John J. Walley, nearly 94 years old, the oldest undertaker in the United States, died at the home of his niece, Mrs. Nellie R. Lancaster, 1457 Washington street, at 11 o'clock last night of pneumonia after a lingering illness.

Mr. Walley was born in Albany, N.Y., on Feb. 22, 1826, and came to Denver sixty years ago. At that time he was a cabinet maker by trade and became an undertaker thru a murder and a lynching in Denver.

Jim Gardner, a rancher, came in to Denver one day and "setup" drinks for the house at a saloon. He was offended, because one man refused to drink with him and shot the man thru the heart. John Walley was called in to "take the measure" of the dead man and while he was at work here, a lynching party caught Gardner and hanged him. Mr. Walley conducted both funeral services and from that time on buried a large number of Denver's dead.

As a cabinet maker, Mr. Walley made all of the furniture [sic] for many of the early homes of Denver and he kept a sawmill at Palmer Lake busy turning out lumber for his work.

The undertaking business continued to grow until in 1888 Mr. Walley was compelled to take in the late Robert P. Rollins as partner.

One of Mr. Walley's employes, [sic] named Reudard, devised the system of undertaking now being used by the leading undertakers of the United States, and Mr. Walley was the first undertaker to send bodies a great distance for burial.

Mr. Walley personally conducted his undertaking parlors at 1408 Larimer street until a few days before his death. He had been ill since June, but had been confined to his bed only a few days with pneumonia.

Mr. Walley is survived by one sister, Mrs. Margaret Jacobs, who does not live in Denver, and a niece, Mrs. Nellie R. Lancaster of 1437 Washington street, where he has made his home for many years. No funeral arrangements have yet been made.

Mrs. Goldie Stout yesterday had her action for divorce from William E. Stout dismissed at her costs.

Jesse D. Omich has filed suit for divorce from Mrs. Elizabeth D. Omich. He alleges desertion. The Omichs were married in Illinois, October, 1898. [Omick 8/26/1908]

HUSBAND NEVER SPEAKS TO HER; ASKS SEPARATION

Mrs. Wunderle Keeps Four of Eight Children Always With Her.

(The Denver Post, February 3, 1909, page 6)

Tired of living in the same house with a husband who never spoke to her, Mrs. Elizabeth Wunderle has filed suit in the district court for separate maintenance, and asks for an injunction to prevent him from coming on the premises.

She does not ask for a divorce. She wishes the property equally divided and to have her husband contribute $50 a month to the support of herself and the children. She alleges that she is afraid of the man, who never speaks to her. She keeps four of the eight children with her at all times for protection, she alleges.

The defendant, Charles Wunderle, is an expressman and earns $100 a month, the wife alleges. They have accumulated considerable property, which she desires to have divided. Two of their cottages in Highland rent for $25 and $29 a month, and they also own their home at 2626 West Twenty-fifth street. [Not found]

Nellie Carroll, a well-known Denver vaudeville actress, has sued Joseph A. Carroll, also an actor, for divorce, alleging nonsupport.

In the complaint, which was filed through John I. Mullins, she avers that they were married in Oakland, Cal., June 28, 1906 and that her husband deserted her soon after. He is now in Tacoma.

Mrs. Carroll was born in this city. [Not found]

THREE WOMEN FROM PUEBLO SECURE DIVORCES IN DENVER

(The Denver Post, February 1, 1909, page 7)

Four of the five women who were applicants for divorce in the county court, Saturday afternoon were given decrees, three of them being originally Pueblo women. Mrs. Aleen Goldiner, the fifth, did not appear and her case was continued.

Mrs. Bessie M. Parker, formerly of Pueblo, was divorced from William R. Parker; Mrs. Gertrude Ryan, another Pueblo woman, was divorced from James Ryan, and Mrs. Vonnice Hennessy, also from Pueblo, was divorced from James M. Hennessy. Mrs. Aura Belle Haughey, a Denver girl, was divorced from Robert Bruce Haughey.

I have lived in Colorado fourteen years, and three of these were spent in Denver, said Mrs. Parker. Although I was married to William R. Parker at Pueblo in January, 1899, and lived with him until two months ago, he had not contributed to my support in so long that I have forgotten when he did last give me any money. He had not contributed exceeding $50 in three years.

And when informed two months ago that his wife would support him no longer, Mrs. Parker stated that he said he would fight any divorce proceeding she might start. But he did not appear in the case. Mrs. Parker stated that she had sustained herself by running a rooming house. [1/30/1909]

My husband only gave me $2 in the whole two last years we lived together, declared Mrs. Gertrude Ryan.

