William J. Orr Residence

W.J. Orr, the lumber dealer, has bought for $2,500 the property of Mrs. Kate Berndt at 513 East Columbus Avenue, and will build a modern home among the trees which stand on the beautiful site.

The late William Hubbard built the house on the lot, which is still in fair condition, some 50 years ago when the neighborhood was practically an unbroken forest

The Weekly Examiner, February 16, 1906

A wealthy young man by the name of William J. Orr, came to Bellefontaine from Uniopolis, Ohio, in about the year 1891. He was actively interested in the manufacture of all kinds of hardwood, lumber and timber.

Among his several sawmill plants were one in Bellefontaine and another in Huntsville, and he owned a spoke factory in Kenton.

Mr. Orr, therefore, had at his disposal, fine lumber — some imported and all seasoned many years.

Mr. Orr tore down the Berndt home to build his dream home among the trees, and the date is marked on a stone at a front corner of the house.

In building his home, Mr. Orr was able to put his knowledge of woods and workmen to the best advantage. This showplace would have all the best ideas of the times, and though some may be copied, would incorporate quality others could not match.

The house was two years in constructing at a reported cost of $40,000, and Mr. Orr did the overseeing.

The (almost yellow) brick building has many columns supporting both the portico and porch facing the street. Copied from Greek colonnades, great care was given to the proportions and detail.

The woodwork throughout the house is quarter-sawed white oak. It was hand rubbed and after approximately sixty years of being coated with both paint and varnish, when it was stripped by Mrs. Nelle Pickering Whitmore to the original finish, retained a warm glow as of fine old furniture.

Smaller versions of the giant columns of the outside were brought inside and divide the entranceway from the living rooms.

Bedrooms dominate the second floor, and a stairway leads from there to a massive ballroom on the third story. Miss Cecille Johnston, a granddaughter of Mr. Orr, is among those who have many interesting memories relating to the grand old home.

Mr. Orr moved from Bellefontaine in 1917 or 1918, and the new owners became Mr. Carl Stuber and family. Mr. Stuber paid $15,000 for the home. He, in turn, sold it to Mr. and Mrs. M.C. Harrold, an associate of the A.J.Miller Company. Mr. Harrold's widow, Mrs. Walter Shaw Kelly, sold it to the American Legion Harold Kerr Post.

The American Legion built the first addition at the rear of the home, and sold the facility in 1953 to Marvin and Nelle Pickering for $27,500.

When the Pickerings divorced and the bank foreclosed, it was put up for public auction. The first time it was auctioned, not a single bid was offered, and the second time, Mr. Robert McConnell of Huntsville bid $16,500.

Unwilling to see the home sold for that price, Mrs. Whitmore borrowed the money and re-acquired the property.

Later, Thomas and Olga Latham approached Mrs. Whitmore and offered her $20,000 and the deed to a property in Indiana.

The facility at the rear of the home was later extended, and was licensed and operated as a convalescent home until the early 1980s. It stood vacant from that time until purchased in 1987 by the Logan County Historical Society for a price of $50,000.

The Society has begun the process of restoring the residence to a condition as close as possible to the 1906 time period, and hopes eventually to place it on the National Registry of Historic Buildings.

LOGAN COUNTY HISTORICAL SOCIETY

Many people, all volunteers, have brought the Logan County Historical Society to its present place in the community.

O.K. Reames and the Rev. Guy W. Furbay of Zanesfield were the guiding spirits of the Society. It was established as the Logan County Archaeological Society in 1945 at the independent Dr. Earl Sloan Library in Zanesfield, and was incorporated in 1946.

The first officers were O.K. Reames, president and Paul Orsborn, secretary.

Mr. Reames was identified with local history for many years and Rev. Furbay carried on the effort and became the first curator. His interest kept the Society alive and influenced many others to join him.

Aware that the past enriches the present and enhances the future, members became active not only in creating a museum but also by keeping records of the past for public enjoyment.

