MISCELLANEOUS ITEMS FROM THE WESTERN HERALD

As far as we know, The Western Herald published September 3, 1831 was the first newspaper published in Shelby County, Ohio. The publisher was Thomas Smith, who has been described as something of an eccentric. The story goes that Smith walked to Cincinnati and then carried home to Sidney on his back the necessary paper for printing the newspaper.

The newspaper consisted largely of political and other news, most of which had been gleaned from other newspapers printed in Ohio and the East. The few scattered items mentioning residents of Sidney and the neighboring counties are presented here. These items were copied and contributed by Doris Stephens.

MOULTON'S SPRING BED saves money. Eight dollars expended in this spring bottom, will produce more value of soft under-bedding, than $35 worth of bedding on the cross-slats or cord. Five years' use has proved the rubber to be durable, and having already been introduced in seven States, it has never failed to become a favorite among the people.

Twenty-five cents worth of clean straw or one dollar's worth of picked corn husks, leveled in a sack or tucked into a mattress, placed on these springs, will make an easy, healthful, and desirable bed.

The Patent Spring Bottom can also be easily attached to any kind of a bedstead. Call in and see it. No charge for showing.

SHELBY COUNTY ROADS

The rich earth, shaded by heavy woods, were avenues of mud and even after they were corduroyed with logs, travel was difficult.

Pioneers used the sturdiest of farm wagons to go to church, to market and for pleasure outings and joy rides. Even the traditional "spring wagons" were too light as this county was being established.

If grain was hauled to Cincinnati or Sandusky, the trip took more than a week. After the grain was sold (only the lowest price was obtained), expenditures were limited to the scantest of necessities.

In 1865 a toll turnpike was built from Sidney to Palestine (now Tawawa) in Green township. The latter part of the 1860's saw the passage of a state law permitting the building of free turnpikes to be paid for by taxing lands two miles each side of the pikes & to be paid in yearly installments.

This started pike building and a boom in real estate. In 1913 there were 300 miles of county roads, costing nearly two million dollars. Shelby county residents, in 1913, were described as "joy riders" in their automobiles, raising the dust at a speed of 20 miles an hour!

CORDUROY ROADS were constructed by men and boys of the neighborhood with their axes and oxen. First they laid brush on the mud, and then logs and rails on top, and then shoveled mud over the top as pavement.

CANAL FEEDER: The Sidney canal feeder from Lockington to Port Jefferson is 14 miles long and cost $391,258.

BOORUM Bros., from New Jersey, experienced in the business, are starting a Flax Mill in Sidney, and have rented SMITH & MATHERS' Warehouse, South of the canal on Main street. They plan to have the machinery in place and be ready in time for the new crop of flax. They propose to pay $6.00 per ton cash for 2,000 tons of flax straw. Farmers may find it to their advantage to raise more of this crop, now that they can get a good price both for the seed and fibre, with a market almost at their door. Messrs. KENDALL & CONROY have flax seed to loan for sowing, agreeing to receive bushel for bushel in the fall. Roll ground evenly and cut close for enough straw to pay for handling the whole crop. For particulars, inquire of J.E. KENDALL, at Sidney.

COMPLETE RECORD No. 2

PROBATE COURT

SHELBY COUNTY, OHIO

1860 - 1866

This book contains petitions to sell "land" or "real estate" to get money to pay debts; for living expenses; to invest in something with a better rate of interest, etc. Most of the land is in Shelby County, Ohio but if not, the other location is given.

The request to be allowed to sell land was made by the administrator, executor, guardian or trustee. If initiated by the guardian against his wards, a temporary guardian was appointed by the court to guard the interests of the minors during this time.

Appraisors were appointed by the court and were "judicious and disinterested men of the vicinity" and were to "actually view the premise and cause a just valuation and appraisement".

Land was to be sold for no less than 2/3 of the appraised value with 1/3 cash in hand; 1/3 due in a specified time (usually 9 months or 1 year) and the final 1/3 due in a specified time (usually 18 months or 2 years) from the date of the sale. "Deferred payments to bear interest from date of sale and be secured by a mortgage on the premise."

Most of the information given in this book could be found in other records such as estate or guardianship files, deeds, etc.

Spelling of names and places are shown as read. Minors aged 14, 16 & 19 years in one of the petitions were referred to as "infants of tender years".

The Auditor of Shelby will observe that the tax for 1821 is included in the list of defalcations previously sent - The taxes authorizing the collectors to destrain is repealed, the collector will inform the Residents at the time demand is made, if the tax is not then paid to pay it to him at the seat of justice by the time settlement is made or no indulgence will be given, but all lands twice acteemed delinquent will be sold for taxes next year.

Where lands have been listed as Resident tax and only a tittle bond I am of opinion it is such a title as authorizes the person holding to interet it for taxation for he has an equitable interest acletish. I would therefore in that case not alter the lands thus listed. I consider a tittle bond good evedence of ownership.