How long since you lived together, asked the court.

Two years.

When did you last see him?

Last Tuesday.

When had you last seen him prior to that time?

Two years ago.

Where was he all this time? inquired the court.

I don't want to tell, said Mrs. Ryan, breaking into tears. [2/1/1909]

I was married to James M. Hennessy in Pueblo in April, 1907, said Mrs. Vonnice Hennessy. We went to Chicago and he left me destitute. The courts ordered him to pay me $25 a month in the May following. He paid me enough to return home on and I came back to Denver. Why did we not get along together? He said I was too strict. He gambled and drank and I objected, and he said I was too strict for him. I did not know he did these things until after we were married. [2/1/1909]

My husband never did provide for me and when I told him I thought he ought to help a little, he told me to take my clothes and go, said Mrs. Aura Belle Haughey. When we were first married he came and lived at our house and mother and I supported him. Mother did dressmaking and I waited on tables. Mother tired of it, after a year, and we went to live by ourselves and I waited on tables to support us. I asked him to help by doing something and he told me to take my clothes and go.

No, I didn't fuss, said Mrs. Haughey. That was the reason he would beat me. When he would try to pick a fuss I would just keep quiet and it would make him so mad that he would choke me and strike me. [1/30/1909]

OLDEST MAN IN STATE DIES AT AGE OF 104

With the joyous greetings of another dawning year ringing in his ears, and a regret that he was not permitted to live 100,000 years, Dr. Johann Jacob Eisenhut, the oldest resident of the state, died at St. Anthony's hospital at 3:30 o'clock this morning. Had he lived until April 3, he would have been 105 years old. The last moments of the venerable citizen of the world were peaceful. He died holding the gentle hand of Sister Valentine, who has cared for him during the five years that he has lived at the hospital. She was the only one near the centenarian when the long thread snapped from decay. His last words were a wish to be taken back to Central City, where he first made his home when he came to Colorado in 1873. Although he felt life slipping away from him, at the last moment he uttered a fervent prayer to be allowed to live 100,000 years. Life had run an unusual length with the white-haired pioneer, and he was loath to give it up.

Dr. Eisenhut died from old age. There was an affection of the kidneys, which also contributed to his demise. Aside from his feeble condition, the grand old man was cheerful and well up to a few days ago. He was taken ill Christmas day, and much against his wishes was compelled to take to his bed. He wanted to join in the festivities that were held in the hospital Sunday night. He grew steadily worse during the day. In an effort to cheer him up Santa Claus and the entire staff of the hospital gathered around his cot and sang Christmas carols.

Realized the End.

Several members of the Denver Gruetle Verein, who have cared for him for years, called to see him yesterday. He told them he did not expect to live to see the new year.

He was conscious up to the time of his death this morning.

The funeral will be held New Year's day from the undertaking parlors of Miller & Moewes, at 1426 Lawrence street. Paul Weiss, the Swiss consul, has charge of the funeral arrangements, which are not completed yet.

At the hospital he celebrated his birthdays April 3, of the past five years, when there was a general rejoicing in the hospital. The old man joined in the festivities with as much gaiety as the youngest person in the gathering. He was a good singer and always favored his guests with one or two selections of old German songs. He could read without glasses and was always able to partake of a glass of wine with his guests.

The one event of his life that was fastened in his memory and which he referred to with zest in speaking of his early days was his meeting and talk with the great Napoleon Bonaparte. He saw the "Little Corporal" at the head of his straggling army after its return from the disastrous campaign in Russia.

The doctor was a small boy ploughing in a field in Switzerland, when the emperor came along with his staff. A soldier inquired the way from the boy, who was leaning over the fence. Napoleon, astride his white charger, approached and spoke to him.

"You are a likely-looking lad," said the Corsican, "you would make a good soldier in my army."

The boy replied that he had no longing to shine with Mars. The general laughed and rode on still laughing at the rejoinder of the farm boy.

Dr. Eisenhut was born at Hersian Appenzell-Ausserroden, Switzerland, in 1800. He studied medicine at the Hlison university in Switzerland. He came to this country in 1863 and settled first at Omaha, where he practiced for ten years. Then he came to Central City.

IN COUNTY COURT

Hattie Bundy vs. Joseph S. Bundy, petition for divorce. Decree of divorce granted.

