NAME	Railroad cases from Crawford County Common Pleas Court - REPORT
HANLON, Fannie KLAHN	Admin. for estate of Jacob KLAHN, deceased, vs. Erie Railroad Company. On December 3, 1931 the decedent was traveling by automobile on Harding Way East in Galion, OH going in an easterly direction when crossing the tracks of the defendant was hit by a train traveling at a high rate of speed. The said Jacob KLAHN was killed and is survived by his wife, Fannie KLAHN HANLON, and daughter aged two. The Plaintiff is praying for judgment of $10,000 plus all proper relief.
HART, Eugene	vs. Emma HART, New York Central Railroad Co. et al. On October 4, 1927 Emma HART commenced a civil action by defendant and Justice of the Peace, Jackson Township, Crawford Co. OH against the plaintiff for money due for support of minor child. Plaintiff had moved to Bucyrus in March 1926 and did not receive notice of hearing. In September 26, 1928 he was adjudged bankrupt and was duly discharged of all his debts under the bankrupt law and that Emma HART was listed as a creditor. On October 10, 1928 Emma HART commenced, before Justice of the Peace, Jackson Township, an action to obtain earnings due to Plaintiff from New York Central Railroad Company. Plaintiff prays defendants be temporarily restrained and enjoined from enforcing said judgment and that the defendant New York Central Railroad Company be restrained from paying plaintiff's personal earnings and turning property over in the discharge of said judgment.
HARTWELL, Augustus	vs. Pennsylvania Railroad Company. Petition states on May 18, 1921 plaintiff made a contract with defendant at Bucyrus, OH whereby the defendant was to ship 19 horses to Cleveland, Ohio over the line of railroad in a car owned and operated by defendant. Plaintiff says all 19 horses were in good condition when delivered to defendant but that defendant company negligently and carelessly loaded horses into a defective car which was entirely insufficient to transport livestock. Through ordinary usage in handling of these horses the door of the car was broken loose to let the horses fall out of the car, badly injuring them. On account of injuries to four of the animals, the animals were scarcely of marketable value. Plaintiff prays to recover from defendant the sum of $800 and his costs.
HASPELAGH, Maude E.	vs. Pennsylvania Railroad Company. Plaintiff states that on December 27, 1930 she was riding in an automobile owned and driven by H.G. KEMMIS and while crossing railroad tracks at the intersection of the railroad and Woodlawn Avenue in Bucyrus OH, the auto was violently and forcibly struck by an electric motor railroad car. As a result of such striking and collision, the auto was dragged along by the railroad car for about 50 to 60 feet. As a consequence of the collision, the plaintiff was severely injured and is unable to write or to walk without assistance and the injuries are permanent. The plaintiff charges the defendant failed and neglected to keep the bell or gong apparatus in working order and the defendant did not give any signal or warning of the approach of the train to the crossing. The plaintiff prays judgment against the defendant for the sum of $50,200 plus costs.
HAYNES, Eugene L. et al	vs. Pennsylvania Railroad Company. Plaintiffs state that on June 2, 1952 they owned an International Semi-Truck and Kingham four-wheeler trailer and the trailer had a load of sheet steel with the truck driven by E. WELDE at the junction of State Highway No. 39 and State Highway 98. The truck with trailer was crossing the intersection and as the trailer was passing over the tracks of the defendant one of the defendant's trains carelessly and negligently struck the truck and driver suddenly and without any signal or warning of its approach. The collision severely damaged the four wheeler trailer and cargo, and injuring, bruising and otherwise damaging the driver. Plaintiffs pray for judgment against the defendant for $2,712.31 and for such other relief to which they are entitled.
HEIMLICH, Elza	Admin. estate of Charles F. HUBER, deceased vs. New York Central Railroad. On August 12, 1965 plaintiff's decedent was driving west on Township Road 77 and his automobile was struck broadside by new York Central Flexi-Van train and the automobile with the driver inside was carried 2,520 feet down the defendant's tracks by reason of the carelessness and negligence of the defendant by failing to give reasonable warning. As a direct result, the decedent was critically injured suffering multiple fractures, internal injuries, lacerations and contusions, cerebral concussion and severe shock. Continued January 2010

NOVEMBER 9, 1888 continued from Oct. Tracking... According to an ante-election agreement between F. A. Vollrath and J. W. Bodey, Vollrath will be a conspicuous figure at the head of the column in the Republican procession next Tuesday evening. When you see a big fat, good natured looking fellow on a white horse-that's Gust. In fulfillment of a contract made during the campaign between Will Trounstein and Anton Wurzauf, there will be plenty of fun on Tuesday evening when Anton will wheel Will around the Public Square on a decorated wheelbarrow, accompanied by a bard of music and the National colors, Anton also to pay all the expense. The preparations are already on the way to make the occasion a very notable one.

"Fine Steer." Messrs. John and Linus Ross yesterday shipped one of their fine steers to the annual cattle show at Chicago. It weighed 2300 and it will not be "as usual" if among the fine fat stock there, it does not attract attention and carry off a prize.

August 29, 1901 - EVENING TELEGRAPH THE PIONEERS of Crawford County Hold Annual Picnic. The immense throng of people at Seccaium Park today makes it appear as a national holiday. All the ranks of life are represented, professional and business men, mechanics and tillers of the soil. The occasion was the annual picnic of the pioneer association and at 9 o'clock the people commenced gathering and the extra force of cars of the Ohio Central Traction company was taxed to their capacity. The day was an ideal one and the attendance of last year was far exceeded this year, the crowds visited every point of interest on the grounds, in fact every nook and corner of the spacious park was filled with people. The forenoon programme opened with an invocation by Rev T J Ingle of North Robinson. The invocation was followed by a duet by Prof and Mrs. W H Critzer of Galion. Miss Monnette of Galion rendered a voluntary after which A H Laughbaum of this city delivered a welcome address. Miss Bessie Moderwell of Polk Twp responded with a recitation and Bogan brothers of Bucyrus delighted the audience with a song. Wm Robinson of Crestline spoke at length on the pioneer life of those who settled in this county when it was yet a wilderness, and the programme closed with another duet by Prof and Mrs Critzer.

