NOTE: This cemetery is included in August, September & October newsletter. To me this is a very special cemetery. Someone has shown alot of love & compassion and spent alot of precious time for the people buried in this cemetery. They have placed a small slab containing the name on the grave of those not having a tombstone. I think it is wonderful that someone made it possible for all these people to be remembered.

GRACE COUNTY CALIFORNIA
GENEALOGICAL SOCIETY

Across the vast Atlantic a sailing vessel approaches the shore of what is now North Carolina. Standing in the prow, a man holds out a cross toward the land. This sketch, drawn by one John WHITE, among the 1st settlers to arrive in North America with Sir Walter RALEIGH's expeditions, depicts the planning of the Church on our eastern shore in July 1584.

Later this John WHITE wrote: "The thirteenth of August (1587) our Savage MANTEO, by the commandment of Sir Walter RALEIGH, was Christened in Roanoke...The 18th, ELEANOR, daughter of the Governor, was delivered of a daughter in Roanoke, & the same was Christened the Sunday following." The child was named VIRGINIA DARE, the first person of English parentage born on the American continent, & thus began, the 1st Christian sacrament of the Episcopal Church in America.

Permanent settlements here in Pasquotank County began about 1630 by parties from Jamestown, VA. In 1629 this territory was called Carolina. The 1st General Assembly of NC met in 1665 at Halls Creek, Pasquotank County. The next year, 1666, a settlement was made in Pasq. Co. on the river of the same name by settlers from Bermuda. In 1670 Thomas RELFE built a home on Pasq. River near Elizabeth City which in 1677 was the site of Culpepper's Revolt.

These early settlements became permanent. Means for giving them churches were provided when under Acting Governor Henderson WALKER, the Assembly of 1701 passed an Act creating the precincts of Chowan, Perquimans, Pasquotank & Currituck into parishes, & selecting a vestry in each parish, authorizing these vestries to lay taxes for building churches, purchasing glebes & employing clergymen & readers.

Thus before any minister had served in the colony, the people themselves were endeavoring to set up the Church of their fathers. The Rev John BLAIR, sent from England in 1703 by the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel, baptized many children & visited the parishes in Chowan, Perq. & Pasq., called the vestries together for instruction in their duties, and urged them to keep up the services of the Church.

The Rev Mr. ACKERS writes in 1708 to Her Majesty's Secretary in London that "The citizens of Pasq. have agreed to build a Church & two chapels." History remains silent as to their location in the county, but an old map of 1770 shows a church & two chapels located as follows: one chapel near what is now South Mills, another chapel on Raymond's Creek, & the church on the narrows of North River. One of the chapels is in the northwestern part & the other chapel in the southeastern part of Pasq. Co., but now is Camden County. The Rev Mr. ADAMS, another missionary to Pasq. from the S.P.G., writing to Her Majesty's Secretary, states that with the settlers that have come to Pasq. from the West Indies, was a learned, public spirited layman named Charles GRIFFIN, who seeing the crying need of the people, established by 1705 a school on Symons creek for the children of the settlers nearby. Mr. GRIFFIN acted both as teacher in his school & as a lay leader in the Episcopal Church.

Two vestries were appointed in Pasq. on Nov 23, 1715, as follows: For southwest parish: Nathaniel CHEVIN, Esq., Col. Thomas BOYD, Tobias KNIGHT, Esq., Anthony HATCH, Jonathan JACOBS, John PAILIN, John JENNINGS, Richard WALDREN, Edmund GALE, William NORRIS & Robert LOWRY. For the northeast parish: Thomas MILLER, Esq., John SOLLEY, John RELFE, John BELL, Samuel BARNARD, Capt. John NORSON, Gabriel BURNHAM, Thomas SAWYER, Henry SAWYER and Allen SPENCE.

The General Assembly of NC, meeting in New Bern from Dec 12, 1754 through Sept 30, 1756, consolidated the parishes of St. John's and St. Peter's in Pasquotank County.