Susan Martin vs. James Martin, proceedings for divorce. Separation granted and custody of children vested in plaintiff.

S. L. Smith vs. Lydia Smith, divorce. Prayer of plaintiff granted, decree of divorce entered.

Ella Semple vs. Frank A. Semple, petition for separation. Decree of divorce entered according to prayer of plaintiff.

Mary E. Wimmer vs. Isaac J. Wimmer, divorce proceedings. Continued until next term.

[None of above in divorce database]

THE CITY IN BRIEF

(The Denver Republican, Morning, June 3, 1887, page 5)

A decree of divorce was granted to Edward Moeller from Mary Moeller in the County Court yesterday. [8/2/1887]

NEWMAN'S DIVORCE

The Plaintiff Accuses His Wife of Acts of Unfaithfulness.

(The Rocky Mountain News, May 6, 1892, page 6)

The divorce proceedings of Louis F. Newman against his wife, Martie S., were begun in the county court. The case, as reported exclusively in yesterday's News, caused a great commotion among the friends of the parties, who are well known in Denver social circles. The complaint recites that they were married in Philadelphia twelve years ago. The plaintiff alleges that on January 29, 1890, Mrs. Newman committed adultery at 814 Arch street, Philadelphia, with one Joseph Glading, and the same offense is charged as having occurred at other places with the same party. [7/6/1892]

Mary J. Willison was yesterday granted a divorce from her husband, John C. Willison, in the county court; desertion and non-support were the grounds alleged. [5/6/1892]

Suit was yesterday brought in the county court by Laura A. Brayton, asking for divorce from Herbet I. Brayton for failure to support; the parties were married November 24, 1884. [5/31/1892]

COUNTY COURT PROCEEDINGS

(Fort Collins Courier, October 5, 1893, page 8)

The divorce business under the new law is picking up in Judge Boughton's court. Last Saturday he granted a decree of divorce from the bonds of matrimony in the case of William Vanderpool vs. Catharine Vanderpool. Catharine had too often, according to the testimony, exhibited a striking fondness for the attentions of one Thompson, much against the wishes of her liege lord and so he wanted to be free from her. [09/30/1893]

Included in the new business filed in the county court within the past few days are the following divorce cases:

Elizabeth Doolittle vs. Emory Doolittle. Desertion and failure to support is the cause. [3/16/1894]

Margaret Kirby vs. James Kirby. Failure to support. [11/27/1893]

The case of Chapman vs. Chapman, an action for divorce, engrossed the attention of Judge Boughton, of the county court, all day Monday and Tuesday forenoon. The trial was conducted behind closed doors, as much of the testimony was unfit for the public ear. After a portion of the evidence for the plaintiff had been heard the defendant withdrew her defense and the case was submitted without further hearing. The jury brought in a verdict for the plaintiff. A decree of absolute divorce was granted by the court to Mr. Chapman, who was awarded the custody of the children. Bailey & Garbutt appeared for the plaintiff and Judge McAnelly for the defendant. [6/26/1894]

Mrs. Louis Driggs, who appealed for a divorce in the court of county Judge Watson by reason of abandonment, has had her prayer O.K. d. Good enough. A worthless husband, who is not willing to stand up to the breach of duty like a man, should be cast loose on the sea of his own resources. In other words there are altogether too many patient, industrious women with shiftless, good-for-nothing husbands the world over, and the sooner these fellows are turned loose to shift for themselves, the better it is for the patient slaves, termed wives.

She says he devotes his attention to a servant formerly in their employ, buys her presents such as hand painted valentines, shopping bags, napkin rings, etc. His letters to the girl are said to bubble over with terms of endearment. Mrs. Mayer wants $35 a month alimony. [11/7/1900] Viola Proudfoot wishes the same relief from James Proudfoot., She alleges desertion and drunkenness. [12/21/1899]

Dominico Riva applied for a divorce from Toni Riva and secured it in the county court Wednesday evening. The defendant made no defense, but humbly submitted to the decree of the court.

The bride of less than a year put in a complaint of abuse and assault, paid $38.45 cost, $17.10 of which was the court fee, and left the room a widow, (just think of charging $17.10 costs, she must have sneezed in court.)

The day prior to the event Mrs. Riva applied to Squire Watson for a divorce and he refused to have anything to do with the matter as he told the woman that her husband had never mistreated her and that she would have to be licked, thumped or thrashed before she could secure a divorce. She took the hint and the above was the result.