At the conclusion of the last number of the forenoon programme the assembly adjourned for one and one half hours, which time was spent in hand shaking, renewing old acquaintances, talking over past experiences and relating funny reminiscences of early life in the county, and it is notable that many of those present who were in the prime of life or mere boys and girls in the fifties are now gray headed men and women who were made to feel young again while relating past events and experiences. During this intermission the multitude also sat down to enjoy a picnic dinner provided from amply filled baskets.

The afternoon exercises opened with an invocation after which the chairman announced the selection of the following officers for the ensuing year: President--R W Knisley, of Liberty Twp. Vice president--H Dapper, of Jefferson Twp. Treasurer--J H Beard, Bucyrus Twp. Secretary--J A Smith, Liberty Twp.

Todd's band rendered a selection which was followed by a masterly address, by Rev W V Davis of Columbus Grove, who spoke on the subject, "Climb; Though the Rocks be Rugged."

The death list for the past year was read by the secretary and showed that one hundred and nineteen pioneers had passed to the great beyond. Rev D W Sprinkle of Beach city was on the program for an address on "Fourteen Years in Andersonville" but owing to the lateness of the hour the TELEGRAPH representative was obliged to leave before he spoke, and before the balance of the program was finished. Among the early settlers and residents of Crawford County at the picnic were Mrs. Elizabeth Teel, Mrs. Emily Trimble, Wm Halliwell, R W Knisley, J A Smith, John McCurdy, Wm H Heis, John Johnston, Squire John Holman, John Carle, J W Quaintance, Abraham McNutt, Wm Robinson, Squire James Hufty, and J J Bower. The day was most enjoyably spent by those present and will long be remembered as one of the happy events in the history of Crawford County.

Fall 1834 former Judge Enoch B. Merriman opened a stock of dry goods and groceries in the village and Daniel Young, his clerk, sold his first pound of coffee. Fall of 1836 of early in 1837, Cornelius and James F. Borland started another store in the village. This store continued till the latter part of 1840. For the remainder of 1840 and all of 1841 the village had no store. Former Judge R. W. Musgrave then started a store which he sold to Horace Rowe of Bucyrus in 1844. Horace Rowe was in "business till the latter part of 1851. Judge R. W. Musgrave, Joseph Biddle and F. N. Biddle conducted a dry goods and grocery store in a building just opposite the garage on Paris Street, Later the firm name changed to Joseph Biddle, Oliver J. Keller and A. J. Scott. A. J. Scott and Oliver J. Keller built the brick building-that now stands on the south-west corner of Paris and Jackson Streets. In this building this firm carried on a wholesale business in produce, gathering in the various forms of produce from the neighboring towns and selling these goods by wholesale in Shelby, Bucyrus and elsewhere. They also did a big business in dry goods. Andrew Morrison and his son carried on the same kind of business in this brick building. The Morrisons, however, introduced the huxter type of selling goods through the country. Mr. Morrison and his son disposed of their interests to Mr. John Meister who was the last to do this kind of business in the building.

The present store of O. and C. Keller was built by Alfred Fry. Mr. Fry and John Guiss formed a partnership for dry goods and groceries. Later Alfred Fry and C. A. Keller bought out John Guiss and continued the business. Yet later Isaac Klopfenstein bought out Alfred Fry. Then the firm was Keller and Klopfenstein. Still later Oliver J. Keller bought a one-third interest, then the firm was Klopfenstein, O. and G. Keller. Soon thereafter O. A. Keller and O. J. Keller secured the entire control of the business and property. They have been in business so long that the wholesale grocery firm of Tracy and Avery in Mansfield, Ohio say that the account of O. and C. Keller is the oldest account on their books.

This village had a drug store since the 60's. Reuben T. Bower conducted the business in a building which stood on the south-west corner of Paris (Plymouth) and Liberty Streets. The building is now the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Wert and is located on Sandusky Street. Dr. H. S. Bevington followed R.T. Bower in the drug business in the same building. Frederick Sexauer later took over the business. He later took over the stock of drugs and notions to the building just west of O. and C. Keller's present store room. This building was occupied by Lewis Sexauer with a notion store. The Sexauers then took their entire interests to the brick building on the square now called the drug store.

There are at least three open Sulphur wells that at one time were open flowing wells. (in part) Amidst this lavish display of sulphur water we must not forget to notice an isolated spring of ice-cold sulphur water on the South-East corner of Short end East Streets — between the old grist mill and Short Street. Those who could not stake their thirst at the other places could always find a cold refreshing drink here. Many of these visitors were those who had to wait for their "grists" in warm weather at the old grist mill near by. One can well imagine many coming across the street from the blacksmith shop directly across the street belonging to Henry Heibertshausen. Again, no doubt many came to this spring from the old Humiston sawmill also just across on the north side of East Street.

Dr. H. S. Bevington was vitally connected with the drug business in the village. He practiced medicine for some time and then he moved to Bucyrus. Then he moved to a farm home at the intersection of the Plymouth Road and the second road from the north west of Sulphur Springs. Here he practiced his profession for some years. From this home he removed to Sulphur Springs for the practice of medicine. At this time he bought the drug store that had been conducted by B. T. Bower for a number of years. Milton Ebbert acted as the doctor's drug clerk. Charles Sexauer followed Mr. Ebbert as the Doctor's second drug clerk. He then took up the study of medicine. The third drug clerk in this store was Frederick Sexauer, Jr. After his apprenticeship, he, with his uncle, Lewis Sexauer, bought the store from Dr. Bevington. These men conducted the business in this place for some years when they left this place of business as indicated on the preceding page.

The Sexauer drug store was bought by John Bittikofer who conducted a very successful drug and notion business till the time of his death. Since that time his family has conducted a well established general notion and refreshment business. As shown elsewhere, the post office was in this store for some years.

