Findings from Old Court Packets

The Society holds original records from the Court of Common Pleas. We are working currently putting them into archival folders and Jan Purvis is making an index for the records so the public may have access to them in the near future. The following case has been edited for publishing but a complete copy is available from the Society.

Going to the Gold Fields....

An Article of Agreement between Wm S. Granger and James Purdy was signed by Samuel Doyle, John A. McCoy, John Whitnaur and Jacob Markley for the following services.

Purdy and Granger have agreed to pay Doyle, McCoy, Whitnaur, and Markley each the sum of one hundred seventy five dollars, and they each agree to purchase and procure wagon teams, harnesses, provisions and other things necessary for an outfit for the journey and proceed without delay across the mountains to the gold diggers or some place in their vicinity in the State of California, and to labor for the space of one year at least, after their arrival at digging gold, at a mechanical business or such other employment as to them seems most profitable. The company of men shall keep a full account of all money expended, in fitting the expedition and making the journey.

Any property purchased shall be the joint property of all concerned, one half belonging to said Purdy and Granger and the other half to the parties of the men. They shall send a transcript of the account book to Purdy and Granger monthly by mail and the amount due Purdy and Granger shall be paid to C.H. Cummings or such other person as they shall name.

At the end of the term above stated said parties shall return to Mansfield, their expenses to be taken out of their gross earnings and property on hand shall be rendered and amount due said Granger and Purdy paid. The party of men agree to leave Cincinnati on their journey by the 28th day of March 1850.

.....A deposition, of ten pages, was presented to the Grand Jury & filed March 2, 1852, by James Cobean, Jr., a Justice of the Peace, Madison Tp. on behalf of Jacob Markley the defendant. Purdy and Granger, are the Plaintiffs.

Jacob Markley agreed that he signed a contract with Purdy & Granger, and he arrived in/at the gold diggings in California on July 18, 1850, and that he did not keep an account of expenses as required "by reason of not being scholarly sufficient to do so".

He states that upon arriving at the gold fields he worked at digging out a tree stump for $3.00 a day, then went to work digging in the gold fields, working in Hangtown, Colee Spring, Am-can River, Green Wood Valley, Devil's Cannon.

Markley often would answer the question of how much he made at the diggings with "I can not recollect", he did agree that he made some 10 to 14 dollars some days, more or less on others and worked with Peter Ludwick for a few days. He had about $720.00 in dust when he left Devils Cannon and was moving on to Greenwood Valley and then on to the south fork staying on the south fork until July 27th when he left arriving August 1st, at San Francisco to board the steamer and he did not get off it until August 3, 1851.

The cost of the trip from San Francisco to Panama was about $130.00 to $140.00 and it cost $10 to $12.00 across the Isthmus, and down the Chagus River cost about $12.00 where he was detained for a week, costing about $40.00 and from Chagus to New York was about $100.00, being detained in Jamaica 2 or 3 days with costs of $80.00 and then from New York to home $15.00 and I kept no account of my expenses coming home.

Markley states that he did not correspond with the defendants because he cannot write, and he left the account book given to him by Purdy & Granger at home when he left for California. He admitted he received a couple letters from his wife, they being written in German. He sent her $125.00 once.

.....We do not know the finding of the court on this case. Hopefully as we get them indexed it will be located and we can give you the results.

....Jacob's name has two spellings in this document. It is spelled as Markle and Markley.

He was aged 25 years and manager of his father's farm. The young man was caught in the belt of the engine on the farm and thrown on the fly wheel, being so severely crushed that he died in a few minutes. It is only a short time since Mr. REID received the news of the death of his uncle, who was cremated in his own home by falling against a stove which was overturned and the house burned over his head. The second casualty in the family within a month is, indeed, a severe blow.--Ashland Times-Gazette.

