Mrs. Amanda Reynolds

Mrs. Amanda Reynolds, mother of Mayor Charles T. Greene, is among the oldest residents of Elkhart. She passed her eighty-eighth birthday March 9. Mrs. Reynolds was born in Cleveland, Ohio on March 9, 1815. That spring the peach trees that were planted there three or four years before, were in full bloom at the time of Mrs. Reynolds' birth. Mr. and Mrs. Crocker, the parents of Mrs. Reynolds, were married in 1814 by the Rev. Barr, father of Mr. Barr of this city, who was pastor of the Presbyterian church for so many years. At that time Ohio was a wilderness, there being but few buildings, and those were log cabins. The corn was taken to Erie on flat boats, where it was ground into corn meal. In 1833, Mrs. Reynolds was married to Mr. Charles T. Greene. There were four children who blessed this union, only one of whom is living, Charles T. Greene, mayor of the city. After Mr. Greene's death, Mrs. Greene was a widow for fifteen years, when she married Mr. Reynolds. He died three years ago last December. Mrs. Reynolds has lived in Elkhart between 45 and 50 years. When the new channel of the Elkhart river was formed Mrs. Reynolds remembers of going to the residence of Mrs. Holland on East Jackson street in a boat. She is a charter member of the Congregational church, and is the oldest member of the church.

Mrs. Reynolds spends her time with reading, embroidery, drawn work and other sewing, and is very active for her age. Two years ago she spent the winter with friends in Springfield, Mass., and was able to be out every day. She attended a number of lectures in Boston during the winter, and enjoyed them just as much as younger persons. She has always been very active and well, and has led a long and useful life.

Mrs. Reynolds has the distinction of being Mr. Conn's first music teacher.

Dr. Neal

Dr. W. A. Neal was born in Elkhart in 1836. He resided in this village until he was 18 years old. He then went to Lafayette, Ind., to study medicine, after which he entered Rush Medical College of Chicago in 1856 and '57. He practiced medicine in New London, Iowa, until the civil war, when he enlisted as assistant surgeon in the First Missouri Engineers and served as such until the close of the war. He held the rank of captain, and was on field duty most of the service, being post surgeon at Johnsonville, Tenn., in the spring and summer of 1864. He was with General Sherman on his famous march to the sea. After the war Dr. Neal practiced medicine at Dayton, Mich., until November of 1879, when he returned to his boyhood home and has lived here ever since. He has been one of the active members of the Elkhart City and County Medical Association, and has now a large practice and many friends.

Thirteen Reasons Why Ancestors Migrated

Religious or Ethnic Persecution
National Disasters
Famine
Economic Problems
War
Political Strife/Turmoil/Oppression
Following Family and Friends
Adoption
Forced Relocation of Native Americans
Criminal Incarceration/Deportment
Not a First Son
Great Financial Opportunity

There were many motivations for the ancestors to migrate from overseas to the New World. Once here, they learned firsthand of opportunities where they landed and beyond, and they may have moved once, twice, or more times until they found what suited their needs.

It is important to do more than just fill out pedigree charts. Learn all you can about your families. Research the area in which they lived. Many answers to these questions may help your family.

ago, working in a mill a few years and then on a farm. He settled at the place he owned at the time of death in the outskirts of West Pigeon Street.. He lived there nearly 25 years. Mr. Shelly was married two times, and is survived by his last wife, Elizabeth. Other survivors are four children of the first union, Henry and Harvey and the Misses Dora and Bertha Shelly. Services will be at the Mennonite Church, of which he was a member, Monday at 1 p.m., followed by burial in Shaum's cemetery. Mr. Shelly rejoiced in an unusually large circle of acquaintances."

Elkhart Review, Thursday, March 16, 1882:

"Mrs. Michael Shelley, who has been sick for some time past, died last night at a quarter past 10 o'clock. The friends will meet at the house at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning and proceed thence to Shaum's Church, near Jamestown, where the funeral services will take place."

Elkhart Review, Saturday, July 25, 1896:

"A coincidence in the death of Michael Shelly (sic) is the fact that a brother, Isaac Shelly, was buried at Quakertown, Pa., on Thursday. It will be remembered that a daughter of Mr. Shelly was drowned at Warsaw about 4 years ago."