Blum Letters from Alsace - Joseph R. Blum 217 N. Center Street New Washington, Ohio 44854 from September issue – (continued from October Tracking) - We have a dry year: only here and there a hail-rain or shower. We only got a few fodder and the "Ohmet" (a grass that is used in hay in a second cutting) is still missing. We have only a few straw. I had wheat in the "Niederhoizfield" and got only 240 sheaves: it gave us only 5 sacks of wheat. The field near Frick in the ""Elsenfield," planted with summer wheat gave 117 sheaves and the half one near the "Rebgraben" gave 89 sheaves- 6 and 2 sacks. For the wheat one gets 20 to 30 francs, for the barley 14 to 19 francs. The price of cattle is no more so high. I still have 2 cows, 1 or 2 calves and the white horse. Each day this one is becoming better: I plow alone with him without any rein, he obeys at each word. I keep them through the winter. I get 5 to 6 thousands beetroots, half of them are very big: I measured one with a circumference of 69 centimeters. I nice field of yellow turnips, from note especially good soil. Josephel (young Joseph) has still his Fritz. (perhaps a dog or horse) written on the side of the letter: Be so kind and give me an answer at once. I'm waiting for a letter from you every day.....

(Letter to John Baptiste Blum) Mackenheim June 14th 1876 Dear brother, I've gotten your letter and was delighted to see that you are still in good health. As to us, we are all in good health too, as long as God will. I have to tell you this: if my sons don not come back to me in order to become soldiers in Alsace, all what they own will be taken as well as for me. I've already been summoned at the Court and this week, on 19th, I will be there once more. If someone does not appear himself, he will be punished and has to pay 4000 Francs. I would be obliged to sell a lot for having enough money to be able to pay Francs; because it's so here now: there are many fields, but nobody has enough money to buy!!

Dear brother, if I have to pay 12000 Francs for my sons, I'm ruined! I do no more know what to do and I would have written you to you earlier, but I always thought it will become better, but that didn't happen.

Dear brother, as soon as you'll get this letter, send me Xavier's passport, the one got at the Prefecture in Selestat. I'm afraid I could even loose my job with all this... Many went to America, and they also called for Starck's sons when I was at Court, but they can do nothing against them, as they are all in America. George Fulgraf's youngest son joined the French Army last year, but now he's deserted from there and is now a soldier in the Prussian Army.

We had a warm winter and a cold spring. Whole winter was very dry and we even had no snow at all. We could work the whole winter through, without any snow or rain. The first 15 days of April were so warm that the vine and the trees were in full blossom. There were so many buds upon the vine, we have never seen that in a long time....But the other 15 days in April became so cold that all has frozen. The vine has frozen, so did the clover and the second cutting of hay has been nipped by the frost. We will have very little hay. The price for cattle is going down. I have 2 nice cows, an ox, a calf, and a horse. I have planted a lot of beets and also a lot of corn, in order to feed the cattle.

On Whit Saturday, Monday and Tuesday it rained so we could plant the beets. We also have a lot of work to do. The grain in the good fields is growing well. The price is 30 Francs for the wheat and 16 Francs of the barley.

Dear brother, I really don't know if my sons are alive or not, because they do not write to me, or are they no more thinking of their father? Or are they doing like the birds?.. As long as they are in the best they appreciate their father and mother, but as soon as they are able to fly away, they recognize no one!!

Miss Pliegendorffer, who has a café, was also in America to visit her brother. She said she would have visited you if she had known your address. I'm ending my letter. Give our greetings to all those who gave us theirs in your letter. (on the side of the letter written) Hello to my Godfather. Marie Blum --Joseph Blum I'm expecting an answer very soon.

Compiled by: Jonathan M. Wert, Jr., WERT FAMILY HISTORY ASSOCIATION, P.O. Box 194, Port Royal, PA 17082-0194. Peter Wert (b. 1815 d.1885), son of Joseph and Barbara Kitch Wert, moved from Cumberland County, PA to Crawford County, OH with his parents in 1826 when he was eleven years old. He became the most prominent man in Crawford County in later years by providing assistance to escaping slaves seeking refuge in Canada. His brother Captain John Wert assisted him, he also being a strong abolitionist.

History of Crawford County and Representative Citizens, p. 269, "Jefferson Township had a station on the Underground Railway, which was kept by a man named Peter Wert, a wagon maker of Leesville, who was commonly known as "Black Pete." He aided many runaway slaves on their way to Canada and freedom." p. 351, "And men of the type of the Odells and Peter Wert, who conscientiously believed that the institution of slavery was a violation of the law of God, and no human law protecting it should be obeyed, and became important cogs in the "underground road through which many a slave found freedom only when he reached the protecting folds of the British Flag." p. 356, "In the early days Wert had charge of a mill, and it was a station on the Underground Railroad being the first point north of the Iberia Station." p. 457 refers to an advertisement about Wert that was published in the Bucyrus Journal, February 1, 1833. It states: "SIX CENTS REWARD - ran away from the subscriber living in Bucyrus, on the 20th inst., a boy named Peter Wert, an indentured apprentice in the wagon and plough-making business. All persons are hereby cautioned against harboring or trusting him on my account, as I will prosecute all who do so. Said boy is about 18 years old, dark complected, is fond of talking with his superiors, and occasionally tries to play the fiddle; had on when he went away a dark satinet coatee, white hat, and striped satined pantaloons of a snuff color. The above reward of a bundle of shavings will be given to any person returning said boy to the subscriber.