- 2-Feb-1905 5:4 CONDUCT - A dispatch to the News conveys information of the death of Mrs. Aretta G., relict of Capt. A. H. CONDUCT, at Washington, D. C., Jan. 25 at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Frank G. CARPENTER, with whom she had made her home since the death of her husband, March 16, 1904. The dispatch stated that death was due to pneumonia which followed an attack of grip. Capt. and Mrs. CONDUCT lived in Mansfield for many years and when, but a little over one year ago, both went to Washington for a holiday visit with their children, and where Feb. 20, the 80th birthday anniversary of Capt. CONDUCT was celebrated, it was expected that they would again return to resume their residence among old friends and neighbors in this city. But fate ordered otherwise. Capt. CONDUCT died in Washington and his body was laid to rest at Morristown in his native state of New Jersey and there the remains of the long time partner of his joys and sorrows, who was but little his junior, was laid by his side last Monday.
- 2-Feb-1905 5:4 MOSER - David MOSER, an old watchmaker of Dalton, committed suicide by hanging sometime between Monday night and Tuesday morning. The MOSER home is about three miles south of the Dalton village. Some weeks ago MOSER sold his farm for $6,000, reserving for himself a strip of land to pass his remaining days. On this strip he built new buildings and had the house fitted up in good shape with the modern conveniences. His mind has not been in the best of condition, however, and on account of this his son-in-law, A. A. SUMMERS, has been staying with him and watching him. SUMMERS has been sleeping in an adjoining room with only folding doors between, and these kept open the majority of the time. SUMMERS thinks that the old man arose some time between 11 and 12 o'clock Monday night. When he did get up he went to the barn, took a strap off the harness, and with a stepladder ascended in the hay mow. Here he threw the strap over a beam, hooked it under his chin and jumped off from the stepladder. He was found early Tuesday morning, cold and stiff, with his feet six or eight inches above the hay. Coroner H. J. Sullivan was sent for and the remains were left hanging for some time pending his arrival. MOSER was well known all over the eastern part of the county. He was a watchmaker of the old school, and was well skilled in his business, doing a great deal of work, most of which was tranacted (sic) through the medium of the postoffice at Dalton, where he left things for his customers.--Wooster Republican.

St Peter's German Church Records

Washington Township, Richland County, Ohio
Presently known as The Hilltop Community Church

The following births and baptisms have been copied from Church records. Although the first two buildings were destroyed by fire, the third building remains on the original property. Additions have been made changing the original appearance of the building.

The early records are written in German and difficult to read. Sponsors are listed but we have not included them as the handwriting is small and difficult to read with accuracy. The original records are held by a former minister's family, we were fortunate to receive a photocopy of them.

Recently a small collection of personal papers was donated to the chapter by Mary Malthaner Anschutz. Mary's father had enjoyed attending auctions and garage sales and the following dated information relating to the Gibson family was something he had collected in Richland County. The remains of an early cemetery, Newcastle Cemetery, can be found east of Ontario and B'Nai Brith Cemeteries and on the opposite side of State Route 309 in Springfield Township. This will become part of a file to be created on the Gibson family and filed with our other manuscripts.

Calvin E. Martin, who died Nov. 11, at his home in Weller township, was one of the prominent and substantial farmers of Richland county. He served as county commissioner filling the vacancy caused by the accidental death of Charles. L. Gibbons until the ensuing election.