A divorce was granted in county judge's office Monday to Mrs. Fannie E. Johnson, defendant being T.P. Johnson, better known as Tex. Justice of the Peace Watson's court was this week called upon to secure four divorces for as many wives who desire to live the single life of blessedness than the past lives of cussedness. They are Mrs. Jesse Nash, upon the grounds of cruelty; Mrs. Chas. Valiton, for non-support; Mrs. Beattie Swanson, non-support; and Mrs. May Wolf, also for non-support. It is the opinion that all applicants will receive the absolute with little alimony.

PUEBLO WOMAN IN TACOMA BIGAMY CASE

Tacoma, Wash., Dec. 26. — Mrs. Ada V. Freese, in a suit for divorce from Addison Freese charges that he was married to Alice M. Freese at Pueblo, Colo., in May, 1887, and ten years later to Mamie Cook of Spokane without securing a divorce. Later he was divorced from the first wife but never from the second.

Still another chapter to the marital troubles of Jacob Stetzel late of Alma: A divorce was granted Mrs. Stetzel before Judge Palmer's court in Denver on Wednesday and $25 a month alimony awarded her. As Stetzel is out of the state it is up to Mrs. Stetzel to get him before the court in order to collect the money.

Stetzel had a common law wife living at Alma, whom he married in 1893. Ten years after he made a lucky mining sale, realizing several thousand dollars, and deeding over all his Alma property to his common law wife, received in return a signed paper releasing him from all obligations. Hieing himself to Denver, he was married in May 1905 to Mrs. Stetzel No. 2. Married life proved unhappy and he sought a divorce which action Mrs. Stetzel fought and it was refused him.

Stetzel then withdrew his money from the Denver banks and turned what mining property he could into cash, in spite of the court's injunction not to do so, and left for parts unknown. The divorce action of Wednesday was granted on the grounds that Stetzel had another wife living. Just what the final outcome of Jake's marital difficulties will be is hard to foretell, as he is now a fugitive from justice. [4/4/1906]

MRS. JOSEPH SEEKS DIVORCE FOR THE THIRD TIME

Case of Love at First Sight, and Couple Have Been in Courts Ever Since.

(The Rocky Mountain News, November

For the third time since 1907 began, Mrs. Mame V. Talliaferro Joseph has brought suit for divorce against Antonio F. Joseph in the country court. Twice has she been married, once divorced and twice reconciled with her husband.

The Josephs were first married August 6, 1905. Joseph is the son of a former territorial governor of New Mexico, wealthy and handsome. Mrs. Joseph is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Talliaferro of 714 Thirteenth street. It was a case of love at first sight as the couple supposed, and they ran away in an auto to Golden and were wed. The domestic troubles began soon afterward and Mrs. Joseph returned to her parents. Her husband followed and attempted reconciliation. He failed, and his wife brought suit for divorce on the ground of cruelty. She was granted her decree February 14, 1907.

Joseph was on his father's ranch when he saw the account of the court proceedings. He took the first train for Denver, saw his divorced wife and pleaded with her so effectively that there was another elopement four days later, this time to Cheyenne, where the young people again became man and wife. March 18, just a month later, Mrs. Joseph brought her second suit for divorce. Again Joseph succeeded in inducing his young wife to take him back to her heart, and there was a reconciliation in Chicago.

But the same old causes of domestic discord were present in short order and for the third time the couple separated. Mrs. Joseph brought her third suit for divorce a month ago, but the papers were kept suppressed until yesterday. [3/5/1908]

Another unhappy wife who has launched her frail bark upon the matrimonial sea for the third time is Mrs. Amelia A. Swiger-Cox-Anderson, who is seeking a divorce in the county court from Nelson A. Anderson. [7/22/1908]

TWO WIVES, WEDDED ON THIRTEENTH, REGRETFUL One Charges Nonsupport and Other Desertion in the Divorce Court.

(The Rocky Mountain News, November

Thirteen always was my Jonah day, might well be the air sung by Margaret Vilet and Minnie Shaw, for they both married on that day and each one found her way to the divorce court yesterday.

Margaret Vilet was the wife of Lewis Vilet. They were married February 13, 1900. Lewis failed to support her, she says, hence the divorce. [Not found]

John M. Shaw, according to his wife, Minnie, had no objection to having her head in the washtub all the time because she made money which helped to support him. But when she brought several teachers to her home last year during the teachers institute, she says he objected strenuously and refused to live in the same house with people who kept their heads in books. Desertion was the charge against Shaw.