George Myers Bucyrus, December 20, 1833-W3" In response to this advertisement, there was a letter forwarded to the Editor which said: "TO THE PUBLIC - Sir: In your paper of the 21st inst. I perceive an advertisement concerning my son, Peter Werth. Now I wish to correct an error in said advertisement. My son did not run away as Mr. Myers states; he came home on account of some ill treatment on Saturday last. I as his rightful guardian commenced a suit against Mr. Myers on Monday last (for non-performance of the indenture) the result of which has been a verdict in my favor of thirty dollars. PS - Mr. Myers had better keep his shavings for the purpose of lighting candles to play cards, dice, and roulette by, and save his money also. Joseph Werth, Sr. Bucyrus, Dec 24, 1833, W4" March term of court in 1834, the following indictment found "George Myers, for suffering gaming in his outhouse." p 542, "The most prominent man in this county connected with the Underground Road was perhaps Peter Wert, first of Leesville, later of New Winchester. He was known as "Black Pete", not on account of his friendship for the slaves, but on account of his complexion, as he was very dark. He was a man of strong determination. He had a wheel shop at Leesville and here the slaves came to him after night. They generally arrived just before daylight, a signal was given by them which was recognized by him and they were given food and a place of shelter during the next day and when night came they were given explicit directions to their next stopping place which was probably the Robinson Mill on the Sandusky River, near the old Luke Tavern."

p 544, slave station operated by Eli Odell: "Slaves were brought to him by Peter Wert and from his place they were either piloted across to Kaler or McIntyre in Sandusky Twp, or moved directly north. There must have been some station at or around Sulphur Springs, although no trace can be found of one." "No record can be found of those in Bucyrus who kept stations on the Underground Road with the exception of Captain John Wert." p. 545, "About the same time Captain John Wert lived near the southeast corner of Mansfield and Spring Streets. He had a wheelwright shop on the same lot and did work at this and carpentering. He had several sons and all were strong abolitionists. One night a slave owner came to Bucyrus with two of his followers, having been given private information that his slave would be found secreted at the home of Captain Wert and demanded the slave. Being refused he threatened to enter the place by force and make a search. Mr. Wert seized a gun and stated that his house could not be searched without the proper papers, issued by the proper authorities in Bucyrus. Excerpt of the "History of the Keller Family 1905" was submitted telling the early history of Joseph Keller. Joseph came to America from Bavaria in 1737 settled in PA. Five years later he married Mary Engel Drumm. Mary and Joseph are buried in the little church yard cemetery at the Plainfield Reformed Church. Philip, the youngest, grew to manhood and proved himself in all respects a tower of strength to his parents in their old age. The Keller History has the genealogy of all the children but we will concentrate on Philip since he was the ancestor of the Crawford County Kellers. Philip married Sarah Miller and they were blessed with 3 boys, John Henry, Jacob, and Adam. Adam was tragically killed when thrown off a load of hay and run over by the wagon when he was thirteen years old. John Henry married Mary Engler and they were blessed with 8 children: Philip b. Jan 6, 1818; Anna, b. Mar. 31, 1820; Amos, b. Nov. 10, 1822; Eli, b. Dec. 20, 1825, Joel Frederick, b. Mar. 31, 1829; Aaron Henry, b. Nov. 16, 1832; Joseph Allen, b. Mar. 27, 1836; Susannah, b. June 12, 1840. Should we characterize the father in one word, we would say, "A man intensely active."

On his father's property, half a mile north of the first home, were grist and saw mill and a lime kiln. (In Pennsylvania near Plainfield). There a house was built, a home established and occupied till 1835 when they moved to a farm house more than a mile nearer the Plainfield Church. John Henry was a farmer, miller, captain, major, colonel, brigade inspector, justice of the peace, notary public, associate judge of the county, and an active member and elder in the Reformed Church. He was the author of a special plan for raising and protecting the funds of our theological seminary at Mercersburg, PA. There was no room left for idleness. The large farm, supplied with all needed buildings, contained many acres. The fences were built of chestnut rails.

Heavy crops of rye, oats, and corn made much work in threshing. Early in the spring, the speckled trout lured them away to the mountain streams. The Keller boys learned trades. This idea was taken up from the custom of the Jews, and finds expression in the proverb, "A trade is an estate." Philip studied algebra and later surveying; Amos learned shoemaking, Eli learned weaving, Joel learned milling in his father's mill, Aaron Henry learned blacksmithing. Of these boys, at least four in their time—Philip, Eli, Joel, and Joseph were teachers in the public schools. The idea prevailed that education and religion should go hand in hand, and that God should be acknowledged in the school as well as in the family and the church. All took an interest in military affairs. Philip was lieutenant in the militia.

Amos was the captain of his own company, Eli and Aaron were lieutenants in volunteer companies. In the Spring of 1856 the whole family moved to Crawford Co., Ohio and a year later his brother Jacob with his family, followed to the same place. They settled at Annapolis. (Sulphur Springs) John Henry bought a 200 acre farm, and Jacob was not far away. It did not take long until all the Kellers had settled down to some useful and permanent work. Philip established himself on the farm, Amos conducted a hardware store in Annapolis, Anna stood a true Martha by the side of the parents, and Eli filled an appointment for preaching the first Sunday after his arrival, and was at once elected pastor of the Bucyrus charge of the Reformed church. Joel farmed adjoining Philips land. Aaron became a partner in a Bucyrus planning mill. (Later this would become the Roehr Mill.) Joseph and Susannah attended College at Tiffin.

There were five sunny years to the time of the great Rebellion. One of the last acts for the community by John Henry was the securing and laying out of a large Union Cemetery on the banks of the Sandusky River in Bucyrus. On August 15, 1861 brothers Amos, Aaron and Joseph entered Camp Noble, Tiffin, Ohio. Their company was Company C of the 49th regiment which was entrusted the regimental flag. On the last day of December 1862, Captain Amos and Lieutenant Aaron were killed at the Battle of Stones River. After the war Brother Joel brought them back to Bucyrus and they are buried in a common grave in the Keller plot at Oakwood cemetery.

We welcome family stories for the newsletter Tracking, and copies of books for our book review chairman Marty Keller.

First United Brethren Church, North Robinson, OH - now United Methodist Church - - looking for early history, members, etc. about this church - - we have nothing in our files and would like to have more information. The Chapter has tried to obtain records to be microfilmed, but so far it hasn't worked out. Could someone help supply information?

The Chapter tries to locate church records to use in Tracking, and Church histories, pictures, perhaps you have something in your files that members could share to help others with their research?