A prolific writer who carried on the county's history was Herman C. Marmon, an avid historian and high school science teacher for many years. He had made pictures of various important sites throughout the county, in addition to writing accounts of days long ago.

One of the pamphlets published by the Society was Marmon's work, while others who wrote for Society publications were Mrs. Esther Hassell and Willis Liggitt. The latter also served as president of the Society.

The Society is also indebted to William Spellman for many of the enlarged photographs in the museum's collection.

An important part of the Society's work has been marking historical sites in the county. The first commemorated the first Lewistown Council House and Solomonson Town in 1947.

By 1957 some 27 sites were marked by bronze plaques, roadside markers or inscriptions on buildings, and more have been added since that time.

Logan County was active Indian country, the native home of seven tribes and, as a result, many Indian names may be found throughout the area.

In the Bicentennial Year 1976, a monument in Zanesfield was dedicated to the memory of the first settlers: Isaac Zane, his wife, Princess Myeerah, and her father, Chief Tarhee. Lawrence Zane, great-greatgrandson of Isaac Zane, came from Oklahoma for the ceremony. At that time he was chief of the Wyandottes.

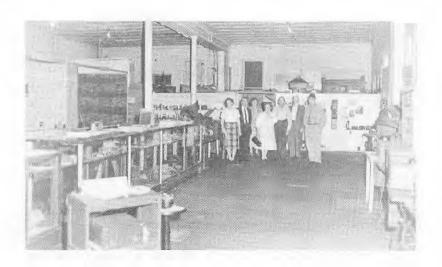

Past Homes

During the early years, the Society's collections were displayed at various locations and the need for a permanent home became apparent.

For a time, artifacts were housed in the former City Market, at the corner of Columbus Avenue across Opera Street from The Logan County Courthouse.

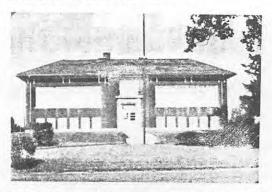

The first museum was located in Bellefontaine in a small building at 400 Linden Street.

The place was soon outgrown, and in 1971, the museum was moved to the former McBeth Elementary School at 715 West Chillicothe Avenue, where it was opened to the public regularly.

Mr. J.E. and Mrs. Martha Gilbert acted as curators and their son, Dan, served several terms as president. The Gilbert family has contributed much to the success of the museum and interest in the Society.

The Society's big opportunity came in 1987 when a building at 521 East Columbus Avenue became available for purchase if the Society could raise the necessary funds to buy it.

Bellefontaine Mayor Richard J. Vicario threw his full support to the project as did mayors of other communities in the county.

Logan County Commissioners have been the major source of financial support over past years, and also offered wholehearted endorsement of the purchase of the new facility.

Bellefontaine City Council generously donated half the purchase price from the William Kauffman Trust Fund and, with considerable hard work and dedication, that amount was matched in a fund-raising campaign.

Current Museum

One-room School

General Store

With the move from the former site, a gigantic effort began with the conversion of smaller rooms in a former nursing home facility into display rooms.

Progress is witnessed in the various displays at the current museum. These include a large room dedicated exclusively to items from the past history of Bellefontaine and Logan County.

Exhibits also include a one-room schoolhouse, general store, military and transportation displays, along with collections relating to communications, domestic life and the audio-visual arts.

Military Display

Because the museum belongs to all residents of Logan County, exhibit space has been specifically reserved for displays relating to communities outside the city of Bellefontaine.

The Organization

Monthly meetings of the Society take place from April through October.

Dues, payable in January of each year, are $5 for individuals, $7.50 for families and $10 for organizations.

The constitution was revised in 1987, and current membership stands at more than 200 people.

The museum is open to the public, free of charge from May through October.

Hours are 1 to 5 p.m. Wednesday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday. Group tours may be arranged by request.