SHADOWS WIFE TO CITY; FILES SUIT FOR DIVORCE

On divorce proceedings begun in Larimer county by Birchard M. Cox, his wife, Hattie A. Cox, was served with papers in the cases yesterday by deputies from the sheriff's office. Unfaithfulness is the charge upon which Cox bases his action. He says in the complaint that he entered into a common law marriage in 1900 with the woman he now seeks to divorce. A year later a baby came, but Cox did not have a minister perform a marriage ceremony until December, 1905. Cox shadowed his wife on one of her visits to the city and found enough, he says, to warrant him in suing for a separation.

TOO MUCH BEER BRINGS PAIR INTO DIVORCE COURT

Johnson Accuses Wife of Imbibing Too Freely

(The Denver Post, January 23, 1908,

No, tanks, I don't think I vass care for something, said Charles A. Johnson with fine, dry sarcasm, when his wife, Ida Johnson, asked him if he would grace a gathering that consisted of her laundry driver, one of the daughters and herself.

They were seated at the dining table in Johnson's home — the finest in Argo — and the table was decorated with a tastefully arranged group of dead soldiers (this being the technical term for beer bottles minus beer) and some that were very much alive and foaming.

Johnson, who is being sued by his wife for a divorce in Judge Riddle's court, admitted upon cross-examination before a jury this morning that he has no ethical objections to his wife drinking to the limit of her gauged capacity; but, when she placed the sanctity of the domicile in a subdued light by indulging in a prolonged series of libations with no choicer company than a mere menial, he objected.

This is one of the several counter charges that Johnson has preferred against his wife, who seems anxious for a divorce, the custody of five minor children and one-half of the $10,000 worth of real property that the smelter worker has accumulated by frugality during the twenty-four years that he has endured the fumes and flames of the Argo plant.

Mrs. Johnson charged her husband with habitual drunkenness and non-support, and claims that he has heaped various indignities upon her during intoxication. She declares his sprees were on a sort of commutation plan or sliding scale system that consisted of alternating with unflinching precision between once a month and three times a week, special debauches not having been included in the computation.

One of the things which she strenuously objected to is his habit of coming home drunk and going to bed with his clothes on.

Johnson is a man of small stature. He is the owner of one of those varicose complexions of a deep rufescent tint that neither Pearlline nor Pears soap can remove; it is indubitably the blessing of either the furnace fires or some high-proof spirits.

In the most emphatic terms Johnson insists that the entire breach of domestic felicity was caused by the turbulent temper of his wife. This morning he produced witnesses who corroborated this latter charge.

NEITHER JOHNSON IS GIVEN DIVORCE

Despite the claim that during their union of over a quarter of a century she has had Too Much Johnson, and that a legal separation would bring her peace, the jury in the case of Ida Johnson against Charles A. Johnson decided in favor of a verdict for both parties, which means that neither get a divorce.

This decision was reached after they were instructed by Judge Riddle in the district court. He explained to them that Mrs. Johnson charged her husband with extreme cruelty, habitual drunkenness and non-support; and that Johnson answered these three charges with one counter charge of cruelty.

SAM STRONG S SON SAYS HIS WIFE IS UNTRUE

Common Law Bonds With Pretty Girl.

YEAR AGO SHE FILED SUIT

Beautiful and Several Times the

*(The Rocky Mountain News, June 24,

Pretty Cora Belle Johnson Dodd Strong, the principal in two matrimonial entanglements and one or two reconciliations, is in the lime-light once more, through the filing of a divorce action in the county court, by her common-law husband, Grover Strong, son of the late Sam Strong, millionaire mining man of Cripple Creek. Infidelity and cruelty are the grounds of the action.

More than a year ago Mrs. Strong took the initiative in the divorce filed against her husband. She accused him of cruelty, asserting that he hurled her from an automobile on Sixteenth street and caused her permanent injuries which made her lame. Strong was arrested and gave bond for $10,000. Attorney C. H. Cochran represented the plaintiff in the action, who decided to heed his advice and become reconciled with her husband. They lived in Denver until Mrs. Strong went to San Francisco several months ago.

Now the husband has hied to the divorce court and has retained Attorney Cochran to represent him. He claims that Mrs. Strong went to Colorado Springs as a member of an automobile party and imbibed too freely in a Colorado City dance hall in company with other men. He also named a prominent Denver man as correspondent.