The picture of the ladies sewing was located in the church boxes when co - editor was sorting records to be taken for microfilming and scanned the picture for the newsletter for members to enjoy. Thanks Mary Fox

Lucretia Rudolph Garfield

Lucretia Rudolph was born in 1832 near Garrettsville, in northeast Ohio. She was a shy, serious child. Her father, Zebulan Rudolph, was a farmer and one of the founders of Hiram College. It was at Hiram that she met James Garfield, who shared her love of books. They were both fitting themselves to teach. It wasn't until he was ready to leave Hiram that they made their plans for the future. He was entering William and Mary College in Massachusetts. When he completed his course there, they would be married. Meanwhile, Lucretia went to Cleveland to teach in the public schools.

Their engagement was a long one. Lucretia was 26 and James was nearing his 27th birthday when they were wed and settled down in a little cottage on the campus of Hiram College where Garfield taught Greek and Latin. At the end of the year, he became president of the College.

In 1859 James Garfield was elected to the Ohio State Senate. In 1861 he entered the Civil War as Colonel of the 42nd Regiment Ohio Volunteer Infantry. Garfield was elected representative in 1862 and was re-elected every two years until 1879 when he was elected to the United States Senate. He never took his seat there; however, much to his own surprise he was nominated to the Presidency in 1880. Lucretia was kept busy helping to prepare four sons for college and her daughter for high school.

Garfield's presidency brought a cheerful family to the White House in 1881. Lucretia was always reserved, a self-contained woman. She flatly refused to pose for campaign photographs, and much preferred a literary circle or informal party to a state reception.

In May she fell gravely ill, apparently from malaria and nervous exhaustion. She was still convalescing, at a seaside resort in New Jersey when her husband was shot by an assassin on July 2. She returned to Washington by special train. During the three months her husband fought for his life, her grief, devotion and fortitude won the respect and sympathy of the country. In September, after his death, the family went home to their farm in Ohio. For another 36 years she led a strictly private, but busy and comfortable life, active in preserving the records of her husband's career. She died March 4, 1918.

Caroline Lavina Scott Harrison

Caroline Lavina Scott was born in Oxford, Ohio in 1832. She was the daughter of Mary Potts Neal and the Reverend Dr. John W. Scott, a Presbyterian minister and founder of Oxford Female Institute. At 19 she met her future husband, young Benjamin Harrison, grandson of the 9th President of the United States. They were married in 1853. He was 20 and his bride was 21. They had no money and he had no job.

He borrowed $800 against a lot that was left to him in Cincinnati and they moved to Indianapolis where they lived in a boarding house while Benjamin found desk room in an office and hung out his shingle as a practicing lawyer.

When their first child was born, it was necessary for the Harrison's to find some kind of home. It was a one-story wooden building with three rooms and a shed which could be used as a summer kitchen. Caroline managed as economically as she could, doing all of her own work. As the years passed, Harrison's law practice increased and at the beginning of the Civil War he was starting to earn a fair living.

His military career was impressive and before the end of the conflict he was made Brigadier General by brevet. At the close of the war, he resumed his law practice in Indianapolis.

In 1881 he became a Senator. During his six years in the United States Senate, Mrs. Harrison was very popular in Washington, entertaining many callers and engaging in charity works. In 1889 when Harrison became President, she was well equipped to take over the duties of the First Lady.

BY OUR REPORTERS who have gathered them together and prepared them for THE EVENING TELEGRAPH Edited this Week by Massana Manbeck and Charlie Kern.

Examinations were held in all the schools this week. The junior high will commence the study of botany next Monday. Mrs. John Farquhar visited the fourth grammar Wednesday afternoon. The examinations are past for this half term, and the schools will again resume their daily recitations.

John Clarke Ridpath has been engaged to give two lectures before the Northwestern Ohio Teachers association at Lima, next fall. The superintendent, Prin. Plumb, Messrs. McComb, Goldsmith, Fouts, Assenheimer and De Witt attended the institute at Galion today. Teachers' meeting will be omitted next Monday afternoon on account of Washington's Birthday. The subject for the next meeting is answering questions in recitations. Those pupils contemplating a sojourn in the French capital in 1900 should attend the lecture "A Saunter through Paris" to be given by Dr. Georgia Merriman Friday evening, Feb. 26 7:30 standard for the benefit of the Good Templar. Your vision may be clarified by looking through the doctor's glasses.

Washington's Birthday will be celebrated in all the schools. Committees from the G. A. R. will visit the North and West buildings in the morning and the Union building in the afternoon. The schools will have exercises in their own rooms but different schools will be called on to present exercises in the chapel and then return to their own rooms to complete their exercises. It is hoped that friends of schools will attend these exercises.

The senior class met with the president, Susan Reid, on Monday evening. After disposing with a light lunch, toasts were responded to by different members of the class, which was very elegant. The most important feature of the evening was the selection of the class motto. The one decided on is from the Latin "Vita seir litteris mors est"; or translated, "Life without learning is death." They now all realize that life without learning is surely death to the highest and noblest gift to manhood,-- the mind.

July 9, 1897 - Ethel A Neff Accident -----

A THRILLING ESCAPE by a Ten-Year-old Girl from Being Crushed to Death by the Cars Crestline Advocate: Ethel A.; the bright ten-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Neff living on Columbus Street near the Big Four tracks, met with a serious accident this morning about 6:30. She was sent out to do a little marketing, which duty she promptly attended to. Her nearest route to the place where she was sent laid among the Big Four tracks, that being the usual course taken by the members of the family when coming to the business portion of the town. Ethel had procured the things she was directed to get and started happily for her home, walking along the Big Four. The local was doing some shifting on the tracks. When Ethel was near the Burch Plow Works and not far from home, she noticed the train had been cut in two and thinking of the danger she went to avoid stepped on the wrong track and was knocked by backing cars to the ground. Her foot catching under the cruel wheel was badly mangled, the wheel evidently passing over the heel and sole of the foot. The trainmen saw the accident and ran to the assistance of the unfortunate little child, and raising her prostrate and bleeding little form into their hands. She was not unconscious and answered the brakeman's question telling where she lived. She was carried to her home, where Drs. Bennett and Marquart were called. Besides the crushed foot she received several bruises about the head and face, evidently caused by her fall. Everything will be done to save her foot from amputation. It is probable that the foot can be patched up. It is hoped it may.