The Society has established an ongoing Patron's Policy, whereby the names of donors of $100 or more have their names inscribed on a plaque at the main entrance of the museum.

enter their house. While Mr. Blue was in his bedroom with his hand and arm on the bed rail, the heavy stroke of lightning seen by many people who had been awakened by the storm, struck the comb of the roof about the middle. The current followed the rafters to near the southeast corner, passing through the wall about 2 feet from the floor, making a hole similar to what a large pistol ball would produce; then it passed to the railing on which Mr. Blue was leaning. He was knocked unconscious, while the current was so strong that Mrs. Blue was thrown from the bed. A physician was summoned and this morning Mr. Blue is resting easy... (DeGraff Journal)

Some ditchers in draining a pond on the Brennan farm last week, found a box, something like an assessor's box, in the bottom of the pond, with the bottom cut out of it. As it was locked, this fact aroused their suspicions and enquiry was made, and it was recognized as the box in which Mr. David Detrick, who was murdered some 21 months ago, kept his valuable papers and money. Some of those acquainted with Mr. Detrick hold the opinion that he must have had some $1500 in money about his home and that he was in the habit of keeping the money in this box. The box should be carefully preserved, as it might lead to other developments.

Among the many pleasant social events of our great conference was a reunion at Mr. Hugh NEWELL's on Friday, June 5. A number of friends and relatives from Virginia and Kansas were present and all of the MILLER, HARNER and NEWELL families, but the most impressive couple was Mart MOHR and his wife, Susan MOHR, of St. Petersburg, Florida. She is the youngest of the Jacob MILLER family and has not seen her sisters and brothers for twenty-five years. It was a very joyful reunion.

May they live many years in the midst of friends and neighbors who have for so long a time enjoyed their neighborly acts and good deeds, and in the evening of life may they have the unbounded satisfaction of looking back upon a well spent life and an bright hope of a rich reward in the beyond.

July 3, 1903 – Mr. Alan M. ARMER and Miss Myrtle MCLAUGHLIN of this city gave their friends the slip and went to Galion, where they were married at noon Tuesday. Mr. ARMER is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Mac ARMER, and a machinist at the Big Four shops. The pretty bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward MCLAUGHLIN. The young couple will go to housekeeping in a few days on North Detroit street, where a furnished home awaits them. They are worthy young people, and the Republican wishes them a bright future.

Fuller WALLACE, Claire ARMER, and Ernest FOREMAN have gone to Kansas, expecting to get $3 per diem in the wheat fields of that state. They will get experience, anyway.

July 7, 1903 – Mr. Daniel ARBEGAST, aged 85 years, whose home was near New Jerusalem, submitted to an operation last week, and died Thursday evening. The operation, it was hoped would save his life, but there was only a little chance of success. He left a wife, three sons and one daughter. Funeral services were held Sunday morning and the remains were interred in the Salem church yard.

East Liberty – Mrs. Maggie THOMAS is making her home with her father-in-law, Foster Thomas, while her husband, Perry, is in the west. They expect to make their home in Nashville, Tenn. this fall.

Belle Center – John C. MAINS, proprietor of the Racket Store and one of our most hustling business men surprised everybody one day last week. Thursday evening, accompanied by Miss Blanche E. CLINE, one of our best young ladies, he called on Rev. E. P. ELCOCK, who pronounced the words which made them man and wife. Mr. and Mrs. MAINS are enjoying the sights in Columbus, but are expected home in a few days. A lively reception awaits them and the best wishes of hosts of friends are theirs.

July 28, 1903 – Calvin L STOKES, a veteran of the war of the Rebellion, and a well known resident of Mingo, died Tuesday morning July 21, 1903 after a long illness of lung trouble, aged about 70 years.

August 7, 1903 – The sixth annual reunion of the HENRY family was held in the G. W. HENRY grove, near Zanesfield, Tuesday, August 4. The family was well represented, and an enjoyable day was the verdict of all. The officers for next year are as follows: President – George M. HENRY; Vice President – W. G. PUGH; Secretary – Mrs. Jennie AGRO.