Although very young in years, Mrs. Strong has had a world of experience in affairs of the heart. The daughter of former State Representative Johnson from Pueblo, she was the belle of the Smoky city until difficulty with her step-mother caused her to leave home. She went to Chicago and is said to have married an elderly man named Dodd, from whom she afterward separated.

Upon returning to Colorado she and Grover Strong contracted a mutual infatuation and entered into a common-law marriage. She is of the spirituelle type of beauty and stylish in appearance. [10/29/1908]

MILLER DOES NOT SHOW UP; WIFE GETS DECREE

Crazy Drunkenness, She Declares in Story of Druggist's Actions.

The language of the fan was delicately expressed at the divorce trial of Mrs. Catherine Miller against Frank Miller a druggist, yesterday. Gently waving the fan in the way widows are wont to do — and Mrs. Miller is thrice a widow — and drooping her eyelids, she graphically narrated the story of Miller's crazy drunkenness, as she called it.

While the answer filed by Miller indicated that he would contest the suit and give more publicity to the marital discord which is said to have prevailed in their home, he did not do so, and Mrs. Miller had her say undisturbed. He has struck me many times, and I cannot live with him longer.

Mrs. Miller had two previous husbands, W. R. Coleman and Samuel Silver, and one son by each. She married Miller in Cheyenne, September 17, 1901.

Miller claimed that he was often the victim of her temper and that she threw milk bottles and a cigar cutter at him, but he did not come to court to make the charges under oath and Mrs. Miller's story was accepted as the true one. [6/25/1908]

Acknowledging to her husband, Edwin G. Derby, in a letter sent from Madison, Ills., that he was not the father of her second child, Mrs. Mabel Derby made the sort of defendant from whom it is easy to obtain a divorce. Her husband testified that she had gone to Madison taking the second child, Lawrence, with her. He made some attempt to get the boy when Mrs. Derby wrote, If you have money to throw away, go on. Lawrence is nothing to you and I can prove it. His father is in Denver.

Derby was given the custody of the two other children.

Mrs. Mary Milnes was given a divorce from James R. Milnes, whom she married in March 1902, on the ground of desertion. Mrs. Milnes is a nurse. [6/25/1908]

LOVELAND ENDS IN DIVORCE SUIT

Mrs. Sibert Chased by Husband with Razor - Says He Once Hit
Her Over the Head with a Skillet Injunction Granted by the County Court

*(Weekly Courier, Fort Collins, October

A sensational incident that occurred yesterday on the streets of Loveland found an immediate sequel in the divorce court when Attorney Simpson arrived here at 9:30 last night with an application for injunction and a petition for separation filed by Alice M. Sibert against Elmer J. Sibert.

According to the divorce petition, filed in county court, Sibert attacked his wife on the street yesterday and, armed with a razor which he was flourishing, threatened to kill her. The petition states that only the interference of bystanders prevented the husband carrying out the threat.

Mrs. Sibert says this was not the first time that her husband attempted to kill her. The petition states that some time during January last, he came home intoxicated and, pulling the clock from the wall, attempted to kill her with this. Failing to accomplish his purpose, he then grabbed a skillet from the stove and hit her over the head with it, inflicting a painful wound. She says he was an habitual drunkard.

The injunction asked was to restrain Sibert from disposing of two acres of ground which he owns adjoining the city of Loveland. The injunction was granted. Mrs. Sibert wants alimony in the sum of $1000, and the custody of her daughter Cecile.

The incident that led up to the filing of the divorce petition created great excitement in Loveland. Sibert met his wife on one of the main streets of the neighboring town and addressed her in an apparently friendly tone. She caught the gleam of a razor which he held behind his back and she immediately began to scream and run. He chased her down the street and she took refuge in a bakery, he running through the shop after her. He was intercepted by bystanders and the woman was cared for by friends who took her home.

The sins of commission by Mrs. Emily Hayes, wife of Arthur Hayes, a musician, were legion, according to the husband's recital in the divorce court yesterday.

She is alleged to have gone to the Famous in company with other men after she had told her husband she was going to a card party; to have nagged at him and quarreled all the time, and to have mistreated his mother, who was 81 years old. Hayes was given a divorce. [6/27/1908]

What does it profit a woman to work in a mining camp to support a husband, if he threatens to kill her?

Nothing, in the opinion of Mrs. Ruby Ewing, who was given a divorce from Oliver M. Ewing in the county court yesterday. They were married in September, 1900, at Grand Junction, and Mrs. Ewing testified that she had been compelled to make the living. [6/26/1908]