Sept 1 1897 (picture of L.A. Dozer with caption "President Photographer's Association of Ohio.")

(Apparently the first few lines of this article are missing)

...the presidency of the association but when the matter was suggested to him he replied, "Oh yes it might be, but there are many older and better men and they took upon me as "just a boy." Mr. Dozer was evidently too modest to think of the matter seriously but it appears that the members of the association don't consider him "just a boy," but are willing to honor him with the highest position in their association and willing to entrust their affairs to him. In this they will not be disappointed as Mr. Dozer's management of the business of the association as secretary for the past years is an abundant assurance that his official term will surely bring further progress to the association. Mr. Dozer was born in the wilds of the gaseous regions around Fostoria, early in life he absented himself from school, without leave, to study scenery along the brooks. It was while thus engaged that a snapping turtle gave him his first introduction of a "snap" shot and left a lasting impression on Len's mind and big toe. Upon his return to school he was invariably given the place of honor "on the tripod" beside the teacher's desk and he "posed" in all the glory of his tall, painted cap. However his love of art led him to respect his jaunt to the brooks and fields, and now when his more studious companions are plugging along at manual labor Len is honored by his association. Mr. Dozer entered the photograph business at Fostoria and later went to Upper Sandusky, where he made lots of friends, but little honor, glory or money. Coming to Bucyrus he at once began to be recognized as a rising young man. The action of the association today proves that the people of Bucyrus judged wisely, and all will unite with THE TELEGRAPH in congratulations.

December 12 1890 - A Distressing Case Leroy Flickinger, a young man of Lykins Township, was adjudged insane today in the Probate court and was taken to the asylum at Toledo. He was one of the victims of typhoid fever during the epidemic which has so seriously scourged that community this season as well as the last, as was also his father, John Flickinger, who died a few weeks ago. The young man made an apparently good recovery and for several weeks has been regarded as practically well. About ten days ago he began to show unmistakable signs of serious mental derangement and has constantly grown more and more violent until it was found impossible to restrain him at home and necessitated an application to take him to the asylum which was unwillingly acceded to by the relatives. He was accompanied to the Asylum by his brother and his brother-in-law, Mr. Sam Coulter. The strong probability is that the insanity is only the form or symptoms of a disease which is consuming his vitality, and which must result in speedy recuperation or death, and most probably the latter.

Evangelical Pietist Church, Chatfield, Ohio Presented at Harvest Supper October 28, 1979
BIOGRAPHIES OF MEMBERS OF MEN'S CLASS AND WOMEN'S CLASS

Daniel and Luella Kalb: Daniel Kalb was born September 3, 1904 to Daniel and Emma Kalb. He went to Pike's Peak and Chatfield Schools. Samuel and Mary Heiber became the parents of Luella on July 6, 1904. She attended Hog Town School at Chatfield. Daniel and Luella were married on October 25, 1928 (51 years) by Rev. John Beal at Rev. Beal's home which is now the home of the Kenneth Rothhaar family. The minister forgot to ask for the ring during the ceremony so the groom placed it on the bride's finger when they got in the car. They have five sons and one daughter: John, Carl, Robert, Glen, Luther, and Dorothy. There are six granddaughters and four grandsons.

Daniel and Luella were both confirmed in the same class with Mike Brose. (Don't remember the date.) Former Sunday school teachers remembered most are Daniel Brose, Reuben Geissman, and Mr. Bumgardener. Especially remembered is Katie Beal, Willie Beal's mother, as the first teacher. She taught the little children to read German from religious books for children. They also recalled when there were six classes in the large room in the basement with approximately 60 people. They would pass the plate for a "penny collection," each giving a penny. Then they started buying quarterlies and they increased the collection to a "nickel collection," then later they gave as much as they wanted.

Daniel was on the Church Council for over 20 years. Luella was assistant teacher of the women's class for several years. Daniel is a retired farmer and Luella a housewife. Daniel's favorite scripture verse is Psalms 119:11 "Thy word have I hid in mine heart, that I might not sin against thee." Luella's is John 3:16 "For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life."

Lulu Leuthold: was born March 23, 1912 to Victor and Dessie (Jump) Bantzhauff in Eden Township in Wyandot County. She attended Eden School. On March 30, 1934 she became the bride of Paul Leuthold. It was on Good Friday in Canton, Ohio at a parsonage. The busy minister had a wedding, a confirmation, and a funeral all on that day. Lulu and Paul had nine children: Arieta Stephenson, William, James, Everett, Gerald, Dwight, Wayne, Douglas, Christine Warren; and 19 grandchildren. Lulu did housework before marriage and a housewife after.

They came to the Pietist Church on Easter Sunday 1935 after moving into the area. Paul's mother had attended Little York Methodist and had been to the altar at the age of 12. Paul had attended Epworth Methodist and also had been to the altar. Persons that had influenced her in our church included Naomi Beal as Sunday School teacher and Edna Luidhardt being so kind. She remembers one Sunday she stopped after church at Edna's to say hello to her mother who was ill and could not attend church. Edna invited them all to stay for dinner: Paul, Lulu, and five children, besides her own family (Mrs. Beal, Edna, Harvey, Paul and Lulu) and also that day Paul Luidhardt sprained his ankle or something of that nature and Harvey took him to the doctor before dinner.

Incidents remembered most by Lulu are Paul would sit on one side of the church with the older children and she sat on the other side with the younger ones. She also recalls Rev. Shisler's big confirmation class with Bill and Arieta and Mrs. Shisler helping Arieta with her singing. Arieta sang specials in our church. A testimony given by Lulu is that she is thankful that both she and Paul were brought up in church and could bring their family to church. She felt like praising the Lord when they finally had everybody in the car and were ready to go to church. Her favorite scripture is Psalm 121.

The first two verses are "I will lift up mine eyes unto the hills, from whence cometh my help. My help cometh from the Lord, which made heaven and earth.