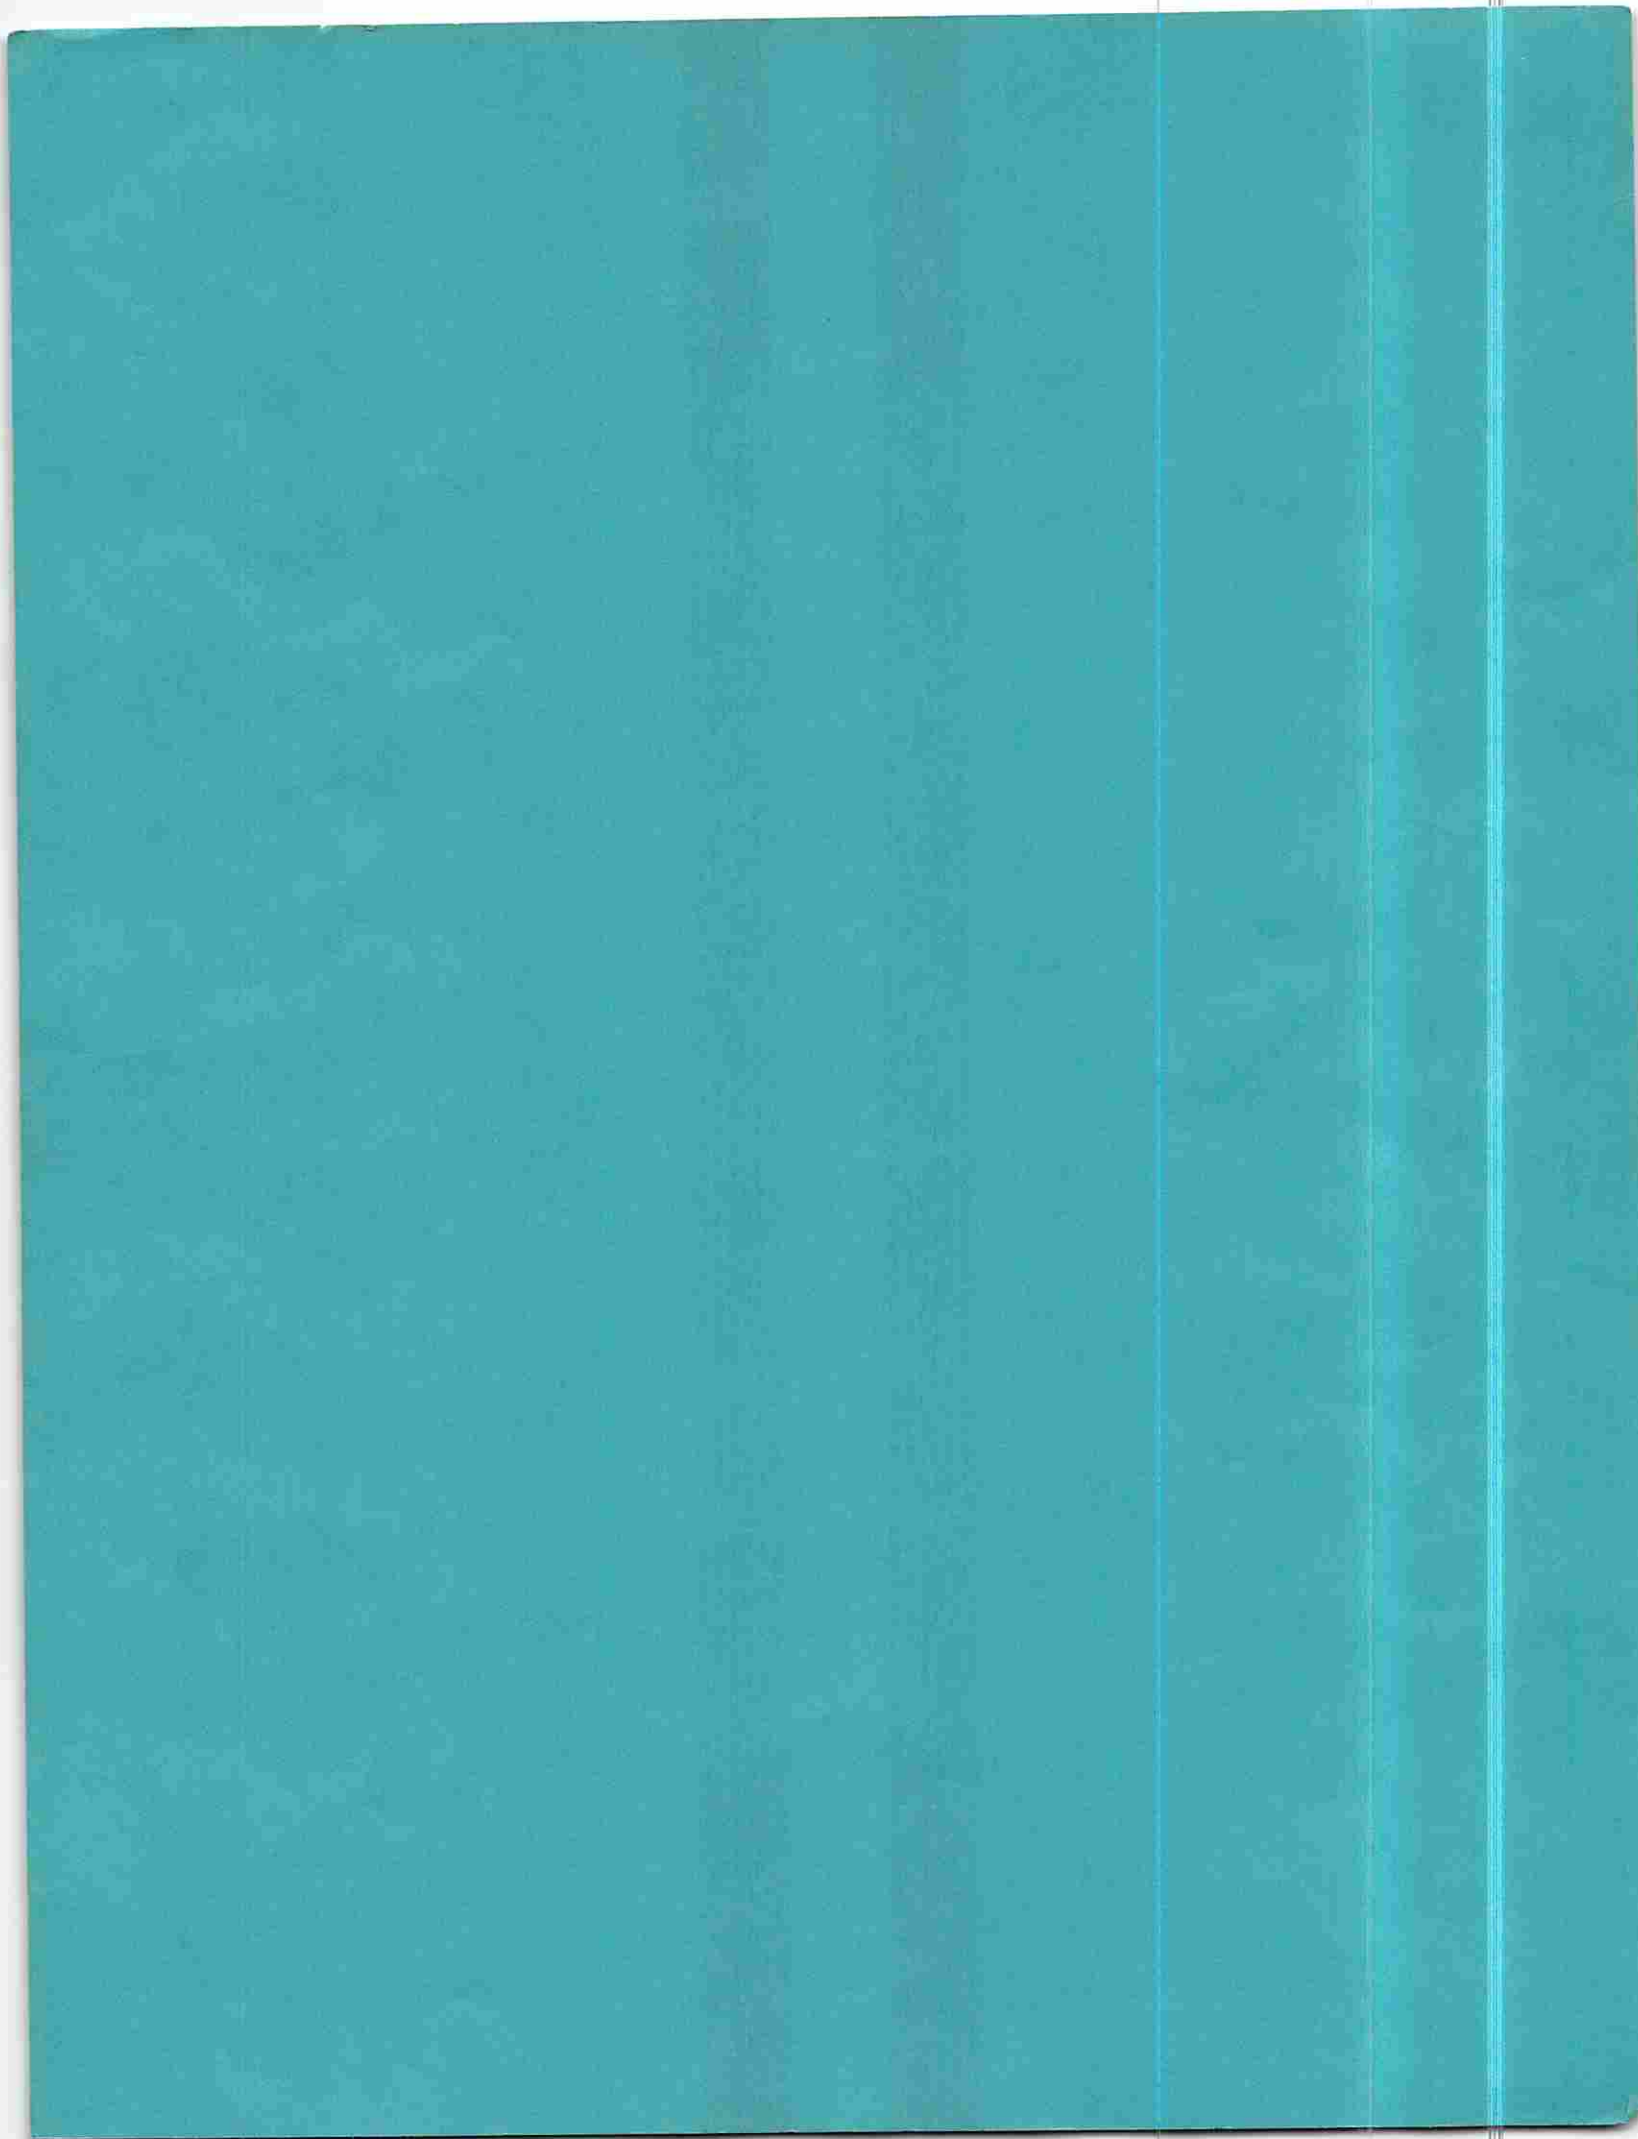

Mr. Martin was born in Jefferson county, Nov. 2, 1829 and moved to Richland county in 1854. He married Isabella Runyon June 8, 1852, and to them were born six girls and two boys, two of whom, Ella and Sarah have passed beyond. The other children have grown up, married and settled near the old home and together with the faithful and devoted wife mourn a wise counsellor, a loving husband and a indulgent and helpful father. He was a man of unblemished and sterling character. Source: The Mansfield Herald, Nov 18, 1898

Two miles south of Lexington in affluence and ease lives Samuel Bowers, Esq., one of the most exemplary citizens of Troy, and a Republican who has never swerved in his fidelity to its just creed. He has lived in the township 35 consecutive years, coming from Cumberland county, Pa., and his agile step and keen perceptions indicate that he may live many years yet, although he has attained the age of 77. - 26-Jan-1905 6:5 GRIMWOOD - J. E. GRIMWOOD, of Shiloh, was struck and instantly killed by a Big Four passenger train, No. 24, near New London Friday evening between 11 and 12 o'clock. GRIMWOOD was a son of J. B. GRIMWOOD, a Shiloh grocer. He had been married twice, his first wife being divorced. He had not been living with his second wife for some time though they were not divorced. He left three children by this