The HORN family held their annual reunion at Silver Lake, Wednesday, and had the best time ever. About 125 were present, and the dinner was unapproachable, till the bell rang. Every HORN was a hollow horn when the blessing was asked, but a regular cornucopia, when thanks were returned. Warren CUSHMAN was given his fill and looks like another man. J. H. VANHISE was elected President; H. K. HORN, Vice President; Earl HORN, Secretary and Treasurer. A vote of thanks was extended to Mr. CUSHMAN for his kindness and attention to the wants of the crowd. The men occupied their time, as usual, in pitching horse shoes. What they will do when automobiles take the place of horses, and no horse shoes can found, is a serious problem.

He had been in poor health for about 7 months. He had been a hard working, industrious man, a good, kind husband, and good neighbor. Having no children of their own, they have given home and shelter to a brother's child for the last 6 years. He was a member of the 1. O. O. F. for about 19 years, until his untimely death. He suffered a great deal the last week, but the end came very sudden and unexpected. He leaves a wife and a large number of friends to mourn their loss. Services were conducted at the house by Rev. She was in Columbus taking treatment for nervousness, the result of this accident, and was getting along nicely and it was thought was on the road to complete recovery. Her death was unexpected and came as an awful shock to her parents and friends in this community. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. e. P. ELCOCK, her pastor, assisted by Rev. Robert Greive, at the home east of town, Saturday afternoon. The honored family has the sympathy of a host of friends and neighbors.

September 8, 1903 – Mr. H. S. STEVENSON, of Delhart, Texas, arrived Friday, on a visit to his father and many friends, and gave us a pleasant call, Saturday. He is located in the Pan Handle of Texas, on the "staked plains". The climate is very hot, but the altitude is 4,500 feet, and a man can work in the sun all day with no danger or oppressiveness. Mr. STEVENSON thinks it the finest climate in the world. Water is scarce, but can be had by driving wells from 150 to 300 feet. With the aid of windmills, irrigation is done in this way. The fruit is "the finest in the world". Small grains, kaffir corn, and some other crops are raised to advantage, and grazing is good except in the dry seasons.

During the rain storm that passed over the county Saturday morning, and when it had nearly ceased at Bellefontaine, it being then about fifteen minutes after six, there was a vivid flash of lightning and a peal of thunder in the East. Mr. Henry SIKDMORE, a farmer of Perry township, had been out feeding and was standing in the door of his barn at this time and was struck by the lightening and killed. There was no mark on his body, but every bone in it seemed to have been broken. The unfortunate man was 30 years of age, had been married five years, and leaves a wife and three children. He was a cousin of Auditor MILLIGAN, a son of David SKIDMORE, and was reared near Raymond in Union county. He was an industrious farmer, a kind husband and father, and a worthy citizen. His unfortunate death is deeply deplored.

October 13, 1903 – Joe BIRD, a true and faithful colored man as one could wish, died Sunday morning, of cancer of the stomach, after a long illness. The first we remember of faithful Joe, he was employed by Dr. B. S. BROWN, and as employer and employee, each thought the other was perfection. Time passed, the soul of Dr. BROWN has been in Heaven for many years, and now the soul of Joe BIRD has joined that of his benefactor, but they are no longer master and servant for there is no class distinction in that spirit land. Joe was born in slavery, and after coming to Bellefontaine, was united in marriage to Mrs. Sarah LEWIS. Mr. Thomas LEWIS is her son by a former marriage and Miss Lenora BIRD, the daughter by Joseph BIRD. The funeral will be conducted at the home this afternoon at three o'clock by Rev. Mr. GRAYSON

Searching for Christian and Sophia By Carole M. Brandt

Until recently, the only picture that I had of my great-grandmother, Sophia Louisa Bristolⁱ, shows a silver-haired lady wearing a dark hat festooned with small silk flowers; the hat itself could be made of fur, or velvet, or silk, its intricacies fade into the background as it serves only to frame the face beneath it. Sophia's hair is pulled back from a high, slightly wrinkled forehead, and the crow's-feet at the corners of her eyes and the smile lines around her mouth bear witness to a fine sense of humor. She is poised, and clearly comfortable with being photographed. Her enigmatic smile talks to the camera, her dark eyes show contentment and the wisdom acquired from a life well lived. Her small frame is enveloped in a lovely sealskin coat that my great-grandfather, Christian Brandon Bristol, purchased in Alaska.