The Descendants of Lorentz Hershner to Cole Hayden Hershner.” By Richard D. Hershner This is a lengthy compilation of families, and photos, with interesting comments by the author along the way. The book is over 400 pages so will cover as much as possible straight line. The two Hershner brothers, Johannes and Lorentz were first thought to have come to America on the same ship, the Saint Mark in 1741 but after a lot of search and going over many lists of passengers our author now is convinced that Lorentz arrived on the ship Lydia, on September 29, 1741, three days after the St. Mark. The author believes the two brothers decided to cross on different ships in case one ship sank and the other ship would make it to America. The Hershners like many of our ancestors left Germany because of religious persecution. Also, food and land was scarce and when William Penn opened his vast acreage for settlers many came to what is now Pennsylvania. Lawrence married Anna Maria Salone in 1747 and they had 14 children .Two daughters and two sons died in infancy. Lawrence was born 1726 in Germany, died Sept. 4, 1779 Windsor Twp., York Co. PA. He was buried at Canadochly Lutheran Church, York Co. Lawrence’s original hand written last will and testament are in the book His script is very impressive. Evidently he was in very poor health when he wrote the will on 20 July 1779 because he says” Unchangeable providence and decree hath laid me, Lorentz Herschner down through long and tedious bodily sickness, so that thereby I am not only disabled to manage my own and my families affairs, but am also put to an uncertainty at what time and hour the Lord will end my days.” He died two weeks later at the age of 53.

Jacob Hershner, Lorentz’s son, with his family immigrated to what is now Crawford County, Ohio in 1819 being one of the original landowners in the area. History tells that Jacob was a farmer, a carpenter and a fine cabinet maker. He was born Mar. 25, 1769 in Windsor Twp., York Co. Pa. Died Mar. 9, 1829, Crawford Co., burial Middletown Cemetery, Co. Ohio. Very little is known about his wife, Eva. They had nine children. The 6th child of the marriage was Andrew (1803-1889). He was of thrifty German descent, born in York Co., PA. In 1819 Jacob and family came to the Buckeye state. They journeyed across the country in the customary prairie schooner. Andrew was 16 years of age at this time. The family located north of the present city of Galion, Ohio. Andrew was a well educated man and was to become one of the pioneer school teachers in Morrow Co. When ready to assume the duties of a married man, he turned his attention to agriculture. He walked from the farm of his father near Middletown, north of Galion, to Wooster, Ohio, and back to enter 80 acres of land in Troy Twp., Morrow Co. afterwards he engaged in farming and teaching school, until his death in 1889. Andrew’s wife, whose maiden name was Mary Murray was born in Baltimore Co., Maryland of English and Irish ancestry. She accompanied her parents to Ohio at a young age. She and Andrew were married in 1830.

The very southeast corner of Andrew’s farm was dedicated for public education. This was where Andrew built a small brick one room school house and he was the teacher. The present farm buildings are still at St. Rt. 314 and Troy Twp. Rd., 57. Andrew and Mary are buried in Walters Cemetery on the west side of St. Rt. 314 between Johnsville and Steam Corners, Ohio. George Washington Hershner, son of Andrew and Mary, was a worthy member of an honored pioneer family of Morrow County, Ohio. He was prominently identified with its agricultural development. He was born Oct. 12, 1833 in Troy Twp. Morrow Co., and lived in the county all his life. He was a farmer and a skilled carpenter, erecting many of the townships residences and public buildings. He successfully followed the carpenter’s trade for thirty years. During this time he built many churches, school houses, and barns. Mr. Hershner married Louisa Fensler of PA. She died June 7, 1862 leaving three children. In adulthood they were Rev. John L. Hershner, a graduate of Corvallis College, Oregon, Professor Andrew F. Hershner of Oregon and Allen D. Hershner of Nebraska. George Hershner Sarah C. Markward on May 4, 1865. She was from PA also and the daughter of Samuel and Mary Markward. They had arrived in Ohio in 1852. To this marriage was born three more children; Arthur Hershner, Cora Hershner Cole, and Charlotte Hershner. George W. was also active in local politics. He was voted to the Troy Twp. Clerks of Office for 12 years and was a Morrow Co. Commissioner for three terms. For over 40 years he was a Justice of the Peace. Arthur S. Hershner was born June 3, 1868 in Steam Corners, OH. Died Dec. 15, 1954, Marion, OH Burial Lexington Cem. Lexington, OH. Married 1891 to Mary J. Cole Hershner who was born March 1869, Died Jan. 31, 1935 Burial Lexington Cem. Lexington, OH. The concert to be given on May 12th by Ernest Gamble, the famous singer, assisted by Edwin Shonert, will be for the benefit of the piano fund.

The seniors will study trigonometry in the spring. Neither has that branch nor any other been dropped from the course as some have supposed.

Miss Klindenst received some language papers from Mary Derha, Flora Chaney and Fook Kyau, pupils in the school of Miss Josie Haman at Honolulu. They were very neatly done in vertical writing.

At the next teachers' meeting, March 20th, the city teachers will discuss Mrs. Lew Wallace's article in the Ladies' Home Journal on "The Murder of the Innocents." Patrons of the school are invited to attend and participate in the discussion.

The following are the members of the senior class: Susie Cramer, Bessie Leitz, Sylvia Paschal, Mabel Richards, Carrie Rupensberger, Vay Williams, Clemence Faeth, Walter Heinle, Claude Jamison, Frank Leonard, Robert Picking, Harry Van Voorhis, Walter Van Voorhis, John Wentz, Carl Young.

Lewis Henderson, Adelbert Winkelfoos, Arthur Norton, Cuno Eichman, Homer Crall, Paul Cronels and Carl Goebel have made a fine map of the U. S. two feet by three on which they have glued actual specimens of the grains, metals, etc in the localities in which they are produced. This elegant production map they will present to their teacher, Mrs Anna Reid.

Zoology is now taught in the grammar grades and geology and astronomy are taught in the high school in connection with composition. The pupils do actual observation work and then write accounts of it. The seniors are hoping for settled pleasant weather that they may begin geology. These branches are better taught in this way and the expense of text-books is saved.