last marriage. GRIMWOOD had been working for a farmer named BRIGGS north of New London, but for the past two weeks was not working and was staying around the hotel in New London. Friday Mr. BRIGGS hired him again to go to work Saturday morning. He sat around the hotel all the evening and about 11 o'clock arose saying he believed he would go out to the BRIGGS place that night. This was the last seen of him until No. 24 brought in the body about midnight. GRIMWOOD gained some notoriety not long ago by hiring a rig in Attica and after filling up started to drive to Greenwich and somewhere between Plymouth and Greenwich he drove on the railroad track in front of an approaching train and the horse was killed. He was arrested on complaint of the liveryman. The last grand jury indicted him for non-support of his minor children and his case was to come up for trial this week. The funeral was held Monday afternoon in Shiloh at 1:30.
- 26-Jan-1905 7:4 BECKWITH - Another name was added to the list of victims that have met death in the new east yards of the Pennsylvania company, when Edward BECKWITH, a brakeman on the main line of the Pennsylvania lines and residing at Conway, Pa., was instantly killed by falling beneath the wheels of a freight train Monday evening. The accident occurred about 6 o'clock. The train, of which BECKWITH was the brakeman, was doing some switching in the yards. BECKWITH was on top of the cars signaling the engineer. He had signaled for the train to advance but the engineer did not advance immediately, and when he did put the train in motion the jerk came so suddenly that BECKWITH was thrown from the top of the train beneath the wheels. Every effort was made to stop the train immediately, but the wheels (?)ed over both legs. He was taken to the yard office at the foot of Park avenue east and Niman's ambulance was summoned, but he died before the ambulance arrived. The remains were sent to his home at Conway, Pa., Tuesday morning at 10:27.
- 26-Jan-1905 8:7 LEITER - In the case of Samuel LEITER, struck and instantly killed Saturday afternoon near Lucas by No. 17 on the P.F., Coroner Goodman reports: "I do find that the said deceased, Samuel L. LEITER, came to his death by being struck by second section of No. 17 while picking up coal between No. 1 and No. 2 tracks on the P. F. railroad just below Leiter's crossing. I find the engineer whistled the danger signal when he saw the said deceased, but he paid no attention to said signal, and I further find that the said train was running about 35 miles an hour and was one hour late, being due in Mansfield at 1 p.m."
- 26-Jan-1905 12:3 MITZ - Daughter--Mr. and Mrs. Adam MITZ, of Lexington avenue, are the proud parents of a new daughter, born Friday evening.

