 In some of the remote villages of eastern European countries, the peasants, when a death occurs, immediately place a large tub of water outside the front door so that Death may wash his scythe when he leaves. (Taken from the Collier's Weekly dated Thursday 7 March 1935).

FUNERAL HOME RECORDS LOCATED AT THE LIBRARY

In some cases additional information is included on the record. If you would like a copy of the page of your ancestor, please send $.15 for copying the page and a long SASE. (The cemetery location for Free Ground and City Ground is unknown.)