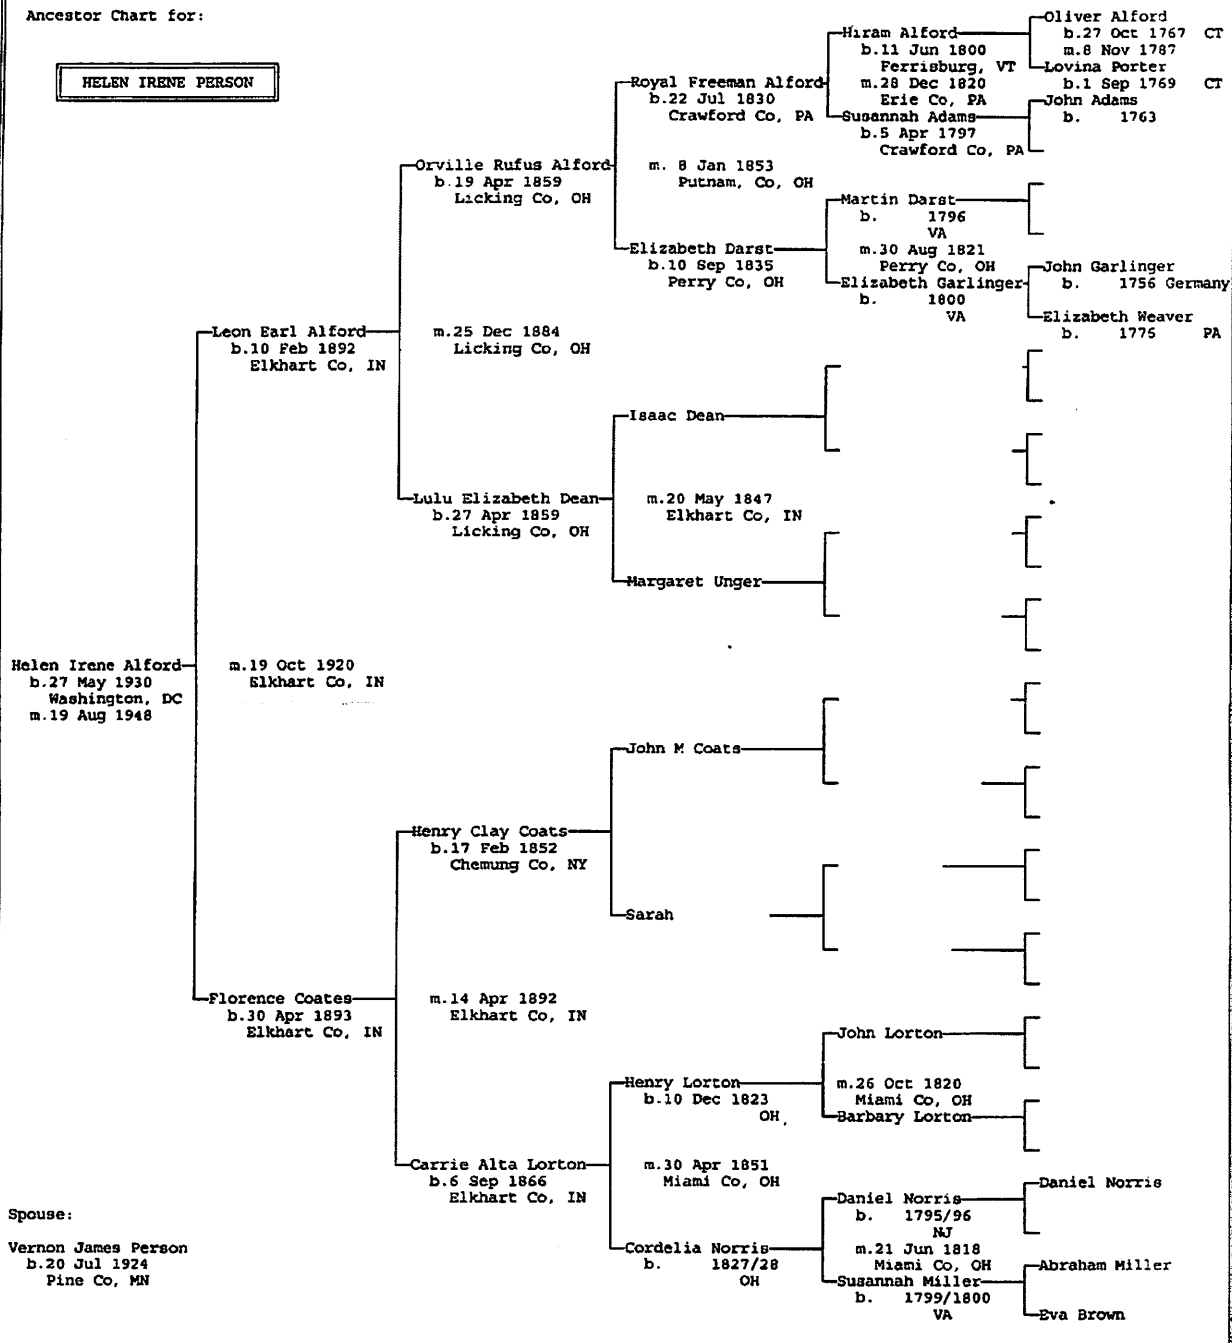

"The many friends of Michael Shelly were surprised and shocked to learn that the injuries inflicted by a fractious colt last Monday evening resulted fatally last evening. His general condition had improved on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, and reports from him gave reasons to believe that he was on the road to rapid recovery. As late as 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon there was no change for the worse and he was lying on a hammock stretched between trees in the yard. At 4:30 the trouble in his breathing became worse and the condition steadily grew more alarming. Messengers were sent to town for the physician about 5:30 and it was an hour and one half later when the doctor arrived at the house, the messenger not being able to find him immediately. The patient had gradually grown worse and died just after the doctor's arrival. The immediate cause of death was strangulation caused by broken and torn cartilaginous portion of larynx which was stepped on by the horse. The attending physician had seen that an operation might be necessary but when visiting the patient at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon the condition had not advanced to the point where such an operation would be deemed desirable. The deceased was well known, especially among Lake Shore employees, he having been in service of the company over 15 years. The tragic death is deeply deplored by old fellow-workmen and friends.

"Mr. Shelly was born near Quakertown, Pa., March 21, 1837, and came to Elkhart 40 years