COMMON PLEAS COURT
OPENED Feb 5 1906

Plaintiff Granted Decree of Divorce
The February term of common pleas court was opened this morning by Judge Tobias. All the grand jurors responded to the call except S. A(?) Hoke. The vacancy was filled by George Wagerley.

The court appointed William Crowe foreman. The jury went into session immediately after the charge of the court and as indicated by the witnesses called at once began an investigation of the charge of bigamy against Smythe.

The first witness called was Smythe's first wife. An hour later the second one was called. She was subpoenaed in the name of Ada Nichols Smythe. She objected to the name when she approached the Clerk to be sworn but there was no alternative in the eyes of the law. In the language of one of the attorneys present her name dejura is Smythe until the courts decree her a divorce.

Upon the call of the docket by Judge Tobias cases were assigned for trial as follows:

Hall vs. Malcolm Feb 19
Miller vs. City of Galion Feb. 20-21
Parcher vs Penn.. Co. Feb 22
McClinton vs. McClinton Feb 23

BUCYRUS, O., NOVEMBER 24 1905
COURT HOUSE NEWS
No Criminal Cases Heard
Before January

The damage case of Richard Davis against the O. C. Traction Company occupied the attention of Judge Tobias and a jury today. The plaintiff is a resident of this city and was a passenger at the time a car left the track east of the infirmary. He claims that he was permanently injured and is entitled to damages. The trial will likely occupy two or three days.

Judge Tobias announced from the bench today that it was impossible to assign any of the criminal cases for trial before January. Civil cases were assigned for trial as follows:

Neuman vs. Big 4, January 2.
Kissinges vs. Wingert, Jan 4
Shrader vs. Trautman, Jan 5
Guisman vs. Meck, January 8.
Young vs. Weir, Jan 9.

Monat vs. Rose Supply Co.
January 10. The county jail at this time contains five prisoners: John Hanley, Joe Simons, Frank Chrisman and Fred Rieber. The first three have been in since last June and July and all but one are held on very serious charges.

Judge Kiess is back from Cleveland where he gave testimony in the Hays-Flickinger case. He was called to testify as to the assignments made by both defendants and was on the witness stand but five minutes. The judge says he was very fortunate in getting away. Others from Bucyrus tried in vain to be excused.

The American National bank at Barberton, took two cognovit judgments in the common pleas court of this county: one against P. B. & G. A. Close for $145.85, the other against Charles M. Karch and G. A. Close for $202.98.

The commissioners fixed Jan 16, as the day for the hearing of the William Freeze ditch improvement. Preparations are in progress for further court house improvements. The commissioners have received from Architect Lane specifications for radical changes in the hall way. Advertisements for bids will be made in a few days.

Hon. C. E. McBride of Mansfield was over today one of the attorneys for the Traction Co. in the Davis damage case.

Bill Swisher w-swisher@northwestern.edu
Biddle Evangelical United Brethren Church: Bill has tried, also, to locate those early records of the church that no longer exists. Here is a record of the Bethel Class. In the year of our Lord 1843 in the month of April: Rev. Jacob Neuman held a series of meetings in what was then called the Swisher School House and some 40 were converted; and fifteen or twenty united with the United Brethren Church. Among the first members were: Mrs. Mary M. SWISHER and her sons John William (his wife Rachel); and Samuel (wife Elizabeth). Samuel was the first leader of the Society. In Jan. or Feb. 1849 Nicholas James; John; and William SWISHER elected Trustees and at once procured a piece of land of Mr. SWISHER and the same year finished a neat house of worship, 30 x 40 feet with a good foundation on the aforesaid land. There is a good and growing Sabbath School here with Aaron LAUGHBAUM Superintendent and present trustees: Adam BILSING; John C. COLE; and John DEWALT. S. H. RAUDEBAUGH, Pastor, June 12, 1878.

Memories of Growing up ca 1910- One Room School

Helen Elizabeth WERT HARTUP written July 1983 from YcnanF@aol.com "When I was in the seventh grade my parents sent Ralph and me to Aunt Lib and Uncle Wilbur WERT as they were moving from Wapakoneta to Montpelier. We were to go to a One Room School, Hoot Owl, and have Uncle Jim TUTTLE for a teacher. Ralph and I walked two miles, carrying lunch pails that had such things as country-cured ham sandwiches, sometimes an egg sandwich, cookies or cake, and a jar of canned fruit. As I recall the place, Hoot Owl was the only building on a mile of road, set in thickly wooded area. But we didn't think it lonely". "Although strictly speaking I was in the 7th grade, I went up to recite with the 8th grade. Ralph went with the 5th and 6th. Lunch was always eaten hurriedly. There was always a ball game going on them and at recess. Uncle Jim played too, I don't remember any fights about decisions; he probably he made all of them. The ball, itself, was one made of bits of string someone had saved and wound into a ball {written on the side} P.S. In writing this, I've come to appreciate Jim TUTTLE more. He was an intelligent man; I can see his making that ball; the recess and noon were our physical education! Ralph tried Uncle Jim out to see what the price was for whistling on an ink bottle. It turned out to be a good shaking-up. My stomach churned all the while this was going on because I thought Ralph ought to be on his good behavior if he was going to school to his uncle. The school was a good experience as far as my education was concerned. There was awhile when we cut across fields instead of going by road; we saw them boiling down sap for maple syrup in SPITTER's woods".

Old Holy Trinity Church dedicated 1888 From a postcard shared by Don and Mary Ellen Lust. The ceilings had painted scenes and the altars were of golden oak. The church was torn down on E. Mary Street and a new one built on Tiffin Street after 1965.

From Martyr Keller "excerpts from the autograph book of Anna Schueler Dec. 25, 1882

"Cousin Anna, There is another album filled with leaves of spotless white, Where no name is ever tarnished, But forever pure and bright. In the book of Life, God's Album. May your name be penned with care, and may all who here have written, write their names forever there." Nettie Barraider March 13, 1883

You ask me for my autograph, that is too hard a task by half. The letters all will make you laugh. They'll look as though they need a staff. Perhaps you think I give you "taffy" No? Well, here's the autograph, your friend Sophia Schaber