The search to piece together the story of their lives has not been easy. Not many details about Christian and Sophia were known to the current generations of the family, and the family lore contained some misinformation too. Nevertheless, based on documentation and family possessions, these things I knew:

Christian Brandon Bristol, was born in Pennsylvania to John and Catherine (Witts) Bristol, went to Alaska during the Gold Rush, and established the Bristol Mercantile Store in Huntsville, OH. In the 1880 census, grocer Christian B. Bristol and Sophia are in Huntsville, with three children: Christian, Leontyne and Lulu; later two more sons were born, Ross (my grandfather) and Grover. Why he went to Alaska was unknown. I have one picture of him, taken in Toledo, Ohio sometime in the late 1800's, as he is mature but clearly not elderly. Tall, slim and very cosmopolitan with a neatly trimmed head of graying hair, moustache and goatee, he is dignified and very handsome in a double-breasted suit with a white bow tie.

Sophia Louisa Bristol, came to this country with a circus, which went broke, whereupon she met my great-grandfather and stayed. She was Jewish, and her family in the old country was involved in the cottage industry of painting porcelain. In the censuses, her name varied Cobeite L., Zobeite L., as did her country of origin, sometimes Russia, sometimes Bavaria, but her parents are consistently said to be Russian. On her funeral record and death certificate, she is Sophia Louisa Bristol, born to Rudolph Oppenheimer in Würzburg, Bavaria. Her mother's name is listed as "not known." A sister was said to have come with her to this country. What Sophia did in the circus was a mystery, as was the name of her sister.

So with no solid clues with which to research the early lives of Christian and Sophia, it was with enormous delight that I received from the Logan County Genealogical Society the biography of my great-grandfather as it appeared in the McArthur Township section of the 1880 Logan County History:

CHRIST B. BRESTLE, merchant; Huntsville; is one of the most energetic and thriving business men in this town, and is, withal, quite a remarkable man. He was born Sept. 6, 1835 in Middletown, Penn., and when scarcely 2 years old the family moved to Tiffin, in this State. His father, John Brestle, was a tanner and currier by trade, and married a lady named Catharine Witz. When 13 years old Christ took "French leave" of the old home, coming to Urbana and working in the eating house of John Gump. He had been with him about one year when a show came through the place, and then it was that Christ threw up a good position to follow their varying fortunes. Being naturally adapted to this business, he soon took a conspicuous place among the curiosity men, and traveled extensively through this country as well as Mexico and the British Dominions. He took the first curiosity troupe into California, and from there went north over-land to Sitka, returning by vessel to Portland. He came to this place on a hunting trip in the fall of 1873, and liking the place he determined to make it his future home. He kept hotel and livery stable two years, when he quit the former and went into the grocery business; he had less than $20 capital, and from that has grown the large stock he now carries, doing a large and rapidly increasing trade. He was married while in Grass Valley, California, to Zobedia Luti, who was born in Russia July 15, 1846 and is said to be the first "Circassian beauty" ever exhibited in this country, having been brought here by Barnum. She is highly educated, and can readily use seven different languages. They have three children living-Lulu, Tena and Christ B.

This biography opened many doors, behind which were some wonderful surprises. I found the reason behind Christian's travels to be that he was in "show business" also. This helped explain why the search for him in

(Nov. 28, 1851.)

WILLIAM STOKES, Auditor Logan Co. O.

WORLD WAR 11 VETERANS

The following is excerpts about Dr. Malcolm V. Pratt from the book called: "Victory At Guadalcanal" by Robert Edward Lee.

