Nicknames!

Dear All,

I would like to clear up the obvious misunderstanding over the English word 'NICKNAME' which is occurring on various lists that are being sent out from America etc., and discussed!

To take examples:

Betty for Elizabeth is not a 'NICKNAME' it is the 'DIMINUTIVE' a form of the name, i.e. a shortened version of, or derived from the name or to infer the small one of, as in cases of children, Bobbie or Bertie for Bob or Robert.

A 'NICKNAME' is a name given in fun or contemptuously or derived from a persons job or occupation, surname etc. In the majority of cases it has nothing to do at all with a persons Christian or given name. Examples: Chalkie from the surname WHITE , Red, Ginge or Ginger from the colour of their hair, Nuttie or Blackie from the surname Coal, Cole or Coles, Avro from the surname Lancaster, Taff & Taffie from their Country Wales, Corgi also from Wales but from the Welsh dog, similar with Scottie & , Pete from the Army abbreviation of Private, Buster from the occupation of safebreaker, Limey from English sailors who were issued with Lime Juice, and of so on adinfinitum.....

'NICK' is thought to derive from 'NOTCH' to cut in or cut off, and so the misunderstanding and misuse.

Yours sincerely,
Mikey.

REMEMBERING INDEPENDENCE DAY

The 4th of July

Have you ever wondered what happened to the 56 men who signed the Declaration of Independence? Five signers were captured by the British as traitors, and tortured before they died. Twelve had their homes ransacked and burned. Two lost their sons serving in the Revolutionary Army; another had two sons captured. Nine of the 56 fought and died from wounds or hardships of the Revolutionary War. They signed and they pledged their lives, their fortunes, and their sacred honor. What kind of men were they?

Twenty-four were lawyers and jurists. Eleven were merchants, nine were farmers and large plantation owners; men of means, well educated. But they signed the Declaration of Independence knowing full well that the penalty would be death if they were captured.

Carter Braxton of Virginia, a wealthy planter and trader, saw his ships swept from the seas by the British Navy. He sold his home and properties to pay his debts, and died in rags.

Thomas McKeam was so hounded by the British that he was forced to move his family almost constantly. He served in the Congress without pay, and his family was kept in hiding. His possessions were taken from him, and poverty was his reward.

Vandals or soldiers looted the properties of Dillery, Hall, Clymer, Walton, Gwinnett, Heyward, Rutledge, and Middleton. At the battle of Yorktown, Thomas Nelson Jr, noted that the British General Cornwallis had taken over the Nelson home for his headquarters. He quietly urged General George Washington to open fire. The home was destroyed, and Nelson died bankrupt.

Francis Lewis had his home and properties destroyed. The enemy jailed his wife, and she died within a few months. John Hart was driven from his wife's bedside as she was dying. Their 13 children fled for their lives. His fields and his gristmill were laid to waste. For more than a year he lived in forests and caves, returning home to find his wife dead and his children vanished. A few weeks later he died from exhaustion and a broken heart. Norris and Livingston suffered similar fates.

Such were the stories and sacrifices of the American Revolution. These were not wild-eyed, rabble-rousing ruffians. They were soft-spoken men of means and education. They had security, but they valued liberty more. Standing tall, straight, and unwavering, they pledged: "For the support of this declaration, with firm reliance on the protection of the divine providence, we mutually pledge to each other, our lives, our fortunes, and our sacred honor."

They gave you and me a free and independent America. The history books never told you a lot about what happened in the Revolutionary War. We didn't fight just the British. We were British subjects at that time and we fought our own government! Some of us take these liberties so much for granted, but we shouldn't.

So, take a few minutes while enjoying your 4th of July holiday and silently thank these patriots. It's not much to ask for the price they paid.

Remember: freedom is never free!

ANCESTRY QUICK TIP

In response to the complaint that Census writing is very hard to read, here is a hint from an old retired nurse who had to suffer reading the doctors' hastily scribbled orders. Print the Census. Then hold it at all angles--even looking across it at eye level. By turning the paper around you should be able to read enough of the letters to make it out. We used to do that with patients' charts to try to interpret what the docs had written! Ruth

ANCESTRY QUICK TIP

I have a large file of papers from the 1800s that my great-grandfather kept, which my aunt saved for me. My grandfather was going to burn them because he believed they were just trash. About once every three months I sit down and go thru these papers even if I have seen them dozens of times. Each time I go thru them I notice something I did not before or find one small thing to help me trace the family. It might be a date that has come up from somewhere else, or it might be a name or place. Sometimes it is just one word that sets me in a successful direction. Go back and read what you have again and again even though you think you had everything memorized. Something just might click with what you have currently been working on.

Linda Jeffery

My mother left her home to move into a nursing home, where she lived for many years. To keep her mind occupied, and to give us something to discuss each visit, I always brought several of her dishes and other antiques. When did she buy them? What was it she liked that caused her to buy it? Who gave it to her? I found many of her fancy little used dishes were gifts from relatives and old neighbors. Who were they? How were they related? What were their personalities? By relating the questions to something she had cared enough to keep, I was able to learn much more. For my daughter's information, I placed a small number on the bottom of each object, then wrote about it with the corresponding number in a notebook. I believe it will be a treasure handed down another generation. The stories are what make genealogy interesting to me.