St Peter's German Church Records

Washington Township, Richland County, Ohio
Presently known as The Hilltop Community Church

The following births and baptisms have been copied from Church records. Although the first two buildings were destroyed by fire, the third building remains on the original property. Additions have been made changing the original appearance of the building.

The early records are written in German and difficult to read. Sponsors are listed but we have not included them as the handwriting is small and difficult to read with accuracy. The original records are held by a former minister's family, we were fortunate to receive a photocopy of them.

Croneis- Lutheran Memorial Monroe Township, Richland County, Ohio

In an effort to preserve the memory of those who were buried in the Croneis - Lutheran cemetery the Monroe Township Trustees recently purchased and erected a long, low granite monument engraved with the names of nearly 100 individuals known to be buried there, but whose stones are gone or worn smooth by the elements of weather and time. We commend them on taking this step to preserve this cemetery when so many are being neglected. If you would like to express your appreciation to the Trustees address your mail to Monroe Township Trustees, Attn: Duane Beery, 36 W. Main St. Memorial Bldg. Lucas, Ohio 44843.

Mrs. Margaret Durbin, (relict of Scott Durbin) who is living with her daughter, Mrs. N. Hardesty, left on Wednesday to spend the winter with her children in the west. Mrs. Durbin and her husband commenced "housekeeping" in a cabin where the house of Hiram Charles now stands in the south part of Bellville, May 12, 1812, and was taken to the block house at McClure's Fort (now Bellville) and therein cared for a few days after the birth of her first child. Mrs. Durbin is 85 years of age with physical and mental faculties intact. She relates many interesting and unwritten pioneer incidents of the early times of Richland County.

Mrs. Abraham Miller of North Liberty was buried at the Dunkard Church on the 2nd inst., aged 76 years.

Marion Darling, who was so badly hurt by the tumbling-shaft of a threshing machine, is recovering.

Mr. David Donough is slowly recovering from an attack of typhoid fever.

Ladies March On Tavern

On the evening of the 1st, we are informed that a number of ladies entered Sickinger's Tavern, in Washington Township, and summarily disposed of the liquors and other "stock in trade," belonging to the aforesaid establishment. It appears that the tavern has been a nuisance to every one in the neighborhood. Rifle whiskey and red eye brandy were dealt out indiscriminately to all applying. The ladies of the neighborhood, believing that the abatement of the nuisance was positively essential to the community, sent word to Sickinger to leave. No attention was paid to their request, and so on the evening above stated they visited Mr. S. en masse, and while one or two gentlemen kept him in conversation, they emptied his villainous compounds in the street. Sickinger, we understand, has been in this city, "getting some Law," but the only verdict he will ever receive will be, "served him right." Feb 2, 1860 - Mansfield Newspaper