Pg. 30, Dr. Malcolm V. Pratt, the medical officer, was amazed by their coolness. Awaiting his turn, a private from North Dakota continued to whet a razor-sharp bayonet. A few service Bibles appeared here and there. On the fourth-tier bunk one lad checked his rifle clip one final time as he informed his buddy down below: "This one's got Tojo's name one it." "Mebbe so," came the retort. "I hope you squeeze'em off better'n you did on the range."

Pg. 106-107, Frank Goettge was not cast in the mold of the military man who believes that most human suffering is a matter meriting instant sympathy but requiring indefinite postponement thereof. Nor did he feel that death to an enemy, like vintage wine, mellows with the years until it reaches the stage where its memory might be savored. In the patrol he included a doctor, Lt. Comdr. Malcom Pratt – the 5th Marine regimental surgeon – in case there were wounds to be bound, and a Japanese-speaking linquist, Lt. Ralph Cory, in case of language barriers that might impede surrender.

Pg. 108, Almost immediately the patrol was taken under intense rifle and Machine-gun fire. It came, said Sgt. Charles Arndt, from all sides. The marines had walked into a deadly trap. Colonel Goettge was among the first to fall. As the unequal battle continued, three messengers were dispatched to the rear at intervals, beginning at 1130 hours with Sergeant Arndt, who managed to run back to the beach. The sound of the firefight behind him increased as the marine survivors opened up. But at midnight, firing sputtered to a halt, leaving only the firecracker sound of the small-bore Japanese 25-calibers cranking out a few last rounds.

Obituary

Margaret Fowler, eldest daughter of Charles and Mary Fowler, was born in Monmouth Co., New Jersey to Medina Co., Ohio, making the trip in a wagon.

At the age of 16, she was converted, and united with an M.E. Church in Medina Co., at which place she remained faithful until her removal again with her parents to Logan Co., settling near East Liberty. She here untied with the M.E. Church by letter.

On 11th month 24th 1846, she was united in marriage to Joel Watkins. On the next day she with her husband came to the farm on horseback, where she lived until the day of her death. To this union were born three daughters, the youngest dying in childhood.

In the year 1854, she removed her church membership to the Goshen Friends Church, of which she remained a faithful member the rest of her life.

Her husband departed this life 1st month 19th 1856.

On 3rd month 19th 1860, she was again united in marriage to Albert Jacobs. To this union were born one daughter who was spared to them 2 years.

Again on 6th month 14th 1889 her second husband was removed by death.

On 12th month 20th 1911, Aunt Margaret was called to her reward aged 92 years 2 months and 11 days. She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. James McAttee, and Mrs. Theo Farrington, one step-daughter, Mrs. Luther McAtee, and one stepson John Jacobs of Hancock Co.

Aunt Margaret was always bright and cheerful, a great friend not only to the old, but to the young people and children as well.

She always said "I never want to outlive my usefulness" which wish was truly granted, she having completed the knitting of a pair of mittens for Master Chandler Young only about four weeks ago.

She can truly say with Paul, "I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith: Henceforth there is laid up for me a crown of righteousness, which the Lord, the righteous judge, shall give me at that day."

Golden Wedding

Edward D. Campbell and wife, 309 West St. Bellefontaine, celebrated their golden wedding last Saturday. There were about 30 friends and relatives present. The program consisted of music, speeches, reminiscences, jokes, fish stories and a bountiful dinner. Besides brothers and sisters of the couple and their immediate friends there were present those we are more acquainted, a son, Collin Campbell and wife of Unionville, T.J. Creviston and wife Union Chapel, Milton Green and family and Leland J. Lease of East Liberty. There were many presents given among which were two handsome gold watches. A very pleasant time is reported.

We note with horror the accident, which occurred near West Liberty recently. A six year old boy and instantly killed his eight year old sister. The gun was a target rifle and was hidden in hay mow. Of course the little fellow did not know it would go off, but alas! the deed.

On Monday Oct. 5, 1908 at the Christian church, Middleburg, O., Chester Sprague conducted the funeral services of Harvey Wilson Johnson, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Johnson.
