1792 Census of Henderson County, Kentucky
(formerly known as Red Banks/Charleston)

The following was taken from "File Box #1", LETTERS AND PETITIONS FROM RED BANKS - 1792; located at the Kentucky State Archives. Recorded in the Register of the Kentucky State Historical Society in 1927.

On November the 16th 1792, Robert Simpson from Red Banks, on the Ohio River, wrote a letter to Colonel Alexander D. Orr in Lexington, Kentucky, requesting help in selecting someone for a position as Magistrate in Red Banks, because there were about thirty (30) families living there now, and were in need of some kind of justice system.

"AN ACCURATE LIST of the Free Male Inhabitants of CHARLESTON ("Red Banks" Ohio) a part of Logan County, between the ages of Sixteen and Sixty years, taken the 19th Day of November 1792."

Preface

The lists following do not claim to be nor is it offered as a Federal or State schedule of inhabitants. The names were copied from tax lists.

The first two Federal census schedules for Kentucky, classed for the taking of the census as a separate district in 1790 and as the Commonwealth of Kentucky in 1800. These census were destroyed when Washington was burned by the British during the War of 1812 or were not extant when the clerks of the several districts and superior courts were directed to send the early schedules to the Secretary of State in compliance with the Act approved May 28, 1830.

The second or 1800 Federal census retained the five particulars of the 1790 or first enumeration, the white males over and under 21, the white females, the slaves, and "all other free persons, except Indians, not taxed," and distinguished the white males and females into ages, under 10, between 10 and 16, 16 and 26, 26 and 45, and 45 and over.

Although details of the first two schedules were list, summarized figures were preserved. From these it will be noted that the population of Kentucky increased almost 200% during the decade following the 1790 Federal census.

When reading the following lists, please keep in mind that the lists were transcribed exactly as written, errors and all. Names were often misspelled. Also, not everyone was taxed and some may not have been counted at all. Just because your ancestor is not on the following lists, that does not necessarily mean that they were not here.
