the necessary work to get the proof.

The Bible of Isaac and Emma (York) Causey

The information about this bible was submitted by Vonda L. Cooper, great granddaughter of the above. Isaac was born in Union County, Illinois and Emma was born in Freedom, Iowa. They were married in Huntsville, Arkansas. They eventually moved to Oregon and then on to California. Their parents were from Illinois, Missouri, North Carolina and Virginia. They had 10 children.

Vonda relates that she was able to get copies of the vital pages from the bible about 15 years ago from her aunt Marlene Hohn. The front pages were torn, but the remaining pages had been rebound. A recent inquiry about the bible found that the family members involved weren't sure where it might be located. Thanks to Vonda, copies of the important pages will now be in our SLO library as well as the set that she has in her possession.

The original of this picture is much larger, taken to hang on a wall. This copy was a photo taken through the glass, causing a reflection glare. The people are from L to R Front Row: Myrtle, Cleo, Isaac (father), Ray, Emma (mother) and Aubrey. Back Row: Otis, John Austin, Orren, Fay and Beulah.

These materials will be available in the SLO Library and also include a cover page, Title pages of the Bible, and multiple Family Record pages. Included our births, marriages, divorces, deaths and burials. Every page from the Bible with anything written on it is included. In addition there are five Family Group Records sheets including nearly four pages of notes. Special "Thanks" to Vonda Cooper for her time and efforts in preserving this information and for sharing this Bible with our membership. Vonda can be reached at pismokids@sbcglobal.net

Finding Females

In areas whose legal systems derive from the English common law -- such as the United States, much of Canada, and the United Kingdom -- a name change usually does not require legal action, because a person can choose to be known by any name (except with intent to defraud) without taking any legal action.

In many jurisdictions whose legal systems derive from the civil law - such as France, Spain, the province of Quebec, and the state of Louisiana -- however, the default position is for a woman's "legal name" to remain the same throughout life. Women there who wish to change their names legally usually must apply to do so via the same formal procedure as any other citizen who wishes to change a name.

When searching ship passenger lists, especially for your Italian, Dutch and French female ancestors, look under their maiden names. That's how they may be recorded even though they were married at the time. Roots Web Review - 16 Aug 2006, Vol 9 #33

San Luis Obispo County Feature

San Miguel Cemetery

by Martha A. Crosley Graham

Like so many stories that we hear when doing research, the court house burned down, not once but three times, etc., etc. Well in San Miguel the story is that the former Secretary's family pitched all of the records that were stored in her garage, so the information available today is sketchy at best about many of the early interments. Betty Robinson, the present Secretary has done a great job in working at recording who is buried there as well as working on unmarked graves.

In looking at the records, there are a lot of unknown dates as well as graves that have not been identified in the very oldest part of the Cemetery. The earliest recorded birth is 1810, and the earliest recorded burial is 1882, a teenager named Charles Eugene Asbell. There is a grave outside the Cemetery 'proper'. It is a grave of a Chinese person who was not allowed to be buried in the regular part of the cemetery, and now has a white fence around it.

The Cemetery is a Public Cemetery and is part of the San Luis Obispo County Cemetery District System. It is located on Cemetery Road, west and across Highway 101 from the San Miguel Mission. There are 1096 recorded burials and it is still an active cemetery. Attempts are being made to identify graves and persons who at the present time are unknown. Betty is trying to research those unknown's and would welcome information from anyone who might have family information.

There are representatives from all branches of Military Service including Civil War Veterans, and possibly Spanish American Veterans as well as Veterans from both World Wars, Korea and Vietnam.

All Gravestones, temporary markers and marked graves [that contain unknowns] were photographed by members of the San Luis Obispo County Genealogical Society during the summer months. The team was led by Jerry Robinson and included Rita Robinson, Bob Christian and Leona Mastan. They accomplished a tremendous task in a short period of time. Rita Robinson also correlated the headstone information with that being worked upon by the Cemetery Secretary. The indexing was done by Martha A Graham with consultation by Betty Robinson, the San Miguel Cemetery Secretary.

The San Miguel Cemetery Publication will be available by the end of November. There is still some proofing to do. Photographs of Headstones will also be available.
